35 Cadets To Be Graduated At Webb AFB

Thirty-five members of Cadet Class 55-L were to be graduated at ceremonies starting at 3 p. m. today at Webb Air Force Base. Graduation speaker was to be Dr. Saul B. Sells, chief of the department of clinical psychology at the USAF School of Aviation Charles Young, WAFB commander, was to preside and pass out pilot's wings to the 33 American and two Turkish students.

A wing review, to feature the official band of the Women in the Air Force, was to precede graduation ceremonies on the base ramp. The review was scheduled for 2 p. m.

The WAF band also was to play during the graduation ceremonies at the academics auditorium.

The engagements at Webb were the first of a three-day series in all-girl band is to present a 45-minute concert Friday morning during an assembly program at the Big Spring High School auditorium.

The group also is scheduled for a telecast over KMGD in Midland at 4:30 p. m. Friday. The band will return to Webb for another concert, in the base theatre, at 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

This visit to Big Spring will be the second in about six months for the WAF musicians. They were here late last summer, also for a wing review at the base and other appearances in the area.

The 49-member band arrived by air this morning and will be quartered at Webb until its departure Sunday. The group travels in a C-54 and log up to 70 hours per month of flight time.

No Deadline Urged On Integration Push

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today urged the Supreme Court "to suggest motion, to encourage motion" toward ending segregation in public schools, but not to fix any ironclad deadline.

U. S. Solicitor Gen. Simon E. Sobeloff, who presented the administration views, told the court it should "make it clear that there must be a bona fide advance toward the goal of desegregation."

But that does not mean, Sobeloff said, that "people ought to be ridden over roughshod."

The historic arguments were in their closing stages. Attorneys for Negroes were to make rebuttal arguments after Sobeloff.

For the court, the question is what step it should take to follow up its momentous decision of last June.

State Declines To Aid County On Roads Plan

The State Highway Commission has rejected a Howard County proposal for co-operative action on the construction of permanent roads in the county.

Judge R. H. Weaver was informed of the commission's decision this week in a letter from D. C. Greer, state-highway engineer.

Greer wrote that in view of the highway department's program for farm-to-market roads the commission felt that pavement eventually will be provided for practically all roads in the state worthy of paving.

He said that the state's old co-operative program with counties was abandoned several years ago in order that the various state agencies could more effectively carry out their specific road improvement assignments.

Judge Weaver said that Howard County still is planning construction of permanent roads, in addition to the regular FM quota.

ATLANTA (AP)—Sixteen arrests of strikers at Pensacola, Fla., and court orders against violence and unrestrained picketing in three Kentucky communities yesterday marked the 31st day of the CIO strike against the Southern Bell Telephone Co.

There were new reports of violence in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida and Kentucky.

At Paducah, Ky., Circuit Judge Holland G. Bryan issued a temporary order prohibiting more than three pickets from marching at each of two entrances to company property.

The order also restrained violence or threats of violence and directed striking members of the Communications Workers of America to stop following non-striking workers to their homes.

CHICAGO (AP)—Judge Joseph J. Butler got a surprise in Safety Court yesterday when Carl P. Dombrowski, 21, appeared before him on a drunken driving charge.

I suppose you'd had just a couple of beers," Butler said with evident irritation.

"No," replied Dombrowski. "I'd had seven or eight beers, maybe more. I'm not sure exactly how many, but anyhow I'd had too much."

"It's refreshing to have someone tell the truth in this court," Judge Butler said.

Bitter Texas Convicts Start Hunger Strike

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A bitter core of some of the toughest men in the Texas prison system held out wearily today for a third meal each day.

The 52 maximum segregation prisoners had been without food since 9 a. m. (CST) yesterday.

They had no water since noon yesterday. It was at 2 p. m. yesterday that they refused to return to their cells after an exercise period.

They told Prison System Director O. B. Ellis they would not return until they were promised a third meal each day.

From the start, the rebels' situation appeared hopeless.

They held no hostages, presumably had no weapons, and their chances of sealing the 42-foot walls in the face of machine-gun fire were nil.

"We'll just wait until they get hungry enough and thirsty enough to return to their cells," said Richard C. Jones, deputy assistant to Ellis.

Long Occupation Of Nation To End

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Chancellor Julius Raab messaged the Austrian people from Moscow today: "Austria will be free and we will receive back our native soil in its entirety."

Raab's statement was telephoned from Moscow to the Austrian Conservative People's party and was made public by the party's news service.

"Our war prisoners and internees will see their home again. This has been achieved by the upright attitude of the Austrian people."

"We are looking forward happily to seeing our home again after concluding difficult negotiations," the statement said.

Raab did not indicate what agreements he had reached in Moscow with the Russians.

Earlier Austrian radio stations carried reports from Moscow quoting the Austrian ambassador there as saying agreement has been reached between Raab and the Kremlin leaders.

The reports quoted Ambassador Norbert Bischoff as saying he was certain the Western Powers would have nothing against the agreement reached in Moscow.

Any agreement between Raab and the Kremlin needs first the approval of the United States, France and Britain before this nation can regain its freedom. The Russians have been stalling on signature of a state treaty for 10 years.

2 Czechs Fly To Freedom

REGENSBURG, Germany (AP)—Two Czech students crash-landed a stolen sports plane in a field near here today and asked for political asylum.

Regenburg is in northern Bavaria about 40 miles from the Czech frontier.

German police identified the two as Karel Kucera, 20 and Zdenek Nachmliner, 19.

The tiny, German-made plane which the two told the police they had commandeered in Czechoslovakia, was battered as it plowed up ground in the farm field landing.

U. S. authorities took the pair into custody for interrogation and declined to disclose details of the flight.

One U. S. officer suggested American officials were proceeding cautiously in view of the recent case of Valery Lysikov, teen-age Russian who asked to be sent home after fleeing to West Berlin.

German police did not know where the Czech pair started their flight over the Iron Curtain, but said Kucera is from Prague.

A German border officer said the two young Czechs had asked for asylum in the West.

Accused Phenix City 'Boss' Faces Trial

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., (AP)—Barring a last-minute delay, Arch Ferrell, fingered by his accusers as the one-time political boss of crime-ridden Phenix City, faces trial Monday for the murder of A. L. Patterson, sworn enemy of the racketeers.

The 38-year-old former prosecuting attorney who rose to power during the lurid days of wide-open gambling and vice at Phenix City, is the second ousted public official to stand trial for Patterson's death.

Ferrell's lawyers have asked for a continuance of his trial on grounds that public opinion has been aroused against the defendant. Presiding Judge J. Russell McElroy set a hearing today on the defense motion for postponement.

Former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller was convicted March 11 and given a life sentence in the same courtroom where Ferrell goes on trial for his life.

A third defendant, former Alabama Atty. Gen. St. Garrett, is under treatment for a mental disorder in a Galveston, Tex., hospital. No date has been set for his trial.

Patterson, a crippled former state senator who had won the Democratic nomination for attorney general on a promise to clean up his vice-infested community, was shot to death June 18 outside his Phenix City law office.

His murder brought a special grand jury investigation that sent many gamblers and their lackeys to prison and left others to pay heavy fines.

Ferrell's attorneys will try to show that the former state commander of the American Legion was talking long distance with Garrett at the time of Patterson's death. The former attorney general was in Birmingham that night but was indicted for first-degree murder nevertheless as an accomplice.

In last Sunday's column we misquoted Mrs. Asta Allen, county manager of the ASC at Garden City, concerning that county's cotton allotments. We wrote that it got a 1,000-acre boost, when in reality the figure meant that much increase in cultivated acres over the previous year.

Glasscock actually gets about 1,000 acres less cotton for 1955 than in 1954, being reduced from 11,634 to 10,634. Though this is not a big reduction, it may mean several hundred dollars loss to an irrigated farmer who produces over a bale to the acre.

South of Garden City about fourteen miles, across rolling rangeland, lies the St. Lawrence community. This is the most unique community in West Texas, not only as to location but in the kind of people who live there.

St. Lawrence was carved out of a big ranch about seven years ago, and the land sold in 320 and 640-acre blocks to a group of G.I.'s from the Lipan Flats east of San Angelo. Most of them came west with high hopes to build a community of their own and make good farms out of the raw rangeland.

The first two years were good ones, the rains came, and the cotton gin was kept humming well up into the winter. Then the rain clouds left and couldn't find their way back. 1951 was a total crop failure, and they zeroed again in 1952 and 1953.

Yet no one left, though, the young farmers had to start job hunting. Some of them worked in oilfields, on pipe lines, on roads or did carpentering work. It didn't take the place of a crop, but it did save their homes.

Finally they lost faith in the weather and started drilling irrigation wells. They have between 50 to 60 now, over 300 feet deep, and pumping only from 200 to 400 gallons each.

This isn't much water, but these farmers do amazing things with such a small stream. They hire very little labor, do all the work themselves, and make over a bale to the acre on the 40 or 50 acres an average well irrigates.

"It doesn't take the place of a big crop," said Max Halfmann, postmaster and owner of the store at St. Lawrence, "but it has kept us all from having to leave. Most families raise their own chickens and garden and keep milk cows. We don't spend a lot in making a enough dryland crop to have some of it left."

