Horse Show Plans Taking Shape As Committees Toil

Sheriff's Posse Sponsors Second Annual Event May 25-26

Committees in charge of plans for the second annual Crockett County Registered Quarter Horse Show, set for May 26, are rapidly completing arrangements for an outstanding show and entertainment program for that date, Charlie Black, general chairman, reported this week.

Entry blanks are to be ready within the next few days for horse breeders throughout the area and program folders showing the classes and prizes and the program of entertainment and judging are soon to be available.

The horse show this year is being sponsored by the Crockett County Sheriff's Posse and a large number of committee workers have been named from that organization to assist with plans for making this year's show one of the best in the entire West Texas area.

Along with the horse show, the committee plans for a snappy roping program in the improved fair grounds arena on Friday night before the Saturday horse show, with matched ropings and jack pot affairs to make up a good evening's program.

A barbecue dinner Saturday noon will be followed at 1 p.m. by judging of halter classes. Saturday night will be judging of champions of each class and a cutting horse contest, reining contest and conclusion of the matched roping begun Friday night.

Two $250 handmade saddles are to be awarded as first prizes in the cutting horse and reining contests. Twelve Gladys Brown trophies, including three electric lamp trophies, are to be awarded winners in the various classes of judging.

The local show is to be an official American Quarter Horse show, with judges approved by the Quarter Horse Association and association rules applying to entries.

Meeting Monday Night To Kick Off Fastball Plans

Organization of League for Summer Play to Be Discussed

A group of fastball enthusiasts, their blood pressure finally upped to the Spring level by a couple of days of warm weather, the windy, have begun to hear the crack of the bat on ball and the thump of a ball into a gloved hand.

So, a meeting for next Monday night at 7:30 in the Wilson Motor Co. building to lay plans for the coming city fastball league play at Lions fastball field, has been called.

All probable team sponsors, interested players and backers of the fastball activities are urged to be present to help shape plans for the summer activities.

A committee from the Lions Club has been at work in recent days getting the ball park cleaned up, watering the grass and generally trimming up the terrain in preparation for the nightly play sessions.

Indications point to a renewed interest in the game this summer, according to backers of plans for league organization. A number of oil company crews operating in the area have indicated plans to field a team in the league and many new local sponsors have indicated plans to round up teams.

Workouts and some practice games may be in order within the next few days barring more northerners and freezing temperatures.

Mrs. John Childress is confined to her ranch home suffering from an accidental injury to her knee which occurred last week in Houston where she was visiting.

Tommy Bartlett, Noted Radio and Television Personality, To Visit Ozona on April 28; Will Attend 4-H 'Awards and Appreciation' Dinner

A well known radio and television personality, Tommy Bartlett, master of ceremonies of the Welcome Travelers radio show, heard over a national network, and several other radio and television shows in Chicago, is coming to Ozona for an overnight visit.

It was Tommy Bartlett who put a group of Crockett county 4-H Club boys on his television show while they were in Chicago for the International Livestock Exposition and later was host to the entire group including their sponsors, Bill Bergfeld and Miller Robison, at a private supper the night of their departure for home.

And it is Tommy Bartlett who has invited three boys from the Crockett 4-H Club, selected by a system of points amassed in showing their livestock at the various shows this year, to a week's trip into northern Minnesota and the Canadian wilds by air plane this summer for a summer vacation outing. The three winners of this trip are Graham Childress, Jimmy McMullan and Bill Schneemann.

In a letter received last week by Agent Bergfeld, Bartlett advised of his intention to visit Ozona on Saturday, April 28. And he will appear as guest at a 4-H Club "awards and appreciation" dinner to be held in the fellowship hall of the Methodist Church Saturday night, April 28.

Mr. Bartlett and a friend, Dick Rowe, will leave Chicago by plane and arrive in Dallas at 8:15 Friday night, April 27. Saturday morning he has made arrangements to charter a plane from Dallas and he is expected to arrive in Ozona around noon Saturday. He will spend Saturday night in Ozona and leave Sunday morning to return to Chicago for his broadcast Monday morning.

Also to be present for the Saturday night dinner and program will be J. D. Prewitt, associate director of the Texas A & M College Extension Service. Mr. Prewitt will present the Texas A & M College awards to 4-H Club members.

An outline of the trip all members of the local 4-H Club who fed livestock during the past year will take this summer through the western states will be given. Plans for this trip are being carefully worked out and details of planning so far completed will be outlined at the meeting.

The dinner and program will be open to members of the 4-H Club, their parents and friends and all local backers and friends of the 4-H program in this county.

