WHERE THERE'S NO STOCK EXCHANGE

There used to be a stock exchange in Russia. But there isn't any more.

This is symbolic of the difference between the Russian and the American systems.

Under communism, or any similar ideology, the state owns and runs everything. It decides what factories shall be built or not built, what goods shall be produced or not produced, what services shall be given the people and what shall be denied them. The state does all the allocating of money and resources and manpower. The people themselves have nothing to say about it. They can like it or lump it. And, of course, they can protest — if they don't mind salt mines and firing squads.

Under capitalism, in a free nation, individuals and groups of individuals build and operate the factories and the other sources of goods and services. They invest their savings voluntarily, without coercion. They can buy or sell when and what they want, in a free market. That's why stock exchanges exist — to provide places where buyers and sellers can, in effect, meet and conclude transactions. And the stock exchanges exist to serve the many, not just the few.

If you question that last statement, here's the proof. Of America's 7,500,000 stock owners, 31.6 per cent have annual incomes of less than $5,000; 44.4 per cent have $5,000 to $10,000, and only 24 per cent have $10,000 or more.

Funeral In Baird For Mrs. T. E. Wylie, Mother Of Ozonans

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Tuesday in Baird for Mrs. T. E. Wylie, 67, a long time resident of Baird and mother of Mrs. C. C. Womack and Gaston Wylie, both of Ozona.

Mrs. Wylie died at 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning in an Abilene hospital after an illness of three years. Services were held from the Baird Methodist Church, with burial in the Baird Cemetery.

Mrs. Wylie was visiting in the home of her daughter here last June when the devastating flood struck Ozona. Bedridden at the time, Mrs. Wylie escaped drowning only because of the heroic efforts of her son and daughter and son-in-law.

Born October 8, 1887, in Hunt county, Mrs. Wylie married Mr. Wylie in Merit, Hunt county, Texas, and the couple moved to Baird in 1919 where Mr. Wylie had ranching interests. He died in 1949.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Womack of Ozona and Mrs. Laura G. McGowen of San Diego, Calif.; two sons, Gaston Wylie of Ozona and A. J. Wylie of Baird; two brothers, Jimmerson Owens and Oss Owens, both of Farmersville; one sister, Mrs. Ira Cox of Lockney; and two grandchildren, Pat Womack and Durwood Wylie, both of Ozona.

Ozona Girl Designs Dresses To Be Worn By Miss Wool Attendants

San Angelo: A sparkling original gown by David Levine, world-famous New York designer, is one of the first garments to be presented as part of the $4,000 year-round wool wardrobe for Miss Wool of 1956.

The Grecian-draped gown, made of beige wool voile, is being designed by Levine for the Texas girl finally selected as queen of the wool industry.

The Miss Wool contest, sponsored jointly by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association and the San Angelo Board of City Development, closes July 31. All applications must be sent to Miss Wool Contest, Box 712, San Angelo, postmarked by midnight, July 31.

Miss Sarah Belcia of San Antonio, winner of last year's contest, will crown her successor during Wool Fiesta Week in San Angelo, August 31 — September 3. There will be ten other finalists and each girl will have a gown designed and made especially for her by Miss Jeannene Thompson of Ozona. The 100 percent virgin wool material for all eleven dresses is being contributed by Forstmann Woolen Mills of Passaic, New Jersey. Miss Thompson was a 1954 winner in the "Make It Yourself" contest, sponsored nation-wide by the wool industry.

HIGHLIGHTS AND IDELIGHTS From State Capitol

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Texas — State Auditor Cavaness suggested last week that Texas use part of its oil and gas income from public lands for current school expenses. Cavaness said the money could ease the strain on the state general fund, even possibly pay for the taxes.

Lease payments on public lands now are deposited in permanent funds of the public schools and the University of Texas. Only income earned by investment of the funds is available for school use.

Under Cavaness' plan only 27 1/2 percent of royalties would go into permanent funds, now totaling more than a half billion dollars.

Opponents of the proposal went to the governor and Legislature. Expense of the plan would require a constitutional amendment and revision of statutes.

Criticism came promptly from University President Logan Wilbourn, who compared the plan to "hog seed corn."

In conflicts, he said, with the present plan to increase University income by easing restrictions on investment of the permanent fund, a constitutional amendment, approved by the recent Legislature, is awaiting vote of the people. It would allow University officials to invest up to 50 per cent of the fund in corporate stocks. At present all investment must be in interest-bearing government bonds.

