Loyalists In Full Control Of Teruel

Rebels Yield To Prolonged Assaults

Thousands Surrender After Holding Out or 18 Days MADRID, Jan. 9 (Sunday) (AP)—Final and complete subjugation of Teruel was announced by the government today following the surrender of 6,000 insurgent soldiers and civilians who had held out against government attacks within the city for 18 days.

Thousands Surrender In an extraordinary war communique, which conveyed the gratitude of the government to the army for its achievement, Minister of National Defense Indalecio Prieto announced the surrender of more than 2,000 soldiers and 2,000 civilians who had barricaded themselves in the shell-shattered buildings of the Santa Clara convent. Exhausted and disheartened by the surrender of 2,000 of their comrades in the Asuncion hospital Friday, the last remaining defenders left the convent last night after small groups had quit the buildings at intervals throughout the day. In a recapitulation of the prisoners taken, the government listed 40 army officers, 450 soldiers, 700 wounded and 1,000 civilians taken from the hospital and approximately 4,000 persons taken from the ruins of the convent. Among the military prisoners were Lieut.-Col. Rey D'Harcourt, Colonels Barba and Gasca, and eight other high insurgent chiefs. One of the officers taken was the son of Admiral Magaz, a minister of the old Rivera government. With the main body of Generalissimo Franco's lower Aragon army blocked from recapture of Teruel, the beleaguered insurgent garrison and their weakened women and children surrendered. For 18 days they had withstood artillery, rifle fire and dynamite. They had hoped that the counter-attacking insurgent army would break through and rescue them. Meanwhile, food, water and ammunition ran low. They negotiated the surrender through the Teruel Red Cross chairman.

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

BY JOE PICKLE A lot of these good resolves to pay poll taxes this year so far have amounted to about as much as the average resolution. With only about a thousand poll taxes paid in the entire county, it looks like many local patriots talk a better franchise than they may exercise in the elections this year. The deadline for paying is Jan. 31. That's plenty of time, but not so much that lots of good talkers will miss the opportunity.

And this brings up the talk of politics. The bars are down now that the first of the year is past. Already a couple of races have at least two candidates, and two more weeks will see about all the offices applied for by incumbents and possibly an outside aspirant. Opposition this year is a little slow in developing, but the political bee may be depended upon to sting enough to make the ballot plenty long. It's too early to talk about issues. Unless something unexpected develops, you will vote for or against a candidate because you like him or don't like him. You probably will justify your choice by arguing for what he has done or could do as an office holder.

To all indications the initial leg of the election contest went to the dry when the court belied the squeable down to alleged voting irregularities. In this point it is well

HE'S 'MR. D'

"Mr. D." identified by federal agents as a member of a group which arranged for passports for "Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Robinson," missing in Russia, is shown on his way to the U.S. district attorney's office in New York for questioning. "Mr. D." is Aaron Sharfin and an employee of the Egyptian consul in the Bronx and a key man in the passport mystery, federal agents said.

Illness Fatal To Pioneer Of Big Spring

Final Tributes To Be Paid Mrs. W. R. Purser Today Big Spring today mourned the passing of another of its esteemed pioneer residents, Mrs. Nora Elizabeth Purser, wife of W. R. Purser, who succumbed to a long illness at the family residence at 4:30 a. m. Saturday. In failing health for an extended period, Mrs. Purser had been confined to her bed since last September. She was 65 years old. Native of Lee county, Texas, Mrs. Purser came with her husband to Howard county in November of 1900, and until her illness was one of the city's active church workers. Mr. Purser, to whom she was married in November, 1889, long has been a prominent figure in Big Spring affairs. He is a former mayor, and for many years was a member of the school board. The funeral service will be held at 2:30 this afternoon at the First Methodist church, of which Mrs. Purser was a member, with the pastor, Rev. Will C. House, in charge. Burial will be in the L.O.O.F. cemetery, in the family plot. The body will lie in state at the home, 1108 Runnels street, until time for the service. Besides her husband, Mrs. Purser is survived by two sons, Dee Purser of Big Spring and Bevie Purser of Stanton, a daughter, Mrs. Leta Jones of Big Spring, and three brothers, C. H. Vick of Big Spring and H. A. and W. H. Vick of Breckenridge, and eight grandchildren. She was preceded in death by a son and a grandchild. Active pallbearers will be Jess Slaughter, J. L. Moreland, S. A. Wilson, Walton Morrison, Loy Acuff and W. W. Renshaw. Named as honorary pallbearers are J. E. Wolcott, B. Reagan, M. H. Morrison, L. S. Patterson, Jim Morgan, Victor Melling, A. C. Walker, Lee Warren, H. W. Leeper, C. E. Talbot, Fox Stripling, C. J. Schultz, Len Prescott, Doc Kinard, Bob Austin, T. E. Satterwhite, Bill Satterwhite, Clyde Thomas, T. S. Currie, W. B. Currie, John Biles, Shine Phillips, Tom Slaughter, Tom McWhorter, and C. C. Nance. Arrangements are under direction of the Eberley Funeral home.

FEAR JAP EFFORT TO DRIVE WESTERNERS FROM CHINA

Britons Will Study Issue

France Plans Protest Of Attack On Police LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Japan's demands for increased power in Shanghai and attacks on British subjects today revived fears Japanese military leaders are determined to drive western powers from China. Such apprehension was expressed by responsible quarters though, officially, the foreign office left to Shanghai British authorities the task of dealing with the Japanese manhandling of British policemen. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was understood to plan a review of the entire troubled Chinese situation with individual cabinet members Monday and with Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, former British ambassador to China. Sir Hugh is recovering from wounds inflicted by a Japanese attack on his automobile in China last summer. These quarters held that Japan had failed to prove her promised "ability" to control Japanese militarists. FLEET AT TSINGTAO SHANGHAI, Jan. 9 (Sunday) (AP)—Arrival of a Japanese fleet off Tsingtao, rich North China port created fear among foreigners and Chinese today of an impending Japanese attack. In Shanghai, meanwhile, French officials indicated they probably would protest to Japan against an assault by Japanese troops on police of the French concession yesterday. The incident, the second clash in two days between Japanese soldiers and foreign police, brought Japanese guns into line for more than an hour on the border between Nantao and the French concession. The French rushed two armored cars of reinforcements to the area but the menacing situation was hastily dissolved by an agreement between French Consul Pierre Augé and Japanese officials. The nature of the Japanese fleet off the Shantung province port remained obscure. Some Tsingtao reports said the ships were minesweepers and old destroyers. Others, however, said the fleet consisted of 12 warships, including up-to-date cruisers and destroyers equipped with torpedoes. There was no indication of immediate Japanese preparations for a landing.

Another Plane Lost In Hunt For Fliers

Two Men Injured As Might Search For 18 Days SAN PEDRO, Calif., Jan. 8 (AP)—Inquiry of two men and the loss of a bombing plane by fire added to the search toll today as the navy's great sea and air armada continued the quest for the twin-motored bomber that disappeared during maneuvers on the Pacific late Wednesday. Hope for the safety of the giant seaplane and its complement of seven crew members diminished by the hour but the thirty-five fighting ships and 283 planes continued unabated their activities over 60,000 square miles. Admiral Arthur J. Heppner, commander-in-chief of the fleet, sent a radio message to the Associated Press telling of a landing crash aboard the airplane carrier Saratoga yesterday in which pilot Lieut. J. M. Elliott suffered second degree burns and M. A. Belgum, a seaman, was cut and bruised. The bomber caught fire and sank after the accident, said the message. Previously Cadet Scott P. Hawkins, of Jefferson City, Mo., fell from a searching plane and plunged into the sea. He was given up as dead. The search included an area extending from San Luis Obispo, Cal., to Lower California. "Decision as to the discontinuation of the search," said the admiral's present, "cannot be made at present."

Will Resume Vote Hearing

Report Of Grand Jury Feature First Week Of Court Term Seventieth district court closed out its first week of the current term Saturday with very little to look back upon save the first hearing on a liquor election contest and a grand jury report. The jury returned 13 bills of indictment, and Saturday five of the defendants had been taken into custody. Hearing on the liquor contest will be resumed this week, probably around Wednesday, when arguments are to be confined to alleged irregularities in the voting. Contestants were reported Saturday preparing to check into several rural boxes, all of which were notably dry in the Dec. 10 voting, to secure more specific evidence of purported irregularities. First plea of guilty of the current term was heard in the court Friday when Hilario Morales was sentenced to serve two years in prison for forgery. The court granted a divorce to Cleo Fuller from Ira Fuller and gave her custody of three minor children. The plaintiff took a non-suit in the case of Lillie M. Hurt versus C. D. Read, suit to set aside deeds. Several civil suits are set ahead of the liquor contest hearing this week. Criminal docket of the court is set for the week of Jan. 17.

Housing Problem To Be Studied By C-C Directors

Big Spring's acute housing situation and means of effectively remedying it will be talked at the chamber of commerce directors meeting Monday noon. Dr. P. W. Malone, president of the chamber, said that discussions of the housing situation were easily the most important items on the calendar of the meeting. He indicated that a definite plan might be proposed at the meeting. Names of committee chairmen for 1938 may be presented to the board in its Monday session. J. H. Greene, manager, termed the meeting one of the most important of the year and was hopeful of having a full attendance.

Demo Speakers Lash Out At Monopoly

Cooperation With Honest Business Voted On Jackson Day WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)— Democrats gathered at Jackson Day dinners throughout the land tonight to hear spokesmen for the Roosevelt administration offer co-operation to "honest business" and denounce "monopoly." Money, Public Support The dinners, celebrating the anniversary of Andrew Jackson's victory in the battle of New Orleans, had two additional purposes: to reduce the democratic party's $211,295 deficit, and to muster public support for the administration's program of new anti-trust legislation and other business controls. Among the speakers, Secretary Ickes at Nashville, Tenn., delivered a fiery assault upon concentrated wealth. He told his audience that "the hydro-headed economic monster of 1938 is stronger, more cunning and more resourceful than the debonaire gentleman who ruled the financial world of America from Philadelphia in the time of Andrew Jackson." Ickes said the "debonaire gentleman" of Jackson's day was Nicholas Biddle, president of the Bank of the United States, whom he accused of causing a panic in a futile effort to win a re-charter for his bank. No Calm Note "Monopolistic wealth" has power today to bring on a panic "in order to force acceptance of its ungenerous and onerous terms," the interior department chief said, but he predicted it would not "react to such an extreme" if the people "are prepared to defend their economic liberties at whatever cost may be necessary." Critics who had looked for a calmer note in Ickes' utterances as the result of President Roosevelt's more-reconciliatory message to congress recently were disappointed. But at New York, Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney general, talked more of cooperation between government and business than he had in other recent speeches. Government and business each need badly all the good will and ability the other has "for mutual protection against a selfish minority." Attorney General Cummings, in an address prepared for delivery at Chicago, declared: "In dealing with these problems (of mass production) our purpose should be constructive, not merely destructive. Monopolistic practices should be more clearly defined. x x x Let it be remembered that the well-intentioned business man's desire of knowing not only what he is forbidden to do, but also what he is permitted to do." Cummings replied to some administration critics who contend that business conditions abroad are better than in this country. "To mop up unemployment by putting millions into the army and setting more millions to work manufacturing munitions may be a way to meet the unemployment situation," he said, "but it does not accord with American ideals."

Early Start On Hospital Foreseen

Contractors Have Representatives On The Ground Possibility of some ground breaking this week on the state hospital site one mile north of town was seen Saturday as contractors hastened the construction of several small office structures on the tract. Two contractors, Zachary Construction Co. and Hill and Combs, have representatives here. Dr. McMahan, superintendent of the state hospital here, has been in Big Spring for the past week to keep watch over building of the state's newest psychopathic institution. B. J. McDaniels, superintendent of city operations, said Saturday that it appeared laying of a six-inch water line to designated spots on the site would be completed by midweek. The line already reaches well to the grounds. County road crews are making rapid progress on throwing up a grade for the railroad spur, and indications are that the track may reach the site by the end of the month. FIRE DAMAGE LIGHT Fire Saturday afternoon caused small damage to a service station at the corner of Benton and East Second streets. Firemen arrived in time to prevent any serious damage from the flames. Another fire on West Second street Thursday badly charred the interior of a residence in the 1400 block.

Charges That Group Would Control U.S.

