Dewey, Warren Form GOP Ticket

Cheers For Victory Close Convention

CONVENTION HALL, PHILADELPHIA, June 25. (AP)—The Republicans made it a Thomas E. Dewey-Earl Warren ticket today and closed their convention cheering for a coast-to-coast victory hope in November's presidential elections.

EARL WARREN ... accepted by acclamation to join Dewey

The gavel ending the 24th national Republican convention banged down at 11:30 a. m. (CST).

Chairman Joe Martin ended it on the same note hit on Monday when it opened — victory. Just before the session's end, he introduced Warren as the "next vice-president of the United States."

The cheering delegates left no doubt they believed him — that this is the year the GOP can end 16 years of democratic rule.

Warren in an acceptance speech pledged "every bit of loyalty in my make-up."

No other name than Warren's was presented for the vice-presidency.

Arizona gave notice of nominating Harold E. Stassen but a few minutes later withdrew it.

Chairman Joseph Martin put Warren's name before the convention and declared him nominated by acclamation.

New York's Dewey, getting his second chance at the presidency, made it an East-West all-governor ticket after an all-night series of conferences.

The word quickly spread to Convention Hall and the delegates didn't take long to whoop through Warren's name.

Leaders of camps of other disappointed presidential hopefuls were quick to line up behind the Dewey-Warren combination.

The ticket which Republicans hope will end 16 years of Democratic rule in Washington was completed at a series of conferences that went on most of the night and continued through the morning.

There was tense waiting throughout the downtown political camps as Dewey, unanimously given a second chance at the presidency, kept the convention waiting for his choice of a running mate.

At 8:30 a. m. (CST), the hour set for this convention to consider nominations for vice president, there was scarcely a major politician in the hall.

Chairman Joe Martin had not put in an appearance. The GOP bigwigs who sit on the platform were absent.

They were waiting downtown for the word from the New York governor, now quarterbacking the Republican drive to gain full control of the national government.

Most of the delegates were in their places.

In a hotel suite downtown, Dewey was waiting for the word.

New Leader Sets World Freedom Goal

PHILADELPHIA, June 25. (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey solemnly set a goal of freedom for men everywhere in accepting the Republican presidential nomination last night.

"As long as the world is half free, we must peacefully labor to help men everywhere achieve liberty," he told cheering GOP national convention delegates who had just nominated him unanimously.

"Above all other purposes," he said, "we must labor by every peaceful means to build a world order founded upon justice and righteousness. That kind of a world will have peace. That kind of peace will be worth having."

World freedom and an appeal for unity to help achieve it were the two central themes of the New York governor's 15-minute acceptance speech.

"We are a united party," he told the Republicans, but "our nation stands tragically in need of that same unity."

The unity to be sought is "most of all spiritual," he said.

"We have found the means to blow our world, physically apart. Spiritually we have yet to find the means to put together the world's broken pieces, to bind up its wounds, to make a good society, a community of men of good will that fits our dreams."

"We have devised noble plans for a new world. Without a new spirit our noblest plans will come to nothing."

Disabled Vets To Meet Here

Representatives of chapters of the Disabled American Veterans from over newly-formed Region I are expected to gather here July 2 at the Settles Hotel for the first convention of the group.

Election of officers will be among the most important items on the agenda of the two-day meeting.

To be named are a regional commander, vice-commander and three regional committeemen.

The DAV auxiliary will meet at the same time and will elect officers.

The new region was set up at the recent state convention in Galveston. Its territory coincides with that served by the Lubbock Regional Veterans Administration office, and extends from Abilene west to El Paso.

State Commander Earl D. Whitley of Dallas will head the list of state officers expected to be present. Others will include Robert Rowntree, Jr., Abilene, senior vice-commander; Carl Smith, Lubbock, junior vice-commander; and DeWitt T. Kirby, Waco, state adjutant.

Mrs. Roy Beard, Amarillo, state commander of the auxiliary, will preside at the election of officers for the women's group.

Representatives are expected from Abilene, Amarillo, Borger, El Paso, Pampa, Lubbock, Lamesa, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Midland, Odessa, and Big Spring.

CAUBLE FIGURES BULLS WORTH LESS WITH DEWEY NOMINATED

Politics, frequently mixed with verbal bull, tied in with the flesh and blood variety here today.

I. B. (Doc) Cauble, pioneer Howard county Hereford breeder, sold 10 young aires to H. H. Estes of Estes and Johnson, Silver City, N. M., for $15 less than his original quoted prices because Thomas E. Dewey won the republican nomination.

Cauble, who describes himself as "anti-republican and particularly anti-Dewey," said he figured the bulls were worth that much less with the New York governor as a presidential nominee.

"Why those fellows knew that the Dewey crowd had that convention all cooked up," said Cauble. "They had a truck backed up to my place before the nomination was dry."

ON GERMANY

Soviet Orbit Urges New Try At Unification

WARSAW, June 25. (AP)—Russia and seven European satellites urged today that a "provisional democratic, peace-loving all-German government" be set up.

They did so in a communique by their foreign ministers, who ended a two-day conference at midnight in Wilanow Palace, eight miles east of here.

(The communique as broadcast by the Moscow radio and distributed in London by the Soviet news agency Tass said an all-German government should be created by Big Four agreement.

The foreign ministers, including V. M. Molotov of Russia, said the government in Germany should be made up of representatives of Democratic parties and organizations and should guarantee against any more German aggression.

Delegates talked over a recent London conference of the United States, Great Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. The six Western nations agreed to set up a federal government in Western Germany.

Well-informed sources said some in the Warsaw meeting wanted to counter this with an Eastern German state but the conference finally agreed upon one more try for German unity. They said if this failed, the Soviet bloc would create a separate East-German government.

Reds Cut Off Food To Allies

BERLIN, June 25. (AP)—The Russians ordered today that no more food from their zone be sent into the Western-occupied sectors of Berlin.

They stopped traffic yesterday on the single railroad line supplying those sectors with food from the Western occupation zones.

The blockade left air the only way to get food in to the two million inhabitants of the American, British and French sectors. Allied experts said that would prove unworkable in the long run.

American and British authorities said a month's food stocks are on hand in the Western sectors and nobody will starve.

The people remained outwardly calm in the face of efforts of the Soviet-controlled press to spread fear of hunger and unemployment and a Russian threat to keep the rail freight tieup indefinitely.

By their action the Russians withdrew from the four-power food pool which for nearly three years has been feeding Berlin.

Each occupying power has been contributing to this pool. The Russians can feed the one million Germans in their sector from their surrounding occupation zone.

The Western supplies have to come in from the Western occupation zones. They can't come in so long as the rail line is blocked.

SOLOM SAYS

Truman Thinks Conservatives Control GOP

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP)—Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont.) today quoted President Truman as saying the Republican national convention has shown that "conservative interests" are in control of that party.

Officially Mr. Truman has maintained silence about the GOP convention and the selection of New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as Republican presidential nominee.

Murray was asked about Mr. Truman's reaction to the GOP meeting after he had talked with the President at the White House.

Murray told reporters—"He (Mr. Truman) seemed to think the convention illustrates how the conservative interests of the country are in control of the convention and dominating its actions."

"He seemed to regard the platform as a reiteration of promises the Republicans have failed to carry out in the past."

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said Mr. Truman had no comment officially on Dewey's nomination.

U. N. Man Says Egyptians Fire On Truce Plane

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 25. (AP)—A United Nations spokesman said today the Egyptians had fired upon a clearly-marked white UN truce plane piloted by an American.

The spokesman said also that the Egyptians had refused to permit a UN-approved Jewish supply convoy to pass to settlements in the Negev, and both incidents were regarded by the UN commission here as violations of the truce.

The case was not regarded, however, as invalidating the general cease-fire which has held generally for two of its four weeks.

The Israeli government also accused the Egyptians of violating the truce. A communique said the Egyptians not only refused passage to the Jewish convoy, but bombed the settlements of Beer Tuva and Kefar Warburg, midway between Tel Aviv and Gaza.

The UN spokesman said Egyptian Spitfires pursued the white truce plane, until it was about to land near Kefar Warburg. He said the plane was attacked with gunfire as it was about to touch the ground. Fifteen shots were fired, some of them striking the plane from the rear and hitting the instrument panel. The American pilot, a colonel named Martin, was alone in the plane and escaped injury, the spokesman added.

