Many Ropers Coming Sunday For Local Show

Free-For-All To Attract Groups From Nearby Towns

Ozona's Roping club members are to let the bars down next Sunday for a free-for-all roping program that is expected to attract some fifteen to twenty followers of the art from nearby towns, it was announced this week by the club's president, Vic Montgomery.

The day's program is to be broadened somewhat, too, it was announced, to include several events in addition to those on the usual Sunday afternoon menu at the local fairgrounds. There will be the usual calf tie-down matches, calf belling, calf break-away, goat roping events and a number of matched ropings.

In addition to the entrance fees, which are split up for the pots, a number of local merchants are co-operating in the weekly matches by contributing special prizes for the successful ropers. A large number of such prizes will be awarded winners in next Sunday's matches.

In last Sunday afternoon's Crockett county roping contests, prize money was more than usually well distributed. In the first event, a calf tie-down, Bill Childress was first in 20.8 seconds, Allan Ghann second in 24.2, and P. C. Perner third in 32.8. Eight were entered in this contest.

The second heat of the tie-down contests was won by Bill Childress again, to become the only roper of the afternoon to win two first purses. Second place went to Spot Friend and third to Vic Montgomery. Childress' time was 19.8 seconds, Friend's, 22.4, and Montgomery's 23.1.

Kay Black looped and tied his calf in 18.8 seconds to win first money in the next event, with Dock Lee in second place with a time of 21.2 and Vic Montgomery third with 25.2. In the roping and belling event, Vic Montgomery was first in 22.9, Bill Friend and Joe

Bright Prospects For Producer On Hoover Ranch

Oil Stands 1200 Feet In Moore Well; Soma Flows 200 Bbls.

Prospects for opening of another important oil pool on the A. C. Hoover ranch in western Crockett county were considerably brightened this week with reports from the Moore Exploration Co. No. 1 Hoover, indicating that the well stood more than 1200 feet in oil following a 360-quart nitroglycerin shot from 2,012 to 2,145 feet. The well is still cleaning out after the shot. Total depth is 2,150 feet in lime. Location is 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of section 16-1-H&TC.

A flow of 200 barrels of oil in a 3 1/2-hours test while gauging gas volume was reported from Soma Oil & Gas Syndicate's No. 1 Noelke, pool opener on the W. T. Noelke ranch on the western edge of the county. Gas oil ratio was too high to permit production from the well and it has been shut down since May 10. No announcement of the present gas volume was made.

Location has been made by Moore Exploration Co. and Olson Drilling Co. for a new test a half mile south of the Soma discovery. It is 857 feet from the north, 830 feet from the west line of section 55-GG-T. W. Carter. Spudding awaited completion of a water well.

Continental and others No. 4-B Todd, on the J. S. Todd ranch 15 miles northwest of Ozona, seeking a third producer from the Strawn lime, had drilled this week to 2,032 feet in lime.

Final Check Being Made Of Crockett Population Count

Bryan McDonald, Crockett county census enumerator, returned yesterday from a four-day stay in Midland at the district census bureau headquarters where he was engaged in checking reports of the 1940 census in this county with the district authorities.

Mr. McDonald will return to Midland the last of this week to complete the check. The preliminary reports of the 1940 population figures for this county are not expected to be available until sometime next week, it was reported.

Softball Lead Determined By Narrow Margin

It's Anybody's Flag As Teams Near End of First Half

The Standings:
Water Works	4	2 .667
Williams	4	3 .571
Laundry	4	4 .500
Humble	2	5 .286

Leadership in Ozona's softball league rested precariously in the hands of the Water Works team last night after the Laundry, loser of two in a row over the weekend staged a comeback at the expense of the Williams crew, yapping at the heels of the Water boys.

The fact is, however, that a disputed game of last Wednesday night may decide a new leader. In that game the Williams team had tied the score in the last half of the ninth in a game with the Water Works squad, had runners on first and third and one out. At this point the game was stopped through a misunderstanding on the score count. If when the game is played off from that point, the Williams team is able to push over the runner from third to win the contest, it will surge ahead of the Water boys.

The tailender Humble team pushed ahead during the week, winning one from the laundry Thursday night and dropping one to Williams Tuesday night. The Wash hands crumbled before the Water Works Monday night. The first half schedule will close next Thursday night.

A prize fight between two local negroes has been arranged as an added attraction to follow tonight's game, it has been announced. A picked local team is scheduled to meet a team from Iraan on the local field next Tuesday night.

Mother Hoover Is "Leading Lady" At Family Reunion Dinner In Her Honor On Occasion Of Her 78th Birthday

Over 60 Relatives And Friends Help Celebrate Monday

Surrounded by more than sixty of her children, grandchildren, in-laws, great grandchildren, and friends, Mrs. Laura Hoover, the first white woman to set foot on soil of the Pecos river country on the western edge of Crockett county, and a resident of this county fifty-eight years, was the "leading lady" at a family reunion held at the Bill Hoover ranch Monday to celebrate her 78th birthday anniversary. Guests enjoyed a barbecue dinner with all the trimmings and stayed for supper. The afternoon was spent in congratulating the honoree and visiting. All of her children were present except Mrs. John Mitchell.

