Witness Says Stafford Showed His Badge to Cato

FORMER ADDICT; INFORMER BACKS LOWERY CLAIMS

Details of Murder Are Recounted in Lubbock Trial

LUBBOCK, May 24. (AP.)—A government witness testified today that Spencer Stafford, narcotic agent, was displaying his federal badge in his hand when he was shot to death by Sheriff W. F. Cato at Post February 7.

Mrs. Eva Michelle, government informer who witnessed the killing, quoted Stafford as saying: "Here's my badge," as he scuffled with the sheriff immediately before the shooting.

She testified that she had been a narcotic addict and had purchased narcotics from Dr. V. A. Hartman, Post physician, and Dr. L. W. Kitchen, veterinarian in front of whose hospital the shooting occurred.

The doctors and Tom Morgan, farmer deputized by Cato, are co-defendants in the murder trial. The woman's testimony corroborated that given by D. L. Lowery, another informer.

SHOOTING DETAILS TOLD BY WITNESS

LUBBOCK, May 24. (P.)—The government version of the machine-gun slaying of Spencer Stafford, federal narcotics agent, at Post last February 7 was unfolded in federal court in the murder trial of Garza county Sheriff W. F. Cato and three other Post residents.

Three Other Defendants
D. L. Lowery, who said he had been a narcotics addict for 17 years and a government informer for three, testified that Sheriff Cato shot Stafford three times after another federal agent, C. McCullough, had shouted: "Don't shoot—that man is a federal agent."

Stafford was slain while he and McCullough were investigating alleged trafficking in narcotics at Post.

Dr. L. W. Kitchen, veterinarian in front of whose office the shooting occurred; Tom Morgan, a deputized farmer, and Dr. V. A. Hartman, physician, also are charged with murder in connection with the slaying.

Lowery stated that he and another informer, Eva Michelle, were waiting in an automobile in front of Dr. Kitchen's office when Sheriff Cato and Morgan arrived.

Tells of Threat
"Don't move or I'll let you have it," the informer quoted the sheriff as saying while brandishing the machine gun.

Lowery said the Michelle woman then advised Cato that they were in a government car and that two federal agents were in the office.

"I stand with you, Mac (McCullough)," the witness said. "Stafford came out and hollered: 'Hold on there, we're federal officers and that man is with us.' He brushed the machine gun aside."

Lowery said Cato shouted to Morgan: "Kill him, Tom, kill him."

Cato Snatched Gun
"Morgan leveled his gun at Stafford but I grabbed his arm and told him that Stafford was an officer," Lowery testified. "Cato wrenched the machine gun away from Stafford and went around the car. Mac came out . . . Cato took a step and a half or two steps—that's when he shot."

Testimony began in the trial, the second under the 1934 act making the killing of a government agent, after a jury and an auxiliary jury had been selected from a list of 39 veniremen.

Judge James C. Wilson overruled defense motions to quash the indictment, to remove the trial to Post, and to allow opposing counsel to examine prospective jurors separately.

Scene Reconstructed
Government attorneys reconstructed in the courtroom a miniature setting of the scene of the slaying. With toy cars and small figures to represent men, Lowery pointed out what he said were the positions of each at the time of the shooting.

Williams of San Antonio, assistant district supervisor of the bureau of narcotics, took the stand to establish that Stafford was in the government office on February 7.

Mrs. Stafford, Fort Worth, widow of the slain agent, testified briefly about her husband's health and physical appearance. She was dressed in black. She and Williams were not cross-examined.

Judge Wilson overruled the motion to remove the trial to Post after Joe H. Jones, assistant United States attorney, had testified that hotel and court facilities at Post were inadequate.

Each of the four defendants entered a plea of not guilty, and each was sworn as a witness.

Had Bought Narcotics
Daniel E. McGrath, Washington, assistant attorney general who is assisting Federal District Attorney Clyde O. Eastus and his staff in the prosecution, outlined the government case in a preliminary statement to the jury.

Lowery further testified that he had bought narcotics from Dr. V. A. Hartman at Post.

