POST FAILS AGAIN ON FLIGHT THRU STRATOSPHERE

Supercharger Failure Causes Landing In Indiana

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 15. (P.)—Wiley Post's third attempt to break the transcontinental airplane speed record by way of the stratosphere ended here late Sunday when, plagued by supercharger trouble, he brought the Winnie Mae down to a belly landing on the Purdue University airport.

Striking away from the Burbank Union Air Terminal at 5:27 1/2 a. m. Pacific Coast time, Post hurtled through thin air at speeds which approximated 300 miles an hour.

Over this college community the sturdy ship which has set around-the-world marks failed him. After circling the university field four or five times, the flyer came down on a six foot skid attached to the bottom of his plane's fuselage in which airport attaches termed a sweet landing. Post had dropped his landing gear just after his California takeoff to cut wind resistance to a minimum.

"Get my hat off," were Post's first words. He was wearing a visored aluminum helmet and a sixteen-pound rubber fabric suit in which he received oxygen.

"Will you try again?" he was asked.

"I don't know," Post answered. "I don't want to talk about it at all."

Post averaged 231.48 miles per hour in his 1,900-mile flight to Lafayette. On his second record attempt he averaged 279.36 miles per hour from Burbank to Cleveland.

Acquit Odessa Man in Killing of Anderson

ODESSA, April 15.—G. E. Frazier, local coal, ice and beer dealer, was acquitted by a jury in district court here last week of charges of manslaughter in connection with the death of cowboy Anderson, carnival concession man, who was killed by Frazier on an altercation on the carnival grounds here last fall. Anderson died some time after the fracas here, while working with the carnival at Hobbs, New Mexico.

The story of the trouble, as pieced together from the testimony at the trial, was that one evening last fall Frazier struck up a casual acquaintance with three women friends of Anderson, a Mrs. Wolfe, Mrs. H. G. Buchanan and Miss Mae Buford, all of Pecos, at the La Fonda Club here. They went with him to the local ice house for sample bottles of a beer for which Frazier was distributor, and one of the women left her purse there.

When the purse was discovered, Frazier took it to the carnival grounds to give it to Anderson, whom he knew, and whom he said he knew would see the women and return it. At the carnival grounds apparently Anderson became jealous of Frazier's acquaintance with the women, and accused him of keeping them at the ice house for a period of three hours.

Frazier said he denied this, and attempted to pacify Anderson, who picked up a piece of iron pipe and struck at him. He ducked, Frazier testified, the falling on his back. As he raised up to meet Anderson's charge, he testified, someone jerked his ice pick from its holster, and as he and Anderson came together, Anderson fell back apparently the force of their impact, having jammed the ice pick, which was between them, into Anderson.

Gassaway Has New Bodyguard

WASHINGTON, April 15. (P.)—Representative Gassaway, former cowboy from Oklahoma, who says he has been trying to "out-hoos" Senator Long of Louisiana, appeared Sunday with a "bodyguard" of four small boys armed with cap pistols.

Trying a take-off on Long's bodyguard, Gassaway performed Sunday for cameramen by walking down the Capitol steps surrounded by his four "protectors." He stopped and remarked:

"Now that I've started this fight against Huey Long and Wall Street, how about trying out our guns?"

The quartet—averaging all of 10 years—flipped out long, blue-barreled cap pistols and popped away.

Gassaway had enlisted his son, Jim, one of the youngsters of Representative Sweeney of Ohio, and a couple of house pages.

Midland's Track Record

The interscholastic League rules give the following "schedule of points" for track and field events: First place in the meet, 20 points; second place in the meet, 10 points; third place in the meet, 5 points.

In order for a school to "place" in the track and field meet, it is necessary for that school to rank as high as third place in the meet. Midland ranked fourth in the track and field meet, and hence was allowed no points. It made 21 points in the various events, but that only placed her fourth in the meet. In the various events Midland won three first-place medals, one second-place medal, and one third-place medal.

