Ozona Telephone Rates To Be Hiked Effective Aug. 21

50% in Residential Rates, One-Third on Business Phones

Promising installation of a dial system in about two years from now and another raise when such system is installed, the San Angelo Telephone Co. announced raises in local exchange telephone rates to become effective August 21.

The rate raise was announced at a meeting of members of the Ozona Inter-Club Council with representatives of the telephone company, J. E. Robbins of San Angelo, traffic superintendent of the company, and Robert Levo, local manager.

The monthly rates will go up approximately 50 per cent on residential phones and around 33 1/3 per cent on business phones, the new schedule reveals.

The new rate for one party, or straight line, will be $4.25 per month, a raise from the present $2.75. The raise on business telephones will be $7.00 a month under the new rate, a raise from $5.25 on one-party business phones. Rates on other classes of service will be in proportion to the indicated raises. Rural line subscribers will be raised in about the same proportion as residential subscribers in town, but the rural rates are calculated on a mileage basis and vary accordingly, the company figuring each rural subscriber's rate on the miles of company lines necessary to serve the user.

The increased rates are necessary to meet increased business costs, Mr. Robbins explained to members of the Council. Mr. Robbins presented a statement of company revenues and expenses showing the increased costs and lesser increase in revenues in the ten-year period from 1940 to 1950.

1952, but actual figures are available only through 1950 as a means of comparison with 1940 figures.

The company promised installation of a dial system in Ozona as soon as equipment becomes available. Orders will be placed at once for such equipment, he said, but delivery can not be expected under two years. Meanwhile the increased rates will be in effect for the same type of service now available to subscribers.

When the new dial system is installed, it will mean another increase in rates, Mr. Robbins said. This dial system increase will be approximately $1.00 per month on business phones and 50 cents per month on one-party residential phones.

Mrs. Teague's aunt, Miss Dollye Coates and her cousin, Mrs. Oscar Kost and daughter Shirley of Ozona, were on hand to welcome the new baby.

Mrs. B. B. Ingham left Monday for Houston where she will join Mr. and Mrs. Spencer King in a vacation trip to New York. Mrs. King is Mrs. Ingham's sister.

TO BLOW ABOUT TEXAS?

Stranded Texan in Washington Wants Sack of Texas Horns

Most Texans and ex-Texans don't need horns to blow about Texas, but a native Texan who says he is "stranded" in Washington state, wants a sack full of Texas horns — cow horns, that is, and ram horns.

Writing to the Ozona Chamber of Commerce, K. L. Evans of Sunnyside, Wash., makes the following unusual request:

"I would like to have some horns! Cow horns, steer horns, and, at least, one ram horn, suitable for making blowing horns. I am a native Texan just stranded in Washington and handicapped as the result of an accident.

"I have drilled many shot holes around Ozona for exploration work and in my work I have seen huge piles of horns on ranches but can't remember the names of the ranches.

"I will give five dollars to some Boy Scout for a good sack or box of suitable horns. I would like large, straight horns, as long as possible. I will also pay freight. A good sack or apple box full will do."

Evans' address is 507 South 7th St., Sunnyside, Washington.

Ozona Baptist Church Well Represented at Paisano Encampment

Last week about thirty members of the First Baptist Church family spent the week in the Davis Mountains at the Paisano Baptist encampment. Dr. W. H. Horn, of the First Baptist Church of Wichita, Kansas, and Dr. Perry Webb of the First Baptist Church of San Antonio were the featured preachers with Dr. Kyle Yates of the Second Baptist Church of Houston teaching the Bible lesson each day. The afternoons were spent in recreational activities.

Those from Ozona who attended were: The Blake Woolbright family, the H. A. Gustavus family, the Earnest Dunlap family, the Ben Williams family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Keeton, Mrs. Robert Hester, the Roy Thompson family, Miss Myrtle Mae Hester, Miss Nancy Perdue, Mrs. Ira Carson, Mrs. Alice Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gibbs and Mrs. S. L. Butler. All reported a wonderful time and a spiritual refreshment.

Small Pumper Finaled In Far West Crockett

M. J. Brannon, Jr., Yeatman Drilling Co. No. 1 H. L. Bair, western Crockett wildcat, has been completed as a small pumping discovery, possibly from the Yates.

It was finaled for a daily pumping potential of 41.38 barrels of 30.4 gravity, pipeline oil with gas-oil ratio of 600-1.

Location is 668 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 51-1-I&GN, just south of the shallow Half (Grayburg) field. Production was from 1,390 feet, top of pay where casing was cemented, and 1,411 feet, total depth. Elevation was unreported. Open hole was shot with 30 quarts.