REA Officials Pleased With Plan For New Project

Southwest Coop Project Inspected by Visiting Heads

Three REA officials, in company with officials of the Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative of Eldorado, last Thursday toured the area in Crockett county to be served by the proposed construction of approximately 250 miles of new REA lines in this and adjoining counties, according to Don McCormick, manager of the Eldorado cooperative.

R. W. Chesser, assistant head of Region 10 Applications and Loan Division; E. G. Ammons, field man, and D. E. Jones from the Washington office of Applications and Loans Division, together with Ford Oglesby of Eldorado, president of the Southwest Texas Electric Coop, and Don McCormick, manager, made the tour through the area.

"The visiting REA officials were well pleased with this project as a whole but we will have to get additional information due to previous commitments," Mr. McCormick said.

"We think this information can be got within three or four days when we get time to work on it," he concluded.

Fire Department to Hold Open House in New Station April 30

Ozona Volunteer Fire Department members will be hosts at an open house observed next Monday afternoon and evening, from 2 until 8 o'clock, in the newly completed fire station.

The open house party is being staged by the firemen to allow the people an opportunity to inspect their new and modern fire station and the equipment which has been provided as a protection to the community against fire loss.

Two brand new fire engines will be on display, the new 500-gallon pumper and the newest truck, a combination of regulation tank truck with booster pump equipment plus a high pressure spray equipment attached as extra equipment, suitable for quick fighting of fires and ideal for fighting grass fires, with its high pressure nozzles and water saving features. Also, the two old tank trucks, which have been overhauled and put in condition as auxiliary equipment useful in fighting small fires and augmenting the larger trucks, will be on display.

Everybody is invited to the open house and to inspect the building and equipment. There will be refreshments and gifts for the youngsters.

No Slot Machines In Crockett County, Atty. General Reports

Crockett county is presumed without slot machines or other similar gaming devices since Bureau of Internal Revenue records do not show that taxes were paid on such gaming devices in this county for this fiscal year. Attorney General Price Daniel of Texas reported in a letter to County Attorney N. W. Graham and District Attorney Hart Johnson last week.

The report followed a check of Internal Revenue tax records by the attorney general's department at the request of the conference of prosecuting attorneys held in Austin March 30-31. Lists of persons who paid the 1950-51 federal tax on slot machines and gaming devices are being mailed to prosecuting attorneys in each county.

"These lists are now being mailed, and I am pleased to advise that there will be none for your county, since the Bureau of Internal Revenue does not show that taxes were paid on any gaming devices in your county for this fiscal year," the attorney general wrote.

"Due to the absence of payments of the $150 per machine tax it may be assumed that your county is free of these gaming devices, since it is very seldom that anyone

Report Of School Evaluation Heard Here This Week

Commendations, Recommendations Made By Educators

A three-day evaluation of Ozona Public Schools by a group of visiting educators from schools in the surrounding area of West Texas reached its climax Wednesday afternoon when the evaluating committees, with Dr. J. B. Speer, professor of education at Sul Ross College, acting as moderator, gave their reports to faculty members, the school board and patrons of the local system.

The visiting evaluating committees started their work Monday morning, and each classroom in the entire system was visited at some time during the period and the operation of the entire system observed by these school men during the three-day period.

Separate reports were given by the various committees assigned to the different phases of the school's operations, including the two elementary schools, the junior and senior high schools, curriculum, pupil activities, library service, administration, school plant and playgrounds, the staff, etc.

Commendations were given for strong points in the system and recommendations for improvement both immediate and long range, were made as the committee findings indicated.

In the field of the general administration of the system, the educators commended the system on its fine physical plant, its level of training demanded of faculty members, adequate financing of the school's operation and a conscientious teaching and administrative staff.

Recommendations were made that there be a certain equalization of salaries; integration of the seventh and eighth grades from the South Elementary to the Junior High School; an investigation of the reason for a rapid turn-over of teachers; lightening of the teacher load on all principals so that they might devote more attention to administrative duties and that an annual audit of the system books and budgets be prepared.

Teacher-pupil ratios were declared adequate in all buildings and recommendations were made for expansion of audio-visual education aids and health examination facilities in some instances.

A more complete summary of the various reports is expected to be available for publication next week as school officials assimilate the composite picture of the local system as drawn by the committee findings.

Missionary To Italy To Speak Here April 20

C. R. Paden to Describe Work at Church Of Christ Here

Brother C. R. Paden who is to speak Friday, April 20, at the Ozona Church of Christ on the work being done by the churches of Christ in Italy, has but recently returned from that country where he has been engaged in evangelistic work.

