Above is the NEA Service artist's conception of the re-united Weyerhaeusers after 9-year-old little George was returned Saturday morning to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Weyerhaeuser, Jr., upon alleged payment of $200,000 ransom to kidnapers who had held him for eight days. He appeared at the home of a farmer, 20 miles from their home at Tacoma, Wash.

TACOMA, June 1. (AP).—Little George Weyerhaeuser was released safely by his kidnapers today, after the $200,000 ransom reportedly was paid by his uncle, F. Rodman Titcomb.

The child was found by a farmer, George Boniface, 25 miles northeast of Tacoma and returned to his anxious parents after being in custody of the kidnapers for eight days.

He said the men who seized him carried each other "Alvin, Harry and Bill".

The boy walked to Boniface's home at about 4 o'clock this morning, unharmed and cheerful. Boniface dried his clothing and brought him to Tacoma after daylight.

The notorious Alvin Karpis gang were believed to have been the kidnapers. The greatest manhunt in the history of the northwest began as soon as the boy was restored to his parents.

The boy told of two men intercepting him while he was returning home from school, hustling him into a car where they covered him with blankets and blindfolded him.

EDUCATING THE BIG CITY

There is something rather melancholy about this stunt by which a portable "barn" with an assortment of farm animals is being transported about in New York City so that children from the pavements can get an idea of what cows, sheep, and banyard fowl really look like.

Living in a city offers many advantages, of course; but this stunt does emphasize some of the disadvantages which arise when city life is made too confining.

A child brought up under circumstances which keep it ignorant of the simplest of facts about rural life, so that it won't even know what a cow looks like unless someone lugs one around and exhibits it—such a child simply isn't getting a fair start in life.

Of course, there's nothing especially inspiring about the sight of a cow. But city pavements make a poor substitute for grassy meadows, and the mere fact that this portable barn arrangement is making such a stir speaks volumes about the artificial condition under which some city children live.

Tuberculosis Is Ancient Problem, Statistics Show

Editor's Note: The following is the third of the essays on Tuberculosis prevention to be published in The Reporter-Telegram. The winning essay by Mary Kinnebrew was published first and following it the essay by Betty Maness which won honorable mention in the contest conducted in the High School. The following essay also won honorable mention.

By MELBA LEE The statistics of our ancient histories and health records show us that the tuberculosis problem goes back to the earliest days of our present civilization. Through the centuries, this dreaded disease has taken wide toll in every country and has been one of the greatest problems that has ever confronted humanity.

twice a year would assure us that we are all right. If we do find that there is a sign of tuberculosis, we still have time to prevent it from spreading all over our bodies. Every community should take precautions in preventing the spread of tuberculosis. Public health measures project us not only from tuberculosis but against all other diseases.

Every community should have pure food laws. Pure food laws of the purification of the milk, cleanliness of places where food is handled, and the food that comes into the community must be clean and free from germs.

Letters to the Editor

The Reporter-Telegram, Midland, Texas. I will appreciate your publishing the following letter which appeared recently in The El Paso Herald-Post. (Signed) W. V. Bennett.

Mr. Roosevelt's veto of the veterans' so-called bonus following the cowardly so-called economy act and his willingness to sign a compromise bonus bill that would have obliterated the veterans out of a billion dollars.

Our ancestors once had the foolish idea that tuberculosis could not be cured, but modern scientists have mapped out a way in which even the most hopeless cases are often cured.

One who does not have tuberculosis should try to avoid having it. Tuberculosis can be avoided by one's giving his body the proper environment and hygiene care. Every state should supply sanitariums for the individual who suffers with the disease, so that the person who does not have it may be protected from the one that does.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Ever so often there comes a time which seems to indicate that there should be a general gathering of odds and ends, whether they be odds and ends of sewing, housework, or information.

In this case they happen to be the latter, so we present herewith gleanings from hither and thither which have accumulated on our desk as being interesting but somehow have not been used until now.