The discovery is a quarter-mile south of Half production. Engle No. 1 Half, opener of the field, topped the Yates at 1,421 feet and the Grayburg at 1,688 feet.

An average of one barrel of oil each 45 minutes during a five-hour swabbing test was reported at Barron Kidd No. 1-A Pure Bean, Crockett wildcat in section 81-CP-GC&SF.

The project had acidized perforations at 1,264-70 feet in that Grayburg with 1,000 gallons before swabbing.

Total depth is 1,486 feet with seven-inch casing cemented at 1,416 feet.

Lions Club Plans 'Little League Night' Supper Tues., Aug. 12

Tuesday night, August 12, will be "Little League Night" at the Lions Club Little League park, with the sponsoring Lions Club as hosts to Little Leaguers, their parents, sponsors, officials and supporters as guests of the club at a barbecue supper.

The occasion will be climaxed by award of the championship trophy to the team which emerges with the season's championship, now in process of final decision. The winning team will be allowed to keep the trophy one year and if a new winner cops the championship next year, the trophy will pass to the new champions. Individual trophies will be awarded members of the champion team.

Teams Knotted As Little League Season Nears Close

'Anything Can Happen' Setting for Finale Monday Night

It looks like a wild finish for the Little League second half championship struggle as the two leading contenders go into the final series next Monday night.

Following the Monday night games, Ozona Oilers and the Butane Gassers were tied for the league leadership with five games won and two lost each.

Tonight, Thursday, the Oilers must clear Kyle Kleaners while the Gassers tackle the Spencer-Stevens Mechanics. If both win, they go against each other Monday night, the last series of the season, still tied. If both should lose, it will be a three-way affair with the Spencer-Stevens crew in there contending. They play the Kleaners Monday night.

The most spectacular battle was waged by the two leaders last Thursday night when the Gassers tripped the then league leading Oilers 1 to 0, with pitching ace Cervantes for the Gassers and Sutton for the Oilers waging a hurling duel. The same night, the Mechanics clipped the Kleaners 15 to 11.

The two league leaders maintained the tie Monday night, each winning their games, the Oilers 12 to 2 over the Mechanics and the Gassers 14 to 2 over the Kleaners. The Mechanics occupy third place with 4 wins and 3 losses while the luckless Kleaners, always a strong contender but always short of a few runs for victory in the last half, are trailing with 7 losses and no wins.

Statistically, it's a one-man show this week as Chico Cervantes sets a blistering pace in pitching and hitting. Cervantes, credited with 3 wins and no losses on the mound, has struck out 56 batters, hit five home runs, five three baggers, batted in 21 runs, hit safely 13 times, scored 14 runs and batted in 21 others. Royal Caswell, Jr., of the Mechanics, also has 13 hits, has scored 13 runs and abttd in 13. Young and Sutton have 11 hits each, Sutton has struck out 42 batters and has a pitching record of 4 wins and 1 loss. Sutton leads in the batting average department with an average of .611. Cervantes is in second place here with an average of .565. Caswell is batting .520. B. Holden .500 and Young, .478. Bill Meinecke, Butane pitcher, has won two games and lost none. Pitcher Payne of the Kleaners has 32 strike-outs to his credit.

The San Angelo North League all-stars swamped the Ozona all-stars 19 to 1 last Saturday night. If the league championship is settled in time, another series of all-star games may be matched to finish out the season, officials said.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Patrick are back from San Antonio where Mr. Patrick recently underwent surgery. He is making satisfactory recovery and expects to be able to be back at his electrical business next week.

V. O. Earnest Wins Nomination Over Three Opponents

New Commissioners Nominated in Precincts 1 and 2

Crockett county voters went to the polls in record numbers last Saturday in the Democratic primary to sweep back into office with a comfortable margin over three opponents Sheriff V. O. Earnest, pick two new members of the County Commissioners Court and follow the trend of a million other Texas voters in all but one instance in the statewide races.

Approximately 1,000 votes, an all-time record for this county, were registered in the Saturday primary. A total of 983 votes were counted in the sheriff's race, and with natural mistakes of voters using the new ballot for the first time led officials to estimate the total at around 1,000 voters.

Sheriff Earnest, seeking his second elective term in office, nearly doubled his three opponents in total vote, polling 642 votes to the combined total of 341 for all his opponents. The total vote was Earnest, 642; W. E. (Jack) Hallmark, 124; Bill Finley, 34; Frank James, 183.

Ralph Jones unseated Ira Carson in the Precinct 3 commissioner race by a vote of 440 to 327.