Only one family has left the community the last two years, while five new ones have moved to St. Lawrence. In other communities drought-desperate farmers have left the farm in droves, the vacant farm houses are almost as common as the ones being lived in.

The people of St. Lawrence don't intend to leave as long as the underground water lasts. Whether it rains or blows dust, they figure on staying right at home. People like that are hard to starve out.

TCU Exes Will Meet In Midland

L. D. (Dutch) Meyer, athletic director at Texas Christian University and former coach of the TCU Horned Frogs, will be principal speaker at a steak supper, sponsored by TCU Exes in the Permian Basin at 6 p.m. Saturday.

The group will meet at the residence of Bob Ballenger on the Andrews Highway out of Midland. Officers and directors will be elected from a slate to be presented by a nominating committee.

Ex-students with children may leave them at the nursery of First Christian Church, Midland, during the supper, which will feature a screening of the famous 1954 TCU - Oklahoma gridiron battle. Comments on the action will be made by Meyer.

Cost of the dinner will be $1 plus a small overcharge to cover costs of mailing notices. In the event of rain the affair will be held in Mohawk Cafeteria, 308 W. Illinois, Midland.

Reservations should be made immediately with Lucas, 308 Kessler.

Atomic Expert To Doff Uniform

WASHINGTON (AP)—Brig. Gen. Kenneth E. Fields, a specialist in atomic weapons development, doffs his Army uniform soon to become general manager of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The AEC announced last night that the Army has agreed to Fields' retirement so he can take over the $20,000-a-year post May 1. He will succeed Maj. Gen. Kenneth D. Nichols, who is planning to become an engineering consultant here.

In its announcement, the AEC said Fields—its director of military application since 1951—"has borne primary responsibility for the great improvement of the nation's position in nuclear arms during the past four years."

For eight of the past 10 years the 46-year-old Fields has been connected with the atomic energy program. He has served with both the AEC and the Manhattan Project, which developed the World War II atomic bomb.

100 Germans To Take Oath

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—More than 100 Germans, some of whom helped this country develop its guided missile program, planned to take the oath of allegiance to the United States today.

Also in the group are some who helped develop the deadly Nazi V2 rocket at Peenemunde, Germany, in World War II.

All came to the United States from Germany in 1945 and 1946, and were moved to nearby Redstone Arsenal in 1950.

Hearings Slated On Oil Field Rules

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission will hold public hearings May 5 on the adoption of field rules in three oil and gas fields.

Evidence will be heard from operators in the Appleby Field, Jackson County, to adopt rules for all non-associated gas reservoirs in that field.

The Standard Oil Co. of Texas was granted a hearing to determine the MER (most efficient recovery formula) and adopt field rules for the Dymond Field. Woodson Oil Co. will be heard on its application for the adoption of field rules and a revision of the MER formula for Tipton North Field, Stephens County.

On May 26 the commission will hear arguments from operators in the Washom (Hurley) and Washom (Orr) fields, Harrison County to show why those fields should not be combined. This was postponed from April 20.

A Bible Thought For Today

Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy. (James 5:11).

Sober Thinking And Evaluation

George C. Hawley, chief engineer for the State Fire Insurance Commission, has lowered the boom on the City of Big Spring regarding its fire fighting facilities. In his letter of recommendation is properly interpreted.

At first blush, this would seem the signal for rushing to meet the recommendations. Since it is our money, we might well wait a minute to consider how much and where we figure it might be best secured and applied. Certainly we want to obtain safety commensurate with our ability, and we want economical rates.

Corsi Case Will Go Into Political Campaign

WASHINGTON — In dismissing Edward J. Corsi from his post as immigration adviser Secretary Dulles has stirred up a political hornet's nest that will go on buzzing right into the campaign of 1956.

could tell there were Communists in the audience, but his Democratic opponent, Herbert Lehman, rejected that explanation, saying it was obviously impossible to tell Communists from their faces in a crowd.

First and foremost, as a citizen of Italian origin he had made a distinguished name for himself in New York State. As the climax to a long career of public service he became former Governor Thomas E. Dewey's Industrial Commissioner, a post he held from 1943 to the end of Dewey's term in 1954.

What Corsi discovered in his three months in the department was a closed circuit that made any real speedup in the number of visas granted under the terms of the law difficult, if not impossible.

"If you could see the kind of people in New York City making up this bloc that is voting for my opponent, if you could see them with your own eyes, I know that you would be out, every last man and woman of you, on Election Day."

This interlocking bureaucracy proved too much for Dulles. When the chips were down, he sacrificed the man he had brought to Washington to try to make the Immigration Act workable in terms of at least a few of the millions of refugees who have been led to believe that if only they could escape from the Iron Curtain they would find a welcome in the free world.

Court Took The Bite, Now It Must Chew

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court—almost a year after outlawing racial segregation in public schools—must now really chew over the problem of how and when to end it.

The court ruled unanimously last May 17 segregation was unconstitutional. Instead of ordering an immediate stop to separate white and Negro school systems, the justices gave the states time to adjust to the idea and prepare for the change-over.

What happened might have been expected. In some states which had segregation—Kansas, Delaware, West Virginia, Arkansas, Missouri, Maryland and the District of Columbia—steps have been taken toward abolishing it.

Other states—particularly Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana and South Carolina—either made no move to comply with the court's ruling or stood firm against it.

Those four have indicated they would end their public schools altogether before putting white and Negro children in the same classrooms. North Carolina told the court "bloody race riots" might follow a sudden ending of segregation.

The court's ruling last May was given directly in cases involving the District of Columbia and four states: Kansas, Delaware, Virginia, South Carolina. Nevertheless, it affects all other states with double school systems.

Suppose the court finally sets a time limit for ending segregation in those five original cases. The other states not directly involved might start court suits or use devices that would end in court suits.

Their purpose would be to keep the high court's ruling from applying to them. They'd lose in the end, no doubt, since the court's ruling is national in effect. But their tactics might postpone integration in their areas for some many years.

The Supreme Court appears to face three main questions: End segregation at once or gradually? Give detailed orders itself for carrying out the decree? Or turn the problem of details over to the judges of U.S. district courts in the states?

Tourists Had Better Hurry

Venice, the Italian city with canals for streets, has a water problem worse than any in West Texas. One of Europe's top tourist attractions, Venice is about to fall into the ocean. The waves and tides have just about worn out the foundations of most of the city's buildings.

Work goes on almost continuously to keep one famous Venetian attraction in business, St. Mark's Cathedral, and the current project is the reinforcement of the two main pillars supporting the structure.

Our Dilemma With The Offshore Islands

In the two months that have passed since Congress voted the Formosa resolution, the President has been bearing an increasingly heavy burden of responsibility. It has been a strange development especially for him, so sincerely convinced a believer that personal government is undesirable and that Congress should participate with the executive in the great decisions of war and peace.

As to the first hope, experience has shown, I believe, that even if the Red Chinese are deterred from an open full scale assault, they have been given a strong incentive to proceed by the other means—just short of open conventional war—which are available to them. But it is on the second point, on the hope of negotiating a cease-fire, that our knowledge now is most definite. We know, I believe, that a cease-fire cannot be had by the negotiation of a public agreement signed by all the interested parties.

Suit Asks Title To Minerals In O'Daniel Land

O. D. O'Daniel and other heirs of the late M. H. O'Daniel have applied in 118th District Court for a declaratory judgment for title and possession of all mineral interests in Section 29, Block 20, Township 1-South, T&P Railway Company Survey. The land is located adjacent to the Snyder Oil Field in Southeast Howard County.

Defendants in the suit are the Southland Royalty Company, Sohio Petroleum Company, R. H. Ratliff of Colorado City and Hazel Brookover Burdine of Colorado City.

The plaintiffs, including E. T. O'Daniel, Mary E. Brown, Udonia Bass and Amy Echols, claim title to all the oil, gas and mineral rights in the section of land because of certain provisions in instruments through which the late Mr. and Mrs. M. H. O'Daniel conveyed a one-half interest to G. T. Hall in 1925.

They claim that in the original conveyance, title to an undivided one-half of mineral interests went to Hall with the stipulation that the deed was to remain in effect as long as oil, gas or other minerals were being produced from the property under terms of any lease executed within 25 years from the date of transfer. They allege also that a subsequent instrument provided that the deed would remain in force for 20 years and as long thereafter as oil, gas or other minerals were produced from the land in paying quantities.

The first instrument was dated Nov. 24, 1925, and the second on Nov. 24, 1925.

The plaintiffs state that no oil, gas or other minerals was produced from the property up to Jan. 1, 1955, and that as a result they are now owners of all the mineral rights. They ask declaratory judgment to that effect and for cancellation of all instruments that might cast a cloud on the title.

The petition of the plaintiffs states that Hall conveyed his interests in the property to the Southland Royalty Company on July 16, 1925, and that on Dec. 2, 1925, he executed a "correction instrument" to Southland.

Southland later transferred a part of its interest to Sohio and the other defendants, according to the petition. All of the deeds and other documents were filed for record in Howard County, the petition says.

Blazing Train Wreck

A Missouri-Kansas-Texas diesel engine lies afire in a creek bed near Columbia, Mo., after crashing through a burning trestle on the "Katy Line" branch between Columbia and McBaine, Mo. The diesel engine, a caboose and one freight car of the all-freight train were destroyed, but only one member of the five-man crew was injured. He was only scratched. The engineer said he rounded a blind curve to see the trestle ahead, but it was too late to stop. Damage was expected to run close to $100,000.