Meanwhile the Mizrahi Party declared that both its resigned ministers were returning to the government. They had resigned in the crisis caused by the government's dispatch of Israeli troops to oppose Irgun Zvai Leumi attempts to land an arms ship.

NO RESPITE

New Rainstorms Flood Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 25. (AP)—New rainstorms crashed over flooded Oklahoma today.

They came just as the tormented state hoped for respite from its summer deluge that has already taken nine lives and made thousands homeless.

Oklahoma's Panhandle caught the new fury, even as the eastern part of the state and neighboring Arkansas sweated out flood crests from the first.

Near-tornado winds combed the small Panhandle town of Gate as a curtain-raiser, damaging almost every building there and knocking down ripe wheat for miles around. No injuries were reported.

Larger Guyton, 80 miles farther west, was under a continuous rainstorm that piled up 1.69 inches from noon to midnight—and kept coming down.

But most important, the weather bureau altered its forecast at midnight and called for more thunderstorms in the west during the day, becoming general over the whole state tonight and tomorrow.

If they arrive on schedule, they will find creeks, lakes and rivers filled to capacity or just barely receding from flood disasters. The back of the drought was broken.

But the rains in places did more damage than good. Del Rio, on the Rio Grande in Southwest Texas, was virtually isolated by three flooding streams—Devil's River, Sycamore Creek and the Rio Grande.

The border town was for a while without electricity and gas. Telephone and telegraph services were disrupted. Highway bridges over Sycamore Creek were washed out. The Del Rio News-Herald was unable to publish because there was no power.

In the South Plains, the streets of Littlefield were flooded. Water running-board deep, blocked highways between Littlefield and Lubbock.

During the storm, one man was killed and another critically injured on a rain swept highway near Lubbock. Dead was Bobby Gene Oliver, 20, of Lubbock. Emmett Carroll, 18, of Lubbock, was critically injured.

Southern Pacific trains — both freight and passenger — were being routed through Big Spring over the T&P Friday.

The office of George French, assistant division superintendent, estimated that it would be at least a couple of weeks before the washed-out bridge on the S-P at Del Rio could be replaced and traffic resumed. Meanwhile, the already busy T&P was busier still handling the extra traffic.

BILL SIGNED

'Greetings' Dusted Off For Draft

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP)—United States military officials dusted off those "greetings" today for delivery to thousands of youthful draftees next fall.

President Truman signalled the start of the nation's second peacetime draft when he signed the two-year selective service bill into law at 3:40 p. m. (CST) yesterday.

Earlier he okayed a $10 billion-plus fund to build up the military force to two million men.

Mr. Truman's signature on the draft bill shut off the flood of enlistments in the National Guard and other reserve units.

The draft bill provided that men 19 through 25 who were in those organizations before the measure became law would not be inducted into the regular forces.

Registration for the draft will get underway about Aug. 16.

But new draftees won't start marching off to training camps until Sept. 22, or later. The law provides that 90 days must elapse between enactment of bill and the order to shoulder arms.

Up to 225,000 men 19 through 25 may be called up for 21 months service — mostly in the Army — in the first 12 months. Another 161,000 youths 18 years old may volunteer for one year's training to escape drafting later.

But the 18-year-old volunteers must put in six extra years in the reserves. All draftees must serve at least three years in the active reserves, or five years in inactive reserves after their 21-month hitch.

Most veterans are exempt. In addition, the President is authorized to defer married men and those in essential occupations or in scientific and medical research and study. High school students will be deferred until graduation, or until they are 20, and college students will get a delay until the end of the school year.

Russians Admit AP Men Are Held

BERLIN, June 25. (AP)—The Russians acknowledged to American authorities today they are holding two German employees of the Associated Press, seized last night while driving through the Soviet sector of Berlin.

The Russians said they are holding the pair on "suspicion of disseminating propaganda against the Soviet occupying power." They said they did not know when they could be released. The detainees are AP Photographer Fritz Remus and an assistant, Kurt Platen.

Also in Russian custody were a German photographer for Acme News Agency and a reporter for a German news agency, Dena. Four were returning from covering a Socialist rally in the French sector of the city.

Torrential Rains Fall Over State

Torrential rains fell yesterday and last night in widely-separated sections of the state.

The Hill Country in Central Texas, the South Plains of West Texas and the Big Bend country of Southwest Texas were drenched.

Crops benefited. Livestock prospects brightened as the rain soaked the ranges. Lakes and streams were replenished. The back of the drought was broken.

DEWEY IS HERO BUT—
Stassen May Yet Emerge As Darling Of Republicans

BY RELMAN MORIN
 PHILADELPHIA, June 25. (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey, smiling, suave, and utterly adept to the occasion, is the official hero of the Republican convention.

But the man who got the hand at the last, and who may yet emerge as the darling of the party, was Harold E. Stassen. In the long run, Stassen may win more friends and command more genuine approval by his actions at the moment of defeat than he could have done in a moment of victory. Certainly, he gained stature.

Stassen faced the music with a smile.

He was the first of the candidates—and in fact the only one with a real chance to be nominated—who walked to the rostrum, stood before 14,000 clamoring people, and told his followers that he would no longer hold them to their pledges. He went further. He urged them to vote for Dewey, and in the coming campaign, to work for Dewey.

Stassen probably could have held his lines for another ballot. With luck, the line might have held for two ballots.

But the end was inevitable. Dewey was too strong.

The big man must have seen this from the first.

He came to the convention at 2 o'clock when the balloting was supposed to start. He was the only candidate there. He brought a score card with him.

He took a seat far back and to the right of the platform. And as the vote rolled off, he sat there, quietly ticking off his chances, scoring the ebb of his hopes.

For two and a half hours, the convention was in recess.

It re-convened in the evening. Quietly, Stassen returned to his place in the depths of the great hall, behind the platform. Very few people even saw him.

California was released of its pledge to Gov. Earl Warren.

Other states had already done that. And so, when the gavel banged again, they gave up the struggle, one after another.

Gov. Kim Sigler spoke for Sen. Arthur Vandenberg. Sen. William F. Knowland delivered the message from Gov. Warren. Sen. John W. Bricker was the representative for Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Harold Stassen spoke for himself.

There was a pause between the

State GOP Head Declares Dewey Can Carry Texas

PHILADELPHIA, June 25. (AP)—George C. Hopkins says he believes Republican Presidential Candidate Thomas E. Dewey can carry Texas.

"He is a fine man and an able leader," the chairman of the Texas Republican Executive Committee said last night after Dewey was nominated.

Hopkins was in the Texas delegation to the Republican national convention. He is from Dallas.

On the first roll call the Texas group cast 30 votes for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, 2 for Dewey, and one for Harold Stassen.

On the second roll call delegate Harry Hotchkins of San Antonio changed his vote to Stassen.

Hopkins said at the end of the second roll call, just before a motion was made for a recess, he made a desperate plea to Texas National Committeeman Rene B. Creager of Brownsville to switch Texas 30 Taft votes to Dewey and catapult the nomination to Dewey.

Taft released his delegates to Dewey before the third roll call.

Two Landslides Roar Down Side Of Mt. Lafayette

LITTLETON, N. H., June 25. (AP)—Two landslides—dotted with huge boulders and trees—roared a mile and a half down Mt. Lafayette in the picturesque White Mountain chain yesterday, burying sections of Franconia Notch highway under 20 feet of earth.

State officials said early today that it had not been determined whether anyone had been trapped.

One swiftly moving mass nicked the corner of the Franconia Notch Gift Shop, but none of the 35 occupants were injured. Seventeen automobiles were hemmed in a half-mile stretch between slides for some time before bulldozers cleared a path.

Sections of the larger slide, which covered 350 feet of highway, cascaded into a lake near the profile of "the old man of the mountain"—a scenic attraction for tourists.

The lake rose so fast it threatened to flood the highway before it subsided.

James Moulton, a State Forestry Department employe, reported he was forced to whip his panel truck in reverse to avoid being hit by a boulder as big as the vehicle during the smaller slide.

He said there was a long line of traffic ahead of him. He didn't know whether all cars escaped the big slide.

State highway engineers said it would take two or three days to clear 10,000 yards of earth for one-way passage through the larger slide. They said recent rains apparently caused the slides.

BRITISHER SAYS DEWEY UNPOPULAR

LONDON, June 25. (AP)—News of Thomas E. Dewey's nomination as Republican candidate for President reached London late this morning for British papers to comment editorially.