Precinct 2 will be represented by a new commissioner next year. Bill Miller nosed out by one vote his two opponents, incumbent Commissioner Charlie Black and Bud Coates. Miller polled a total of 42 votes to 41 for his two opponents, Black with 23 and Coates with 18.

Commissioner James Childress, representing Precinct 4, won reelection over the bid of Jake Young by a 5-vote margin. Childress received 30 votes to 25 for Young.

R. B. Ingham, Jr., commissioner from Precinct 3, was the only commissioner without opposition. However, a scattering of write-in votes in the precinct named a half dozen different choices.

More than the usual number of scattered write-in votes were registered for the various county offices. N. W. Graham, incumbent county attorney who was not a candidate for re-election, got 9 write-in votes for that office. G. Dixon Mahon was nominated county attorney. Five voters wrote in Charles Ratliff for county judge and one named Hugh Gray. Judge Houston Smith is the nominee for that office. W. B. Robertson, Jr., was the write-in choice of three voters for county and district clerk. Incumbent George Russell (Continued on Last Page)

Ozonan Recovering After Rare Operation For Heart Condition

Mrs. Bill Taylor gambled her life against a Fort Worth surgeon's skill last week and won.

Mrs. Taylor is expected to be able to return to her home here Friday of this week after undergoing a rare heart operation in a Fort Worth hospital which physicians have pronounced a success. Suffering from mitral stenosis, a narrowing of the mitral heart valve, a condition which physicians believed would have proved fatal in the not too distant future, Mrs. Taylor submitted to the operation by a well known Fort Worth heart surgeon.

The valve opening had constricted to the size of a match stem, the surgeon said, from a normal opening of nearly three-finger size. The intricate operation to open the valve and restore it to normal function was performed by a Fort Worth heart specialist.

After enduring the anxious moments while the operation was in progress and the patient's life hung by a thread, members of her family were elated at the progress she has made since the operation, performed July 18, and physicians now believe that the once defective heart will now function normally.

Two Amendments to Texas Constitution up To Voters November 4

Elsewhere in this issue of the Stockman will be found the text of two proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution which are to be voted on in the general election November 4.

One of the amendments, House Joint Resolution No. 38 would authorize the legislature to create a State Medical Education Board and a State Medical Education Fund to aid worthy students of medical schools. To receive aid from the fund a student would have to agree to practice in rural areas of the state on such terms as the legislature may prescribe, with definition of the term "rural areas" left up to the legislature.

The other proposal, H.J.R. No. 20 would authorize the legislature to enact laws enabling cities, towns and villages to provide Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees.

Martha Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bailey, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Black on the Black ranch near Junction this week.

FROM PROGRESS REPORT 1465 ON MESQUITE CONTROL.

Economical control of mesquite on native grassland is one of the major problems of ranchmen in many sections of Texas. The Agricultural Experiment Station in 1938 began research to develop more effective and economical methods of control, principally through the use of oils, chemicals and mechanical means. Experimental work at Spur by 1949 reached the point where aerial application of 2,4,5-T and a few other growth-regulator chemicals appeared highly promising and economical for the control of mesquite. Widespread interest in these developments by ranchmen in the area led to the initiation of cooperative ranch tests to develop information on the effectiveness and value of chemicals for the control of mesquite over a wide range of different growth forms, environmental and climatic conditions. The chemicals 2,4,5-T (2,4,5 trichlorophenoxyacetic acid) and 2, 4-D (2,4 dichlorophenoxyacetic acid) in pure forms are insoluble in water and oil. For commercial use, these chemicals must be formulated into compounds that will make solutions or stable emulsions with water and oils. They are highly toxic in small amounts to most broad leaf plants but are not toxic in the amounts used to grass and animals.

The areas selected for experimental tests in 1950 were considered representative of the main types of mesquite. Additional ranch tests were undertaken in 1951 to determine the value of chemical control of mesquite growing in close association with white brush, granjeno, huisache, black brush, chaparral, retama and small amounts of other undesirable brush plants. Twenty-eight ranch tests were conducted in an area extending from Raymondville in the Lower Rio Grande Valley on the south to Clarendon in the Lower Panhandle on the north, and from Henrietta in the upper West Cross Timbers area on the east to Marfa in the Trans-Pecos country on the west.

Mesquite was treated experimentally on 21,000 acres in these ranch tests. The size of individual plots ranged from 10 to 40 acres, depending on the nature of the experimental work and the desire of the cooperating ranchmen.