Watkins Defends Refugee Plan Against Corsi Failure Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) defended today the State Department's administration of the refugee immigration program against Edward Corsi's charge it has been "a scandalous failure."

Watkins steered the 1953 Refugee Act through the Senate and is a member of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee which has called Corsi for closed-door questioning in an inquiry into operation of the law.

The subcommittee quickly swung into an investigation late yesterday amid a continuing furor over Secretary of State Dulles' dismissal of Corsi as a special adviser on refugee problems.

Watkins said that while the program has been moving more slowly than he would like, "I think that under all the circumstances they have done a good job."

He also said in an interview that he was satisfied that the slowness in admitting refugees to this country under the program is not due to any desire by State Department officials to avoid carrying out the law.

The Italian-born Corsi, a prominent New York Republican, declared after his dismissal that "an intolerant minority" in Congress and the State Department had sabotaged the program. It was designed to bring up to 214,000 refugees and other nonquota immigrants to this country by the end of next year.

Corsi named Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), who had accused him of past associations with groups later listed as Communist fronts, and R. W. Scott McLeod, State Department security chief who is administrator of the program.

The Judiciary subcommittee, headed by Sen. Langer (R-ND), questioned McLeod for over two hours yesterday at a closed-door session.

Corsi had complained that only 1,000 refugees have been admitted under the 1953 immigration act. McLeod told reporters that 24,810 visas have been issued so far. He said over 3,700 of these were for refugees and the rest were for aliens eligible for admission as relatives of U.S. citizens.

Immigration service figures showed 15,713 entries up to April 1, and McLeod said that of the persons issued visas as refugees, 1,044 have actually entered the country.

Corsi, 'Voice' Debates To Liven House Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Debate over the Dulles-Corsi controversy and the Voice of America promised today to liven House debate on the 1956 State Department appropriation bill.

The Appropriations Committee, in recommending $126,769,977 to finance the State Department for the coming year, made no reference to the Corsi case, but some Democrats were reported ready to inject it into the debate.

The controversy centers around removal by Secretary of State Dulles of Edward Corsi, prominent New York Republican, from his post as special assistant handling immigration and refugee matters. Actually, the House can do nothing to restore Corsi to his job except talk.

About the Voice of America, the House is in a better position. Some members favor further cutting of the $64 million dollars recommended by the Appropriations Committee to finance the Voice and related propaganda activities.

President Eisenhower had asked $85 million.

Over other money allotments, there appeared to be little controversy. These include $197,525,000 for the Justice Department, and 16 million for the refugee relief program.

The over-all total of $450,398,227 is about 7 per cent less than Eisenhower had requested.

The bill is the sixth regular departmental money bill considered this year by the House.

Only one of the bills has cleared the Senate. That body yesterday added approximately 76 million dollars to funds voted by the House for the Treasury and Post Office departments.

Among the increases, which now go to conference with the House, was one of 7 1/2 million dollars to hire 1,000 additional tax agents.

The Senate bill carries $3,358,632,000, of which $603,348,000 is for Treasury, $2,754,104,000 for the Post Office and $1,170,000 for the U.S. Tax Court.

Bridges Sees Demo Fear Of Ike Re-election

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said today Democrats seem to be "very fearful" that President Eisenhower will run in 1956.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said:

"When they go to the lengths of building up a strawman and trying to knock him down a year and a half ahead of the voting, they must be very fearful that Eisenhower will be a candidate again, and I am very certain he will."

Bridges to a "strawman" was directed at Democratic Digest efforts to depict Eisenhower as an advocate of "government for the few" and as responsible for an "A. W. O. L.—administration without leadership."

The Digest, monthly publication of the Democratic National Committee, suggested Eisenhower might not be any more "invincible" in 1956 than former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was in 1948 when he lost to former President Truman.

The Digest listed several issues it said paralleled those of 1948, including taxes, farm prices, Taft-Hartley Act revision, economic and power-reclamation subjects. It said new issues included the Dixon-Yates power contract, school aid and highway programs.

Beyond that the Digest criticized what it called Eisenhower administration "bluffs" in the foreign field, the "numbers racket in the security field," unfilled "pie in the sky promises of 1952" and "confusion" among Cabinet officers.

Exercise Regularly

Three easy exercises, done as a ten minute routine each morning, keep Rosemary DeCamp in good shape. Rosemary appears regularly on NBC-TV's "The Bob Cummings Show."

Exercise Is Easy, But It Must Be Regular

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Rosemary DeCamp proved the experts wrong when they predicted she would never get anywhere as an actress. She has worked in radio and pictures for years and now appears regularly on NBC-TV's "The Bob Cummings Show."

I asked about her exercise routine. "I have three exercises," she explained. "One is to firm the stomach muscles and keep the tummy flat. I lie on the floor, tuck my toes under a heavy piece of furniture and sit up, touching my toes, fifteen or twenty times."

"I couldn't even find an agent who would handle me. Go home and think of something else to do," they advised," she told me candidly. "They were mostly bothered by the irregularity of my nose. It didn't bother me because I wasn't trying to be a glamour girl. I only wanted to act—and the character roles were most interesting to me."

"The second is an exercise to bring up the circulation and exercise the lower torso. It's a jumping exercise. I stand erect with my feet apart, arms raised shoulder level, stretched out to the sides. I jump up as I bring my heels together, bend my knees and squat, at the same time bringing my arms forward for balance. Then I jump back to a standing position and repeat. This one exercise brings into play almost every muscle and when done faithfully will show results."

Cool Comedy For Cold Reds

LONDON (AP)—A kind of Soviet USO troupe is boosting morale on drifting ice floes near the North Pole, Radio Moscow reported. It said the entertainers are performing for the men stationed at weather observation posts above the Arctic Circle. A group of Moscow artists, including soloists from the Bolshoi Theater, are touring the Arctic regions and have arrived at scientific drifting station "North Pole 4," the broadcast said.

Mother, 3 Children Free After Father's Fatal Beating

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A mother and her three children who admitted beating their husband and father to death when he threatened to take them "all to hell together" were acquitted of murder last night. An all-male jury freed Mrs. Grace Davis and her children after deliberating 2 hours and 40 minutes. Mrs. Davis, 41, testified her 30-year-old husband Sam threatened to drive them all over a 100-foot cliff into a river Feb. 28. "I knew it was him or us," she said.

She said her two younger children—Katrina, 11, and Glenn, 8—looped Katrina's belt around Davis' neck while she and her older daughter Shelby Jean, 14, strangled him with a monkey wrench. After Davis asked the family if they had "any last words," Shelby Jean testified, "I turned off the ignition. Then I grabbed a monkey wrench and hit Sam twice. Then Mother took the wrench, and I don't know how many times she hit him." The parents, married in 1938, had been separated.

Glenn Rogers Wins 2nd In Elks Contest

Glenn A. Rogers, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lee O. Rogers of Big Spring, won second place in the statewide leadership contest sponsored by the Texas Elks Association. A. J. Prager, chairman of the local Elks' youth activities committee, reported today. Rogers will be presented with a $50 savings bond, as a result. The bond will be given through the Big Spring lodge at the Elks state convention in El Paso the first week in June. Prager said judging was on the basis of leadership ability, Americanism, citizenship appreciation, perseverance, stability, resourcefulness and sense of honor.

Red Bombers Near Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Soviet-built jet bombers of the Chinese Communist Air Force now are stationed at Shanghai and bases to the south within range of Formosa, intelligence reports showed today. Official quarters said they had no precise figure on how many, but believe it to be relatively small. The jet bombers are based in the Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo area, from 200 to 450 miles north of Formosa. Unofficial quarters estimated the Chinese Reds have between 100 and 200 jet bombers, but apparently only a fraction show for three hours transferred to bases at Shanghai and southward.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, your body's ability to regulate its fluids, electrolytes, and acid-base balance is impaired. This can lead to a variety of symptoms, including frequent urination, especially at night, and a feeling of restlessness. It is important to consult a doctor if you experience these symptoms, as they may be a sign of a more serious condition.

Back Into The Mothballs

Former Vice President John Nance Garner, above, puts his full dress suit back into the cedar closet and moth balls in Uvalde, Tex., after his doctor said he couldn't go to Washington. Garner, 85, was planning to make his first visit to the national capitol in 14 years to attend a banquet honoring his old friend, House Speaker Sam Rayburn. But his doctor vetoed the trip because of arthritis which causes his feet to swell.

