Dr. Selecman to Preach Commencement Sermon

Preaching the annual commencement sermon for the graduating class of Midland high school, Dr. Chas. C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist university, Dallas, will speak at the high school auditorium at 11 o'clock this morning, taking for his subject, "Human Progress."

Four Midland churches will join in the service, their pastors taking part in prayer or scripture reading or their choirs joining in the group singing.

School officials advised that all who plan to attend the services, which are open to the public, be in the auditorium prior to 11 o'clock, as the building is expected to be crowded and the program will start promptly on the scheduled hour.

Dr. Selecman has appeared on the high school stage here before addressing graduates, and school officials expressed great satisfaction at being able to secure him for the sermon today.

He has had a notable career as a preacher, orator and educator in the south.

He holds degrees from several universities. During the war he had extensive experience, serving overseas as a chaplain in the American army.

He has filled several important pastorates of the Southern Methodist church, including the famous Trinity church in Los Angeles and the First Methodist church of Dallas.

The transfers were described as routine.

Amarillo Mayor for Home Rule in County

AMARILLO, Texas, May 18. (AP)—Merger of the Amarillo city and Potter county governments under home rule would effect a saving of at least $100,000 annually, Mayor Ross D. Rogers states.

In an address before the Amarillo Real Estate board, Mayor Rogers pointed out that the cost of operating the city government was about $200,000 a year and that the operating cost of the county was about $100,000.

"Under home rule the merged government could function with greater efficiency and greater convenience to the citizens for at least $100,000 less," he said.

F. M. Brumer, vice-president of the State Association of Real Estate boards, also spoke on the program, which was dedicated to reduction of the tax burden on real estate.

Upon his motion the board voted to recommend that the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce appoint a committee of seven to be charged with the responsibility of presenting the home rule issue to the people of Potter county.

Mayor Rogers explained that city and county debts could be kept separate and could be paid out of taxes collected on respective city and county property.

Potter county owes slightly more than $1,000,000, while the bonded indebtedness of the city of Amarillo is more than $5,500,000.

RECOVERY BY SELFISHNESS

If everyone connected with the cycle of repairing and modernizing American homes could be written by an attack of intelligent selfishness, our swing back toward prosperity would get an enormous impetus.

This is the statement of Louis J. Albrer, chief of the speakers' division of the Federal Housing Administration. He points out that if repairs were made upon all American homes which really need them, it would keep 6,000,000 workers busy for a solid year—which, at a low estimate, would inject at least $6,000,000,000 into the channels of trade.

"But it is only intelligent selfishness that will put the program across," he warns. "The home owner must be selfish enough to want betterment of his home, the banker to make interest on his loan, the builder his profit, and the worker his wage."

It is to be hoped that Mr. Albrer can sell his idea. Putting 6,000,000 men to work in the building trades would deal the depression a body blow.

WAY TO STOP BILLBOARDS

The fight against the billboard nuisance is usually hampered by the fact that the billboard is erected on private property and is therefore held to be very nearly outside the scope of regulatory laws.

However, Nature Magazine points out that the Massachusetts Supreme Court recently handed down a decision ruling that a society which has the power to regulate against offenses to the nose and the ear has also the power to regulate against offenses to the eye.

The court is explicit in holding that the billboard industry does not possess an inalienable right "to use private land as a vantage ground from which to obtrude upon all the public traveling upon highways, whether indifferent, reluctant, hostile or interested, an unescapable propaganda."

Those are welcome words, indeed. The decision is a landmark in the long fight to rid our countryside of its distressing eyesores.

"INSANITY" ON A SANE BASIS

It is surprising how injection of a little plain common sense into the involved framework of criminal law can look like a startling innovation.

Oklahoma has just passed a new law to cover the "insanity defense" in murder cases. It provides that if a defendant in a murder trial be acquitted on the ground of insanity, he shall be confined in a lunatic asylum as a dangerous and irresponsible person.

This, to a public grown weary of the "insanity defense" racket, looks like nothing but ordinary good sense. If a man commits murder because he cannot control his emotions, cannot distinguish right from wrong, and thus cannot be held accountable for his acts, it would seem only logical to lock him in a place provided for such people.

But the Oklahoma action comes as a surprising change, just the same. The surprise indicates how this kind of defense has been abused.

MEASURE OF PROGRESS

One good barometer of general business conditions is the amount of freight traffic carried on the Great Lakes; and it is encouraging to note that figures compiled this year at the Sault Ste. Marie locks, connecting Lake Superior with the lower lakes, indicate a strong pickup in such traffic.

The locks opened in April. By the end of the month, some 888,000 tons of freight had passed through them—a tremendous gain over last year, which is only partly accounted for by the fact that the locks opened 13 days earlier this year than in 1934.

The freight that moves by the Soo is mostly bulk freight—iron ore, coal, wheat, and flour; the kind of freight the movement of which in huge quantities bespeaks a general business revival.

These figures for April indicate pretty clearly that some kind of revival actually is taking place.

Hair Can Be Well Cared For at Home By Following Rules

By ALICIA HART, NEA Service Staff Writer

Providing she has a few basic preparations and a carefully planned routine, the woman who always shampoos and cares for her hair at home can have as healthy a scalp as anyone who goes to a professional for treatments. As a matter of fact, what with the opportunity for drying her hair in the open air and sunshine, there's no reason why she should envy others who can spend several dollars a week on their hair.

Remember, of course, that the type of shampoo you use is most important. Never rub a cake of soap directly on your hair. If you don't have commercially prepared soapy liquid, make one yourself. Simply shave a cake of bland soap into a glass jar of lukewarm water and let it stand until the soap is dissolved. When you are ready to wash your hair, put a little of the thick soap jelly in a cup and dilute it with warm water.

In addition to whatever tonic you use to correct a special scalp condition, get a stimulating tonic to massage into your scalp while you are drying your hair. There are many good ones on the market today and, without making hair sticky or hard to manage, they tend to alleviate dandruff and lighten up hair that looks slightly dingy. One excellent tonic of this type—made by a reliable manufacturer and packed in a box with a bottle of nice olive oil shampoo—

THE Pan-American Congress of 1909 brought out new stamps from several American countries, but perhaps the most glowing tribute to the founders of independence in the western hemisphere is the 1909 issue of Brazil. The stamp portrays the five great liberators of the Americas surrounding a symbolic figure of Brazil.

