Tax Collections In Crockett Co. Near 100 Percent

State and School Collection 99.33 Pct.; County 96 Pct.

Again Crockett county taxpayers have paid within a few percentage points of the entire assessed taxes for state, county and school purposes, a report prepared this week by Sheriff V. O. Earnest shows.

For state and school purposes, collections were 98 1/2 per cent of the total assessment, while for county purposes the collection was 96 per cent of the total. The discrepancy is accounted for by failure of the University of Texas to pay its county tax on University land owned in this county.

The University was taxed for county purposes under a constitutional amendment adopted by the voters of Texas, the attorney general ruling at the time that the amendment did not apply to school taxes since the language specified for "county purposes." The University, which has accumulated a fantastic sum for its permanent fund from oil development on University land, the institution has been without sufficient funds this year and last to pay its county taxes, the local collector's office reports. Funds were not made available by the legislature, it was explained. The permanent fund cannot be used for operating purposes, the interest only being available for permanent improvements.

Of the total assessment of $93,130.89 in taxes for the state, local collections amounted to $91,571.19. For county purposes, collections totalled $209,694.10 out of a total assessment of $218,233.24. Total school taxes collected was $323,504.50 out of a total assessment of $328,374.84.

The above figures represent collections of the 1951 tax levy. Actually, total collections mounted above the total levy for state, county and school purposes. This was accomplished by collections in the supplemental redemptions and insolvent category, which added $1,975 to the state collections, $9,310 to the county take and $6,059 to the school collections. Counting all sources, the total collection in the county for 1951 was $643,22.

Coach Wilkins Plans Vacation, to Attend Coaching School

Vacation time will interrupt the summer youth program in Ozona for a three-week period.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillery Phillips are back from Las Vegas, N. M., where they spent a few days visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Clay Adams in their summer home at Las Vegas.

'Convention Special' Baby Donkey Born to Dem Chairman's Jenny

Of course, the fact that A. O. Fields is Crockett County Democratic chairman had nothing to do with the fact that he is the owner of a donkey. Actually, it was son Tommy's idea.

But the master's position and the impending Democratic national convention opening next Monday in Chicago may have had something to do with the Fields' jenny's proud demeanor Wednesday morning when she presented the chairman with a brand new baby Democratic symbol — What else could you call a baby donkey?

"Maybe it means a rebirth of the Democratic party in 1960," a Republican friend offered.

Little League All-Stars Swamp Big Lake 23-6

Play San Angelo North League Stars Here Saturday Night

Playing errorless ball through six innings, the Ozona Little League all-stars jumped on opposing pitchers for 10 hits and took full advantage of 8 opposition miscues to smother the Big Lake Little League all-stars 23 to 6 in the first all-star game of the season on the local diamond last Saturday night.

The locals piled up an imposing lead of 10 runs in the opening frame and added 7 more in the second to go out in front so far the visitors offered only a mild threat in the third when they ran in six scores. Fourteen of the fifteen lads composing the local all-stars saw service during the game.

The Ozona all-stars will face what may be a tougher opponent on the local diamond next Saturday night. The North League of the San Angelo Little League will bring an all-star team here to meet the locals on the occasion. Game time will be 8 o'clock.

Mobile Telephone Service May Be Made Available to Ozonans

Mobile telephone service from car to the local system, may be made available to Ozona patrons if enough are interested in such service, Robt Levo, local telephone company manager, announced this week.

Mr. Levo announced that company officials had asked him to make a survey of possible users in this area. The company has made definite plans to inaugurate the service in the San Angelo area and, although definite plans have not been announced, it is thought that the service will be available in any area served by the company where there is demand.

The system is not a two-way radio but uses radio principle in making a connection with the instrument installed in a car or other vehicle, at an oil well site, camp, etc., to the local telephone system, making it possible to talk from such location to any subscriber of the local system, or even long distance.

The mobile telephone system is effective a distance of from 20 to 25 miles, and in some conditions up to 35 miles.

Any person interested in learning further details of the local plan is asked to see Mr. Levo.

$200,000 Road Bond Election Set For Aug. 16

Roads in Oil Field Area Contemplated From Issue

Qualified property taxing voters of Crockett county will be called upon to decide whether or not $200,000 in bonds of this county are to be issued for the purpose of building approximately nine miles of paved county roads, providing right-of-way and fencing on 17 1/2 miles of state constructed farm-to-market road and applying a seal coat on all paved streets in Ozona.

Responding to a petition bearing 104 names of qualified voters requesting the court to call the bond election, the Commissioners Court in regular session Monday morning ordered the election to be held on Saturday, August 16, at all voting places throughout the county.