Mrs. Hoover, "Mother" Hoover to most of her Ozona friends, came to Crockett county from Llano county in 1882, with her husband, the late W. P. Hoover, to engage in ranching in the West. The couple settled on the Pecos

Showers Continue To Bring Joy To Ranching Section

Strip West Of Ozona Still Dry, But Most Of County Soaked

Continued showers throughout the ranching area have served to put most of the range in this county in finer condition than it has been at this time of year in many seasons past, according to reports from ranchers in this and adjoining counties.

Most of the ranch country lying south of Ozona have enjoyed frequent bountiful rains during the past week and ranchers in that section report their range in fine condition.

Despite the frequent and often freakish showers, with some spots getting occasional torrential downpours, a narrow strip of country west from Ozona along the Ozona-Sheffield road remains comparatively dry, some of it suffering from lack of moisture. The scattered rains have somehow missed some sections in that area while most others are enjoying plenty of moisture.

Threatening clouds have hung over Ozona almost every day for the past week, with frequent light showers. The past weekend, however, Friday and Saturday, brought moisture totalling .65 of an inch here.

Baptist Church Vacation School Opens Saturday

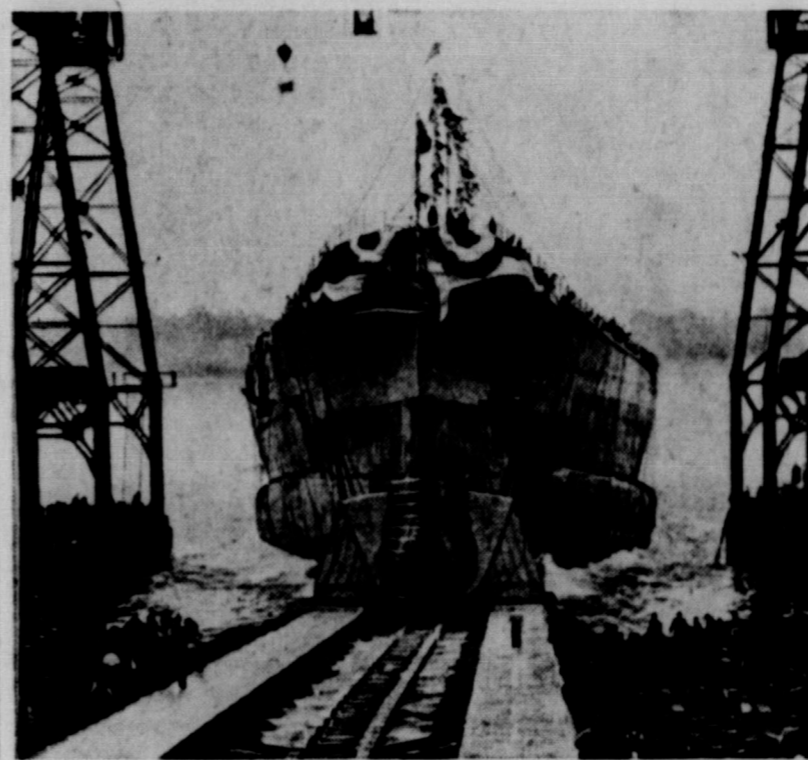

Preparation Day Program To Initiate 10-Day School

The Vacation Bible School of the First Baptist Church will begin Saturday morning with a Preparation Day program at the church, it was announced this week by the pastor, Rev. Clyde Childers. Children of the Beginner, Primary and Junior ages will meet at the church at 9 o'clock for enrollment and brief instruction with regard to the program for each day to follow. The group then will parade over the town and return to the park for refreshments.

The school is scheduled to run through Wednesday, July 3, and the program will begin each day at 8:30, beginning with next Monday. The school sessions will last three hours each day and will be 50,000 Pounds Fall Wool Sold Here at 24 Cts.

700,000 Pounds 8 and 12-Months Lengths In Storage

Fifty thousand pounds of fall wool, four-months staple from the 1939 clip, went over the counter at the Ozona Wool and Mohair Co. warehouse here last week, the bulk at 24 cents a pound. Buyer was Tom Richey, for A. W. Hilliard & Son.

The sale represented approximately half of the remaining stock of fall wool in storage at the local warehouse.

While the demand has been largely for twelve months length in recent buying of wool in the area, the bulk of staple stored in the local warehouse is the spring clip of eight months wool. Approximately 450,000 pounds of eight months length remains in storage here, with approximately 250,000 pounds of long wool, according to Melvin Brown, manager. Offers of current prices for the twelve months wool stored here have been refused by growers.

Plane Landing Field Sought West Of Ozona

Deal For Site On Harvick Ranch North Of City Off

Following a breakdown in the proposed deal for lease of an area sufficient for an airplane landing field out of the Ad Harvick ranch north of Ozona, negotiations are understood to be under way for land for a field west of Ozona on the Couch estate.

A committee from the county Commissioners Court composed of Commissioners E. R. Kinser and Rob Miller was named at the May meeting of the court and the committee opened negotiations with Mr. Harvick for a selected site about four miles north of Ozona on the highway. No agreement could be reached on the lease, however, and the site west of town is now sought.