Several of them ran profiles of the New York governor, however, and a few columnists managed some last minute comment. One observed:

"Few Americans like Thomas Edmund Dewey, but they can never tell you why."

FORMAL OPENING TODAY — Open house today will mark the formal opening of Phillips Tire company in its new location at Fourth and Johnson streets. The modern brick and tile plant, with open-front display, was especially designed for its purposes and contains hundreds of tires of all sizes for automobiles and tractors. In addition, the store also has complete repair and recapping service for cars and trucks. (Jack M. Haynes Photo).

Phillips Tire To Observe Change To Its New Building

Phillips Tire company today is observing open house in its new plant at Fourth and Johnson streets.

Designed and erected specifically for the purpose it serves, the structure is 30 x 120 tile with cream face brick finish. It features an open front with an abundance of plate glass on two sides of the display room. At the rear on one side is a ladies lounge and at the other side are the offices.

These are separated by a passage way which leads to the work and storage room where automobiles may be serviced quickly and expertly for their tire needs.

Still further to the rear is more storage space, then the work rooms for recapping, repairing and vulcanizing. One of these rooms, where grinding and similar steps are accomplished, are set apart

Department Heads At Phillips Tire Co.

J. C. Lough and Oscar Dunlap head two departments of the Phillips Tire company.

Lough is in charge of the recapping, repairing and vulcanizing department of the concern, while Dunlap deals principally with servicing auto and tractor tires. Ted Phillips operator, is on hand to assist in any problem and Edgar Phillips, a partner, is around frequently to assist in the operations.

Eight Concerns Have Part In New Building

Eight concerns had a part in the construction of the new Phillips Tire company store.

J. D. Jones, long-time Big Spring contractor, handled the general contract. Materials were furnished through Higginbotham & Bartlett Lumber company.

West Texas Sand & Gravel furnished ready mix concrete, Talley Electric did the electrical work, Nick Brenner the plumbing, Vineyard Nursery the landscaping and Martin Noen Co. the signs.

from the rest.

Immediately to the south, the building is flanked by a 20 x 120-foot concrete apron where cars may be parked while awaiting service or where heavy equipment may conveniently be left pending repair of tires. Here, too, is a lift, big enough for trucks, to enable changing of four tires at once.

Phillips Tire company is owned by Ted Phillips, who is operator, and Edgar Phillips, who is a partner. It specializes in tractor and automobile tire service and sales, together with seat covers, accessories, wheel balancing, and some minor domestic items such as bikes.

Polio Course May Soon Be Offered

Possibility of a special refresher on polio prevention, symptoms and home care for next week was seen yesterday by Dr. F. E. Sadler, Midland, director of the Midland-Ector-Howard county health unit.

Dr. Sadler said that efforts were being made to book a representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to conduct the refresher course in Big Spring. He was confident that it would be arranged. Similar courses have been conducted elsewhere in the district.

The usual number of summer infections are apparent in reports to the health office, he said, but nothing of epidemic proportions. The last report showed four measles cases.

Decisions To Be Made Soon

Within the next two months some important decisions will have to be made by the county commissioners court.

Most people are aware that one of them has to do with the annual budget, the fiscal guide for the next calendar year. It is no cinch that what goes down into that document will be expended exactly as it is listed, but it is quite reasonable to assume that great need will have to be shown before additional expenses will be authorized during the year. The law requires it and commissioners follow this pattern rather rigidly as a matter of legality and convenience. So, those who have theories on the budget should be alert for the public hearing, when it is announced.

There is another matter which may or may not be brought up, and that is re-precincting. A favorite past-time in this section is to re-precinct the state legislature for its habitual failure to redistrict the state. West Texans are acutely conscious that this results in under representation to this area.

Yet, the county commissioner precinct lines, established more than two decades ago, have the same effect right here in Howard county. They ought to be changed. The problems are the same as in the state government—adjusting them fairly and so that those in office will not be hurt. On the latter point the idea fouled up last year. If this is to be the case again, we suggest that some counsel from capable and sincere private citizens might be able to develop a recommendation acceptable to the court.

That Naughty Smoky Room

One of the by-products of our democratic system, particularly in election years, is the hurling of epithets. Some of these are personal and barbed, but many are swathed in vagueness.

Such is the case with one you have been hearing of late and doubtless will continue to hear throughout the campaign, at least until national conventions are past. Reference is to the "smoke-filled room."

Goodness gracious, what evil innuendo is contained in this phrase. In those three words, one candidate or party seeks to drape upon the opposition the great crime of having stolen in nefarious secrecy to a dingy back room, where admittance is via peephole only. Presumably, this dark hole contains the minions of the underworld who are mixing and mingling with the plutocrats and political bosses. Perhaps a candle flickers on an old beer bottle and conversation is carried on confidentially and in a low monotone. It is barely possible that someone in the crowd has been drinking, and oh yes, the room is filled with choking with smoke. Nothing but the unholyest of alliances can be cooked up in this foul atmosphere.

But alas, the "smoke-filled room" may be one seat behind another in an auditorium, a private office, an automobile, or even a telephone. Trades can and are made anywhere. They are nothing new in politics.

Thus, in the weeks ahead, the public may as well be warned to bear up under the barrage of smoke-filled innectives.

WAINWRIGHT DOES HIS BEST FOR MACARTHUR

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Two men leaning on canes—a nearly-blind lawyer and a party-dead old soldier—early today placed an absent warrior in nomination for the Republican presidential candidacy.

The absent warrior, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, got a brief burst of applause shortly before dawn in a convention hall three-fourths empty.

His advocates—Harlan W. Kelley, a Milwaukee attorney, and retired Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, hero of Batuan—were cheered even more heartily by the sparse galleries and depleted ranks of delegates.

Guided to the speaker's table as he tapped with his red-and-white cane, Kelly lauded MacArthur as "an honest, honorable Christian gentleman who can unite all parties and creeds."

He said the job ahead was too big for any politician. He said that MacArthur's lips had been sealed by the War Department, but that he would resign from the Army if nominated.

"Politicians are a dime a dozen," Kelley said, looking around at the gathering of politicians he couldn't see. "But there is only one Douglas MacArthur."

He stepped back, still weak from a 103-degree fever that kept him in bed until last Monday.

Cheers bounced off the empty gallery seats. Supporters trooped around the hall with baskets carrying the 1,108,574 letters and telegrams endorsing MacArthur.

But the parade and the cheering was briefer than the demonstrations accorded any of the six previous potential nominees.

Then convention Chairman Joe Martin called the last speaker of the evening—"Skinny" Wainwright. Wainwright had stayed the bitter end at Batuan for MacArthur. And he stayed to the bitter end again at this nominating session, fighting his last battle for his old commander. It was 2:33 a. m. (EST).

He moved slowly forward, leaning on his cane. He is still in poor health from his long imprisonment by the Japanese. His gray hair was cropped short. He wore a light linen coat, tan trousers.

Citing the record of MacArthur in war and as the occupation chief of Japan, Wainwright said: "As a soldier he is unequalled in the world today and must go down in history amongst the great captains of all times."

"The movement to make him the next president of the United States is a movement of the whole of the people."

"Should the progress of this convention reach a point at which the delegates (those pledged to others) may feel free to consider another candidate, I urge them to turn to MacArthur."

As he finished, the delegates and spectators gave an ovation which was in large measure a tribute to "Skinny" as well as the man he spoke for. The nominating session ended.

Wainwright stayed for a short reception in an anteroom. Chairman Joe Martin came to greet him. Chief Usher George Cane of Chicago presented the old general a souvenir gavel.

"I'll use it on my side," he grinned.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Path To Presidency Must Be Paved With Publicity, Money For Success

By DREW PEARSON

PHILADELPHIA.—Watching the picking of a president: delegates in convention lobbies, delegates in hotel lobbies, delegates eating hot dogs, lady delegates, gray-haired, slightly paunchy delegates—marching in the aisles, carrying banners, sleepy-eyed, singing delegates, deadly serious, fighting-mad delegates, a mixture of P. T. Barnum, a Boy Scout Bender of Ohio, with a megaphone rolled out of the Chicago Tribune, shouting the Taft theme song in the middle of a hotel lobby. Senator Taft "shaking hands with a baby elephant." Negroes picketing the convention hall, their signs read: "GOP Congress killed civil rights program." Mrs. Bertha Bauer of Illinois wearing three gold elephants in her hat. Governor and Mrs. Dewey strolling down Chestnut Street alone while the crowds clamor to see them at Dewey headquarters.

