200 Persons Hear Supreme Court Judges' Addresses

Bar Association Host To Famed Jurists Saturday

Approximately 200 persons Saturday night paid honor to the three Supreme Court Judges of the state at a banquet given them by the chamber of commerce and Midland Bar Association. Three members of the court of civil appeals at El Paso, E. F. Higgins, W. H. Peiphery and A. M. Walthall, were also invited guests but Judge Walthall was unable to attend because of illness contracted late in the week.

Preceding the banquet the high school band gave a 30-minute concert from the south steps of the court house.

The audience at the banquet augmented by an estimated 75 bar members from neighboring West Texas towns and cities assembled in the Crystal ballroom of the hotel Scharbauer at 7:30 and the gathering was called to order by Col. John Perkins vice-president of the bar association and toastmaster for the evening.

Judge Morrison of Big Spring delivered the invocation upon invitation from Judge Chas. Klapproth, presiding officer. Between courses of the dinner the toastmaster introduced bar representatives from other cities, withholding introductions of the honored guests until after the meal.

Immediately following the dinner musical selections were given by the men's quartet, J. A. Seymour, Richard Giles, Ed. Watts and E. E. Paris, accompanied by Mrs. Russell at the piano, and followed by the high school glee club.

Following the musical renditions, C. M. Gustin, a member of the supreme court was called upon for a 20 minute address as were the other two members of the tribunal, J. H. Sharp and Richard Cortz.

Entertainment features were interspersed with the speeches. Miss Martha Whitaker of Dallas giving a piano selection and the boy's glee club of the high school rendering numbers.

Tribute to Midland and West Texas, and a summation of incidents in which the jurors have had contact were given by the honor guests. Incidents, both serious and comic were reviewed by them.

AUDIENCE PLEASSED WITH ORGAN AND VOICE CONCERT

Miss McElvaney and Choir Appear Here

An appreciative audience which comfortably filled the main auditorium of the Presbyterian church and necessitated use of the Sunday school room for seating purposes, heard Miss Maude McElvaney and her choir of young people from Fort Stockton present an attractive program of instrumental and vocal music Friday evening.

Miss McElvaney, well known in state musical circles and now teacher of music in the Fort Stockton schools, was at the organ throughout the evening, executing with exactness and pleasing touch a variety of selections.

The opening number was a chorale, "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee", followed by the organ selection, "Sonata in E Minor" by Rogers. A solo by C. E. Casabier Jr., two quartet numbers by boys, and two choruses by girls completed the voice numbers.

Miss McElvaney's second rendition was a group of three harmonious and pleasing numbers, "Cathedral Shadows", "In Summer", and "Fountain Reverses".

The haunting melody of Drdla's "Souvenir" introduced her next group, followed by the "Trauerlied", the "Londonderry Air" and "Narcissus" while her concluding number, ending the program, was "Finale from First Sonata" by Guilmant.

By request, there was no applause between selections, but yielding to the desire of the audience, Miss McElvaney played an encore number, a Japanese sketch, at the close of the evening.

Singers accompanying the organist were members of the young people's choir of the Fort Stockton Presbyterian church.

PROBE SUBPOENA HALTING WORK ON 2 TEXAS PROJECTS

Study Whether Suit Is To Stop Labor on Buchanan Dam

300 EMPLOYED One-Fourth CRA Cash To Be Spent on The Job

AUSTIN, Mar. 7 (AP)—Officials of the lower Colorado river authority Saturday checked Washington agencies to determine whether the restraining order obtained in a suit by utilities companies would stop work on the Buchanan dam. Three hundred men are employed on the $4,500,000 project, a part of the CRA's $20,000,000 program.

The District of Columbia supreme court called a temporary halt to construction of two Texas flood control-irrigation projects involving federal allotments of about $25,000,000.

Justice Oscar Luring granted a request of seven Texas utility companies for a ten-day restraining order preventing Secretary Ickes, Harry L. Hopkins, works-progress administrators, and other government officials from pursuing the $20,000,000 lower Colorado river and the $4,500,000 Brazos river development programs.

The Texas concerns claimed the PWA and the WPA exceeded their authority in making allocations for what they claimed actually were hydro-electric projects. They held the money intended to destroy their business and that state agencies organized to receive federal aid were unlawfully delegating authority to the PWA and the WPA.

They Really Heard Chaplin Talk!

