D. R. ASKS FOR NEW MONEY LAWS

SENATE APPROVES "NUISANCE" TAX 2-YR. EXTENSION

FDR Disavows Any Intention to Rush Enactment

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP)—The Senate today approved the hurriedly-negotiated conference agreement extending the $500,000,000 "nuisance" taxes for two years.

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP)—A presidential disavowal of plans for enacting the new wealth-taxes by Saturday coupled with stubborn House insistence upon originating the levies Wednesday night prompted abandonment of all efforts to push the program pell-mell through Congress.

Instead of attaching the new rates on big incomes and inheritances to the pending resolution prolonging the life of a long list of nuisance taxes, Democratic leaders decided to make a separate bill of them and let it follow the course usual to such legislation.

This quickly resulted. The $500,000,000 nuisance tax resolution already approved by the House was called up in the Senate and speedily adopted; the House Ways and Means committee planned to begin consideration of the tax-rich program next week.

Day of Confusion
The decision to follow this course was reached after a day of confusion precipitated by a press conference statement from President Roosevelt. He told newsmen that while he wanted the wealth-taxes enacted before adjournment, he never had intended that they be hooked up with the nuisance levies and pushed through by Saturday.

Leaders frankly were surprised at Roosevelt's remarks. It was recalled that after a White House conference Monday evening, Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, announced that such a plan would be followed. Chairman Harrison of the Senate Finance committee repeatedly had proclaimed his intention of tacking the new taxes onto the nuisance tax extension.

The resulting situation provided Republican opponents of the tax program with no little amusement. Neither Robinson nor Harrison would comment on the misunderstanding, although they made it apparent they were not seriously disturbed.

Midland Citizens Plan Vacations
"When are you leaving?" or the companion question, "When did you come back?" bids fair to supplant the usual "How are you?" when Midlanders greet their friends during these vacation days.

Among those who have recently returned from vacation trips are Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Wilson. They arrived in Midland last night after an extended motor trip that took them to California, Salt Lake City, Utah, Rocky Mountain Park, Nevada, and other show places of the West.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Mallicoat are leaving today by automobile for El Dorado, Ark. They probably will go on to the Ozarks while away. Mallicoat will return in about a week but Mrs. Mallicoat will remain for a two weeks' visit.

Mrs. Bertha Kenney of Wadley's store is away on her vacation. She will attend the rodeo at Stamford.

Burness's body was found in the garage of a friend's home at Atlantic Beach, L. I., where he had been visiting.

YOUTH PROGRAM PUT UNDER WAY BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP)—A $500,000,000 program for training young people and supplying them with jobs was put under way Wednesday by President Roosevelt.

Officials estimated that the plan would take care of 500,000 young men and women between 16 and 25. Upward of the same number are to be helped by the civilian conservation corps.

The yield on the investment should be high," Mr. Roosevelt said in announcing the program.

The new plan was divided into four sections designed to: Give young persons work in private industry. Train and retrain them for private employment. Give them work relief on youth projects.

Miss Roche in Charge
Miss Josephine Roche, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and Aubrey Williams, assistant to Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, were put in charge of the new program.

LAVAL WILLING TO NEGOTIATE WITH HITLER

Says Must Submit Pact to Other Powers

PARIS, June 27. (AP)—Premier Pierre Laval declared Wednesday night he is willing to negotiate with Adolf Hitler on a peace arrangement for submission to all European powers, if it appears really possible.

"If the eventualities of a Franco-German agreement, which would respect the integrity of all powers, appears really possible soon," the Premier told the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee, he "would not hesitate to do his duty in favor of general peace and reconstruction of Europe."

Laval's statement concerned a previous remark at a press banquet that "if an accord became possible with Berlin I would not hesitate to conclude it, but for such an accord to come about it must not be between two but among several (powers)."

Hitler's offer of Germany's peace and friendship without any territorial demands, in his recent Reichstag speech, Laval indicated, inspired his remarks.

For Multilateral Pacts
France, Laval says, remains more than ever a supporter of multilateral pacts and negotiations among all powers for European peace. The League of Nations remains for the French Government the necessary framework for this peace.

