Vaccination Of Dogs Against Rabies Urged Fri.

Veterinarian To Make One Day Stand For Vaccination

The menace of rabies, coming in a continuing epidemic of dread diseases among wildlife in this section, is expected to produce a record number of dog and cat vaccinations here Friday when a San Angelo veterinarian, Dr. Don Price, will be here for a one-day stand to vaccinate animals against rabies.

Price was here about a year ago and all dogs and cats vaccinated then are due for another to renew immunity.

Price will be at the vocational building beginning at 9 o'clock Friday morning. If time permits, Dr. Price will be at the Elementary school in late afternoon as a convenience to dog owners in the south part of town and in the Latin-American section.

The fee for vaccination, including the vaccine, will be $2 per animal, the same as a year ago. Arrangements were made for the veterinarian's visit here by Councilman Pete Jacoby.

Every dog over 5½ months old should be vaccinated, Dr. Price said. Pups less than that age can be vaccinated, but they do not react well to the vaccine and if vaccinated at less than that age, should be re-vaccinated shortly after six months of age.

Dogs can be successfully vaccinated against rabies and this should be done if rabies is known to exist in a particular area, the doctor said. Ordinarily, the vaccination of cats receives less attention because rabid cats are not likely to run berserk and expose other animals or people. Pets such as racoons, ringtails, monkeys, skunks and foxes should be vaccinated, Dr. Price advised.

Some protection will be afforded about 24 hours after vaccination, Dr. Price said, but it takes three or four weeks for the protection to develop. Other than a slight rise in temperature and the rare occurrence of a sore for a day or two, there should be no noticeable effects of vaccination, the doctor declared.

Earl J. Sparks Laid To Rest Services Fri.

Victim Of Muscular Dystrophy Died Thurs. Morning

Funeral services for Earl J. Sparks, 30, were held at the Ozona Church of Christ at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, with James W. Truson, Minister, officiating. Burial followed in Cedar Hill Cemetery, with Cody Funeral Home conducting.

Earl, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Sparks, longtime Ozona residents, had been crippled with muscular dystrophy since early childhood and had been confined to a wheelchair for many years. Though crippled in body, his mind had remained alert through the years and he was probably one of the most well-read young men in Ozona. He was especially adept at mathematics although he had been unable to attend school many years. He was born Aug. 1926, in Pasche and had been a resident of Ozona since early childhood.

Surviving other than the parents are a twin brother, Earl Sparks Ozona; two sisters Mrs. Charles Consider of Ozona, and Mrs. James E. Davidson of Waco, and a host of other relatives and friends. Pallbearers were Byron Patterson, Armond Hoover, Jr., L. A. Ober, Charles E. Davidson, Jr., B. Cushing, Gordon Allison, J. Miller and J. G. Hufstader, all Ozona.

Existing Records Due For Severe Mauling In Third Annual Running Of Ozona Invitational Track Meet Next Saturday At Lions Stadium

By Enrie Boyd

The third annual Ozona Invitational Track meet will be held in Ozona Saturday with fourteen teams competing for the team title.

Junction, Sonora, McCamey, and Fort Stockton are expected to be the chief contenders for the title and the prospects for the bettering of a number of meet records seem good.

Members of the different team entered have bettered the Ozona records in seven of the fifteen events but the possibility of new records seems best in the shot-put where the existing record is 50-foot 5 inches held by Rayford McElhane of McCamey, who is now putting the shot better than 54 feet rather consistently.

Junction's Moose Brown will be a threat to the 880 record and Bennett and Mansfield both have bettered the 180 yard low hurdle mark. Smith in the pole vault and the 880 yard relay team also pose a threat to the present record.

Sonora will present threats in the 880 yard relay, the pole vault and the 440 yard dash with Pete Badillo having exceeded 12-feet this year as compared to a record of 11-foot 2-inches now held by Byron Ritchie of McCamey. Preston Love has run the 440 in 51.8 this season which is just under the present record of 51.9 held by Moss of Junction.