Oriental, novelist, satirist—all were listening with equal interest to the comedian whose pantomime speaks plainer than words, when the cameraman snapped this luncheon group in a Chinese restaurant in Honolulu. Maybe Charlie Chaplin, vacationing in Hawaii, was only expatiating the half-hour tardiness which had kept the waiting George Bernard Shaw, right fuming and sputtering. But all seems to have been forgiven by Shaw and Mrs. d'Arcy Northwood (the novelist, Shirland Quinn) while the grinning Chinese seems to be expecting Chaplin's familiar moustache to appear at any moment.

PARIS, Mar. 7 (AP)—France Saturday cancelled all army leaves as German troops occupied the Rhineland. The government is drafting a formal protest to the League of Nations.

He strongly protested the German denunciation of the treaty and called for a conference with the soviet Ambassador.

In Brussels, a Belgian newspaper announced that the government had cancelled all leaves of troops stationed at garrisons on the eastern frontier. A meeting of the Belgian cabinet has been called for Monday to study the European crisis. Belgium, France, Britain, Italy and Germany were the nations signing the Locarno pact.

France called a "war council" session and moved to cancel all army leaves. Britain hurriedly conferred with French, Belgians and Italians. Mussolini accepted the League of Nations African peace plea "general principals". Geneva predicted a world peace parley to find substitutes for the Versailles and Locarno pacts.

GERMANY'S TROOPS OCCUPY RHINELAND

BERLIN, March 7. (AP)—Germany Saturday re-occupied the Rhineland, and Adolf Hitler, in a speech to the Reichstag, denounced the Locarno pact and proposed for re-entrance of Germany to the League of Nations providing the non-aggression pact was repealed.

Dictator Hitler dissolved the Reichstag and ordered an election for March 29. He condemned the Franco-Soviet mutual aid pact and said that it might lead to "unpredictable consequences" in Europe. He asserted that this treaty freed Germany of the Locarno penalties.

Two thousand troops marched into the Rhineland to the frenzied cheers of the populace who lined streets and roads to see them.

Hitler said that he had constantly striven for rapprochement with France and had pledged friendship. He solemnly swore that Germany would "recede before no power at reestablishing the honor of our people," and would suffer the heaviest privation rather than capitulate. He said that he was determined to achieve understanding with the peoples of Europe. "Thus after three years I believe I can consider the fight for German equality is concluded."

He proclaimed Germany ready to create a new demilitarized zone, provided France and Belgium would create the same in their territories in the west, and Lithuania in the east, provided Lithuania agrees to respect the autonomy in the Memel territory. He further stated that he was willing to sign an air pact with his western neighbors and willing to re-enter the League if the Treaty of Versailles were overturned.

He warned that the world faced the "destructive inroads" of Bolshevism and said that he "remained" for Europe should "chaos out of Bolshevism revolution prove successful." He said, however, that he would cooperate with Russia, and warned Russia's army of 1,350,000 men could "completely upset" Europe's balance of power. He charged France had answered friendly offers by violating the Rhine pact, and by the signing of the Franco-Russian accord.

LIMIT TO "FREE SPEECH"

In these days of growing political tempest, the question of radio's rights and responsibilities looms constantly larger. But so far no one has so aptly analyzed the situation as has Owen D. Young in the capacity of chairman of the advisory council of the National Broadcasting Company.

So vital is the question, declares Mr. Young, that freedom of speech has come to depend solely upon the wisdom and restraint of speakers on the networks.

"Freedom of speech for the man whose voice can be heard a hundred feet is one thing, and freedom of speech for the man whose voice may be heard around the world is another," Young declares. And so to this end, he pleads for temperate radio addresses.

There would seem to be a good deal of justification for Mr. Young's utterances. The only offer for Mr. Voter has been the customary reliance on his newspaper for the facts.

Radio can make itself extremely useful as a dispenser of information, but if it is to retain public respect, it must consistently draw a line between liberty and license.

MOTOR ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS OF 43 STATES BEGIN OPEN WAR ON VIOLATORS

Washington, D. C., Mar. 7.—Motor vehicle enforcement officers of 43 states Tuesday declared open warfare on what they term the lunatic fringe of motorists whom they say records show to be a primary cause of the highway traffic problem. A statement by Lew Wallace, president of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, and administrator of Iowa, explains a six-point program just adopted by that association, a program along which that association an demphasizes that solution of the accident problem is a matter to be handled by the individual states.