Rapid Integration Draws Texas Fire

Texas Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd warned the U.S. Supreme Court Tuesday against acting too hastily in forcing integration of white and Negro students in public schools. But he urged the Texas Legislature to act on the problem before adjourning next month. Shepperd argued on a friend-of-the-court brief before the Supreme Court, outlining the state's racial and educational problems and cautioning against immediate integration. His recommendations to the Legislature were in a telegram to Rep. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville and seven other House members. The attorney general told the Supreme Court immediate or hasty integration in Texas schools would be "rash, imprudent and unrealistic," and said the state's school system would "virtually collapse" if such was attempted. He pointed out that the educational system is built on local, self-governing school districts, arguing that "the varied situations existing in Texas communities can not be treated under a single blanket policy—they must be considered as they exist in local school districts." "We see no reason to subject our economy, our traditions, our state of social harmony or our children to the shock of forced or too-rapid integration, before the public conscience is prepared to accept it," Shepperd told the court. At the same time, Shepperd recognized the need for immediate consideration of the problem. "There has been no indication that the decision will be reconsidered," his telegram to the legislators said. Shepperd's reference was to the May 17 decision in which the court held segregation to be a violation of the U.S. Constitution. Burkett and the others had wired Shepperd in Washington Monday asking advice on what the Legislature should do about segregation. "The only question to be answered is: How and when will segregation be completely abolished and integration effected," Shepperd's wire stated. To study and work out solutions to the problem, Shepperd urged appointment of a 15-man committee with an appropriation of at least $250,000 to study the situation. The committee, Shepperd said, should study segregation, laws and school systems in Texas and other states. It should form a program of legislation, draft laws and recommend to the Legislature a course of action, he said. Shepperd told the Supreme Court that a plan of "gradual integration" would meet with least resistance. He said public opinion surveys had indicated at least 45 per cent determination "to circumvent desegregation either by disobeying the law or by evading it through legal channels." "Texas is solving the problem of its Negro people in its own way," he said. "The question is more basic than laws and systems. It touches the deepest roots of human emotions. It touches mothers, fathers and children in an area of deepest sensitivity. "It is our problem," Shepperd said. "Let us solve it." To solve it, Shepperd told the legislators, the Legislature should take action during this session. He reminded that constitutional amendments affecting the school system may not be considered at a special session of the Legislature. "It would be a mistake for the Legislature to adjourn without an expression of its policy by joint resolution as to its attitude on the court's May 17 decision," his telegram said. Burkett said he and the other House members had agreed to confer with Speaker Jim Lindsey and Gov. Allan Shivers before taking action on Shepperd's suggestions.

Lewter Winds Up Affairs As County's Farm Agent

Durward Lewter is closing out his records as Howard County agricultural agent. Friday will be his last day in the office. He has resigned and will enter the livestock business with plans to feed out about 20,000 steers annually. Lewter's successor, James Taylor, isn't expected to report here until after May 1. He now is in the Army at Ft. Bliss, near El Paso. The adult leaders' committee of the Howard County 4-H Club will meet with Lewter Friday afternoon to close out 4-H Club records and accounts and to check equipment, etc. Members of the committee are Donald Lay, chairman, and Lloyd Robinson, M. H. Boatler, Floyd White and Doris Bilasard. The farm agent now is preparing his final report for the district extension service agent, V. H. Jones of Lubbock. The report, to be completed this week, will cover Lewter's activities since last Dec. 1, when the last annual report was made. Mr. and Mrs. Lewter and family will move to Lubbock, from where he will direct his stock feeding operations. Lewter expects to work with Taylor a few days in May while the new agent is becoming acquainted with operation of the office. Taylor served as farm agent for Reeves and Loving Counties before entering the Army. Lewter has been Howard County agent for more than 10 years. His record as supervisor of successful 4-H Club calf feeders is unparalleled and is known to livestock circles all over the nation.

Rail Cars Overturn

OVALLE, Chile (AP)—Two cars of a speeding passenger train pulled loose and overturned near here yesterday, killing one person and injuring more than 50. First reports said the train was rounding a curve alongside a mountain at the time. Ten of the injured were reported in a serious condition.

Driving a new Chevrolet can help you win one!

WIN ONE OF 102 CHEVROLETS

Enter Chevrolet's Big Miracle Mile Contest

You can win a new Chevrolet plus a $1,000 U.S. Savings Bond

What you learn on a demonstration drive can help you win

Here's the happiest invitation a motorist ever received. For not only are you being invited to drive the smoothest, liveliest, loveliest car in the low-price field... but you also get a chance to win a brand-new Chevrolet, plus a $1,000 U.S. Savings Bond! That's the story behind our Miracle Mile Contest. It gives you a chance to see for yourself the wonderful advances that Chevrolet designers have built into the Motoramic models. And while you are testing, you'll be picking up a whole headful of information that can help you be a winner. The fact is, we've put so many advances in the 1955 Chevrolet that no one entry could cover them all. But here are some things to look for particularly: Glide-Ride Front Suspension Here's the unique spherical-joint suspension that is sheathed against grit with non-metallic liners and self-adjusting for wear... is so beautifully flexible it sops up even the tiniest road ripples and glides over the big bumps. Anti-Dive Braking Control You'll learn that the Motoramic Chevrolet doesn't dip sharply down in front when you jam the brakes on! Only Chevrolet has Anti-Dive Braking Control to give "heads-up" stops. High-Level Ventilation Another Chevrolet exclusive in its field, to draw in air above the level of road dust and exhaust fumes, to turn wind gusts into a smooth flow of low-velocity air. "Horses" to Suit Your Needs You'll want to explore Chevrolet's full range of engines, from the "Turbo-Fire V8" through the ultra-efficiency of the two "Blue-Flame" 6's. And there's the "Super Turbo-Fire V8," too... 180 horsepower for really blazing performance. And Chevrolet is the only car in its field with a 12-volt electrical system. Why don't you sample these pleasures yourself at the wheel of a 1955 Chevrolet. Enter our Big Miracle Mile Contest... without cost or obligation... and you may win a 1955 Chevrolet of your own, with a $1,000 bond to sweeten the pot!

Roberts' Gem Tops Baseball Program

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It couldn't have been a worse day for pitchers if the hitters had ordered it special. But Rob Roberts and Willey Ford shrugged off the weather like a pair of guys working for the Florida Chamber of Commerce. In Philadelphia it was dreary and rainy, yet Roberts kept the world champion New York Giants hitters for 5 1/3 innings yesterday before getting tagged for three hits and two runs. The Phil's right-handed ace still claimed a 4-3 victory, however, in the National League opener for both clubs.

Baseball Fans

Connie Mack, founder and former owner of the Philadelphia Athletics, is shown talking to another baseball fan, former President Harry S. Truman, at the American League opener in Kansas City between the Kansas City Athletics and Detroit Tigers. Kansas City fans gave the 92-year-old Mack a resounding ovation as he took his seat in the Kansas City Municipal Stadium to watch his team beat Detroit, 6-2. (AP Wirephoto).

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Amarillo of the WT-NM League recently offered to peddle Julio De la Torre back to Big Spring. The asking price was $1,000. That's $500 less than the Gold Sox paid Big Spring for Julio late last year. At that time, the Sox were trying desperately to get into the WT-NM playoffs, which they finally made, with De la Torre's help. Pepper Martin, the local club owner-manager, isn't about to pay that kind of money for a ball player. He operates on a small budget and such a sum would knock a hole in his bank balance. Sure, he'd like to have Julio. The infielder's game is built for the local park. But 1,000 clams — that's a lot of money. Chances are Julio will be offered to every club in the Longhorn League. Buck Faucett, the Amarillo general manager, also called Midland after he talked with Martin but Midland wasn't interested, at any price. Could be Julio will wind up in the league somewhere, though, after the purchase price has come down. San Angelo is a possibility, or maybe Odessa.

De la Torre wound up scoring 126 runs, getting 206 hits, clubbing 34 home runs and driving in 169 rallies last season but practically all of those came while he was wearing a local uniform. He had only three round trippers, scored only 21 times, collected only 39 hits and had 26 RBI's after leaving the Big Springers.

Midland realized $5,000 from the sale of Bud Hull and Pat Waters to the Detroit chain last year.

Ray Sims, the Big Spring Cosden Cops' elongated hurler, says this window did him wrong. He states he has 61 wins in Organized baseball, not 45, as reported here recently.

Byrd Stouff, the Pennsylvania Dutchman who played part of last Friday night's game here for Midland against Big Spring, is still classified as a rookie despite the fact that he spent nearly half the season in the MOV League last year.

Stouff spent time with both Hannibal and Decatur. He was on a professional roster 87 days. Three more, and he would have been classified as a limited-service player.

Don Swanson, Midland's veteran hurler (beaten by Big Spring here last week), can't be blamed if he thinks twice before speaking his piece.

A few years ago, Don was up with Buffalo in the International League. He was in the shower and a teammate reminded him that Paul Richards, then the manager of the Bisons, had called a meeting of players and that he (Don) was overdue.

"Meetings are a pack of trouble. I don't even think I'll go," Swanson, using words to that effect, replied.

Richards was standing in the door, unknown to both Swanson and his buddies.

The next day, Swanson was shipped to the baseball hinterlands.

Glenn Burns, Midland's hard-hitting outfielder, took a $150 salary cut to sign on with the Warriors this year. He was making $550 a month with Abilene in 1954.

Four HCJC Linksters Are Entered In Odessa Meet

Four Howard County Junior College linksters are entered in the Odessa College Tournament Saturday, which will attract players from over a wide area.

The Jayhawks who will compete are Frank Hunt, Luke Thompson and James Lee Underwood.

The one-day tournament will be played at the Sunset Country Club. The tournament will consist of 18 holes of medal play and total scores of teams will be counted.

Smith will begin his round at 11 a.m., Thompson at 11:30 a.m., and Underwood at 11:50 a.m.

Robert Cobb will serve as starter of the meet and tournament director.