Equipping of a landing field is being undertaken by the county for the convenience of flying oil men who have interests in the newly developed fields in this county, and for other private and commercial planes. At present, planes with passengers bound for oil fields in this county must land at fields in nearby towns and come by auto.

Second Installment Of Split Taxes Due Before Last Of June

Crockett county, the state and schools will collect more than $1,000 in property taxes this month if all of the taxpayers who took advantage of the split tax payment plan last fall pay off the second installment of their tax bills.

The second half installment must be paid before the end of this month if all of the taxpayers who took advantage of the split plan last fall because of the attractive discount plan offered to encourage early payment of taxes.

Delinquent taxpayers in this county have until September 1 to pay all delinquent amounts without penalty and interest so far as county and schools are concerned. The Commissioners Court has remitted penalty and interest on county and school taxes if paid before September 1. Failing this, the county has ordered the county attorney to institute suit for collection of back taxes.

Rev. Slater Named Temporary Chairman Red Cross Chapter

Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor of the Ozona Methodist church, has been named temporary chairman of the Crockett County chapter of the American Red Cross, it was announced this week. Rev. Slater has accepted the position to succeed A. W. Jones, who has been chairman the past several years and who, with Mrs. Jones, will move to Corpus Christi in the next week or ten days to make their home.

A meeting of the chapter membership is planned within the next few weeks for the purpose of electing permanent officials, it was announced by the new chairman. The local chapter is still holding open its invitation for contributions to the national chapter's war refugee relief fund. The American Red Cross is seeking to raise a fund of twenty million dollars for the relief of civilian sufferers from the European war.

Methodist Women's Society To Meet At Pierce Ranch

Mrs. V. I. Pierce will be hostess to members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church at her ranch home next Wednesday. The society will meet in an all-day session, Mrs. Pierce to serve lunch at the noon hour.

The program, which will be outlined in the year book, will start at 10 a. m. Members are asked to notify Mrs. Pierce or Mrs. R. A. Harrell, president, whether or not they will be present.

Long List Of Candidates On Demos Ballot

Local Executive Committee Draws Places; No Contests Here

With Texas would-be office holders making a mad scramble for favor of the voters in state races, to make one of the longest Democratic primary ballots in many years, Crockett county voters will not be called upon for a decision between candidates for any of its local offices in the first primary balloting on July 27.

When the deadline for filing for county and district offices passed last Saturday, none of the county and precinct office holders here had developed opposition for reelection, and in only one of the district races was there a choice of candidates offered, that for judge of the 112th district court.

Harry Hines of Wichita county heads the list of seven candidates for governor of Texas on the ballot for this county, the present Highway Commissioner winning the lead-off position when names for places on the ballot were drawn at a meeting of the county Democratic executive committee held Wednesday in the office of Houston Smith, county chairman.

The committee made assessments against county and district candidates to defray costs of the election and named election officials for the July 27th election. Officers appointed to hold the election were as follows: Ozona box, R. A. Harrell and E. B. Baggett; Leon Powell box, Charlie Black, Jr.; Owens box, Jeff Owens; Howard Wells box, Watt Turner; Hoover box, Peery Holmsley; George Thompson box, George L. Thompson; Pecos Valley Power & Light Co. box, R. A. Williams.

The longest list of candidates for any office, and perhaps one of the longest in the state's history, is that for the office of Railroad Commissioner. Nineteen candidates are in the field seeking election to this office. The seven candidates for governor include Harry Hines of Wichita county, Miriam A. Ferguson of Travis county, Arlon B. Cyclone Davis of Dallas county, Jerry Sadler of Gregg county, W. Lee O'Daniel of Tarrant county, R. P. Condon of Cameron county and Ernest O. Thompson of Potter county. Six candidates are in the race for the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

The only district race which interests Crockett county voters will be that for judge of the 112th district court in which three candi-

GMC Dealer Adds Popular Car To Line of Products

For the first time in Ozona, Packard automobiles are to be offered motor car buyers of Ozona and Crockett county from an Ozona agency.

C. W. Taliaferro, manager of the Taliaferro Garage, announced this week that he had secured the local franchise for the Packard line and has secured one of the new 1940 models for display and demonstration.

Mr. Taliaferro has been local agent since 1937 for GMC trucks. He has taken on the new dealership in passenger cars to broaden the service his firms offers to the motoring public of this county.

The new Packard, long one of America's leading fine cars, has one of the widest range of models of any make of cars. The most popular models, however, are the Packard One Ten, One Twenty and One Sixty. A Packard coupe can be delivered in Ozona for as low as $995, Mr. Taliaferro said.

Unorthodox Mr. Willkie

Whatever the political gods hold in store for Wendell L. Willkie, he is having a whale of a good time as his presidential dark horse rides up and down the land. The G. O. P. candidate for White House consideration brought to St. Louis with him a lusty air of joyous combat. He welcomed a press conference in shirt sleeves with a booming, "lets go." He answered every kind of question tossed at him with staccato directness and no more reservation than a radio-announcer burbling a commercial.