"Motor vehicle administrators, having the responsibility for the conduct of motorists on the highway and authority for dealing with the situation," declared Wallace, "are closer to the accident problem and more affected by it than any other group. Our knowledge is practical and our interest is governed by only one thing—a desire to serve the public to the greatest possible degree."
The six-point program is summarized as follows:
1. To get proper support for administrative and enforcement bodies in carrying into effect legislation now in existence or when passed, and closer coordination of the work of administrative and enforcement bodies and the courts, there should be formed in each state a State Safety Committee including all civic and service organizations to back up the work of the executive heads of state departments who should be formed into an official committee by the chief executive of each state.
2. The passage of uniform state traffic laws and municipal ordinances is vital to further progress in highway traffic regulation. We pledge ourselves to actively assist in securing that result. It is our belief that through the establishment of official coordinating committees and state safety councils, together with the influence of interested national agencies and our own Association, a program along this line can be projected an enacted through the assembling and correlating of material now available.
3. Standard operators' and chauffeurs' laws, the definite power of suspension and revocation of licenses and a severe penalty for driving while a license is under suspension, and better methods of keeping state records of license holders are the first steps that should be taken in the direction of proper traffic control legislation.
4. We believe the greatest field for the improvement of highway traffic lies in the proper education of our youth, both before they become eligible to drive and during their early years of driving. We believe that traffic safety education should be a part of the regular curriculum of primary and secondary schools and it should be standardized under the supervision of instructors familiar with and trained in the teaching of this subject. We offer our fullest cooperation in carrying out programs developed along this line.
5. We believe that the appeal to fear has served its practical purpose in arousing public consciousness to the accident problem and that any progress to be made in the future must be based on constructive lines. Radical suggestions or innovations which now flood the desks of enforcement officers should be held in abeyance until scientific, engineering and public support is forthcoming.
6. Through various committees now appointed, we believe that as state administrators, together with other interested officials of our respective states and the nation and public cooperation, we will be able to offer by the end of the current year a definite uniform proposal acceptable to the general public. The assistance of all groups interest-

At The Library

At the library are new books on the rent shelf:
 "Silas Crockett" by Mary Ellen Chase: When Captain Silas Crockett married Solace Winship, way back in 1830, he started a chain of events rich in romantic interest and redolent of the sea. Through five generations we trace the fine traits of Silas and Solace in the lives of their descendants. A refreshing book.

"God and My Father" by Clarence Day: "Altogether delectable in its wits, its humor and its gracefully phrased satire. It is a book to read in an hour but to preserve permanently." Amy Loveman, in the Saturday Review of Literature.

"Faster! Faster!" by E. M. Delafield: Claudia, at forty-three, was the charming and clever head of a successful business and the apparent sole support of her husband and children. That her martyrdom was of her own choosing, she refused to acknowledge. The affect on the destinies of the various members of her family, despite her oft-repeated desire to face facts and of maintaining an unprejudiced attitude towards their problems, makes an interesting story. English setting.

"Vein of Iron" by Ellen Glasgow: While the story is concerned primarily with Ada Fincaiste, steeped in the traditions of her Scotch-Presbyterian-pioneer ancestors, and her love for Ralph McBride, against a vivid canvas we grow to know her lovely frail mother—her brilliant though misunderstood father—and her grand mother, a bulwark of courage and strength to whom both her son and granddaughter brought sorrow. We follow her life at the old house in the Great Valley, the World War, an interim in the city, the depression, and the return to the old house. Though Ada found that life and love were not as she had pictured them, she bears her burden with the uncomplaining courage of her sturdy ancestors. Finely written and excellent characterization.

"The Hurricane" by Charles Nordhoff, and James Norman Hall: A modern story of an island inhabited by 150 Polynesians and Europeans, but particularly of Terangi, unjustly sentenced to prison. After several attempts he escapes in a small canoe miraculously covers the 6000 miles home. Then with security almost assured, a South Sea hurricane with all its fury sweeps the island, leaving tragedy and destruction in its wake. A thrilling vivid and unforgettable story.

The following additions to the memorial shelf have been received:
 Mrs. E. N. Snodgrass, in memory of Mr. E. N. Snodgrass: "Men Of Art" by Thomas Craven.

Mrs. A. N. Hendrickson, in memory of her father, Mr. Henry Wra-ge "With Napoleon in Russia" from the Memories of General de Cailinecourt.