These national heroes are George Washington, "Father" of the United States; Simon Bolivar, "Liberator" of Colombia, Venezuela, Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia; Jose Bonifacio, Brazil's "Patriarch of Independence"; Bernardino O'Higgins, head of the first permanent government of Chile; and Miguel Hidalgo, a patriot priest of Mexico. The stamp commemorates of these men is a beautiful blue, of only one value, the 200 reis. (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

HEALTH
MRS. ADDISON YOUNG

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." Remember how many times you used to pound out that sentence on the typewriter, when you were "taking the Commercial Course" in high school? At last I have found a chance to do that sentence, and I hope I can write it without a mistake!

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country" BY SEEKING TO PREVENT A CROP OF DIPHTHERIA NEXT FALL AND WINTER. If all such men will make certain their families are immune to the disease they can insure a huge crop failure in that particular field, and at the same time protect the health of their families and friends.

Dr. W. E. Ryan, city health officer, says in regard to diphtheria immunization: "I advise my private patients to have all children between the ages of one year and ten years given the diphtheria toxoid. It does not harm them and if they are susceptible, which is true of the majority of children at that age, it gives over 90 percent protection. We also advise that after three months they return for a Schick test to determine if immunity has been created. Those who failed to develop immunity will be discovered and be given a repeat dose of the toxoid, which usually brings about the desired protection.

"Since the Schick test requires more time and skill in administration than does the toxoid injection, and since it does not give immunity to diphtheria, we do not advise giving it to children under 10 years of age previous to receiving the immunizing dose of toxoid."

In Midland county for the past two years the county health nurse, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, and the city physicians have cooperated with the state health department in giving free diphtheria toxoid to those who were unable to pay a private physician. Miss Wilson is urging this year that those children who have had toxoid go to their physicians for the Schick test this spring, and find out if immunity persists. She is also urging that all families in the county whose children have not had the toxoid treatment make an effort to obtain this protection. No free clinics will be held this year.

FORD V-8

Everything you want in a modern motor car

WHEN you talk to the man who owns and drives the car, you're pretty sure to get an opinion you can bank on. We asked a recent purchaser of a Ford V-8 how he liked it.

"It has everything," he said. "Everything I've ever wanted in a motor car."

Nothing spectacular about that—no loud shouting. But it sums up the whole story of the Ford V-8 and the reason it is setting the pace for 1935. That has been the Ford idea always—to give people a well-balanced, all-around car. No one feature is stressed at the expense of others.

Of course the V-8 engine stood out from the beginning. The idea of putting into a low-priced car an engine which had always been associated with the most expensive makes was new and revolutionary. But it was not an experiment. We knew it would prove to be economical as well as smooth and powerful—because we had tested it.

In this 1935 Ford we have tried to bring the entire car up to the modern performance of the V-8 engine. We have aimed for beauty and balance and comfort—as well as usefulness and economy. You probably know some people who are driving this car. We would like to have you ask them how they like it.

Fluddubs

BY JESS RODGERS

Thanks to other people, it will not be hard to turn back a little copy for the copy esta dia. We will start it with a letter, received by this department from someone who refused to divulge their identity but explained that their statements were wise. The letter:

The local baseball club, made up entirely of players who live in Midland and who have jobs here is shaping up somewhat and should mould itself into a fair little club and afford the fans some good clean entertainment.

The club this year will be self-supporting. A small donation was taken at the outset to get balls and bats to start the training season and it is not anticipated the business men will be asked for any further donations.

The boys who are playing are doing so for the love of the game and in the interest of good clean sport and entertainment for local fans.

The local park for the use of the club is in good condition and there is no reason why the public should not support the local team. The admission price is small and the club for last year's operation owes $100. The management is attempting to pay this off as quickly as possible and your attendance and support of the club this year is earnestly solicited.

Some games with good teams in the local class are being arranged and you will enjoy going out to the park as these games are announced and advertised.

This explanation and information is given to the public by a fan after learning the facts from those who know about the business end of the club.

Thank for the letter to whoever sent it in and after the showing that the club made last Sunday we are willing to lend our voice and moral support to the club.

Just our luck to miss the game last week. The week before we went out to the game three different times and the longer it lasted the worse it got so we decided not to attend last week. Went to Odessa instead and saw the Midland black Colts drub the Odessa darkeys by a score somewhere close to 15-1.

From the Sporting News: Mull Haas is supposed to have ruined his chance of being traded to the Detroit Tigers when he heckled his old friend, Mickey Cochrane, during a meeting in Chicago. "Mickey's going Crazy, Mickey's going Crazy," Haas kept yelling from the Sox bench. "I wouldn't have that guy on a bet," Cochrane is supposed to have said after Haas carried the fun too far.

Babe Ruth, who has been having a terrible time getting under way this season, professes to be burned up with the success of Sad Sam Jones. "That guy beats Detroit twice and the Yankees once in the first three weeks of the season and he broke in a year ahead of me," Babe growled the other day. Jones can still outrun any other member of the Sox and only Friday pitched 12 innings against Boston before being beaten. The Babe managed to stagger through seven innings the same day.

Umpire Bill Stewart may know his strikes and balls, but not his medicine. When Burgess Whitehead, utility infielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, protested that he had been hit on the hand by a pitched ball in the May 11 game in Philadelphia, the umpire called it a foul strike. "The pitch hit me on the hand," protested Whitehead. "All right, I'll spit on it for you," Stewart allegedly said. Protests were of no avail. That night Whitehead had the hand X-rayed and the plates showed the thumb broken in three places. Manager Frisch thereupon sent a report to President Ford C. Frick, with statements by several of the Cardinal players, including Whitehead, confirming Stewart's act.

Larry Gilbert, Jr., son of the manager of the New Orleans Pelicans, will soon give up radio work to start his career as a professional ball player. Young Gilbert has been serving as announcer of play-by-play accounts of Pelican games for a local broadcasting station.

More batting practice has been ordered for Dixie Howell, former University of Alabama star athlete, outjogged to Birmingham by Detroit, before he can regularly crash the Baron line-up. Visibly off from a month's lay-off, following a near fatal injury sustained in an exhibition practice session with Detroit, Howell failed to get on base his first seven times at bat for the Barons.