Those entered, and their starting times, include:

10:30 a.m. — Pat Caldwell, San Angelo; Frank Hunt, HCJC; Jack Riley, McMurry.

10:40 a.m. — Charles Patterson, Odessa; Gerald Karr, Tarleton; one player from Frank Phillips of Berger.

10:50 a.m. — Neil Schonlers, Texas Tech; Jack Clark, HSU; Bruce Whitefield, San Angelo.

11:00 a.m. — Tom Powers, Tarleton; Jimmy Smith, HCJC; Jim Handrick, McMurry; James Phelan, Odessa.

11:10 a.m. — Bob Westfall, Texas Tech; Dwayne Blair, HSU; Jim Leary, San Angelo; one player from Frank Phillips.

Import From NYC

A rookie seeking a job with the Big Spring Cosden Cops is Art DiCesare (above), who hails from the Bronx, New York City. Art is a big, right-handed hurler who has been in the Marines. He looked to advantage in a recent stint against Midland here.

Plainview Downs Odessa, 15 To 4

ODESSA, (SC) — Plainview of the WT-NM League stunned the Odessa Eagles of the Longhorn League, 15-4, here Wednesday night.

Dale Perry clubbed a homer in the first inning for the Ponies and the visitors were never headed.

Plainview closed out with a five-run ninth.

Don Stokes clubbed a two-run homer for Plainview in the sixth while Jim Bello hit one for Odessa with none on in the fourth.

Plainview 101 034 105—15 20 4
Odessa 000 112 000—4 7 2
Lemon, Harrington (6) and Palmer; Tremel, Whetstone (7), Landsem (9) and Peacock.

Ford had a more relaxed afternoon than did Roberts and found time to drive in four runs on three singles. Washington's two singles were by Roy Slevens in the fourth and Pete Runnels in the fifth.

Ford walked five but fanned eight. He would have had a shut-out except for a balk when he slipped from the mound in the sixth with a runner on third.

The Yanks teed off on starter Maury McDermott and three rookies for their most potent attack since beating Washington 22-1 Aug. 12, 1953. Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron homered in the 16-hit romp.

Brooklyn's victory was in doubt until the seventh when a five-run rally broke a 1-1 tie. Junior Gilliam led it off with a homer and Carl Furillo capped it with a three-run rally. Max Surkot was the loser while Erskine won his first opening decision in four tries.

Detroit smacked the A's for four runs off loser Arnie Portocarrero in the third and five off Ed Bur-schky in the sixth. Harvey Kueshn homered and doubled for the Tigers, who went all the way behind Steve Gromek as the veteran right-hander scattered eight hits.

Pharo And Spaeth To Clash Tonight

Farr Surprised Fight Mob, Too

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—While taking sightings on round Don Cockell and listening to bystanders predict dire things for him when he fights Rocky Marciano out in San Francisco next month, we suddenly experienced a strange feeling that all this had happened before. It wasn't in a dream either.

Back in 1937 they brought over another British carnival attraction named Tommy Farr as a sort of sacrificial offering to young Joe Louis, the killer. If you think the promoters are being given a going-over for importing the tubby batter from Battersea, you just should have heard what the experts said when they saw the corrugated ears on Farr.

They said he patently was a bum who would be lucky to go five with the champion. This made Farr sore and he was a hard man to get along with while he trained, largely in solitude, down on the New Jersey coast.

As the time neared for the execution, the odds went to 3-1 that Louis would win by a kayo. We still recall happily that we grabbed some of that. The only excuse was that we had seen Farr fight a couple of times in London and knew he was a pretty good man.

Luckily, we had not seen Louis up to that time and so didn't scare easily.

Well, you can look it up. For 15 bruising rounds Louis was given all the right he could handle. The champion never looked like stopping the game Welshman, who moved in on him as though he owned him round after round. Joe was forced to put out everything he had to save his title.

Evidence Claimed
Ample For Trial
In Murder Case

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Sheriff Lee Williams of Henderson County, Kentucky, told newsmen Wednesday he had enough evidence to try Leslie Irvin, 30, a paroled burglar, in the "Chinese execution" slayings of three members of a Smith Mills, Ky., family.
The sheriff said in a press conference at the Evansville police station he had enough evidence to bring Irvin to trial for killing a Kentucky farmer and two members of his family by shooting them through the head after binding their arms March 28.
Prosecutor Paul Weaver of Vanderburgh County, Indiana, said earlier Irvin had orally confessed the recent murders of three other persons in the Evansville area but Evansville police officers denied the report.

Reds 'Needed'
In Asia Talks

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson says talks aimed at peaceful settlement of Formosan and Indo-Chinese problems will fall without participation of the Chinese Communist government.
In a lecture here last night, Pearson said the Communists were the actual government of China and must be considered in negotiations.
Unless the Communist government takes part in talks at the United Nations or elsewhere, he went on, it will be impossible to iron out disputed matters concerning China.
"That may be a regrettable state of affairs," he said.

News From Webb Air Force Base
By BILL SEILER

GRADUATES

Today was the big day for members of graduating jet pilot Class 55-L, and on hand to make it a memorable one was the official USAF WAF (Women In The Air Force) Band from Lackland AFB.
In addition to playing for the Wing Review on the flight ramp this afternoon, the all-girl band also furnished music for the graduation exercises in the Academic Auditorium. Guest speaker at the graduation was Dr. Saul B. Sells, Ph. D., chief of the department of clinical psychology at the USAF School of Aviation Medicine.
The graduating class numbered 35 students, 27 of them U.S. aviation cadets, six American student officers and two Turkish student officers.

WAF BAND PERFORMANCES

While at Webb the USAF WAF Band will present a 45-minute program Friday morning in the high school auditorium, starting at 9:45 o'clock. That afternoon they will make a "live" television broadcast over Station KMID-TV, in Midland, at 4:30.

They will close out their stay with a concert program at the Base theater on Saturday night at 7:30. The program will include everything from better-known classics and musical comedy selections to the latest hit parade tunes and "hop" numbers. The concert will also include novelty and production numbers, as well as a performance by the bell ringers.

Webb's Noncommissioned Officers' Club has been a hub of activity the past few days, with many last-minute arrangements being made for the six-day-long carnival that the club is sponsoring on the Base tomorrow through next Wednesday.

Normal operating hours for the carnival will be from seven to 11 each evening, and there will be a special children's matinee on Sunday afternoon from one to six, during which time all youngsters of 12 and under may ride any of the rides for only five cents.

During the carnival week there will be a western dance band at the NCO Club each night, and the snack bar will be open. In addition, on Monday, April 18, the Miller Brothers western band from Wichita Falls will be at the club to play for dancing from nine until midnight.

HIGH SCHOOL VISITORS

Webb will take on the appearance of a campus next Monday afternoon, starting at 1:30, when high school seniors from Big Spring will visit the Base to get an idea of how the Air Force operates.

The visitors will meet at the Officers' Club, and will be welcomed by Col. Charles M. Young, wing commander, or his representative.

They will then be conducted on a tour of the base and its facilities, escorted by specially selected officers.

The tour is a joint Junior Chamber of Commerce-Air Force project "Top Flight" designed to bring about a better public understanding of the Air Force and its people.

SAFETY MARK SET

Webb's soaring record of accident-free days reached 55 yesterday, meeting the Base goal of 55 safe, nonreportable-accident days in 1955, announced Capt. Leverett G. Ficklin, ground safety officer.
"Naturally," says Capt. Ficklin, "We're not going to stop there. It would be wonderful if we could continue having accident-free days for the rest of the year."
The ground safety officer commended all military and civilian personnel who contributed to setting the base's new safety record.
"Without the preventive efforts of everyone at Webb, and the care exercised by them in their daily activities, the record could never have been set," he said.

CREDIT UNION APPROVED

With the return of the approved application for national charter late last week, the establishment of a Federal Credit Union at Webb has become a reality.
A general meeting of everyone interested will be held at the NCO Club next Monday evening at 7:30. Club facilities will be extended to all prospective credit union members during the meeting.

Everyone assigned or employed at Webb, regardless of grade, is eligible to join the credit union, subject to the approval of the board of directors.

CADETS PHASING OUT

The aviation cadet program at Webb is gradually becoming a thing of the past. With today's graduation of 55-L, there are now only three more classes of cadets on the base, totalling 59. All pilot training conducted here after they leave will be for student officers.

REFUELING RECORD

Members of the Base Refueling Section last week were able to point proudly to a record of six months without a reportable accident, no small feat considering that they operate 35 trailer units and six oil trucks round the clock every day of the week.

Latest readings on the chart they maintain were, as of last Friday, 7,102 man days on-base and 5,546 man days off-base without an accident. An individual would have to work safely every day for a little more than 34 years to achieve a similar record.

According to T. Sgt. Paul C. Marshall, section chief, posting a daily record serves as a reminder to the workers to constantly practice safe procedures. "No one wants to be the first to spoil our record," says Sgt. Marshall, "and as a result everyone stays on his toes every minute."

Building Collapses

HONG KONG (AP)—Sixty-five sleeping inhabitants of a three-story tenement in Hong Kong escaped early today when the building suddenly collapsed. Authorities said two women and four children perished. The building was under repair.

More Water, Less
Sin Get State Okay

AUSTIN (AP)—Four programs for more water and less sin had the approval of various parts of the Texas Legislature today.