Pledges Cooperation In Eradicating All Industrial Evils WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)— President Roosevelt gave notice tonight he would wage a no-compromise fight against a minority of "business men, bankers and industrialists." That minority intends to make a struggle "to the last ditch to retain autocratic control" over the country's economy, the president charged in a Jackson Day address to the nation. Welcomes Assistance At the same time, the chief executive pledged cooperation with all who were willing to "help eradicate the evils that flow from undue concentration of economic power or unfair business practices." The president spoke at the annual dinner here of democrats celebrating Andrew Jackson's victory in the battle of New Orleans. His words went by radio to similar democratic dinners throughout the land. "The White House door is always open to all our citizens who come offering to help eradicate the evils that flow from undue concentration of economic power or unfair business practices—who offer to do all that is possible by cooperative endeavor and to aid in corrective and helpful legislation where necessary," he said. "We know that there will be a few—a mere handful of the total of business men and bankers and industrialists—who will fight to the last ditch to retain such autocratic controls over the industry and the finances of the country as they now possess. No Compromise "With this handful, it is going to be a fight—a cheerful fight on my part, but a fight in which there will be no compromise with evil—no let-up until the inevitable day of victory." Mr. Roosevelt reviewed the struggles of Jefferson, Jackson, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson for what he called the "basic morals of democracy." "In our nation today," he continued, "we still have the continuing menace of a comparatively small number of people who honestly believe in their superior right to influence and direct government, and who are unable to see or unwilling to admit that the practices by which they maintain their privileges are harmful to the body politics. x x x "In my message to the congress on Monday, I made it abundantly clear that this administration seeks to serve the needs, and to make effective the will, of the overwhelming majority of our citizens and seeks to curb only abuses of power and privilege by small minorities." The president mentioned the ad-

Office Seekers Busy As New Year Begins

First Week Of '38 Brings Announcements From 12 It looked like a lively political year Saturday with one week of 1938 gone and 12 candidates already on the field. Eight of 16 local offices to be listed on ballots in Howard county in the democratic primaries had seekers, and three of the places had two candidates. Nor was this mounting interest confined to office seekers, for poll tax payments were beginning to quicken at the tax collector's office with 1,171 receipts issued to Saturday afternoon. A survey of the announcements of the past two weeks showed Cecil Collins, Big Spring district attorney, and Paul Moss, Odessa, in the race for district judge. It was an assured fact that the two would have company of at least one other man, from Big Spring, in the campaign. Lined up to contest for Collins' vacated place were Martelle McDonald, Big Spring attorney, and Walton S. Morrison, Howard county attorney. There was some talk of a candidate from Odessa, but it was very indefinite. Hugh Duberly, district clerk, was undoubted in his request for re-election as were Thomas R. Shroyer, county treasurer, Jess Slaughter, and Anne Martin, county superintendent. Joe A. Faucett, justice of peace, was asking promotion to the county attorney's office and D. E. Bishop announced for Faucett's place. J. F. Crenshaw had asked for re-election to the office of constable and Andy Tucker was out to oppose him for the office. J. L. Nix seeks the tie in the commissioners' division by asking for place No. 4 in the county.

Cities Probe Graft, Vice

Investigations At Albuquerque, Phoenix, El Paso By The Associated Press Three of the principal cities of the southwest—Albuquerque, N. M., Phoenix, Ariz., and El Paso, Texas—were the locales Saturday of investigations into alleged municipal graft and vice. In Albuquerque, a grand jury indicted Mayor Charles H. Lambke on 14 counts of speculating in municipal indebtedness, and delved deeper into city fiscal matters. In El Paso, a municipal court jury inquired placed before a grand jury findings resulting from the death of a girl from El Paso's "restricted district" following her arrest by police. Justice C. M. Wilcox, Jr., simultaneously announced he would conduct an inquiry into general vice and graft conditions in the Texas metropolis. Gambling, police loyalty and bribery were said by Justice Wilcox to be subjects under study. In Phoenix, a former Maricopa county sheriff and a New York salesman were held under bond to the Arizona superior court on charges of attempted bribery of County Attorney John W. Corbin, Corbin testified at a preliminary hearing that bribes of $7,000 to $12,000 were offered to ignore gambling in the county.

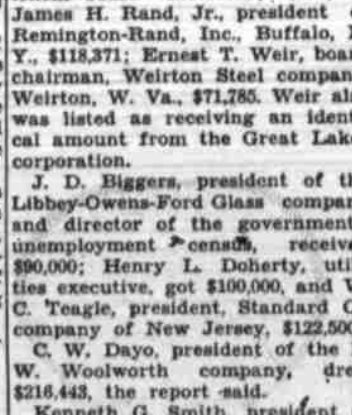

Rep. Richard J. Welch (above), California republican, has been recommended to President Roosevelt to succeed Joseph P. Kennedy as chairman of the maritime commission, congressional friends said.

SLOAN—He's Tops $299,323; Ruth Chatterton, $249,500; Charles Boyer, $249,145; Rudy Vallee, $238,744.

Y., $118,371; Ernest T. Weir, board chairman, Weirton Steel company, Weirton, W. Va., $71,785. Weir also was listed as receiving an identical amount from the Great Lakes corporation.

Winchell-Bernie Feud Revived, And Simone Sings In Ritz Feature, 'Love And Hisses'

Musical Comedy To Play Sunday And Monday.

Twentieth Century-Fox offers some old stand-by favorites and some surprises in the gay new musical comedy which headlines the Ritz theatre's program for Sunday and Monday. It's called "Love And Hisses."

The old favorites are your battling friends, Walter Winchell and Ben Bernie. One of the surprises is little Simone Simon of Paris who, they say, makes a real hit and demonstrates a really class-A singing voice as she warbles both operatic tunes and popular melodies.

And there's a new team of mad comics, Joan Davis, that fall-gal, and Bert Lahr of many a stage success. Plus, of course, much new music, and the eye-filling quota of gals in production numbers. "Love And Hisses" is another of the deft entertainment series from Darryl Zanuck, responsible for that other Winchell-Bernie piece, "Wake Up And Live."

The story tells us that Ben Bernie, the "old Maestro," discovers (Simone Simon) a great singer. He asks "old pal" Winchell, America's one-man newspaper, to build her up in his column. Winchell turns the band leader down, as should be expected, so Bernie schemes a plot. Adopting an exotic masquerade, Simone lets Winchell "discover" her himself, and the columnist showers reams of publicity upon her.

Just before Bernie's new club is to open, with Simone as star, she reveals the plot to Winchell. Dis-mayed at having been taken in, Winchell plans a four-star vengeance upon his favorite enemy. Revenge by any other man is sweet, but by Winchell it's hilarious.

The climax brings the two feudists together at the opening of Bernie's club, featuring their co-discovery, Simone, singing for them both. The ending is happy, even though the truce may be temporary.

Gordon and Revel's "Sweet Someone," "I Wanna Be In Winchell's Column," "Be A Good Sport" and "Broadway's Gonna Hawaii" plus some more tunes by Pollack and Mitchell, Raymond Scott and Zeno and Irwin make this picture a four alarm, song-hit festival.

56 In Attendance At Church Meet

A record attendance since the organization was formed was reported at the Friday night meeting of the Brotherhood of the First Baptist church. Fifty-six men gathered for a session to hear speakers discuss "What Do We Owe Our Church During 1939?"

J. H. Greene presided at the affair, and speakers were Martelle McDonald, Cecil Collins, Dr. P. W. Malone and W. C. Blankenship. Alton Underwood was in charge of the musical program.

THEY'RE CALLING NAMES AGAIN

Meet your New York correspondent, Walter Winchell, and the old maestro, Ben Bernie. Put together in another film, they spat and fuss and call names; cause of all the feuding this time is a little feminine trick called Simone Simon, who not only looks attractive, but also puts forth a good voice in some new songs. All this in the musical comedy production, "Love And Hisses," at the Ritz today and Monday.

Faye-Ameche Are Starred At Lyric

Ritz Brothers Contribute In 'You Can't Have Everything'

Rhythm and sweet songs, scrumptious gals, and a parade of personalities headed by Alice Faye, the Ritz Brothers, Don Ameche and Louise Hovick, make up a big part of the entertainment to be had in "You Can't Have Everything," booked at the Lyric theatre Sunday and Monday for return showings locally. It's one of the top notch musical comedies produced by the makers of such hits as "Sing, Baby, Sing," "Thanks A Million," "On the Avenue," "One In A Million," and "Wake Up and Live."

Specialty performers and others in the cast include Charles Winninger, Rubinfino and his violin, Tony Martin, Arthur Treacher, Phyllis Brooks, Tip, Tap and Toe, Louis Prima and his band, and Tyler Brooke.

Rubinfino's facile violin starts the story off on a mad, musical career by serving to introduce Alice Faye, a hopeful young playwright penniless in New York. Don Ameche, successful author of bright and fragile musical comedies. Currently appearing in Ameche's latest show are the Ritz Brothers and Louise Hovick, the latter an exciting new personality making her first screen appearance.

To further his romantic aims, Ameche has Charles Winninger, his producer, buy Miss Faye's tragedy, which the Ritz Brothers proceed to adapt, with considerable blue-pencilling, into a rowdy farce.

A steady round of singing, dancing and comedy interperses the light action to produce a well-rounded gem of fun and amusement. Norman Taurag directed, with Laurence Schwab as associate producer.

Pictorial Record Of Panay Attack Offered On Ritz Program Today

The American public's reaction to the now-famed Panay incident in China may be best determined in the next few weeks, despite the fact that the affair is a closed chapter insofar as the state department is concerned. This belated test is due to the fact that news being generally released are now films giving a graphic portrayal of the bombing of the U. S. gunboat in the Yangtze.

Big Spring movie audiences got their first glimpse of Panay scenes in a Paramount newsreel at the Ritz Friday and Saturday nights. Another—and better—chapter is on the Ritz program for Sunday and Monday, when Metro News offers its films of the event.

Metro's shots go into more detail of the actual air attack on the little gunboat. The reel opens with scenes of the capture of Nanking, showing the Panay's departure from that embattled city, with American refugees on board. Up the Yangtze a short distance, the Jap planes strike, although the Panay may be seen flying prominently the U. S. flag. The newsreel shows U. S. seamen returning fire with their small guns; the firing of the nearby Standard Oil tankers; the settling of the Panay and the escape of those aboard—many of them wounded—by lifeboat to the Yangtze shore. Then starts the long trek back to China bases, and the eventual trip into Shanghai, under escort of other gunboats.

Authentic and not without drama are these scenes of an incident that might have fanned new flames of war. People who want a first-hand picture of the affair will find the newsreels of interest and value.

Program Notes From KBST

Calling all kiddies! That popular Saturday morning program titled the "Kiddies Revue" will be resumed in the near future over KBST. Listeners of the local station will recall this feature of last fall and winter which brought forth the talents of local young folk. The station requests that the tiny artists listen for further announcements on a definite rehearsal period.

A new weekly feature called the "Cosden Vagabonds" will be aired over KBST every Thursday at 7:45 p. m. The new program looks like a winner, as it is an electrical transcription of the "Vagabonds of the Prairie," which presents a nationally famous group of hill-billy players and comedians. The new show is expected to become a prime favorite with radio fans who like good snappy music and clever comedy. The artists are all NBC performers.

The popular team of Zeb and Mandy, previously heard at a morning hour, now is presented every night by KBST from 8 to 8:30.

Guest stars on the Musical Moments Revue, to be heard over KBST Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., will be Doris Kerr and Walter Cassel. The former sings "Between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea," and Cassel offers "Rosalie." The Songsmiths do two selections, "Home On the Range" and "Swing Is Here To Stay." In addition there will be music by Victor Arden's 34-piece orchestra and Graham McNamee will be the m. c. On Thursday evening at the same time, Dorothy Dreslin, soprano songstress, will be a guest star, as will Jan Pearce, who will sing "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life."

Big Float Planned To Carry 500 Mothers-In-Law

AMARILLO, Jan. 8 (UP)—A float large enough to transport 500 mothers-in-law is in prospect for the annual mother-in-law day parade here March 8.

Editor Gene Howe told about it in his Tactless Texan column: "Mason King proposes to have the largest float in the history of the world. He wants to build one that will seat 500 mothers-in-law; one that will be a block or so long and will be drawn by a battery of caterpillars. He's figuring with some engineers and construction experts."

Howe was the originator of the day. This year it has been dedicated to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Identification of handwriting is a matter of great importance in law cases which involve questioned documents.

HE'S LOOKING FOR A PLOTTER

Oldtime Jack Holt, veteran of some 200 screen plays, contributes a new characterization in the mystery thriller booked Sunday and Monday at the Queen. Called "Under Suspicion," the picture puts just about everybody in the cast under suspicion before the crime is solved.

Jack Holt In Mystery Film At Queen

'Under Suspicion' Gives Veteran Star New Type Role

Youse guys and gals who like your mystery stories served up with a goodly portion of gooseflesh may find something to your liking at the Queen theatre Sunday and Monday. Comes to that screen one of those "whodunit" productions called "Under Suspicion," in which veteran movie player Jack Holt is starred. It seems that everybody in the cast is at one time or another under suspicion, and the fun comes in trying to find out who is guilty.