Snap on Hat Trimming Summer hats, with white or pastel trimmings always will look fresh if the trimming is fastened with snaps. Several colored bands, or different bouquets of flowers will give you a change and you won't have to spend last minute-time sewing them on.

Silver Lame Table Cloth Silver lame material that you can buy at a partying price is being used for festive dinner tables this year. To make a cloth large enough to seat ten, use three widths, sixty inches long, stitch together with seams running across the table. After the June wedding is over, put away for Christmas.

Ginger Seasoning Ginger in fruit cocktails, as a sauce over ice cream and indeed, frozen into the ice cream itself, has become a fad of smart hostesses this year. The touch of heat adds a piquant note to what otherwise is a monotony of sweetness.

HEALTH

WASH Cooked by MRS. ADDISON YOUNG

Summer is here. The children are happy, but the mothers are worried. Summer brings troubles for the baby with his diet, and accidents for the older children.

But the wise mother knows how to cope with summer hazards to the health of her family. She has learned that the dreaded "summer complaint," which used to shoot the infant mortality curve sky high during the month of August, is caused by poor hygiene and improper diet. She takes care that baby's milk is pasteurized, and kept cold so that the bacteria will not multiply. She has her family immunized to typhoid fever every three years, and keeps a first aid kit on hand for cuts and scratches.

When everyone piles in the car to go on a camping trip the careful mother takes along one of those handy first aid packages. And out here in West Texas a snake bite outfit is the best sort of "snake charm" to carry.

Becton, Dickinson and Co., puts out a regular "Snake Bite Outfit, No. 2066" which may be bought at a local drug store for less than two dollars. The package contains a rubber tourniquet, a package of razor blades, some iodine swabs, and most important a suction bulb with cup attachments. Complete directions are given for administering first aid to snake bite victims.

Ford V-8 Brings Fine-Car Performance Within Your Reach

THE FORD V-8—one of the most important forward steps in the history of the automobile—brings to all the people what was formerly within reach of the few. The V-8 engine had always been known for its outstanding performance, but it was used only in expensive cars. People wanted it—knew it was better. But, few motorists could afford to pay $2000 or more for an automobile.

The principle of the engine was right but the price was prohibitive. Ford decided to get that price down to where more people could have a V-8 car.

That was the new idea. The V-8 was a new kind of car to fit new times, but the thought behind it was the same... the tested Ford idea of service. The Ford Motor Company simply continued to do the pioneering work that has been its specialty for 30 years and set a new standard of value.

The significance of the Ford V-8 is that now it becomes possible for every one to have a really fine automobile at low cost. Price is not a barrier. Even those who can afford high prices for an automobile are driving the Ford V-8. It is the car of fashion as well as utility.

Today's Ford V-8 gives everything you would like to have in performance, beauty, comfort and safety. As for dependability and economy—the Ford has always been known for that. Today it stands also for the newest, latest developments in automobile building.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE TO OPEN FIFTH YEAR OF PLAY MONDAY NIGHT

MANAGERS OF SIX TEAMS ANNOUNCE READY FOR START

By JESS RODGERS

The Midland Industrial Softball League will officially open tomorrow night at 7:45 for its fifth consecutive year of the nocturnal sport.

The league was organized here in 1931 through the efforts of several business men headed by "Scotty" Gemmill, now of Iran, and eight clubs were entered in it that season. The next season also found eight teams battling for the pennant but for the last two seasons it has been a six-team league.

In the first year of play the Texas Electric Service Company emerged the winner of a split season when they defeated the Scruggs Buick team in the last game of a seven-game play-off by the rather hectic score of 13-11.

In the league that season was Midland Hardware, Texas Electric, Scruggs Buick, Lindy's Tailors, Ford Motor, Reporter-Telegram, Petroleum Pharmacy and the Bell Telephone Company teams.

The Texas Electric club won the first half of the season but when it was over Leon Chewning, probably the best softball pitcher ever to play in the league, switched over to the Scruggs team and pitched them to the championship of the second half. Because of a previous agreement he was not allowed to pitch in the play-off, however, and it was a fatal blow for the Scruggs hopes.