Specifically, the measures call for development of the Trinity River watershed, state aid to local water projects, a curb on so-called "influence peddling" and reforms in the insurance industry.
They highlighted yesterday's work by the House and Senate and committees of the two bodies. Today, the Senate called a 9 a.m. session to consider routine, local and uncontested bills on a "local calendar."

The House posted a 10 a.m. starting time to take up Senate bills.
The bill creating the Trinity River Authority received final passage by the House and headed for the Senate after one last skirmish over its controversial navigation features.
Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas reminded the House that the measure had been stripped of any provisions for making the stream navigable.

The bill passed 85-31 in spite of a warning by Rep. Reuben Talasek of Temple that future legislatures might probe investigation features back into the authority.
The Senate turned its attention to influence peddling by public officials after Sen. William W. Shireman of Corpus Christi introduced a bill to make public the sources of income of officeholders who represent clients before state agencies.

The bill would require all public officials to file sworn statements with the secretary of state, detailing all compensation received for services rendered before agencies of Texas.
The Senate passed by a voice vote a bill providing a reorganization of the insurance industry. The Senate added one amendment to the House-passed measure by Rep. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford, sending it back to the House for concurrence.
Requested by the insurance commission as part of a series of insurance reforms, the bill would:

1. Provide for more frequent examination of new companies.
2. Allow the Insurance Board to bar a company from doing business in Texas if its officers and directors were found to be "not worthy of public confidence."
3. Give the board the power to pass on real estate valuations used in figuring the assets of companies.
4. Place supervision of the examination machinery under the entire board.

Two programs for state aid to local water projects were sent from the Constitutional Amendments Committee to the floor of the House with favorable reports.
A Senate-passed program by Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman, San Angelo, called for establishment of a 100-million-dollar water development fund to be used for underwriting local water projects.
Hardeman's plan would be financed by a statewide property tax of three cents per $100 valuation.

The second proposal, by Rep. Joe Pool, Dallas, would allow the Legislature to appropriate funds from the General Revenue Fund to underwrite as much as one third of the cost of local water development work.

The Senate passed a bill bringing state unemployment compensation laws into line with federal statutes. It goes back to the House for concurrence.

The House approved a bill raising from 20 to 25 per cent the number of voters required to petition for a local option liquor election and a measure creating a state board to license and regulate public surveyors.
The House gave final passage to a bill setting up a board for regulation and licensing of ophthalmic dispensers—dealers in glasses prescribed by eye specialists.
It approved by a 138-2 vote a bill described as a general streamlining of the code for certifying Texas teachers, the action came after lengthy and heated argument on Rep. Joe Burkett's proposed amendment allowing permanent removal of the certificate of any teacher taking part in a strike.
Burkett's proposal was tabled.

Two Big Springers Leave On Uranium Hunting Tour

By CLIFTON LAWHORNE
Two Big Springers left this morning on a six-month prospecting trip, reminiscent of those made during the famous gold rush days.
They are Rufus McCullah and Melvin Byers, and the only difference between them and the 49'ers is that they are searching for uranium, the new get-rich-quick mineral.
The two men left here in a jeep which was loaded with equipment they will need in their search. They plan to tour New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Colorado.
They didn't sport any slogan such as "uranium or bust," but they left with a determination to succeed. Both are optimistic as to the outcome.

McCULLAH AND BYERS
... Examine Scintillator

"The area where you have to walk beyond five miles to search is still wide open," McCullah said. "It's the unexplored area that we are going to."
That Byers and McCullah are dead serious is evidenced in the investment they have already made in the venture. They have spent, with aid of contributions, more than $3,000.
They believe that by living over camp fires and spending the nights in sleeping bags that they can get by for around $200 per month on the trip.
This means that a six-month stay will cost another $1,200.

McCullah, a surveyor for the City of Big Spring, has known for about five months that he was going to make the trip. Byers volunteered the minute he heard about it.
The two have been gathering equipment for the past sixty days. The jeep, a new 1955 model, was the first item purchased, and a small trailer for supplies was item number two.

A $500 scintillator which McCullah claims is about 100 times more sensitive than a geiger counter was also an expensive item, as was a small laboratory to test water for arsenic.
Other items which the men will take with them will be a camera, a compass, survey instruments, two rifles, a pistol, a stove, "dutch oven," and an assortment of pots and pans.

A tent, sleeping bags, and axe are also included among the items of equipment. Supplies will be stocked to last from two to three weeks at a whack. Points of civilization are expected to be few and far between when the two men start prospecting.

"We're going to be out and away from towns most of the time," McCullah said. "There will be no sleeping in motels."

The two men will stop in Santa Fe, New Mexico, before continuing their journey. From there it is anybody's guess. "We're going to need a lot of luck," Byers stated.
All the prospecting will be done on government open land, and between $10,000 and $35,000 bonuses are offered for strikes in undeveloped territory.

McCullah has been working for the city for 4½ years, and prior to that he was with the engineering department at Midland. He worked in oil exploration out of Dallas for six years, and he expects the exploration experience to stand him in good stead.

Byers, who was a frogman during the Korean War, has been a student at Howard County Junior College. He graduated from high school here in 1950, and was on the football squad and track team.

Though the scintillator is sensitive only to radio-active materials, the two men say they are also prospecting for "quick silver, tungsten, gold, silver, copper, lead and fertilizer."

They feel that they are bound to find something.
"A lot of the big companies go out to look for uranium and their searchers feel they are failures if they don't find over $20,000 worth," McCullah explained. "We want to find more than that too, but we will not consider anything in that neighborhood a failure."

Both men feel that it is a chance for them to make some money, and they expressed appreciation to all the others who have contributed to make the venture possible.

Byers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Byers, 700 San Jacinto, is not married, but McCullah leaves his wife, the former Frankie Jo Wilson of Snyder, and nine-year-old son David here while he makes the exploration.

Early Showers Would Have Worsened Blowing Of Soil

Soil conservationists this week were gratified that the Big Spring area hasn't had any of those light spring showers which dampened some areas of West Texas last weekend.

If this area had received such rainfall, the sandstorm Tuesday would have been much worse, said Marion Everhart of the local Soil Conservation Service office.
Fred Keating, superintendent of the U. S. Agricultural Experiment Station here, also said that the hard crust on much of the area's soil reduced the blowing. Rain would have broken the crust.

Most area farm leaders agreed with Everhart and Keating that the soil blowing wasn't as extensive as it appeared.
Everhart said most of the dust came from the sandy fields which have no clay base.

He said that extent of cultivation of such fields made little difference in the blowing. In other words, the plowed land blew about as badly as the unplowed.

Bare rangeland also contributed to the blowing, Everhart said the overgrazed pastures in some instances blew more extensively than cultivated acreage.

The soil conservationist said there apparently are no measures which can be taken to stop the blowing immediately. Return of the light, sandy cropland to grasses would eventually make that type soil stable, provided it isn't overgrazed, he said.

Wind eroded rangeland can be helped by listing, chiseling or pitting, provided clods large enough to break flow of the wind are turned up, Everhart said.

Removal of stock from the damaged rangeland also will be of benefit, he added. The conservationist suggested that animals be confined by temporary fencing to the low areas, where there is some grass and weeds, or else be placed in drylot for feeding.

Everhart and Keating thought that most of the area's stable soils — those with some clay content — still were holding fairly well after Tuesday's duster.

The blowing, which always starts in the poorer soils, was beginning to spread to the better land however, Everhart said.

He estimated that winds during the first two weeks of April have added from 1,500 to 2,000 acres to the volume of cropland which was blowing in March. It was estimated at the first of March that some 6,000 acres of the cropland in the county was being eroded by the winds.

Some 4,000 acres of rangeland and about 2,000 acres of miscellaneous lands also were being seriously damaged at the beginning of April.

County Agent Darward Lewter, who is retiring from Office Friday, said that re-listing will prevent blowing on a lot of the cultivated acreage. This is impossible until after a rain, however, he pointed out.

There was no estimate by any of the farm experts as to the damage which will result from moisture lost from the ground to the high winds. It was excessive, they pointed out, and consequences will be determined by the amount of future rainfall.

Winds gusted in velocities up to nearly 50 miles an hour Tuesday night. The hard blow started Tuesday morning and abated only slightly early Wednesday morning.

'Secret Trials' Banned In Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP)—No Ohio judge can order all spectators and reporters from a courtroom during a trial—even at the written request of the defendants, an Appellate Court ruled here yesterday.

"A defendant has no right, constitutionally or otherwise, to a private trial—that is, one hidden from the public view," the court said.

The decision came in a case brought by Cleveland's three daily newspapers—the Plain Dealer, News and Press.

Farouk Is Hunting Job

ROME (AP)—Ex-King Farouk of Egypt needs a job and is having no luck finding one, the Italian magazine Tempo reports.

In an interview with the deposed monarch, who has been living lavishly in exile, the magazine's current issue quotes him as saying: "I was never personally rich. The men of the revolution confiscated all my private property. My situation is critical. I must go to work to live."

Traffic Through City Court Is About As Heavy As Downtown

Traffic in Big Spring's corporation court is just about as heavy as the traffic on Big Spring's streets.

Drivers ticketed by police officers often create jams in the courtroom rivaling those of the highways. Every morning at 8:30 individuals with tickets converge on the courtroom, and sometimes up to 20 people are ready for an audience simultaneously.

