LOCATIONS AND COMPLETIONS IN BASIN BALANCED

4,595 Barrels Added To Potential in Past Week

By PAUL OSBORNE

West Texas locations and completions balanced for the week past, seven new producers, four of them in Ward county, adding 4,595 barrels to the daily potential of the area, while one test was abandoned as a failure.

Several wildcat wells were reaching interesting depths and are being watched for correlative horizons. One test, Maxwell No. 1 Clapp, drilled into flowing sulphur water to produce further deepening, but is to be shot and tested for production from upper oil shows.

In southern Gaines county, just across the Andrews county line from the Means area, York and Harper and Harry Adams No. 1 Hereford Stock Farms, drilled into a hole full of sulphur water at 1,525 feet, but is now drilling below that depth.

In the Means area proper, Humble No. 2 J. S. Means is nearest to completion. Two miles south of the Humble No. 2 J. S. shows production after shot, but does not flow, and an attempt is being made to blow the well in with gas pressure. The Humble No. 3 R. M. Means, northern outpost, is drilling below 3,384 feet in anhydrite.

In northwestern Andrews county, Stogner et al. No. 1 Richards & McWhorter is in red rock at total depth of 683 feet, and the Fuhrman field well, No. 2-B Boner, is drilling in anhydrite below 2,840 feet.

Another good well was added to the North Cowden pool when Empire Gas and Fuel Company No. 1 Wright, tested 1,913 barrels per day flowing through tubing from total depth of 4,275 feet. Location is 2,200 feet from the north line and 440 feet from the west line of section 2, block 43, township 1, second T. & P. Railway survey, Ector county.

Amerrada No. 1 Holl, in the north corner of the same pool, developed a hole full of oil after shooting, with total depth of 4,322 feet, and is now cleaning out. A quarter mile north of production, the well is 690 feet from the field, Stanolind No. 14 J. M. Cowden, yesterday was estimated to be good for 1,000 barrels per day.

On the northwest flank of the Addis area, Ector county, Stanolind Oil and Gas Company shot a clearwater well, No. 1 Cowden, with total depth of 4,225 feet, and is cleaning out, reportedly showing some oil though whether in commercial quantities cannot yet be told.

The Connell pool received one completion and one location, Shell No. 1 Connell being established as a producer capable of 202 barrels by pump per day. This extends the producing area of the field a mile southwest, location being 1,980 feet from the north line and 690 feet from the east line of section 12, block B-16, public school land. The new location is Shell No. 4 Jones, 1,271 feet from the east line and 1,370 feet from the south line of section 6, block 44, township 3 south, T. & P. Railway survey.

At C. P. Penney et al. No. 1 Kloh, wildcat in the western part of the county, has spudded and is drilling at about 100 feet, Phillips No. 1 Scharbauer, wildcat, north corner of the Connell pool, is waiting on cement at 1,009 feet, and Gulf No. 1 Goldsmith is waiting on completion of a water well.

The Sayre area of northern Winkler county did not complete any wells this week, but four apparently certain locations, Sayre No. 1 Daugherty, Maxwell No. 3 Daugherty, Sinclair-Prairie No. 5 Cummings and Magnolia No. 5 Walton are currently deep to indicate completion within a week or two.

Failure of deepening below first sulphur test shows to yield more than hole drilled, but the well, completed drilling in the Maxwell No. 1 Clapp, a wildcat in section 37, block 26, public school land, 370 feet from the north line and 1,370 feet, and operators are planning to plug back and shoot and acidize oil shows first encountered at 3187 feet.

To the east, Fox-Butler No. 1 Brown Altman is still working to regain production in a hole drilled by the original bore in which liner and fishing tools were lost after commercial pay was encountered. Barnsdall's offset test, No. 1 Brown Altman, has been changed in location to 2,310 feet from the north and west lines of section 6, block B-5, and is rigging up National machine.

Skelley No. 2 Halley, offsetting a wildcat discovery in southern Winkler county, is drilling at 3,002 feet, already indicated by a 100 feet test.

Chicago Counts Her Profits

Black and snow-swept are the grounds where millions swarmed to see the wonders of A Century of Progress. One by one the colorful buildings fall beneath the wrecker's sledges. In the south end of the grounds, only the Transportation Building stands, as shown in this view of wreckage at the left along the lake where the proud mid-way ran. But Chicago thinks it was all very much worth while.

