audience at the joint session of Congress last Thursday, General Douglas MacArthur's report, were stirred by the great speeches of our day. I do not know whether his view was right; I am in it as a speech that re- man. Most of the great speeches of the past came out of times and high tensions. There was no exception. General has long possessed a dramatic instinct. Always at his public, he has known to play the part of a commander. He knows where to be, and what to say and how to say. His presence seems to add im- portance to any occasion.

His speech aboard the Battleship Missouri in 1945, after the announcement of the Japanese surrender, was a masterpiece of insight into the nature of the affairs and the spiritual peace which were prophetic. The finer has been said in his times.

A powerful utterance occurs on a super-charged occasion. A noble spokesman comes to Mass. Psychology is a force. The orator's audience last Thursday had been listening to the well-publicized account of his triumphal procession, began in the Pacific, swept the continent to the metropolis climaxed in Washington.

He was a veteran of more than a century of military service. He came back after fourteen years to defend a position in which he believed with all his force, deliberately, this masterly spoken word began with a national tribute to "the per- man of human liberty yet de- manded earth," — meaning the peace. Before them he stood, clad, with mingled humility and pride. In a statesmanly way he summed up his views of the world, stepping from ocean continent, from nation to era, a giant striding across the mountain. Phrases rolled out in battalions of fresh infantry; advanced like armored tanks. The pace quickened as the speaker turned to the real issue — Korea had the good taste not to directly to his removal from hand. Disclaiming bitterness, he touched the issue on the plane of peace, even of ideals. The result was evident in his comment on the point at issue between the United States and himself made me feel to be alive in a time when some men can debate with- out shouting or calling names. I remember that in Russia MacArthur would have been sent to Siberia.

The old warrior carried his audience upward in a crescendo that exploded on the highest note. There was a long minute of silence as the sympathetic part of the crowd roared its approval. The true feeling of a great leader, the former commander leaning to the people's hearts as he made his final thrust. Abandoning the role of statesman, he got on to where every man lives. His flow and soft with pathos, he himself an old soldier who, doing his duty as God had commanded him to see it, had come to "just fade away." As the speaker intended, women wept and men fumbled for their handkerchiefs while the old soldier himself almost submerged in tears, whispered "goodbye."

As the Bible says of MacArthur, "he pulled down the scales on his enemies and himself, he slew more Philistines in death than he had slain in his

58 - Piece OHS Band To Compete In Music Meet

Local Organization Elevated to Class B Rate This Year

Hoping to keep the Division I rating it won last year, the 58-piece Ozona High School band will compete in the Region II Music Festival Friday at Howard Payne College in Brownwood.

Last year, the band competed in Class D, a division for first year bands, whereas this year it will compete in Class B, a two division jump. Besides its Division I rating in concert play last season, the band took a Division II in marching.

Eighteen soloists have been entered in individual competition. W. B. Skelton, director, has announced. Last minute changes may alter that number slightly, he said. One of the band's outstanding members, Helen Walker, will perform again. She played in the All-State band earlier this year.

The Lion band will go to this year's contest as one of the snappiest dressed contingents in West Texas. Band members have been issued complete new uniforms in the past two weeks.

Band members will leave here Thursday afternoon and will spend the night in Brownwood before returning after the marching contest Friday night.

Ford Hubbard of Houston, Texas, representative of the Corporation, will be on hand and will explain the rainmaking projects and a discussion will follow, leading to a decision as to whether or not an attempt will be undertaken to break the present drought which has gripped this area since last fall.

May 1 Deadline for Rendering Property For 1951 County Taxes

Another deadline among the many which confront us under the present complicated system of government by directive looms for the harassed taxpayer.

This time it is a local matter, that of signing a property rendition blank for the 1951 county, state and school taxes. The deadline for rendering your property for this year's local taxes is May 1, it was announced from the tax collector's office. Unless property owners render their property, valuations will be placed by the Commissioners Court.

Persons who do not own real estate but who want to become taxpayers and thus eligible to vote on all issues which affect taxes may render some personal property, such as an automobile, jewelry or other items of personal property. But this must be done before May 1.