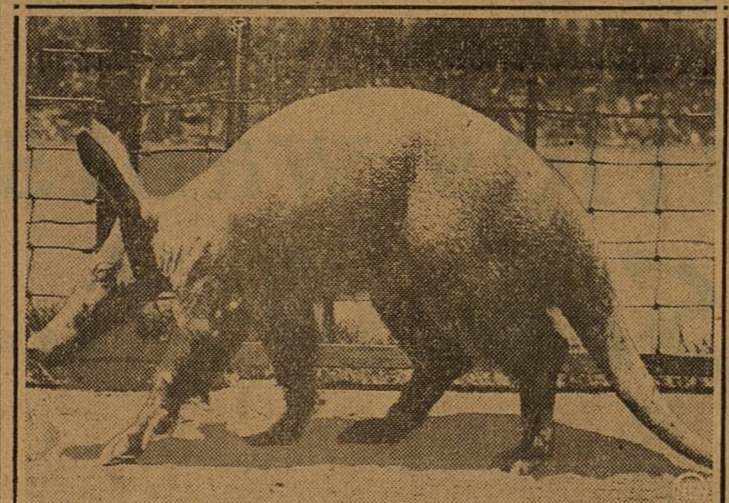

Fog Blamed for Army Plane Crash

A Drag With The Police

When strikers refused to leave the scene of a battle with police in Philadelphia, mounted officers gave a vivid demonstration that "a pull with the police" may mean more than one thing. Riding relentlessly toward the side lines, they are shown removing a protesting striker. The walkout tied up the Philadelphia produce market.

A Nightmare? No, Just an Aardvark

Let Dr. Raymond Ditmars tell you about this argument for prohibition, which has just been added to the Bronx Zoo in New York: "Begin at the anterior end of the animal, so called because it eats ants with the super-vacuum cleaner tongue; aft of the eyes, it has long rabbit ears and then comes a body like a pig. As we approach the posterior terminus we come on a tail which seems to be borrowed from a kangaroo."

ELABORATE PLANS LAID FOR JUNE 1 TRADES DAY; STREET PARADE AT 10 O'CLOCK; JUDGING EXHIBITS FOLLOWS

Beginning the day's program with another street parade, staged this time at 10 o'clock in the morning, Midland's third annual Trades Day will be held Saturday of next week, the date being June 1.

The parade, again directed by Harry L. Haight, will be divided in sections as before, but this time in more orderly fashion, making use of experience gained in the previous event.

City Marshal Andy Norwood will head the procession and conduct it through the downtown traffic. Sheriff A. C. Francis, T. O. Midkiff and W. T. Blakeway will arrange the line of march and keep the various divisions of the parade twenty feet apart.

E. B. Dickenson has been named superintendent of the day and will have the "final say" in any matters which may come up with reference to exhibits, prizes and awards.

J. H. Fine again will act as clerk, keeping a record of all entries and awards of prizes.

John M. Gist will be in charge of placing the exhibits on the grounds which are located just south of the Reporter-Telegram and just south of Mackey Motor company.

After the parade, when all exhibits are back in their places on the Trades Day grounds, the judging will begin. Agricultural Agent Debnam, Atkins and Stengel have been named judges for the day and will award first, second and third prizes in each class where prizes are provided. In classes not mentioned, favorable mention will be given to winners.

YOUNG POLO STAR; HURT AT ROSWELL, IMPROVED TODAY

Cole Means, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Means of Valentine and a student in the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, was injured in a polo game three days ago, relatives here learned last night. Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Cowden, grand parents, left for Roswell tonight upon receipt of news that he was unconscious. Reports received here this morning, however, said he was resting better.

Dr. Felix P. Miller, of El Paso, friend and physician of the Means family, was rushed to Roswell yesterday from Albuquerque by transport plane to attend the injured youth.

The young Means, who learned to play polo on a team with his father, M. O. (Big) Means and his uncle, Cole Means, has been an outstanding player at the institute. He played some time ago in a tournament at El Paso, working with the older Means players and Myrl Jewell.

PALO ALTO, Calif., May 24. (P.)—Former President Herbert Hoover today issued a statement characterizing as "not American" the use of the boycott to enforce NRA.

Smaller Projects For PWA Sought

Bodies of Two Flyers Found on Side of Mountain

PINE VALLEY, Okla., May 24. (P.)—A blinding fog obscuring the peak of Big Eagle mountain, twelve miles southwest of here, was blamed today for the army plane crash in which Lieut. Wendell Holladay and Private Ira Hicks died Sunday.

Their bodies and the wreckage were found last night. The flyers were en route from Muskogee to Shawneeport.

FARMER REPORTS
FINDING WRECKAGE
HEAVENER, Okla., May 24. (P.)—Bill Chapman, forester at the Pine Valley CCC camp near here, said late Thursday that a plane, possibly that missing from Muskogee since Sunday, had been found late today by W. A. Morgan, commanding officer of the camp, and that one man was found dead in the wreckage.

The airplane crashed in the sparsely settled, mountainous country about 35 miles southwest of Heavener.