Parr Documents Sought
Attorney for George Parr has asked to inspect 89 checks and other documents the government has used in its income tax evasion suit against the South Texas political boss.

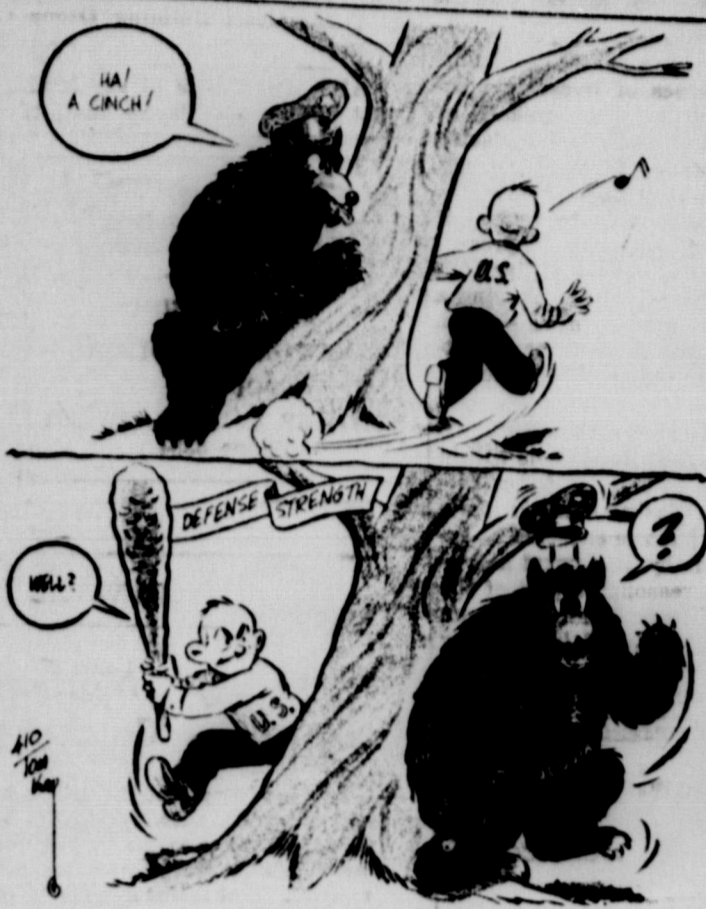

Prosecuting attorneys protesting that the defense was trying to find out what specific evidence the government would produce.

Federal Judge Ben H. Rice, Jr., granted the motion under advisement. A hearing is set for Sept. 6 in Austin.

Oil Allowable Unchanged
The amount of crude oil allowable for export will be on the same par as for July.

A statewide proration hearing will be held next week by the Railroad Commission.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Under that formula, permissive flow on July 16 was 3,028,324 barrels daily. Some August increase would result from allowable grants for new discoveries.

Segregation Ruling Studied
Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd last week withheld comment on an El Paso district judge's ruling that Texas school segregation laws are unconstitutional.

He would have to make a detailed study of the decision first, Shepperd said.

Judgment resulted from a Negro girl's suit for entrance to Texas Western College. University of Texas regents had two weeks previously voted to admit Negroes there.

Board of Regents Chairman Thomas Sealy said he thought the judge's ruling was moot. However, he said he believed any effort by Negro undergraduates to enroll immediately in the main University could and would be successfully resisted.

Livestock Receipts Light
Fort Worth — The cattle, hog and sheep offerings at Fort Worth Monday was about on a par with the previous Monday which was the smallest since early in the year.

Lighter receipts put more life into the market and most classes sold strong. Fed cattle were slow, but about on a par with last week's closing prices. Good and choice $21.25. Cows were 50 cents higher and good cows sold around $12.50, a few up to $13. Bulls were slow but about steady at $9 to $13.50.

Slaughter calves started slow in the early trading Monday, but prices were steady with the previous Friday's close. Slaughter calves brought $9 to $19.

Stockers and feeders were fully steady. Only a small per cent of these are really choice kinds, most being medium quality yearlings and calves. Medium and good stocker and feeder steers sold at $14 to $19.50. The same of stocker steer calves brought $14 to $20.50. Feeder lambs $1 higher.