The play gives Jack Holt, who has appeared in some 200 movie productions, a new role, that of a rich and famous automobile manufacturer whose life is threatened by an assassination plot.

This menace makes its appearance early in the story and with startling suddenness when Holt, as the auto tycoon, announces his plan to retire and turn his great manufacturing plant over to his workers. An airplane tampered with, a ghostly auto crash, rifles and pistols equipped with silencers—even such an unusual weapon as a bow and arrow—are among the lethal means employed by a mysterious enemy to halt the philanthropic plan of the motor magnate.

Thus beset and bedevilled, it is Holt, himself, who evolves a shrewd trap for the would-be assassin or murderers. In this he is aided by a noted private detective. Before the plan is played to its clever and surprising denouement, exposing the murder plot, there is enough frustrated skulduggery and suspense to make a wooden Indian squirm.

The attractive and talented Katharine DeMille has the leading feminine role opposite Holt. Others in the cast are Luis Alberni, Rosalind Keith, Purnell Pratt, Esther Muir, Granville Bates and Craig Reynolds.

Chinese Post Names Of War 'Slackers'

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (UP)—There's a large white sheet of paper bearing black columns of Chinese characters posted on the wall of a schoolhouse in New York's Chinatown today.

The home town and out-of-town tourists who pass by barely noticing it—there are plenty of other gaudy signs on Mott street—would be mildly shocked to know those are the names and addresses of Chinese who have not contributed to a fund for the relief of Canton. They refused to be "war-tithers."

But that's not all. The sign bluntly states the listed persons are suspected of being in the service of the enemy, Japan.

This is only one example of how, unprovoked by the majority of Americans, the war fever has come to the Chinatown of several cities in this country.

Seventy-five per cent of the people of Massachusetts live in cities.

He Can Change A Pistol Into A Machine Gun

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (UP)—Laird "Jack" Dowis, whose father used to be a Colorado sheriff, can take an ordinary automatic pistol, tinker with it a few minutes, and hand over the neatest little murdering machine gun you ever saw in your life.

Dowis is in New York now, giving demonstrations to representatives of foreign governments, and negotiating for the sale on a royalty basis of the tiny device he invented which makes a deadly gun deadlier.

"I wish it was only the United States that was ever going to get to use my invention," said Dowis today. "I'm an American and my family before me for generations has been American—but the war department doesn't want my invention."

The principle of the device, he explained, is based on gas ejection overcoming recoil and acting as a cooling process.

She Gave Russians Cosmetics, Now Will Try Them Out On Ice Cream

Mme. Paulina Zhemchuzhina
She's now vice commissar of the soviet's food trust.

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
AP Foreign Service Writer

MOSCOW—Mme. Paulina Zhemchuzhina, who built up the soviet government's business in perfumes, soaps and lipsticks, is perhaps the only woman in the world entitled to sit with her husband in cabinet meetings.

Madame Zhemchuzhina, whose name would be Pauline Pearl in English, is the wife of Premier Vyacheslav Molotov in private life. She is vice commissar of food industry, in which post she is assistant to Anatas Mikoyan, Armenian head of one of the largest food producing and distributing organizations in the world.

Now in her middle thirties, Paulina Zhemchuzhina has been married to the 47-year-old premier about ten years. During that time she bore a child, now about seven years old, and developed the soviet cosmetics industry into one of the most successful enterprises in the national economy.

Headed Perfume Trust
Much of her success is attributed to visits abroad, particularly to the United States, where she was the guest of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at the White House in 1936.

From the United States, Madame Molotov brought machinery and beauty shop technique for the manufacture and application of cosmetics for her fair comrades.

Promoted from manager of the Tezhe perfume trust of Moscow to head of the whole cosmetics industry, she put both American machinery and technique to work to provide soviet women with beautifying products, which Madame Molotov regards as necessities.

Beauty shops, which Madame Molotov describes as "artistic," have been opened in Moscow and the larger cities in the provinces. Some of those in Moscow, in architectural attractiveness and luxury, reflect ideas she gained in America.

Scents Popular
The cosmetics trust now produces more than 100 kinds of soap where there were only six in the early days of the soviet regime and turns out more than 8,000,000 bottles of eau de cologne annually.

What the soviet woman spends on face powder, perfume and rouge, which she uses freely, has not been officially revealed, but it must be considerable, for the government spends 15,000,000 rubles a year (about $3,000,000 at par) on the production of scents alone. The trust has 250,000 acres of flowers under cultivation in the Caucasus and Crimea.

Roses and camellias provide the scents most favored in Russia, where the women seem to like their perfume strong. Camellia is particularly popular in China, Mongolia and Persia, with which the trust does a large export business.

Now that she is vice commissar of food industry, under which, incidentally, the cosmetics trust functions, Madame Molotov is expected to devote herself largely to food production.

New Foods Due
Ice cream making on a large scale, with machinery set up by American engineers, is about to be undertaken. Other products new to the Russian palate are canned tomato and fruit juices, as well as canned squash, corn, green peas and stuffed eggplant. Production of evaporated milk is scheduled for next year.

About Madame Molotov's personality, little is known to the Russians themselves, since she seldom is seen in public. In contrast to her husband, who used to sign decrees with his real name, Scriabin, to show that he was a Russian, Madame Molotov is Jewish. As vice commissar, she uses the name Zhemchuzhina.

Although Madame Molotov has traveled abroad, she now is inaccessible to foreigners, as are most other soviet officials since the current wave of arrests within the regime began.

In taking her new post, Madame Molotov turned over the management of the cosmetics business to Mme. Tatiana Morozova, former manager of the New Dawn perfume and face powder factory.

Trade Boosted By Clearance Sales

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—Stimulated by clearance sales, retail trade this week rose 2 to 8 per cent above last week and 3 to 10 per cent over the like week of 1937 for the country as a whole, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

"January thus far has been an encouraging surprise to retailers," the credit agency said. "Instead of the anticipated downturn, stimulus in demand of store-wide markdowns lifted sales at most of the leading centers of distribution."

Sales in the east were up 4 to 8 per cent over a year ago, in the New England states up 2 to 5 per cent, in the middle west up 3 to 7 per cent, in the northwest up 4 to 9 per cent; in the south up 5 to 10 per cent, southwest up 6 to 12 per cent, and Pacific coast even to 2 per cent higher.

The chief centers of retail trade activity are Cuba, Jamaica, Martinique and British Guiana.

Ford School Under Way

First Group Given Instruction In Car Conditioning

The Ford Motor company used car appearance and reconditioning school being held at the Reagan building south of the postoffice closed its first week of operation here Friday. The school was launched for the purpose of training mechanics, painters and metal workers from a wide West Texas area. Those Ford men in attendance were from the Lubbock Auto Company, Lubbock; Wood Motor company, San Angelo; Carl Sewell, Odessa, and the Big Spring Motor company of this city.

J. L. Ranney, assisted by E. D. Hitchcock, of the Dallas branch of the Ford Motor company, have been conducting the school. They are in charge of the service school instruction. Other Ford officials attending were F. L. Yates, service supervisor of the Dallas branch; L. A. Dumond, sales promotion, Lincoln division, Dallas; E. C. Robinson, San Angelo representative; Tom Roach, Lubbock; A. B. Hunter, Big Spring and Odessa zone; L. T. Verner, Dallas, used car supervisor; E. E. Spencer, U.C.C., Dallas. Jack Boyles, with DuPont De Nemours, Dallas; and E. D. Williams, factory representative of the Acme White Lead & Color Works, Dallas.

During the past week those in attendance at the school were given wide instruction in reconditioning used cars, as well as doing considerable work toward improving the cars' appearance. Two used cars were completely reconditioned. Next week, officials stated, another group of Ford mechanics and paint and body men will convene here to receive instructions. The school will be continued here through the next five weeks, the officials said.

Insurance Co. Opening Dist. Office Here

Representatives Of West Coast Gather For Conference

Contemplating broadened activities in the West Texas area, the West Coast Life Insurance company Saturday announced plans for opening an agency supervisor's office in Big Spring. The program was revealed as West Texas representatives of the company gathered here for a conference looking toward new year's plans.

Here for the meeting was J. P. Robinson of Houston, superintendent of agencies for the company's southern department. He announced that Elmer L. Hines, for the past eleven years agency manager in Houston, will be in charge of the Big Spring office, supervising a territory from Fort Worth to Pecos and from San Angelo to Lubbock. Hines will make his home here permanently.

"We are expanding in this manner to give better service to West Texas," Robinson said, "and we feel, after having looked over the entire territory, that Big Spring is the logical choice for the supervisor's office. The company has organized agencies during the past year in Monahan, Odessa, Midland, Colorado, Brady and Brownwood.

Representatives were in conference with Robinson and Hines during the afternoon, and the group assembled for a banquet session at the Settles hotel Saturday night. Robinson reported a good year for West Coast, asserting that its business for 1937 was up more than 104 per cent from that of 1936.

ministration's differences with utilities interests. Ascertaining he was convinced that the "great majority of local or regional operating utility companies can come to an understanding" with the government, he declared:

Where Investors Lost
"But most of these operating companies are owned by holding companies — pyramided holding companies — which are finance companies, not operating utility companies. Very few investors in the operating companies have lost money. But thousands of investors have lost money in buying holding company securities which had blue sky above them instead of tangible assets behind them."

Mr. Roosevelt said it had been estimated $13,000,000,000 of electric utility securities were outstanding and that the substantial control of this stock was vested in the hands of owners of less than $600,000,000.

"That means that the ownership of about 4 per cent of the securities controls the other 96 per cent," the president declared.

to consider that the grand jury, reporting Thursday, either did not think rumored irregularities of any importance or else amounted to about six of one and half a dozen of the other. There are some, however, who think that keeping the suit in court on an appeal is the wet strategy. State agents, they believe, will regard the county as wending settlement of the contest. Majority legal opinion is the other way. Thus, an enforcement monkey may be tossed on somebody's back.

Perhaps eternal better business talk gets about as wearisome as economic recession alarms do annoying, but the deposit gain of $1,090,961 for two Big Spring banks as of Dec. 31 definitely is indicative of better business trends here. The only counteractive influence could be the simultaneous reduction of $25,091 in loans. The deposit surplus was strong enough that L. A. Eubanks, credit bureau manager, told a club it should be enough to make 1938 economically as good as 1937 even in the face of a payroll loss.

See by the papers where a professor, who broods over the sun's radiation and the level records of Lake Huron, says that the next 10 year drought period, from which we are supposed to be emerging, will be in 1975. He bases this on the contention that weather has a fairly definite 46 year cycle. If this be the case, farmers ought to drill it into their sons to plant heavily in 1973 for a glorious repetition of the bumper crops over this area last year.

The county's refusal to participate in a 50-50 purchase of the club house on the courthouse square as a solution for housing the museum was as positive as polite. There are possibly two reasons for this: 1) The county doesn't feel able or disposed to put money into such extra-governmental affairs, and 2) if it did, it wouldn't warm to the idea of owning the suggested white elephant. As to a permanent solution of the museum problem, it is probably well that the county refused to take over the club house, for the museum's future would be uncertain there even with the mortgage lifted.

It's a little late, but J. W. Berkeley, former old age pensioner of Lamesa, hits among the things as his motto for 1938 to "be ashamed to live and afraid to die until you have done something to make the world better. . . . Make all you can honestly, save all you can prudently, give all you can wisely. . . . Work every day as though you would live forever and live every day as though you expected to die tomorrow." Another catchy dip listed is that "the bee goes to the same flower for its honey as the spider goes for its poison."

If construction of the Big Spring-Andrews highway depended on Andrews county, it wouldn't have long to wait. A Texas congressional delegation had signed a petition endorsing Representative Sumner (D-Tex.), chairman of the judiciary committee, for appointment to the supreme court. Poage, delegation secretary, said Representative Maverick (D-Tex.) was out of the city when the members were canvassed and that Representative Thomas (D-Tex.) was already committed to support Judge Joe Hutchinson, who is on the federal circuit court at New Orleans.

The last month of taxpaying season is now at hand, and collecting agencies are showing comparatively favorable reports. But final figures may show about 13 per cent not paying. This amounts to just that much dead weight for those paying to carry. It seems just as sensible that good citizens should support and encourage taxpaying as readily as they would hawk support for a candidate or bond issue. At least it would be better business.

The United States produces all the world's pecans except for a relatively small quantity grown in Mexico.

SUDDEN DEATH IN STORE FOR 2,240

AUSTIN, Jan. 8 (AP)—A total of 2,240 persons are sentenced to die violently on Texas highways in 1938.

The estimate was made today by statisticians at state police headquarters, who applied the mathematical laws of averages and ratio of increase to last year's toll.

Incomplete figures on 1937 in the "black book," a record of fatal accidents, indicated a death count of 2,040, an increase of more than 100 over the preceding year.