If approved, the bonds will be issued for a period not to exceed 10 years and bear interest at a rate not to exceed 3 per cent per annum and "maturing at such time as may be fixed by the Commissioners Court, serially or otherwise, not to exceed 10 years from date." The election order and proposition to be submitted to the voters provides for a decision on whether or not the bonds shall be issued and ad valorem tax levied interest and principal payments to pay interest and principal payments as they become due.

Based on present valuations of nearly 24 millions, a tax levy of 10 cents on the $100 valuation will be necessary to retire the issue in ten years. The bonds will be issued with an option for their retirement in five years, a possibility if valuations continue to rise. County Judge Houston Smith has drawn a comparison of probable cost to individual taxpayers. Owner of a ten-section ranch, he points out, now pays tax on a valuation of $8,000 on such land. A ten-cent levy for retirement of the road bonds would mean an additional $8 a year to the tax bill. Similarly, owners of any other type property of like value could figure the amount of their own tax addition on that scale.

The bonds, if approved by the voters, will assure approximately 26 miles of new paved roads in the county, plus a paving-saving seal coating on Ozona's paved streets.

The State Highway Department has agreed and has in its plans the construction of approximately 17 1/2 miles of farm-to-market road from Highway 163 at the north edge of Ozona through the Vaughan oil field northward to intersect Farm-Market 133 (Midway Lane) at a point just east of Howard Draw. Crockett county must provide the right-of-way and right-of-way fences on this stretch of road before the state will build it. Damages incurred by ranch owners along the route must be paid by the county, providing water for pastures cut off by the lane, fencing and other items.

For the county's part, a 4 1/2-mile long spur connecting Todd Field with this new road is contemplated to provide an all-weather outlet for oil operators in that area. This route, too, would call for right-of-way and fencing expenditures, plus construction costs, estimated from $8,000 to $10,000 per mile.

Another spur road of 4 1/2 miles, contemplated in the proposed issue, would provide a connection for oil operators in the Powell Field area north to the Reagan county line. This road would connect with a road to be built by Reagan county to the county line and would provide Powell Field residents a direct route to Big Lake, meeting the expressed desires of residents of that producing area.

A bid has already been received by the county for the proposed seal coat topping of Ozona streets, a rate lower than that being paid by the State Highway Department (Continued on Last Page)

West Texas Candidate Scores Brannan Plan

MIDLAND, Tex. — Walter McKay of Fredericksburg, candidate for Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, speaking here today, expressed his firm opposition to the Brannan plan "as advocated by Washington bureaucrats."

"I believe that Texans can operate their State Department of Agriculture without dictation from Washington bureaucrats and without favoring Socialistic theories such as the infamous Brannan plan, which would ruin the economy of Texas and the whole nation," said McKay. "If the bureaucrats will just leave Texas farmers alone, our farmers will produce adequate foodstuffs to supply the demand."

"I resigned my position with the Texas Department of Agriculture in 1950, after the election of the present commissioner, because I could not carry out his Truman-Brannan Fair Deal policies," McKay concluded.

McKay served 22 years in all levels of the department of agriculture. He is 47 years of age and the father of four children. He was born in Guadalupe county and was educated in the public schools of Luling and San Antonio and at Baylor University.

News Notes
From The County
Agent's Office

By Pete Jagoby, County Agent

Standard tomato varieties shed their blossoms and do not set fruit if the average temperature starts to increase in late May and June. This results in a short-heavy production period of fruit that "set" back in April and early May. Thus, the home gardener usually has a surplus of tomatoes in June and early July and then no fruit at all for the rest of the season.

A wise selection of varieties and planting dates will alter this situation and give the home gardener a supply of fresh tomatoes right on through the summer and fall. Plants for production in late July and August should be set out in the garden as transplants in June or early in July. Varieties that have the ability to set fruit under conditions of high temperature and low humidity should be used. The Summer Prolific, Porter and Danmark varieties are good for this purpose. The fruit size of these varieties is small as compared with the standard type varieties. However, they have good quality and are excellent when quartered or halved and used in salads. Good cultural practices, especially fertilization and irrigation are necessary to carry these plants through the hot summer months and to keep them producing fruit of good size and quality. These varieties produce fruit until frost, if they are given good care.

Plants for early fall production should be set out as transplants in July or early August. The same varieties that are used for summer production will also work well here. A good many home gardeners are using the Improved Pearson variety for fall production. This variety has good fruit size, along with the ability to set fruit under adverse conditions. It is also resistant to cracking. Irrigation is necessary to carry these plants through the late summer months.

Peach tree borer months are beginning to emerge at this time. They lay eggs which hatch into larvae or borers. Each female moth usually deposits from 500 to 600 eggs, mostly on the tree trunk, although some are placed on limbs and leaves and even on weeds and soil near the tree. The length of incubation period depends on the weather; the eggs hatch in 9 or 10 days in the summer. Upon hatching, the little larvae crawl or fall to the lower part of the tree trunk and usually enter it at the surface of the soil. They may bore directly into the bark or enter a crack in the trunk.