Third Term Dangers

 It is simply not reasonable to assume that, if, after a venomous campaign, the President went in again, the general resolve to put by all past feelings and unite behind the elected chief would stand up as well through four years of continued strains and shocks as it would be if the chief were a man who had not these liabilities. Not only would the President himself be taking great risks as to his "place in history," but likewise the risk for the country whose interest he is devoted to would be unreasonably and unnecessarily great.

Fifth Columns

The vivid term "Fifth Column," has an ominous significance these days. It first came into use during the Spanish civil war, when an insurgent general announced that he had four columns of soldiers driving toward Madrid—and a Fifth Column, consisting of spies, saboteurs and other enemies of the Spanish Republic, within the city.

Today there are more than 32,000 miles of air routes in the United States, over which regularly scheduled passenger planes fly daily.

class against class, jealousy and hate would be fomented. It is apparent that a start has already been made to this end by alien groups. And, according to Dies committee evidence, it is a fact that both the Moscow and Berlin governments have paid Fifth Column agents actively at work here.

We are now embarked on a war against the Fifth Column. The government has moved cautiously, but it is moving. Registration and observation of aliens is likely to come soon—the proposal that the Department of Justice be given control of the Immigration Service shows the way the wind is blowing.

There is an obvious danger in all this—and a danger that is exceedingly hard to avoid. That danger is that anti-Fifth Column work may become a hysterical witch-hunt. People would exploit personal grudges by unjustly denouncing others to the authorities—vigilante groups, operating outside the law but supported by enraptured public opinion, would come into being.

Henry R. Luce, editor of Life, says: "... the arming of America must in itself be the first practical test of our ability to act as a united people. For many years we have been anything but a united people. We have been a very expensively divided nation.

Labor

Complete success or partial failure of the growing defense program may be determined by the attitude of organized labor. Wage workers have an unquestionable right to demand all reasonable consideration of their welfare in the execution of the defense work.

The question is whether organized labor is to carry on a species of private warfare in the midst of the nation's efforts to insure its safety.

Every patented invention that has been made in this country has stimulated countless numbers of other persons to create still other new things.

In many lands today, mothers are forced to give up their children—even the youngest. Dictators demand them—and dictators are all-powerful. In peace as in war, they control business and industry, capital and labor, life itself. Men and women are told what work they must do. There is no prize for ambition, no hope for the man who would like to choose his own career.

How different it is in the United States! Here, governed by men responsible to the people, we choose our life-work for ourselves. This system of free enterprise makes the United States the world's greatest nation.

As typical Americans, the employees of your electric company are devoted to the American principle of working together, producing more of the good things of life and making them available to more people.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, June 19.—BUSINESS—For many weeks now practically all the boosting effect of war and export industrial activity has been concentrated on steel, aircraft, machine tool and similar lines. But now the quickened pace in these fields has begun to be felt in retail and other "non-heavy" businesses. For the first time since the long downward slide that followed last September's high levels things are definitely perking up in the nation's shops and stores. After all, orders are the best confidence-builders, and orders are beginning to flow with Uncle Sam's definite embarkation on his giant defense program. The step-ups in employment and payrolls of the industries supplying these goods will create new spending power for the employes. This can't help being reflected in the cash registers of the butcher, baker, clothier, furniture man, theater operator, and so forth. Department store sales last week were 10 to 20 per cent ahead of the same week in 1939.

WASHINGTON.—Just where to find—or how to train—the large numbers of workers needed for the rearmament program continues to be one of the biggest problems of those who must get this program under way speedily. There have been demands that a gigantic vocational education set-up be established—perhaps using the government social agencies—to handle this training. Part of the idea is to transform idle labor into defense production. But civilian labor leaders are objecting strongly to this suggestion. They say speed is so necessary that we shouldn't depend on training a new crop, but should call upon skilled workers, no matter what their age, and put them to work at full-time, immediately. They say there are plenty of skilled workers, but that a lot of them are in the upper age brackets, from which industry has not been hiring—and they ask that all age bars be lowered.

"BACKBONE" STIFFENS.—Most any economist will tell you that the cities of 30,000 to 100,000 population are the "backbone" of America's trade—in spite of the importance commonly attributed to our very big metropolitan centers. So there's good news in the report of Mark Levy, former chairman of the brokers division of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, that these trade nerve-centers are showing signs of thriving again. He says that business properties classed as "100 per cent locations" in these cities are in greater demand than ever, by chain stores. The present trend in chain stores' requirements, he says, is "for increased space to provide for larger stocks and their more attractive display," with variety stores needing minimum frontages of 50 to 100 feet. Another outstanding trend is the insistence of these retail outlets upon adequate parking facilities in conjunction with their locations.

Gar Fishing Rodeos Now Being Planned In Many Tex. Cities

AUSTIN.—The campaign of the state game department to get sportsmen fishing for gar is bearing fruit. In fact, it is catching on at such a surprising rate that several cities are now planning gar rodeos, believe it or not!
And gar fishing with a simple noose of No. 30 hair wire is guaranteed to be a sporting proposition as you will find in Texas waters. Veteran bass fishermen have been known to desert that sport and go in for gar angling almost exclusively. Fishing with light tackle adds to the sport, but any kind of a line and pole, from flyrod to a bamboo pole, can be used.