Last year death far outstripped the calculations of keepers of the "black book," reaping a harvest more than 100 higher than that originally forecast.

NEW ICC CHAIRMAN WELL KNOWN HERE

Dr. Walter M. W. Spiawn, who Saturday became chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, is well known in this section. He is a son-in-law to W. W. Lay of Coahoma and is a former president of Texas university. Dr. Spiawn succeeds Carroll Miller as head of the important regulatory body. He made a brief visit here last summer and occasionally makes informal addresses on his frequent visits here.

SUMNERS ENDORSED BY TEXAS SOLONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Representative Poage (D-Tex.) announced today all but two of the Texas congressional delegation had signed a petition endorsing Representative Sumner (D-Tex.), chairman of the judiciary committee, for appointment to the supreme court.

Poage, delegation secretary, said Representative Maverick (D-Tex.) was out of the city when the members were canvassed and that Representative Thomas (D-Tex.) was already committed to support Judge Joe Hutchinson, who is on the federal circuit court at New Orleans.

TWO ARRESTED AS TRUCKER'S DEATH INVESTIGATED

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 8 (AP)—While two men arrested today were being questioned by city detectives, deputy sheriffs turned to Burnet county for further information of the Friday morning slaying of Ray E. Owen, 53-year-old Bertram trucker, on Highway 66, three miles north of the city.

One of the men arrested had been employed, officers said, at the produce house where Owen usually traded, where he obtained $75 in cash Thursday afternoon. The man, 28 years old, had not been back at work since the slaying, officers stated they had learned.

The other man, 30 years old, was believed to be a companion. Both were held tonight at detective headquarters.

SCHOOL EXPLOSION CASE IS CALLED

HENDERSON, Jan. 8 (AP)—District Judge R. T. Brown said today the first of four New London school explosion damage suits had been set for trial Monday in his court.

The case is that of J. O. Moore asking $24,250 damages and naming the Parade Gasoline company, the Ward Oil corporation, superintendents of the two companies, trustees of the New London independent school district and former School Superintendent W. C. Shaw.

Moore brought suit in behalf of his daughter, Dessie, who was killed in the explosion last March 18, and charges the defendants were negligent.

MRS. ETHEL ERWIN IS DEATH VICTIM

Body of Mrs. Ethel Erwin, who succumbed here Saturday following a three weeks illness, was to be taken to Athens Sunday for burial. Mrs. Erwin, 33, is survived by her husband, M. A. Erwin of 1218 W. 3rd street. She was born in Arlington, Texas. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Grider, reside in Athens. She also leaves a sister and a brother. Kinney Funeral home was in charge of local arrangements.

SUSPECT CHARGED ON CHECK COUNT

PARIS, Jan. 8—Luis P. Norris, 18, of Big Sandy, was arrested here today and charged with theft and forgery of a CCC allotment check of $25. He pleaded guilty on arraignment and was held in default of $1,000 bond. Secret Service Agent Leo J. Williams said the check in question was made payable to J. W. Kerr of Big Spring and cashed there last April.

The sheriff's department here said they wanted Norris, known to them as N. L. Norris, on a forgery count. Under a two-year suspended sentence here for forgery, he since has been indicted for a similar offense. Officers were familiar with the CCC case on which he was arrested but said it was outside their jurisdiction.

Miss Doris Cunningham was to leave this morning for Dallas to resume her studies at Southern Methodist university after spending the holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cunningham.

INDIAN CHILDREN PERISH IN FLAMES

OKEMAH, Okla., Jan. 8 (AP)—Three small Indian children perished today in a flaming two-room farm home nine miles south of here despite the heroic efforts of their dog to summon aid by insistent barking.

The mother of two of the victims, Mrs. Lena Wood, full-blood Creek Indian, told Roy Parham, assistant county attorney, she had left the small frame house but a few moments before to get a pail of water at a neighbor's house a quarter of a mile distant.

Brownwood Champ, Ackerly Lighthheavy Enter Names

Jack Davis, Balmorhea, welter-weight champion of the Brownwood district in 1937, and Dean Hambrick, a lighthheavy from Ackerly, Saturday placed their names among the 15 or more youngsters who have officially entered the Big Spring Golden Gloves boxing tournament.

Hambrick did not fight in the Golden Gloves ranks last year but campaigned in the boxing classes of the CCC camps and clouted out a victory over the lighthheavy champ of the Lubbock district in one bout.

Herman Fuhrer, former professional boxer who has had much experience with the amateurs, issued an invitation to the tournament of intended to do so to meet with him at the Big Spring Athletic club today at 1 p. m. for a lesson in the finer points of the game.

None of the local entrants, other than Willie Hamrell who competed at Lubbock a year ago, have ever had experience in GG circles.

Several rules were brought to light this week which entrants will do wise to observe closely.

Among the regulations sent out from state headquarters in Fort Worth are rules governing all fouts.

"In professional boxing," states the regulations, "it has become next to impossible to lose a fight through a foul, whereas in the amateur game, boxers are penalized heavily for any unsportsmanlike tactics or lack of aggressiveness. Most professional bouts are judged on the round basis but amateur fight results are added at the end of the match. In other words, a boy may lose two rounds by a narrow margin then come back to take the third round by a wide margin and win the fight."

It has been announced that the Golden Gloves meeting here will be conducted under the AAU official boxing rules.

Here are some of the more important sections: At the end of each round, the better boxer receives 20 points and his opponent proportionately less. If the round is even each boxer gets 20 points.

The judge will award his decision to the boxer who, at the end of the bout, has the highest total; and hands his decision in writing on the scoring paper to the referee or the master of ceremonies.

If, at the end of the bout, both boxers have an equal number of points, the judge's decision shall be given to the boxer who has done most of the leading-off, or who has shown the better style. A winner must be declared.

For awarding points the following have to be taken into consideration:

(a) Number of hits. Each hit

Marshall Leads Way By Scoring Eight Field Goals

COLORADO, Jan. 5.—Abilene's Eagles, with Elton Haley leading the way, crashed their way through the finals of the Colorado invitational basketball tournament here Saturday night by defeating Hamlin, 37-26. Haley, accounted for 15 points.

Coahoma's Bulldogs captured the consolation round by clouting Ira in the finals, 24-5.

An all-tournament team chosen by the judges was made up of Haley, Abilene, and Allen, Lubbock, forwards; Dennis, Abilene, center; and Whaley, Hamlin, and Berhaney, Abilene, guards. Trophy for the best sport went to Coon of Lamesa. Whaley won high scoring honors with 75 points while Marshall of Coahoma was second with 65.

CALLING THE CAGERS: 1 COAST TEAMS BATTLE FOR SECOND PLACE

By SAM JACKSON AP Feature Service Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—The Pacific coast is the only basketball circuit wherein they announce the winner in advance and play out the schedule merely to decide second place.

The championship is unanimously conceded to Stanford—or more precisely to Angelo Henry Luisetti and whatever four basketballers happen to be playing with him. Hailed by his admirers as the greatest player of all time, Luisetti now holds the 3-year scoring record and is out for the 4-year.

If he shoots 401 points this season, he will surpass the 4-year record of 1,381 held by Glen Roberts of Emory and Henry college. In 1937, Luisetti scored 410 and the year before, 415. In one 1935 game he got 50 points.

Stanford's first job is to clean up on the southern division of the coast conference, which includes California, Southern California and U. C. L. A., the traditional doormat.

Washington At Top

The winner then plays the northern division champion for the coast title. Washington has long been dominant in the north, but last season was beaten by Washington State.

The coast's southern loop was five years ahead of the national jury committee in abolishing the center tip-off, and this section of the U. S. is sold on the new game.

"There's no question—it's done a lot for the spectators," says Don Liebenborfer of the Stanford athletic department. "We figure the ball's in play seven or eight minutes longer."

"They say in the east that it tires the boys out. If so, nobody here has noticed it. And we believe it results in fewer injuries, because some of the most serious hurts have resulted in players rushing in after the tip-off."

Bunn Backs It

Possibly the strongest campaigner for eliminating the jump has been John W. Bunn, now in his eighth year as Stanford coach. With his third straight championship in prospect, unorthodox Coach Bunn is seeing his theories work out well.

Next September, Bunn will become dean of men at Stanford. Captain Luisetti will graduate, and the coast conference again will be wide open.

It is whispered about the campus that Luisetti can have the Stanford coaching job if he wants it.

Four-Man Bout Is Feature At Rassel Club

Cummings-Tremaine Duo Opposes Sampson And Blakely

A match wherein four hombres take the ring at one and the same time and square off in pairs to go at each other for a double dose in "rasslin' matches" is not new to local fans who have been attending the Big Spring Athletic club's weekly fight shows but that kind of a presentation has proven to be about the most popular kind of arrangement that Promoter Herman Fuhrer has been able to concoct.

Tuesday, due to many requests, he's throwing four of "them guys" in the ring again for the benefit of his patrons.

In addition, this week's show will signal the debut of Andy Tremaine of Tucson, Ariz., just about the best leg artist the game has produced.

Tremaine is pairing up with Bob Cummings and that duo will oppose a combination of Dick Sampson (yeah, that's the guy) and Gene Blakely.

It was Sampson, aided and abetted by Tex Watkins, who triumphed over the team of Cummings and Bill Cazell in a foursome several weeks ago. Cummings may welcome the chance to give Sampson his just deserts, which will make for more interesting argument all the way along.

Benny Wilson, the winner in last week's main event, tussles with Ace Abbott in a 20-minute opener.

TEXAS TRIMS TCU, PORKERS DEFEAT AGGIES

Christians In 33-21 Loss To Steers

AUSTIN, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Texas Longhorns opened their Southwest conference basketball season tonight with a decisive victory over the Texas Christian Horned Frogs 33-21.

A crowd of 4,500 witnessed the raged game, in which Coach Jack Gray of Texas presented as scoring stars Warren Osborne and Henry Chovance, who counted 13 and 10 points respectively.

A potent Steer defense featuring Don White, Bob Moers and Willie Tate clamped down on the Frogs so tightly T. C. U. scored only four field goals, three in the first half and one in the last.

The game was rough and the Frogs turned Texas' 16 fouls into 13 points from the free throw line.

Sophomore Ben Abney, playing with an injured hand, was the Frogs' high scorer with five. Tate and Too-Tall Jones held Slim May, Frog ace, to three points, all in the first half.

For 10 minutes it was a hot contest, with the lead changing hands five times before the Steers started clicking. Thereafter Texas operated behind a fairly safe lead.

Aggressive and effective defensive work of Moers stood out, although the fiery sophomore played comparatively little because of a fractured wrist bone.

In a preliminary game the Texas freshmen defeated Schreiner Institute, 47-28.

Work Begins To Raise Money For American Olympic Teams Of 1940

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—Proceeding on the theory that Far Eastern turmoil will subside in time to stage the 1940 Olympic Games in Tokyo, the executive committee of the American Olympic association today set in motion the machinery for U. S. participation, at an estimated aggregate cost of $400,000.

Actually it won't be necessary to raise any more than the $350,000 required to send our athletic expedition to Berlin in 1936. There's a current balance of $64,578.52 in American Olympic funds.

Next September, Bunn will become dean of men at Stanford. Captain Luisetti will graduate, and the coast conference again will be wide open.

It is whispered about the campus that Luisetti can have the Stanford coaching job if he wants it.

Three coaches, Earl Thomson of the naval academy, who competed for Canada in the 1929 Olympics, Emmett Brunson of Rice Institute, and Wilbur Huttsell of Alabama Poly (Auburn), were on the list ratified for the track and field committee.

Johnny Goodman, of Omaha, Neb., national amateur champion; Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., runner-up to Goodman at Portland, Ore., last August; Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, 1936 titleholder and 1937 semi-finalist; Marvin (Bud) Ward of Olympia, Wash.; Reynolds Smith, Dallas, Tex.; Fred Hinas, Jr., of New Orleans, intercollegiate champion; Charles (Chuck) Kocis of Detroit, and Charles R. Yates of Atlanta, Ga. Named as alternates in case any of the above men decline the invitation or cannot compete were T. Sufferer Taylor of New York and Don Moe of Portland, Ore.

The U. S. G. A. executive committee, which reported the team selections to the annual meeting, also drafted the substitute stymie rule, which is to be in effect for one year "as a trial only."

The present rule states that, when the balls are lying on the green within six inches of each other, the one nearer the hole may be lifted. The modification adds that the ball lying nearest the hole also may be lifted if it is within six inches of the hole regardless of the position of the other ball.

Retiring President John J. Jackson explained that the executive committee felt the modification would "eliminate a good many causes of complaint," and that "there is no solution of the stymie problem that would be satisfactory to everybody."

