EXPECT 50 CARS CALVES IN SHOW; SALE TO FEEDERS

Dates Immediately After the Fair At Marfa

October 19 to 23 inclusive were the dates set this morning by Midland Fair directors for the first fair, cattle show, race meet and rodeo.

Following on the heels of the Marfa fair, in order to attract the large body of corn belt and northern buyers coming to Texas annually to buy feeder cattle, the principal feature of the Midland Fair will be the carlot calf show and auction sale.

Cattlemen of the Midland area plan to exhibit and sell at auction approximately 50 carloads of calves, or about 2,500 head, at the fair here, seeking to establish one of the world's largest single markets for feeder cattle. Heretofore the sale of cattle to northern feeders has been largely without organization, each cattleman getting in touch with buyers as best he could. It is the belief of the fair officials that the new method will attract many more buyers and will stamp the Midland area as the most convenient point where so many calves of uniform quality may be obtained each season.

Monday morning the judging of carlot or feeder cattle will be held. In the afternoon there will be the race program and at night the final rodeo events.

Tuesday morning is the time set for the auction sale of the 50 carloads of calves. Races will be held again Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, making four days of racing for the five day fair.

Arrangements made by fair officials to secure the services of the best livestock judges and auctioneer possible, in order to get the highest possible market as one of the world's best of its kind.

Registered Hereford and dairy cattle, as well as livestock of all other kinds, exhibited in the live stock building, may be seen throughout the five days. The carlot division, because of the fact that all rodeo and race meets to which there will be Midland representatives.

SHIP 12 MIDLAND HORSES TO ODESSA TO ENTER EVENTS

Ten or twelve race horses have been moved, or will be transferred during the week, to the Odessa track, to enter events scheduled for Friday and Saturday in connection with the Odessa birthday celebration.

Doz Bloss took three of his four-horse string to Odessa Sunday, including Little Mickey and the two three-year old horses he recently brought here from Kentucky.

The A. C. Francis string of three Kentucky fillies, of which Dave Drake is trainer, will be taken to Odessa during the week. L. E. Cook will run Dutch Veda and Little Nell. The Jewell and Schnaubert paint sprinters, Face Time, stabled here since Friday, probably will enter the quarter or three-eighths free for all race. Len Cook was expected to enter his black two-year old filly.

Opening with a street parade featuring early day pioneers and the competing cowboys of the two day show, Odessa's celebration was expected to draw large crowds Friday and Saturday. A new rail has been erected around the five-eighths mile track. Several stalls and paddocks for the race horses have been added.

COUNCIL MEET CHANGED

The county home demonstration council will meet on Saturday, August 3, instead of Saturday, August 10, as announced in the schedule of Miss Kinbrough's canning demonstration given in the Sunday issue of The Reporter-Telegram.

LANDRETH NO. 1-A BLAKENEY HITS OIL HORIZONS; MAKES 10 BBL. PER HOUR

By PAUL OSBORNE
Landreth No. 1-A Blakeney, half mile west extension of the North Cowden pool, Ector county, encountered oil horizons late last night, according to reports just before press time today. From an oil zone between 4,195 and 4,205 feet, the test makes an estimated 10 barrels hourly, seven per cent connecting up before probably drilling deeper.

Winkler and Ector county developments share the spotlight of weekend drilling activity, with several wells indicating near completion as oil shows tested put them definitely in the producer class.

On the Clyde Cowden ranch, next adjoining to the east of the Goldsmith where Gulf made a sensational wildcat strike recently, Phillips and Pure No. 1 has tubing connected and is preparing to swap for definite test, the well to date having flowed 16 barrels of oil hourly from total depth of 4,171 feet. The same operators' No. 2 test, two miles south, is drilling limestone at 4,171 feet.

HUNT FINDS NEW DESIGN FOR LIVING ON OZARK FARMS BUT OWNERS PROTEST GOVERNMENT PRICES FOR THEIR PROPERTY

Off the beaten highways and into the heart of the Ozarks travels Frazier Hunt, still "Listening to America." Here is the seventh in a series of daily articles in which this noted reporter records the voice of the nation as he hears it on a coast-to-coast tour undertaken to find out what men and women everywhere are thinking, saying and doing in these eventful days.

By FRAZIER HUNT (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)
Once off the main Arkansas highway we slipped and slithered over muddy roads, getting deeper and deeper into the poorer regions of the Ozarks. Great gulches, that were like open wounds in the hillsides, carried us down with the running waters what little soil was left in this cut-over timber region.