The Premier's views were expressed in a three-hour hearing before the committee, which he solemnly pledged to secrecy on his confidential report of talks with Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, former lieutenant, at Krakow after the funeral of Marshal Pilsudski, and with Polish and Soviet officials at Warsaw and Moscow.

Secrecy is necessary, he said, because various negotiations including the pacts outlined at Stresa, are far from finished.

"There are five or six men in the world on whom peace depends," Laval said, "and destiny has placed me among them. I shall work for France and for peace."

WOULD TIGHTEN LOOPHOLES THAT ARE THREATENING

Asks for Legislation Before End of This Session

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP)—Legislation to tighten up any possible loopholes threatening the nation's new monetary system, was recommended to congress today by President Roosevelt. The legislation is designed to guard the administration's monetary policy against court attacks.

"Before the termination of this session of congress," the President said in a special message, "I believe it important that definite action be taken to eliminate any uncertainty with respect to the right of holders of gold clause bonds of the government to sue for payment either in gold or else in legal tender with the additional sum of 66 cents on every dollar. To this end I urge withdrawal by the United States of its consent to be sued upon its currency or securities."

Specifically, Roosevelt recommended immediate enactment of legislation:

1. That will authorize and direct the secretary of the treasury at the request of holders of gold clause securities of the United States to make payment therefor in cash, dollar for dollar with accrued interest, or at the holder's direction to exchange such securities with interest rate and maturity.

2. That will terminate any consent which the United States may have voluntarily given to be sued on its securities, coins or currencies; and

3. That will affirm a fixed policy of the United States to make payment to all holders of its securities, coins or currencies on an equal or uniform dollar-for-dollar basis and will make appropriations available for payments on this basis and on this basis only.

The sentence was fixed by Federal Judge Phillip Sullivan after he overruled a defense motion for a new trial.

NRA BREAKDOWN CALLS FOR CHANGE IN PLANS

It is generally taken for granted that the administration and the business community must find a new method of bringing about business recovery, in view of the supreme court's NRA decision, and that this method must include some better system of applying those controls which fell to the ground in the sick chicken case.

Since most people agree that something in the nature of a constitutional amendment would be necessary to bring this about, it is apparent that any such program would take a very long time to put into operation.

It might be more stimulating to look in an entirely different direction. The reversal of NRA fortunes unquestionably brings the New Deal program to a halt; but the field of government control of business is not the only one in which a fresh course could well be charted.

For it is worth remembering that the NRA was not merely a scheme for integrating the business world through government action. Its basic philosophy was the notion that recovery could not take place unless prices were kept up, and this, in the condition of the last few years, was possible only through restriction of supply.

As the NRA collapses, the chance of putting this policy into effect collapses also; and it is worth asking ourselves whether a change of course in this field might not be advisable.

When you try to bring about recovery by maintaining good prices you run the risk of mistaking the symptom for the disease. Falling prices, or a low price level generally, are not the cause of bad times; they are the result of bad times.

If you undertake to boost these prices by cutting down on the available supply of goods, you are not getting at the underlying trouble. The real trouble is the fact that production at a profit is not possible for the bulk of the producers.

In other words, it is the flow of goods itself, rather than the price level at which the flow is taking place, that is important. And the downfall of the NRA may give us an excellent chance to re-orient our policy so as to deal with the trouble itself instead of with its painful symptoms.

We have been trying, so far, to bring about prosperity through the control of an artificial scarcity. In some ways this has borne an unfortunate resemblance to the labors of a man who tries to lift himself by his own bootstraps. We may be better off if we get away from the notion that we can help ourselves by the use of scarcity, and turn to the idea of trying to work the trick by stimulating abundance.

The parole system, it seems, allows a criminal to pay his debt to society on the installment plan.

Evidently America hasn't a monopoly on careless movers. In France last week three cabinets were dropped.

FIVE YEAR PLAN OF AIR STRENGTH IS JAPAN'S AIM

TOKYO, June 24 (U.P.)—With an initial expenditure of approximately $80,000,000 and annual appropriations of $1,000,000 a year thereafter, the Ministry of Communications hopes to turn Japan into a land of flyers and at the same time win world recognition in commercial aviation.