Teams entered this year are: Junction, Sonora, Eldorado, Menard, Big Lake, Iraan, Sanderson, Coahoma, McCamey, Rankin, Fort Stockton, Bracketville, Grand Falls and Ozona.

Red Ramsey of San Angelo will be the starter for the meet which is under the able direction of Chick Womack.

Ozona's entry this year will not be favored to capture many points even though Coach Womack expressed satisfaction with a good showing the boys made at the Sonora meet last week.

Billy Bob Holden narrowly missed capturing first place in the high jump and Kent Babb finished fourth in a fast field of hurdlers.

Jake Young, even though finishing four of the points, turned in his best shot put effort so far with a 45-foot and 1-inch heave. This mark would have been good enough to win or place very high in most of the meets the Lions have taken part in, in recent years but the presence of such putters as Rayford McElhane and George Johnson among others have greatly increased the records in the last two years.

George Bunker, Bobby Vargas and the 880 yard relay will have a chance to gain points for the Ozona team.

The meet will get under way at Lion Stadium at 10 a. m. Saturday with the finals beginning at 2 p. m. Saturday afternoon.

Heavy Thunder Shower Dumps More Than Inch Of Rain In Ozona Area

A violent thunderstorm about noon Wednesday dumped from an inch to two or three inches over an area from about ten miles south of Ozona and north and east to send Gurley draw out of its banks and other draws south of Ozona over the highway to interrupt traffic.

Rain gauges in Ozona registered a little over an inch fall while a report from south of Ozona showed 2.3 inches. The half-hour fall was evidently even heavier to the east and northeast, the rains in that area swelling Gurley draw, which courses through the southeast edge of Ozona, out of its banks.

Heavy rains south to about the Davidson headquarters puts draws in that area over the highway and flattened fences.

Shortly after skies had cleared after the noon downpour, another heavy thundercloud rolled in from the west but passed over Ozona without dumping any moisture and was followed by a brisk west wind which was kicking up some dust.

Sikes Named President Of District Teachers In Brownwood Meeting

L. B. T. Sikes, superintendent of Ozona schools, was elected president of the Mid-Texas Educational Association, District 11, Texas State Teachers Assn., at the close of the 50th annual convention of the Association in Brownwood last Friday.

Other officers include J. B. Witherspoon of San Angelo, vice president; Peggy Moore of Ozona, secretary; Joe Harper of Comanche, treasurer; Mrs. Mabel Reeves of Mason, district executive committeeman; and Supt. J. D. King of Brownwood, state executive committeeman.

Mr. Sikes succeeds Miss Velma Stidham of Stephenville as president of the 19-county district. A total of 1,610 delegates were registered for the convention.

Miss Marguerite Ross of Comanche, membership chairman of TSTA, reported the district short by only six teachers of 100 percent membership. All counties in the district with the exception of Brown and Concho boasted 100 percent memberships.

Mr. Sikes presided at the closing session of the convention Friday night. Dr. Sam Proctor, president of Oklahoma College for Women, was the principal speaker.

Junior Champions Year Ago, Judging Team Wins Second

Pint-Sized Judgers Undaunted By Senior Competition

Crockett County 4-H Club judging team, composed of pint-sized judgers, last year's Juniors who won state championship in wool and mohair judging, shook up the bigger boys by winning second place in the wool judging contest at Sul Ross State College in Alpine last Saturday.

Bob Childress, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Childress, won third high individual honors and was followed closely by Jay Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Miller, Frank Childress, son of Mrs. Bill Childress, and Bill Jacoby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jacoby. These boys composed the team which last year won the State Junior Wool & Mohair judging contest, and this year they are causing some uneasiness among the bigger boys against whom they will be competing in the state contests in June.

The Ozona team at Alpine was first in grading and second overall, losing out only by a few points to an Upton county 4-H team that placed second last year.

In the livestock judging contest, Pierce Miller was the only Crockett County 4-H team member judging. He made a good showing, placing 4th in cattle judging and 5th over all.

