A last minute check before actively beginning the federal housing drive in Midland Monday morning shows everything in readiness. Division chairman of the 16 districts of the city reported to General Chairman F. F. Elkin in a meeting held at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the city hall.

The canvass in Midland is expected to be completed in the period from November 6 to November 10.

It was too much for a green team, having to play Wink one week and follow up with Pecos the next. Had there been a game in between the club could have adjusted itself to be decidedly different offense and perfected its defense. It was well coached but got away from instructions.

On the first scoring jaunt by Pecos, right after the opening kick-off, Pecos started hurling passes.

Social Gathering Spot of the Last Century Is Burned

BY ALMA LEE HANKINS

The information will be casually received by most, but not to those who lived in Midland when gay blades of the 90's sought social outlet in square dances and other forms of entertainment favored in cattle country.

For Rhea cottage was the most metropolitan hostelry in these parts years before the turning part of the century. They don't seem to remember, those your correspondent talked with, just when the rambling building was constructed, but recall Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rhebought the place from A. F. Crowley in 1900.

Midlanders who lived there an intermediate number of years aggoinchaded T. R. Wilson, M. C. Ulmer, Supt. W. W. Lackey, J. M. Caldwell, D. H. Roettger, Dr. John B. Thomas, F. J. Middleton, Mrs. Phil Scharbauer, Mrs. J. M. Caldwell and Billy Sparks.

Crowley had used it as a residence, but it was made into a roomcssing reputation the mail for Mid-land was taken to the Rhea cot-tage in an old hack drawn by a white horse. Billy Sparks says the greatest sport hereabouts was to borrow that horse and rig and go sight-seeing through the mesquite. The Midland secondary "covered" eligible receivers correctly within their own zones, but failed to pick up another member's man at the moment a "switch" was logical. Three well placed heaves accounted for the score, two of the passes resulting in a gain of 50 yards. B. Seay, right end, took the heave in the end zone. T. Crum, burly tackle, missed the try for added point.

Pecos kicked off to Midland and the Bulldogs drove back to their own 33, from where they punted to the Pecos 21. Kelton, barefoot whiz, was not able to make a return. Kelton raced around his left end for 14 yards, a pass failed, a drive gained to midfield, where Pecos running game mired down and Davis was forced to punt, the ball being down on the Midland 7, where Midland fumbled and recovered. Midland backs drove back to their 21. A punt was good for only 10 yards.

UNLUCKY IN HISTORY

Field Marshal Alexander von Kluck, who died in Berlin the other day at the age of 88, will go down in history with about as melancholy a claim to fame as any military man could have.

It was Von Kluck who commanded the right flank army when Germany swept through Belgium into France in 1914. The great invasion seemed irresistible, for a time—then, suddenly, something went wrong, the right flank had to retire precipitately, and that long series of scattered fights known as the battle of the Marne resulted in a shattering German defeat.

Von Kluck was the man on the spot in all this. The defeat was not his fault. Moltke, then the commanderin-chief, must take that responsibility.

But Von Kluck's name is the name one remembers in connection with it. As long as military history is studied, he will be known as the man who was beaten

This dress was designed from a "Style" pattern which was too expensive for practical use, but by cutting the pattern out of brown paper, she was able to make the dress at much lower cost. COMMITTEE METS

The program committee of the Midiand High school literary society met at 12:30 Monday for the purpose of planning a program for November 11.

Special numbers will be given and the students have been practicing songs and readings appropriate for this occasion.

A large number of parents and witches were out, twenty freshmen and transfer Latin students performed various weird antics at the suggestion of upper classmen. The casual observer, including the sophomores, might have thought the movements were natural were it not for the fact that only one year hapassed since they, too, were entering the Latin family.

Group cooperation characterized the initiation. Each freshman was attended by an old initiate. The entire club was led to the barns of C. A. Goldsmith's home.

Intitates and members of the Latin falubes in arms to experienced cigar and boxing enthusiasts.