After finishing second in both halves of the race in 1931 the Midland Hardware placed a team on the field in 1932 that was far ahead of all opposition and they romped home with both halves of the pennant. The same club was the winner in 1933 but did not enter a club in the flag chase last season.

In 1934 the Shaughnessy play-off plan was adopted by the league and the Southern Ice, who did not finish any higher than fourth on the full season averages, became pennant winners when they eliminated two other clubs in post-season play-offs.

The Hardware club is the only member of the league this season that was a member in the first season of play but a large majority of the players listed by the various clubs this season were members of the league in its initial year.

In the opening game tomorrow night the Midland Hardware and Cox Motor clubs will tangle and the second game will find the Southern Ice and Continental fighting each other for a winning start for the year.

Flubdubs

BY JESS RODGERS

After so long a time the softball season will open tomorrow night and so far as we can determine everyone is as ready as they will ever be.

In our opinion the rule passed by the managers the other night giving the umpires authority to chase any unruly player from the game is the best one ever passed. However, we think there should have been a few more teeth in the ruling. Why not give the umpires authority to suspend for a while any player whose conduct causes him to be banished from the game? Such a rule would make any player think twice before "popping off" at the umpires too much.

All sports writers have a weakness for picking winners—ours is very weak usually—but just to uphold tradition we shall make a stab at picking how the teams will stand at the end of the season. In our opinion they will finish in this order: Hughes Tool Co., Midland Hardware, Gulf Refining Co., Southern Ice, Continental and Cox Motor Co.

In our opinion Hughes Tool does not have the strongest team in the league at present despite the fact that they have defeated both the Hardware and Gulf teams in practice sessions. A four run rally in the first game gave them a bare one-run win over the Hardware but there was nothing fluky about their win over the Gulf club Friday night. They simply had too much power and came out on top by a 17-11 score. At pitching and catching the Hughes club is second to none but their infield is very weak all over and strength will have to be added to it before they will win any pennants. Their hitting so far has been plenty heavy but there is no argument that they have some men who have been hitting the ball who will fold up when the pitchers get into a little better shape.

Highway Engineer Drowned in River

WICHITA FALLS, May 31. (AP)—Chester Robinson, 30, resident engineer of the state highway department in Hardeman county, was apparently drowned in Pease river early Thursday night, when a trolley he and two other men were riding across the river broke. Robinson's companions were able to escape from the swollen stream. Searching parties from Crowell, Childress and Quanah joined in a night search for Robinson's body.

The trolley was used to span a 275-foot gap in the Pease river bridge north of Crowell, caused by the floods of May 18.

Concerning the Hardware team they undoubtedly have the best defense in the loop with the exception of catching but their offense will not get many runs for Wright in many of their games. Only lack of a first class catcher keeps us from naming them as the eventual winner.

On paper the Gulf club undoubtedly possesses more offensive strength than any other entry but so far Adamson, the Gulf pitcher has not shown the form with the small ball being used this season that he regains his form on the mound do not be surprised if this club finishes up on top. Their defense is apt to be weak at times but when the heavy hitters of the club once find their batting eye they will shell opposing pitchers for plenty of runs.

For fourth place we are picking the Southern Ice club because we do not believe they have what it takes to finish any higher in the league. They have both a fair offense and defense but neither is strong enough to put them near the top.

Sentiment is the only reason that we are picking the Continental club to finish higher in the league than the Cox club. You see, we play on that club. It is not a question of which of those two teams is the better but rather which is the worse.

That's the way we pick them but please do not try to wager us any that it will end differently. We're not a roofer for the Colored Colls said the other day.

From The Sporting News

A large majority of the Cleveland baseball fans are clamoring for the release of Walter Johnson following his release of Glen Myatt and suspension of Willie Kamm. Kamm is one of the most popular players to ever wear a Cleveland uniform and Myatt, through his 14 years of service with the Indians had gained a large following.