Napoleon Was Right for Once

What has become of the little brown-faced Mexican boys who used to haunt the alleys downtown? They used to hang about the back doors of cafes, their dark eyes alert for any chef or bus-boy who might come out to dump a pail of garbage.

They might find a bit of something to eat! And, incidentally, any merchant who needed a boy to run an errand had only to whistle. But now they whistle in vain.

Their whistle won't carry all the way down to the Mexican school where these little boys are now. And anyhow they wouldn't be interested; not around noon time, anyway.

That's when the hot lunches are dished out; delicious warm stews, macaroni and cheese, stewed apples, beans, potatoes, apples, and whatever good things (not all in one day of course) and butter and milk every day. And it's all properly cooked according to a schedule worked out by a trained dietician. No wonder school is so popular these days! These lunches certainly beat anything the restaurants throw out of their back doors.

The teachers are enthusiastic, too; they say that their children are gaining in weight (no wonder!) and their classroom work has improved.

Which all goes to show that old Napoleon Bonaparte was right when he remarked that an army fights on its tummy; in this case, an army of little boys who will some day be grown-up citizens.

Hix Reports on Life Convention

John Hix, last week, attended a convention of general agents of the Lamar Life Insurance company at Jackson, Miss., home office of the company. He left here on Sunday night when the mercury had dropped to 16 degrees and said he saw snow all the way from Shreveport to Jackson, ranging in depth from one to eight inches.

The agents voted to hold their 1936 meeting at Dallas, taking part in the state's Centennial, Hix said. They will have their annual summer trip to Panama City. Hix said he and Roy McKee were well on their way to winning the trip. Company officials were highly optimistic over prospects for 1935, he said.

"Queen of the Catoico" Contest Distracts Interest Of the Voters; City Marshal's Race Bides Its Time

Rivalled in interest only the recent stock law election, the annual contest for Queen of the Catoico, Midland high school year book, had reached a fever heat Saturday and voting was indulged in by citizens of all ages throughout the city of Midland.

Proceeds from the election, which represent about one cent a vote, go to defraying the cost of the high school year book itself, the high class engagements and workmanship requiring this fund in addition to proceeds of advertising to assure its financial success.

Looked at as a business barometer, one may form the opinion that things are better than a year ago, as the proceeds at the end of the week were ahead of the same period in 1934.

Photographs of the nine girls competing in the contest, having been nominated by friends at a meeting of the literary society, are mounted on an elaborate board, attractively framed and are displayed in the front window of the chamber of commerce where interested voters may see the persons for whom they cast votes.

Until February 1, each cent paid in counted one vote. On February 1 a system of bonus votes took effect, each 500 votes being good for a bonus of 20 per cent. On Tuesday, February 5, each 1,000 votes will receive a bonus of 30 per cent. On Friday, February 8, each 2,000 votes will receive a bonus of 5 per cent. Then on February 11, 5,000 votes will be good for 2 per cent of bonus votes.

A man on the street, when asked how long the contest lasts, replied "as long as the money holds out," but a mimeographed set of rules and regulations, issued at the high school, sets February 12, at 8:30 a. m., as the final date. The contestant having the largest number of votes at that time will be crowned "Queen of the 1935 Catoico."

Professors Shrader and Barnes constitute an auditing committee to check the votes daily and announce the standings of the contestants.

Some who keep pace with community affairs ask: "What next after the annual queen's race?" And the answer comes, "the city marshal's race."

RELIEF FROM RELIEF

In a little story from London, light is thrown on just what the relief problem means—and what patience is going to be required to work it out.

In London, one Frederick Head, unemployed father of five children, was sentenced to one month at hard labor for refusing to learn a trade in the government training classes. The new British regulations provide that a relief beneficiary must show that he has made an honest effort to get work.

But the interesting part of it is that Head had been drawing about $8.50 a week in relief ever since 1923. For 12 years, the public had paid this man in cash because it had been unable to give him a chance to work. And after 12 years of that, Head refused to go to the trade school because he said it was "a waste of time."

It is to avoid this sort of thing that an effort is now being made to substitute work for handouts in this country.