Business manager Billy Evans of the Cleveland Indians announced last week that more than 40,000 reservations had been made for the major league All-Star game, to be played in Cleveland on July 8. At

Little Mickey Wins Dallas Race Friday

Little Mickey finally made his start at the Dallas Fair Park races Friday, and what a start!

Beating the gate by a big jump and running into a long early lead, according to The Dallas News, the Paul Harvey gelding, trained by Doc Bloss of Midland, had a breeze in the second race for three year old non-winners and won easily by eight lengths from C. B. Daniels' Uleudus.

Uleudus was two and one-half lengths in front of Farris Hawkins' Parqua Pass, which was a neck better than Contrast for the show. While Little Mickey made a run-away of the race from the start and had too much jump for Uleudus, saddled by Jack Jarvis, to close, the latter was second from soon after the start to the finish and Parqua Pass, which gave way to Happy Venture, the hot tip, at the far turn, came again and ran in her best form to grab the short end.

George course, 165 feet less than five furlongs, in 1:03 1-5 and certificates paid: Little Mickey $10.50, $7.00, $5; Uleudus $24.10, $12.50, $8.50.

Several Midland sportsmen had tickets on Little Mickey's nose or played him across the board, reports Saturday said.

that time only 28,000 seats remained to be claimed. "It looks like a sell-out before June 1," said Evans, who added that no reservations are made unless the request is accompanied by cash, money order or certified check.

The Sand Belt golf team will journey over to Stanton today for a league game. The local team should increase their lead over other teams in the circuit as the Stanton team has been a "push-over" in all their games so far.

Anyone is interested in knowing who will win the Midland sockball race this season, here is the answer. The Continental. Don't know who they will have on the team except one man. They have signed up the best darn second sacker that ever roamed the woods in this section of the country. Sure I am talking about myself.

Elmer Currie came by yesterday and wanted me to go to Iraan with him to a ball game that he was to officiate but it could not be. I figured that village once upon a time and undertook to blind Tom a game and darn near lost my four H's—Head, heart, hands and heels. Since that time we have scratched the name of that place off our visiting list.

The Colts will play the Wink Wildcats here this afternoon at four and it should turn out to be a pretty fair little game. Wink has much the same club that won the Permian Basin League first half pennant a couple of years ago but they do not rate so much higher than the local club.

The Wink team still has Bill Mayfield pitching for them and he is plenty tough to beat. He is inclined to choke-up, however, when the opposing team gets one or two men on base.

Shifflet proved last Sunday that he can last the full nine innings and with another week of work on his arm since that time is apt to be able to beat down over the whole route today.

The Midland batters are beginning to find their batting eyes while the infield is showing an increase in efficiency in practice sessions.

This department was informed that it had been elected as score keeper for the nocturnal ball games this season after the manager's meeting the other night. Not having been present at the time to return such a great honor, we are using this column to say, "No Soap."

However, we have an idea that we would like to put before the league fathers in regard to the scorekeeping department and if they will be kind enough to call a meeting of the managers and let us know when and where we will be glad to spill it.