Brother Paden is eminently qualified to speak on this subject for he has had a leading part in this work from the beginning. In November, 1947, he and Brother William Hatcher of Detroit, Mich. were sent to Italy to investigate the possibility of beginning the work of the Church of Christ. After two months they returned, and throughout 1948 preparation was made for this beginning.

Brother Paden and 12 other workers entered Italy in January. (Continued on Page Five)

Ozona Fireman Aid In Grass Fire Fight Northeast of Ozona

Two trucks from the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call for help from the Mertzon area Wednesday afternoon to help fight a grass fire on the Mack Van Court and Tippett ranches in the area northeast of Ozona.

The two local trucks and one from Mertzon, with the aid of ranch sprayers and volunteer fighters finally brought the blaze under control but members of the local department reported that a considerable area of grass land was burned over.

The department made a town run shortly after noon to extinguish a trash fire in the rear of the Pleas Childress home. A pile of grass cuttings was ignited from a nearby trash incinerator. No damage resulted.

Letters to the Editor AROUSE THE PEOPLE

Your editorials are very timely. The article "Here and There" by Mr. Hickman — "The Good Life" and other such comments conducive to arousing us from our state of lethargy to a determination to do something to preserve the tenets for which this country was founded are also interesting and timely.

You editors who control the press of our Nation are our only means and, in my opinion, a sufficient means to arouse your readers to a sense of their responsibility that the job can and will be done. The immediate task is to get rid of corruption in politics by electing good men to represent us from Constable and particularly to our State and National place of service including the election of a President of these U. S.

Keep the good work up for which you have my very best wishes. If you Editors of our papers of even this great State of ours could combine your efforts in arousing our electorate to the task I am sure the enemy will be defeated within and outside of our borders.

Yours sincerely,

Value of the stock distributed to Stanolind employees at the end of the first year of the plan's operation is about $414,000. The stock was given to employees at no cost to them, Bullard said, but he added that it will be subject to payroll deductions for income tax and social security purposes.

Butane Dealers Assn. Plans Advertising

AUSTIN. — The story of "the magic that lives in the tank" will be told the public of Texas in a state-wide advertising program now being prepared by the Texas Butane Dealers Association. The story is a fabulous one, for it deals with what for many years was considered a waste product of the refining industry which has become an important factor in the lives of thousands of rural and semi-urban families, for these liquid petroleum gases bring city comfort and convenience to homes "off the gas mains." The activity is headed by U. C. Roney of Corsicana as chairman of the Industry Advertising Committee. The program will be placed in Texas newspapers and magazines, on billboards and the air waves.

Why not give your Pride a Break?

Let's see what it means to own a ROADMASTER.

It means, first of all, that you're a shrewd judge of fine manufacture. Nowhere will you find a mechanism more skilfully fitted part to part with scrupulous precision—engineered to stricter standards of fine-car quality—than the deep-framed and durable ROADMASTER chassis.

It means, also, that you possess keen appreciation of everything that makes for unsurpassed performance.

For there's more to this dazzling beauty than its thrilling take-off. There's the surplus of power that you need to make you the master of busy traffic or open road—plus the velvet magic of Dynaflo Drive (at no extra cost, mind you).

There's the level-going luxury of ample roadweight buoyantly balanced on coil springs on every wheel—and the security of brakes specifically engineered for firm control of this great-powered beauty.

But there's still another distinction to being a ROADMASTER owner.

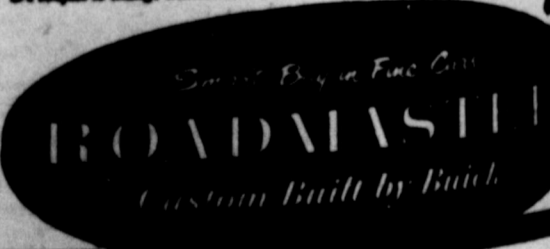

It marks you as one who buys wisely and well. Size for size, pound for pound, feature for feature, few cars can even approach what your dollars will buy in this finest of Buicks.

There's much more to be discovered by a visit to any Buick dealer's showroom.

There's the sumptuous softness of cushions, the custom excellence of fabrics and interior trim, the grace and charm of every line and contour.

So if you've dreamed of sometime owning a car superbly fine, there's no time like the present—and no car like ROADMASTER for making dreams come true.

Equipment, accessories, price and models are subject to change without notice.