Ozona Set To Entertain Tommy Bartlett Saturday

Radio-Television Star To Be Honored at Informal Supper

Ozona is set to entertain Tommy Bartlett, Chicago radio and television personality, m.c. of the well known Welcome Travelers radio and television show, who will visit here next Saturday for an afternoon and evening of seeing West Texas and visiting with Ozona folk.

Mr. Bartlett's coming visit is in the nature of a "return visit." A group of 4-H Club boys visited his show and took part in a television broadcast with Bartlett as m.c. while they were in Chicago during the past winter attending the International Livestock Exposition. On that occasion, Mr. Bartlett entertained the Ozona boys and their sponsors, Bill Bergfeld and Miller Robison, with a private supper before their departures for home, and promised the boys on that occasion to visit them in Ozona.

He will leave Chicago by plane Friday and arrive in Dallas at 8:15 and from there will come by plane to San Angelo, where he will be met by Ozonans, possibly flown from there here in Dick Henderson's plane. Bartlett had originally intended to charter a plane in Dallas and fly here, but his friend and associate, Dick Rowe, who was to have accompanied him, is in charge of a new Bartlett show and was unable to make the trip.

A barbecue supper will be staged in Bartlett's honor at the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church at 7:30 Saturday night. The occasion will also be a 4-H Club "awards and appreciation" dinner, with J. D. Prewitt, associate director of the A & M Extension Service, presenting awards to Ozona 4-H Club members.

A blanket invitation is extended to all supporters of 4-H Club work in this and surrounding area to attend the supper.

Scott Peters will act as master of ceremonies on the occasion.

Mrs. Harold Lipford was honored with a "pink and blue" shower by members of the Young Women's Bible Class of the Church of Christ when the class met Wednesday afternoon at the Granny Miller hall. There were 38 members and guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bergfeld, Jr., have as guests in their home here this week Mrs. Bergfeld's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hummel and her brother, Jack, from Ranger, Texas.

"Smart Buy's Roadmaster"

IT started the day the 1951 ROADMASTER made its first appearance—and has been building up ever since.

Folks looked at the fresh new styling—the power—the features—the fabrics—the cloud-soft cushions—and the prices—and said, "Here's the smart buy in the fine-car field."

Why don't you come and see for yourself what a sensational buy this proud beauty really is?

It's a honey to handle—a joy to ride in—and just about the handsomest thing on wheels.

It has room, and poise, and a level-going gait that comes from coil springs front and rear.

There's a triumphant thrill in the willing obedience of its Fireball power and the luxurious ease of its Dynaflow Drive, which doesn't cost you a penny extra.

There's a sweeping view fore and aft through broad and uncluttered glass areas, and the new clarity of an instrument panel with high visibility at night.

Even the brakes are new, self-cooling, with a grip that takes hold like steel fingers in a velvet glove.

Here indeed is a car that is fine in bearing, in action, and in the precision of every structural part—a ROADMASTER custom built by Buick. When will you try one as our guest?

Equipment, accessories, size and models are subject to change without notice.

Fads and Fashions

Never this whole year have we seen so many beautiful OHS girls as there were at the Junior-Senior dance. Maybe the soft lights helped, but everyone looked lovely.

Almost all of the Senior girls wore white. Pat Hickman in white net threaded with gold. Darrene Thompson in white over blue spangled with sequins. June Perner in white net polished with satin. Helen Walker in white ruffles. Lois McDade in red net. Other dresses we noticed: Kay Kirby's green dotted organdy, Jane Adams' yellow embroidered organdy, Tody Cunningham's net over plaid taffeta, Elva Vitela's champagne colored net and metallic taffeta—and there were so many more, all beautiful or cute or striking or pretty.

The flowers were pretty too. There were orchids, vanda orchids, carnations, roses, gardenias, all setting off a pretty girl in a pretty dress. Jeane Thompson's was the most unusual, a white carnation holding her stole to her upper arm.