The various records in these events are given in the report of the track meet in another column of this issue.

Returning unexpectedly to Baton Rouge after spending the night in New Orleans, the Senator continued to withhold the purpose of the session or even admit that one will be held, but as he arrived at the State House and busied himself in conference with his staff, it became known the general assembly will be convened.

One purpose of the session, which will be the fifth held at Long's bidding in nine months, and the sixth in the last year, counting the 1934 regular session, will be to set up State machinery for administration of funds Louisiana is expected to derive from the Federal relief bill.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

To sell a product an advertiser must enter the home. He must make that personal contact which is so vital in the sales field. If he or his agents were to call upon every family in a community he would be confronted with a tedious, disagreeable task. Housewives are too prone to chase the salesman away with the dust which settles on the back porch.

The newspaper does away with this roundabout task. It reaches the home. It is read. The advertiser who wishes products to become known is fully aware of the advantages of the daily and weekly newspaper.

Though the advertiser may be a stranger to the potential consumer, the newspaper is not. It is part of the consumer's life. He has learned to rely upon it as a reliable source of news. He knows also that when products are advertised in its columns he may rely upon them. He has faith in the publisher.

Comparing the newspaper with other media we find that magazines, radio, billboards, circulars and mail solicitations all serve their purpose. But not one is as effective as the newspaper.

The newspaper is flexible. Whether an advertiser wants spot or routine advertising he has a medium for the purpose. Nor in the case of national media must he duplicate or follow a policy of wasteful advertising. If his product is aimed at a particular locality the newspapers in that locality will carry his message to the people.

The cost, which is always of vital importance to any business man, is lower, for the results obtained, than any other form of media.

MEMORIAL TO "T. R."

The Federal Relief Administration plans to purchase two sizable tracts in the "bad lands" of North Dakota and turn them into a public recreation area. Some 42,000 acres of land have been optioned, and present plans call for construction of a scenic drive following the Little Missouri River, erection of cabins and hotels, and laying out of camping sites, footpaths, riding trails and so on.

The interesting thing about this venture is the fact that the park will be named for Theodore Roosevelt, whose old ranch lies right in that neighborhood.

It would be hard to think of a more fitting memorial to "Teddy" than a western park where all the people could enjoy outdoor life. No American did as much to make us conscious of the heart-lifting openness and beauty of our great west as Theodore Roosevelt; nor did anyone do as much to preserve the natural resources of that region for the public good.

Theodore Roosevelt Park should be a welcome addition to our recreational resources in more ways than one.

HEALTH WASH Cooked by MRS. ADDISON YOUNG

For the persons who shudder at the thought of a hypodermic needle containing a few minims of dead germs in suspension, I offer the following by way of consolation.

In an old pharmacopoeia published in the year 1676 are found these prescriptions: "Mumia Artificialis:—Take the carcas of a young man, (some say red hair'd) not dying of disease, but killed; let it lie 24 hours in clear water in the air; cut the flesh in pieces, to which add powder of myrrh, and a little aloes; imbibe it 24 hours in the spirit of wine and turpentine, take it out, hang it up twelve hours; imbibe it again 24 hours in fresh spirits, then hang up the pieces in dry air, and a shadowy place, so they will dry and not sink.

"Crollius advises to take the Artificial Mummy and make an extract in spirit of wine, or elder only. It is a counter-poison, prevents the plague, and resists all manner of infection. It dissolves congealed and coagulated blood, provokes the terms, expels wind out of the bowels, helps coughs, and is a great vulnerary; it is also said to purge, being given to the quantity of 3 drams in any convenient vehicle." "Aqua Divina:—Take the whole carcas of a man violently killed with the entrails, cut it in pieces, and mix them; distil from a retort twice or thrice.

"It is reputed to have magnetic power; it is 3 drams of this water you put few drops of the blood of a sick person and set them on the fire, and they mix, the sick recovers, not the sick dies; for want of blood take the urine in a large quantity. Personally I prefer modern medicine, and especially the preventive branch.