The Walker-cup selections contained only one minor surprise, that of Tallier for alternate. Beaten by Medalist Roger Kelly of Los Angeles in the first round at Portland, he nevertheless has a good match play record and went to the fifth round at Garden City in 1936.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—Archlie San Romani, one of the country's greatest milters, let loose with a terrific stretch drive tonight to win Indiana's great Don Lash and hang up a new American citizen's record for 3,000 meters in the Klughis of Columbus track and field meet at the 13th regiment armory.

The former Emporia (Kas.) Teachers ace stepped the distance in the remarkable time of 3:27.4 to clip three and four-fifths seconds off the mark established by Jole Ray in 1923. The time was only a second slower than Faava Nurm's world record made on Madison Square Garden's banked oval in 1925.

HOUSTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Jimmy Sanders, manager of the Daytona Beach baseball team last season, said here today that as far as he knew he would have the same position in 1938.

STEPHENVILLE, Jan. 5 (AP)—Up to even 80 scored the consecutive victory streak of the John Tarleton junior college Plowboys here tonight, a hard-earned 28-18 triumph over San Angelo junior college keeping their string intact.

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 5.—Louisiana State's basketball squad came to town tonight and defeated the Rice Institute Owls 53 to 38. Last night the Owls trounced L. S. U. 45 to 38.

BUFFS LICK HUNS, 27-20

WILSON, Jan. 5.—Forsan's basketball representatives swept two games here Saturday night in cage series with the Wilson Huns, and coupled with a victory Sunday night by the boys' quintet Friday night, escaped with three wins in the two-night stand.

Wilson tacked up its only victory of the series Friday night when its girls aggregation edged out the visitors, 34-32.

Led by Capt. Hollis Parker, who rolled in 33 points, the Buffs swept the Saturday night game, 27-20, after winning the opener the night before, 28-18.

The Forsan girls had the stretch drive to top the homelings, 29-28, due to good shooting by Grissom.

Thomson Tops Open Tourney

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5 (AP)—The big guns of Jimmy Thomson blasted away again today to gain a commanding lead at the half-way mark of the Los Angeles open golf tournament and hang up a 36-hole record for his fellow shot-makers to aim at in coming encounters on the nation's fairways.

The seige gun of Shawnee-on-the-Delaware continued to fire away at par figures and wound up the day's effort with a 66, six strokes under par for the Harding course of the Griffith park layout, and a total score of 131 for 36 holes.

Today's total left him six strokes ahead of his nearest friendly enemies, Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., and Willie Goggin of San Francisco, with whom he started out on even terms this morning.

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 5 (AP) Stymied until the final 10 minutes, Arkansas Razorbacks closed with a scoring surge led by lean Jack Robbins to hand Texas A & M its second straight Southwest conference licking here tonight, 33 to 22.

Seven points in the rear-midway of the final period, Arkansas opened the throttle and passed an Aggie team that shot wildly and vainly.

Robbins, from his running guard post, threw in 14 points to lead the scoring, tossing two baskets in the final minute of play to ice the game.

Capt. Don Lockard, who canned 18 points to lead the rout last night, was held to a slim five total by the close guarding of Walt Roberts.

Despite the fact they led most of the route, the Aggies were consistently handicapped by wild shooting.

Tight defensive play held down the scoring but not the excitement at the close of the first half. The lead switched six times and the score was tied twice before the Aggies finally pulled out with a 12-10 half-time margin.

Robbins draped a basket in the first minute of the second half to tie the score but the Aggies, using a slow breaking attack, effectively crawled ahead until they led, 21-14, with only 10 minutes to go. Then came Arkansas' rush.

The players, Roberts and Louie Freiberger of the Aggies, and Ray Hamilton, Forker center, exhausted their personal fouls quota late in the game, the trio accounting for 12 of the 23 fouls called.

National guard forces are being brought up to authorized strength of 205,000 officers and enlisted men.

Bucs Spend $100,000 To Rebuild Team For Flag Chase During '38

By JUDSON BAILEY

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, seeking "new faces," announced today they had expended $75,000 in cash and $25,000 in player values during the off-season to acquire the year's highest priced rookie and five other prize prospects.

This was a greater outlay for new players than was made by any other major league club said President Bill Benswanger, who was star outfielder, Paul Waner, accused him of wanting "cheaper faces" instead of new ones.

Johnny Hines, hard-hitting Columbus, O., outfielder is the highest-priced recruit entering the majors in 1938, according to the tag placed on him by Benswanger.

In order to lift the slugger from the St. Louis Cardinals' farm system, Pittsburgh paid $25,000 in cash and gave up Catcher Tommy Padden from the Pirates' own staff and Outfielder Bud Hasey and First Baseman Bernard Cobb, who were wearing Pirate strings in the minors.

Benswanger also disclosed today the cost of some other Pirate newcomers. He said it cost the Pittsburgh club $12,000 to get Catcher Ray Berres from Louisville; $11,000 to obtain Pitcher Truett Sewell from Buffalo; $11,000 for Pitcher Marvin Duke from Montreal, and $7,500 for Pitcher Bob Klingler from Sacramento. The Pirates have also invested in Pitcher Eddie Swartz of Davenport and others.

Those deals had no effect on the Pirates' efforts to obtain Van Mungo, Frank Demaree, Bill Jurges or other topflight performers in the National league, the Buconeer boss asserted. But he said:

"If some of the rookies come through as we hope, we'll see those 'new faces' anyway."

Lee Handley, young second baseman acquired for $20,000 last winter, and Pitcher Russ Bauers, earned regular jobs in 1937.

SMITH IS ON GOLF TEAM

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—The United States Golf association today named a 1938 Walker cup golf team of nine players and two alternates, to be captained by Francis Culmet, and adopted a one year modification of the stymie rule.

In addition to Gimet, Boston veteran who has been a member of each squad since the matches were inaugurated in 1922, the men invited to be on the team which will meet the British at St. Andrews were:

Johnny Goodman, of Omaha, Neb., national amateur champion; Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., runner-up to Goodman at Portland, Ore., last August; Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, 1936 titleholder and 1937 semi-finalist; Marvin (Bud) Ward of Olympia, Wash.; Reynolds Smith, Dallas, Tex.; Fred Hinas, Jr., of New Orleans, intercollegiate champion; Charles (Chuck) Kocis of Detroit, and Charles R. Yates of Atlanta, Ga. Named as alternates in case any of the above men decline the invitation or cannot compete were T. Sufferer Taylor of New York and Don Moe of Portland, Ore.

The U. S. G. A. executive committee, which reported the team selections to the annual meeting, also drafted the substitute stymie rule, which is to be in effect for one year "as a trial only."

The present rule states that, when the balls are lying on the green within six inches of each other, the one nearer the hole may be lifted. The modification adds that the ball lying nearest the hole also may be lifted if it is within six inches of the hole regardless of the position of the other ball.

The Walker-cup selections contained only one minor surprise, that of Tallier for alternate. Beaten by Medalist Roger Kelly of Los Angeles in the first round at Portland, he nevertheless has a good match play record and went to the fifth round at Garden City in 1936.

Quail Season Closes Soon

Local nirods who haven't gotten their fill of tramping through marshes and camping under the stars at night had best hurry if they want to go out after any more game before September rolls around again.

Quail season will officially close in Texas on the night of Jan. 16 which leaves only six days for hunters to blast away without fear of the warden stepping in with his "one-two" blows and ending all the fun.

Big Spring sportsmen took advantage of the abundance in this and surrounding counties when deer season opened last November to a greater extent than ever before and gun shops did a greater business this season than at any time during the past several years.

With open season on deer, ducks and quail, the county's sportsmen bagged more than their share in proportion to hunters of surrounding counties.

Deer season officially closed Dec. 31 and several local parties were still plugging away in search of game when curfew sounded.

An abundance of game was noted in this section of the state but the interest in deer season excelled that of duck and quail, it is believed.

Romani Defeats Indiana's Lash

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—Archlie San Romani, one of the country's greatest milters, let loose with a terrific stretch drive tonight to win Indiana's great Don Lash and hang up a new American citizen's record for 3,000 meters in the Klughis of Columbus track and field meet at the 13th regiment armory.

The former Emporia (Kas.) Teachers ace stepped the distance in the remarkable time of 3:27.4 to clip three and four-fifths seconds off the mark established by Jole Ray in 1923. The time was only a second slower than Faava Nurm's world record made on Madison Square Garden's banked oval in 1925.

will be looking for their 80th victory in a row.

Riggs Sheppard, superintendent of the Courtney schools, writes to inform the desk that we were erroneous in our statement last week when we stated that Garner had lost but one game to Courtney this season. According to the records, the Courtney quintet, after winning the first game, 16-15, returned a fortnight later to flatten the Hill Billies, 17-10.

Lloyd Devan's Choctaw Bulldogs didn't fare so well in the Colorado basketball tournament Friday afternoon. They lost out in the first round to Lamasa, 24-18. However, if Devan gets all his men to clicking (if he manages to get them back on their feet) he may be able to argue with Garner and Forsan for the county title yet.

Olie Cordill reported to the Rice

Institute basketball team last week and is expected to be one of the main stays in helping pull the Owls back as a championship contender. The Big Spring flash was outstanding in his freshman work last year and heralded as one of the better cagers to come that way in some time. He will probably be stationed at one forward. The Owls defeated Louisiana State Friday night in Baton Rouge.

Odessa Man Is Candidate For Dist. Judge

Paul Moss seeks election to 70th District Bench

PAUL MOSS

Another hat was in the ring for the 70th judicial district judgeship Saturday, as Paul Moss, Odessa attorney, announced his candidacy subject to the action of voters in the July democratic primaries.

Moss was in Big Spring Friday in connection with his candidacy.

Native of North Carolina and 51 years old, Moss has resided in Odessa since 1925. Well known through this area, he was an unsuccessful candidate for the district court bench, four years ago. Moss is the owner of the Ector County Abstract company, and operates ranches near Odessa and in the Sacramento mountains in New Mexico. He has been a public leader in his community, serving as the first city attorney of Odessa, as chairman of the Better Housing Program committee, and as chairman of the Ector County Centennial committee in 1935.

Moss was educated in the North Carolina public schools, attended Hiwassee (Ga.) college, took his L.L.B. degree at Valparaiso (Ind.) university in 1912, and studied at the University of Georgia in 1915. He has taught school, was admitted to the Indiana Bar in 1919, and practiced law in Greysburg, Wyoming, and in Denver, Colorado, before moving to Odessa.

Visitors Cop Defensive Battle, 11-8; Jones Is High

GARNER, Jan. 8—Garner's cage forces lost a close encounter to the Wayland Junior college quintet here Friday night, 11-8, despite good shooting of Jones, star forward.

Jones racked up six points to take high point honors, one more than did Carroll of the visitors.

The Plainview team led at half-time, 8-5.

R. C. Thomas accounted for the other two points the charges of Floyd Burnett made.

The Hill Billies have a tentative scheduled game with the Texas Tech freshmen Friday night in Lubbock.

SANFORD SAYS GAME TEXAS INSTITUTION

HOUSTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Problems confronting the Cotton Bowls of the future were threshed out at a conference today between promoter J. Curtis Sanford and a committee of three representing the Southwest conference.

No final decisions were reached. It was a fact-finding conference, with the results to be presented to the Southwest conference spring meeting in Dallas in March.

However, two or three important facts filtered out.

One is that Sanford is not completely sold on Dallas as the site of the game between the Southwest conference champions and a worthy inter-sectional foe.

"As long as I am promoter," said the man who presented the first seen committed, use his discretion, and, if in his opinion the victim is unable to continue through no fault of his own, stop the bout, disqualify the opponent and award the decision to the victim.

two Cotton Bowl battles in Dallas, "the game will be presented in the town which is the best setting for the game. If Houston has a stadium large enough for such a crowd, and if the Rice Owls are in the game, Houston, would be a natural site for the Cotton Bowl. You can say the same thing about Fort Worth, College Station, or Austin.

"Another thing that I have decided is that there should be a wider range in seat prices. I believe they should be $4.00 between the 30-yard line, $2.50 from the 30 to the end zones and $2.00 in the end zones instead of a flat $2.50 for all seats."

The department of labor was created in 1913.

Council Meeting

The advisory council of the Big Spring recreational department will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the court room at the city auditorium.

Director H. F. Malone requests all committees to be present.

The department of labor was created in 1913.

Callahan Co. Test To Get More Acid

Possible Ordovician Production; Second Pay In Jones Pool

ABILENE, Jan. 8—Development at possible Ordovician production in a Callahan county wildcat eight miles southeast of Bald, the Woodley Petroleum company No. 1 Jack M. Flores; and discovery of the Jones county Lewis pool's second pay sand in a quarter mile south-east extension well, Dale Smith and Bert Fields No. 1 Carter et al., featured activity in this area during the first week of the new year. Humble Oil & Refining company began the laying of pipe for two new connections in Jones county, one to divert the company's Panhandle trunk carrier under the narrowest part of the new Fort Phantom Hill reservoir, Abilene's proposed municipal water supply. The other, a four-inch connection, will link the Avoca field with the Hawley pump station and tie in with a well to the east, growing Lewis pool. All Jones county pools will show have pipeline outlets.