Seen in the lobbies—Alf Landon of Kansas, hero of 1936, wandering about, looking lonesome. Herbert Hoover, looking older. Chief Spotted Crow of Pine Ridge, S. D., in full regalia taking these minutes to tell a radio audience in Sioux language: "I'm for Stassen. But I think Dewey win." Democrats in window, inflating rubber butts down on the frothing rubber elephant in front of the Bellevue-Stratford. No wonder the elephant became deflated so often. Taft rooters rushing out with banners to meet Taft forces head on. It couldn't happen anyplace but in America. What would Europe think? Gray-haired delegates, paunchy delegates, serious delegates, determined delegates—where else could you see women politicians on equal footing with men, the son of a former president of the United States rubbing shoulders with the son of a bootblack, the head of the Sun Oil company friendly with the head of the Carpenters Union? It's democracy, uniquely American, found nowhere else in the world. There's George Bender again singing: "We're looking Over a Four Leaf Clover." He's almost hoarse now. There's Alice Longworth sporting a big Taft button. (She claims to keep him isolationist.) And beautiful Mrs. Morris Cafritz, the lady who entertains so many Democrats, now vigorously applauding Governor Green as he blasts the Democrats.

And Senator Ferguson of Michigan. He says Philadelphia is a vacation after staying up all night at Senate sessions.

SMOKE-FILLED ROOMS

Of course there's one dilution in the democracy of these conventions. It takes such a buildup, such a publicity machine, so much money to be a candidate. The money poured into bands, uniforms, buttons and give-aways would make up the District of Columbia deficit. No longer can a good man walk into public life and become a candidate—merely because he's a good man. If so, one of the best men here, Governor Warren of California, would have been in. But Warren didn't have the advance buildup. The road to the presidency these days must be paved with glamor and money, to say nothing of horse trading in smoke-filled rooms. That's where the big blocks of delegates are auctioned off. It's a delegates' not a peoples' convention. And the top leaders don't hesitate to barter their big blocks of votes

The Nation Today—

Republican Platform

By JAMES MARLOW

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—The Republican Party's 1948 platform, adopted by the convention here, is a pretty carefully worded document.

Like the platforms offered the voters in other years by Republicans and Democrats, it is supported to:

1. Please as many voters as possible.
2. Show where the Republican party stands in this year of 1948 on American and world problems.

In the presidential elections of 1944 the Democratic and Republican platforms promised many things neither party carried out. The GOP platform is carefully, cautiously worded, particularly when it touches on social problems. For example, on education the platform says:

"We favor equality of educational opportunity for all and the promotion of education and educational facilities."

There is nothing there suggesting the Republican Party intends to do anything for education. At the same time, it doesn't say the Republicans won't do that.

In their 1944 platform, the Republicans took a more specific stand on the poll tax than they did in this new 1948 platform. In 1944 the platform said:

"The payment of any poll tax should not be a condition of voting in Federal elections and we favor immediate submission of a constitutional amendment for its abolition."

This year's platform on the poll tax says simply: "We favor abolition of the poll tax as a requisite to voting."

Nothing is said about how it should be abolished. It merely puts the party on record as favoring getting rid of the tax. That's probably the least that could be said without costing the Republicans some Southern votes.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Path To Presidency Must Be Paved With Publicity, Money For Success

back and forth like so many shares of stock around the board of the stock exchange. . . . It's a blemish on democracy, but before this convention is over part of the next cabinet may be picked.

WHISPERING CAMPAIGNS

Senator Ralph Flanders, presiding at a spiritual breakfast of 200 delegates (he attends such a breakfast every week in Washington), heard Chicago Banker Nathaniel Leverone blast reported bigamy among presidential candidates.

Turning to the women delegates at the breakfast, Leverone inquired: "Do you women want a bigamist in the White House?" Seldom have the private lives of candidates been so carefully scrutinized. Remarkable one G.O.P. politico "It's better now than later. We don't want another Nan Britton incident in the White House."

TAXICAB POLITICS

Enthusiastic delegates, feverish delegates, tired delegates. Delegates packed in taxicabs reading the special convention edition of the "Taxi News," which featured Taft's, Dewey's and Vandenberg's views on taxi drivers. One item (unfortunately fiction, reported Senator Vandenberg having lost $5,000 in a cab and giving all of it to the honest driver who turned it in. . . . Taft's Little Eva Elephant got tired. Flown from Ohio on a cargo plane, she had to have a shot of adrenalin and finally went to an elephant stall in the University of Pennsylvania veterinary hospital. Politics, not the air trip was too tough. . . . Ernest Arthur Vandenberg Jr., trying to persuade his father to announce his position

... Mrs. Dewey answering questions from ladies of the press: "What is your husband's favorite dish?" "Mexican mackerel." "Does your husband's mustache tickle?" No answer. . . . Mrs. Dewey might have answered: "A kiss without a mustache is like an egg without salt."

HARD-LUCK TAFT

Poor Bob Taft. He's a little like Harry Truman—courteous, sincere, hard-working. But trouble seems to dog his heels. . . . Taft got to Philadelphia after two sleepless nights in the closing days of the Senate; where he did a superhuman job. Home one morning at 7 o'clock, he left for Philadelphia at 7:30. . . . Arriving in Philadelphia simultaneously were John L. Lewis and Big Bill Hutchinson, head of the Carpenters Union who announced to all within earshot that he had come for the express purpose of blocking Bob Taft. The Republicans, he said could pick anyone but Taft. . . . John L. Lewis came for the double purpose of blocking Taft and nominating his friend, Speaker Joe Martin. . . . Taft's crowning catastrophe just as he was having his picture taken with little Eva, the elephant, the huge Taft banner across the hotel lobby fell on his head. . . . One of the nicest guys in the world, but one of the unluckiest.

GREAT SHOW

It's been a great show. And staid old Philadelphia will have only one week to rest up before the Elks Convention, after which come the Democrats, then Henry Wallace. Perhaps it's true—that they say—that the Quaker City really likes politicians and people.

In Hollywood—

Wanger Plans To Mine Rich U.S. History Vein

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Producer Walter Wanger announces he will mine the rich vein of American history in his future films.

The film maker says he plans a long-range program of movies highlighting Americana. Latest to be announced is "So Gallantly Gleaming," a story of John Fremont. The producer will soon begin "Tulsa," concerning the rise of the oil industry, and plans to follow with "Anne of the Indies," about Anne Bonny, Charleston-born pirate who operated between Nassau and the Carolinas.

Burt Lancaster plans to shoot all of his "Eagle on the Cactus" in Mexico, and that should give film making below the border a much-needed shot in the arm. It's a story of the Mexican revolution and Burt's company will film it in authentic locales.

Dinah Shore is the latest to sign for London Palladium appearances. She and George Montgomery will make the trip after he finishes "Indian Scout."

Cigarettes Offered Japs As Work Prize

TOKYO, June 25. (AP)—Japanese farmers, fishermen and others will get American smokes if they work hard.

Allied headquarters passed along the good news today—26 million packages of American cigarettes will be distributed as incentive goods to those equalling or surpassing work quotas in the next year.

At least 11 million packages have been handed out, mostly to coal miners. Cigarettes cost up to $4 a pack in the blackmarket.

Texas Today—

PUBLISHER IS STILL LOOKING FORWARD AT 68

BY WILLIAM C. BARNARD

Associated Press Staff

Ward Mayborn, handsome, silver-topped publisher of the Sherman Democrat, has an interesting past and a promising future. This year is his fiftieth in the newspaper business and he says: "I'd sell about 35 of those years cheap but I wouldn't take a million dollars for the ones coming up."

At 68, the Sherman publisher is alert, aggressive, works around the clock and scowls at the 40-hour week as "the curse of the newspaper business."

"How do they expect a reporter to learn anything in an eight-hour day? When I started out, it was an 18-hour day at $6 per week."

He does his work right out in the big front office of the Democrat where no partitions separate the advertising, business and editorial departments.

"I don't want any strangers working for me."

While we talked to Mayborn, an employe came to his desk with the news that a city group contemplated a secret meeting, with newspapermen barred.

"Tell them," said the publisher, "that either we get the story straight or we get it the best we can. Tell them that we'd much prefer a straight story and that if they're smart, so would they." (The reporter got in.)