Team members, accompanied by their coach, County Agent Pete Jacoby, went to Alpine Friday and returned Saturday afternoon.

AWARD FIRST DAM CONTRACT ON APRIL 15

Bids Asked In Advertising Starting This Week

Members of the Crockett Soil Conservation District board of supervisors, conservationists, the Commissioners Court, the local flood committee and others who have worked for nearly three years to bring about construction of flood control dams which will harness sometime rampaging Johnson Draw and its tributaries that threaten Ozona and downstream property, will begin to see their dream of accomplishment come true on April 15.

Advertisements for bids for construction of Dam Site No. 1, first of seven such structures to be built to control the watershed, appear in this issue of The Stockman, with bids scheduled to be opened by the Commissioners Court here on April 15. If contract is awarded on that date, construction can get under way as soon as the contractor can move in equipment and men, with 242 calendar days specified for completion of the structure.

Two more of the dams will be ready for contract award within the next few days, according to promise from the Soil Conservation Service office in Fort Worth where plans are being prepared. The final check plans on Sites 1, 2 and 3 have been sent to Washington for final approval, that for the No. 1 site reaching Ozona Wednesday afternoon and the approval of the other two sites is promised in the next few days. Bob Scott, area conservationist stationed here, has been advised.

Dam site No. 1 is on the Boyd Baker ranch, about 13 miles north of Ozona. The dam will be approximately 35 feet in height and 3,800 feet long. It will control drainage on 10,877 acres of land; with a detention capacity of 4,570 acre feet of floodwater .504 inches of runoff. The sediment storage, or permanent pool, will be 166 acre feet in a sediment pool covering 51 acres of land. The outlet tube through which flood water will be discharged is 28 inches in diameter.

THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 1957

THE COMMUNISTS ARE AMONG US . . . . .

"From the work of the Committee on Un-American Activities during the past year one set of facts emerges with irresistible clarity: The danger of communism is increasing, not receding; the United States remains the major target of the Soviet aggression; indifference to the Kremlin's avowed program of global conquest can lead only to the inevitable destruction of our free institutions, and ourselves as a free nation."

The above is the first sentence in the Foreword of the annual report of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, written by the chairman, Rep. Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, a copy of which has just been received by this newspaper from Congressman J. T. Rutherford of the Texas 16th district.

A hair-raising 75-page document, the report documents findings of the committee in its hearings throughout the country, in Washington, in North Carolina, in Los Angeles, in the Rocky Mountain area, in St. Louis area, New Haven, Youngstown and elsewhere. It prints verbatim reports of some of the questions and answers in the hearing, it exposes some of the conspiracies of the communists in infiltrating government, labor unions, religious groups, foreign elements and other groups, it traces the frightening influence of the communists on some unthinking Americans and it ends with some recommendations to the Congress and the Justice Department for appropriate action to stem the tide of this, America's greatest menace.

The foreword, written by Chairman Walter, is quoted in part below, for it reveals some of the things the committee found out in the past year and which every American should know.

"It is not a pleasant task to state these conclusions," the Foreword continues after the paragraph quoted above. "The Committee on Un-American Activities would prefer to report to the Congress and to the American people that the tide has turned against international communism and that the day of its dissolution is in sight. The committee cannot do so. There are many, nevertheless, who feel that communism has become enfeebled and exultantly hail each new sound from the Soviet sphere as the death knell of the vast Communist totalitarian empire. It is a grave delusion which they embrace."

"Events in Hungary are still fresh enough for us to remember the jubilation which reigned at the rising of the courageous men and women of that nation against the despot who had enslaved them. We can remember too our profound shock as Soviet tanks and troops marched back to crush the rebels and demonstrate that the power of the Kremlin had not diminished."

"Numerically, the membership of the Communist party of the United States has declined considerably during the past few years as many dilettantes left the fringes from which they had long gazed with starry-eyed credulity. But those remaining in the Communist apparatus comprise a hard core of revolutionaries who have consecrated themselves to accomplish the annihilation of our form of government."