Third Treatment
The Woodley No. 1 Flores, in the center of an old 650-foot shallow sand field, was to be given its third acid treatment in Ellenberger lime from 4,323-34 feet, total depth, after two previous acidizations of 1,300 and 2,000 gallons had increased the showing from 15 barrels daily natural to an estimated 70, with 20,000 feet of gas. Corrected gravity of the crude tested 40. If the well is found noncommercial at that depth, operators will deepen. It is located 650 feet from the south and east lines of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 14-2-B&C survey.

The Lewis pool's extension, Smith 20 Fields No. 1 Carter, swabbed at the rate of 10 barrels per hour without lowering fluid content in the hole which had risen to 250 feet, and was given a 20-quart shot from 1,375 to 1,885 feet, total depth being 1,500. The sand, about ten to 15 feet higher than the regular pay zone of the field, had been found only in previous producers. The well completed 17 feet structurally higher than pool wells on base of the Middle Creek lime. Six-inch casing was cemented late in the week at 1,875 feet. Location is 220 feet out of the northwest corner of the southeast of the southeast quarter of section 37-15-T&P survey.

On North Side
Another producer on the north side of the pool loomed in the Petroleum Producers No. 2 Jessie S. Millap, in the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 37, which was cemented at 1,918 feet after a 40-quart shot in sand from that depth to a bottom of 1,937 feet.
Another east extension was given the Sayles field, five miles north of Abilene, when the Lewis Production company No. 10 Henry Sayles filled with oil in drilling from 1,967 to 1,991 feet. It failed to flow by heads, however, and a jack was being installed for a potential gauge. Location, in section 6-20-T&P survey, is an offset to the No. 9 Sayles. Operators were rigging for another east outcrop, 440 feet from the No. 10, and were to spud this weekend.

Spud Offset
Lewis Production, Moutray and King No. 2 B. J. Rutledge, between the Sayles and the Guitars pools, was also spudding as a north offset to the small pool opener discovered last summer. It was staked 220 feet from the east and 650 feet from the south lines of subdivision 33, section 1, block 20, T&P survey. Iron Mountain Oil company this week staked location for a new northwestern Jones county wildcat

Hockley County Gets Completion, Two New Locations Are Made

Pecos Co. Wildcat Cores Oil Sand; 24 New Locations For The Week

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 8—Magnolia No. 1-A McKee, northern Pecos county wildcat, coring nine feet of oil saturated sand, from 5,271-30 feet, in the Simpson, middle Ordovician, which it topped high, virtually monopolized the spotlight in West Texas oil development as the first week in the new year closed.

In western Crane county, 16 miles north of No. 1-A McKee, Gulf No. 2 McKnight, a wildcat, topped the Ellenberger, lower Ordovician, 400 feet higher than in a Simpson producer 2-3 miles to the southwest after showing a Simpson section 299 feet thinner.
The Texas Co.'s No. 2 Bob Slaughter block, became the largest of three producers in southwestern Hockley county and two nearby tests were staked by Gulf, Julian R. Meeker and others' No. 1 Della Slaughter Wright, eastern Cochran county wildcat, coring saturated lime and preparing to run casing to test, with the total depth 4,934 in lime.
Locations were staked this week for 19 field tests and five wildcats in 10 counties compared with 21 field tests and four wildcats in eight counties during the preceding week. The wildcats were two each in Hockley and Pecos counties and one in Yoakum county. Thirty-five oil producers were completed, two failures and one location were abandoned in 13 counties compared with 35 field producers and three dry holes the week before.

Simpson Pay?
Magnolia No. 1-A McKee in northern Pecos county, bottomed at 6,294 feet in green shale, was reaming a 12 1/2 inch hole from 4,990 to 5,221 feet to set and cement 9 5/8 inch casing. When plugs are drilled a Halliburton drill stem test will be made of the nine-foot saturated sand section, believed by some to correspond with the top of the Simpson pay in Gulf Nos. 1 and 2 Waddell, small producers in the Sand Hills district in western Crane county.

No. 1-A McKee topped the Simpson at 4,775 feet, 2,380 feet below 5,221 feet. The well is located in the center of labor 26, league 92, Lipscomb county school land.
Toddie Lee Wynne, American Liberty Oil Co., trustee, No. 1 Wildcat in southern Yoakum county, which last week virtually completed the six-mile link between the Denver pool in Yoakum and the Wasson pool in Gaines county, flowed 294.50 barrels of oil in 24 hours at 5,003 feet in lime. Location is in the center of labor 26, league 92, Lipscomb county school land.

Drilling In Lime
F. N. Wiggins and others' No. 1 Carrie Slaughter Dean, five miles south of Meeker and others' No. 1 Wright and four miles northwest of the Duggan pool in Cochran, swabbed and flowed 245 barrels of oil in seven hours after a shutout at 5,936 feet. It drilled ahead below 5,033 feet in lime. Location is in the center of labor 26, league 92, Lipscomb county school land.
Gulf staked No. 1 F. J. Dixon about midway between the Denver production and Bond and Bohago No. 1 J. L. West, first and most northerly of southwestern Yoakum's three strikes. It will be 330 feet from the south, 900 feet from the east line of section 6-20-D-John H. Gibson, Murchison & Fikes No. 1 Sawyer, 1-2 miles northeast of the Denver discovery and 600 feet from the south, 1,980 feet from the east line of section 7-2, was abandoned a failure at 5,255 feet, having shown no oil or water.

Cores Oil Line
Stogner & Pipkin No. 1 Pollard, extreme northwestern Yoakum wildcat 660 feet out of the north-east corner of section 108-D-John H. Gibson, showed only a scum of oil with three-quarters of a barrel or slightly salty water hourly when bailed at 5,256 feet in lime. It cored oil stained, porous lime at intervals below 5,198 feet.
Carter and Continental No. 2 A. L. Wasson fulfilled promise of becoming the largest natural producer in the Wasson field in Gaines county by flowing 543 barrels of oil with 1,540,000 cubic feet of gas in 24 hours, bottomed at 4,985 feet. It is 440 feet out of the northwest corner of section 48-AX-pal.

Flows 531 Barrels
The Texas Co. No. 2 Bob Slaughter, Hockley county's third well, flowed 531.90 barrels of 32 gravity oil in 24 hours, bottomed at 4,985 feet, five miles east of Hamlin, the No. 1 D. J. Herbst slated to drill 4,500 feet with cable tools. In the center of a 4,000-acre block, it is 320 feet from the north and east lines of section 15, Austin & Williams survey No. 339.

Core Tests In Martin Co. Location

Borden Wildcat A Failure; Two In Glasscock To Test

Small oil shows in the Harris-Anderson Corp. No. 1 Robertson, Martin county wildcat test, held attention of the local oil circle last week.

Attempt was made Friday to test a show at 4,070-90 feet and saturation from 4,150-66 feet, but sulphur water at 4,178 feet gave trouble. Operators planned to make core tests Saturday. Location is in section 33-39-in, T&P.
Another Borden county wildcat test was marked as a failure Friday with the plugging of the Continental No. 3 Clayton & Johnson, section 27-32-in, T&P, at 3,538 feet in lime with a hole full of water and no shows.

Continental was preparing to test two wells in the Howard-Glasscock pool. One was its No. 3-C Chalk, a deepened well in section 140-29, W&NW, at 3,228 feet in lime. The other was its Settles 17-A, 8-32-2a, T&P, which was running tubing to test at 2,500 feet. Continental No. 4 Gilbreath, section 4-52-2a, T&P, was cleaning out at 2,530 feet, two feet off bottom.

One Completion
Merrick and Bristol No. 13 Hooks, 990 feet from the east and 330 feet from the north lines of section 140-29, W&NW, was the only completion registered for the week. It was finished for 1,255.44 barrels daily on a two hour test, showing 51.80 the second hour. The well flowed some while being pumped. Top of pay is 3,085 and total depth 3,285 feet.

Activities were quiet in the Snyder pool area where Sun No. 2 Snyder, section 28-30-1a, T&P, was spudded and drilled to 625 feet. Sun No. 1 Snyder, 1,650 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east lines of the same section, was 100 feet off bottom, cleaning out from a 640 quart shot to 2,800 feet.
Corden No. 1 O'Daniel, eastern outcrop to the new pool, recovered a joint of eight inch casing and abandoned attempts to shut off water, electing to carry a wet hole to a depth where 6 5/8 inch string can be set. The test, located in the northeast quarter of section 34-30-1a, T&P, drilled to 1,985 feet. Magnolia No. 3 O'Daniel, 1,650 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west line of the section, drilled to 1,740 feet.

Set String At 2,350
Moore Bros. No. 3 TXL, 990 feet zones, bottomed at 3,445 feet, and reamed to 7 5/8 inch casing at 3,440. It is 660 feet out of the south-west corner of section 196-G-WERR.

Borden Wildcat A Failure; Two In Glasscock To Test

Small oil shows in the Harris-Anderson Corp. No. 1 Robertson, Martin county wildcat test, held attention of the local oil circle last week.

Attempt was made Friday to test a show at 4,070-90 feet and saturation from 4,150-66 feet, but sulphur water at 4,178 feet gave trouble. Operators planned to make core tests Saturday. Location is in section 33-39-in, T&P.
Another Borden county wildcat test was marked as a failure Friday with the plugging of the Continental No. 3 Clayton & Johnson, section 27-32-in, T&P, at 3,538 feet in lime with a hole full of water and no shows.

Continental was preparing to test two wells in the Howard-Glasscock pool. One was its No. 3-C Chalk, a deepened well in section 140-29, W&NW, at 3,228 feet in lime. The other was its Settles 17-A, 8-32-2a, T&P, which was running tubing to test at 2,500 feet. Continental No. 4 Gilbreath, section 4-52-2a, T&P, was cleaning out at 2,530 feet, two feet off bottom.

One Completion
Merrick and Bristol No. 13 Hooks, 990 feet from the east and 330 feet from the north lines of section 140-29, W&NW, was the only completion registered for the week. It was finished for 1,255.44 barrels daily on a two hour test, showing 51.80 the second hour. The well flowed some while being pumped. Top of pay is 3,085 and total depth 3,285 feet.

Activities were quiet in the Snyder pool area where Sun No. 2 Snyder, section 28-30-1a, T&P, was spudded and drilled to 625 feet. Sun No. 1 Snyder, 1,650 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east lines of the same section, was 100 feet off bottom, cleaning out from a 640 quart shot to 2,800 feet.
Corden No. 1 O'Daniel, eastern outcrop to the new pool, recovered a joint of eight inch casing and abandoned attempts to shut off water, electing to carry a wet hole to a depth where 6 5/8 inch string can be set. The test, located in the northeast quarter of section 34-30-1a, T&P, drilled to 1,985 feet. Magnolia No. 3 O'Daniel, 1,650 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west line of the section, drilled to 1,740 feet.

Set String At 2,350
Moore Bros. No. 3 TXL, 990 feet zones, bottomed at 3,445 feet, and reamed to 7 5/8 inch casing at 3,440. It is 660 feet out of the south-west corner of section 196-G-WERR.

Simple Styles, Simple Materials Featured In Spring Frocks

With spring just around the corner, so to speak, thoughts are turning to the new fashions and materials. Cotton will again lead a wide field in favorite frocks and will probably lead an even wider scope if all frocks are made as attractively as the one pictured at left. This is the way to look smart in cotton: upholstery satin. The green frock is simply cut, with the decoration being furnished by the yellow jacket worked with Dalmatian embroidery. In the center is shown a chic tailored dress designed of light-weight gray wool. Four patch pockets, a round, schoolgirl collar and a belt of dark blue leather, are its distinguishing features. The beret, which matches the belt, adds to the casual chic, that makes this sort of costume a favorite among all types of women. For the first warm days of spring, this attractive linen and lace dress of sky blue, right. It's youthful cut will make it a popular type for girls and young matrons. This number is trimmed in pale blue kid.

Susannah Class Plans Party On Tuesday

Meeting Featured By Devotional Given By Mrs. House

Plans for a party were made by members of the Susannah Wesley class of the First Methodist church Friday afternoon when the group held the monthly business and social meeting in the church parlors. The party will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the church parlors and husbands and friends of the members will be special guests. Hostesses will be Mrs. W. A. Miller, Mrs. Bernard Lamun, Mrs. Logan A. Baker and Mrs. Lowell Baird.

Feature of the program was the devotional given by Mrs. W. C. House on "The Upward Look to God." Impressive in its delivery, four points were brought to the fore by Mrs. House. They were God, Backward Look to the Past, Near Look to the Present and Far Look to the Future. Seven candles, banked in ivy, were lighted as the points were brought out with the reading of scriptures. Readings were made with soft piano accompaniment.