Evaluation Committees Prowl OHS Hallways

Have you noticed any extra people wandering around OHS lately, up and down the halls and in and out of the classrooms, etc? Sounds strange to say the least, for a school anyway, but really it wasn't strange at all because it was the evaluation committee collecting opinions of our beloved OHS, well, OHS, anyway.

The committee stayed three days Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. On Monday, a party at the country club was on the agenda for the committee. They played Bingo, were served literally million and millions of sandwiches (wonder what they did with all those extra sandwiches) and cake, coffee and cokes.

The committee observed our classes for several days and on Wednesday afternoon, we were dismissed from school in order for the committee to make their report.

SEXTETTE SINGS AT FORUM STYLE SHOW

The high school girls' sextette presented two numbers, "By the Waters of the Minnetonka" and "Grandma," at the style luncheon presented by the Ozona Woman's Forum April 14 at the Country Club. These selections opened the program presented by Barnes of San Angelo.

SENIORS BEGIN PRACTICE ON PLAY

Seniors began practice on their annual spring play last Thursday. They have chosen "Men Are Like Street Cars" for this year's presentation. The cast includes Pat Hickman, O. L. Davis, Lois McDade, Darrene Thompson, Bettye Maness, Gussie Sparks, Elva Vitela, June Perner, Juanita Perez, Doris Armentrout, Bobby Halydier, Jack Sorrels, Helen Walker, and two imported boys, Scott Hickman and Tom Piner.

Ozona Contestants Win 5 Firsts, 2 Seconds, 4 Thirds in District Meet

The sweepstakes were within our grasp. Representatives from towns throughout the district gazed longingly at the coveted trophy, as Ozona and Sonora rapidly set the pace leaving the others far behind. The battle raged furiously. The district interscholastic league tournament, thus, was underway.

The following students represented Ozona in the tournament: Wanda Carden, typing, spelling, senior declamation; Bobby Halydier, typing; Jane Adams, junior declamation; Joe Bailey slide rule, extemporaneous speaking; Marian Mock, extemporaneous speaking; Lois McDade, reading, writing, extemporaneous speaking; June Perner, ready writing; David Price, declamation; Darrene Thompson, spelling; Helen Walker, shorthand; Pat Hickman, shorthand.

After lots of hard work and a long, hard struggle, Ozona finished up with five first places, two seconds, four thirds, to their credit, Wanda Carden placing first in typing and senior declamation, and Wanda and Bobby Halydier winning first as a team in typing. Jane Adams placing first in junior declamation and Wayne Hicks placing first in tennis. Joe Bailey placing second in slide rule, Marian Mock placed second in extemporaneous speaking, Lois McDade, third in extemporaneous speaking, June Perner third in ready writing, Pat Hickman third in shorthand and Joe Bailey third in extemporaneous speaking.

Evaluation

From the Student's Viewpoint

Any psychologist — good, bad or indifferent — could make a killing in Ozona just now. That isn't meant to be taken literally. It's just that the need for mind-reading doctor surely has never been greater in this fair community.

Guilt complexes have become standard equipment for the average OHS student along with pencils, paper and books. The furtive backward glances to detect nearby evaluation officials, the tiptoeing into the hall at noon where there is just a slight possibility that it might not be 12:50, and the quickening of a student's pace as a visitor with a questioning countenance approaches, have become the rule instead of the exception. New, strange faces peer through dark rimmed spectacles as a first year Spanish pupil stammers through his translation. Hiding behind corners, slipping undetected into the back of a classroom while a teacher caught off-guard lights into an unfortunate boy who has forgotten his homework, or periscopes advancing around partitions as the halls are observed and 'evaluated.' The auditorium was entirely useless to all members of the student body during the week. Visitors had confiscated it, and there they sat discussing bits of evidence uncovered with only the help of a chair to stand on and an open transistor.

A visiting evaluator, or so the rumor goes, had an awkward moment in choral the other day. He had asked the director about the chorus' sight reading ability. The director promptly brought out some 'new' music and prepared to demonstrate. The results were definitely good. The pleased director answered an upraised hand in the back of the room and was amazed to hear the eager young chorester comment, "If we keep on sight reading this thing, we're going to get good. It was much better today than last time."

It's been a hectic week, but it's all over now. Thank goodness.

Question of the Week

A recent inquiry disclosed the following "cures" for spring fever.

Jane Adams — Summer
Pat Hickman — Hadaacol (it seems to cure everything else)

Andres Vela — Coffee
Miss Sealy — Lots of hard work
Elva Vitela — Nothing seems to help me.