It has been observed that these borers do considerable damage to fruit trees in the late summer and early fall before the standard treatments of either ethylene dichloride emulsion or parathion-benzene have been applied. Even though these two materials do a good job of killing the borers, this insect has had ample opportunity to do considerable tunneling in the tree before the fumigants are applied in late October and November.

The use of a DDT spray has shown promise in checking the borer at an earlier stage of its life history. A spray containing 8 pounds of 50% wettable DDT to 100 gallons of water is used. The first application is put on around July 15, a second application thirty days later and a third, thirty days after the second. The trunk and lower scaffold limbs need to be well covered with the spray material to the ground line.

Buffel grass (pennisetum ciliare) originated in South Africa. Described as a perennial, warm season, bunch grass, it is used for the revegetation of fields and pastures. It is known that the vitality of the seed is good for at least three years under South Texas conditions.

It is adapted to soils ranging from heavy clays to deep sandy soils. Buffel grass will not withstand long periods of zero weather. The palatability of buffel grass is high in that livestock eat it well.

The protein content of buffel grass usually tests around 16% in mature plants while young plants have tested as high as 22% protein in the boot stage. As a hay crop it has yielded 2 to 4 tons per acre on fertile irrigated soils.

Buffel grass has a wide range in its moisture requirements ranging from 10 to 60 inches of rainfall per year. The planting time recommended is March and April in the spring and late August and early September in the fall. September plantings under drouthy conditions have provided good stands by November 1st.

The recommended rate of planting is 2 pounds of unhulled seed per acre in rows and 4 to 5 pounds of seed per acre broadcast. Buffel grass has proved to be one of the best introduced grasses planted on sandy soils. This grass should be planted at a depth of 1/4 to 1/2 inches deep when planting in fields.

Texas Farm Income Drops Five Percent

AUSTIN.—Texas farmers' cash income for the first five months of 1952 was 5 per cent below that of the same 1951 period, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

The fact that marketings of many grain and livestock products fell behind last year's schedules is the main cause of the drop, researchers say. Not equalling 1951 results were oats, corn, grain, sorghum, peanuts, cattle calves, hogs, sheep and lambs, wool, mohair and eggs.

WHY YOUR TELEPHONE ARE MAILED ON THE
OF EACH MONTH

Because of the tremendous job of mailing monthly statements to thousands of users in the area, your telephone company adopted a plan of staggered billing in order to get the task through the month.

Billing periods are on the first, tenth and first of the month, the 21st date being an Ozona exchange.

Under this new plan, bills are payable in office by the 10th of the following month. From the first of the month billings, accounts were due until the 20th.

Accounts not paid by the 10th will show on the succeeding month's bill, even if payment is by mid-month or later.

We urge you to form the habit of paying phone accounts before the 10th of the month to avoid confusion the following month when you show a balance which you have already paid.

Tidelands Fight in 1953 Points Need for Daniels, Says Angloan

SAN ANGELO, July 11 — Frank Jackson of San Angelo, Tom Green county school superintendent, and past president of the Texas State Teachers' Association said today that "Congress' failure to act on the veto of the tidelands bill before adjournment means it is more imperative than ever for Texas to send Price Daniel to the Senate to carry on the tidelands fight. "Next year the battle must begin again and we need Price Daniel, who knows more about the subject than any other person, on hand to help our cause through to victory," Jackson said in a statement read to a Daniel rally here.

Jackson added: "Every Texan knows of Price Daniel's courage, ability and leadership in the tidelands fight. He has never compromised, never retreated. He has always been on the job for Texas.

"On the other hand Price Daniel's Washington opponent, Lindley Beckworth, has the worst record of any Texas congressman on the tidelands question. The record shows him as not voting on original passage of the state ownership bill in 1946 and again as not voting on the motion to override President Truman's veto of the state ownership bill in 1946."

Daniel, in his speech here before a public rally, said: "I deeply regret that Congress failed to act on Mr. Truman's veto of the tidelands bill. I am confident, though, that a state ownership bill can be passed in the next Congress and that it will become law."

METHODIST NOTES

By Finis Jeffery, Guest Minister
Emphasis will be placed on the congregational singing of gospel hymns at the Sunday evening services at the Methodist church during the coming weeks.

The guest pastor was delighted with the sense of spiritual conviction that attended the singing by the congregation.

Mr. Lin Loeffler is in charge of the music services and Mrs. Ken Cody is the organist.

