WOOL DEFENDS ITS CROWN

The Edwards Plateau is admirably suited for the production of one of nature's noblest fibers—wool. Wool is one of the natural materials. Others are cotton, silk, and flax. A high compliment to the superiority of wool over other fabrics is paid by the army every time the nation goes to war. Most military uniforms intended for use in cool climates are of wool.

In recent years wool has met its first serious competition in the form of various synthetic fibers developed in laboratories and highly advertised as equal or superior to wool.

Rayon was the first, then Nylon, and now Orlon and Dacron. These products were launched on the market with tremendous advertising build-ups. Fabulous claims were made for their versatility and durability. Upon trial most of these claims collapse. Many who have bought suits of one of these materials have found them far below the lavish claims made for them.

But the American public has been conditioned to buying advertised products. Whether we know it or not, we are seriously affected by claims of manufacturers and sellers in praise of their products. We are buying the most highly advertised cigars, beers, cars, and household appliances, ever the unadvertised brands.

Right or wrong, we are responding in our buying habits to suggestion. It is not surprising, then, that hundreds of firms have set up big national advertising budgets. Turn the pages of a Saturday Evening Post. Each page represents an investment of thousands of dollars in advertising money.

Consider also that the radio and TV businesses are paid for by advertising. One popular TV program, "The 64 Thousand Dollar Question," each week gives prizes running into the thousands of dollars, and all it has to sell are lipsticks and other cosmetics. There must be something in it.

Being an individualist and an independent operator, the sheep ranchman is slow to go into anything new. At heart, he is a conservative. Unusually he watches the shrinking wool market and the falling prices. He sees the synthetic fabric men pushing their goods on the public, but he does not say a good word for his product.

He has a superior product. Wool will be with us when Dacron is forgotten, because a human maker, no matter how smart he is, can't manufacture anything as good as God makes. In the silkworm, the flax stalk, the cotton plant, and the sheep, God has his own factories. We can't outdo God, or improve upon His works. The best we can make is a substitute, and usually it is a poor one.

But if the sheep man relies too much on the superiority of his product and does nothing to meet the highly advertised competition of synthetics, his business will suffer—at least for a while. Whether he wants to or not, he must put his wares before the public eye, or see them passed over.

A few years ago the growers of oranges in California had a similar problem. They had the best oranges on earth. But the crop was highly perishable, and storage was impossible. They got together and formed the California Fruit Growers' Association. They put up money for some able promoters. They taxed themselves for an air-tight system of marketing and advertising. Before long they were supplying the world with oranges. Their price was stabilized, market was stimulated, and this is still true with them today.

An official of the Texas Sheep and Goat Association was heard to say that the California wool producers are now doing the same thing. They have a per-bag tax five times the proposed rate of the Texas association, and they consider it a good investment.

SCS Crew Arrives To Begin Johnson Watershed Survey

11-Man Party Starts Field Work To Plan Flood Control

An eleven-man crew of engineers and other technicians from the U. S. Soil Conservation Service arrived here over the week-end and Monday began the task of making a detailed survey and work plan for a watershed control project on Johnson draw to prevent a repetition of the flood disaster of June, 1954, which took 16 lives in Ozona and caused property damage estimate at 12 millions of dollars.

The survey party is headed by Paul Kenner as party chief. Others in the party are James Green, hydrologist; James Dennison, field engineer; Henry Swope, geologist; Lemund Goerdel, sedimentationist; Kenneth R. Voss, economist; W. W. Snyder, economist, and engineering aides Harold Marks, Paul Rogers, Nolan Bird and Mac Dearman.

In addition to the above specialist, three men will be employed in Ozona to assist the field party during actual survey work.

Families of at least four members of the survey party accompanied their husbands and all have rented apartments and houses here for their stay. They are Mr. Swope, Mr. Goerdel, Mr. Voss and Mr. Snyder. Families of some of the other men expect to join them here soon.

The survey party has established offices and headquarters at the Hotel Ozona.

The survey and work plan is expected to take five months to complete. It will consist of the field work, a detailed survey of the entire watershed area, including topographic and sub-soil information, the actual location of dam sites and plans and specifications for such structures as will be found necessary to accomplish control of floods. The crew will also gather all pertinent information concerning rainfall, run-off, volume and intensity of previous floods, and a detailed study of the economic aspects of the region and the area to be benefited by the completed project.

It is understood that the survey crew will be here two or three months completing the field work, after which the paper work will be completed in area offices in Brownwood. The survey and work plan is scheduled for completion by early January, according to available information.