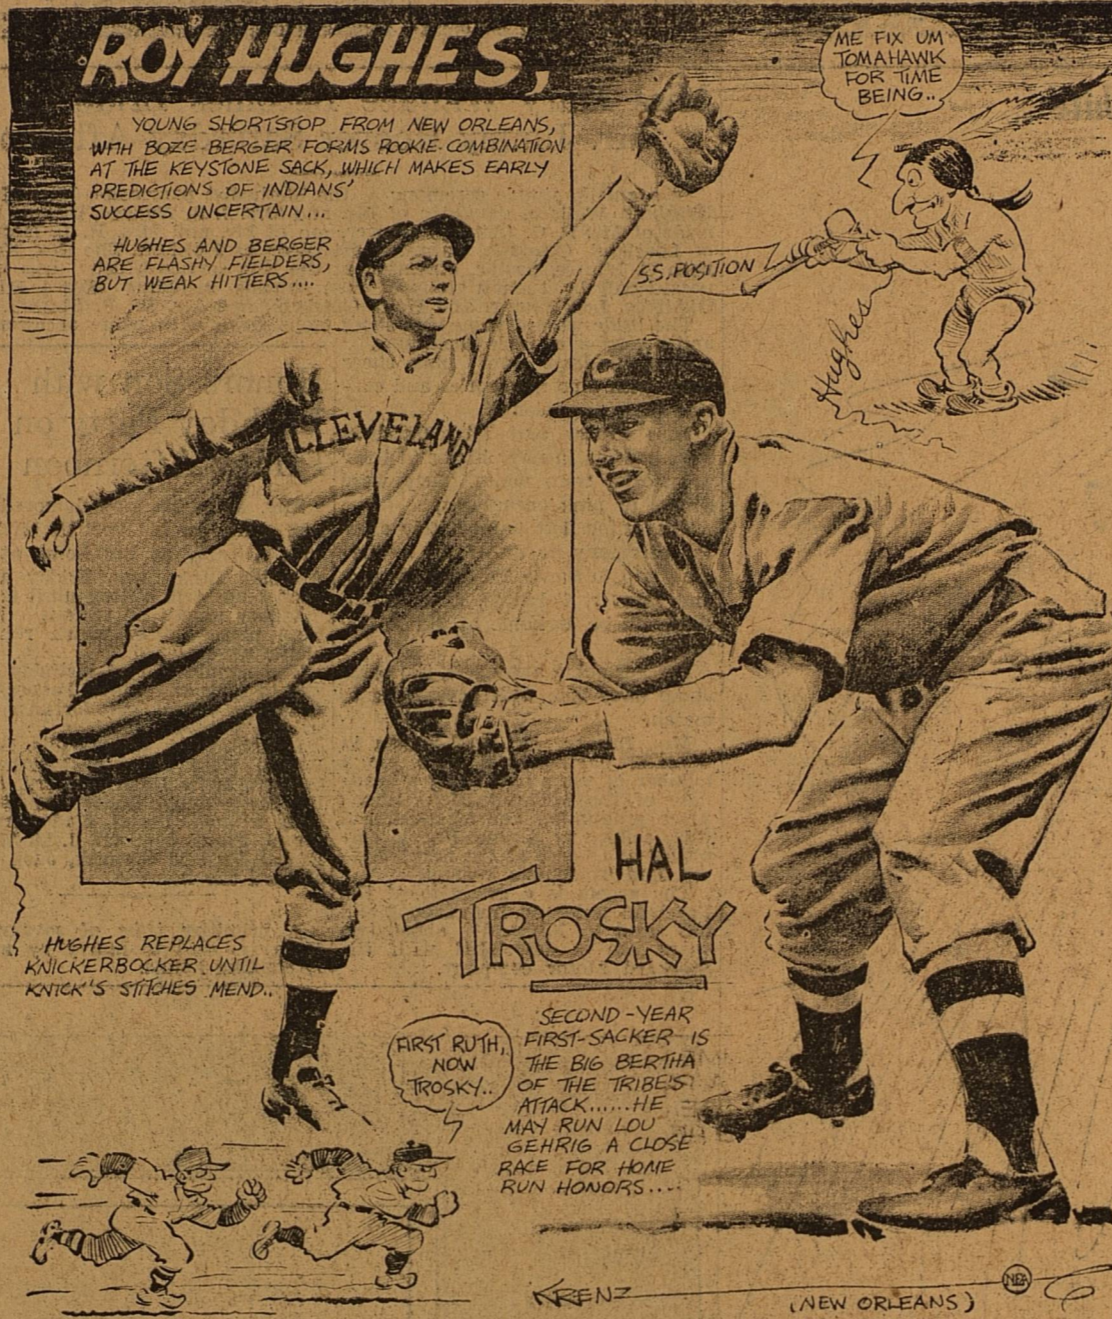

Time now to buzz off. I'll see you at the ball game.

Collie Offers Empty Dish

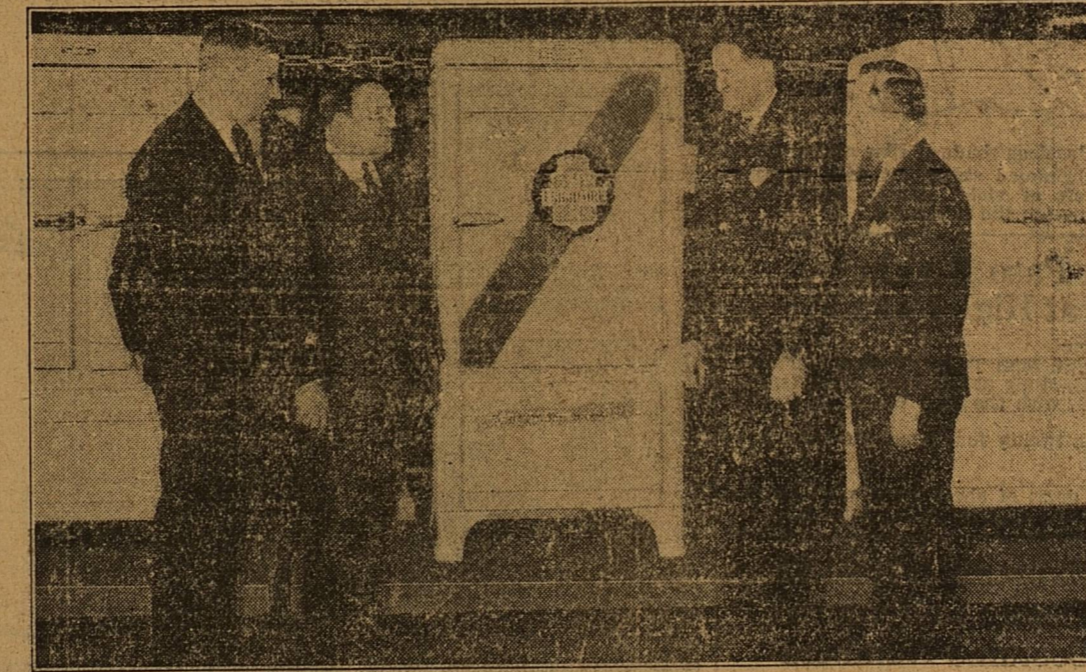

SOUTH HAMPTON, N. H. (U.P.)—Rover, a Scotch collie dog, has developed a few habits of its own. When Gilman Smith, the owner, fails to feed the dog enough food, it takes its plate in its mouth and presents the empty dish to its master. Rover also has acquired the habit of ringing the door bell with a paw when ready to come in.

DELAWARE PREPARES TO HANG MOTHER, 52, AND HER SON, 27

GEORGETOWN, Del., (U.P.)—A Del. mother and her son are to die on the gallows here on June 7.

Mrs. May Carey, 52, and her oldest child, Howard, 27, are to be executed for the murder of the woman's brother.

The case is one of the strangest in the annals of police history. The murder took place in 1927, but it was not until last December authorities discovered who was responsible for the crime.

Attorney General P. Warren Green outlining the case to the United Press, said the plot centered around the Carey family, who planned to collect $2,000 life insurance upon the death of Robert H. Hitchens, of Frankford.

Laid in Wait

The original plan of Mrs. Carey, according to testimony, was for the mother and two of her three sons to conceal themselves in Hitchens' home, waiting for the automobile mechanic to return home from work. They took with them a bottle of whiskey, a white oak club and a sledge hammer.

Hitchens was struck on the head by Howard Carey as he entered his house. The man, half stunned, attempted to flee but Mrs. Carey, Howard and another son, James, 23, attacked the man.

Authorities charged that Mrs. Carey beat her brother to death with the sledge hammer. She then opened the man's mouth and poured whiskey down his throat. Whiskey was poured on his clothing and glasses were shattered on the floor.

Had Murder Weapon

Mrs. Carey and her three sons were immediately arrested. On April 26, the woman, Howard and James were convicted for first degree murder with a jury recommendation for "mercy".

James, who was but 16 years old at the time of the crime, was given a life imprisonment sentence. Mrs. Carey and Howard were sentenced to death. Lawrence, who was only 14 years years old then, was not implicated as he testified he had only heard his mother and brothers plot the crime.

One Day Crime The trial of Mrs. Carey and her sons lasted but one day. The woman said she was "all to blame" and that she had forced her sons to assist her, promising Howard a new automobile for his aid.

Chief Justice Daniel J. Layton, who imposed the sentences, characterized the crime as the "most breaking. He was questioned about the death of Hitchens and finally made a confession.

Chief Justice Daniel J. Layton, who imposed the sentences, characterized the crime as the "most vicious in the criminal annals of Delaware."

Mrs. Carey and Howard are now in "murderer's row" of the Sussex County jail. He friends are making a last minute effort to have the State Pardon Board commute their sentences to life imprisonment.