An elaborate program of civil aviation which includes linking Japanese domestic lines with routes connecting the countries of the world has been mapped.

Japan is definitely short of civilian flyers and privately owned planes. Because of the mountainous nature of the country, flying is more hazardous than in the United States. With the air mail and passenger routes spreading over the world, Japan wants a part in the operation of the network.

Most of the reported suspicions on the part of officialdom regarding the Pan-American trans-Pacific venture are imaginary. Officials do not minimize the importance of an American chain of air stations across the ocean. On the other hand they do not minimize the importance of fast mails and fast travel.

Officials likewise realize that civilian interest in flying has contracted greatly to these advances. Hence the "five-year plan."

The next Diet session undoubtedly will be asked to provide a fund sufficient to let the government give real encouragement to civil aviation.

To make flying practical and safe for civilians, a large number of emergency landing places will be provided. Schools for flyers will be organized as well flying clubs to keep interest alive.

Two Programs Linked The civilian effort will go hand-in-hand with the five-year plan for improving the air defense.

The air defense program will cost some $25,000,000 for the five-year period but most of the money will be spent in building new fields, purchasing new equipment and strengthening air defense generally.

In designing the civilian the so-called "freedom" principal has been kept in mind. The freedom in this case is to make Japan independent of foreign manufacturers of airplanes.

Program Tentatively Drafted The tentative draft of the program that is expected to meet approval at an early date follows: 1. Completion and extension of the national air routes. Readjustment of existing air routes. Establishment of new air routes. Subsidy for the establishment of local air routes (30). Establishment ment of exclusive zones for emergency landings (15). Establishment of air beacons (152) and extension of routes.

2. Opening of regular international air service.

3. Trainings of crews—1,000 second class pilots, 400 first class pilots. Maintenance of crews; training of mechanics, 200; control of training institutes.

4. Control and encouragement of airplane manufacturing. Establishment of an air laboratory.

5. Popularization of home-made planes.

6. Promotion of air industry.

7. Establishment of the wireless equipments for aviation.

8. Protection and promotion of airships. Technical study.

Thousands Relief Cases Re-Opened Because of Flood AUSTIN—More than 1,000 families were left homeless and approximately 5,000 relief cases will be reopened as a result of devastating floods that swept through Texas recently. Tabulation of reports from relief administrators in 51 counties showed that 6,130 additional families are in need of assistance as a result of the high water.

The survey showed 150 homes of relief clients destroyed and 763 homes damaged. Some 300 houses of non-relief citizens were destroyed, and 1,500 houses damaged.

Bulk of the loss appeared to be in the counties along the Colorado river. Principal sufferers among the counties already reported are Travis, with 140 homeless and more than 600 homes destroyed or damaged; Eastroy, with 500 damaged homes, and a check-up was yet to come from Wharton and Matagorda counties.

In Northeast Texas, Fannin county reported 300 damaged homes; Bowie county reported 250 families temporarily homeless.

In the Hill country, Kimble county reported 30 homes destroyed, 35 damaged, 31 families homeless. West of San Antonio, Medina county reported 25 homes destroyed, 275 damaged, 45 families homeless.

Stories in STAMPS

By I. S. Kleip BRITISH POET, GREEK HERO

THE literary world remembers George Gordon Lord Byron for his Childe Harold, his Don Juan, and other poetic works. But in Greece this famed liberal poet is honored for the great deed he did in uniting the various revolutionary factions of that country, in 1824, and making it possible for them to accomplish their country's independence from Turkey.

NEXT: What stamps honor a great leader who died recently?

Next: What stamps honor a great leader who died recently?

Extent of the damage in Brazoria, Matagorda, McMullen, and Cameron counties was yet to be determined. In the latter county, a project had been rushed through to permit 200 relief workers to aid in reinforcement of strained levees.

