Final reckoning in the sensational Werhanser kidnaping was being taken in federal court at Tacoma, Wash., as these pictures were snapped. Mrs. Margaret Waley, left, broken-hearted and sobbing, covered her face as she left the courtroom, but her husband, Harmon M. Waley, right, seemed unmoved.

Mrs. Castleberry, placed on the witness stand by the state following Adams' plea of guilty, said in her testimony that on or about June 2 she was beaten and robbed of her jewelry, consisting of a wedding ring, a diamond engagement ring and a wrist watch, in a pasture south of Warfield, after Pringle had driven her car there, he having held her head down in the car as he drove to the spot. "COMES THE REVOLUTION"

If you buy a meal in Wisconsin nowadays, and pay more than 25 cents for it, you have to eat some cheese with it. Or, to be exact, you have to buy some cheese, whether you eat it or not.

Maybe you don't like cheese? You'll buy it anyhow. And it somehow reminds one of the story of the radical who was haranguing a group of bums on the beauties of Communism.

One brave soul objected, saying that he didn't like strawberries and cream. The orator wagged his finger sternly and shouted: "Comes the revolution and you'll eat strawberries and cream—and like it!"

And in Wisconsin, you'll eat cheese, nowadays—and like it.

If Huey resents senators yawning during his filibusters, he might resort to some stop-gap legislation.

Study Effect of Exposure on Kinds Of Cotton Fabrics

COLLEGE STATION, (AP)—Fading and diminishing of strength of woven threads in certain cotton fabrics when exposed to normal conditions of sunlight, temperature and relative humidity, were subjects of an exhaustive study at the agricultural experiment station here and the findings are embodied in a report by Mary Anna Grimes of the rural home research department, just issued.

The cotton fabrics included in the study, the report states, were exposed to sunlight to determine the effect upon the strength and color. Exposure was made in direct sunlight with fabrics uncovered and in a horizontal position. The fabrics were tested after each 25-hour interval of exposure through 500 hours.

The 35 fabrics used in the study were broadcloths, chambrays, ginghams, suitings and mainsooks. The study developed, the report continues, that the length of time the fabrics were exposed had the greatest effect upon loss in strength and that temperature had greater effect than relative humidity.

All white and all colored fabrics changed in color during exposure, the report explains. Color changes were not dependent upon the color but upon the dye and the depth of dyeing. Dark colors appear to fade less than light colors.

less than light colors. Variations in loss of strength and color show "the importance of using dyes or combinations of dyes which neither tender nor fade objectionably."

Carnival Leaves Seeds

Six little boys met on a highway and began throwing rocks at each other. Each had his pockets full of stones.

The first little boy was hurt. Every one was soon bleeding. So they quit for awhile. But the sixth little boy wouldn't throw away his stones because the fifth one wouldn't. And the fifth little boy wouldn't throw away his stones because the fourth one wouldn't.

The fourth little boy wouldn't throw his stones away because the third one wouldn't.

The second little boy wouldn't throw away his stones because the first one wouldn't, and the first one wouldn't throw his stones away because the sixth one wouldn't.

So all kept stones in pocket. Whenever they met, a fight generally always occurred. The little boys had such names as France, Germany, England, America, Japan, and Italy.

Sales Psychology Will Put Over Good Deal With Child

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Behold the salesman. He is our leading psychologist. He does not say we have to buy. He puts ideas into our heads until we want to buy. He should be an excellent father, unless getting tired of putting things over all day, he then goes home and takes it out on the kids.

The gas-station man with the record doesn't say, "How many do you need?" or "Will it take five?" but rather, "What'll she hold?" ## FEMINE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Human beings are curious creatures. For example, we can be feeling very blue and tired but if some kind friend says very sympathetically, "You poor thing. It's a shame for you to have to work so hard. You do look tired," we immediately perk up and feel neither tired nor blue. Contradiction seems to be a part of woman's (and man's) essential make-up.

So long as our dreams are all pleasant ones, we never worry about dreams disturbing our rest. But as soon as we begin dreaming about dreams disturbing our rest, work or committing social blunders or other disagreeable things, we immediately recall that sleep never does a person as much good when he is dreaming and that something should be done to stop dreams altogether.