After the devotional the birthday bag was held and entertainment of the afternoon was furnished by games.

At the tea hour refreshments were served by Miss Mattie Heffley, chairman of the committee, Mrs. J. A. Myers, Mrs. Clem Ratliff, Mrs. J. B. Sloan, Mrs. Oje Faucett, and Mrs. W. J. Riggs. Attending in addition to the hostesses were Mrs. Gould Winn, Mrs. Felton Smith, Mrs. G. E. Fleeman, Mrs. J. R. Manion, Mrs. C. E. Talbot, Mrs. J. C. Waite, Sr., Mrs. W. A. Miller, Mrs. G. E. Museum Relies On Journey To Storage In Club Building

The Howard county museum Saturday began its journey into storage.

Vacating the building so that contractors will be able to start remodeling of the old city hall building Monday, the museum exhibits and collections, together with considerable equipment, was moved to the federated club house on the southeast corner of the square.

Museum officials indicated that there was far too little space to attempt setting up the equipment for exhibits. The accumulation of several years' collecting will have to remain in storage until some plan can be worked out for permanent housing of the institution.

Dr. F. W. Malone said that inquiries were still being made into the possibility of securing the club house building for the library and museum.

The old city hall building, vacated into offices for the county agent, county home demonstration agent, highway engineers, highway patrol, and district old age assistance commission.

Hostess' No. 1 Problem: Sit-Downs

Maybe Hat Passing For Places Would Be Easier

Sit-down problems have bothered even the most experienced hosts and hostesses.

Questions of where to seat guests of honor, husbands and wives, and unmarried men and women arise every time entertaining is done.

There are two good general rules, but they must be used with judgment, for often they will conflict. The rules are:

Let the woman sit at the right of her escort.

Don't seat husbands and wives together.

For Large Groups

At dinners presided over by a host or master of ceremonies the following rules apply:

The woman of the highest honor is at the host's right.

The woman who comes third sits at the right of the man of highest rank.

From the non, it is best to seat the guests in the fashion which will be most congenial to everybody, although the tendency is to place the least important guests near the center.

At a large public banquet, important guests are, of course,

MR. ROOSEVELT VERSUS MESSRS. JACKSON AND ICE

The question whether in denouncing monopoly Mr. Jackson was the pioneer of a new policy, whether his words meant what they seem to mean, is now much clearer. To himself the words of Mr. Jackson did not mean what they seemed to mean. For in his press conference on Tuesday the president rejected root and branch the whole thesis of Mr. Jackson's speech. Far from wishing to end monopoly and to restore competitive prices Mr. Roosevelt is now, as always, in favor of the monopolistic control of production under government supervision and direction.

If the reports are correct, and the leading White House correspondents all tell substantially the same story, Mr. Roosevelt has no wish to see industry regulated by competition in free and open markets. Nor does he wish, as so many reports from Washington have hinted, to foster the development of a larger number of smallish independent producers as against the giant corporations which in many fields dominate their industries. After all that Mr. Jackson had to say about monopoly, after all that Mr. Jackson had to say about the concentration of economic power in the hands of "corporate empires" and the sixty families, Mr. Roosevelt expounded his own notions on Tuesday. He is in favor of making it legal for the representatives of industries to sit at a table with representatives of the government. These round tables are to estimate the probable sales for the following six months or so, and then the corporate empires in conjunction with the political bureaucrats are to plan the production for the industry.

To be sure the president said that the round tables are to be forbidden to fix prices. They are to be forbidden to decide amongst themselves how much each corporation is to produce under the plan. They are to be forbidden to cut each other's throats. But having "operated" in deciding how much steel or coke or cement shall be produced, they are then presumably to compete energetically for as big a share as possible of the pie they have agreed to keep at an agreed size.

Coming from the head of an administration which professes to favor the small business man and to oppose monopoly, fixed prices, and concentrated corporate control, this is altogether the most remarkable example imaginable of how to move rapidly in two diametrically opposite directions at the same time.

For in the first place, on what basis are these round tables to estimate the sales demand for the existing season of production? Are they to guess how much can be sold at the existing price, at a higher price, or at a lower price? The president may say he does not want private price fixing but his whole scheme assumes that the round table will have fixed a price. For the only way to guess how much can be sold of some commodity is to know what its price is going to be: if the price is not fixed, no one can possibly estimate the probable sale. Thus if the price of automobiles is going to be $500 next year, there will be a big sale; if it is going to be $800, there will be a very small sale. And so, unless the round table fixes the price, it cannot estimate demand and "plan" production.

In the second place, it is absolutely inconceivable that the leading industrialists could meet legally at a round table to plan production without coming to concrete and theoretically illegal agreements about what the share of each corporation should be. Such meetings would have to fix prices. For, as the president ought to realize from the principles of his farm bill, the act of controlling production is the essence of price fixing. To tell men to plan production but not to fix prices is like telling them to ride up in the elevator but not to leave the street level.

These round tables to plan production would not be in the language of the existing statutes but legalized conspiracies in restraint of trade. In the third place, round table planning of this sort would foster, stabilize, and institutionalize that very concentration of corporate power about which Messrs. Jackson and Ickes have been so disturbed. Who would sit in these round tables and dominate the discussion? Who but the corporate empires? Is there any place in these round tables for the thousands of small manufacturers and small business men? If the president had really remembered them he would not be talking about sitting at a round table. There are too many of them to sit at a round table. He would have to tell them to meet in the Ross Bowl and be addressed through loud speakers. But the corporate empires could sit with the bureaucrats at a round table and plan production. The president's interview is very

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

WHEN IT WASN'T NECESSARY TO DEPEND ON THE RED BALL OR WEATHER FORECASTS

Local Labor Preferred

Big Spring, having counted a great deal on various public construction projects to absorb what idle labor there may be here, need have no fear, it appears, that the home workmen will be passed by in favor of others.

Contractors handling bulk of the work on the state hospital project have assured the Big Spring chamber of commerce that they will accept men—skilled and unskilled—through the local Texas State Employment Service. Only local men are listed with that agency, and it can be assumed that local labor will get the first call, as long as it can handle the work.

Contractors will have, of course, their own men in the key supervisory jobs, but there is no reason to believe they would be adverse to giving preference to Big Spring workmen who can hold down all other jobs. If the supply, or the ability, is lacking, then the contractors are not to be censured for hiring any workmen who apply.

The fact that many have come in here from other cities and even from other states in search of jobs is not to be taken as a cause for alarm; unless, perchance, it would mean eventually a greater burden on local relief. Wandering workers are always to be seen, and many others unable to get work elsewhere are doing the accepted thing in moving to where there is a chance for employment.

Through a check by the TSES office, the chamber of commerce and such agencies, it is likely that all deserving Big Spring labor will be taken care of first.

On the school projects, due to be started soon, the same situation exists, since the sponsoring agency, PWA, has requirement on use of local labor through the employment bureau.

Contractors generally are fair-minded about labor conditions. They are not in the building business for relief purposes, but they realize that the community is contributing something to the projects that made their contracts possible; and they would not cripple an opportunity of getting future jobs in the same community.

If Big Spring has enough skilled, semi-skilled and non-skilled workmen to meet the demands on our various construction items, it is reasonable to believe they will all have jobs for some months to come.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Fragmentary talk and snatches of conversation quoted after a day of knocking about the sidewalks of New York:

"Of all the towns in the world you should avoid on Christmas day, London comes first. I was caught there once while living in Paris and it was like a morgue. Shops, theaters, restaurants—all were closed. I finally wound up in Westminster Abbey, but the only people there were dead ones. In desperation I fled to the railroad station, and while I did see a little animation there, it gave me such a distaste for them that to this day I cannot enter a station without shuddering."—William Keighly, movie director.

"I was playing in the Persian room and a fellow at a nearby table beckoned to me, and when I joined him he said: 'Mother asked me to ask you if you would come down to the White House and play for my engagement party.' He was John Roosevelt, and I can tell you that I was so excited I accepted in a hurry. I didn't want to give him a chance to change his mind."—Eddy Duchin, orchestra leader.

"I do not believe in propagandas, nor am I in favor of boycotts. But I am an ex-sailor, and after the Japanese outrage of the Panay I will give any prize who comes into Leon and Eddie's wearing cotton stockings—or no stockings at all. I will never spend another quarter on Japanese silk as long as I live."—Leon, night club impresario.

"I would like to be like Garbo or Katherine Cornell. The only stage experience I've had was a bit as a bridesmaid in 'Abie's Irish Rose.' Maybe I'll be lucky and get a screen test. I am 16 years old and my father meets me every morning at 2 a. m. and takes me home."—Hop's Chandler, Paradise show girl whose picture occupied most of the cover of Life Magazine, December 17.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, the name of our little play tonight is 'Doggone the Wind.' But don't be misled, it has nothing to do with Margaret Mitchell's novel. The heroine's name is Scarlett O'Hara, the villain is Rhett Butler, the hero is Ashley Wilkes, and the action takes place on a plantation named Tara, in Georgia. The time is 1861. So, you see, it is nothing at all like 'Gone With The Wind.'"—Sly Eddie Davis, ex-waiter who now owns and entertains in night clubs.

"When I signed my movie contract I specified three things—one, that the Tarzan stuff is taboo; two, that there will be no baseball scenes, and three, that I be cast in a role secondary to the star. I'm not good enough for a star role yet."—Lou Gehrig, first baseman of the World Champion New York Yankees.

Sights and Sounds By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—When they figure which of Hollywood's cowboy stars ranked highest at the box-office this year, you can put it down that the name will be Gene Autry.

Four years ago this Autry was a Hollywood unknown. Three years ago he appeared in his first picture, in a minor role. In his next picture he was starred. All told, he has made 22 films. Starting for Republic, an independent studio, he has had hits from two majors, 20th Century-Fox and Paramount.

He gets an average of 2,000 fan letters a week. The total jumps whenever "guests" on the air, which is frequently. After he "guested" for Rudy Vallee, 10,000 fans wrote in. He had to employ three extra secretaries to answer them. For his regular correspondence and business affairs he maintains a business office and one secretary. He religiously keeps up with fan mail calling for his personal attention.

New Slang on Old Plot

His pictures play on Broadway but not on Hollywood boulevard. His studio has a standing offer of one week's free rental on any Autry picture to any exhibitor anywhere, but Hollywood boulevard theaters so far haven't taken it. About 200 others, over the country, who took the chance have booked the entire run of Autry. This has jumped the number of theaters who play Autry to approximately 8,000.

Autry was 30 last Sept. 29. He was born in Toga, Texas, came to Hollywood via Tulsa, Okla., radio and phonograph recordings. He was first to put music in a western—and it was one of Ken Maynard's westerns at that. In "In Old Santa Fe," Gene sang in a musical sequence or two. Maynard, the star, sang but through the courtesy of a voice double. Now virtually all the westerns are "singing" pictures.

The music, plus an attempt to break away from the old "western" formula, gets much of the credit for the popularity of Autry's product. He never uses the plot about the cowgirl, the hero, the conniving rascal, and the old sense. He dresses it up in modern clothes, sometimes so nicely that it doesn't seem like that plot at all. There is always enough of it left, and plenty of shooting and riding and open country scenery, to make it a real western.

He uses "specialties" whenever revealing indeed. It reveals the fact, long since obvious to all the discerning observers of the new thing, that Mr. Roosevelt's real desire is not to break up the private concentration of economic power but to promote it and then to direct this private monopoly by the power of a centralized government.

He is no believer in the traditional American progressive ideal of economic democracy operating through free markets, as Mr. Jackson may be, as Mr. Jackson's noisy speech and his admirable report might lead one to think. Mr. Roosevelt is an exponent of an economic system controlled by the decisions of its corporate empires and its political bureaucrats. The usual name for this is state capitalism, and it was state capitalism that the president advocated on Tuesday.

NEW GOP LEADER ASKS SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Glenn Frank, taking over the chairmanship of the republican party's program committee, asked today for the assistance of every group in the nation, "regardless of party lines or of sectional interest."

The 50-year-old editor and lecturer, who formerly was president of the University of Wisconsin, accepted the assignment last night in a telegram to John Hamilton, chairman of the republican national committee.

John Conrad of Cuthbert was in Big Spring Friday.

DARE TO DREAM

Chapter 20
MORE CLOUDS AHEAD

The battle seemed to take on new impetus. The strikers were determined to keep the officers, Bill and Nelda prisoners. Other officers tried to come to their rescue. There were many savage hand-to-hand fights. Cameramen darted here and there, taking shots of the fray at various angles. A rock hit Nelda on the neck, and almost immediately a welt raised. Bill tried again and again to get her out of it, but he was helpless. They were hemmed in by a writhing mass of maddened humanity, composed of both strikers and patrolmen. Each of the fighters tried to outshoot the other, as if the loudness of their voices would win the battle.