When the survey is completed, definite cost figures will be available and the project will be ready for submission to the next session of Congress, convening in January, with a request that it be included in government flood control aid bills under Public Law 566, passed in 1954. Congressman J. T. Rutherford, here last week on a brief visit, promised his complete cooperation when the matter reaches Washington and similar pledges have been received from Texas Senators Lyndon Johnson and Price Daniel.

Lions Roll Over Favored Owls 25-0 In Season Opener

Defensive Power Demonstrated Against Heavier Opponents

By Ernie Boyd

An amazing crew of Ozona Lions stunned the Reagan County Owls 25 to 0 in the opening contest for both teams in Ozona last Friday night.

The Lions, boasting almost as many stars as they had players, never gave the heavily favored Owls a chance as they tackled and blocked crisply to pile up a 25-point margin before the half and they held the Owls at bay during the rest of the contest.

Juan Delgado, one of the co-captains for the night, did almost everything a football player could do as he ranged from sideline to sideline to deliver chilling tackles and blocks and in addition picked up 54 yards rushing on five plays, including a 25 yard touchdown sprint in the second quarter.

Despite Delgado's brilliant play, little Roy Glen Sutton, Ozona's 134 pound guard, almost stole the show as he crashed time after time into the Big Lake backfield to hound the passer or spill a ball carrier for a loss. Sutton, however, did not confine himself to the center of the line as he overlooked ball carriers going wide and spilled them with the same dogged determination that marked his play in the middle. Sutton was dwarfed by one opposing lineman who was almost double Sutton's weight.

Delay In Flood Bonds To Await Survey Estimate

Court Decides Election Now Would Be Premature

After conferences with members of local flood control committees, the Crockett County Commissioners Court has temporarily shelved a previously agreed plan to order an election next month on the question of issuing $200,000 in Crockett county bonds for the purpose of meeting this county's estimated share of the proposed Soil Conservation Service system of detention dams to harness flood waters of the Johnson Draw watershed.

Following a recent meeting of the Court, members of the local flood committees and the Crockett Soil Conservation District supervisors with H. N. Smith of Temple, State Conservator, it was planned for the Commissioners Court at its September meeting this week to initiate the bond election call and to hold the election within the time limits of the law, sometime in October.

However, the court this week, after discussing the matter with others of the planning group, decided that an election at this time would be premature since the cost estimates are only estimates and the SCS survey crew was beginning the watershed survey this week, with funds advanced by the county in order to speed up the preliminary work.

County Judge Houston Smith announced that the group had decided that no particularly good purpose would be served by rushing the bond election and that to do so without more accurate estimates of the total cost and a final decision on this county's share of such cost might lead to complications and necessitate a remedial election at a later date.

"Crockett County has shown that it is willing to cooperate to the fullest to bring about construction of the flood control project by advancing the survey fund of $25,000," Judge Smith said. "It was the opinion of the court that it might be wiser to wait until early next year when the project would be more definitely defined and when Congress will again be in session and we will be in better position to judge our needs. The court felt that it might be premature."

The programs and prayers during this week will help maintain a continual and coordinated contact with the Texas Baptist Schools. They will also help to plan an enlarged program to meet the Christian education needs of many students.

no gain and the loss of the

The end play of Lloyd West, Young, and Jerry Beasley was a big factor in limiting the Lions to a mere 99 yards rushing.

Perhaps the capacity crowd which turned out, was more amazed at the battling Lions defense than at the offense, but it was a lethal attack turned by the Lions late in the first quarter, which exploded into a rout in the second quarter and won the contest.

Fullback Mike Clayton was the horse of the Lion attack accounting for 76 yards on 21 carries including one touch-down and a run to the one that set up another. In addition to his punting, Clayton did the kicking and the punting for the Lions and did an outstanding job at both tasks.

Arturo Gonzales made the night's outstanding run with a 54 yard sprint that set up the first score and then added an extra point in addition to 17 more yards on six carries.

The Lions won the toss and chose to receive. Orville Paulk punned the kick to the thirty yard line.

Mike Clayton picked up six yards on the first try, two plays later the Lions still needed four yards for a first down and Clayton sent a booming forty-yard punt to Boze Hartgrove who fumbled when hit hard by Juan Delgado. Friend recovered for Ozona.

Friend recovered for Ozona and the Lions had their first break, Big Lake rallied to the defense and took over on downs after Clayton was spilled for a five yard loss and Bobby Sutton was stopped for a two yard deficit.

Ozona's defense was solid and Hanson got off a thirty-five yard kick which Orville Paulk returned for yards, almost going all the way.

On the second down and eight, Bobby Martinez called on Arturo Gonzales and the halfback responded with a 54-yard dazzler to the Owl line. Clayton went to the one as the quarter ended.

On the first play of the second quarter Bobby Martinez sneaked over and the Lions went into a 6 to 0 lead as Friend's kick was blocked.