Morgan and a party from the CCC camp were at the scene, Chapman reported, and details were not available as to whether it was the missing army plane. Morgan was to return to camp after investigating the crash.

Lieut. Wendell Holladay and Private Ira Hicks were in the army camp when it took off from Hatbox Field, Muskogee, for Shawneeport Sunday. They have not been reported since.

The debris of the wrecked plane was found about four miles from a lookout tower on Big Eagle Mountain, the forester said, and at the bottom of a high bluff.

Coast Veterans to Start Bonus March

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 24. (P.)—A march of World War veterans on Washington to demand immediate payment of the bonus was planned Thursday by R. W. Robertson, a leader of the ill-fated 1932 B. E. F., after the Senate sustained President Roosevelt's veto of the Patman bill.

Robertson said he expected more than 7,000 veterans from California to join the march from the Capitol at Sacramento in a few days. He anticipated that veterans from other States would support the group.

"And there will be no women or children this time—we mean business," the militant leader declared as he ordered local veterans to assemble Friday to complete plans for the expedition.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS GRADUATION EXERCISES THURSDAY NIGHT; NEFF ADDRESS TO CLASS INSPIRATIONAL

Ex-Governor Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor university, speaking on "The Search for Values," delivered the literary address to the graduating exercises for Seniors of the Midland High School held at the high school auditorium Thursday evening.

A crowd which filled all seats in the main auditorium and balcony, lined the aisles, stood along the walls, overflowed into the halls, and watched from outside, witnessed the presentation of diplomas to more than a hundred grammar school graduates preceding the High School graduating exercises.

Opening the latter program, Rev. K. C. Minter of the First Methodist church, offered the invocation. Maxine Sill, salutatorian of the class of 1935, saluted on "Welcome," paying tribute to school officials who had guided the members of the Seniors through four years of high school.

Two concert readings by the high school student body and selections by the high school chorus, were followed by a part-song by the girls' choral club, directed by Mrs. De Lo Douglas, and a chorus of the boys' glee club, directed by Supt. W. W. Lackey.

Marguerite Elizabeth Payne, as valedictorian of the Senior class, bade "Farewell" to the associates and experiences which the graduates had enjoyed through their school years, expressing appreciation for services rendered there.

Two numbers were presented by a chorus of women's voices, after which Supt. W. W. Lackey introduced Mr. Neff as speaker of the evening.

Combining the eloquence for which he is noted with deep sane understanding of the problems which confront the lives of young people, Texas' former governor made all to seek the higher things in their "Search for Values" in life.

Money, fame, power are the things which are sought as the values of life by many, he said, quoting as an example of the futility of such acquisitions the death statement of Jay Gould, railroad magnate, that all he had gotten out of life was "a suit of clothes and three meals a day." All people desire money, fame, and power, he said, but contended that this trio does not comprehend the real values to be sought by humanity.

Turning to the things which are more important than superficial possessions, Mr. Neff declared that he believed a "full head was better than a fat purse" and that a person who possessed knowledge had something which neither hi-jacker, nor drought, nor depression could take from him.

Four chief points were made in the discussion of values: the importance of right thinking, the ability to make and the capacity to keep friends, the disposition for happiness, and the supreme importance of character.

Most of one's best friends are made during school days, the speaker said. He stressed the importance of a disposition to be happy, declaring that one who is not happy in a cottage would not be happy in a mansion on Fifth Avenue.

Last but not least of the points made was the importance of what the speaker described as a "granite

ROOSEVELT AND CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS AGREE

Tentative Plan for a 21 1/2 Months Extension

WASHINGTON, May 24. (AP.)—President Roosevelt and congressional leaders agreed tentatively today of a twenty one and a half months extension of the NRA and on giving the recovery agency jurisdiction over business "substantially affecting interstate commerce. Price fixing will be barred, it was announced.

They reached the understanding at a White House conference as William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, was insisting before the house ways and means committee upon the two-year extension and describing as "short sighted, reactionary and anti-social" those who opposed that plan.

Green said nation wide strikes would result if the NRA were not continued for at least two years.

SMALL BUSINESS ASKS LONGER NRA
WASHINGTON, May 24. (P.)—Small businessmen went before the House Ways and Means Committee Thursday in swift succession to plead for extension of NRA and to voice heated objections to any considerable reduction of NRA's powers.

If the recovery unit should be allowed to expire on June 16, they forecast civil war in the bituminous coal industry, extinction of many neighborhood drugists and a general restoration of conditions they believed harmful to prosperity.

After hearing their testimony, the committee decided it could build up its cases further by calling in Friday Hugh S. Johnson, first boss of NRA, and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Alpine Gets Hail, Half Inch of Rain

(By The Associated Press.)
Hail and rain slashed scattered areas of Texas Thursday to increase damage wrought by the elements during the last five days.