The sport is not as simple as it sounds. The first time or two out the fisherman misses about five times as many gar as he catches, but when he gets the knack of jerking the noose closed around the gar's snout then he is really having fun. When you find a concentration of gar it isn't many minutes between bites, whether you catch gar or not.
The game department is urging tune in West Texas land and livestock.

Mrs. Hoover has nine living children, nearly all of them living in Crockett county or nearby. The children are Mrs. John Mitchell, Arthur Hoover, Mrs. G. W. Holmesley of Comanche, Rowdy Hoover, Brock Hoover, Mrs. R. L. Hatton, William P. Hoover Jr., Armond Hoover and Mrs. E. R. Kinser.

Wars are nothing new to "Mother" Hoover. She was born in the midst of one, the American Civil War, on June 17, 1862. She was the daughter of a Tennessee plantation owner who came to Texas before the outbreak of the Civil War. In the midst of the present European turmoil which threatens to engulf this nation, "Mother" Hoover looks on with interest, but is more concerned about the spring blooms on her flowers which she tends with care every day in her greenhouse which forms a part of her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Childers, who ranch near Balmorhea, were visiting friends and relatives in Ozona this week.

open to all children of the Beginner, Primary and Junior ages.

The daily programs will begin with worship services, in which the children sing, memorize Scripture, listen to character stories, and make pledges to the American flag, Christian flag, and the Bible. At 9 o'clock, the children will go to class rooms where they will memorize Scripture, have Bible drills, Bible and character stories, do notebook work and handwork. During each morning, groups will have 20 minutes for games and refreshments.

The Vacation School staff this year will consist of the following: General officers, Rev. Clyde Childers, principal, and Mrs. Leslie Nance, assistant principal; Beginners department, Mrs. Claude Hill superintendent, Eloise Carson and Billy Jo West, helpers; Primary Mrs. S. L. Butler, superintendent, and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, Mary Frances West, Vera McCaleb, Louise Bean and Rozelle Pharr, teachers and helpers; Junior, Mrs. Clyde Childers, superintendent, and Mrs. R. J. Adams, Mrs. George Bean, Mrs. George Nesrista and Crystelle Carson, teachers and helpers.

All children of the community are invited to attend the school and parents are urged to visit any day during school hours.

Mrs. Bill Hoover left Tuesday for Dallas where she plans to visit friends and relatives for a week.

Many Ropers--

Friend tied for second with 24 seconds each.

Beecher Montgomery rang up the afternoon's best time in roping and tying a calf in the fourth match when he completed the job in just 18.5 seconds. Again there was a tie for second money, Dock Lee and Abe Carruthers knotting it with 21 seconds each.

A variation in matched ropings entertained the crowd when Dock Lee and P. C. Perner formed a team to match loops with a team composed of Kay Black and Bill Friend. The Lee-Perner team nosed out Black and Friend by a margin of only 2.7 seconds on the total of six calves roped by each team, three calves for each roper. Lee and Perner had a total time of 165.1 seconds and Black and Friend 167.8. The per-calf averages were even closer, 27.5 1/6 for Lee and Perner and 29.9 2/3 for Black and Friend.

NEAR DEATH

Mrs. W. C. Easterling, who has been critically ill for several weeks, was reported this morning to be near death. The attending physician held little hope that she would live through the day.

A. Merck of Ballinger is scheduled to appear in justice court here Monday to face a charge of swindling filed by Morris Dudley in connection with an alleged short-weight delivery of a load of feed.

Says MRS. GEORGE S. ALLISON, Brady, Texas: "For seven and one-half years we have had a very large size Servel Electro-lux. Words can't describe its convenience on a ranch, for milk, for storing a lamb or half a calf; or as much as twenty pounds of butter, eliminating unnecessary trips to town. We have saved more than enough food to pay for ours."

Pastor Assigned To Local Mexican Baptist Church

Moving to Ozona yesterday from Midland, Rev. Roy Gonzales assumed his duties as pastor of the local Mexican Baptist church, which has been without a pastor for the past two years.

Rev. Gonzales has been in Midland the last eighteen months, during which time the membership of the church which he directed there was more than doubled. The minister is a young man, having finished his Seminary work but a short time before moving to the field at Midland.

The new pastor is supported in the work here by the local Mexican church, the American church and the Baptist General Convention. He will devote his full time to the local work.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Colwick had as their guest this week Mrs. Colwick's niece, Miss Henry Ann Chandler of Austin. Mr. and Mrs. Sid Chandler of Austin came Tuesday for their daughter.

New Secretary In Co. Agent's Office

Miss Katherine Goodwin of Hutto, Texas, has accepted the position as secretary in the office of C. J. Van Zandt, county agent, and headquarters of the county Agricultural Conservation Administration. Miss Goodwin succeeds Mrs. Roy Green, who has tendered her resignation effective July 1. Mrs. Green will join her husband, who is in the jewelry business at Menard.

Claude Russell, Bus Augustine and Highway Patrolmen Hugh Shaw and Glen Warner composed a fishing party to Devil's rise over the weekend.

Carl North, who was under treatment in a San Angelo hospital for Malta fever, has been released from the hospital and is reported much improved.