The Lions wasted little time getting a second score. After the kickoff the Owls were smothered and had to kick. Johnson got off a nice 45-yard boot and Johnny Ramirez slipped and fell for no return.

Juan Delgado rumbled 25 yards, and Clayton contributed a fifteen-yard gallop for a second first down. Clayton then went eight yards and fumbled the ball rolling to the two where Bobby Sutton pounced on it. Clayton sliced into the end zone and Gonzales ran over the extra point. Score Ozona 13 Big Lake 0.

Clayton's kickoff carried into the end zone and Hartgrove was nailed hard deep in Owl territory. On second down the Owl ball carrier was swarmed and fumbled with the Lions recovering.

Clayton and Gonzales sparked the short drive and Bobby Sutton dove into the end zone from the two for the third tally.

With time still left in the second period the Lions stalled the Owl attack in no uncertain manner and were on their way again as an awe stricken crowd roared or groaned according to their allegiance.

Bobby Martinez went into the air for the first time and West pulled in a 32-yard strike, being hauled in on the Owl twenty-five. Juan Delgado went over standing up behind a bevy of blockers and, even though the Lions had punched over four tid's in the last twelve minutes and the half had not yet arrived, the scoring was over.

Big Lake came back after the rest period trying hard to get back into the ball game. The Owls went aloft 15 times in the last half not counting the times the passer failed to get the ball away, but Lloyd West, Johnny Ramirez, Orville Paulk, and Kent Babb were equal to the occasion and the Owls were doomed.

Ozona rolled up 210 yards rushing to 99 for Big Lake and got 32 passing while Big Lake collected 86. First downs favored Ozona 11 to 10.

Big Lake was not without stars. Bobby Walls played brilliantly as fullback and linebacker. Boze Hartgrove unreeled several nice runs as he picked up 51 yards to become the Owls' biggest ground gainer.

After all was said and done it was a team effort to the fullest extent, and even though out-weighted 33 pounds to the man, it was a case of just too much defense for the invaders.

ture at this time to call the bond election since more definite information as to the size of the issue will be known in plenty of time to hold such an election without delaying the actual start of construction.

The survey funds advanced by the county to finance the SCS survey and work plan of the entire project are being administered under a trust arrangement by the Crockett Soil Conservation District. The $25,000 advance, necessary because SCS funds allotted to this state for this class of work had already been committed for this year and the county advance of funds will mean a year's advantage in completion of the survey and cost estimates and ultimate start of work on the project. The sum advanced will be returned to the county in the form of credit on the amount to be required of the county as its share of the project's cost.

a new situation, especially if it costs. It is much more natural, and easier, to long for the good old days. But the world marches on, and if we don't move, it may leave us behind. Change has at last caught up with wool industry.

A common reaction is to rely on tariffs to build a wall against foreign wools. It would seem today that high tariffs, like hoop-skirts, are a thing of the past. When we were children, the Republicans were supposed to have a tariff party. But not any more. The high tariff cause has no party and no champion today. From here on we are all going to have to sell our product on a world market open to all comers. And in return we will have the right to buy in a world market. The two will about balance each other, and the net gain will be the fact that in a world which has become one big backyard, we can maintain friendly relations with nations with whom we will ultimately come to have free trade.

Accurate and Complete RANCH RECORD Are More Important Today Than Ever

Government regulations and heavy tax programs are destined to be a part of the American way of doing business for a long time. For that reason, it is more important today that every business keep accurate records of its operations.

The ranch business is no exception. With the stiff federal taxes, you will want to take advantage of every saving item in your expense account and at the same time have clear and convincing records available for inspection by tax agents to prove up any item on your income tax return.

Start now to keep a complete record covering all operations in your business with the Stockman's RANCH RECORD BOOK. Your cancelled checks or your present records can be transcribed to this handy record book, together with your income and inventory records and you can have your entire record in a simplified form contained in one volume.

 4-lb. bird—5¢ saved

FEEDING METHOD	AVERAGE WEIGHT TO WEEKS	FEED CONVERSION	% MORTALITY
Mash 0-10 weeks	3.88	2.71	2.3
Mash 0-4 weeks and small pellets 4-10 weeks . .	4.31	2.48	3.0

This test was run on cockerels and is one of three independent tests that have all shown real savings on small pellets over all-mash feeding.

Our Purina customers in Maine and Delmarva, where Purina Bite-Size Checkers were first introduced, have found such worthwhile savings that they have gone almost 100% for this new feed. Your birds will change quickly to Bite-Size Checkers at any age after 3 weeks old. Why don't you see your Purina Dealer about changing over your flock right now? Or talk to him about feeding your next batch on Bite-Size Checkers. He has them now.