Major Texas rivers rolled along menacingly in some sectors and receded slowly in others as a hail-storm ruined 75 per cent of the fruit in orchards at Alpine and a two-inch rain soaked the Laredo area.

Roofs and auto tops were ruined and hail drifted to a two-foot depth in some spots at Alpine, covering housetops and mountains, the visitor brought the appearance of winter to the section.

About a half-inch of rain accompanied the hail.

Cowboy Drowned In Swollen Draw

SAN ANGELO, May 24. (P.)—James Mellwe, 25, cowboy, was drowned yesterday when he jumped from his horse while crossing the usually dry Howard Draw in Crockett County.

The heavy rains of last night had turned the dry creek into a wide, rushing stream. With another cowboy on the Joe Blakeney Ranch, Mellwe roared the water became frightened and jumped off his horse. He did not come up.

The horse crossed safely. Mellwe's home is in O'Connell, Texas.

SIMPLE BASIS FOR PEACE

Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, addressing a midwest audience the other night, remarked that the danger of America's getting involved in war is largely a figment of the imaginations of the super-preparedness people.

"The maddest armament race ever staged is going on between the United States and Japan," he said. "Yet I think that war with Japan is improbable. If there is 5 cents' worth of common sense in the countries, there will be no war."

It is rather hard to quarrel with that viewpoint, for the simple reason that the ordinary American finds it extremely hard to think of any really good reason why America and Japan ever need to fight each other. As the senator suggests, a modicum of common sense ought to be enough to keep peace unbroken for an indefinite period.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND
The graduation exercises at the High School last night made us more than ever proud of our city school system. Not only the excellent scholarship records given but the concert readings, the singing, and especially the unusual training demonstrated by the pupils in the conduct of the program re-awakened our pride in Midland's schools.

We were interested in the fact that Ex-Governor Neff in his address to the Senators on "The Search for Values" stressed two or three things which coincide with our personal beliefs. Particularly we liked his remark on right thinking and the disposition to be happy as two of the fundamentals which every boy and girl should seek for.

Thinking is so seldom clear and just, so often swayed by non-admirable emotions and clouded by prejudice that we think young people need to be encouraged to think rightly.
We liked, too, the speaker's thought that happiness is the result of the individual's inner feeling and determination rather than of outward circumstances.
It's a trite old saying that a group of girls looks like a garden of flowers. But when the curtain rose on the Junior High School graduates, the pastel shades of the girls' dresses made us think of that old figure of speech. After all, true or not, it is truly descriptive.

After 30 Years of Hard Work..

-Politics wants to Smash it..

It hasn't been so long ago, even in the large cities and towns, when electric lights blinked and electric service was limited. Each isolated electric plant had its own rules for restricting the use of electricity. In some towns electric irons could be used only on one day a week.

But that was the time before unified management under holding company development became an important factor in the electric industry.

Now as you drive down the highways, you see long stretches of glistening wires, stretching from pole to pole, from steel tower to steel tower. To the village, the cross-roads and the farm, these transmission lines have brought 24-hour metropolitan electric service. Thousands of small communities and rural districts in the country today would have had to wait for years to obtain electric service were it not for the inter-connected transmission systems made possible by electric holding companies and unified management. It took the holding companies, working with and aiding the local electric companies, thirty years of hard work to do this job!

Now federal politics would smash it all! This is the aim of the Wheeler-Rayburn Bill, now pending in Congress. It would abolish holding companies which have been such a large factor in the widespread use of electricity, in the lowering of electric rates and in making electricity the great service it is today.

The Wheeler-Rayburn Bill completely ignores this fine record!

The effect of this legislation would be even more far-reaching. This legislation would ultimately ruin the privately owned electric and gas companies with their local citizenship, local tax-paying, acceptance of local civic obligations and local control and regulation. In their place this legislation would substitute "remote control" by political commissions in Washington.

If government can invade the field of one business, it can invade all. Whose might be next?

GABLE-BENNETT TEAM AT YUCCA

A personal attraction as powerful as the surge of the ocean tides, and a bright sophistication in common, these are the elements which will place the new co-starring team of Constance Bennett and Clark Gable among the leading film couples of 1935, in the opinion of the director, Robert Z. Leonard.

Gable and Miss Bennett, who have never co-starred before, are together in a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "After Office Hours" which Leonard describes as an "active and romantic" story wherein the editor of a great newspaper falls in love with his society reporter and solves a murder mystery.