GARDEN GATE Gossip

In the picturesque garden, in which flowers are grown to make a picture, a major problem is planning for a succession of bloom. In such a garden there must be a continuous show. The gardener is a stage manager, who must plan and produce a series of spectacles to charm the beholders. To the uninitiated this may seem more difficult than it really is. The supply of actors for the garden show is almost unlimited. A seed catalog gives an amazing list of all types, all short, blonde, brunette, vigorous, delicate, whatever you may want. Nature has provided them in great abundance.

Each flower has its season of bloom, determined by nature, and you have only to select from those which bloom each season, types which will fit into the composition of your garden picture. It is possible to produce a continuous show of flowers with perennials and annuals grown from seed. No one need hesitate about combining the classes of flowers in the border. The modern idea is to consider flowers solely from the standpoint of their effectiveness in the picture, without regard to whether they live one year or twenty.

Of course perennials give the earliest flowers and the largest plants. A perennial starts the season full grown, whereas annuals must make their growth from seed and produce their flowers the same season. Perennials often last for years, while annuals die each fall. Nevertheless among the modern annuals, with their constantly improved types, which makes a rival perennial in size, though none which bloom so early as the earliest perennials.

Among the early perennials which can be grown from seed are anemone, myosotidiflora, which has flowers like the forget-me-not, in April; columbines, which flower in April; arabis, polyanthus, corniculum, or pet. of white flowers in April; the Elder daisy, which blossoms in May; dictamnus, or gas plant, which flowers in May; linum perenne, or flax, which flowers in May; mentha virginica, or Virginia cowslip, which flowers in May; nepeta musini, mauve catnip, flowering in May; polyanthus corniculum, or Jacob's ladder, bearing racemes of blue bell flowers in April; ranunculus asiaticus, double buttercup, flowering in May.

Prettiest Stamp Picked

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Local philatelists, in a competition to determine "the world's most beautiful" stamp, chose the United States 1¢ issue of the 1898 Trans-Mississippi Exposition. The stamp is jet black, bearing the reproduction of the famous MacWhorter etching, "Western Cattle in a Storm." The stamp was made in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, where the government now makes United States paper currency and stamps.

BTU Presents Novelty "Radio" Program Sunday

A novelty radio program under the title, "Southwide BTU Hour," supposedly broadcast from Nashville, Tennessee, was presented by members of the Loyal Workers BTU Sunday evening. With Mr. Dean Bryant in charge, "New Testament Ideal of the Pastor" was discussed by Misses Bessie Dale and Boerne Kidwell, and Messrs. Norman Swain, Frank Triux, Frank Flournoy, Haskell Watkins, and J. R. Davis, under fictitious names. A special duet, "He Lives on High," was sung by Messrs. Thomas Prylan and Hal Pittman with guitar accompaniment by the latter. Sixty-five young people were present including 39 members, 22 visitors, and four new members. Mr. Frank Stubbeman made a talk before the general assembly of BTU's which followed the different group programs. Attendance at the assembly was approximately 135.

Chaparral Troop Hears Report

Members of the Chaparral troop, Girl Scouts, met on the grounds of North Ward school Saturday morning, as the regular meeting place was occupied by the county school fair exhibit. Mrs. L. G. Lewis, captain, reported on the conference for the Texas district of Girl Scouts recently held in Muskogee, Okla. Girls of the troop voted to present a copy of "The Life of Juliet Low," sponsor of Girl Scout work in America, to the county library. They also voted to aid in the collection of castor bean seed to be used in beautification, as requested by Miss Marquette Hester, librarian. The seeds will be delivered at the library. Songs were sung and further study of tenderfoot requirements was made under direction of Mrs. Lewis and Lieutenants, Mrs. Paul Chabas and Mrs. Page. About 20 girls were present. The troop will meet at the home of Mrs. Lewis, 714 W. Kansas, Saturday morning for a breakfast hike.