Sets a Record

Mrs. Carey will be the first white woman to be executed in Delaware history. About 5 years ago Sarah Bradley, a Negress, was hanged for giving a white child a solution with sulphur matches in it. There is a tale that in 1731 a white woman was burned at the stake for the murder of her husband.

Sussex County jailyard, where the two are to be hanged, is an open courtyard. Since hanging must be in private, witnessed only by a jury and newspapermen, a board enclosure will be built around the scaffold.

The gallows are now stored at the workhouse near Wilmington and will be brought here, 9 miles, by truck. The prison where the woman and her son are confined is a new brick building, that looks more like a country schoolhouse than a prison, with a touch of colonial architecture.

Mark of the Vampire Now Showing at Ritz

Sinister shadows, vampires that roam in the night, terror in its ultimate intensity, blend with suspense, thrills, romance and comedy in "Mark of the Vampire," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's amazing detective thriller now showing through Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre.

Dealing with a mysterious crime, in the midst of an uncanny vampire cult, the story deals with a detective whose wits are pitted against the "un-dead" and who by an amazing strategy uncovers one of the strangest criminals in modern literature.

Lionel Barrymore plays the principal role as Professor Zelen, amazing student of demonology, who aids the police in ferreting out a vampire horde. Bela Lugosi, of "Dracula" fame, plays the horrific vampire. Count Mora, and Carol Lombard is Luna, his vampire daughter. They figure in blood-chilling episodes in a weird old castle. Romance is provided by pretty Elizabeth Allan and Henry Wadsworth in the role of the terror. Jean Hersholt is the dominating Baron Otto.

Candidacy of Coke For Gov'r Talked

AUSTIN, May 18. (P.)—The biennial boom to make Coke R. Stevenson, speaker of the house, governor, has started.

It began the closing day of the 44th regular session of the legislature as members and employes showered the speaker and his wife with gifts. The keynote was sounded by Rep. J. Franklin Spears of San Antonio, one of Stevenson's strongest admirers.

Stevenson has been nominated for governor at virtually every session since the close of the 43rd. He smiles enigmatically every time he is nominated, although the nominating speeches usually receive loud applause in the house where Stevenson wields a strong influence.

Many of Stevenson's friends would like to see him make the race and would support him but there are few who believe the office offers sufficient attraction to the raw boned West Texan to engage in what undoubtedly would be because of Stevenson's location in a sparsely settled country, a hard campaign.

Should he decide to run, however, he would have the nucleus of a good campaign organization reaching into virtually every county. In addition to those who support him for speaker, Stevenson has gained many friends among his opposition.

Stevenson's political plans depend largely on what turn events take in the next several months preceding the primary elections. If Governor Allred seeks a second term it is highly doubtful Stevenson would get into the race. As things now shape up it is improbable that Allred will be satisfied with one term as governor and will ask re-election.

It was noted that Stevenson avoided the subject in acknowledging the gifts. He delivered instead an extemporaneous talk on the legislature and its relation to government.

The members presented Stevenson with three sections of a steel book case. Numerous other gifts were received, including a radio, a suit of clothes, a camera and a clock. Stevenson never carries a watch. In the closing hours of the session when the clocks had been stopped to delay adjournment Stevenson was forced to depend on his secretary for the time. Outside the legislature he has no use for one of the "gadgets."

Graduates of Midland High School long have had a background of which they may well be proud. This pride is based on both the strong curriculum of the school and on the well rounded activities which broaden the student and fit him for public contacts.

The schools have 39 units of affiliation, rivaling the standing of some of the greater cities of Texas with respect to preparation for college work. Recognition by the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges has been accorded annually for many years, signifying the high esteem in which the local schools are held by noted educators.

However, the strong scholastic courses do not constitute the only phase of work for which the Midland schools have become famous. Famed for good singing and good music, concert literary readings, an active high school literary society, annual successful records in debate and declamation in competition with schools of the district and of the state, outstanding records of accomplishments in home economics departments, a well rounded program of athletics, and—last, but by no means least—a school spirit which has been said to surpass that of many of the greater colleges, Midland High School has been placed practically in a class by itself.

National and state figures, as well as casual observers, who have visited the schools and have witnessed the work done, have announced Midland students as highly fortunate in being able to attend such an institution.

Turning to the affairs of the school district and the direction of activities, the Midland schools, through their strong financial condition, have been able to carry on their well planned departments with enviable staffs of teachers and with excellent equipment.

A modern high school building, another equally as well built and equipped for the junior high school and two elementary school plants are in use, also two Mexican schools and a negro school, all under the direction of Midland Independent School District Number One.

Students leaving Midland High School have been given the best available instruction and equipment for college work and for leading useful lives.

Commencement Sermon This Morning Opens Final Week

DR. CHAS. C. SELECMAN, PRESIDENT OF SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY, TO DRAW LESSON FROM 'HUMAN PROGRESS'

Opening the principal and final week of the high school graduating exercises, the commencement sermon will be preached this morning at the school auditorium by Dr. Chas. C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist university, Dallas.

"Human Progress" will be the subject of the inspirational address from which the speaker will draw the sermon lessons.

Beginning at 11 o'clock, with several churches of the city cooperating in the union service, the commencement sermon will be augmented by a strong program of music and singing.

The processional "Priests' March" will be played while the members of the graduating class make an impressive entrance from the high school corridors down the center aisle of the auditorium to the front rows of seats reserved for them. Clad in caps and gowns, the students annually are featured in this ceremony prior to hearing the sermon.

"The Angelus" will be sung by the high school chorus and community choirs, three pianos playing the accompaniment.

The Rev. K. C. Minter, pastor of the First Methodist church, will give the invocation.

The high school chorus and community choirs then will sing "Come Unto Me."

Concert readings, (a) "100th Psalm," (b) "Ruth 1:16-17" and (c) "The Chambered Nautilus," will be given by the high school.

A ladies' chorus, with Mrs. Foy Proctor, solo and obligato; Mrs. De Lo Douglas, Miss Marguerite Eivers and Mrs. Byron Norris, first sopranos; Mrs. Jack Hawkins, Van Camp and Don Quarles, second sopranos, and Misses Edna Marie Jones, Elma Graves, Lotta Williams and Juanita Cox, altos, will sing "Ave Maria." At the pianos will be Mrs. Fred Wilcox and Mrs. Holt Jowell.