Mrs. R. L. Flowers and infant daughter, Martha, born recently in a San Angelo hospital, have returned to their ranch home two miles north of Ozona.

- QUESTION: HOW MUCH DO BEER TAXES CONTRIBUTE TO THE COST OF GOVERNMENT? ANSWER: Beer contributes $1,000,000 a day...$400,000,000 a year...to help pay the costs of government... local, state and federal. Everybody benefits from this contribution.
- QUESTION: DO BEER AND ALE MAKE JOBS FOR WORKERS? ANSWER: Beer and ale have already made a million jobs. This employment is wide-spread... all over the country. More than 100 other industries benefit from beer and ale.
- QUESTION: HOW IS THE BREWING INDUSTRY COOPERATING WITH LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS? ANSWER: The Brewing Industry is actively on the side of law and order. A "self-regulation" plan to eliminate retail abuses has already been put into effect in a number of states in cooperation with law enforcement authorities. This plan is being extended. Reminiscence of an Old Texan

By ELOISE CARSON

Entry from Ozona Junior Historical Society In State Historical Society Story Contest

Nat Dodge, an old gentleman, had lived only two houses from me ever since I can remember, but I paid no attention to him, for I thought that anything he would have to say would be "old-folky."

One afternoon I saw him sitting on the porch looking lonesome, so I went over to him and started a friendly conversation. It ended by his telling this story:

"I lived near a farming town in the extreme part of East Texas. My father was a farmer; though we were not what you would call rich, we were not very poor. My mother, it seemed, had no relatives because she never mentioned them. Papa had two sisters, and there were four in my family, Papa, Mama, Ann and I.

"We were getting along very happily when Papa had a heart attack and died. This nearly broke Mama's heart, but Ann and I tried to cheer her and make a fair living. At this time I was fifteen and Ann was thirteen. The following winter Mama took pneumonia and died.

"After my aunts had discussed for some time the matter of where Ann and I should go, they decided each to take one of us. Aunt Emma, the aunt with whom I went, didn't want anyone bothering her. She would send me to bed without any supper if I weren't there on time, and we never had supper at the same time of day.

"Oh, well! I will not go into the trouble I had with Aunt Emma those few months, but I will tell you this. It was the closest to hell I ever was.

"When I had endured rough treatment for five months, I could stand no more, so I packed a small suitcase and started West.

"I don't know how, but somehow I managed to get enough small jobs to buy the food and clothing I needed.

"After I had gone from town to town for some time, I found myself in a saloon talking to a gentleman who was taking some cattle out West to make his home. He hired me, although I was a greenhorn, because he felt sorry for me. This was in 1870.

"I worked for Mr. Cameron for 15 years, having him give me cattle instead of money as pay. Mr. Cameron acted as my guardian and let me keep the cattle on his place.

"The ranch did not legally belong to him, because he did not pay for it. The country was unsettled, with mustangs and antelope everywhere. At that time anyone wanted to start into the ranching business, he bought some cattle and took up land when and where he chose, without anyone's objecting. The government later sold the land. No person could buy more than eight sections. The land sold for a dollar to two dollars an acre.

"I like many other ranchmen in this part of the country, had some of my hired men take up land. They had to swear that they wanted the land and pay one-fortieth of the cost down, having forty years to pay for the rest of it with a 3 per cent interest. At the end of the three years some men had to swear that the person, who took up the land, had lived on it and put $750 worth of improvements there.

"I had six hired men do this. At the end of the three years I bought the land from them. By this method I built up a forty-eight section ranch.

"I had a large herd of cattle by this time and a little money; therefore, I moved my stock to my ranch, which was next to Cameron's. The cattle would drift south in the autumn and winter to Beaver Lake. In the spring each ranchman fixed up a wagon to carry a chuckbox and bedding.

"Several men from the ranch went with the wagon to gather the herd. On the way the men picked up all the cattle and took them to the San Saba river, where each ranchman cut out his cattle, took them off by themselves and branded the calves. A large fire was built to heat the branding irons. Then the boys roped the calves, threw them down, and branded them.

"After this procedure, the ranchmen watered their cattle and started their homeward journey, taking with them all the strays that could be returned on the way. There was no water from the San Saba river to my ranch. We took canteens with us, but the cattle nearly starved to death. This trip took two days and nights and half of another day.

"The cook always took the wagon ahead and had the meals ready when the herd got there. While the cattle were resting, the men ate. At noon the men could not stop and eat, because they did not have time, but they ate supper at about six o'clock. After supper, the journey was continued until around 1 o'clock, at which time they stopped for a short rest until four.

"The second night we did not stop. The men got so tired that they often fell asleep on their horses. By the time we reached home the cattle drawn from thirst and hard driving. Their eyes were sunken, their tongues were hanging out and their bones were in evidence.

"When the cattle first smelled the water, they stampeded and were hard to hold. If the workmen were not careful, the cattle would run over each other, and after reaching the water they would sometimes drown. If the stock were well managed, they would dash into the water, drink a little, and stand for hours stamping and kicking.

"For entertainment the boys and I went over to Emerald for dances. All the widows, old maids, wives and pretty young girls were there. Very few women were in this part of the country then. A fiddler usually provided the music. One night he got sick, so one of the cowboys got out his comb, put a thin paper over it, and furnished the necessary music.