The picture opens at Saturday night prevue and runs through Monday at the Yucca Theatre.

"This team is almost certain to follow in the footsteps of the famous Crawford-Gable, Shearer-Gable combinations," Leonard said in an interview on a lavish ballroom set.

Most of the famous Chislehurst caves of Kent, England, are being used in mushroom cultivation. The famed caves consist of 22 miles of underground passages, are 90 feet deep and capable of accommodating 80,000 people.

Diphtheria Protection

From September 1933 to September 1934 there were 6,367 cases of diphtheria reported to the Texas state health officer. However, the disease is on the decrease due to the fact that each year more children are being immunized to diphtheria.

The picture above shows a school child receiving the Schick test, which is a harmless and painless test given to determine if the individual has developed a natural immunity to diphtheria. If the boy has no natural immunity he will be given the toxoid injection which will give him an artificial immunity to the disease that will probably last a life time.

had bought narcotics from both Dr. Hartman and Dr. Kitchen. On one occasion, he said, Kitchen used the government car in which they had been riding to go after narcotics, and appeared "very nervous" when he returned.

It was found out later, the informer said, that an agent's handbag in the car had been opened and that evidence against Kitchen was missing.

Lowery said Kitchen threatened him and the other informer after the shooting.

Cross-examined by W. P. McLean, attorney for Cato and Morgan, Lowery admitted that he had served two penitentiary sentences, and that he received a reward of from $15 to $500 each time he "made out a case." He said he had taken three grains of narcotics yesterday.

The witness denied hearing Cato ask, after the shooting, "Why didn't you tell me he was an officer?"

Instead, Lowery testified, Cato asked: "Won't people telephoning you get you into a lot of messes?"

The informer said he did not see Stafford draw his gun, but saw it

Raft Heads Cast With Ben Bernie

Cast in the leading role of "Stolen Harmony," his new Paramount picture, coming Sunday, Monday and Tuesday to the Ritz Theatre, George Raft again returns to the type of characterization that shot him to stardom in "Scarface."

Starring with Ben Bernie and his lads, Raft plays an ex-convict who turns straight for a chance to join Bernie and his lads on a transcontinental amusement tour.

He falls in love with Grace Bradley, the little dancer in Bernie's troupe, and for her sake determines to make good. When the company's funds are stolen, he is suspected of the theft.

The entire troupe is kidnaped by a gang of desperate outlaws. Raft comes to their rescue and by pretending to be one of the outlaws saves the band at the risk of his own life.

Alfred Werker directed "Stolen Harmony" which features a musical score by Gordon and Revel.

TO BEGIN REVIVAL

An open air revival meeting will begin at Gospel Hall, East Kentucky avenue, on Sunday evening, June 2, it was announced today by J. D. Jackson, pastor. Laboratories have devoted years of research to discover the facts about bran. These tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a natural laxative food for normal people.

As a result, ALL-BRAN has been accepted by the American Medical Association Committee on Foods, and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Millions of Americans use ALL-BRAN to correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. For ALL-BRAN supplies generous, mild "bulk," which continues to be effective when used for months. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron, an element of the blood.

Two tablepoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Negress Angler Challenges

YORK, Neb., (U.P.)—Mrs. Callie Reed, 84-year-old Negro angler, has issued her annual challenge to all local Isaac Waltons. She claims to hold the record for the number of fish caught in Beaver Creek, near York. When the aged woman applied for her fishing permit, she was no little embarrassed to have to concede that she could not remember when she had been weighed last.

Licenses For Convoy Autos

CARSON CITY, Nev., (U.P.)—Pacific Coast residents are finding that they must pay licenses for automobiles being driven through Nevada in convoys. Dealers in California who have been saving freight charges by driving or towing new cars from eastern factories now must pay this state $7.50 for each vehicle driven or towed on its way to the coast.

Canada produced 42,230,000 pounds of grapes in 1933, as compared with 49,694,000 pounds in the preceding year.

First Woman "Postmaster"

TROY, O., (U.P.)—Mrs. Harriette Drury, who served as Troy's "postmaster" from 1867 to 1875, is believed to have been the first woman in the United States to hold a federal office. Records of her service have just been uncovered here. Residents of Belvidere, Ill., had believed that a woman postmaster there from 1871 to 1875 was the first woman officeholder.

Fess Hits New Deal Again

YELLOW SPRINGS, O., (U.P.)—Former United States Senator Simeon D. Fess, arch foe of the New Deal, still is bitter against it. Fess, speaking at his home here, admitted the capitalistic system, which he advocates, has its faults, but said "It is the best that has been invented so far."