Scripture reading, "Philippians 4:4-9," will be given by the Rev. W. J. Coleman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Roy Parks, soprano, will sing "My Task."

The commencement sermon by Dr. Selecman will follow. "Pilgrims' Chorus" then will be sung by the high school chorus and community choirs.

The benediction will be given by the Rev. J. E. Pickering, pastor of the First Christian church, after which the recessional will be played by Mrs. Douglas, Miss Lomax and Miss Jones.

Ushers who will aid in seating the crowds this morning include E. H. Barron, W. C. Shull, Holt Jowell, Rawlins Clark, C. W. Brenneman, W. F. Heil, C. A. McClintic, Jack Hawkins, D. E. Gabbert, Ronald Morgan, Claude O. Crane, J. H. Williams and B. C. Henderson.

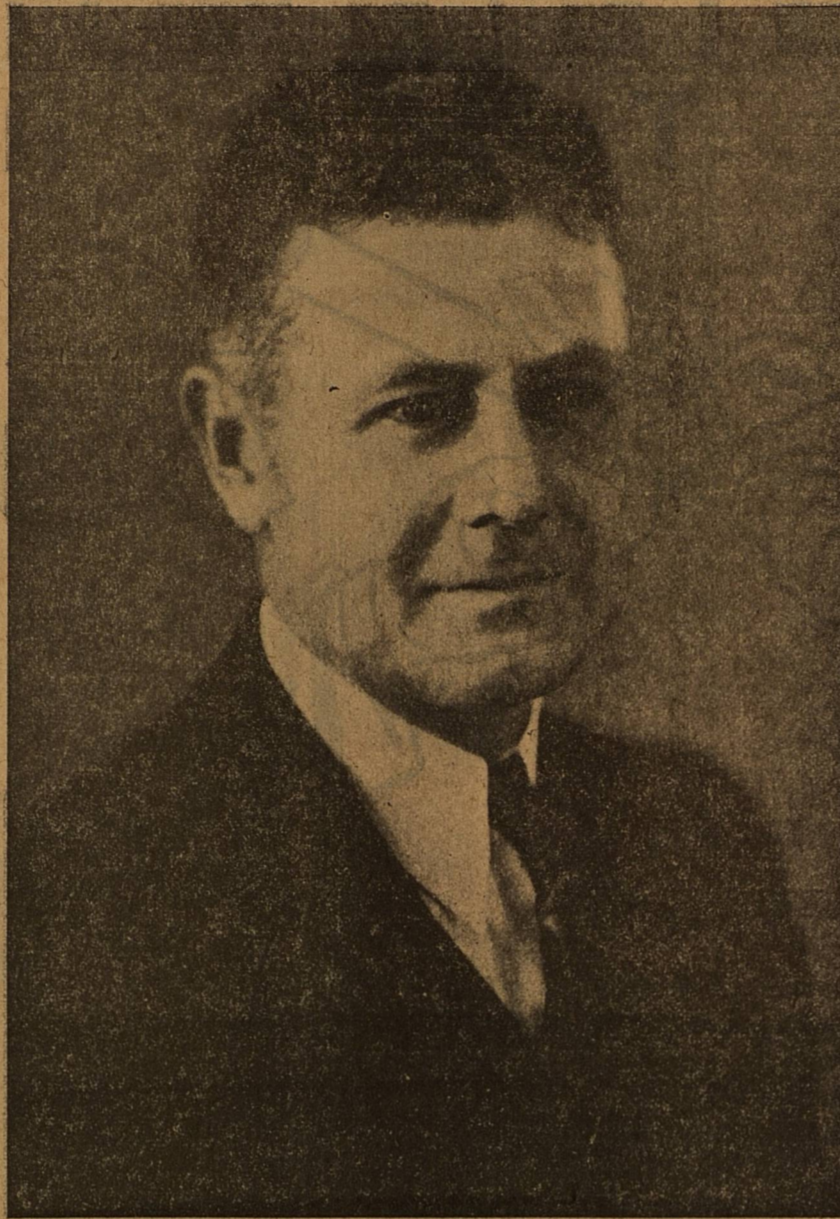

Many Sunday school classes, it was indicated, will adjourn earlier than usual to allow members to get seats at the high school auditorium. The service begins promptly at 11 o'clock, it was announced.

Hail Gentle Spring

BINGHAM, Utah. (UP)—Spring is here! And because the household of Thomas Mannion was denuding its energies to springtime routines, Mrs. Mannion was treated at the Bingham Hospital. Bolivia has two capitals. Sucre is the real and legal capital, but La Paz is so much more important commercially and more readily accessible that the national congress meets there.

PRINCIPAL D. D. SHIFLETT B. A., M. A.

Serving as principal of Midland High School for nine years, D. D. Shiflett has set a record for conscientious work, efficient shouldering of responsibility and details and for inspiration to the student body. Before giving full time as principal, he coached athletics and turned out several successful teams, especially in football.

SUPERINTENDENT W. W. LACKEY B. A., M. A.

Re-elected recently to serve his thirtieth year as superintendent of the Midland public schools, W. W. Lackey occupies an outstanding position in Texas and southern educational circles. He came to Midland when the school had only ten grades, one building, and no units of affiliation. By a system of gradual improvement and aggressive business management, in cooperation with a progressive school board, the institution now has six well equipped buildings, 39 units of affiliation and a reputation of activities which is known throughout the south.

Lions Honor Oldster

HASTINGS, Neb. (UP)—Solomon Ricketts, 114 years old and the oldest member of American Lions clubs, was guest of honor here at the annual Nebraska convention of Lions. Ricketts, who lives at St. Paul, Neb., had planned to attend the convention for months and the trip here was the longest he had taken in years.

Poachers Fish for Wild Geese

AMHERST, N. S. (UP)—Fishing for wild geese is the latest trick devised by poachers here to outwit game wardens. Police investigations have revealed that the poachers lay out long lines with fish hooks, baited with corn, attached at intervals. The geese, in picking up the corn, swallow the hooks too. All the poachers have to do is to kill them and take them home.

The phrase, "the almighty dollar," is attributed to Washington Irving. It appears twice in Irving's "Creole Village," first published in England in 1837.