Mr. Massingill — Fresh vegetables the year around

Shirley Benton — Dipastafog-wetex pills in green capsules

Kay Kirby — Sleepin' all day long.

Billy West — Blake E. Yager, Jr.

David Price — Beautiful girl (No particular one in mind just now, but any applications will be seriously considered)

Joan Deaton — No work, lots of play drives spring fever away.

Charles Garlitz — Goin' off and dyin'

Lois McDade — Charlie Boy
Darrene Thompson — Neutralite vitamin pills

Mr. Lipford — Love (which is more commonly known as an effect instead of a cure)

Helen Walker — Dispensing with all educational efforts in Ozona and surrounding territory.

Mr. Yager — Fishing

Fads and Fashions

We tried to conduct a poll to find out how OHS boys like OHS

girls to dress. The boys were most uncooperative, however, and their answers ran to shirtless shirts, skirtless skirts and bathing suits. The few that took us seriously liked full skirts, peasant blouses and sleeveless shirts.

We like the way Kay Kirby looks in an orange skirt and brown shirt an orange flower at the throat, the way Barbara Bonn made a tie out of the same material as her skirt, the look Pat Hickman has when she wears her yellow skirt and pleated shirt, the way Lois McDade pins a tiny yellow rose at the throat of a white shirt, the slim, slim look Darrene has in a white linen skirt, with a big, big bunch of deep purple flowers at her waist, the look of little boy crispness, Shirley Kost has in a white tucked blouse with a red flower on the Peter Pan collar.

Accessories that can be made a fad: spanking white opera pumps in various heel heights, spring version of crest jewelry, flat shell pumps to take the place of ballerinas, wind two or three or more artificial flowers together for variety.

By the way, we found a fool proof way of reviving wilted artificial flowers. Hold them over steam. They'll probably perk right up, but if they don't, they can be shaped by hand. You might try some of the new jewelry cleaner that the jewelry is simply dipped in, rinsed, dried. It works, even on very tarnished things.

Oh, we almost forgot to ask June and Helen what they are trying to be in their straight skirts and loose hanging shirts.

Off the Bookshelf

West of the Hill — This is a novel by Gladys Hasty Carroll about simple people. A tall girl named Molly who had grown up in poverty, loneliness and fear among fishermen who worked along the coast. Molly's one dream was to be a nurse. She was fulfilled when she was sent to a dream land, west of the Hill, which, as it turns out, has many complications.

Spring Comes Back — by Cavanna is the typical story of a girl and her problems with an older man who is required to become good and kind. When "little sister" grows up and leaves the home, just to be kind, she ends well.

Tree of Freedom — by the old pioneers and all along with them — hardships in the story of "Freedom." The story is of a 12 year old girl named who makes the long trek to Ohio to Kentucky.

FREEDOM (Dedicated to the Freedom)

Spring is here, bringing close twelve long last burdens and woes. Nothing but a girl's love! My sentence has been read, my release has been granted. The warden of this world says I must meet life with a constitution.