Meanwhile, several thousand dollars had been sent to the 51 affected counties to be used in meeting the emergency. Adam R. Johnson, state relief director, said relief funds will be used in aiding certified relief cases. In addition, local relief agencies will supply budgetary labor for the general cleanup of public property and to rebuild and repair homes owned by relief clients.

Budgetary labor may also be used to rebuild and repair houses occupied by relief clients, provided the landlord will acknowledge receipt of such labor in lieu of rent for a proper period of time.

In accordance with recognized practice followed before the existence of the Texas Relief Commission, all other forms of disaster relief, including aid to non-relief families, are administered by the American Red Cross. H. F. Keisker, assistant to the manager of the midwestern branch, has established an office in Austin and has sent representatives into the affected areas of the state to meet the emergency. It was pointed out by Mr. Johnson that families never before on relief whose present need is the result of flood conditions should apply to the Red Cross and not to the county relief office.

WITH COUNTY DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

Mrs. Henry Looklar, wardrobe demonstrator class I, and Mrs. Floyd Courtiss, Jr., class II, will represent Midland county at the state wardrobe contest at A. & M. Short Course, July 29 to August 2.

One hundred seven counties of Texas with 1778 demonstrators and 22,917 cooperators are doing wardrobe demonstration work.

A Maytag washer, a Singer sewing machine and chest of silver will be state awards for first, second and third place in each class.

Wardrobe work in Texas is directed by Mrs. Dora Russell Barnes, clothing extension specialist. Mrs. Barnes has been to Midland county several times.

As a result of being a wardrobe demonstrator for her club for the past year, one club girl writes:

"I have taken for my personal motto, 'I am very happy but I want to improve myself in every way that I can. I want to be interesting and nice-looking. I want to grow in every way that I can'.

"One of my problems has been to keep other members interested. Sometimes it was discouraging when girls said that they were going to quit. As I thought it my duty as a demonstrator I persuaded them to continue working.

"I could not spend over $40.00 for my winter and summer clothing. By buying at sales and making most of my clothing, $31.29 was spent."

The wardrobe was adequate for work, school, home and for social affairs.

Six Midland county wardrobe demonstrators are demonstrating the value of clothing storage by permanent clothes closets. Four had closets to begin with. One was rebuilt. Improvements made on others were—light wall paper for light reflection and an anti-moth precaution, shoe racks, additional shelves, garment bags and hat standards. One demonstrator reported that a thorough wall cleaning was an improvement.

Two impossible clothes closets were built. Material on hand was used. One demonstrator paid $3.00 for labor and $1.05 for paint, nails, hinges and paper. While the expense of the other was 22 cents for a shoe rack and a few cents for nails, no expenditure for labor was made. It was built since school was out by school boys in one afternoon.

First-year women wardrobe demonstrators who have enrolled for 1936 work are Mrs. C. C. Driver, Busy Bee; Mrs. W. B. Franklin, Cotton Flat; Mrs. Geo. Stewart, Willing Workers, and Mrs. S. E. Gee, Bluebonnet.

First-year demonstrators completing their demonstrations will be eligible for 1936 Class II demonstrators, who will plan the wardrobes, keep wardrobe accounts and provide adequate storage for all members of the family as well as for themselves as Class I demonstrators.

Wardrobe cooperators provide storage for clothing as well as demonstrators.

Tee Time

course, you have adequate refrigeration. Cooked vegetables that have been served buttered for the first meal can appear in a vegetable or combination salad, or may be reheated in a cream sauce or served au gratin. This changes the dish enough to make it acceptable for the following meal.

Vegetables and meats that have been prepared with milk require extra precautions. The milk should be actively boiled if there is a chance of some of the dish being left. After the meal it should be cooled quickly and stored in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

All creamed dishes should be used within twenty-four hours.

It's a worthwhile precaution to reheat all creamed foods, gravies, sauces and soup stocks that must be kept more than 24 hours.

Bring quickly to the boiling point, boil vigorously for a few minutes and cool quickly on the morning of the second day. Then they may be kept on ice with perfect safety for another twenty-four hours.