Anniversary of Lindbergh Flight Observed Today

NEW YORK, May 18. (AP)—The morning was gray and ugly, poor flying weather, and a gangling, lousy-headed youth glanced at the sky and into the cockpit of a silver monoplane poised on the runway at Roosevelt field, Long Island. "When I get into that little cabin I'll be like getting into the death chamber at Sing Sing," he said. He carried the thought a little further.

"If I get out alive at Paris it's going to be like a pardon from the governor."

That virtually took care of the speech-making attendant on Charles "Slim" Lindbergh's take-off eight years ago next Monday for the first non-stop New York-to-Paris flight.

A few associates and fellow fliers watched him climb into the cabin of his "Spirit of St. Louis" monoplane and roar down the runway. The heavily-laden ship rose a few feet and bounced to earth again. Would he make it? Lindbergh did, but not comfortably. The plane barely cleared some telephone wires. There was no farewell circling of the field then, no final flourishes.

The take-off was at 7:52 a. m. on a Friday. The young unknown who came out of the west as a U. S. mail pilot was headed for Paris and a $25,000 prize. He carried a chicken wish-bone in his pocket—his one concession to superstition.

Through rain and fog along the North Atlantic coast he speeded, and at St. John's, Newfoundland, pointed the silver nose of the plane directly for Ireland.

Darkness enveloped him, and the world waited breathlessly. During the night Lindbergh maintained an average speed of 100 miles an hour keeping well above the rain, snow and sleet of the lower levels.

Late the next night a French military officer turned from his microphone at Le Bourget field, Paris, and announced he could hear the drone of an airplane motor. A sky-flare was sent up and it revealed the "Spirit of St. Louis" 500 feet up.

Lindbergh brought his ship down at 10:21 p. m. The flying time for his 3,610 mile trip was 33 hours and 20 minutes.

Among Lindbergh's note worthy later trips was an Asiatic flight in 1931, and two years later a 30,000 mile survey of oceanic air routes which took him to 21 countries. Mrs. Lindbergh accompanied him.

Rotarians, Lions To Drive Safely To Mexico City

LAREDO, May 18. (P)—Rotarians and Lions will be able to drive comfortably over the Pan American highway to Mexico City for their conventions this summer.

That is the word released by two Mexican cabinet ministers, the director general of national highways and Jack Yeaman, leading American observer for the past five years of construction work on the famous highway.

Rudolfo Elias Calles, secretary of communications and son of the "father" of the Mexican revolution; Narciso E. Bassols, secretary of the Treasury, Jose L. Gonzales, director general of national highways, and Yeaman met recently in Tamozunchale, picturesque Indian village in the heart of the mountains north of Mexico City, for a final inspection of the construction work.

"The progress made since my last inspection in March is amazing," Yeaman declared on returning to Laredo. "Two months ago I didn't believe that the Mexican government's program calling for the opening of the highway June 15 could be carried out. Now I know that it can be."

City there will be 574 miles of asphalt paving, 146 miles of first class gravel, and 47 miles of provisional graveling which will be a little rough but passable in any kind of weather. The three rivers which have been crossed by ferries in the past, he stated, will be spanned either by temporary pontoon bridges or by plankings across the steel work of the new structures which are nearing completion. One pontoon bridge has been opened. "I'll supply all the money necessary to have the work done in time," Bassols promised after the conference. "With the money, ten thousand men at my disposal and plenty of machinery, I'll guarantee that it will be ready," was Gonzalez assurance. Yeaman cautioned those who plan to drive through that "there will be a tremendous volume of traffic this summer and the existing accommodations can handle only a limited volume." It will be advisable, he added, for those who drive through to make provisions for camping one night along the way and they should make reservations for a place to stay in Mexico City.

MIDLAND BOYS INTERESTED IN SCOUT WORK FOR SUMMER ARE GIVEN MESSAGE

Many boys of the Midland schools, facing the end of their year's work this week, are laying plans for participation in Boy Scout activities for the summer.

Three principal events are in store for scouts, the summer camp to open July 2, a regional camp school at Palo Pinto May 24-26 and the National Jamboree at Washington later in the summer.

Scout Executive A. C. Williamson, at Sweetwater, issued the following message to Midland Boy Scouts this week: Summer Camp "With the Round-Up behind us our attention will now be focused on summer camp—the outstanding Scouting event of the year. Camp opens, as you know, July 2, and will continue for three weeks. Troops may sign up for one week or more but it will be necessary for reservations to be made well in advance in order to be sure of a place for the particular camp period that may be desired. It will be impossible for all Troops to attend camp the same period so preferences should be stated in writing as soon as possible. Reservation blanks will be sent to Troops in the near future. In the meantime each Troop should decide which week or weeks it wants to attend.

Camp School "A Regional Camp School will be held at the Ft. Worth Council Camp near Palo Pinto May 24 and 26, beginning Friday evening and closing at noon Sunday. We should like to have a number of Scouters from the Buffalo Trail Council attend this training camp, particularly Scoutmasters, Assistant Scoutmasters, members of the camp committee, and Troop Committees in charge of camping.

"We will furnish our own tentage, bedding and other camping and cooking equipment and do our own cooking. The cost will be negligible—not over 35¢ per meal per person. I plan to go in my car and will be glad to fill it with other Scouters. If possible I should like to see us take two or three car loads from this Council. This is a wonderful opportunity to get some valuable camp training at a minimum cost, and at the same time spend a most enjoyable two days outing in association with other Scouters of the Ninth Region.