Here are some Mayborn observations on journalism:

"Newspapers are getting better all the time, feeling their responsibility to the public and sincerely wanting to give service. Any newspaper worthy of the name is founded on integrity and thrives on integrity."

"In days to come, newspapers will spend more time in educating their employes in all departments. There is considerable literature today on how to put out a newspaper. In my early days, you had to feel your way."

He wasn't kidding. Once he managed a newspaper that didn't gain circulation. So he got out and knocked on 500 doors and asked 500 families: "Why don't you read my newspaper?" Then he took the answers and put some suggested changes into effect. Circulation zoomed.

"Newspaper ethics of today are a fine thing," said Mayborn. "I've seen a lot of muckraking in my time. It was exciting but unhealthy. Newspapering today is a self-respecting business that a young man with imagination, boundless energy and hustle can please with pride. But clockwatchers please stay out."

Native of Kinsman, Ohio, Mayborn attended a night school and business college but "never got a diploma in anything." Most of his career was with the Scripps Newspaper group. He started as office boy with the Akron Press, was graduated to the Cleveland Press and, in 1906, established the Evansville, Ind., Press. By 1909, the Evansville paper had a circulation of 8,000—a circulation sold by teenage boys. "I made a game out of it, giving them plenty of prizes, picnics and free shows. Harness the energy of 16-year-olds and they'll pick up a building and move it to the other side of the street."

Mayborn became general manager of the Evansville paper, the Terre Haute Post, the Denver Express and the Scripps paper in Memphis. At Dallas, in 1919, he established a regional office to operate Scripps papers in the Southwest. He started the Fort Worth Press in 1921 and in 1923 founded the El Paso Post. From 1923 to 1929 he operated the El Paso Post, Albuquerque State Tribune, Houston Press, Fort Worth Press and Oklahoma City News, all at one time.

Today And Tomorrow—

GOP Majority Is Doubtful

PHILADELPHIA—Though the Republican convention is almost certainly choosing the next President, the leaders who will make the choice would be fooling themselves if they thought the Republican party has a dependable majority among the people. The majority now in sight for the November election is no doubt enough to win. But it is not as yet the kind of majority which they can count upon holding together even for two years, that is to say for the Congressional and state elections of 1950, much less for four years.

The Republican majority today is made up of the minority of habitual Republicans plus all the people who want a change, who are tired of Truman and the sixteen years of Democratic rule. There is certainly no majority which believes in salvation by the Republicans, no majority which knows what a Republican Administration would be like. A majority of that sort can melt as fast as a cake of ice in the broiling sun. Mr. Hoover was elected in 1928 by an electoral vote of 444 to 87. Two years later he had lost control of Congress. Two years after that Roosevelt defeated him by 472 to 59. In the popular vote during those four years, counting only the major party votes, the Republican percentage fell from nearly 59 per cent to less than 41 per cent. There must be at least a hundred Republican Congressmen who could not survive such a shift in the popular vote.

Therefore, unless the candidates and leaders are not thinking much beyond the November election and the January inauguration, their main concern will not be how to beat Truman but how to make it reasonably certain that they have not only a big majority but a durable one. The practical question, not only for the country and the world, of course, but also for the professional politicians, is not whether they win but how they win. Their real problem is how to consolidate their provisional majority into a stable majority over a period of at least eight years.

Now it must be evident that to nominate Martin or Bricker would mean that at the best they would have the smallest majority which any Republican could get. Large numbers of voters who are ready not to vote Republican would not vote at all. Considerable numbers would return reluctantly to Truman. It is not at all improbable that many would be so outraged that they would bolt, turn to the anti-Truman Democrats, and resort to some desperate expedient like the drafting of General Eisenhower. The Republicans, even if they had a majority in November, would not only have a relatively small one but it would also be highly unreliable.

Less acutely the same results would follow the nomination of Senator Taft. While he could be personally acceptable to many who could never put up with Martin or Bricker, it is quite certain that a Taft administration would have a very weak popular foundation. It might be that Taft, who has character and brains and genuine public spirit, could win over many who would begin by opposing him. But though he might grow strong in office, his position at the outset would be weak. Considering the enormous difficulties which the incoming administration will have to meet, it would be very serious to have as President a man who was not firmly and solidly established.

Affairs Of The World—

New Red Offensive

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Events appear to be moving rapidly towards a formal division of Germany into two states—one comprising the Soviet Eastern zone and the other the Western areas occupied by America, Britain and France.

Russia and six satellite countries have been staging a conference in Warsaw aimed at creation of a separate state in Eastern Germany. They also are said to be planning another assault on the Marshall Plan.

Should Moscow create a separate German state it would of course be added to the satellite nations which Russia has overrun.

A most extraordinary and dangerous aspect of this situation is that the once proud capital city of Berlin lies in the heart of the Russian zone, although it is partitioned among the four allies for purposes of military occupation. Thus not only would both Eastern and Western Germany be deprived of the capital, but the most important communications center of all Europe would be divided against itself—a badly crippled giant.

Actually such a Russian move would formalize a situation which already exists in effect. The difference would be that hope of a united Germany would be killed, thereby dealing a heavy blow to general European economic rehabilitation. Germany long has been a keystone of continental economy, and the Western allies have been striving for unity in order to speed the general program of recovery

Around The Rim—By The Herald Staff

Why Get Mad At The Comics?

Changes in readers' tastes, or authors' productions, whichever the case may be, have commanded considerable attention during the past few years, especially since 1940.

Much has been said and written about the spectacular rise in popularity enjoyed by the comic books, and it appears that even the most shocking statistical comment does not possess out right exaggeration. The comic books are in demand, and any tendency to underestimate the scope of their readership is useless.

It is unnecessary to go beyond Big Spring to prove this fact. One local newspaper operator observed recently that his normal stock of comic magazines consisted of something like 125 different titles. Such a selection does not completely satisfy the reading public, however. Scarcely a day passes when some customer does not inquire about a title that is not present on the shelves and display racks.

It is doubtful, however, that the minds and morals of youngsters are subjected to more corruption via the comic books than if they accepted to scan the pages of some of the choiced fiction being manufactured for consumption by their elders. It seems that some of the authors have decided that a distorted presentation of realism is essential to production of a best-seller, and that the abnormal or sub-normal character should have preference over the normal.

By pursuing such a theory, unfriendly nations have found a splendid basis for propaganda against America. They merely take isolated, unusual occurrences and make them appear as everyday happenings. So why get mad at the comics?—WACIL McNAIR

Poland Estimates Coal

WARSAW, Poland.—Polish say this nation's coal resources are estimated at 10,500,000,000 to 20,000,000,000 tons. Ten percent of the deposits are in the Western territories—46 lands Poland absorbed from Eastern Germany.

A special commission of mining experts estimated Poland's hard coal resources at 10,500,000,000 tons. The commission said this includes only definitely ascertained deposits in mining claims to a depth of about 2,300 feet.

Widow Of Cowboy Preacher Is Dead

EL PASO, June 25. (P)—Mrs. Georgia Katherine Millican, 93, died here yesterday. She was the widow of the Rev. L. R. Millican, a cowboy Baptist preacher who founded the Paisano Baptist Assembly between Maria and Alpine. The Rev. and Mrs. Millican organized over 40 Baptist churches west of San Saba.

KING PAUL AT FRONT

Weather, Rebels Slow Greek Drive

ATHENS, June 25. (P)—Bad weather and desperate rebel resistance slowed down today the Army's drive to wreck the Communist revolution led by Markos Vafiades. Heavy fog and rain held up the Ninth Division, spearheading eastward from Konitras on the western flank of the guerrillas' Grammos Mountain pocket. Hard-fighting rebels tied up Greek divisions striving to break through the pocket's eastern flank. American officers, assigned to Greek divisions as observers and advisers, predicted last night that vital Amouda Ridge, northwest of Nestoron on the east flank, will fall shortly. That, presumably, would break the dike. The guerrilla radio has been silenced, apparently by air attacks, and captured guerrillas said their losses on Amouda Ridge have been "terrible."