IN FAIRNESS TO AN IDEAL

Return of the Saar Valley to Germany cleans up one of the least defensible tangles bequeathed to a troubled world by the makers of the Versailles treaty.

Here was a region which was solidly German and always had been. To detach it from the fatherland and hold it under alien rule was to go completely counter to the fine words about "self determination" and "democracy" which the allied leaders were so fond of repeating.

To turn its mineral riches over to the French was simply to add to a reparations load already too heavy to be borne.

Now, long years after the armistice, the Saar goes back to Germany; and the step is a long one in the right direction. It hints that the rule of simple justice, and not of vindictive nationalism, may yet prevail in settlement of the problems born of the war.

WE'RE GROWING OLDER

The people of Lima, Peru, have been celebrating of late—celebrating the 400th anniversary of their city's founding. And in that celebration there is a gentle reminder that white civilization on the American continents is an older thing than we usually suppose.

Keeping our eyes within our own boundaries, we generally take it for granted that the traditions of the new world are all very short. But to go back four centuries into the past is to go back a long way.

When Lima was founded, England's fight with the Spanish armada was still half a century in the future, Shakespeare was not yet born, and Martin Luther was still alive.

A society that can trace its lineage that far back is getting on in years. The United States and Canada may still be youthful; but Latin America is, as human societies go, well along in middle age.

A BILLION FOR PREPAREDNESS

If military preparedness is one of the things that agitate you, it may be some comfort to learn that we have pretty nearly reached it at last.

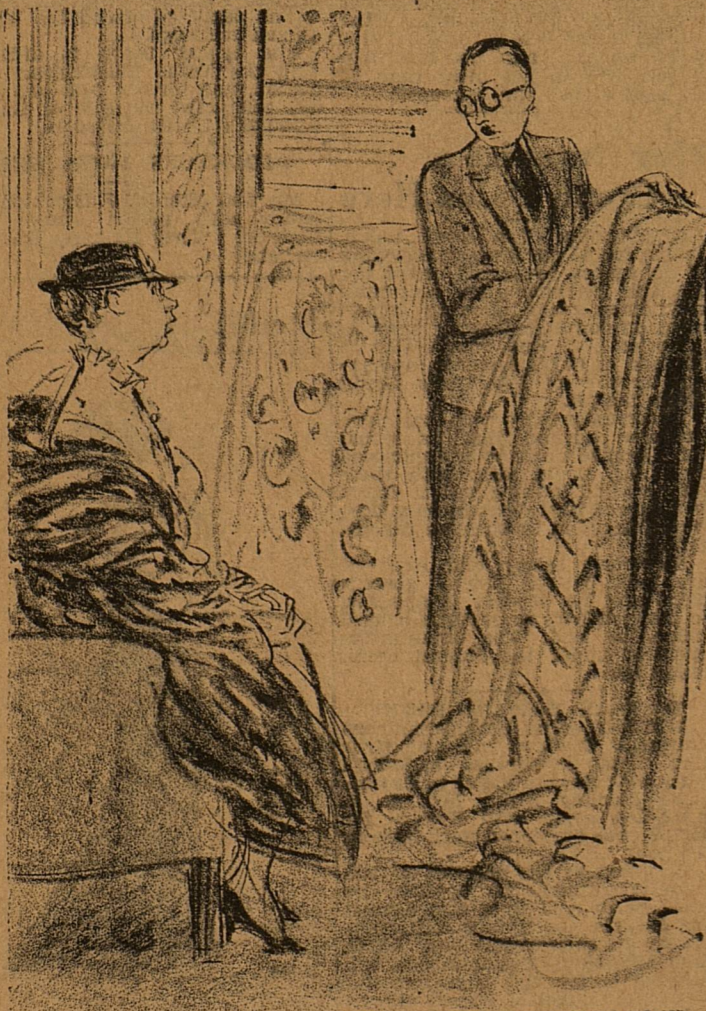

At any rate, preparedness advocates in Washington are reported to feel that if they can persuade President Roosevelt to earmark for the army and navy $1,000,000,000 out of the forthcoming work relief fund, the nation's army and navy will finally be brought to a condition of readiness for war which will satisfy the most nervous of citizens.