The application of chemical to mesquite and other brush was made with airplane spraying equipment developed and used for experimental work in mesquite control at the Texas agricultural experiment substation at Spur. The spraying equipment consisted essentially of a 28-foot boom having 14 quarter-inch outlets with mechanical positive cut-offs for each nozzle, a master cut-off on the outlet from the tank and a constant type agitator. The capacity of the master tank was 180 gallons. It was installed on a Stearman biplane equipped with a 450 h.p. motor. No pressure other than static head was used on the boom except where special tests were made to determine the effects of droplet size and volume of solution used per acre. With static head pressure, the spray solutions were delivered in moderately coarse droplets at approximately 300 to 450 microns in diameter at a rate of four gallons of emulsion per acre. Four additional types of airplane spraying equipment were compared with standard equipment in two special tests.

The four chemical formulations used in the ranch tests were selected from those used on experimental areas at Spur in 1949 and 1950. They were selected on a basis of effectiveness, cost and safety. These chemicals were low volatile esters of 2,4,5-T, 2,4,5-T amine, low volatile mixtures of 2, 4, D and 2,4,5-T and a special formulation of 2,4-D known as H-984. Additional chemicals, including high volatile materials were used in a few of the tests for further evaluation.

The application of chemicals was made 6 to 8 weeks after the first heavy foliage stage of growth. Dates of application in 1950 ranged from March 23 at Falfurrias to June 8 at Clarendon. Dates of application ranged from May 5 at Raymondville to July 10 at Sonora.

The cooperative ranch tests were made possible through the excellent cooperation of the land owners. The work was assisted by county agricultural agents, Production and Marketing Administration officers, aerial applicators and chemical companies in locating suitable areas, and in providing landing strips, flagmen, materials, funds and other facilities.

The airplane spraying equipment was carefully adjusted and calibrated to deliver four gallons of the emulsion per acre. All plot areas were acrefully measured and the amount of emulsion applied seldom varied more than 1 per cent from the desired rate. Marked changes in elevation and temperature required adjustments of the equipment to obtain proper rates of application.

The information given in this report is based primarily on determinations made on the percentage kill of above ground growth and apparent root kills 17 months after the mesquite was treated in 1950. Only tentative top kills are reported for the treatments applied in 1951. Detailed determinations on the effectiveness of treatment on mesquite again will be made during the fall of 1952.

In making evaluations of the treatments, only plants that had no green growth on aerial stems or branches, or sprouts at the base, were considered dead. Some of the plants considered dead 17 months after treatment may later produce regrowth. On the other hand, plants that have died from the aerial application of these chemicals may be considered dead as additional information is obtained. Mr. and Mrs. Kirby are having their mesquite treated. It is to be expected that Mrs. Kirby

Me—Advising a Banker!

The Missus and I were invited to dinner over at Balesville the other night. I sat next to a banker from the state capital.

"Mighty nice country you've got down there," he says. "Don't be surprised if I come to live there myself. In a few years I plan to get away from everybody, buy a farm and just take it easy."

"Well," I told him, "we'd like to have you. But when someone plans to buy a farm and 'take it easy' he often winds up working harder than ever. It takes work to run a farm right no matter how many hands you can afford to hire.

"And from where I sit," I continued, "you won't 'get away' from people either. Neighbors are plenty important in a farming community—whether it's helping one another out or just friendly visiting over a sociable glass of beer." "Hard work and neighbors dropping in all the time?" he asks, looking at me over his glasses. Then he smiles and says, "Sounds wonderful. You're just said me on a farm."

mations which are beautiful in unusual shades of red and green. Park visitors flock nightly to campfire talks and share daily in nature hikes led by Park Ranger-Naturalists who explain and illustrate the early history, geology and flora and fauna of the region. Blackfeet Indians were the first human beings to inhabit Glacier. Regarding the high peaks as sacred, they never climbed them or allowed others to do so, but gave them such names as "Going-to-the-Sun-Mountain." Encouraged by the reports of Lewis and Clark, and by the fact that the right of trade in this region was granted by the English crown to the Hudson's Bay Company, trappers and furtraders were the first white men to enter Glacier. Near Fish Creek Camp, one of the inhabited spots of the park, we came upon a patch of wild huckleberries. A mule-eared doe was already there, but we picked enough berries for a delicious pie which we had for supper that night. After riding and climbing all day in these altitudes, food tastes really good. Camped next to us was a public school manual training teacher and his wife, and our neighbors included a doctor and his family from New Hampshire, with whom we spent an enjoyable evening around a campfire.

John and I tried our luck in several lakes and streams where trout were alleged to be. Since we both are new at fly-fishing, the fish population at Glacier is still intact.