ZOO WILL HAVE SMALLER SPECIE

PITTSBURGH, June 25. (P)—"Come on, Pop, let's go out to the zoo and see the termites." That sort of request won't be an impossibility among Pittsburgh's younger set in a few months, officials of the Pittsburgh Zoo said yesterday. The zoo people said they plan to establish a "zoo within a zoo"—consisting of two glass enclosures to house such insects as termites, ants and spiders.

endangered yesterday by the Army's capture of Boufa height, a continuation of the Amouda strong-point. King Paul arrived at the front only a few moments before yesterday's assaults on Amouda began, dispatches from Second Corps headquarters said, and watched his troops move into action. On the western flank, the Ninth Division also was reported running into heavily fortified points about five miles west of the main core of rebel resistance. One dispatch said rebel machine-guns were found with bullet holes in the back of their heads. Earlier reports said the guerrillas were executing those who showed any sign of surrendering.

Annual Cowboy Reunion Set At Stamford

STAMFORD, June 25. (P)—The Texas Cowboy Reunion Association, which claims to be the largest real cowboy organization in the world, is all set for its 18th annual three-day gathering here July 2-5. A number of notables will be on hand to add to the fun. They include Texas' three railroad commissioners, Ernest O. Thompson, William Murray and Olin Culbertson, and Tex Moore, official cowboy artist.

The association was organized in 1930. To be a member, a cowboy must be 30 years old and to have been a cowboy for at least 25 years. The membership at one time totaled 1,500, but time has reduced this number to 650. Widows of deceased cowboys have the right to succeed their husbands as members. Many distinguished ranchers, colorful trail drivers, authors, artists and professional men who rode the range for years have been members. An attendance of 500 is expected this year. G. C. Carothers of Stamford is president.

Last Tributes Paid Mrs. Lula Blocker

Last rites were to be said at 10 a. m. today at the Methodist church in Stanton for Mrs. Lula Blocker, 94, who succumbed in a Stanton hospital at 11:50 p. m. Wednesday. The Rev. Stewart Murdoch will officiate. Born April 16, 1854 in Mississippi, the deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Annie Hardaway of Waco, 24 grandchildren and 39 great grandchildren, one brother, Henry Sudduth of Hillsboro, and one sister, Mrs. Kelly Hillsboro of San Antonio. Eberly Funeral home was in charge of arrangements. Burial will be in the Stanton cemetery. Grandsons were to be pallbearers.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Between Testaments History Recalled

Scripture—Daniel 2:31-45; 8: 11; Malachi 2:1-5; 4; Luke 1:67-79; 2: 25-33; John 10:22,23. By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. The first part of our lesson concerns itself with visions—first a dream by King Nebuchadnezzar, interpreted by Daniel, and a vision Daniel had which was explained by a supernatural being in the form of a man. Nebuchadnezzar's dream, which puzzled his wise men, was of seeing a great image with a head of gold, breast and arms of silver, belly and thighs of brass, legs of iron and clay. Daniel said the golden head was Nebuchadnezzar himself (the Babylonian), whose reign was good; the others were progressively evil empires, the silver the Medo-Persian, Greek brass and the Roman, who was represented by the legs of iron and clay, symbolizing the eastern and western divisions of the empire. Eventually, after these conquering empires, God would set up His own government "which shall never be destroyed," Daniel promised. That time is not yet come, but it is still the hope of the world. Daniel's vision was of a ram with two horns, one longer than the other, and a goat with one great horn between his eyes. The scene was on the banks of a river, and as Daniel looked, the goat fought the ram and conquered and trampled him. Then the great horn was broken and four more took its place. As Daniel was pondering the meaning of the vision a man appeared to him, and he was told that the ram with two horns represented the Medo-Persian empire, and the rough he-goat was the king of Greece, the great horn between his eyes was Alexander the Great, who conquered Medo-Persia, and the four kingdoms that arose when the great horn was broken—when Alexander died—were the four divisions of Alexander's empire, Greece, Asia Minor, Egypt and the East. Daniel's prophecies were uttered about 560-535 B. C.; Malachi came about a century later. The latter's prophecy, in Malachi, chapter 2, reads: "Behold, I will send My messenger, and he shall prepare the way before Me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall come to His temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, He shall come, saith the Lord of Hosts. But who may abide the day of His coming?" This prophecy points to the coming of John the Baptist, the forerunner of Christ. Since the time of these ancient Hebrew conquerors, many nations have come and gone, some bent, as in our own day, with conquering and ruling the whole earth. They have been put down, and now we are striving to unite the nations in a governing body, each independent, but working toward a time when no one shall be able even to attempt to subdue the others. Our prayers and all our most earnest efforts should be directed to this great end. The lesson now turns to the New Testament, where Luke tells of the birth of John the Baptist to the priest Zacharias and his wife, Elizabeth. Zacharias had been struck dumb before the birth of his son, but when the child was born his mouth was opened and he praised God, saying, "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel: for He hath visited and redeemed His people, and hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of His servant David: As He spake by the mouth of His holy prophets, which have been since the world began: That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us."

Greeks Execute 26 On Various Charges

ATHENS, June 25. (P)—Twenty-six persons were reported executed here this morning. They had been convicted of treason, sabotage or murder. Twenty of them were said to have been among the 40 sentenced to death earlier in the week after a naval trial on charges of treason and sabotage. The other six were believed to have been among the eight convicted of assassinating Justice Minister Christos Ladas last May Day. A village on the island of Anglesy in north Wales has the 58 letter name of Llanfairpwllgwyrog-yfynyddiwyllantysillogoch, generally shortened to Llanfair P. G. for convenience.

Pilots Survive Canadian Crash

FORT FAIRFIELD, Me., June 25. (P)—William C. Brewster, 36, and Roy Mangels, 31, who disappeared from here 10 days ago in a light plane, emerged afoot from a Canadian wilderness yesterday. They were dog-tired, bedraggled, but practically unharmed. Brewster, a nephew of Maine's

Sen. Owen Brewster, told the Associated Press the plane crashed June 15 on a mountain top about 40 miles northeast of Plaster Rock, N. B. The men escaped with cuts and bruises. For the first week, Brewster said, they subsisted on "grain, ferns and some frogs' legs." "Three days ago," he continued, "we ran onto a cache a trapper had left and found some packages of pancake flour and a couple of cans of sardines. We've been going on those ever since." They appeared at a woodmen's camp near Plaster Rock yesterday. More than 20 American and Canadian planes had sought them. The Hawaiian word ukelele means literally "jumping flea," and was applied to the instrument because of the swift motions of players' fingers over it.

These little girls are indulging in one of the oldest and most fascinating pastimes of humanity—building air castles.

They are dreaming of the time when they will preside over their own beautiful homes or will achieve success in some other chosen field. These dreams of childhood and youth are often the inspiration for future achievement.

Some day they will learn that they must work and think and pray and trust in order to translate their youthful dreams into reality.

Fortunate are those boys and girls who are taught from their childhood that God can give substance and reality to their dreams, and that the Church and the Bible are the best guides to successful living.

The little girls in the picture will soon face life's realities. The beautiful dreams of childhood may fade. But with God as their guide, life may be happier and even more beautiful than their dreams.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

IN BIG SPRING CHURCHES

Park Methodists Are Scheduled To Hear Their First Pastor

Casting off its mission status, the Park Methodist church will hear its first pastor in services Sunday. Coming here this week from Stanton, the Rev. I. A. Smith has assumed leadership of the church at 1401 West 4th, formerly under the guidance of the First Methodist church.

The Rev. Smith has held pastorates in Slaton, Floydada, Seymour, Wellington and Lamesa. New schedules at the Park Methodist church slated Sunday school at 9:45 a. m., sermon 11 a. m., evening service at 7:30 p. m., and on Wednesday at 8 p. m., prayer meeting is to be held.

At the Main Street Church of God, the Rev. John E. Kolar will discuss "Purging Process of God" at 11 a. m. Sunday. Text is taken from I Corinthians 6:20. The 7:30 p. m. sermon is entitled "Christ, the Light of the World" and is based on Matthew 4:12-17. Young people will convene at 7:30 p. m. today.

"Why We Keep On Preaching" will be discussed in a sermon at 11 a. m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian church by the Rev. Gage Lloyd. Text comes from II Corinthians 5:11. At evening services, beginning at 8 o'clock, youth who attended the Presbyterian camp in Kerrville recently, are to make reports on their activities. They are to have charge of the entire hour.

Baptismal ceremonies at the Trinity Baptist church Sunday follow the evening sermon on "Moses, Choke of Faith." The Rev. Marvin Clark selects his subject from Hebrew 11:24-28. "Love," text from I Corinthians 13:1-13, is the 11 a. m. topic. The Rev. Clark is heard at 8 a. m. Sunday over KBST.