We left the car and walked up a steep path to an unpainted shack, built of warped boards nailed upright. Curled and leaky the roof shingles were used for a roof. No porch graced the front of the home. A "razorback" sow grunted as she ran across the grassless plot that once had been a yard.

At the ghost town of Chester I talked with the case-worker who had charge of the relief for seven townships in Crawford County. "There are 1400 in this county alone that we have to take care of. . . . The government is doing the right thing to buy up these sub-marginal lands and move these poor people out. There's no hope for them otherwise."

Twenty miles away I went over the apple orchards. Here tiny flower gardens brightened the drab homes. People were poor, but there was none of the starvation and misery of the wooded areas.

Labor Trouble Menaces Boulder Dam Progress

Work on Boulder Dam is almost at a standstill since labor dissatisfaction has spread through most of the crafts employed on the mammoth project. With a majority of the 1600 normally employed already idle, union machinists walked off the job, with truck drivers threatening to follow unless given assurance of a wage adjustment. The crest of the dam is strikingly shown above, with the roadway across the top which soon will be open to the public. This will afford a good route from Las Vegas, Nev., to Kingman, Ariz. Intake tower tops can be seen over the dam and the Arizona spillway is at the extreme right.

Fish Celebrate; Get Plenty Drunk

ALTON, Ill., July 29, (P)—Old fishermen looked on as they eyed Smdax as tipping catfish in the Mississippi River shallows here began raising whoppers.

The fish, believed by river men to have been intoxicated by mosh from the $2,500,000 fire in the Hiram Walker distillery at Peoria Monday, were observed leaping about madly shortly after dawn.

Few Planes Here During Weekend

Landings reported at the Midland airport for the weekend were few in number, one plane only being listed for Sunday and three for this morning.

Lieut. Commander Sherman, flying a fighter land plane, stopped here Sunday on his way to San Diego, Calif.

Three army observation planes, led by Capt. Galloway, made landings today enroute from San Antonio to Dallas.

2 DEAD, 1 WOUNDED IN ROBBERY TODAY

CHICAGO, July 29, (P)—Dan Haskell, an elevator operator, and a robber were dead today and detective James Frawley was gravely wounded after a holdup and a pistol battle in the lobby of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad station.

Haskell was slain when he sought to block the raiders' escape from a lobby drug store scene holdup by holding the door closed.

Four men participated in the holdup.

Certificates for 75,567 Pounds of Cotton Turned in Reports from the office of S. A. Debnam, county agricultural agent, this morning showed certificates surrendered to the special cotton tax exemption certificate pool of 75,567 pounds, from 88 producers in Midland county. The certificates represented 30 per cent of those not sold in the November pool of last year.

Hold Four Youths In Death of Farmer

BISSING STAR, July 29.—Four young men were being held for questioning in Brownwood Sunday in the death of J. F. Davis, 50, farmer living three miles southwest of Bissing Star in Brown County.

Davis' body was found at 10:30 p. m. Saturday by the side of the road about 100 yards from his home near his watermelon field, which it is reported he had been guarding.

Indications were that he had been struck by a speeding automobile and the body dragged 50 feet up the road.

The case is being investigated by Sheriff Hallmark and District Attorney A. O. Newman, of Brown County, who were here today.

NEW DECREES GIVE NON-ARYAN YOUTH ENLISTMENT RIGHT

Gen. von Blomberg Pays Visit to Hitler

BERLIN, July 29, (P)—Tension among Jews, Catholics and veterans of "Steel Helmets" was eased today by news of the "Social Visit" of General Werner von Blomberg to Reichstehrer. The situation made the feeling prevailed in political circles that von Blomberg had pointed out the international impression created by drastic measures against "political Catholics", Steel Helmets and personal attacks upon Jews.

That von Blomberg's efforts were successful was indicated by a decree issued today which, theoretically, makes possible the taking of non-aryans into the army, navy and air forces of Germany.

CONTINUE JAILING; SUPPRESSION OF JEWS, CATHOLICS

BERLIN, July 29, (P)—The jailing and suppression of Jews and Catholics continued throughout the Reich Sunday. Although there were no serious disturbances, the general feeling of alarm and apprehension persisted.

Pending the annual Catholic bishop's conference at Fulda three weeks hence when the Catholic official policy will be disclosed, pulpits topics kept clear of political allusions. No trouble was reported in any of the churches in the Reich. References to the political situation made in previous sermons are, however, being brought up against priests and penalties are being inflicted.