We are elated to discover that one of the stores in town is handling sheet music at an extremely low price. Some of the music, we noticed, was classical—the kind that shows up in every musician's repertoire. Now if only the newest hits could be furnished at as reasonable a price, we think all musicians—and mere piano players in the town—would be in with the world. We are told that a surprising amount of the music has been sold.

We noticed that a kitchen pot-holder carried on its cover a calendar. If most cooks were the kind we are, a clock to keep things from burning by over-long cooking would be more appropriate.

a haystack and his socks are perpetually collapsed. Possibly Mrs. Smith was stung on a hat, but anyway she says, "Mrs. Jones was in today, dear, and she saw your picture. 'My, I never knew what a handsome boy Jimmy was' she exclaimed. 'What gorgeous hair he has!'"

James may utter something about that "mug" of his, but after a while he MAY amble nonchalantly upstairs and use the brush and hitch up the socks. We don't say he will, but the chances are good. A mother has to learn the tricks of the trade without being suspected. Once an idea gets into a child's head, the means used will probably disappear and the lesson stick. Anyway a bit of flattery is permissible anywhere. (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

FARLEY SAYS NRA BRINGS RECOVERY

ELMIRA, N. Y., June 25. (U.P.)—Postmaster General James A. Farley told the Chemung County Democratic Committee Monday that the impetus given to business by the NRA for the two years of its existence will carry the country toward prosperity.

"We cannot hope that recovery will be as rapid as it would have been had the constitutionality of the NRA not been determined adversely," Farley said.

The Postmaster General pointed out that his department reflects better times. Postal receipts, he contended, for the first ten months of the present fiscal year were 10 1/3 per cent up in the smaller post-offices of the country and 6 per cent up in the larger offices.

Farley explained that when business is bad the mails fall off because firms do not send so many letters, packages or bills, but when times become better the mails again pick up.

TO MAKE EROSION EXPERIMENTS IN TEXAS PANHANDLE

AMARILLO, June 25. (U.P.)—A second major soil erosion control experiment—protection of pasture lands—will be started by the federal government in the Texas Panhandle-Plains area about July 1.

The first work will be done on the Potter county pasture control project under the direction of H. H. Fennell of Dalhart, regional director of the Soil Erosion Service.

One of five CCC camps approved for the Panhandle in the government's fight against the ravages of erosion will be on the Fuqua ranch, 15 miles north of Amarillo.

The project, planned on a five-year basis, designed to halt damage by water to grass lands in the western part of Potter county. The area to be worked by the CCC enrollees will be the watersheds of the West Amarillo and Recovas creeks, including more than one-

Stonewall Co. Agent Awarded Fellowship

COLLEGE STATION.—James W. Potts, Stonewall county agricultural agent and former 4-H club boy, has been awarded a $1000 fellowship for nine months' study in the U. S. Department of Agriculture offered by the Payne Fund of New York City, according to O. B. Martin, Extension director.

Potts was raised on a farm in Lubbock county and was graduated from Lubbock High School in 1929. In 1933 he received a B. S. degree from Texas Technological college, majoring in agronomy.

Potts started 4-H club work in 1921 with a pig that won third place at the county fair. With premium money won on a registered gilt in 1922 he bought a Jersey cow and started a dairy herd which practically paid his way through college. He also carried demonstrations in pure line grain, sought seed production, best cattle and cotton. Total profits for one three-year period were $2,489.55 or an average of $829.85 per year.

Grant Made for Research Work

AUSTIN.—Receipt of a special grant from the General Education Board of a sum of $16,000 to be used in connection with the State of Texas "Curriculum Revision Program" and the carrying out of a series of related research problems has been announced by Dr. Fred C. Ayer, professor of educational administration at the University of Texas. The grant was made to the University of Texas and the work assigned to the Department of Educational Administration.

The grant covers a period of two years and is allotted for the greater part to paying the salary and research expenses of H. F. Alves, who, under the direction of Professor Ayer, will give his entire time to the series of studies. Mr. Alves has for a number of years been assistant superintendent in research and accounting in the State Department of Education. He will assist Dr. Ayer in carrying out the research study in the field of child accounting which has now been underway for three years. Mr. Alves and Dr. Ayer will work jointly in the hall ground on South Main street, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock for discussion of plans.

Broom Turns Up $150 LEWISBURG, Pa. (U.P.)—While street sweeping isn't a well paid job, William N. Rohrer finds it lucrative at times. A vigorous push at the broom recently revealed a silver half-dime which a numismatic concern told Rohrer was worth $150.