The Rev. A. D. Hoyer is to speak at 11 a. m. Divine Worship at St.

Paul's Lutheran church on the theme, "Our Occupation With and Without Jesus." Sunday school and Bible classes are held at 10 a. m.

Sunday masses are said at 7 a. m. and at 9 a. m. at the St. Thomas Catholic church and week-day masses are scheduled for 7 a. m. Confessions are heard from 7 to 8:30 p. m. Saturdays or preceding the daily mass.

Services are similar at the Sacred Heart church (Latin-American) with the exception of Sunday masses which are at 8:30 and at 10:30 a. m.

George J. Brown, state director of personal evangelism under sponsorship of the Texas Christian Missionary society in Fort Worth, will have charge of services Sunday at the First Christian church. The Rev. Lloyd Thompson, pastor, will be principal in a missionary revival meeting in Burton this week.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien's sermon for 11 a. m. Sunday is entitled "The Day of the Lord," taken from Amos 5:8-20. At 8 p. m. Dr. O'Brien is to speak on "Condition of Pardon." Text comes from Isaiah 55:7. The new air conditioning system is on during all services, Dr. O'Brien reminds.

"Christian Science" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read at 11 a. m. Sunday in the Church of Christ Scientist hall. The Golden Text is taken from Isaiah 2:5 and other citations composing the Lesson-Sermon are taken from Isaiah 9:2 and from page 347 of the Christian Scientist textbook.

The Rev. R. C. Love will speak at the morning worship hour of the Assembly of God church on "Keeping the Way" and in the evenings he will speak on "Be Sure Your Sins Will Find You Out."

OUTSTANDING Paris Farmer Has A Finger In Many Pies

PARIS, June 25 (AP)—J. L. "Bill" Wideman, Lamar county's outstanding farmer, works 18 hours a day and fishes in his spare time. While working as a business man, civic worker, mail carrier, ordained minister and farmer—Wideman of the Sumner community, west of Paris, in Lamar county, has completed five years work on his farm in one year.

With the assistance of personnel of the Soil Conservation Service in Paris, Wideman worked out a coordinated conservation farm plan on his farm to be installed over a five year period. Then he pitched in and did the job in one year.

The production on his farm increased from nothing to within $500 of the total cost of the farm in gross returns the first year. Wideman purchased his sandy land farm in the fall of 1946. Last year's work included planting 64 acres of cover crops, construction of two miles of terraces, construction of a farm pool, planting 55 acres of cropland on the contour, turning under 55 acres of crop residue, fertilizing 64 acres of cropland, seeding nine acres of Sericea Lespedeza meadow and overseeding eight acres of native meadow to Kobe and Korean Lespedeza.

Bill's neighbors are still talking about the corn crop he made last year. He proved that you can't burn corn up with too much fertilizer and that a lot of rain is not necessary. Using plenty of fertilizer and with no rain he made 33 bushels of good corn to the acre. For diversified farming practices, Bill grows his own meat—has a number of hereford cattle keeping fat on a pasture that has ever clover and grass known in the area—keeps a flock of hybrid chickens—has an orchard that has peach, apple, pear and plum trees producing—and a good garden. He recently won a plaque for being Lamar county's outstanding farmer. How does he have time to do all of his work? "I get up every morning between 4:30 and 5 o'clock and stay up until 10:30 or 11 at night," he replied. And that means Sunday too, he said, when asked about the customary day of rest. In addition to his other work, Bill is pastor of the Moxey Baptist church.

Meeting Cancelled
 The July 8 meeting of the XYZ Auxiliary has been cancelled, it is announced. No meetings of the organization will be held in July.

Luncheon Shower Is Given For Miss Strom

Mrs. R. V. Middleton and Mrs. Harry Hurt were hostesses at a kitchen shower and luncheon Thursday which began the series of entertainments for Gloria Strom, bride-elect of Herschel Francis Ezell of Nashville, Tenn. Streamers of red and white gingham were down the table. A copper teapot filled with varicolored zinnias was at each end of the table. The centerpiece was a basket filled with the kitchen utensils, which was tied with a gingham bow. Place cards were handpainted clothespins. Miniature figures along the table told "How Stromie Got Her Man" which was the theme for the decorations. These figures showed her golfing, riding in a car, playing the piano and cooking cornbread. Those present were Mrs. Middleton, Mrs. Hurt, Miss Strom, Mrs. Carl Strom, Vivian Middleton, Marjorie Thurman, Camille Inkman, Joan Rice, Janet O'Brien, Ann McDaniel, Lorena Brooks, Doris Jean Glenn, Betty Lou McGinnis, Carol Conley, Billie Jean Rowe, Pat McCormick, Mrs. D. Church Leader's Sister Missing In Boat Accident

Jackie Bramwell, young people's worker for the First Baptist church, was in El Paso Friday to be with her family after learning her sister, Mrs. Gladious Moore, 30, was missing in a tragic boating mishap near Fort Worth.

Friday morning no trace of Mrs. Moore had been found. She disappeared Thursday night after she had eased into the waters of Eagle Mountain lake to push a 26-foot cruiser off to what she thought was a sandbar.

Lawrence Scharbrough, who was the only one who could maneuver the boat, left his post at the wheel when Mrs. Moore called for help. He said he swam with her to where they thought she could make it to shore on Pelican Island.

Two and a half hours later he managed to make shore, exhausted and torn, and four hours later at 4 a. m., the drifting boat, with the two terrified women aboard, washed ashore. But searchers failed to find Mrs. Moore on Pelican Island.

Miss Bramwell, a senior student at Mary Hardin-Baylor college in Belton, came here early in June to direct activities for young people of the First Baptist church. Her sister visited her here recently.

Marguerite Wood Will Attend Meet

Marguerite K. Wood, Big Spring high school dean of women, is to attend a work conference at the University of Texas July 5-10. The conference is sponsored by the Texas Association of Deans of Women.

Liquor Suit Is Entered By Thomas

County Atty. George Thomas, acting for the state, has entered a suit against O. L. Grandstaff for the forfeiture of alcoholic beverages.

A quantity of bottled beer, seized by Texas Liquor Control board inspectors here last Feb. 25 and belonging to Grandstaff, is allegedly in Thomas' possession. It is short in fill and cloudy and unfit to be sold for public consumption.

Phillips Improved

Able to be up and around following an operation and prolonged stay in bed, Walter Phillips celebrated his longest walk thus far Friday by visiting the Herald office.

He then went across the street to visit his friend, Jimmie Greene, who is hospitalized, running his record to 16 blocks. Phillips expects to return to his post as assistant manager of Hemphill-Wells company by July 1.

Pleds Guilty

Frank E. Giebel of Sweetwater, picked up in the 1500 block on Gregg street at approximately 1:40 a. m. today by members of the city police force, entered a plea of guilty in county court this morning to the charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants and was fined $75 and costs.

Beer And Clothing Missing From Cafe

A quantity of canned beer and articles of clothing were reported missing this morning as result of a burglary at the Dreamland cafe in the northwest part of the city. Police said the establishment was entered through a side window. The burglars failed in an attempt to break open a juke box in the cafe, officers said.

POLITICS - AMERICAN STYLE - Here are some facial expressions caught by the camera during a night's session of the Republican national convention when seven names were placed in nomination. The enthusiasm was the same - even if they did have different favorites in the GOP race. (AP Wirephoto).

Republicans See '48 As Victory Year

Franklin D. Roosevelt won his fourth term. It was up to Dewey to decide whether he wished to duplicate that ticket.

There were other considerations and other candidates than Bricker. One of these was Harold E. Stassen, Minnesota's young former governor who tried hard but failed to top the ticket.

Stassen's best friends said, however, he didn't want the job. Another was Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, floor leader of House Republicans who represents the so-called "nationalist" wing of the party.

Stassen, 515, only 33 short of the nomination. Senator Taft, the nearest contender, 274.

Stassen, 149. Almost everybody in the closely packed hall knew it was all over. It didn't take long to settle the issue.

The Connecticut delegation met in a hotel caucus. Nobody said publicly what happened. But in a hotel room a few blocks away, at about 5 p. m., Central Standard Time, Gov. Warren signed a letter to the California delegation releasing their pledge to him. That did it.

Taft, making his second unsuccessful bid for the nomination (he tried first in 1940, seemingly resigned himself to a life as a legislator), "Of course, it was a disappointment," the Ohio senator told his delegates, "but I am probably better off personally."