At Hanau, a village priest was suspended for eight months' imprisonment for having abused his pulpit by making adverse observations on the Nazi regime, notably by comparing its actions to religious persecution in Russia.

At Stolberg a Catholic young men's association has been closed for alleged propaganda and its president, Father Bernhard Conrad, expelled from the district.

At Dusseldorf a local Nazi chief ordered all workers who are members of confessional organizations to choose between them and the Nazi labor front. He charged that the old centrist spirit is still rampant in confessional societies and threatened chief disenchanted members with expulsion from the Nazi community.

"No man," he said, "can serve two masters."

Jewish communities remained in a state of grave apprehension as to what is in store for them next. While Count von Helldorf, Berlin police chief, disavowed any intention of individual action against Jews, sinister intentions were seen in the adoption of the other ways about which von Helldorf did not go into further detail.

BEN LASKA GIVEN 10-YEAR SENTENCE

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 29, (P)—Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaughn today sentenced Ben Laska, Denver attorney, convicted of conspiracy in the $200,000 ransom kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma oil millionaire, to 10 years in the penitentiary.

Laska was found guilty by a federal court jury of accepting a part of the ransom money as his fee for defending the kidnapers of Urschel.

Sentence was passed after Judge Vaughn had denied Laska's motion for a new trial. Laska immediately gave notice of an appeal to the United States Circuit court, Denver.

DICTATORS DEPEND ON CONSTANT ACTIVITY
Whatever its faults may be, America remains at peace and offers to its citizens about as wide a range of individual liberties as any country on the globe.

In Italy, for instance, Mussolini continues to prepare for a war which, unless the economists are completely mistaken, cannot possibly give his country any prize worth the money and risk involved.

In Germany, the Nazis break loose with a new reign of terror for the Jews, and add to their own troubles by extending their drive to cover Catholics as well--including a number of Protestant religious leaders, also, just to make sure that no one is overlooked.

In some ways this is an excellent prescription. It enabled Mussolini to restore order to a chaotic industry, for instance, and enabled Hitler to bring his country out from under some of the worst injustices of the Versailles treaty.

But as time goes on, and the problems susceptible of speedy solution are cleared up, the necessity for action remains. The dictatorship may face--as it does, in both Italy and Germany--economic problems of infinite complexity, which cannot possibly be cleared up in a month or a year; no matter, it must act, it must do something, it must convince its constituents that it is performing the functions for which it was given power.

And so Italy, whose government is carrying a staggering deficit, must prepare for a war that will immensely increase that deficit; and Germany must push ahead with the one phase of Nazi policy that is calculated to increase its troubles rather than diminish them.

REDUCED FARES, AND PROFITS
Some time this fall the Interstate Commerce Commission will hear arguments about the rate which American railroads may charge for passenger transportation.

The ordinary citizen may well wonder if such a reduction would not be in the best interests of the railroads themselves. A number of western and southern roads have adopted a flat 2-cent rate, and as a result, have netted healthy increases in business.

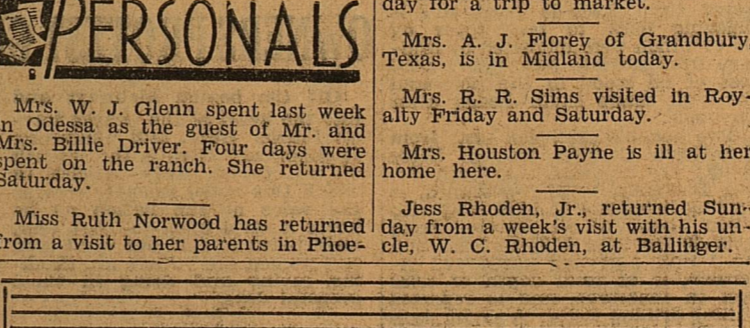

Minnesota physician says men may be shorter in the next 100 years. They've had a good start since '29.

Brown, Lubbock; Harvey Bond, Plainview; Lester Nelson, Lubbock; Ray Moore, Hamilton; John David Rutledge, Fort Worth; Ruth Hurnence, Lubbock; Dorothy Vandagriff, Lubbock; Helen Kinslow, Memphis; and Mrs. Laurance Priddy, Wilmette, Illinois.

The Toreador, formerly a weekly, will be published semi-weekly on Wednesdays and Saturdays during the long session of the year 1935-36. Last year The Toreador was awarded All-American honor rating, "superior" by the National Scholastic Press association. It was the only college weekly in Texas and one of 19 in the United States to receive this honor.