The custom of having a period of silent prayer at the altar by those among the congregation who so wish, will be continued.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Franklin left Friday for a ten-day vacation trip which will take them to Wyoming, Utah and South Dakota. In Red Owl, S. D., they will visit with Mrs. Franklin's sister, Mrs. C. A. Miller and with the Eugene Cowans in Buffalo, Wyo.

SHIVERS AGIN AUTO INSPECTION LAW; "SHALL CHANGE IT OR REPEAL IT" He Says

By Ben Kaplan, Press Staff Writer

Governor Allan Shivers today said that the new auto inspection law should either be modified or repealed.

The Governor told the Press before he left Austin for Houston to make a campaign appearance that he had some ideas for changing the controversial law.

His idea is to take the red tape and confusion out of the law.

"The law was intended to bring about real safety and not inconvenience," said Governor Shivers.

"We need to stop killings on the highways. Texas has become the number one State in the United States for murder on the highways.

"The Legislature passed this inspection law by a vote of 117 to 12 in the House of Representatives and 19 to 9 in the State Senate, with the thought that it would save more than 200 Texas lives each year. If the law fails to do this and instead causes confusion and inconvenience, it ought to be changed or repealed."

The Governor said that he would recommend to the next session of the Legislature that it re-study and examine this law in view of the experience and either modify or repeal it.

(Several months ago, when it became apparent that the new law was causing inconvenience and confusion, Governor Shivers ordered it suspended until it can be reviewed by the Legislature.)

How's Business? GREAT - with prices like ours

THIS is—to coin a phrase—a "shopper's market." Folks are taking a keen look at what they get for what they pay—and they're taking a double look at price tags. That's the kind of market where Buick really shines. Do you know why? Buick prices are down within easy reach of the folks who buy what's known as "the low-priced three." Fact is—a big chunk of Buick sales comes from the folks who trade in one of this low-priced trio. For very few extra dollars, they're getting a lot more automobile. They're getting more power—and the thrill that goes with it.

They're getting "big-car" comfort. They're getting a ride that cost a million dollars and more to develop. They like the room, the fabrics, the extra appointments they find in the smart-stepping beauty pictured here. And they like Dynaflo Drive.* They like the way it handles. They like the way it's engineered. They like the belt they get out of touching off the power of its Fireball 8 Engine—and they like the miles they get from a gallon of fuel. So Buick sales are booming. Not just the SPECIAL—but also the SUPER and ROADMASTER. Folks find that each one is the buy in its field. When we tell you that business is great, we can back up that statement with figures. More people are buying Buicks than any other car at their price or above. Why don't you come in and see for yourself what's behind this popularity? If you can afford a new car, you can be the proud owner of a Buick. Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Here and There
By J. Troy Hickman

Frazier had a snow and several points reported ice.

It took all of the next cold day to see Colorado Springs and Denver. The Denver weatherman said it was the coldest July spell since 1918. Nevertheless, we enjoyed the Garden of the Gods, the Helen Hunt Falls, and a drive over the Bear Canyon Road which overlooks the city and the famous Broadmoor Hotel. In Denver, we saw the State Museum, which has a fine mineral exhibit, and were thrilled by the miles of yellow wheat and barley fields, broken by green patches of oats, sugar beets, alfalfa, corn and cherry and apple orchards which are irrigated from the swift streams carrying snow water down from the mountains. It was what the radio weathers reports call "partly cloudy," and the cloud and sun patterns on the distant mountains were lovely.

Colorado roads are spotty. You sail along fine until you come to a railroad crossing, then you can get an awful jolt. Late afternoon found us pulling into Loveland, the kind of little city where you think you would like to live, the Wild Goose bumping along merrily behind us, and here we decided to locate for a look at Rocky Mountain Park on the following day.

Wrapping up in all the cover we had, and most of our clothes, we tried to sleep, but got cold. I lighted the trailer heater and we went back to bed.

Words of mine can hardly do justice to the magnificent hunk of scenery nature has thrown together in Estes Park. The road up Big Thompson Canyon is one long dream. Then you see the Park itself, with the Morain Valley topped by snow-capped Long's Peak, over 14,000 feet in the air; then the Ridge Road, highest continuous drive in the United States, for twenty-five miles above 12,000 feet; numerous small glaciers, clear lakes, towering pines, shivering aspens, crested blue jays and hungry chipmunks, and scads of people from everywhere. Of course for this climb we left the trailer behind at Loveland.

We are back in the Wild Goose again, resting up a bit to take off again in the morning for Cheyenne, Grand Teton Park and Yellowstone, and wondering if nature can possibly think up anything better than the sights we saw yesterday and today.

Misses Benny Gail Phillips, Tibba and Dixie McMullan have returned after a visit in South Dakota with Mr. and Mrs. H. P. McClanahan.