A police officer is on duty in the courtroom to direct traffic, however, and he quickly untangles the jams. People are routed to the judge's bench in an orderly manner—one at a time.

Judge Grover Cunningham Jr. dispenses with the cases in a calm and impartial manner, usually hearing all pleas in less than an hour. The courtroom is a chamber of dignity, even though the person ticketed may appear in a rage of anger.

During March the average number of people appearing in court each day was seven. Judge Cunningham rendered 178 traffic decisions during the month.

In addition to the 178 appearing in the courtroom, another 423 paid off overtime parking tickets. The policy is that holders of overtime parking tickets do not have to see the judge if they do not want to.

Nine holders of overtime parking tickets chose to see the judge in March to contest the charges. Only two of these got out of paying fines, however. One was excused and the other was found not guilty.

Less than five per cent of the people appearing in traffic court during the past fiscal year, which ended March 31, got off without paying a fine.

Of the 7,599 people appearing, only 390 were dismissed. There were 7,514 people fined, and five others were transferred to other authorities.

During the past fiscal year 12,831 tickets of all types were issued. There were 3,152 people who did not appear in court as ordered and warrants must now be issued for their arrest.

March saw 822 tickets issued, and only 610 tickets were disposed of through fines or court action. Most of the people who do not appear are those who have been ticketed for overparking. There were 6,233 such tickets issued during the past year.

During March only 17 of the 178 appearing in court were excused of the charges listed on their tickets or were found not guilty. The other 151 were found guilty and paid fines.

Most common offense in March was speeding. Forty-seven appeared before the judge, and 47 were fined. Fines were between $5 and $40, the average being $10.

Twenty-six people appeared on tickets issued for not having drivers' licenses. Only four were not fined, two being found not guilty and two being excused. Fines for the offense were between $10 and $25.

Two of the 12 ticketed for failure to yield right-of-way in March were found not guilty by the judge and released. The others were fined $5 each.

Seven making illegal turns were fined from $1 to $5 and the 13 ticketed for running stop signs were fined from $5 to $10. Following too closely brought six people $5 fines, and one ticketed for the offense was dismissed.

Eight who ran red lights were fined between $5 and $8. Three ticketed for failure to keep proper look out were fined $5 each, and one was excused.

Thirteen people were transferred to county authorities on charges of driving while intoxicated. One was accused of driving while license was suspended and also transferred to county. City court has no jurisdiction in either type case.

People who got tickets for parking in prohibited zones fared fairly well in court during March. Four of the nine were excused. The others received $2 fines. Both people ticketed for parking on the sidewalk were excused.

Two were fined $2 each for improper parking, and one was excused. Two were fined $3 each for parking in an alley, and one was excused.

Allowing an unlicensed driver to operate his vehicle cost one man $10, and reckless driving cost another $10.

Three were accused of creating excessive noise in March. One was guilty, the other two were fined $5 each. Driving without lights resulted in a $25 fine, and running over a fire hose resulted in a $2 assessment.

Newsman Plan Court Test Of Ban On Pictures

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Six newspapermen and a freelance photographer who were convicted of contempt yesterday for defying a ban on taking pictures in a courthouse will test the ban through an appeal to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Attorneys for the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and the Greensburg Tribune Review said yesterday that they would file without delay an appeal from the contempt finding by the Westmoreland County Court judges.

The two newspapers took pictures in the Westmoreland County Courthouse corridors of John Wesley Wable after he was sentenced to death in the electric chair there last Dec. 28 for the slaying of a sleeping truck driver on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

An order of the court issued on the eve of Wable's trial forbade taking pictures of prisoners anywhere in the courthouse or the adjoining jail.

The newspapers claimed the ban violated the Pennsylvania and U.S. Constitutions, pertaining to freedom of the press.

Block, Bernhard and Mack were each fined $500 and sentenced to five days in the county jail. The others were fined $100 each and also received five-day jail terms. The sentences were stayed pending the appeal.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Birds have sharp eyes. They can pick out most colors (as red, pink or yellow) very quickly but tests have proved that they have trouble seeing objects of a blue or violet color.

Most kinds of birds have eyes on opposite sides of their heads. Instead of looking at a person with both eyes, a hen in the barnyard looks with one eye at a time. Sometimes I have observed a hen looking at me first with one eye, then with the other.

A few kinds of birds are able to gaze at an object with both eyes at once. Owls are best known for this, but several kinds of hawks have eyes which are well placed for the purpose.

Perhaps you have heard about the so-called "teeth" which baby chicks use to peck their way out of their shells. These disappear before long, and the absence of anything like teeth in a full grown chicken has given rise to the saying, "as scarce as hen's teeth."

Many birds have sharp beaks, but none of these can be said to have teeth in a proper sense of the word. Nevertheless there used to be birds with teeth. Several kinds of pre-historic birds have been found in North American and Europe and in each case teeth exist inside the parts of the beak.

Mrs. Dunagan Gives Mother-In-Law's Recipe

One of the nicest tributes that could be given to a mother-in-law was the one paid to Mrs. R. C. Dunagan, Rt. 1, by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. M. A. Dunagan, 1607 Sunset.

"She's the best cook I ever saw, and I have tried to learn to cook just like she does," Mrs. Dunagan said, when she offered this week's recipe. It is for a mincemeat cake, and the recipe has been used in the Dunagan family for years.

Continuing the tribute, the local Mrs. Dunagan said, "Everything she cooks tastes better than what I cook, and I have had a hard time cooking for my husband."

The cake is very easily and quickly made; in fact, she doesn't even use her mixer because there is no hard beating to be done. It makes a cake that is good at any season of the year and it stays moist. For the winter cake, Mrs. Dunagan likes to serve it with the caramel frosting, but she usually leaves that off in the summer.

It's excellent any time, and especially good to have ready for "happen-in" coffee-drinkers. It's a favorite with her husband and two children, Dennis, 4, and Connie, 2 1/2.

MINCEMEAT CAKE

Ingredients:
1 package of mincemeat
1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup molasses
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup raisins
1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, well-beaten

Method:
Break mincemeat into small pieces and pour boiling water over it. Cook over low heat until it is thick.

Curried Apples Go With Fried Ham

It's an old enough idea that ham and apples go well together on the dinner table, but curried apple halves served on a platter with fried ham is a new one.

CURRIED APPLE HALVES
3 tart apples
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1 1/2 tablespoon curry powder
1/2 tablespoon minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-3 cup finely chopped chutney
Wash, core and pare apple cut in half crosswise. Combine sugar, water, curry powder, onion and salt in saucepan. Bring to boil, stirring until sugar dissolves. Add apples; cover; simmer three to five minutes. Turn apples carefully; cover; cook two to three minutes longer or until apples are easily pierced with a fork but still hold their shape. Remove apples to shallow pan. Continue cooking sugar mixture until it forms a thick syrup. Add chutney. Pour over apples; broil until apples are well-glazed, basting several times with syrup. Serve as a meat accompaniment. Serves six.

Shorten Kitchen Time With Soups

Even the housewife who finds the greatest of joy in the hours spent in the kitchen has to face reality, and shorten those hours. She can make this clam bisque a main dish, in quick time, too, and no apologies will be needed.

CLAM BISQUE
1 can cream of tomato soup
1 can cream of green pea soup
1 can cream of mushroom soup
2 cups milk
1 10-ounce can minced clams
Combine all the ingredients in a large saucepan. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer for 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Makes six large bowls.

We'd like hot French bread with this one, too.

Canned, Packaged Foods Can Make Glamorous Desserts

A dessert: fold baby-food chopped prunes into slightly sweetened whipped cream. Add a little vanilla flavoring and spoon into sherbet glasses. Chill and serve to delighted family or guests.

Fill individual sponge-cake shells from the bakery with drained canned apricots; top with a fluff of whipped cream and garnish each dessert with a whole sweet strawberry. Nice for company, and quick, too!

Bake a package of cake mix in two layers. Split one layer in half to make two thin layers and sandwich together with prepared packaged vanilla pudding; top with chocolate frosting. Top the remaining cake layer with peach frosting and save for another meal.

A package of frozen strawberries will dress up some dishes of vanilla pudding when you have unexpected company.

Stuffed Avocados For Party Luncheon

When it is your turn to entertain the bridge club, make up some crab salad: crabmeat, diced celery, mayonnaise. Fill unpeeled avocado halves with the salad. Put the stuffed avocados in a shallow baking pan and pour a little hot water into the pan.

Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until hot—10 to 15 minutes. Serve with potato chips, sprigs of watercress inserted in rings of raw carrot and hot rolls. Dessert might be pineapple chiffon pie.

Supper Ideas Come From Pantry Shelf

Add drained canned whole-kernel corn to a can of stewed tomatoes and heat for a good vegetable dish to offer with meat loaf. The vegetable combination will serve as a sauce.

Mix a can of condensed cream of mushroom soup with a third cup of milk and curry powder to taste. Serve over slices of leftover turkey arranged on buttered toast.

One Pound Enough For Six Hamburgers

Add various seasonings to ground beef—horseradish, prepared mustard, grated onion or crushed garlic and catchup. Spread the cut sides of hamburger buns with the meat mixture, making sure it covers the edges of the roll.