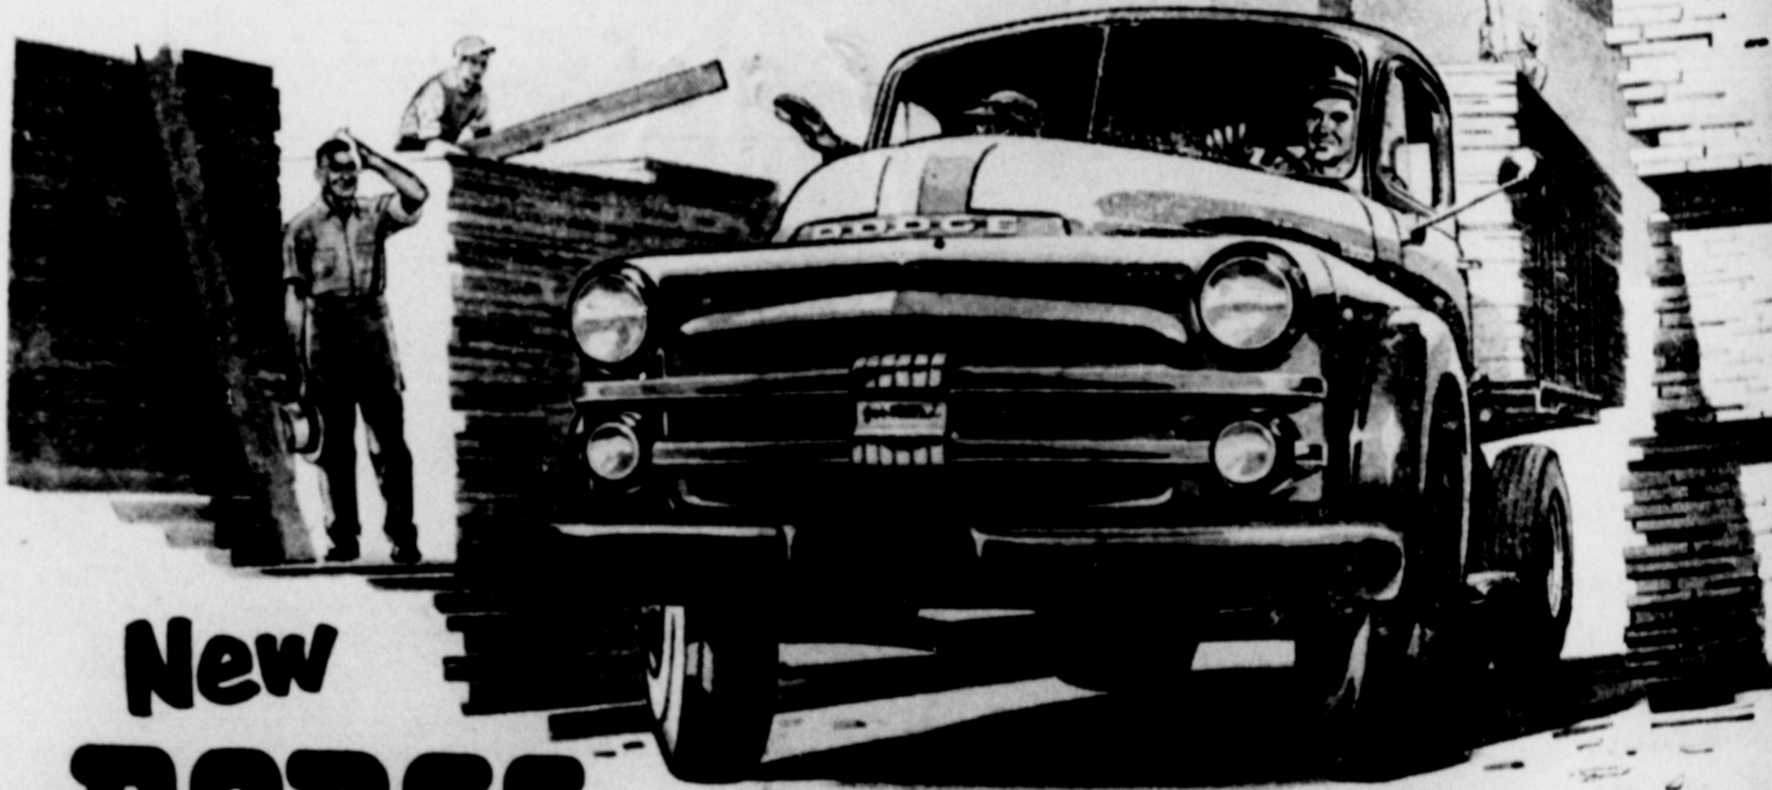

I've made many friends and have more time and what's released, our knowledge of rhyme. So, farewell, my mates. Remember, "I'm not pay." And I'll be there on my graduation day.

1949, and began the work. The teaching program was begun immediately and has been carried forward vigorously since that time. Also, several thousand people were clothed with the approximately 150,000 pounds of clothing that was sent to Italy by the churches of Christ in America. Unfortunately the Italian government will no longer allow the church to do this work.

In May, 1949, Frascati Orphans' Home for boys was started. Brother Paden is the superintendent of this Home. At present 30 boys are in the home. Nine churches have been established during the past two years with several hundred converts. A correspondence course with students in every section of Italy is a part of the work of the church. All of these things will be discussed in the meeting here.

Brother Paden returned to America February 12, 1951, and can give a picture of Italy as it is today: a picture unknown to the tourist or the business man during their brief stay in that country.

He will return to Italy to resume his work about the middle of June 1951. Since March 1945, with the exception of one year in school, he has been working for or under the Crescent Hill Church of Christ, Brownfield, Texas, first as local

I congratulate you and the other law enforcement officers of your county and hope that you will continue such a good record in the future. In order that school students and local business people might be able to attend, the morning services Thursday and Friday mornings will be at 7:15, with doughnuts and coffee to be served following the service. Saturdays morning services will be at 10 o'clock and Sunday morning at the regular hours. Evening services will be at 8 o'clock each evening. There will be youth fellowship rallies after each night's service, with fun and food at each such rally.