Guard Bread Against Molds.
Bread and bread crumbs require particular care. Crumbs and odd slices of bread should not be allowed to accumulate in the bread box. Those not usable for toast should be dried thoroughly in a cool oven and saved for crumbing. Frequent scalding and sunning of the bread container helps to keep the bread fresh and prevents mold.

Buttered toast does not keep well and should never be stored in the bread box.

It seems wisest to buy flour and cereals in small quantities while the weather is hot. Dry foods delivered in paper bags should be turned into glass or metal containers for safety against mice and weevils. Flours, cereals and sugar are sensitive to moisture in the air and absorb it readily, so air-tight cans are desirable for this reason also.

Crackers and ready-to-serve cereals lose their crispness very quickly if they are exposed to the air. However, they can be made crisp again by placing them in the oven for ten or fifteen minutes. They must be cooled before serving.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

All women (and men, too), even though they may be single, like to read and talk about marriage. Perhaps the interest comes from the fact that through the inherited expectations and experiences of mankind through thousands of years, we have come to feel that marriage is almost as inevitable in a lifetime as are birth and death.

Whatever the explanation of the interest, it certainly exists. Here are a few particularly apt quotations on the subject taken from a modern writer:

Marriage is not a magic carpet that will waft you to a shining house on Paradise's best street. You have to lay the bricks one by one. And the bricks are love, sympathy, understanding, tolerance, a sense of humor and a sense of laughter, and unspoken forgiveness!

And here is another with the ring of truth in it:

There was never a fairytale princess who didn't pray that her knight would bear her away on a white charger. However, life and marriage have their pedestrian sides.

We can't speak for marriage but we'll say that life certainly has a pedestrian side—especially for a reporter who is too poor to own a car.

In case some one says that this column is ultra-sentimental in content, I have just one forceful retort: Our sentimental ideas we have always at hand but our brain cells sometimes refuse to work—especially at 5 o'clock on a hot summer afternoon when tomorrow's copy has to be hung in record time.

Skin Defects Give Way to Intelligent And Regular Care

By ALICIA HART

Within the past few weeks at least a dozen readers have asked how to plan and carry out an anti-blemish campaign. A good many are troubled with blackheads. Others have clogged pores that cause white spots under the skin, and make the complexion rather rough-looking.

First of all, anyone with blackheads or other blemishes that do not need medical attention, should cleanse her face with soap and water at least once a day. If your skin is not too sensitive, by all means use a complexion brush. Otherwise, a wash cloth or father between your palms will do the trick. If you have oily skin, use cream first and then soap and water. If it's dry, use the soap and water first. When you have finished the thorough cleansing, cover your forefingers with soft tissues and gently press out the foreign particles that are clogging the pores. Do not press too hard and don't try to remove each and every impurity the first night.

Afterward, touch the places you have squeezed with a piece of cotton that has been dipped in an antiseptic. Let it dry before you start patting with skin tonic or astringent.

There are masks that help, too. The market is flooded with excellent commercially prepared ones and, of course, there are homemade types which tend to cleanse the pores and tighten sagging muscles as well. An egg mask is the easiest of all to prepare and use.

Separate the yolk and white of a fresh egg and beat each one lightly. After cleansing face and throat, smooth on a layer of white, let it dry and then apply a coat of yolk. Repeat in layers until all has been used. Leave it on for twenty minutes and then rinse off with lukewarm water.

Guard All Food Against Spoilage By Summer Heat

By MARY E. DAGUE, NEA Service Staff Writer

Is your pantry all ready for the hot weather? A set of well-selected containers is one of the greatest aids toward keeping food in good condition. Glass, earthenware, enamelware or aluminum dishes are good for storing foods, both cooked and raw.

Milk fresh vegetables, fruits and meats deteriorate in a short time and should be prepared promptly for the refrigerator when they come from market and immediately stored. Cleaning foods before putting them into the refrigerator keeps the ice box clean and saves ice or current, according to the type of your refrigerator.

Soft fruit like berries keep better if they are taken at once from the box in which they are marketed and spread on a platter or large plate. Cover with cheesecloth, or wire screen and keep in a cool place. If a cool cellar is not available and berries must be stored in the refrigerator, put them in the warmest place.