School will be out soon. Only four weeks—seems long, but it's very, oh so very short. Everyone will be glad but we'll miss it, too. But won't it be wonderful to wear shorts and comfortable shirts, never have to worry what to wear, unless it's for a trip, or to church or a date.

Who Is Ben Turpin?

Students and faculty of OHS were approached this week with this question, "Who is Ben Turpin?" The inquiry revealed the following answers:

Miss Sealy — The man who did so much experimentation with turpentine. I believe they named it after him.

Gussie Sparks — The man in the next booth at the cafe last night.

Mr. Yager — See him up and down the halls a lot lately. Well-educated tourist.

Kenneth Bledsoe — Sounds like a crook to me.

Shirley Benton — College professor.

Charlene Perks — Hair stylist.

Jimmy McMullan — Manufacturer of turpentine.

Jeane Thompson — Pirate.

Skeeter Sorrels — Race horse jockey.

Doris Armentrout — Character in a comic strip.

George (walking encyclopedia) Massingill knew who he was right off.

Peggy Newcom — Oriental king.

Andros Aguirre — Chi Chi?

Bill Schneemann — Movie star, the 'cross-the-desert' type, sort of the Errol Flynn or Turhan Bey kind.

Pat Hickman — Dean of girls at A & M College.

Reta Ballinger — Newspaper man.

Ben Turpin is an old-time, cross-eyed comedian who recently appeared on a Life Magazine cover.

News of Departments

The second year Spanish class is held first period in the morning at 8:45. There are nine students. Girls outnumber boys seven to two. Miss Billie Sealy is the instructor.

According to Kay Kirby the class has been having an interesting art study. Reports about Spanish artists and examples of their works were assigned to each student.

Juanita Lopez discovered a history of Diego Rivera in a back issue of Time that gave the class a true insight into the life of the Western Hemisphere's most famous contemporary artist.

Elva Vitela and Sophie Reina presented to the class copies of several of the more famous masterpieces handed down through time from the "Golden Era."

Miss Sealy was very complimentary on the work and interest shown by her students.

South Sea Island Setting for Dance

The Juniors honored the Seniors with the annual dance following the Junior-Senior banquet Friday night.

The theme was a South Sea Island. There was a sandy beach, flowers growing on the sides and a beautiful grove of palm trees. When you came down a gang plank off the USS Ozona a lei was put around your neck and you were in your South Sea paradise.

Refreshments of fruit, punch, and cookies were served to high school students, the faculty, wives husbands and dates.

Juniors Fete Seniors At Annual Banquet

The Junior-Senior Banquet was a long-awaited occasion among OHS juniors and seniors, and really went over with a bang. Everyone seemed to forget that they were allowed only four cubic inches of space to sit in, as delicious chicken spaghetti, candied yams, green peas, pear and pineapple salad, hot rolls and coconut pie was served and a very excellent program consisting of the Sextette, a solo by Darrene Thompson, a piano solo by Helen Walker, the school song led by Bettye Maness and Reta Ballinger and—believe it or not, a solo by Mr. Davis was presented. Oh, yes, of course, no banquet would be quite complete without a few jokes contributed by Mr. Pelto and Joe Bailey.

Student of the Week

Juanita Perez, a senior, is this week's choice for student of the week. Juanita is a slight five feet tall, has dark brown hair and brown eyes. Her favorite pastime is sewing, favorite subject—English. She has a very unusual favorite food—just everything. Her pet peeve, like most of us, is washing dishes. Favorite sports are softball and boxing—watching boxing that is.

Juanita has gone to school here in Ozona all her life. Her greatest ambition is to be a nurse.

As to an ideal boy she has another unusual ideal. She says he must be homely and an inch or two taller than she is.

For a Better Tomorrow

This is the time for plans to be made. New plans. And next school year is the time for seeing them through. Big plans are being made but these are just a few of the plans to help you. You have many for yourself.

Plans are being made for a new band hall, shop and homemaking departments. Plans for a better student council which is badly needed. There are also new and different subjects to be offered.