Broil several inches from high heat until meat is done as much as desired. Watch carefully so the meat won't be overdone. You can spread six hamburger buns with a pound of meat this way.

Serve Supper Crowd Hot Potato Salad

The crowd coming over for supper? Serve a big hot potato salad with broiled frankfurters, buttered rolls and lots of fresh vegetables to eat out of hand.

Chose radishes, carrot and celery strips, cauliflowerets and strips of fennel for the fresh vegetable tray.

Coffee Shake Helps Keep Weight Down

Here is a milk shake for those interested in keeping weight down.

COFFEE MILK SHAKE
1/2 cup skim milk
Ice cubes
1 teaspoon instant coffee
1/2 teaspoon sugar substitute.
Beat until creamy.

Ready-To-Bake Biscuits Make Chicken Pie Crust

If your family goes for old-fashioned chicken pie, then you know how essential the crisp biscuit crust is—to a really good pie. It offers just the right flavor and texture contrast to make the dish complete. But up till now, this topping has been about the most difficult part of the pie to make.

So here's a new trick for making "easy as pie"! Use those ready-to-bake biscuits you find in your grocer's refrigerated dairy case. You just pull the string and there are your biscuits ready-to-bake and tender.

Place them in your casserole of chicken stew. Pop the casserole in the oven a few minutes. And out comes chicken pie in all its glory—with a crisp, flaky golden-brown crust that "melts in your mouth."

Seafood-Cheese Surprise Combines Plentiful Foods

High on the list of plentiful foods for April will be fresh fish and shellfish. The United States Department of Agriculture tells us that the frozen fish are in large enough supply to include them on the plentiful list too. Cheese stocks also remain at high levels. This provides an ideal time to team these nutritious foods in a tempting and filling seafood main-dish.

Seafood-Cheese Surprise accomplishes this. There is no trick to preparation either, if you use fresh or frozen fish and handy sharp cheese slices. Here's an excellent main dish suggestion for the ever-increasing buffet style meal. The recipe was planned to serve 12, but it is not difficult to cut ingredient amounts in half if you plan to serve six.

Preparation can be done in advance, the casserole refrigerated until baking time or easily assembled at the final moment. Advance preparation will provide 30 to 40 minutes for visiting with guests or completing last minute details.

SEAFOOD-CHEESE SURPRISE
Ingredients:
2 pounds fresh or frozen fish fillets
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 (3-oz.) cans sliced mushrooms, drained
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
2 (12-oz.) packages frozen shrimp, cooked and cleaned
2 (9-oz.) packages sharp cheese slices

Method:
Place a layer of thoroughly thawed fillets in bottom of buttered casserole, 13 inches square by 1 1/2-inches deep. Combine vegetables, eggs and black pepper. Spread evenly over fillets. Arrange shrimp over mixture; top with cheese slices. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) 30 minutes or until fish is tender. If desired, garnish with additional shrimp, hard-cooked egg slices and parsley. Serve with mixed green salad.

Top Brussels Sprouts And Toasted Almonds

Frozen brussels sprouts are widely available and so nutritious that they can be used often to good advantage in family menus.

Try serving them with browned butter and toasted almonds. Or team them with cream sauce and a topping of crisp crumbled bacon.

Something Different: Fresh Grapefruit Cake

Since it's such a grand time for sprightly ideas, we would like to suggest that you bake a new, different cake—one that speaks of spring just by looking at it.

Pans used to bake cakes made with shortening must be greased on the bottom. In the case of layer cakes which are to be removed from the pan, a circle of waxed paper cut to fit the bottom of the pan may be used instead of greasing. Cakes made without shortening should be baked in ungreased pans.

All care in measuring and mixing can be nullified if the cake is not baked correctly. Preheat the oven, and never place one cake pan above the other. Also, don't peek, no matter how curious you are.

A cake is done when the surface of the cake springs back when pressed lightly by the finger. Remove the cake as soon as it is done, for overbaking will result in a dry cake. If cake is to be frosted, be sure it is thoroughly cool before spreading the frosting.

For a cake truly dedicated to spring, it should have a taste or garnish of fruit, befitting the season.

FRESH GRAPEFRUIT CREAM CAKE

2 1/2 cups sifted all purpose flour
2 1/2 teaspoons double acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
Two-thirds cup shortening
1 and one-third cups sugar
1 tablespoon grated grapefruit rind

1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
3 eggs, unbeaten
1/4 cup fresh grapefruit juice
1/4 cup water

Heat oven to 375 degrees F. Sift together first ingredients. Cream together shortening, sugar, and grated grapefruit and lemon rind. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add flour mixture alternately with grapefruit juice and water. Beat batter 1/2 minute. Bake in 2 well greased, lightly floured round 8 or 9-inch layer cake pans 30 minutes or until done. Cool 10 minutes. Turn out on wire rack to cool. Spread grapefruit cream filling between layers. Frost with grapefruit frosting.

Baked pears make a nice fruit change at breakfast time. Serve them with light cream, if you like, and a sprinkle of cinnamon.

FRESH GRAPEFRUIT CREAM FILLING

1 cup sugar
1/4 cup cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup fresh grapefruit juice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 egg yolks
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon grated grapefruit rind

Combine first 3 ingredients in saucepan. Blend in grapefruit juice; cook over medium heat until mixture is very thick, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients; cook over low heat 1 minute, stirring all the while. Cool. Spread between layers.

GRAPEFRUIT SEVEN MUNUTE FROSTING
1 unbeaten egg white
1/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons fresh grapefruit juice

One-sixteenth teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated grapefruit rind
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Combine the first 4 ingredients in the top part of double boiler. Place over boiling water and beat with electric or rotary beater until the mixture stands in stiff peaks. Beat in grated grapefruit and lemon rind. Frost tops and sides of the grapefruit cream cake. If desired, sprinkle additional grated lemon or grapefruit rind over top of cake for garnish.

Famous Steak Houses Feature Spaghetti

• In Omaha, Neb., the steak capital of the nation, restaurants and steak houses serve spaghetti with tender, succulent steaks. A chef at one large steak house stated, "Steaks and spaghetti are made for each other, like bacon and eggs."

• Many Omaha steak houses feature Skinner Vitamin Enriched Spaghetti. Because of its high content of amber durum wheat, Skinner Spaghetti cooks tender, yet firm. It is sold by leading local grocers.

Worker Finds Red 'News' Distasteful

LONDON (U)—A bartender friend of ours named Percy emerged from deep inside the Communist Daily Worker today and pronounced judgment: "It'll never replace the old-fashioned newspaper."
He may be on solid ground. But at the moment the Red party organ — all four pages and 80,000 copies of it — is striving to do so. Because of London's newspaper strike, now in its 20th day and no

Spectator 'Matador' Tossed

A 21-year-old spectator, Rocky Moody, an American from San Diego, Calif., is tossed in the air by the bull after he ran unannounced into the ring during bullfights at Tijuana, Mexico. Moody, a member of a club which studies the art of bullfighting, rushed from the grandstand to meet the 800-pound animal. He produced a red cape from beneath his shirt and dodged the animal for a few seconds before being tossed. The bull was distracted by the regular matador and others before he could injure Moody as he lay on the ground. Moody sustained only severe bruises.

Texas Onions Due To Give Congress New 'Air' Today

WASHINGTON (U)—Congress may have a new air about it as it reconvenes from its Easter recess. "New, tender and sweet Texas onions"—20,000 pounds of 'em—were to be parceled out to returning House and Senate members today. There will be some too for government officials.
Rep. Kilgore (D-Tex.) said the "season's first and best onions... will be distributed by wives of Texas members, gaily costumed..."
Austin Anson, executive secretary of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Assn., acknowledged the distribution is a promotion stunt and he told reporters:
"If we can get the nation's capital Texas - onion conscious, the word and maybe the perfume will spread out over the whole land."

Fire May End Feud Over Kent County's Seat

CLAIREMONT, Tex. (U)—An old West Texas landmark, the vacant Claremont courthouse, was almost a total loss today, after a fire of undetermined origin broke out in it Tuesday night.
The fire probably settled a feud between this town and nearby Jayton.
The start of the fire found Claremont's only piece of fire-fighting equipment, a pumper, out of order. And the volunteer fire department made no effort to quell the blaze without equipment.
Euel Harrison, former Kent County judge, said the only records in the building were a few old books of little value. But estimates of the loss ran as high as $35,000.
The old courthouse, built in 1893, had been the center of a 3-year-old feud between this town and Jayton. County offices were moved to Jayton in 1952 after a countywide election established it as the county seat.
In 1952, county residents voted to transfer the county government headquarters to Jayton.
The vote, which fell a couple of ballots short of the required two-thirds, precipitated a two-year squabble between pro-Jayton and pro-Claremont factions that saw litigation carried all the way to the State Supreme Court at Austin.
It was following the high court's decision last summer that county records were transferred under highway patrol and Texas Ranger escort and placed in the vault of the First National Bank at Jayton.
Even the Supreme Court ruling failed to halt legal by-play. Since the moving of the records of Jayton, it has been ruled in 32nd District Court at Sweetwater that the records should be moved back to Claremont. That decision was overruled Feb. 11 in the Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland.
Thus the records remain at Jayton. But the matter has not been dropped. Further court action has been planned by the pro-Claremont element.