Sterling City Jail Break Reported Here

Local authorities were advised Thursday night of a jail break in Sterling City in which one man escaped. Police said the Sterling county sheriff's office reported the escapee was William Sprights, about 30. Officers here did not immediately learn the nature of charges involved.

Appeal Is Filed In Driving Case

Attorney for V. A. Gomez filed immediate notice of appeal this morning when Gomez was assessed a fine of $75 in corporation court on a charge of driving an automobile over a fire hose.

Five Cars Derailed

OMAHA, June 25. (AP)—Five cars of the Union Pacific's eastbound City of San Francisco passenger train, were derailed near Shelton, Neb., today injuring four persons slightly.

Staggs Elected ABC President

Charles Staggs was elected Friday noon to be president of the American Business club for the next six months.

He will succeed A. Lee Harris when he is installed two weeks hence. Other officers named were Pete Green, first vice-president; Howard Schwarzbach, second vice-president; Howard Salisbury, third vice-president; A. McNary, secretary; Pete Harmonson, sergeant-at-arms.

The board of governor members will be elected at the July 2 meeting. Immediately after the session, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gross and children, accompanied by Leatrice Ross, left for Savannah, Ga. and the national ABC club convention.

He had slipped into some fatigue clothes after bathing and had left his glasses and wrist watch on a stand when he left for an informal call to the Roberts home. Mrs. Hargett was visiting relatives in Alabama. The entire house and contents were reduced to ashes and nothing was saved.

Campbell Offset Is Reported In Pennsylvanian

Seaboard No. 1 W. C. Campbell, northern offset to the Vealmoor pool's heavy producer—the operators' No. 1 Dora Campbell—was reported unofficially Friday to be in the Pennsylvanian section.

The pay zone was reported topped at 7,885. Operators were said to be preparing to run a Schlumberger survey to determine actual top and how far the test had penetrated the lime section. Coring and testing would follow.

The No. 1-C J. C. Caldwell, discovery well for the field and which produced around 200 barrels of oil and 40 barrels of water per day, had its pay in a 10-foot section from 7,946-56. Halfway between this test and the No. 1 W. C. Campbell, the Seaboard No. 1 Dora Campbell had heavy pay from a soft lime section from 7,754-7,846 feet, bottom of hole. It flowed 1,162 barrels of high gravity oil on a 24-hour potential test.

No correlations were immediately available on the Seaboard No. 1 W. C. Campbell and the other two completions.

Fire At Coahoma Burns Parsonage

COAHOMA, June 25.—Fire last night destroyed the Church of Christ parsonage, inflicting damage estimated between $7,000 and $10,000.

The loss was covered partially by insurance on building in contention.

Glenn Hargett, minister, was visiting in the Jack Roberts home when the flames were discovered. Before he could reach the house, the roof was caving in. Inside were all the family's belongings as well as his personal library valued at $1,000.

He had slipped into some fatigue clothes after bathing and had left his glasses and wrist watch on a stand when he left for an informal call to the Roberts home. Mrs. Hargett was visiting relatives in Alabama. The entire house and contents were reduced to ashes and nothing was saved.

Lamesa Will Have Daily Newspaper

LAMESA, June 25.—Starting with the Sunday issue on Aug. 29, Lamesa will have a daily newspaper.

Ross Woodson, president of the Lamesa Newspaper, Inc., announced that the paper will be published afternoons except Saturday and will appear as a Sunday morning publication. A special edition will mark the first issue of the daily which will succeed the Dawson County Courier, a semi-weekly. Effective Sept. 2, the Courier will revert to its former status as a weekly. No name has been announced for the daily.

Star-Telegram Backs Johnson

FORT WORTH, June 25. (AP)—The Star-Telegram today had endorsed Lyndon Johnson in his race for U.S. senator from Texas.

In an editorial yesterday, the newspaper declared it had backed Johnson in the special election of 1944 and "nothing has occurred in the seven years since to change our judgment."

The Star-Telegram said Johnson has youth, experience and knows Washington. His promotion from congressman, the paper added, is "well deserved and one calculated to pay rich dividends to the people of Texas."

Orange Grand Jury May Probe Death

ORANGE, June 25. (AP)—The grand jury may meet here today to investigate the death of J. P. Hopson, 25, an Orange cab driver. Sheriff Chester Holt said that a speedy trial was planned for Lester R. Brown, 20, Mauriceville sawmill worker, who is charged with murder in Hopson's death. The sheriff said that Brown admitted the slaying of Hopson, whose body was found in a wooded section last Sunday 14 miles north of here.

Excursion Boat, Texhoma Bound, Runs Aground

SHREVEPORT, La., June 25. (AP)—The 93-foot sternwheeler Wanderer, enroute from Rock Island, Ill., to Lake Texhoma, Texas, went aground on a sandbar in the Red River six miles south of here yesterday. The $50,000 vessel is owned by three brothers, J. H., J. F., and L. G. Wilburn, of Denison, Texas. They, with the aid of a four man Mississippi River boat crew, were taking the vessel above Fulton, Ark., which in steamboat days, was considered the head of navigation in highwater seasons. The brothers plan to make an excursion steamer of the vessel. The Wilburn brothers, without previous boat experience, had brought the vessel down the Mississippi and up the Red River without previous mishap.

GOOD MILITARY EXAMPLE

Bradley Keeps Up Hopes For Peace

By BO BYERS
 SAN ANTONIO, June 25. (AP)—Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley is a good example of the military officer who can talk preparedness and yet offer strong hope the United States may not have to fight another war. That was this reporter's impression after a press conference with the chief of staff of the United States Army at Fort Sam Houston, 4th Army headquarters, here yesterday. The general completed his tour of West and Southwest Army installations with inspection of Fort Sam's barracks and messhalls, depot, quarters and housing, and Brooke General Hospital this morning. He was scheduled to play a round of golf in the afternoon, after a Chamber of Commerce luncheon, and then take off for Washington, D. C. Gen. Bradley was playing down the talk of a war between the United States and Russia. He recognized the possibility of conflict, but believed it could be averted. Gen. Bradley may pattern his words in accordance with national policy, but his expressions sound convincingly like the personal opinion of one man. Yes, war with Russia is possible, the 55-year-old chief of staff said in answer to a question. He believes war is possible because of the conflict of ideologies of a Democratic and a Communist state. Then came the words which he talked down the idea that war is inevitable. "You don't ordinarily pick out any one nation as the one we are preparing against," Gen. Bradley declared. "We prepare to meet the threat of any nation or any coalition of nations. "Time might ease the clash between the United States and Russia." He doesn't consider the new selective service law a step toward building up a giant fighting army to match that of Russia. "We couldn't carry out our occupational duties without selective service," he explained simply, adding later: "If we don't get universal military training, we may have to continue the draft as long as we have as many missions as we do all over the world." When the draft act goes into operation, camps which already have a complement of men will be filled, and camps capable of taking at least 12,000 to 15,000 men will be activated, Gen. Bradley said. He did not anticipate the opening of many smaller fields.

Government Probes Veterans' Housing

DALLAS, June 25. (AP)—The government is stepping in to investigate veterans housing problems in Dallas and North Texas. Representatives of the attorney general's office and the national housing expediter in Washington are here to help solve the veterans housing problem. Morris S. Verner, Jr., national deputy housing expediter, Washington, said that 25 investigators are to ferret out civil and criminal violations of housing regulations.

Chinese Inflation Continues Rise

SHANGHAI, June 25. (AP)—One American dollar brought 3,700,000 Chinese yuan in the black market today. Value of Chinese currency dropped nearly one million yuan in a single day. The legal rate is 474,000 to 1. Prices jumped accordingly. Rice rose to 16 1/2 million from an average 13 million per 133-pound picul. Flour and other cereals went up 25 percent. The historically famous Rosetta stone—a slab of black basalt—was found near the western mouth of the Nile River by one of Napoleon's officers in 1799.

Frankie Parker Busy Tennis

LONDON, June 25. (AP)—There's no respite today for the expected new Wimbledon Tennis Champion and bronzed Frankie Parker provides double feature entertainment on the center court. The top-seeded Los Angeles star tangles with Sweden's 23-year-old Lennart Bergelin in a fourth-round singles match. He returns after a short recess to team with Bob Falhenburg of Hollywood, Calif., in a second-round doubles match against Harry Hopman of Australia and Geoff Paish of Britain.