You as an individual can help make our school a better place to learn. The sophomores should start thinking now about the junior-senior banquet. I know, it seems far away, but better planning helps a lot. The juniors, who are a little low in some of their grades should seek help this summer and then start worrying about the subject they are poor in.

Most of all, boys and girls, take advantage of the privilege you have to be able to get a free education. There are thousands of people who haven't a chance to even get an education much less a free one. Please learn all you can in your brain. It's for you and one else can do it for you. You've Got To Hand It To Sandy

Sandy Johnson's wife "Tiny" suddenly asks him at breakfast the other morning "Why don't you get me some bluebird houses?" "What for?" asks Sandy. "Why bluebirds, of course," says Tiny. "We always had 'em at home when I was a girl. May be a little silly—but I certainly miss 'em."

wonderful idea—we're going to have bluebirds—and I'm starting on some birdhouses tonight."

From where I sit, we could do with more understanding people like Sandy—and Tiny, too. He respects her likings, and she respects him. He likes a temperate glass of beer now and then—and although Tiny sticks to coffee, whatever Sandy likes is O.K. with her. They live and let live—and that's why they live so happily.

To every woman under 5-feet-5!

Packard, as you already know, has provided generously for today's giants...

(Examples: Seats as wide as the car is high. Enough headroom for a 6-footer wearing a cowboy hat. Largest trunk of any sedan on the road.)

Now, let's see a few typical examples of what Packard has done for the not-so-tall folks, in America's newest new car...

Wonderful new outlook: Packard's new kind of low-level hood gives you real "close-up safety vision"... lets you see both front fenders, for safer passing, dent-free parking. New one-piece windshield (nearly five feet wide) and narrower corner pillars give you a clear panoramic view.

Tops in handling ease, too—because Packard (and Packard alone) gives you Ultramatic Drive... with a combination of smoothness, quietness, flexibility, and positive control no other drive can match. And steering ease? Here's a car that actually handles, in traffic, with as little effort as it takes to turn a door knob in your home! Come drive it!

Jury Service Month Emphasizes Need for Procedure Reforms

AUSTIN. — Of the twelve men in the average jury box, three resent service and have tried to be excused, two others serve reluctantly, eight are losing money by it and at least one admittedly does not know what is going on in the courtroom. But all twelve agree that jury service is of paramount importance.

What these men think as they sit on the jury was revealed in a survey made by the Texas Press Association and the State Bar of Texas in connection with a "Jury Service Month" project. Eight of the twelve believe that women should be serving with men on Texas juries, and agree that the groups which ought to be exempt are mainly doctors, lawyers and clergymen. On this average jury panel, two men are entitled to exemptions themselves and decline to accept them. Half the jury is between 35 and 50 years of age, two men are under 35, three are between 50 and 60, and one over 60. Each has been called for jury service about four times in five years.

Whatever they may think before serving, the survey shows that only three of the twelve find jury service unpleasant. The reasons offered for this are waste of time in the courtroom, lack of explanation tion of legal terms, difficulty of getting twelve men to agree, and two much intimidation on the part of lawyers.

Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd, chairman of the Bar's American Citizenship Committee, explained that the "Jury Service Month" project is being conducted in May in an effort to re-awaken the public to its responsibilities in maintaining free courts by being willing and able jurors. Shepperd stated that the primary objective of the month is that no Texan will ask to be excused from jury service during May.

Jurors who participated in the survey suggested correction of the public apathy as the principal measure to be taken in improving the present jury service system. Other suggestions were that jurors should be allowed to separate and return home except in capital cases and that more instruction should be given to jurors in the process of a trial.

Questionnaires similar to those sent to laymen over Texas were sent to more than 500 county judges, county and district attorneys, and lawyers in private practice, by the American Citizenship Committee. Of the half million persons called for jury duty each year, these revealed, 115,000 ask to be excused. Approximately 18,400 are released. Persons of the high income bracket asking to be excused outnumber all others three to one. Businessmen offer excuses most often. Most common excuses offered are preoccupation with business, illness and physical disability.