Mrs. A. C. Francis, in memory of her mother, Mrs. V. E. Castleman: "The Texas Rangers," by Walter Prescott Webb.

The following books, gift of Mr. Charles A. Mix are recent additions to the library. The Silent Cracksman, by John Jay Chichester; A detective story, The Purple Sickle Murders, by Freeman Wills Croft. An inspector French detective story; The Bainbridge Murder, by Corland Fitzsimmons.

The Kang-He Vase, by Joseph Smith Fletcher; The Mystery of Villa Sibeste, by Walter Livingston; Death Traps, by Kay Cleaver Strahan.

Another gift is "Again Sanders" by Edgar Wallace, presented by Rev. K. C. Minter.

Silent Husband Divorced
 Newburyport, Mass. (U.P.)—Mrs. Ida Gramont complained in court that her married life, had been 25 silent years. Every time she spoke to her husband she testified, he merely shrugged his shoulders. She got her decree.

Perfume Is Sweet Story for Spring

NEA Service Staff Writer The perfume story for spring appears sweet rather than spicy. By Easter, it seems that all of us will be wearing floral scents that are reminiscent of grandmothers' sweet sachet, orange groves in full bloom and nature's gardens of wild roses, violets and lilacs.

Of course, if you are a breezy outdoor girl who likes to let the world know that rain in your face, wind in your hair and a riding habit on your figure are what it takes to make you feel at home, leather scents may appeal. Any number of perfumers make them these days. They smell very much like clean, fresh saddle leather and, according to horse enthusiasts, are nice on coat collars, furs and the like.

south offset to the Barnsdall No. 1 H. C. Foster, the pool opener, and is located 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 24, block 43, township 2 south, T. & P. survey.

The east offset, Barnsdall No. 1, Frank Foster, 600 feet out of the southwest corner of section 18, block 42, township 2 south, when last reported, was drilling anhydrite at 3,345 feet.

CRANE WILDCAT WILL RUN 8 5/8-INCH CASING After a drill-stem test showed oil in addition to 2,500 feet of drilling mud, Humble No. 1 J. B. Tubb, Crane county wildcat, is preparing to run 8 5/8-inch casing. The test has reached a total depth of 4,375 feet.

REPORT TOP OF LIME IN SEMINOLE TEST There are unconfirmed reports that the closely watched Seminole test, W. T. Walsh and Harry Adams Corp., 1 Averitt, in central Gaines county has topped lime at 4,490 feet, the formation being uniform as drilling proceeded to 4,515. Earlier in the week 4,300 was called as the lime top but subsequent development of anhydrite disproved the point.

Wahlennmaier, York and Harper No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, fourteen miles northwest of the Averitt, continues to make slow time through hard lime, having reached 5,198 feet at the end of the week. Scheduled to go to 5,200 feet before abandonment, it is said to be low structurally, with Permian lime entered at 4,980 feet.

Although the original wave of excitement has died down, much interest is still focused on the Yoakum county prospective pool opener, Honohu Oil Corp., Ltd., and Cascade Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Bennett. The test remains shut down for orders after a week of inactivity since encountering salt water Feb. 29 in drilling an additional 16 feet below the old depth of 5,096. It is possible that operators may decide to shoot or treat the two-foot pay zone from Sinclair-Prairie and others No. 1 Tubb, a unit test two miles farther northwest, was put on pump last week as a small producer capable of less than 10 barrels daily. Drilled to a total depth of 3,164 feet, it was treated Feb. 27 with 1,050 gallons of acid but failed to register sizeable increase in oil coming from zones at 2,890 to 2,890, 2,910 to 2,918 and from 2,980 to 2,990. Location is in the southeast corner of section 8, block B-27, public school land.

In the Waddell pool of northeastern Crane county, Magnolia No. 4 Edwards nears the heavy pay horizon in drilling below 3,529 feet in lime. It is a north offset to the largest well yet completed in the pool, the Magnolia No. 3 Edwards, good for 14,312 barrels per day. The No. 4 prospect is located 1,650 feet from the south and 330 feet from the west line of section 2, block B-23, public school land.