"Many cattle were stolen and rebranded during this period. In Junction the sheriff came across some cattle on which the brand had been changed. He tried to catch the men, but they had been tipped off and had left the country. The herd was held there until the ranchmen had cut out their stock. I found three of my animals in the group.

"To protect ourselves from cattle thieves and wolves, we put up fences. Wolves were thick in this part of the country then. One morning the men and I got up at four, ate our bread and beef, drank some coffee and started our ride to the back of the pasture. Pastures were larger then than they are now, but we rounded up in the same way by first going to the back of the pasture, then separating and each working a strip of land back toward the headquarters. I was riding along thinking, when suddenly I saw a huge lobo wolf about to attack one of my calves. I had my gun strapped to my saddle and as I was fumbling with it, the wolf sprang upon the poor helpless animal, ripping off a shoulder. Then the hungry beast spied me and started in my direction, but I managed to get my gun in my hands by this time. I raised it, took careful aim, and the wolf fell dead.

"Several years later the wolves were practically extinct. One of our main troubles with the cattle was their stampeding. Cameron and I would throw our herds together and take them to Brady to be shipped to market. I took my favorite Mexican cook along on these drives. Almost every night the cattle would stampede, and the men had to get them milling before they could be stopped. On dark nights when it was lightning and raining, the cattle were frightened more easily. The cowpunchers could see the sparks on their horses' ears and the cows' horns. They would have a difficult time getting them settled as long as the lightning continued.

"After the cattle were delivered and we were ready to start home, Jose, my cook, asked if he could stay in Brady to attend to some business and join us later. I told him it would be all right and gave him a horse to ride home. When we were close to Menard, I saw Jose coming behind us. Suddenly his horse stumbled and fell; Jose was thrown on a sharp rock and cut badly. The horse never moved again because his neck had been broken. I put Jose in the wagon and hurried him to the doctor in Menard, but he lived only a few hours. That was the best Mexican in the country."

My respect for Mr. Dodge has certainly increased since my many talks with him. I have come to the conclusion that the western movie heroes are not nearly as good cowboys as were most of the old-timers who came to the West.

Marriage, Home Making Popular Course at U. of T.

AUSTIN—Choose a wife or husband who has ideals and interests similar to your own if you want your marriage to stick, advises Dr. C. W. Hall, Bible instructor at the University of Texas.

He urges sound standards of courtship, for "too much pre-marital petting tends to cause married couples to lose respect for each other later, and creates a liking for variety which may be disastrous for married life."

The economic factor cannot be ignored, he points out to his 304 students, but may be minimized if the marriage is on a sound basis otherwise.

Don't marry until you have reached a degree of mental, physical and emotional maturity, he suggests.

I BUY AT HOME...

- BECAUSE my interests are here.
- BECAUSE the community good enough for me to live in is good enough to buy in.
- BECAUSE I believe in transacting business with my friends.
- BECAUSE I want to see the actual goods before I order.
- BECAUSE I want to get what I want when I pay for it.
- BECAUSE every dollar I spend at home works for the community in which I live.
- BECAUSE the man I buy from stands back of the goods.
- BECAUSE here I live and here I hope to remain.
- BECAUSE the man I buy from pays his part of town, county and state taxes.
- BECAUSE the man I buy from helps support my church, my school, my lodge, my home.
- BECAUSE when ill luck, misfortune or bereavement come, the man I buy from is here with his kindly greeting, his words of cheer and his pocketbook, if need be.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living
BY SUSAN THAYER

"The Earth Shall Endure"

These are the days when the earth calls to us all, as she shows her never-failing richness in flowers and developing fruits under the blue June skies.

We want to shut the door on routine household chores and go out to work in the ground; to dig and hoe and weed so that we feel we have a part in this miracle of growth which appears every spring. Some urge, deep within each one of us, is satisfied only when we work with nature, tending the plants through which the earth "shall yield her increase."