Our good weather played out on our last night at Glacier, the result of a weather disturbance in Washington State. Early next morning we broke camp in the rain. Road construction in these localities has to be done in the summer, and these unusual July rains were holding up numerous construction jobs on our route.

Our brief visit to the Waterton Lakes was partly spoiled by the rain; but, even so, it was thrilling to watch the clouds collide with mountain peaks. Some of the beauty of these blue lakes and of the quaint little townsite of Waterton will long be remembered. Within the park is the grave of Kootenay Brown, a colorful character about whom many legends cluster. He is said to have saddled and ridden a grizzly bear.

Formalities were brief at the Canadian border and three dollars bought a car and trailer seasonal permit good at all Canadian national parks, with an additional fee of two dollars for seven days of camping. Alberta is much like the USA, but her majesty's roads are a bit tricky in spots. Six Canadian gallons equal five gallons USA, and we have paid from 38 to 42 cents for gasoline.

Don't come to Western Canada looking for bargains. The country has the same inflation we have, plus a boom. Some familiar brands of goods are sold and others are strange to us. Our currency is discounted from three per cent up, depending on where you trade.

We are looking forward to several days of rest in the Banff-Jasper Parks area, including a trip to Lake Louise.

So far the Ford and the Wild Goose have given no trouble. In the next few days we shall have reached the farthest point out on our route.

was nominated for that post again.

Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, new State Senator for Crockett county, which was included in Hardeman's district in the redistricting shuffle, received a total of 927 votes for office. However, one voter chose Hardeman's law partner, Judge Carl Range, in a write-in expression.

Crockett county voters picked the winners in all state races with the exception of that for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 1. In that race, local voters cast their vote for the only West Texan, Glenn R. Lewis of San Angelo. Spurgeon Bell of Houston was the leader, with Frank P. Culver of Fort Worth in second place.

Governor Allen Shivers was a three-to-one choice here, polling 705 votes to 197 for Ralph Yarborough and 24 for Mrs. Allen M. Traylor. Attorney General Price Daniel likewise was a three-to-one favorite over his opponent, New Deal-down-the-lineer Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater, and E. W. Napier of Wichita Falls.

Other heavy favorites of Crockett voters were Ben Ramsey for Attorney General, John C. White for Commissioner of Agriculture, Bascomb Gilox for Commissioner of the General Land Office, Jesse Owens for the Court of Criminal Appeals, Olin Calhoun for Railroad Commissioner, Martin Dies for Congressman-at-large, with John Lee Smith in second place; John Ben Sheppard for Attorney General, Graham Smalley for Supreme Court Place 2; Judge Alan R. Fraser of Alpine over Judge Henry Russell of Pecos for the eighth Court of Civil Appeals; and Joe Burkett, Jr., over John P. Hill for State Representative, 7th district.

Joe Burkett, Jr., was nominated for a second term as State Representative in the 15th district by a big majority over John P. Hill of Ingram. Latest unofficial tabulation of votes from the 22-county district shows Alan Fraser the winner in a close race with Judge Henry Russell of Pecos for the post of associate justice, eighth Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso. Judge Fraser received 28,324 votes to 27,562 for Judge Russell.

Wyoming Wants Help Of Texas Hunters To Reduce Antelope Herd

AUSTIN. — Wyoming needs outside help to reduce an overpopulation of prong-horned antelope, reports Lester Bagley, Wyoming Game and Fish Commissioner, in a letter to the executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

Bagley writes that Wyoming is faced with the problem of reducing its antelope herd by approximately 40,000 head, and adds: "We are soliciting your cooperation in sending as many of your (Texas) hunters as you can to hunt antelope in Wyoming."

The Wyoming request coincided with the Texas Game and Fish Commission's decision to close the season on Texas antelope this year because of severe herd losses from drouth.

The Wyoming season varies in different areas. The earliest opening is September 3; latest closing date is October 14. The season limit is one antelope in all except the Northeastern Area where two may be taken with two permits. Out-of-state permits cost $25 each. Further information may be secured by writing the Wyoming Game and Fish Commission, Box 335, Cheyenne, Wyoming.

If the letter is to serve as an application for a permit, the $25 fee should be enclosed. The applicant also should give his age, physical description and designate the area in which he wishes to hunt. Permits are issued only for one of the designated 16 specified areas.

Season dates in most areas are either September 3-15, Sept. 15-22, or September 3 to October 3.

However, the season in the Northeastern Area is from September 14 to October 14. Deer also may be taken in the Northeastern Area, but permits are $20 each. Genuine SAMSON Chairs for Rent at...