The New York Giants are not doing so badly with a patched up infield—Out, and outfielder is playing third for the injured Jackson and Cucinello, a rookie, is holding down second in swell fashion until Critz recovers from a bone felon on one of his fingers. Koenig is taking care of short until Bartell, out with an injured ankle, is able to return.

Rogers Hornsby has added $88,500 to the depleted treasury of the St. Louis Browns by the sale of players lately. He is none the worse off in the league standings either, as he was in the cellar to start. He is being gunned as manager of Cleveland.

An epidemic of hand injuries has severely handicapped the Ft. Worth Cats this season. At various times Heving, Binder, Robello, McCormick, Grissom and Howell have been on the sidelines with such injuries.

The Giants have beaten the Cubs four out of five times this season and have used a different pitcher each time.

Johnny Broaca is such a poor hitter that he even passes up his turn at the plate in the batting practice.

Bucky Walters, Philadelphia Phillies pitcher, gets a $25 bonus for every game he wins. He has won three and lost one so far this season. He was a third baseman last season.

Bob Boken has been out of the St. Paul line-up recently because of injuries.

Just Flubdubbing Around

The Odessa school board has hired Brooks Conover, Texas A. & M. football star in 1928, '29 and '30, and for the past four years head football coach at Ennis, to be football coach there next season. He will also teach mathematics in the high school. He will be assisted in his coaching by Kenneth Starnes, science teacher, who has been re-elected.

A matched game with the Crane entry in the Periman Basin League here today has fallen through and the Colls will have an off day.

Would you like to know how to . . .

Here, we believe, is one of the most fascinating discoveries of modern cookery—the scientific use of electric refrigeration in the preparation of food.

Don't confuse this with an ordinary cooking school demonstration, for it is entirely new and unlike anything hitherto presented. It deals entirely with the problem of cooking with cold and if it did nothing more than show you how to keep out of the kitchen in extremely hot weather it would be worth triple the time you will spend to learn these interesting facts.

We know that the words "Cook with Cold" read like magic, and to women accustomed to thinking of refrigeration as merely a cold place to store things, it is magic. Accept our invitation. Note the time and place and take advantage of this unusual event.

Insurance Company Opens Office Here
 The Trinity Life Insurance Company yesterday announced the opening of an office in Midland in charge of C. W. and W. B. Harkrider as the local agents.
 The local office will be a branch office for all West Texas and the territory of the two men will cover all of that section.
 Since their organization the Trinity Life Co. has enjoyed a growth that is nothing less than phenomenal. The company was organized in August, in 1932 and at the present time boasts more than 20,000,000 stockholders in the organization in the state of Texas, the only state in which the company operates.
 Full credit for the rapid growth of the company is given to the stockholders and the idea of the company has been—rather many small stockholders than a few large ones.
 One of the proudest boasts of the company is that there are stockholders in it in practically every town in the state of Texas.
 The local office of the company will be on the second floor of the Scharbauer hotel.

Tree Hit Head and Broke Hip
 PLATTSMOUTH, Neb. (U.P.)—A 30-foot oak tree fell on Robert Cook's head and fractured his hip. Cook, who is 78 years old, was chopping the tree when it crashed, striking him on the head. An examination at a hospital disclosed a slight bump and bruise on his head and a fractured hip, probably sustained when he twisted in an attempt to avoid the tree.

 He demonstrated the grading of vegetables and gave garden hints at a meeting held in the assembly room of the courthouse, Friday morning at 10 o'clock, for farm food supply demonstrators, tile demonstrators, and others interested in gardening.

 "You'll walk for the sheer joy of walking"

"From the first step you'll notice the difference—Foot Builder Arch Shoes are different. Every detail is fashioned to properly support and distribute your body weight properly.
 These shoes go farther than merely having a steel support to strengthen the arch. The shape of the inside is natural—it relieves fatigue—encourages vigor and poise—it actually allows you to forget your feet and enjoy yourself!"

The REASON...
 Notice the shape of the inside of Foot Builder Shoes, built high at the arch, low at the heel to distribute your weight correctly. Concealed beneath this feature is a steel arch