Methods of making jury service more attractive to the people were offered by the judges and attorneys, and included allowing for a verdict of ten men in case of the death or incapacity of one or two jurors, providing for voluntary waiver of jury in cases less than capital, and establishing pre-trial hearings to contest the legality of indictment. Some of these remedies are proposed in a bill now before the legislature.

The present investigation of racketeers reminds one of the bank cashier who ran off with $50,000, stole his best friend's girl — and the only concern the people had was over who was going to teach his Sunday school class.

Sunday April 29, Is National 4-H Sunday

COLLEGE STATION.—The importance of prayer will be emphasized by Texas 4-H members in their observance of National 4-H Sunday, April 29. Throughout the state programs are being planned around the 1951 4-H theme, "Working Together for World Understanding."

"As each 4-H member attends the church of his choice, it is the hope that there will be awakened a new realization of the power of prayer," says M. L. Wilson, national director of Extension Work.

4-H Sunday occurs the fifth Sunday after Easter. It is closely linked with Rogation days, celebrated for centuries in the Christian Church during the three days preceding Ascension Day. It is an outgrowth of Rural Life Sunday, which was first observed in 1929.

"4-H Sunday emphasizes the H that stands for heart," declares Erma Wines, assistant state 4-H leader. She says it presents an opportunity for 4-H Club members to give expression to the character development that takes place in 4-H activities.

Attorney General Compiles Volume of Publication Laws

AUSTIN. — All Texas laws relating to public notices will be available in one volume, for the first time on May 20 when a 256-page book entitled Texas Publications Laws is scheduled for release.

Author of the work is Attorney General Price Daniel. It is published by the Texas Press Association, in Austin.

Compilation of the material in book form was made by Attorney General Daniel, as a public service, at the request of the Texas Press Association, according to Fred Massengill, Jr., Terrell Tribune publisher and TPA president. "The book was written to satisfy a great need for keeping Texas citizens informed," said Massengill. "Because there are a great number of laws and rulings on the Texas statutes, having to do with public notices of one kind or another, there has been, in the past, much confusion as to who is responsible for such publication, as well as to details governing the specific type of notices on which state laws require publication. There has never before been a convenient reference book to which officials could refer. With the book of Texas Publication Laws at hand in newspaper and city and county offices, most of that confusion can now be entirely avoided," he stated.

The Mandatory Publication Act became law following passage, during the 1949 sessions of the legislature, of a bill sponsored by the Texas Press Association. It is a law making it mandatory that public officials who are required by law to do so, publish legal notices as called for by the Texas statutes. Penalties for failure to do so are provided in the act. Part two of the book of Texas

Publication Laws is a compilation of all constitutional provisions, statutes and rules relating to newspapers and publication of legal notices.

Now and then he will probably take part in public functions. One can only hope that having distinguished himself in his last major address, he will not risk too many utterances on political affairs; and that he will not later fall a victim to a rancor after having won the first skirmish with it.

While college classes in public speech study the masterpiece he has left, and young men with political ambitions reflect on the obvious advantage of being able to express one's ideas with clarity and force, the rest of us will wish that certain other public orators could have at least a spark of the MacArthur eloquence.

Two young ministerial students from Baylor University at Waco, Jackie Green and Jack Carson, will take turns at doing the preaching during the revival period. Joe Liles, another Baylor student, and Ronnie Ginn, a student at Howard Payne College, Brownwood, will lead the song services, with Ginn as soloist for the group. Piano and organ accompaniment will be by Misses Lois Wines and Ramona Tennison, both students at Howard Payne.

The first service in the series will be Wednesday evening. Thursday and Friday mornings, there will be two morning services, the first at 7:15 to allow school students and business people an opportunity to attend, and the second at 10 o'clock. Evening services will be at 8 o'clock each day. Saturday's morning service will be at 10 o'clock and the Sunday morning service at 11 o'clock.

An area Youth Rally will be held at the local church Sunday afternoon. Invitations have been extended to youth in surrounding towns to attend all services and especially the Sunday afternoon Youth Rally. Youth Fellowship hour will be observed after each evening service.