Stokes Club Girls Win Five Prizes

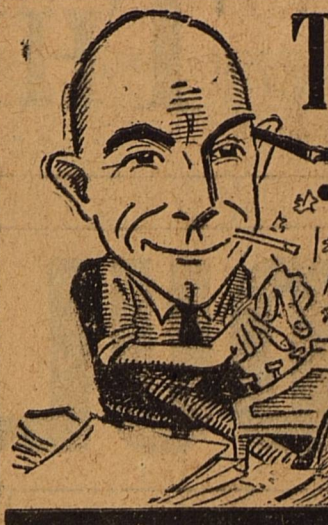

The Stokes girls club studied slips and dress materials at the meeting held this morning at Stokes school. They also made plans for a Centennial program. During the next two weeks, members will make slips and secure samples of cotton materials for making their contest dresses. This club entered nine aprons in the contest held last week and won five prizes. Imogene Hale won first place for apron made by a club girl over 15 years of age and Johnnie Mae Collier won first prize for an apron made by a girl under 12 years of age.

FEMININE FANCIES

We note that another store in town has fallen for the lure of uniform and is decking out the sales force in many ones of line-tan with touches of green. We like the trim little frocks for the girls with their green buttons at the hips and their fluttering upstanding collars of green. We're going to be terribly disappointed if the weather man sends us a dust storm on Easter so we can't parade our new white accessories. There are always advantages and disadvantages to any big undertaking. The test of the thing is whether the advantages of its substantially outweigh its disadvantages. In the case of Intercollegiate League meets, we think they do. For the boys and girls who enter there is always struggle, strain, and for the losers, the ache of defeated aspirations. But there is also the new humanity and the ambition and the broader outlook that comes from mingling with boys and girls from other schools and environments. We approve the meets. We wonder just how many people in town saw the display at the county school fair held Friday and Saturday. It is rather astonishing how much the children have done under the guidance of over-worked teachers who have to handle both the usual routine of reading, writing, and arithmetic and all extra-curricular activities. The circus put with its various animals cut from wood arouses the animus of masculine as well as feminine observers. If you want to get the full force of the ghostly effect of this Kansas dust that is drifting down to Texas, try driving along a country road on a chilly morning, when the sun is merely a bright spot behind the dust cloud and the valleys are half-filled with the colorless mist of it. Rather a strange, haunted land with the dust over it. Have you noticed how pretty the mesquite bushes are with the delicate green of their lacy leafage like new spring veils thrown over their gray-brown branches?

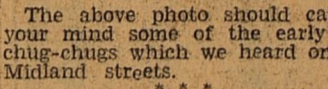

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.) ing the Rotary convention. A cowpuncher down south of town, in the grease wood country said he never had been married but he once had a fight with a bobcat, and when he was still younger he got run over by a threshing machine. He added that everybody had had some sort of misfortune. Getting back to that two-cylinder car. There weren't many automobiles stolen in their time. Any sheriff with a fast horse could have captured the thief before he got to the city limits.

Styles do change! And I guess they change more radically in automobiles than they do in clothes. Now you take B. N. Aycock. He drives about in his little chevy, all forgetful of the old days when he was one of the first Midland citizens to own a two-lunger Buick that cranked on the side. In those days Mr. Aycock had his ranch headquarters about where the town of Crene now stands. He had to drive through the country, of course, and a lot of the road was sandy. He had to make frequent stops to repair the chain, for of course, it was a chain drive Buick.

MEET POSTMORTEMS

There was humor, pathos and near tragedy in the track meet along with quite a bit of griping and at times much excitement.

An orchid to coach Hayhurst of McCamey and a sprig of poison ivy for the Crane coach for their conduct in the meet.

After the final event, in which the Crane team was disqualified, Hayhurst told the judges of the meet that he did not desire to take the winning trophy as he felt that his club was not really entitled to it because of the way that it had been won.

he disqualified the three fastest men in the 100 yard dash preliminaries. The three men, Montgomery and Midkiff of Midland and Trogen of McCamey, as luck would have it, drew positions directly alongside each other and in their anxiety not let either get a start they "jumped the gun" three times in succession as Harris was trying to get them started.