Invitations are to be sent to churches in the area in the hope that a large number of young people will attend a youth rally planned for Sunday afternoon, May 6.

He is known to have left the plane safely, but it is feared that he may have landed in the Sacramento river. Eyewitnesses at the scene of the disaster said the big bomber was afire before it crashed and burned in this sugar beet field. Note the long ditch dug by the wreckage which still burns.

Changing Patterns Woman's Society Topic

Members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met Wednesday for the monthly program meeting of the whole society, with Mrs. H. B. Tandy, Society president, presiding at a short business session pre-she pointed out. Mrs. T. A. Kincaid, Jr., read Whittier's poem, "Seed Time and Harvest."

The Society will meet in Circle groups next Wednesday, the Sunshine Circle to meet with Mrs. John Coates, the Jennie King Circle with Mrs. Hugh Childress, Jr., and the Willing Workers with Mrs. Abe Caruthers.

Daniel Says Tideland Seizure Like Iran's Oil Nationalization

AUSTIN.—Texas Attorney General Price Daniel Tuesday compared attempted federal control of tidelands to Iran's nationalization of oil.

"In nationalizing the tidelands, our federal government is doing exactly what Iran is doing to the British lease owners, and danger lurks in nationalization of state resources here at home as much as abroad," Daniel said in a letter to Senator O'Mahoney (D. - Wyo.), Chairman of the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

The Attorney general said his letter was in reply to arguments advanced by O'Mahoney against state ownership of the submerged lands.

The Wyoming senator announced last week he had written governors of the 48 states that nationalization of oil in Iran created an emergency requiring immediate federal control of the tidelands of Texas, California and Louisiana.

"The states discovered and developed the resources in these lands, and except for recent federal claims and lawsuits there would be no threat of delay in development today," Daniel wrote, adding:

"The President and his cabinet members ignore the majority in Congress, as well as the national emergency, when they threaten to stop production from these lands unless it is placed under exclusive federal control.

"If the emergency is as great as you indicate, it would seem that the President would be willing to

Goodfellow Field Makes Plans for Armed Forces Day Observance

Plans for Goodfellow's Second Annual Armed Forces Day went into full swing last week when President Truman issued a proclamation on Armed Forces Day. The President said that May 19 should be set aside as a day designed any bill that receives a majority vote in Congress and guarantees continued development of the property."

The attorney general noted that O'Mahoney once authored a bill in Congress quietclaiming a section of land to Wyoming after a Supreme Court had ruled the United States to be the owner of land on which oil valued at more than $3,000,000 had been discovered.

Daniel said, "The Supreme Court held against Wyoming, but you authored a bill in Congress quietclaiming this section of land to Wyoming, in spite of the Supreme Court's decision against your state and in spite of the argument of federal authorities that the land belonged to all the people and should not be restored to Wyoming. We who urge restoration to the public school fund of Texas of the lands which we have held in good faith for over 100 years occupy the same position as you did in the case of Wyoming.

"The oil under our lands is no more valuable for national defense than the oil under Wyoming land, and the federal government is as much obliged to defend Wyoming as it is to defend Texas," Daniel wrote.

Farm Income Makes Big Gains in Texas

AUSTIN.—For every $100 Texas farmers made in January and February last year, they averaged $140 in the same months this year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Data show farm cash income in Texas during January - February, 1951, rose to at least 177 million dollars — 52 million more than the corresponding 1950 figure.

Livestock income showed spectacular January-February advances over the same 1950 period. Total cash income from cattle surged up 100 per cent, and calves, 321 per cent. Sheep, lambs and hogs nearly doubled their cash yields.

For the first two 1951 months farm income from poultry was up 263 per cent, egg revenue gained 200 per cent, and dairy income rose 82 per cent above the same 1950 level.

Wheat is the only grain crop tabulated that brought farmers less total cash during January and February than during the same 1950 months. Corn income gained by 15 per cent, rice by 26 per cent, and oats by 29 per cent.

Texas production of fruits and vegetables was drastically reduced by January and February freezes, with income down 43 per cent from the corresponding 1950 period.

Farm Income Makes Big Gains in Texas

AUSTIN.—For every $100 Texas farmers made in January and February last year, they averaged $140 in the same months this year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Data show farm cash income in Texas during January - February, 1951, rose to at least 177 million dollars — 52 million more than the corresponding 1950 figure.

Livestock income showed spectacular January-February advances over the same 1950 period. Total cash income from cattle surged up 100 per cent, and calves, 321 per cent. Sheep, lambs and hogs nearly doubled their cash yields.