"Anyone who thinks that communism in the United States no longer constitutes a serious menace should consider that at this moment on American soil are the equivalent of 30 combat divisions of enemy troops engaging in propaganda, espionage, subversion, and loyal only to the Soviet Union.

"A prominent American justice once observed that if the American people saw this horde wearing the uniform of a foreign power and moving freely in their midst, they would immediately voice great alarm. The alarm should not be less if the uniform clothes the mind instead of the body."

There follows a summary of some of the accomplishments of the committee and for the sake of brevity we omit a few paragraphs. But the last three are worthy of quote.

"Through the testimony of witnesses who have been engaged in a constant battle against the Iron Curtain police states, the committee obtained a wealth of information about the policies and strategy of the Communist Party in key areas outside the United States. Together these witnesses exposed the chicanery of the current Soviet avowals of 'peaceful coexistence.' Their warning, a sober and comfortless one, should be taken to heart by the people of the United States."

"While the ultimate objectives of communism have not changed, its methodology has become more cunning and raises new barriers to effective counter action. One example of this was an amicus curiae brief filed with the United States Supreme Court last July by a 'group of prominent non-Communists.' In reality, as the letter in appendix II (of the report) discloses, more than 26 of the signers have been identified in sworn testimony as members of the Communist Party and many of the others have records of extensive Communist-front affiliation. Currently the Communist party of the United States is developing a new strategy designed to make detection and prosecution more difficult by ostensibly severing connections between the Communist Party of the United States and the international Communist apparatus, disavowing force and violence, and altering the names of the Communist Party and its more important adjuncts.

"We can be certain, however, that despite any pronouncement the Communist Party may make publicly, its real program remains unchanged. With one-half of the world already prostrate beneath its heel, we must increase our vigilance, not lessen it. 'On the clock of survival,' Ernst Tillich declared in his appearance before the committee a few months ago, 'the time is now 5 minutes before midnight.' It is but a brief interval that still remains for us to elect survival — or extinction."

EDITORIAL!

"Oh! why study? We've got three more weeks in this six weeks, and another six after that— plenty of time."

If you happen to hear these words spoken in the halls, you may be sure of one thing. That is — they've been spoken before.

Probably in the first year that Ozona High School was started some Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors said these same words, and some students have been saying them down through the years.

Just because an early case of spring fever hits you it shouldn't cause you to become bored. When you open a book that was once rather interesting, but now has grown dull, keep in mind that what you tuck away in the old noggin won't help a soul — except yourself!

Don't study just because your editor or a teacher thinks it's good, but study because in the long run it will pay off.

So when you're tempted to say "Why study" and "there's plenty of time," keep in mind the students before you who have said were the students who didn't quite make it. In plainer words they didn't get their diploma!

If you catch yourself saying this "why study" then answer yourself very quickly with, "I can do better than this, I really do like this 'stuff' — and I'm going to get that diploma!!!!"

GUYS & DOLLS

Wanda A. doesn't have a broken arm if you are wondering. Seems George gave her a very nice watch for Valentine. It was a bit late but is very pretty Wanda.

Wonder if any teachers over by Miss Powers got any sleep the night of the Junior-Senior banquet? If they were at home after the dance, I'm sure they didn't. Everyone really had a grand time "whooping" it up. By the way did your dog ever recover Miss Powers?

Who did you say you saw at the show Thursday night? There were any number of people, I believe. Jesse and Linda, June B. and Bobby E. and of course, the usual steadies. The boys really enjoyed the show it seems!!

You saw something unusual Friday morning and afternoon? The unusual thing was Susie C. and Alleane Y. out walking just for the fun of it. After dinner we saw them riding bicycles. Are those girls crazy? I believe it now.

Who was running around in a Buick Friday night just like Coach Cleere's except a different color. This person seems to have given quite a few people a scare. Guess we'll just call him the "mystery man" since not many know who it was.

Putting up radio aerials is getting to be dangerous business these days. Just ask Jesse if you don't believe me. I am sure he can tell you all about it.