The sheep run Monday, consisted mainly of spring lambs and ewes. All classes of slaughter lambs and sheep were fully steady to strong. Spring lambs topped at $20. Good shorn slaughter yearlings brought up to $14 and aged wethers cashed at $7 to $10.50. Old ewes drew $4 to $5. Feeder lambs were not too plentiful and demand was strong enough to push prices up fully $1. Small lots of feeders sold at $13 and one good load brought $16.

Special Livestock Loan Program of USDA Extended Thru 1957

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's special livestock loan program has been extended for two years, through July 14, 1957. Provision for the extension is contained in Public Law 166, which was signed by President Eisenhower July 15.

During the two years this credit service has been available through the Farmers Home Administration, 6382 loans totaling more than $54,000,000 have been made to livestock producers. Of this number 1744 loans totaling more than $18,000,000 were made to Texas livestock producers.

Under the legislation extending the program, initial loans will be made through July 14, 1957. After that date, additional advances may be made for a period of two years to borrowers who require additional time to make necessary credit adjustment and to repay the loans previously received.

Special livestock loan are made to established producers and feeders of cattle, sheep, and goats (except commercial feed lot operators) who are temporarily unable to get from regular sources the credit needed to continue their operations.

To be eligible an applicant must have a good past record of livestock operations and have reasonable prospects for success with the help of the loan.

The loans are made to meet the usual expenses of livestock operations such as the purchase or production of feed, and replacing or repairing of farm machinery. Loans also may be made for the restocking of herds to normal if the applicant can carry his present herd, plus the additional livestock to be purchased, without buying a substantial portion of his feed. Loans are not made to pay existing debts except current incidental bills.

The loans are scheduled for repayment as soon as possible within a maximum of 3 years. Other creditors are not asked to subordinate their loans but are expected to execute a standby agreement and agree that a reasonable part of the applicant's normal income from livestock can be used in repaying the loan.

Applications for special livestock loans may be made at the local county office of the Farmers Home Administration located in the Ozona Hotel Building Ozona, Texas.

Modern Science Finally Catches Up With Grandpa

I got put in my place the other night. Deserved it, too. My father-in-law said we were due for bad weather. "Birds are flying low," he reported. "That means a storm."

I started to josh with the old gentian about being superstitious. Then my nephew Jim, on vacation from college, pipes up. "Grandad's right," he says.

"At least, that's what they say at school," Jim goes on. "The heavy air you get before a storm forces insects down low—so high-flying birds have to swoop along the ground if they want to eat."

From where I sit, there's probably sound reasoning back of most old sayings... back of anything people have learned to believe in. Take the idea of a stick in time saving nine—sparing rods and spoiling children—of drinking hot milk or a refreshing glass of beer, at bedtime. You may not hold with any of these beliefs yourself... but it's not smart to give them the "bird."

Early Chicks due to make extra good profits next fall predict most economists

Economists are predicting extra good egg prices next fall and winter. Their estimate is based on the fact that prices for 5 years have been down one year—up the next. The graph shows this fact clearly. While prices are higher in some areas, and lower in others, the down-one-year, up-the-next picture has been true everywhere.

The reason is easy to see. Many folks get disgusted when prices are low. So they don't start as many chicks as usual. And the shortage of eggs forces the price up.

Order Chicks Now for Best Profits
We urge all our friends and customers to take advantage of this profit opportunity. Let the other fellow quit. You'll make more money that way.

And please order your chicks early. If you start them early, they usually will make $20 to $40 extra profits per 100 pullets—because they're in peak production while egg prices are highest in the fall and early winter. See us real soon, won't you?

RANCH FEED & SUPPLY

Rancher's Business Is Producing Grass, Marketing Medium Is Livestock; Soil Specialist Analyzes Management Objectives

By Bob Scott, SCS

The past decade the ranching business has started a new era from the concept of livestock to that of grass plus livestock. Grass is the rancher's business and his livestock are the means by which that grass is sold. There are some interesting parts concerning the management of livestock on one hand, and grass on the other. Intensive management is necessary to improve the quality of the animal. Likewise, intensive management is essential to maintain and improve the quality of a range. However, we have a remarkable increase in the value of cattle, sheep and goats in the past fifty years. At the same time, we have witnessed a gradual change and deterioration of range land.

What is the reason for this? The most significant reason is the fact that livestock condition does not indicate range condition. The value of our ranges have declined, while the productivity has increased. The thing that has happened for many years was the continual pressure on the vegetation was gradually being replaced by lesser species of grasses and forbs and, of course, woody shrubs. During drought, the deteriorated condition quickly shows up when weak perennials and annuals rapidly disappear. Consequently our problem today is getting our range condition back in line with our livestock development.