Considering the unsettled condition of world affairs, it is hard to deny that that would be a gratifying goal to reach. But it is also a little difficult to see why this needed billion should come out of the work relief fund.

If we need a sum like that for our military establishment, why can't we boldly appropriate it in the usual manner?

Casts which won district championships and had the right to participate in the State tournament for the championship traveled an average of 656 miles, or 328 miles each way, to Austin to take part in the finals. "These casts came from the mountains of far western Mexico,

Dried Fruits Are Tasty Economy for American Family

By MARY E. DAGUE, NEA Service Staff Writer

If your family is in the least like mine you have to keep a dish of stewed dried fruits in the ice box almost all of the time to meet demands for the extra taste of something that just seems to set off even the most sumptuous meal. Of course, if the youngsters get wise to the presence of a package of dried fruit in the pantry, I won't have many left to stew—that's how popular these fruity morsels are in almost any state. Should your family never have developed an appetite for dried fruit dishes, it is possible that you need to try some other way of preparing them. And you really should, because they not only are an important asset to the diet but they provide needed nourishment at minimum cost. In other words, they represent economy in fruits.

Long, Slow Cooking Needed

All must be cooked long and slowly to soften the skin. To bring out their fullest flavor prunes, soaked over night in cold water, should be simmered below the boiling point for three or four hours, then allowed to stand for five or six hours. Sugar should be added before removing from the fire only enough to completely melt it.

Raisins and figs can be stewed in a little water until tender to make a good sauce to use over rice and cornstarch puddings.

For sandwich fillings, dates, figs, raisins and prunes can be finely chopped and combined with cottage cheese or with cream cheese. Or the chopped fruits may be moistened with orange or lemon juice.

Steamed figs served in their own juice or with cream make an acceptable dessert for children.

Many sauces are improved by the addition of raisins or prunes. Steamed fig pudding uses biscuit crumbs to splendid advantage. It's quite rich, so serve it some evening when the main course of the dinner has been light. A fish dinner finishes up with the fig pudding exceptionally well. Fig Pudding: One-half pound figs, 2-3 cup suet, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 2 1-2 cups baking powder, biscuit crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon baking powder. Put figs and suet through food chopper. Add sugar and eggs well beaten. Dissolve baking powder in milk and add with salt and crumbs to figs mixture. Mix well and turn into a well buttered mold. Steam three hours and serve warm with whipped cream.

The deadline for registration in the one-act play tournament is February 1. Mr. Brown pointed out. Last year there were 346 schools.