Seems that Saturday afternoon a car load of girls went to Sonora to take in the track meet. They thought it was going to be real warm but after they got there, they nearly froze the boys to death getting their coats. I think "old man weather" has his season's mixed up. Wanda and Camille, did George and Kent drive safely coming home? Salley, Marilee and Alleane came home with Alleane's mother and dad because it might have been a bit crowded. At least that was their excuse for not going home with the "steadies."

Don L. is going to start changing for fixing flats before long. He was asked to fix one Sunday night and did a good job, even if it was in the dark upon the hill. Right Jerry?

Suzann has been quite busy the past week or two. Seems like she is gone every night. Can't blame you thought Suzy. Bet you and Don Cooper one having a grand time. You'll have to tell us all about it sometime.

Do boys eat all the time? I know of two that I believe eat six meals a day. Sunday afternoon I happened to see George's and Jake's car at the cafe. I asked Wanda what they were doing and she answered "eating as usual." At 4 o'clock they both had eaten a hot sandwich a piece and of course french fries. Oh well, I guess they are growing boys. Trying to gain weight for football or at least one of them is.

Flood Dam On Gurley Would Have Filled With Wednesday Rain

Had one dam, that on the W. K. Friend, Jr. ranch on Gurley draw, northeast of Ozona, one of seven to be built to control Johnson Draw watershed floods, been built by noon Wednesday of this week, it would have been filled and Gurley draw would be running for several days more as the controlled flow was released through draw-down tubes.

And had the proposed construction of an addition to the flood control dam to impound a stand-by municipal supply of water for Ozona been built along with it, it too would be full with a supply of water sufficient to meet Ozona's needs for three years.

But as it was, Gurley draw went on a rampage as the result of a torrential thundershower which fell on Ozona and the immediate surrounding area to the south, east and north. The draw's flood water lapped over bridges on the east and south edges of Ozona and two draws south of Ozona, one at the cemetery entrance and another a few miles farther south, were both over the highway and had traffic halted for a couple of hours.

Cattle, Calves Open Steady

FORT WORTH — Cattlemen marketed limited numbers again Monday at Fort Worth as the trend to "stay a little longer" and get on the improved grazing seemed to be the rule for most.

Prices were strong to 50 cents higher on the smallest Monday offerings of fed cattle in some months. Other classes of cattle and calves turned at steady prices.

Packer circles showed small enthusiasm for the going prices, but in view of the limited receipts no serious possibility of lowered prices appeared.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings drew $18 to $21, the top figure on cattle which were mates to heaves sold here last week at $20.50, which indicated the strong fed cattle tone. Plain and medium butcher sorts drew $13 to $18.

Fat cows $12.00 to $13.50; canners and cutters $8.00 to $12.00; bulls $10.00 to $14.75; good and choice fat calves mostly $17.00 to 20.00, a few higher; medium and low grades $12.00 to $17.00. Stocker steer calves $21 down; stocker steer yearlings $20.00 down.

Lambs Continue Climb Sixth Successive Day

Sheep and lambs continued to move in numbers far short of demand, and with four major packers contending for the supply, as well as the dealers and order buyers, the market soared to the best levels of the season.

Milk fat lambs topped Monday at $23.75, a new high for the year. Old crop fat lambs with No. 2.

No. 1, Fall shorn and full wool pelts, topped at $22 and $22.50, a new high market for the season. Shorn ewes in the $6 to $10 range were at a new high, and some clipped two-year-old dry ewes topped at $15.

Good and choice old crop lambs with No. 2 pelt or better sold from $21 to $22.50, and No. 3 pelts sold from $21 down; Woolled feeders were quoted around $31 down; shorn feeders drew $20 down; cull to medium lambs sold from $18 to $19. Milk fed lambs of good and choice grade sold from $28 to $23.75. Yearling wethers with No. 1 pelts sold from $18 down; yearlings with No. 2 skins, sold from $17 down.