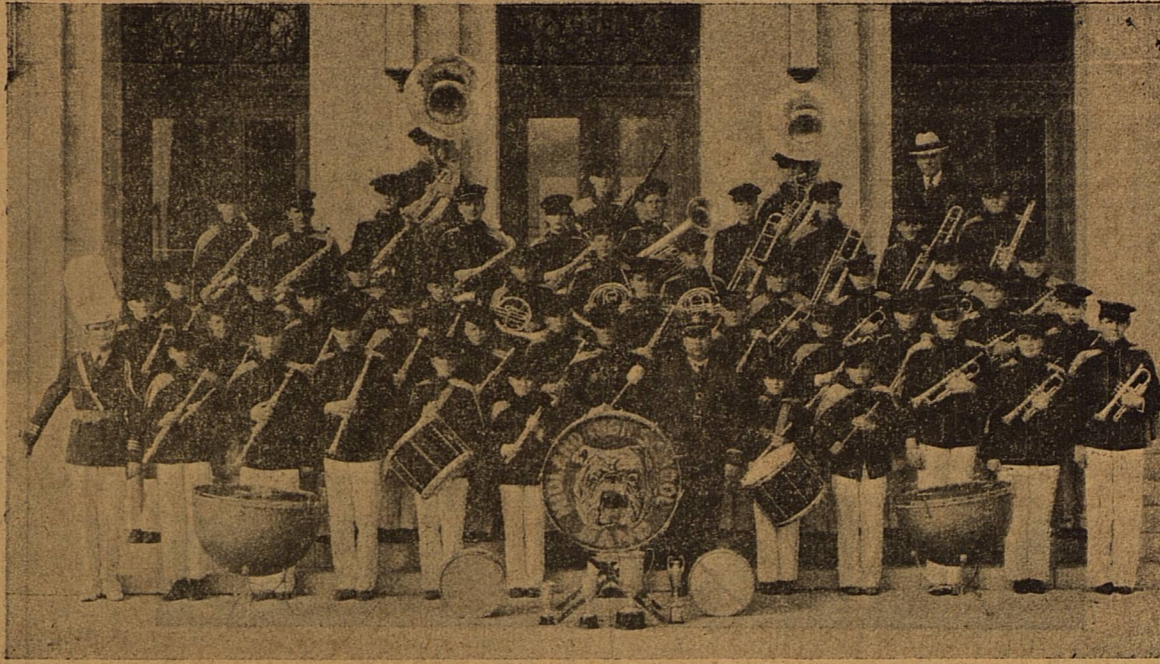

"If you are interested please let me hear from you right away. The time is short so we must make our plans quickly."

Jamboree "At present we have 29 reservations from 17 Troops, three of them from the Sea Scout Ship in Sweetwater. The plans are to camp all Sea Scouts in a separate section of the Jamboree camp so our Sea Scouts will not camp with our delegation. This leaves 26 Scouts for our Jamboree Troop. We are entitled to more than this number and would like very much to send a full Troop of 33 Scouts. Until June 1 additional reservations will be accepted, we have just been advised by the Regional Office. Let's take advantage of this opportunity and enroll at least 7 additional Scouts to fill our quota. If you have a boy or several in your Troop who can meet the personal requirements and whose parents can afford to send him, please interview his parents at once and explain to them full details regarding the Jamboree. If each Scoutmaster, or a Committeeman from each Troop, will do this I feel sure several more boys may be recruited. Let's do our best to make this wonderful experience possible for a maximum number of our Scouts. Do some Scout in your Troop 'Good Turn' today by getting him lined up to go to the Jamboree.

"For the benefit of any new Scouters, the cost will be approximately $85.00. $100.00 should cover everything, including uniform and adequate spending money. The three leaders for our Jamboree Troop have already been selected—Joe Pickle of Big Spring, H. D. Reed of Sweetwater, and Buster Howard of Midland. Transportation will be by train; the T. and P. to St. Louis and the Chesapeake and Ohio from there to Washington. Full information regarding the Jamboree itself may be found in recent issues of Scouting and Boys' Life."

Yawned His Jaws Open BROCKTON, Mass. (U.P.)—John Byrne won't yawn in a hurry again. Recently he yawned so hard his jaws wouldn't close. Police took him to a hospital where he was put to sleep and his jaws finally closed.

THE MIDLAND HIGH SCHOOL BAND

Under the able direction of Professor Russell E. Shrader, the Midland High School Band has become recognized as one of the outstanding musical organizations of West Texas and has competed favorably in hand contests at Abilene, Enid, Okla., and Lubbock this spring. Awards were won both as a band and by individual soloists.

Ft. Bliss Seeks Thousand Recruits

FT. BLISS, May 18.—Fort Bliss, Texas, now calling for one thousand recruits from the southwest, is one of the oldest army posts in this section and is now the largest post west of San Antonio.

The present post of Fort Bliss, on the mesa five miles northeast of El Paso Post Office, was first occupied in 1893. It is the last of a long succession of camps, cantonments, and posts that started in 1848 when a detachment of the First Dragoons camped for some months in what is now El Paso, then the Coonitz Ranch. Later garrisons occupied Magoffinsville, Concordia Ranch, and Harts Hill, names now no longer remembered but by the oldest citizens.

The present post was built in 1893 to hold only one battalion of Infantry and was then garrisoned by part of the Eighteenth Infantry. Today, the post contains the Headquarters and the larger part of the troops of the First Cavalry Division.

Maintained initially for protection against Indians, Fort Bliss saw its greatest activity during the border troubles a few years ago. Today the post has horse cavalry, field artillery, armored cars, and much new equipment which furnish fine opportunities for training and development work.

Recruits are needed for all the organizations at Fort Bliss, the largest requirements being for the Seventh Cavalry, Eighth Cavalry, and Eighty-Second Field Artillery. A few men, generally with special qualifications, are required for the Armored Car Squadron, the Quartermaster Corps, the Medical Department, the Ordnance, and the Signal Corps.

Young West Texans enlisting at Fort Bliss during the first ten days of May included T. E. Grissam, Big Spring; R. L. Dorn, Pecos; Ardis Chapman, Big Spring; Raymond C. E. Holley, Lenora.

Indian children of the North often are named for the first object the mother sees after the child is born.

THREE PROGRAMS THIS WEEK WILL COMPLETE SCHEDULE OF GRADUATION EXERCISES AND FINAL SCHOOL EVENTS

Following today's commencement sermon, three programs will make up the week's entertainment at the Midland high school auditorium.

The annual commencement week band concert will be given Monday evening at 8:45 at the high school building. It has been customary for several years to give an open air concert if weather permits, otherwise to hold the program in the auditorium.

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock the senior class day exercises, featuring the graduates in the customary last wills, testaments, speeches and other novelties, will be given.

The final graduating exercises, at which time the Hon. Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor University and former governor of Texas will speak, are scheduled for Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Diplomas will be given members of the graduating class and medals to honor students for the year will be awarded on this evening.

On two previous weeks the following programs marked the opening of commencement exercises: Tuesday, May 7, senior class play; Friday, May 10, north elementary school folk dances and operetta; Tuesday, May 14, south elementary school folk dances and operetta; Thursday, May 16, the John M. Cowden junior high school operetta.

The program for today's commencement session appears elsewhere in this issue.