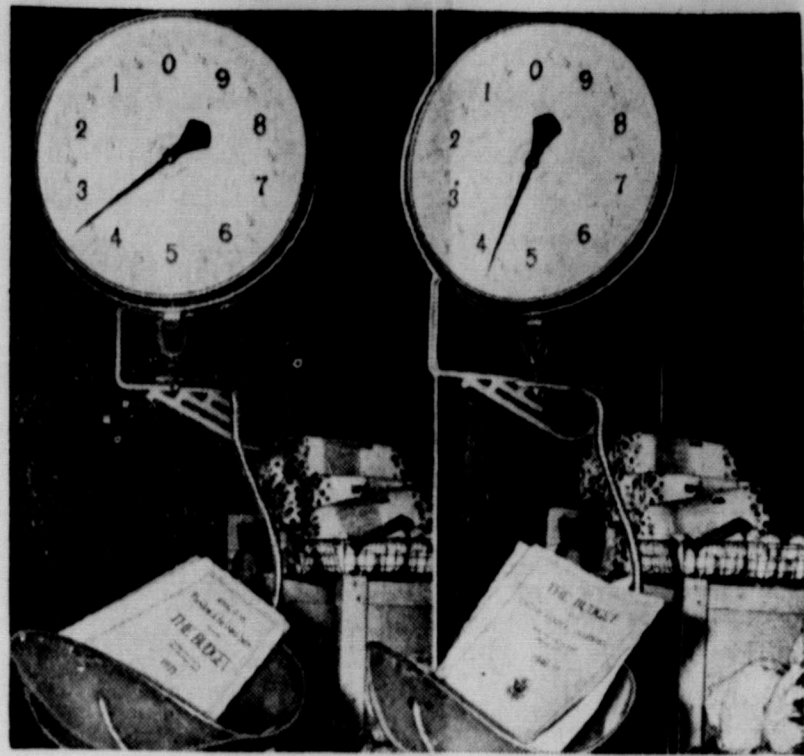

But this year the earth means more to us than ever before. It means not only the plenty promised by the swelling pods—developing wheat heads and the beauty of bushes in riotous bloom. It means assurance and confidence, especially to those of us fortunate enough to live in the United States. For our earth is calm these days, undisturbed by the events that are shaking the world of men—responsive only to age-old stimulus of sun and rain. And as each day brings more luxuriant growth to fields and gardens, we can find comfort.

Here is all that we really need. This is the basis of all that we call civilization. The earth with its gifts of food, minerals and forests was all this continent had to offer the settlers who began coming here less than 400 years ago and look what has been achieved! Although we have sometimes wasted her bounty the earth continues to furnish us with almost unlimited supplies, so that we need not fear for this America of ours as long as we keep our belief in Liberty which John Stuart Mill defines as "the essential condition for the growth of individuality in the richest diversity" and our faith in government "of the people, for the people and by the people." For these are the things which have made it possible for us to create the great nation we have from nothing but the raw materials furnished by the earth.

It is not the fault of the "good earth" that people have gone hungry, homeless or ragged in any land but the fault of men who have mis-used her largess and only in the United States have we even begun to realize the plenty that is possible for every human being in this country were we to couple our genius for production and distribution under our free enterprise system with the bounty which the millions of acres of the United States pours forth. As long as we develop in "the American way" with our characteristic regard for the rights and the welfare of the individual, we shall progress. For the earth—the mother of us all—will continue to endure, and to produce according to our will.

$230,769,230 Per Ounce!

Between 1935 and 1940 federal expenditures have increased by $3,000,000,000, and the budget has gained 15 ounces in weight. This means that every time the budget becomes an ounce heavier the spending increases, on an average, by $230,769,230. The picture was prepared by the National Small Business Men's association with headquarters in Chicago.

State Owned Jacks And Stallions In Demand In Texas

AUSTIN.—Proof that the livestock industry of Texas is fully awake to the possibilities and future demands, resulting from the European war and this nation's own defense program, was cited today by J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture, in revealing an unprecedented number of requests for leasing of state owned jacks and stallions.

"Texas bred mules and horses have always ranked at the top in both peace time and in war, and as a result of the present domestic and foreign conditions, this demand is increasing rapidly.

"With July 1 as the deadline for new annual leasing contracts, the list of available jacks, state owned, has already been exhausted, while there are only approximately 50 stallions remaining unleased for next year. In this class are saddle, draft, morgans and thoroughbred stallions, and with last minute applications this number is expected to be quickly exhausted.

"Since the state launched the program of leasing jacks and stallions to farmers and ranchers in 1934 under the provisions of the racing statute, the value of livestock in Texas has been increased by $3,500,000.

"While motorized blitzkriegs have taken a prominent spot in present war maneuvers reported received from the battlefield show the draft animal is still carrying his part on a major scale. The same is true along the domestic front where the tractor is used for large scale farming, but with the horse and mule in increasing demand for small farm operations," McDonald concluded.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Sheburne left yesterday for a two weeks visit in Ramoni, Iowa. They will also visit in Tulsa, Okla., and Kansas City.

Texas consumed 1,340,893,000 gallons of gasoline in 1939.

Cooperation, Plus!

Raising and lowering of the water level in artificial lakes in Texas destroys millions of fish eggs each year. However, the West Texas Utilities Co. cooperated during the last spawning season by holding the water in Lake Nasworthy near San Angelo at a regular level. This was done despite a ten-foot rise in one of the creeks running into the lake.

Another company which has promised its cooperation along the same line next season is the Central Power and Light Co. It will maintain the water level on Lake Walk for a four or five month's period starting about January 1.

National Range Conference To Decide Program

Delegates To Meet In Midland; To Tour 14 Ranch Counties

COLLEGE STATION, June 19.—Delegates to the AAA's National Range Conference will meet in Midland next week, June 24, for the opening session of the meeting at which details of the 1941 Range Conservation Program will be decided.

Because of the short time allowed for the tour, slight last-minute changes were made necessary in the route of the tour. L. W. Anderson, state AAA committeeman from Pecos, said.

The closing sessions of the conference will be held in San Angelo Friday, June 28, at which meeting the delegates will discuss and pass upon any changes in the program proposed by the various states. Speakers at the meetings will include Grover B. Hill, assistant secretary of agriculture; R. M. Evans, national AAA administrator, and I. W. Duggan, director of the southern region of the AAA.