For the first two 1951 months farm income from poultry was up 263 per cent, egg revenue gained 200 per cent, and dairy income rose 82 per cent above the same 1950 level.

Wheat is the only grain crop tabulated that brought farmers less total cash during January and February than during the same 1950 months. Corn income gained by 15 per cent, rice by 26 per cent, and oats by 29 per cent.

Texas production of fruits and vegetables was drastically reduced by January and February freezes, with income down 43 per cent from the corresponding 1950 period.

Goodfellow Field Makes Plans for Armed Forces Day Observance

Plans for Goodfellow's Second Annual Armed Forces Day went into full swing last week when President Truman issued a proclamation on Armed Forces Day. The President said that May 19 should be set aside as a day designed any bill that receives a majority vote in Congress and guarantees continued development of the property."

The attorney general noted that O'Mahoney once authored a bill in Congress quietclaiming a section of land to Wyoming after a Supreme Court had ruled the United States to be the owner of land on which oil valued at more than $3,000,000 had been discovered.

Daniel said, "The Supreme Court held against Wyoming, but you authored a bill in Congress quietclaiming this section of land to Wyoming, in spite of the Supreme Court's decision against your state and in spite of the argument of federal authorities that the land belonged to all the people and should not be restored to Wyoming. We who urge restoration to the public school fund of Texas of the lands which we have held in good faith for over 100 years occupy the same position as you did in the case of Wyoming.

"The oil under our lands is no more valuable for national defense than the oil under Wyoming land, and the federal government is as much obliged to defend Wyoming as it is to defend Texas," Daniel wrote.

fangs. A snake book I have, written by the curator of the Bronx Museum, Raymond Dittmars, says that the shape of a snake's head and the bluntness of his tail are not always infallible signs. Some poison snakes have sharp tails, some harmless ones have blunt tails and the coral snake has no neck or triangle-shaped head at all.

Coral snakes are usually of mild disposition. One little boy I knew played with one for a half hour and it did not bite. When it does, its venom acts on the central nervous system. A lot of people mistake king snakes for coral snakes. But the king snake is man's friend. His color is similar to that of the coral, except for the order of the bands. There is a traditional story current in the timber country of a king snake that saved a man's life.

A timber jack let the limb of a falling tree pin him to the ground. While lying helpless, a big timber rattler approached him. From under a bush, a small king snake rushed up and engaged the rattler, eventually killing it.

Most people say, "A snake is a snake and I kill them all." But the snake men claim the bull snake, the coach whip, the spreading adder, the rat snake, the grass snake, the green tree snake etc. are all harmless. Occasionally one will raid a hen's nest of eggs, or kill little chickens and birds, but they also destroy many rodents, especially rats and mice. After all, we all have to eat.

An oldtimer in these parts tells me that every prairie dog hole used to have three inhabitants, a dog, a little owl and a rattlesnake. They seemed to get on pretty well, but if the prairie dog wants to, he can pack the dirt down so tight on the snake that it dies in the hole.

A coachwhip is a natural fighter. A Crockett county ranchman says that he saw one kill a rattlesnake, and I don't doubt it. One will strike at the hand that tries to catch it, as I discovered one day.

He has no teeth but does have a rough row of gristle with which he can scratch the bark on the back of your hand.

On the Frio River you can find big blue-black snakes that get to be six or seven feet long. On a quail hunt one day I came up on one in a cornfield. I laid my gun on him and he coiled up and tried to hide his head, never offering to fight. I tied my bootlace around his neck and held him up. He was longer than I am. I took him home and pickled him in a two-gallon glass jar. He was six feet three inches long and one of the timidest creatures I ever saw.

Once when I was a boy, I caught a large bull snake in the chicken house, made a screen wire top on an apple box, and deposited my snake just inside the front door of our home. Mother had gone to town for the mail. She came up the steps, opened the door, and started in. About that time, the bull snake let out a sharp hiss, and struck the wire top of his box with his head. Mother, who was normally quite inactive, jumped clear across the room, let out a blood-curdling yell, while the mail flew up in the air along with a little straw hat she wore. Then she headed straight for the razor strap. Since then I have had a positive prejudice about bringing snakes into the home, although I did get a walloping later for putting a green tree snake in the teacher's desk.

The snake got a bad break when the writer of the book of Genesis in the Bible made him the villain of the Adam and Eve story. The tale winds up with the observation that the Lord put enmity between the sons of men and the offspring of the snake. If the snake had got off on the right foot, it might have a more favorable place in society.