The Tech printing plant and editorial rooms are used as a laboratory for journalism students. Swiss people eat four times, and English people twice, as much cheese per capita as Americans.

Those who enroll for the classes in advanced reporting will do desk work for The Toreador, semi-weekly college paper, for the college news bureau, and for West Texas papers. The advertising course will be conducted with special emphasis on principles the first semester and in practice in writing copy and in layout the second semester.

The journalism curriculum includes, besides the added subjects, courses in reporting, copyreading and headline writing, typography, speeded feature articles, magazine articles, problems of the community newspaper, the history of American journalism, principles of journalism, critical writing, school publications, editorial writing, and the short story. A student must be at least a sophomore before taking journalism work.

Fool's Gold

FOR nearly four centuries people derided the idea that gold could be found in the hills of Quebec, a discovery the great French explorer, Jacques Cartier had made when he landed in North America in 1534. The Indians along the Saguenay river had told him of this precious metal and he jubilantly took some samples of it back to France.

But metallurgists of the day told him this was nothing but iron pyrite, "fool's gold," and that it was worthless.

In 1911, however, real gold was found in northwest Quebec and Cartier was vindicated. Now gold mining brings a revenue of $12,000,000 annually to Quebec, some of the same rock which Cartier took back to France yielding from $10 to $12 a ton.

France honors this explorer, however, not for the gold he brought back but for his great land discovery, in stamps issued on the 400th anniversary of his famous voyage.

Findings Something That Wasn't Lost

It has been a regular service of the Reporter-Telegram to restore lost dogs, watches, wallets and what-nots to anxious owners. But today attention is called to the fact that something has been found which the owners did not know they had lost.

happily. Right here in this section they could have for cash crops three or four acres of strawberries that should gross them $80 an acre; three or four acres of tomatoes, bringing them in a gross of around $35 an acre; they should sell two or three fat pigs and chickens and eggs, and they should raise almost everything they eat. Besides their house and fuel and their food they should have a cash income of at least $500 a year. Here in this mild climate they should have a little car and a radio and live like kings.

Path to Independence
He was designing a new America here in the foothills of the Ozarks. "We're starting it now," he went on. "The government is doing its level best to take these poor people off their sub-marginal lands and put them in new homes and get them started down the road to true economic independence. Hundreds of others are going down the path themselves. In this one county there are 585 more families on small farms than there were in 1930. I'd say that 75 per cent of the more intelligent ones are making it go. I can teach them how to farm a good deal easier than I can how to become good business men. Unless we move folks from cities back to the land we're going to be in a continually worse shape in this country. And for the future of our land we've got to put poor tenant farmers and people on sub-marginal lands on little tracts where they can earn their own living and become good citizens."

A hundred miles to the south and east in Arkansas a shrewd old man in a country store repeated much the same thing. "A man here on 20 acres can live well," he said. "With a cow or two and

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Taylor County, on the 13th day of July, 1935, by Belle Welborn, Clerk of said District Court of the sum of Two Thousand Four Hundred Eighty Eight and 80/100 Dollars and costs of suit, under a judgment, in favor of Farmers & Merchants National Bank in a certain cause in said Court, No. 2231-B and styled The Farmers & Merchants National Bank of Abilene, Texas, vs. West Texas Builders' Supply Company, placed in my hands for service, I, A. C. Francis as Sheriff of Midland County, Texas, did, on the 15th day of July, 1935, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Midland County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

All that certain lot, tract or parcel of land situated in the County of Midland, State of Texas and more particularly described as Lots Number Eleven (11) and Twelve in Block Number One (1) of West End Addition to the City of Midland in Midland County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of West Texas Builders' Supply Company, a corporation, and that on the first Tuesday in August, 1935, the same being the 6th day of said month, at the Court House door, of Midland County, in the City of Midland, Texas, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., by virtue of said levy and said Order of Sale I will sell above described Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said West Texas Builders' Supply Company, in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Midland Reporter-Telegram, a newspaper published in Midland County.

A good cigarette, too needs Balance

And that's why the tobaccos in Chesterfield are carefully balanced one against the other... not too much of one—not too little of another.

We take the right amounts of the right kinds of four types of tobacco—Bright, Burley, Maryland and Turkish.

It is this balancing of tobaccos that makes Chesterfields milder and makes them taste better.

Chesterfield... the cigarette that's MILD
Chesterfield... the cigarette that TASTES BETTER