Put Foods Away Quickly
Put food away quickly after every meal. When any food destined for the ice box is allowed to stand in a hot kitchen or left unnecessarily long on the dining table, an extra amount of ice is required to chill it, and, of course, there is danger of the milk and cream turning.

Eat as little as possible in hot weather. Make it a habit to use left-overs promptly unless, of

RECRUITING CAMP TO OPEN JULY 12

In line with the present administrative policy of strengthening national defense Congress has authorized an increase in the Army of some 45,000 enlisted men. These men are to be assigned to the various arms of the service scattered throughout the United States and foreign possessions. Fort Bliss, Texas, officials report that a quota of vacancies has been assigned to that post and that a recruiting party from the 8th United States Cavalry will soon depart on a tour of cities and towns in New Mexico and West Texas. This party, in command of 1st Sergeant Van C. White, 8th Cavalry, will arrive in Midland on July 12.

The Eighth Cavalry is one of the famous regiments of our Army. It was organized on November 23, 1866, almost 69 years ago and since that time has a record of achievement second to none. Most of its service has been west of the Mississippi and some of its units have served in Nevada, Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, South Dakota, Nebraska and Wyoming. The regiment first came to Texas in 1875; Regimental Headquarters being stationed at Fort Clark, while the other organizations were distributed along the Rio Grande from Fort Brown on the Gulf of Mexico, to Fort Hancock near El Paso, until 1888 Texas remained the home of the Eighth; a life filled with many scouts after Indians. No doubt the settlers of that day had much cause to be thankful for the presence of the 8th Cavalry when Indians took the war-path and brought terror to even the stoutest heart. In these modern times the Indian war whoop is ready to defend our country wherever duty may call. After an absence of 27 years the Eighth returned to Texas in 1915, where it has remained ever since. Truly this is a Texas regiment whose history is interwoven with the progress of our state.

During their stay in this city the recruiting party will demonstrate the various cavalry weapons including scout cars recently adopted to widen the sphere of Cavalry action. Midland will have an opportunity to see the fine type of men who wear the uniform of Uncle Sam. Visitors will be welcome in the camp during the stay of the recruiting party, for the sergeant in charge, as well as the men with him, hope that many of our citizens will avail themselves of this opportunity to see the cavalry of our Army at close hand.

Clean Out Kidney Poisons

Wash Out Your 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes
If kidneys don't pass 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters may become clogged with poisonous waste and the danger of acid poisoning is greatly increased. Bladder passages are difficult, which often smart and burn like scalding water and cause discomfort.

This acid condition, brought about by poor kidney functions is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Most people watch their bowels which contain only 27 feet of intestines but neglect the kidneys which contain 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters. If these tubes or filters become clogged with poisons, it may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't run any risk. Make sure your kidneys empty 3 pints a day.

Dude Ranches Too Tame for Effete East Customers

CODY, Wyo. (AP)—Life in what once was the wild and woolly West is getting too soft for a lot of Easterners.

The ranchers who are running dude outfits are finding it an increasingly vexing problem to meet the demands of guests for a private room with bath and a dance orchestra and at the same time satisfy their desires for some real old-time ranch life.

"We're faced with a paradoxical situation," said I. H. Larom, president of the Western Dude Ranchers' Association for the last ten years. "We've tried to meet the desires of our friends who come out from the East in the summer, until some dude ranches come near being merely Hollywood farms or miniature Aikens and Newport."

Larom, who has a big dude spread near here, attended Princeton and was a teammate of the Tigers' great Hobie Baker.

"In trying to please the Easterners some of the ranches, perhaps, introduced too many modern conveniences," he continued, "because now a lot of the dudes are asking about real old-time ranch life and are complaining about paved mountain roads and the absence of the old hitching racks that used to line the streets of the Western cow-towns."

"At the same time they inquire about the old West they demand a room with a private bath, French cooking, a dance orchestra and a horse that can take a hurdle.

"In other words, while they find life on some dude ranches too soft, they still demand the comforts of Newport or Miami."