Giant African forest hogs grow nearly to the size of a small hippopotamus.

Fourth of the county's 600,000 acres. Barracks will be erected at the camp early in June and enrollees will be sent there immediately. Other CCC companies under the erosion program will be sent to Hall, Ochiltree, Lamb and Dawson counties.

Panhandle ranchmen have been alarmed for a number of years because of rapidly growing arroyos and gullies through their pastures. Much fine land has been damaged by gullies which cut deeper with each heavy rain.

The control program probably will include construction of dams across gullies so that they will fill with silt; reshaping of natural slopes; resodding certain areas; allowing some pastures to remain ungrazed until the grass is re-established; and removing of foreign plants which are of no food value to stock.

Fennell has been in charge of the 26,000-acre soil erosion control project near Dalhart, which was established in an effort to determine the best methods of combatting wind erosion.

In his opinion, rains alone will not halt wind damage. Artificial means, the most successful of which is contour listing, must be applied, he said.

The Amarillo Chamber of Commerce has been notified that the Panhandle would receive $5,250,000 allocated to the Soil Erosion Service for a permanent program in Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico and Kansas.

H. H. Bennett, director of the erosion service, announced that the permanent program provided for a minimum of $1.50 an acre. He indicated that additional funds would be authorized if necessary.

It has been estimated that more than 5,000,000 acres in Texas will be blocked off by the soil conservation group as being in need of permanent treatment to prevent further damage from eroding winds.

Tourist Hunt in N. M. Is Fruitless

SANTA FE, N. M., June 25. (U.P.)—Gov. Clyde Tingley, weary from leading a determined hunt for four Illinois tourists missing a month, returned to Santa Fe for "40 winks" of sleep last night after another promising clue had proved unproductive.

He called for a meeting late last night at Albuquerque with other leaders of the search, including R. H. Colvin, department of justice agent at El Paso, Texas.

Another conference also was on the night's schedule, a meeting with Wesley Hoar, brother-in-law of George Lorius who with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer, all of East St. Louis, Ill., dropped from sight while en route through New Mexico from their homes to California.

Highways Combed For nearly a week the governor has personally been directing national guardsmen and other searching parties who have covered, on foot and by automobile, hundreds of miles of the highway over which the two Illinois couples traveled.

He returned to Santa Fe at midnight from the search headquarters in the southern end of the state, attended to pressing state business and then returned to San Antonio, N. M., southwest of here, early this morning. The clue that took him there was a report that buzzards were circling an island in the Rio Grande near San Antonio. Army observation planes flew over the island but later reported they could see nothing out of the ordinary and the governor returned here for a short sleep before his conferences.

The governor uncovered evidence he said indicated the two couples had stopped in San Antonio for gasoline May 22.

Young Democrats Have Committees

QUANAH, June 25. (U.P.)—Bill Futral of Amarillo, president of the West Texas Young Democrats club, announced appointment of two important committees at a dinner here June 18, honoring O. C. (Red) Christie of Quanah, recently appointed to membership on the national organization committee of the Young Democrats club. He was secretary of the Young Democrats clubs of Texas.

The appointments follow: Executive committee—Max Boyer of Perryton, chairman; French Robertson of Haskell; Jack Little of Amarillo; A. B. Brown of Lubbock, and Harold Hankamer of El Paso.

Membership committee—Albert Law of Dalhart, chairman; Guy Tomlinson of Tulsa; Gilmore Nunn of Pampa; Carrie Nation of Amarillo; Dick Cavett of Littlefield; Jack Brazil of Quanah and Gilbert Carter of Benjamin and Fort Worth.

J. R. Wrinkle of Santa Fe, president of the New Mexico club, and Walter Nelson Jr., former mayor of Fort Worth, were among the guests.

Time to Cut Out Old Berry Vines

"Cut out the old dewberry and blackberry vines now," says J. F. Rosborough, Extension horticulturist. "Leave three or four of the new canes and when they get about three feet or a little better, top them," he says. "All this makes for increased production next year. Also, picking will be easier."

Tomatoes are suckering too much, due to recent rains, Rosborough states. The thing to do is to pinch back all except three or four suckers and when these have set a cluster of fruit pinch their tops off so all the strength of the plant will go into development of quality tomatoes.