BY JESS RODGERS

If experience is the best teacher, then the Midland basketball team should be a well educated bunch by the time they finish school. Two more years for most of them. Once more they have entered another tournament, this time at Big Lake, and once more they won their first game and lost their second one. That is their exact record in the three tournaments they have entered this season. They played only one game in the McCamey meet, last a week ago and won but decided to forfeit in their second scheduled game. The game was to have been with Iran, the eventual winners of the tournament. In their latest venture the Bulldogs gave Stanton an artistic trimming, 25-13. Quite different from their last game with the Martin County lads when the Midlanders came out on the short end of a 60 to some twenty odd points. In their second game of the Reagan County tournament the locals were finally ousted by the Ozona quintet (no relation to the Dionne quintet) after leading practically all the game. Midland was ahead 12-11 at the half and 17-16 at the end of the third period, but later in the game the tail boys from the south got started and squeezed ahead to win by a 25-20 score. All members of the winning squad were six feet or more tall while the locals could boast only one man over six feet, Wafford, the Midland center. This was one of the best games of the day and only decided in the last couple of minutes. In some of the other games Rankin defeated McCamey 19-18 in an extra period. Crews beat Lakotew 90-19. Garden City defeated Merizon 23-22. Sterling City beat Barnhart 18-17. Foran beat Fairview 28-22 and San Angelo bested Rankin 26-18. El Dorado defeated Water Valley 1-0 and if it was not as the result of a forfeit we would like to know who pitched for El Dorado and sign them up for our sock ball club. In a couple of girls games, yeah they play 'em, Rankin drubbed Crane 33-6 and McCamey gave the Ozona femmes a 37-4 lesson. What other female clubs were entered we are unable to find out. Crane, with Dutch Baumgarten as their coach, was the winner of the last year's meet. After several tough games they found easy going in the final and passed Angelo 21-10. After the games Friday pictures were taken of the tallest members of the participating clubs and Wafford of the Midland team headed the list when he measured 6 feet three and one quarter inches. For a seventeen year old kid that is not half bad. If he keeps growing he should be an authority on the stratosphere in a few more years. Too bad this player is not with a stronger club so he could boast of a few all-star medals to cover his many chest. In only one tournament game has he been stripped with less than ten points, that was in the game with Ozona Friday. Coach Baumgarten was profuse in his appreciation of the treatment his toys received in the Reagan County Capital. Team members were given free room by the tournament committee and, according to the Midland coach, it was the best handled tournament that he has witnessed since coming to the wide open spaces. Our congratulations to Mr. Tannerly and Mr. Nail, the Big Lake coaches. Well, we now come to the Collins' Charter. The same one that usually writes most of our column. According to authentic information reaching this department a few days ago, efforts are being made to divide district 12-B into two separate and distinct districts, and it is fairly certain there will be two districts in place of the old 12-B next fall. For several years the district has been divided into the north and south halves and it is likely the south half will be made one district and the north section another. However, it has not been definitely settled as to where the boundary line will be placed. The Interscholastic League is considering placing Stanton, Midland, Odessa, Pecos, Wink and Crane in one district and Big Lake, Rankin, McCamey, Iran, Fort Stockton and Maria in the other. While most if not all the school officials of this immediate section favor dividing the district, they do not favor placing Crane in the north district and Maria in the south. As we see it Crane should be in the south district and Maria aligned with the new district to the north. Crane is only a short distance from Big Lake, Rankin, McCamey, Iran and Fort Stockton, while Maria is considerably farther away and is much closer to each of the towns in the northern district. Then, too, good highways connect Crane with the towns to the south, making Crane easily and quickly reached, while the roads to Maria from this area are in terrible condition the year around, whereas Maria is connected with towns to the north by paved highways. It would be quite a jump over rough and sometimes impassable roads from Big Lake to Maria. By all means, Crane should be in the south district and Maria in the north. School officials of Crane had rather be aligned with the teams of the south sector, and are making their wishes known to the State Department in a systematic manner, giving just reasons why Crane should be in the south district. Other school officials of this area are also protesting placing Crane in the north district and Maria in the south to the Interscholastic League. As we see it, the sensible thing to do would be to make the Rankhead Highway the dividing line between the two districts carved out of vid

RURAL SCHOOLS

A number of visitors were present at Cotton Flat during the past week, Miss Marguerite Carpenter, teacher, reported. They included Mrs. Bill Countess on Monday afternoon; Bill Locklar on Tuesday morning; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Locklar on Wednesday afternoon; Mrs. W. B. Franklin and Mrs. Newton Locklar on Thursday afternoon. Cotton Flat will enter all divisions of declamation in the Interscholastic League contests. Miss Carpenter said. Declamations have been selected and work has already begun on them. Betty Jewel McCullough is a new pupil recently enrolled in the school. The condition of Mrs. C. M. Wilson, suffering from a stroke of paralysis, is said to be about the same. Prin. A. C. Fleming of Valley View reports that his school is making preparations to enter six Interscholastic League contests. Mrs. Fleming sustained a severely sprained ankle on the ball court Thursday and is compelled to use crutches for walking. The entire school attended the performance of "Girl of the Limberlost" at a Midland theater recently. The project for the Texas Centennial has not yet been decided on. An old-time Valentine box will be given at the school on the afternoon of Valentine day. The Reverend Reichburg gave a lecture on "Ben-Hur" at the school district 12-B. When Collins said that Maria was nearer to all clubs of the north half than the south half of the district he evidently had his mind far, far away from what he was writing. Just before hanging this on the hook Bill Howard, erstwhile chunker of the Southern Ice soft ball club dropped in to inform us that not only they enter a team in the league this season but would have a better one they did last season when they won the "Fur Linc-Goboon" for the championship of the league. Howard went so far in his praise of the club for this season that he convinced himself it would be the best club the league had ever had. Maybe so, but we seem to have a faint memory of a pitcher named Chewing.