Biggest Legislative News in Washington

during the week this is being written has been reported to you through your normal news outlets. I refer, of course, to the action of the House in voting to refer the $71.8 billion dollar budget back to the President for his recommendations as to where it could best be reduced in the public interest.

You may not however, have heard the reasoning behind this move. When the issue came to the floor, there was a hue and cry in some quarters that it was "politically inspired." I do not agree however, and I don't believe many people truly felt that way about it.

To me, the action of the House in sending the budget to the President for re-study was logical and consistent, since the President, his Secretary for the Treasury, the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, and other top officials within the Administration had stated it was too large and should be trimmed.

The budget was prepared at the direction of the President and his top aides, who are responsible for the operation of, and are familiar with the needs of each agency within the Executive Branch. It seems only fair and reasonable, then, to ask the Chief Executive to cooperate in recommending where within his own agencies, the needed reductions should and could be best made. I feel the President has a chance to make an excellent contribution to Government economy by giving us such recommendations. I also feel, however, it is the duty of the Congress to continue to examine the budget line by line to make additional reductions where possible in non-essential fields.

At This Writing, four appropriation bills in connection with the current budget have been voted on in the House, and all have been reduced, with the reductions to date totaling $169 million. This is subject to Senate action. The Senate could, conceivably, either make further reductions or restore the cuts voted by the House, or even add additional monies above the original request. Should the Senate take action, differing with the House in any sphere, a compromise must be made between the two groups.

The House Un-American Activities Committee has just submitted its annual report giving information on subversive organizations and activities during 1955. I have a limited number of these reports available. All persons interested in having one should write me as follows: Room 1000 House Office Building, Washington 25, D. C. I'll send them on first come, first served basis until supply is exhausted.

Under The Law all lobbyists (Webster describes "lobbyists" as "Persons who visit the lobbies of legislatures to influence proceedings by personal agency) must register and have their names, and their organization printed periodically in the "Official Journal of Congress." — the Congressional Record.

Most people realize such major groups as public utilities, labor groups, oil companies, farmers, various businessmen, and others, have registered lobbyists on hand here. But the list recently printed in the Record showed some with which you may be unfamiliar, including, The Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation; The Lawn Mower Institute; Synthetic Organic Chemical Manufacturers Association; Committee for the Return of Confiscated German and Japanese Property; and the Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes of the Flathead (Indian) Reservation, Montana.

E. S. A. Adams On Cystic Fibrosis

Cystic Fibrosis has been the State project of the E. S. A. Sorority here since 1958. If you have never heard of Cystic Fibrosis, you are alone — only during the last ten years has Cystic Fibrosis been isolated and recognized for it at the present time.

What is Cystic Fibrosis? It is a disease of the lungs which is unable to remove necessary chemicals from the final destruction of the lungs and death.

Statistically, one child in 3,500 is born with Cystic Fibrosis. There is no way of knowing how many more children are cystic undetected.

So far the fight against cystic fibrosis has been waged by a handful of doctors and parents.

Lutherans To Hold Series Of Services In Church at Sonora

Lutherans will hold their first Worship Service in the Sonora-Ozona-Eldorado area in Sonora, Sunday, March 24, at 4:00 p. m. The services will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church in Sonora, located just east of the courthouse. The services will be under the leadership of the Rev. Luther Roehrs, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Eden, Texas.

A canvass was made of this area by the Lutheran Churches in San Angelo and Eden approximately eighteen months ago. This canvass showed the advisability of holding services in this area. However, the pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Eden, who was the one to serve this mission field, accepted a call to Austin. The congregation at Eden was vacant from November, 1955 until August, 1956, when Pastor Roehrs began serving Trinity Lutheran Church, Eden. He has made several trips into this area to make contacts and lay the necessary plans.

At present the tentative schedule of Worship Services has been set. They will be held on the second and fourth Sundays of each month. Special services will be held on festival days such as Easter and Christmas.

"We would like to take this opportunity to invite all the Lutherans of this area to this first Worship Service," Pastor Roehrs wrote.