If the ranching industry is to survive, intensive management of grasses must be applied as has been used in livestock development. Without a home the livestock business would retreat entirely to the feed pen. However, grass management can bring out several fold, the values of qualities already incorporated in the sheep, cow and goat.

To fully appreciate the tremendous importance of the crop called grass, one only has to look at the vast land area in the United States that is used to produce grass. Over one billion acres of the land area in the United States; half of the total land area is grass.

Much has been done during the last decade in recognizing the many problems that are before us. Soil Conservation Districts, organized by local landowners, such as the Crockett Soil Conservation District, have been formed to tackle the task on an organized basis. The door has been opened, but much remains to be done before we see the widespread fruits of range management.

Many practices such as brush eradication, pitting, seeding and others have become commonplace. They are good, but are secondary and even wasted if not followed up by judicious grass management. Our overall problem is topped off by the fact this is a highly erratic rainfall belt. The past drought can take the full blame for our tremendous financial losses, but it cannot take the blame for the deterioration that has been going on for decades.

The problems are many, but what is the full answer to range management? It is simply closer management of climax grasses. That is easy to say, but it means continually adjusting livestock numbers to protect the crop. This means radical changes in long standing methods of management. True, the drought has forced radical cuts in livestock numbers. But, livestock numbers have been cut only when the livestock or the finances started hurting and not when the grasses started hurting. The evidence of this type management can be seen in those areas where changes are being made continually and where stocks are being culled or moved for the protection and development of the grass as well as for the livestock. This type management will bring back the heritage we guard so dearly and maybe some day soften the effect of nature's next drought.

Strawn Discovery On Shannon By Magnolia; Farmer Field Extended

A Strawn discovery has been indicated in Crockett County with the recovery of oil on one of three drillstem tests at Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 1-B Shannon Hospital, in 28-BB-EL&RR, three miles southeast of the World field and 4 1/2 miles east of the newly designated Shannon (Strawn) field, 27 miles northwest of Ozona.

On a 90-minute test between 2,200-278 feet, recovery was 10 feet of very slightly gas-cut mud. Gas surfaced in 29 minutes on a 3 1/2-hour test between 8,392-8,444 feet. Recovery was 600 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, estimated to be 50 per cent oil, plus 100 feet of 41 gravity oil.

A three-hour test between 8,444-8,464 feet recovered 130 feet of salt water-cut mud.

The project was drilling below 8,485 feet in Strawn lime and chert.

The Farmers (San Andres) field of Crockett County has been extended one location north with the completion of Texam Oil & Gas Co. No. 2-B University, in 2-50-University, 10 miles southeast of Big Lake.

It was completed for a daily flowing potential of 218.24 barrels of 32 gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio, 750-1.

Production was through perforations between 2,656 1/2-672 1/2 feet in 5 1/2-inch casing set at 2,717 feet. Pay section was washed with 250 gallons of mud acid and fractured with 10,000 gallons.

Top of pay was picked at 2,464 feet, on derrick floor elevation of 2,790 feet.

Tubing pressure was 300-125 pounds; casing pressure, 500-300 pounds.

Most Modern, Shortest Stroke V8's in any leading truck!

New Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks

Here's the measure of a truly modern V8 engine—Chevrolet's advanced over-square design. It means less friction... longer engine life!

Here are more dollar-saving reasons why Chevrolet trucks offer the most modern V8's* for your money!

MODERN 12-VOLT ELECTRICAL SYSTEM
Double the punch for quicker starting and more efficient ignition for finer performance.

GAS-SAVING HIGH-COMPRESSION RATIO
With a high 7.5 to 1 compression ratio, Chevrolet's new V8 truck engines squeeze extra power—and work—out of gas.

EXTRA-HIGH POWER PER POUND
Since these V8's deliver high power per pound of engine weight, more of the power is actually available for hauling.

ADVANCED AIRCRAFT-TYPE VALVES
Valve action is more positive at all speeds for finer, smoother performance.

FLOATING OIL INTAKE... FULL-PRESSURE LUBRICATION
Oil intake selects the cleanest oil for positive, full-pressure engine lubrication.

*V8 standard in the new LCF models, an extra-cost option in all others except Forward-Control models.