Old railroad ties for posts with two strands of wire run between two and four feet above the ground doubled the yield of berry vines owned by Manco Morrow in Marion county. The berries were trained to grow on the wires. Morrow has been able to sell all that he grew and is increasing his patch to an acre.

Rosborough, while on a visit to Midland recently, said that Midland county gardens compared favorably with those in other parts of West Texas. He gave special praise to English peas, grown in one garden in the county.

JOE LOUIS GETS CHANCE TONIGHT FOR BIG FIGHTS

NEW YORK, June 25. (U.P.)—Primo Carnera will have a weight advantage of 64 1/2 pounds over Joe Louis, Detroit negro, in the 15-round heavyweight match tonight at Yankee stadium.

Carnera weighed 261 1/2 while the negro weighed 196 on the official scales this afternoon. Dr. William Walker, official examiner, pronounced both in first class condition.

NEW YORK, June 25. (U.P.)—The big test for Joe Louis, Detroit's devastating negro puncher, comes tonight in Yankee Stadium when he battles Primo Carnera, 258-pound Italian giant, in a 15-round heavyweight bout.

More than 50,000 spectators are expected to pay approximately $400,000 to see Louis unleash his lethal fists on the ex-heavyweight champion's giant frame.

Tales of Louis' punching prowess continue to make him a 6-5 favorite with the betting gentry, but after the experience of the Baer-Braddock upset it is likely even money will prevail today.

Hailed as the "brown Dempsey" and the greatest negro fighter since Sam Langford, the Boston Tar Baby, Louis will enter the ring with one of the most remarkable records in pugilistic history. He has scored 22 triumphs without a defeat in less than a year of professional boxing. He has knocked out 18 of his opponents, and all of them on the floor at least once.

Louis punches with either hand—short, brutal punches. The frozen-faced negro fights from a flat-footed stance, shuffling to stalk his foe.

Carnera's size, strength and experience are the main factors in favor of the ex-champion. Louis never has faced a man as big or rough as the Italian man mountain. He scored his knockouts against men of his own size. Carnera is nearly six inches taller than Louis.

Although Carnera has a record of 62 knockouts in 85 bouts, he is not regarded as a stiff puncher. He has a club-like left but he never has shown a dangerous punch against a first-class foe. With a 60-pound weight advantage, Carnera can wear the negro down in the clinches. The farther the bout goes, the better Carnera's chances would seem to be.

Work on Dormitory Started at Alpine

ALPINE.—(Special).—Work has been started on the $47,500 boy's dormitory at Sul Ross State Teachers College, a FWA project which for long has been a major goal in the college's improvement program.

The contract was let to Morgan and Sons, contractors, of El Paso. Blueprints and specifications for the building were drawn by W. E. Ketchum, Austin architect.

The dormitory will be a Spanish type building 176 feet long by 111 feet wide, containing 28 rooms which will accommodate 54 students. During the summer, it was said, the building will be used as headquarters for the Sul Ross Art Colony.

Dandelion Scourge Wins

ALAMOSA, Colo., (U.P.)—There are no dandelions in Altmore, Mayor Everett Cole, recently offered a theatre ticket to each boy and girl who would gather 15 pounds of dandelions. One hundred pounds were turned in the first day and 200 the second.

PORT CLINTON, O. (U.P.)—John Bubert landed a 75-pound sturgeon here recently. The fish gave up 16 pounds of roe to be converted into caviar.

A CEREAL THAT HAS MADE HISTORY

When our company introduced a new kind of cereal, 29 years ago, we were unconsciously changing the breakfast habits of the nation. Kellogg's Corn Flakes have become the most popular ready-to-eat cereal in the world.

We buy more than 7,000,000 bushels of high-grade corn a year. It is estimated that since Kellogg's Corn Flakes were first made, we have used as much corn as could be grown in a year on 3,500,000 acres of land.

At the same time Kellogg's Corn Flakes have created uses for vast quantities of other farm products. With the 12,000,000 servings of Kellogg's eaten every day, 2,500,000 quarts of milk and cream are consumed. And countless tons of fruit, sugar and honey are daily companions to Kellogg's breakfasts.

When you eat Kellogg's Corn Flakes, you enjoy flavor and crispness that no other cereal has ever successfully imitated. You get big value at low cost. And you save the time and labor of cooking.

The original Corn Flakes have always been the best. Be sure you ask for Kellogg's.