Low and Holt New "Sez You" Team at Ritz

Two of the screen's most virile, wise-cracking he-men—Edmund Lowe and Jack Holt—are teamed for the first time in "The Best Man Wins," which opens today at the Ritz Theatre. It makes not only a rare but a cracking combination, which propels the action, comedy, and drama with the power of lightning flashing from thunderheads. Supreme in their own elements as screen individuals known for their deviousness, sharply etched characterization, and flashing repartee, Lowe and Holt together make the sparks fly from every scene, action and bit of powerful drama in this amazing photographic story of the hazardous, adventurous lives of deepsea divers. The rowdy, robust screen action starts when Lowe and Holt first scrap over the affections of the beauteous Miss Rice, with Lowe bearing a slight advantage. An accident during a salvage operation, however, results in the amputation of one of Lowe's arms. Unwilling to force himself upon the girl in such condition he disappears, joins a smuggling ring as a diver and ultimately sacrifices his life to save that of Holt's in a underwater encounter. The spectacularly sensational underwater scenes which comprise a good deal of the film's breath-taking action were filmed in the crystal clear waters of Santa Catalina Island Channel. It is the first sub-sea motion picture, authorities hold, to present night scenes, which were made possible—and also strikingly beautiful—by the newly developed underwater illumination accomplished by studio technicians. The manager plan of government is used in 425 cities and six counties in the United States. A hole was drilled through an ordinary pin without damaging it, by Henry Huss, Meaford, Ont.

P. T. A.'s Indorse "David Copperfield" Playing at Yucca

Indorsed by the P.T.A.'s of Midland as a picture suitable for young and old, and one which will benefit those seeing it, "David Copperfield" opened at the Yucca at last night's preview for a three-day run through Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. With an all-star cast fairly scintillating with "big names," "David Copperfield," Charles Dickens's favorite novel, comes to life with its myriad of interesting characters, through the medium of the films. No picture since the advent of sound has been more widely heralded than "David Copperfield." More than a year in the making, it is the latest motion picture achievement of David O. Selznick, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer produced noted for "Viva Villa!" "Little Women" and many other history-making productions. Sixty-five stars and featured players make up the "key" characters of the cast. W. C. Fields creates the immortal Wilkins Micawber, Esq., the impudent but happy wastrel who is "always expecting something to turn up." Lionel Barrymore, Madge Evans, Maureen O'Sullivan, Edna May Oliver, Lewis Stone, Frank Layton, Freddie Bartholomew, Elizabeth Allan, Roland Young, Basil Rathbone, Elsa Lanchester, Jean Cadwell, Jessie Ralph, Lennox Browne, Violet Kemble-Cooper, Una O'Connor, John Buckler, Hugh Williams, Ivan Simpson, Herbert Mundin, Fay Chaldeoff, Marilyn Knowlden, Florine McKimney, Harry Beresford, Mable Colcord and Hugh Walpole. These are among the distinguished players who were chosen to create characters that are immortal figures of literature. WHAT IS CREDIT? Credit is not something which the bank gives to you. The bank merely helps you to cash or to use more widely the credit you already have. Your credit represents a combination of your character, your business capital, your prospects, your property, or collateral of one kind or another. If you have none of these things, you have no credit, and no bank can supply what you lack. On the other hand, if you establish your credit with your bank by continued trustworthy dealings, you have both an asset and a reference of great value. Also, when you need a loan for some safe, legitimate purpose, you can usually secure the necessary accommodation. That is what it means to have banking credit.

WHEN A GYPSY PEDDLER

By Helen Welshimer

WHEN a gypsy peddler knocked upon my door, begging for the time to open up his store,

I RECEIVED him gayly. Fed him bread and milk. Then I said: "Don't show me yards and yards of silk."

"I'VE no need of dresses, Rings and dancing tines; Spices, perfumes, bracelets, Gold and silver spoons."

"FOR, you see, I'm looking For a gypsy brew, So the man I love will start to love me, too."

"TELL me, why do peddlers Any time they stop Try to sell me trinkets Found at any shop?"

"WOULDN'T you think one lad From the throng who knock Would have had a potion In his proffered stock?"

WHY I am so hopeful Each new one may show Something I can purchase Darling, I don't know!