Coach Baumgarten pulled a fast one on Dave Wofford when entered the big boy in the mile, a distance that Dave distinctly does not care for, but Dave tossed the coach a nice curve when he stopped running after three eighths of the distance and announced that as far as he was concerned that event was over.

Goodbye, Depression! Sale of Used Cars Doubled in 1934

"Have you heard the Depression is over? Have you heard the New Deal is bringing us out of the well-known Slump?" inquires a Midland citizen who has made a study of the average Midland man's financial condition as told in the auto trades of the county. Based on records of second-hand cars transferred in Midland county during the last five years, the following facts are given: "1934 saw more than twice as many used car transfers as did its predecessor, 1933. But 1933 saw almost twice as many as 1932. It was in this ill-fated year that we had skidded to the bottom and come to a standstill. It established an all-time low in car trades." A schedule of the number of bills of sale filed in Midland county for transfer of title of an automobile for the last five years is shown below:

Table with columns: Year, No. Used cars transferred. Rows: 1934, 1933, 1932, 1931, 1930.

A bill of sale made in triplicate must be delivered to the buyer at the time of delivery of the car. This must be accompanied by the license receipt for the current registration year, endorsed on the reverse side. The buyer must present these papers at his tax collector's office within ten days after the date of the bill of sale or pay a penalty of $2.50 or $5, depending on whether he has failed to file it within 11 or 20 days.

Prompt compliance with this law helps the law enforcement agencies in tracing ownerships of automobiles and saves much trouble and expense for the buyer when he attempts to prove ownership at registration time.

Osage Ranchers Receiving Cattle, Summer Grazing

PAWHUSKA, Okla., April 15 (U.P.)—The grass is turning green in the Osage country and the future looks bright as the drought-browned ranges come to life and thousands of cattle, going up in price almost daily, arrive for fattening.

In the near future more than 100,000 cattle from Texas and New Mexico will be on the ranges here to graze all summer and be shipped to market next fall. Almost hourly a trainload of cattle arrives and is turned loose on Osage county's million acres of green grass.

"It looks like a good year," Ed T. Kennedy, president of the National Bank of Commerce here, said. "There's only one big 'if' in my mind when I say it. That 'if' is further drought. If it will rain in western Oklahoma and keep the hot winds from scorching our pastures, we are all set."

Osage county pastures in normal years can and do feed 280,000 cattle. This year, however, owing to the drought of last summer, the grass is short and ranges will provide for not more than 200,000 head, County Agent Fred Airberg said.

Half this number is on the ranges, owned by local stockmen, and the other 100,000 will be here within a week.

The short grass also has brought a better price to the landowners and the grazers, who lease land and take care of the cattle through the summer on contract.

The average price for grazing, watering and providing salt for stock from April 1 to October 15, ranges from $4.50 a head for calves and yearlings to $7 for grown animals.

So early is the prospect that the "show" cowboys have come home for the summer. Ben Johnson, world's champion steer roper, is foreman on the Chapman-Barnard ranch; Barton Carter, another top-notch roper, is selling cattlemen's supplies and Ike Riddle, the larriest twirler, is back after a winter in London with a rodeo.

The "Socony-Vacuum" is a sister ship of the "Magnolia," launched last week in New York in the presence of E. E. Brown, chairman of the board of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, and Ralph H. Kinsloe, vice president and general manager. Mr. Brown built the Southwest's first refinery for Magnolia at Corsicana, Texas, where Mr. Kinsloe also entered the service of the company, and both also have been active in the development of the company's largest refinery at Beaumont and the deep water port of this city.

The vessel is equipped with the most modern aids to navigation, such as Sperry Gyro Compass and Pile, Radio Direction Finder, short and long wave radio communication, electric deep sea sounding device and numerous safety devices in connection with the high-pressure superheated power plant for propelling machinery.