"And this," Nelda whispered to Bill, "is civilization."

"We're more like a lot of frenzied animals," he panted.

The struggling mass swarmed over her truck. Missiles flew against it. All the glass was shattered. The fenders were scuffed and dented.

Then a new group of deputies arrived and started hurling gas bombs. Nelda found herself in the center of a gasping, shouting, cursing mob, groping about in acid fumes. Grenades kept falling about them. The cloud of tear gas mingled with the fumes of a nauseating chemical that swirled in the breeze and spread rapidly.

It was no place for heroics. Eyes streaming, stomachs retching, the strikers made a disorderly retreat. A handful of them held their ground, among them Lis, the fat woman. She was burned on the arm by the gas and stood howling with pain, coughing, choking, sneezing, yet hurling stones. She was so blinded with tears that some of her missiles hit her own friends.

Bill swept Nelda up in his arms and ran through the clouds of gas to the packing shed. When he put her down they stood looking at each other, tears running down their cheeks. They grinned weakly.

"Well, kid," he began and stopped because of a violent sneezing spasm—"this all started over a girl—sneezing—and some lettuce."

"I feel like"—sneezing—"tuce!"

"I should say not! Gonna get a gas mask."

"You're a great kid!" There was a wonderful warmth in Bill's voice as he spoke.

They talked in sneezing, coughing jerks for a few minutes. Then an interruption came.

"Nelda Barrie, what are you doing here?" It was Reck's voice.

Nelda stared at him in surprise. She thought he had gone to Hollywood.

He was in his car. Mr. Reckless was with him. Evidently they had come, as had a number of others, to look upon the deserted battleground.

"I hoped to deliver a load of"—she sneezed and pointed to the broken crates and trampled lettuce.

"You hauled it yourself!" Reck was horrified.

"I had to. Jack's in the hospital." She was caught by a sneezing, coughing, gasping spell that lasted several seconds. She walked a short distance away to hide her distress.

Reck followed her. "Nelda, why must you—"

"Let's not go into that again!" she ordered with spirit.

He took a fine linen handkerchief from his pocket and wiped her eyes.

"Seems to me that Langdon's always Johnny-on-the-spot," he grinned.

"He merely wants to be helpful."

"That's what he says! Well, I'm going to be helpful, too. After you get that darn sneezkin' things are going to be different."

A new and more violent attack of sneezing prevented her from answering him. She snatched his handkerchief.

"Different? Understand?" he asked.

He, too, was overcome with a sneezing spasm. He grabbed his handkerchief away from her. "Come on, let me take you home," he said when he recovered.

"No thanks, Reck. I've got to drive the truck to a garage."

He started to protest, and sneezed. He ended with a futile gesture.

She noticed that Mr. Reckless was studying her closely. Suddenly, he came toward her with a swinging stride.

"Earl," he said in a clear, authoritative voice, "you're lucky to have a girl who lives in the clean, strong way Nelda does."

Reck said nothing.

"I don't believe you and your mother half appreciate her," Mr. Reckless went on.

"Of course I do," Reck said moodily.

Nelda grew a little uncomfortable for she divined that Mr. Reckless's first impression, based on his wife's reactions, was different from the one he now formed for himself.

"I'm glad that you're going to be my daughter," he said heartily.

"Thank you, Mr. Reckless." She smiled at him through her tears. They left her then. Not until they were driving away did she realize that all this time Bill had stood alone beside her truck. She hadn't thought to introduce him to Mr. Reckless. He seemed totally unconcerned about the omission, however, and talked as casually as he had when they started out. She felt somehow that an apology on her part would be superfluous.

They took the battered truck to a garage and there hired a man to take them home.

When they were nearing the rancho she said suddenly, "I have an idea, Bill!"

"Out with it!"

"We might have a fleet of trucks. Instead of each one going by itself as mine and yours have done they could all start at once. You, and Ray and Tony Mores—all of us could join in."

"Overwhelm 'em with numbers," he said.

"Exactly."

"Not a bad idea, say!" He turned his head and regarded her quizzically. "You're going to be a genuine farmer if you're not careful."

They were now at the spot where Bill had parked his truck. They got out, dismissed the garage man, and watched him as he drove away.

"I don't know how to begin to thank you for going with me, Bill," Nelda said, lifting her dark eyes earnestly to his face.

"Don't! I was a washout in that fight."

"I suppose," she jeered, "you wanted to fight that mob single-handed?"

He grinned companionably.

"I don't think there'll be any more trouble today." He got into his truck and drove away.

Nelda saw Jose coming toward her at a little jog trot. The cutters were all gone. They'd finished their work for that day, she concluded.

"They shoot us!" he cried excitedly.

"Shoot!" she gasped.

"They keep us!"

Uncle Ham came along then.

"Strikers stood on the highway and shot rocks from slingshots at the cutters," he exclaimed. "Scared 'em half to death."

"They didn't finish cutting?" Nelda asked in alarm.

Jose shook his head in the negative.

"You should have seen 'em scramble," Uncle Ham continued. "Only a few stayed on the field."

"Then there's very little more lettuce to be hauled today?" she asked the foreman.

"No more. Maybe I can get some more to finish tomorrow," he said, but there wasn't much assurance in his voice.

"I'll try to get protection for you," she told him.

"Thank you." He bowed low. "Thank you too much."

That night Bill brought Ray Powell and Tony Mores to the rancho for a conference.

Bill, looking tired and worn, announced, "I was told that the highway patrolmen will escort our trucks to the sheds if we travel in a fleet."

It was unanimously decided that they would haul their crops in that manner thereafter.

"I heard something this afternoon," Bill said slowly, "that's rather disturbing."

The others looked at him in a state of apprehension for what might happen next in this labor war.

"They're trying to organize the field workers and get them to strike, too."

"Great Scott!" exclaimed Ray. "We're paying them 50 cents an hour now!"

"They're being urged to ask for 90," Bill stated.

"That'll make it all just dandy," Nelda said with a twisted smile.

"What we do if we no get our lettuce cut?" Tony asked.

"Cut what we can ourselves," Ray answered dolefully.

"After what I went through today I ought to be able to do that," Nelda declared, but did not have the faintest idea she would have to do it.

Texas In Line For Increased Public Funds
Building Total May Be Double That Of The Past Year
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—An increase in the amount of money spent for public buildings in Texas in 1938 is expected to result from the treasury's building program for the Lone Star State this year. If all authorized projects are put under contract the total expenditure will about double that of 1937. During last year contracts awarded by the treasury for construction, remodeling and extension of government buildings in the state totaled $2,060,742.

The program for the coming year includes projects authorized by the last regular congress and a few from former programs the total cost of which will be $4,104,000. Before the contracts can be awarded and the work started plans and specifications must be drawn and approved and sites obtained for the structures. This work is being pushed by the treasury's staff.

1937 Contracts
The contracts awarded in 1937 included those for buildings at the public health service narcotic farm at Fort Worth, the Houston federal office building and the Amarillo postoffice and courthouse. The projects, most of them post-offices, put under contract during the year and their cost were: Giddings, $43,000; Mart, $39,528; Groesbeck, $45,448; Edinburg, $54,582; Ranger, $42,814; Alice, $2,589; Houston, $549,800; Decatur, $80,200; Smithville, $41,971; Linden, $45,237; Rusk, $41,237; Ballinger, $31,040; El Campo, $38,244; Lamesa, $62,337; Kilgore, $78,200; Alpine, $42,225; Amarillo, $369,400; and Fort Worth, $423,300. The projects planned for next year, mostly postoffices, are: Marshall, $100,000; Liberty, $75,000; Longview, $235,000; Dallas (parcel post), $500,000; Bryan, $108,000; Livingston, $75,000; Houston, $220,000; Elgin, $70,000; Rockdale, $70,000; Fort Worth, (narcotic farm), $1,750,000; Electra, $75,000; Odessa, $75,000; Wellington, $52,000; Brownfield, $75,000; Lampasas, $75,000; Corpus Christi, $285,000; Center, $67,000; Rosenberg, $70,000; and Farmersville, $70,000.

Four Dances Planned For Jan. 29th

Arrangements Made For President's Birthday Event

Birthday balls for the president, four in number, will be held in Big Spring as a part of a nationwide celebration January 29, in honor of the president's birthday. At a meeting of the local committee held last week, it was decided to stage four dances: at the Settles and Crawford hotels, the Casino and Wally Simpson night clubs in Big Spring.

In addition a picture show benefit will be staged at the Ritz theatre Sunday evening, January 30, the entire proceeds to go to the local fund. Thirty per cent of the net proceeds will go to the new national foundation, while 70 per cent will remain in the local fund. Details for the affair are being worked out by the committee at present, and the celebration here on the night of Saturday, January 29, are expected to be attended by the largest crowds since the celebrations have been inaugurated. Grover C. Dunham, chairman of the local committee, in a statement asked for full cooperation of the people of Howard county this year. He dispatched the following telegram to state headquarters in Dallas Thursday:

"Committee going forward with big preparations for president's birthday celebration including dances January 29 and picture show January 30. Send us additional publicity needed stop Expect bigger party than last year. Same committee function as in past."

THINKS NEWSPAPER, MAGAZINE SUBSIDY SHOULD CEASE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he believed the time had long passed when the government should continue mail subsidies to newspapers and magazines.

Asked at a press conference if he believed it was a healthy sign for the postoffice department to spend $38,000,000 in transporting newspapers and receive only $9,000,000 for it, the president said he always had thought to the contrary. His questioner mentioned similar figures for transporting magazines and other periodicals.

The president said the subsidy was started in the early days when people had no means of receiving newspapers, but now every community has excellent mail and delivery service.

Asked if he intended doing anything about it, he suggested that the press take the initiative.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
Room 1, Settles Hotel
"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 9.

The Golden Text is: "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" (I Corinthians 10:16).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Great peace have they which love thy law: and nothing shall offend them" (Psalms 119:165).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love, and good deeds" (page 4).

READING AND WRITING

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, by E. M. Delafield; (Harpers; $2.50).

The Provincial Lady has this time done a very unusual thing; she has not added to her "diaries," but has done a little "excavating" in the drier storehouses of the past.

The Provincial Lady is E. M. Delafield, of course. Her new book is called "Ladies and Gentlemen," and is an inquiry into middle and upper middle class life in Victoria's heyday. She goes to the novels of the time to get her material, and it is in the choice of novels that her inspiration lies.

She does not go to the great novels, but to the incredibly vast reservoir of bad English novels—mostly written by British women who should have known better. Women like the inhumanly righteous Charlotte M. Yonge, who wrote almost without stopping from 1844 until the pen fell from her withered fingers in 1901. Her working years were almost Victorian, and her devotion to duty and her personal Prince Albert (her duty, in other words) almost as "inspiring."

Thus we read, in Miss Delafield's fabulous book, about the boy who would not take his horse to Oxford because he was afraid the university might corrupt his groom; about the tubercular clergyman who thanked God for twins, although he had 11 children already. We see again those ghastly fathers whose "word was law" and who expelled boys to their rooms on bread and water for the least disobedience. We see the wives who always said "yes" to their husbands, even when the latter made wrong decisions.

In those days women loved being ill, and men loved eating themselves to death while their seals and heavy fobs beat a tattoo on their enormous paunches. Then those unfortunate females were spoken of as "only the governess," and a domestic was a newcomer if she had only been ten years with a family. The examples might be extended for columns—the point to be made here is that Miss Delafield's book is the better because her sources are so stupid.

New Anti-Freeze Said To Improve Car Operation

"After making a comprehensive survey of the anti-freeze field and after years of experimentation, Firestone engineers have produced a Super Anti-Freeze compound that will protect the cooling system of modern automobiles and guarantee the car owner protection in sub-zero weather," says C. G. Deckard, manager of the Firestone Auto Supply and Service store.

"Exhaustive laboratory tests have proved that most anti-freeze solutions cause rust to form in the cooling system which brings about an obstruction in the flow of the cooling agent," Deckard says.

"Real trouble begins when the driver fails to notice that his automobile is overheating. The consistently overheated car will burn more oil, and uneven overheating, resulting from concentrated rust deposits in spots may strain the motor block and permanently warp the cylinders.

"A new ingredient now being used in Firestone Super Anti-Freeze prevents corrosion and permits an even flow of the cooling agent in all weather conditions. Firestone engineers claim that the new anti-freeze will hold your radiator in the coldest winter weather, prevent rust and do away entirely with increased loss of oil due to corrosion."

Lean Farm Years Cited

WINNIPEG (UP)—The average cash income of farmers on the Canadian prairies during the depression years from 1930 to 1935 was $707, according to figures collected by J. B. Rutherford of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. He said in most cases families managed to survive by letting mortgage interest and taxes go unpaid.