RANCH FOREMAN GETS BEAR THRILL

ALPINE, June 7 (AP)—To rope a black bear from the back of a skittering mule is dangerous, but to capture three bear cubs after the infuriated mother bear had charged mule and rider is more so.

That is the opinion of Ed Davidson, foreman of the H. L. Koker-not ranch, 12 miles north of here, who experienced both thrills.

Davidson, riding a mule, came upon a black bear and her cubs. He did not have a gun so he decided to rope them.

As the noose settled the mule and the bear reacted in a manner foreign to the art of roping. The mule refused to take up the slack in the lariet, the bear instead of running charged. The mule evaded the first rush but the bear continued to charge, growling and clawing at the rider. Davidson cut the lariet at the saddle horn.

The bear lumbered off. Davidson dismounted and picked up the three cubs. One began to whimper and the mother appeared out of the brush. With a growl, she charged again.

Davidson was unable to run for he was trapped in a shallow place overhung by a boulder. The bear halted about six feet distant and began to pace back and forth in a semi-circle. Davidson yelled for help while the bear continued to pace and growl.

Mrs. Davidson and his son at the nearby ranch house heard his cries and rushed to his aid. At their approach, the bear moved away.

The cubs will be given to the county game warden, Davidson said. Two will be freed in the Big Bend State Park in the Chisos Mountains and the other will be freed in the Davis Mountains.

Snowballs Fly in Honolulu's Climate

HONOLULU (AP)—U. S. Army officers when assigned to service in this American outpost are given a booklet entitled, "Digest of Hawaiian Information," which states that "perpetual summer without encroaching heat is enjoyed."

But the enlisted men don't see this booklet, hence they staged a snowball fight in the heart of Honolulu.

Defrosting of the army quartermaster's huge refrigerators resulted in 40 barrels of snow being dumped onto the parade ground at Fort Armstrong, located in downtown Honolulu. Then the fun began. A soldier hurled a snowball at his top sergeant. Scores of soldiers quickly joined the melee.

The snowball battle lasted three hours until the snow melted. Then the combatants went swimming to cool off.

Strange Lands of Earth Represented In Library Display

From around the world and back again have come the various articles composing the collection of jewelry and other souvenirs now on display in the county library.

Because it includes a number of things dear to the feminine heart, the display should hold a particular appeal for women.

Highlighting the collection is a Chinese lacquered sewing box, complete with latching shuttles, spools or bobbins, and beautiful, intricately-carved sewing instruments whose use the American seamstress cannot even guess. One look at the box evokes a vision of a cream-skinned, slant-eyed beauty sitting primly on a cushion to "sew a fine seam."

From China, too, come the carved ivory rectangles used in playing some unknown game of the Celestial Kingdom. And there is an unusual necklace made of natural color peach seeds, carved into tiny baskets and swung upon a golden chain.

There is a huge album from Russia with a lacquered top inlaid with mother of pearl birds.

Pebbles in West Texas are simply pebbles, nothing more. In Scotland they are decidedly more as evidenced by their use in making bracelets and brooches such as are shown in the display. Several samples of the uncut pebbles are included.

Far-off India has sent a small box carved from a single piece of some dark wood.

The queer piece of cloth which holds position in the exhibit case is a piece of the famous tapa and came from Hawaii where it is manufactured by natives from tree bark.

There is tortoise shell jewelry, the dull black pieces inlaid with gold and silver designs, cigar cases made of the same material and inlaid also with gold and silver or mother of pearl, a necklace of lapis lazuli, and a beautiful little silver flagstone box that looks more like a fairy puff-box than anything else.

There is a silver lobster spoon with a handle that looks suspiciously like a lizard, there are heavy old-fashioned lockets, a mosaic cross, and other articles of interest.

A good portion of the exhibits have been loaned by out-of-town people. Miss Marguerite Hester, county librarian said. The display will remain in the library for some time and the public is invited to see it.

Also displayed in the adult reading room are two Mexican pictures made of tiny pieces of vari-colored woods fitted into a design and two others framed in cactus wood, including a straw-woven picture.