The Skelly No. 1 Baker, in the center of the southeast of the southwest of section 22-23-37e, is a diagonal southeast offset to the Neville G. Penrose and Rowan Drilling Co. No. 1 Will Carey, discovery producer in the sand belt area. Three hundred and forty-five quarts of solidified nitroglycerin run in another sand belt prospect, Skelly No. 1 R. R. Simms, failed to go off as scheduled, and shooters are running liquid "soup" on top of the other charge preparatory to shooting. The well showed for a producer when it started spraying oil from pay breaks at 3,605 to 3,610 and 3,624 to 3,626. It encountered an estimated 4,000,000 cubic feet of gas while drilling from 3,516 to 3,518 which has since diminished to about 800,000 feet per day. It is in the center of the southeast of the southeast of section 4-23s-37e, south of Skelly No. 1 H. O. Simms, recently completed for a potential of 73 barrels.

SWABBING THROUGH CASING IN REPOLLO TEST Tubing has been pulled and swabbing through casing is in progress in the Repollo Oil Co. No. 1 J. H. Williams, a wildcat two miles east of the Monument pool. After treating with 2,000 gallons of acid for the second time, operators were recovering water, acid and the remainder of an oil load in swabbing through tubing. While drilling to a total depth of 4,153 feet, the No. 1 Williams had more than 2,000 feet of oil in the hole from pay streaks at 3,860 to 3,865 and from 3,916 to 3,919. Location is in the northeast corner of section 33-19s-37e.

In section 32-23s-37e Skelly No. 1 Bertha L. King has drilled out the bottom plug of a two-stage cement job in which 7-inch casing was set at 3,452 feet and is now bailing out mud preparatory to going ahead. The test, located three-quarters of a mile northeast of Skelly No. 1 Harrison, sand belt discovery producer, installed cable tools after drilling to 3,590 feet with rotary. Skelly No. 1 A. L. 5,004 to 5,096 feet in an effort to develop commercial production. When first drilled into, the zone yielded oil which rose 4,000 feet in the hole within a short time. After being shut down for about five months while clearing tide, the well was opened up and flowed 77 barrels when agitated. It is in drilling to 5,112 feet that the No. 1 Bennett encountered the water, presumably picked up near 5,098. It is about 11 miles southeast of Plains in the northwest quarter of section 67s, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Another producer for the sand belt area in Lea county, Southeastern New Mexico, was assured when flow of 151 barrels of oil the first 13 hours after shot was registered by Skelly Oil Co. No. 1 Baker. Shot with 180 quarts of nitroglycerin from 3,590 to 3,590 feet, the total depth, it cleaned itself immediately afterward, flowing steadily for production of 63 barrels the first five hours. The next eight hours the well flowed by heads for a total of 88 barrels. Operators are now engaged in cleaning out shot debris, having reached 3,585 early Sunday.

General accidents in Midland have stayed near a minimum figure, but such a record cannot be maintained with drivers consistently failing to observe the laws as they are doing at the present time, an official said.

Territory Taken to Be Held If He Agrees

ROME, Mar. 7 (AP)—An informed authority Saturday said that Mussolini had accepted "in principle" the League African peace appeal, and indicated far reaching grants of Ethiopian territory was necessary. The conditions includes zone influence and land around Lake Tana, where Great Britain is interested.

In Addis Ababa, the Red Cross has been divided into medical zones in preparation of possible Italian air attacks. Italian airplanes, roaring deep into Ethiopia, spread death and destruction Friday and gave the capital a sleepless night as it prepared for bombardment Saturday.

Intensification of Italy's aerial war against Ethiopia on all fronts and deep into territory behind the lines. Bombardment of Debra Marcos, capital of Gojjam Province, with heavy casualties. WORKERS LAUNCH DRIVE TYING UP MORE EMPLOYES

Threatened Action in Apartments Is Started

NEW YORK, Mar. 7 (AP)—Leaders of the building workers strike Saturday launched a threatened drive against the grand central section of Manhattan, embracing an area of 200 apartment buildings. Workers affected totaled 5,300. Leaders have ordered workers in swank hotels to leave their jobs.

Leaders are claiming a major victory with the signing of a truce Friday night between the union and the Prudence company covering 3,500 workers in 45 large apartment and business buildings. An agreement, as announced at strike headquarters, carries a blanket wage increase of $2 a week and a "preferential shop" clause giving union members precedence when vacancies are filled.

Boydhood Relic Cherished Vallejo, Cal. (AP)—Jack Ward, 62, veteran ball player, keeps an old time street gas lamp in his home. It is a souvenir of when as a boy he used to shoot the glass panes out of it with his slingshot when the police were not looking.
