Witnesses Assert Best Was Shot While Holding Up Hands

Liquor Permits Are Held Up For Rulings On Law

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—The state liquor control board today withheld issuance of dealers' permits pending interpretations by the attorney general on several provisions of the new liquor regulatory act.

C. R. Miller, administrator, said "we are not thoroughly clear on several matters."

Miller said advertising of applications for temporary permits would not be required and that sale would be permitted without tax stamps in the immediate future.

Orders were given for the first consignment of stamps which will be printed and delivered within a few days. Permanent stamps may be lithographed with other precautionary means to prevent counterfeiting.

State Nears Completion Of Its Case

Kin Of Victim Brought To Stand In Trial Of Deputy Sheriff

The state moved near the end of its case against John Johnson, Lynn county deputy sheriff, Tuesday noon for the killing of B. O. "Bunk" Best, Dawson county farmer, May 24, 1933, seven miles north of Lamesa.

States attorneys indicated that they would rest after introducing testimony from a Lamesa doctor immediately after the opening of the afternoon session.

Doctor To Be Called

Hazel Hancock, nephew of Bunk Best, and Grady Best, brother of the shooting victim, testified during the morning that Bunk was shot through the chest when his hands were being held up in the air. Grady related how he had been shot in the arm while he was holding Bunk's hands up after Johnson had leveled a gun on them.

Testimony of the doctor was expected to be introduced in an attempt to discredit the testimony of Hancock and Best.

Both Hancock and Best gave a minute story of events leading up to the shooting, but Best was subjected to a vigorous cross examination as to a series of affairs in which he had participated prior to the fatal incident.

Argument Over Calf

Bunk Best lost his life in an argument growing out of the appearance of a calf, they disclosed.

Hazel Hancock, Seagraves, son of Mack Hancock, Dawson county farmer, at whose place they had been before the shooting, said that he, Grady and Bunk Best and Lee Davis had killed some beavers for an old settlers reunion. They loaded the carcasses into a Chevrolet coupe and drove to Lamesa to put them on storage.

On the way back they met up with a boy by the name of Durham who told them that a Mr. Barnhart had lost a calf and had accused Bunk Best of taking it.

After they had driven about 7 miles north of Lamesa, they passed a car in which Johnson and Barnhart were riding. Hazel said that he saw someone in the Johnson car signal, they stopped their own car down the road as soon as they could.

No Weapons

They got out of the car and walked back to the right side of the Johnson car. Hazel said that he, Bunk or Grady did not have weapons of any kind in their hands or pockets and that they were bareheaded and in their shirt sleeves.

Bunk, according to Hancock's testimony, asked Barnhart about accusing him of stealing a calf. Barnhart, continued Hazel, replied with an oath.

At this, Bunk told him to get out of the car that he "couldn't" call him a name like that on the ground. Barnhart showed no disposition to get out of the car and Bunk grabbed him by the leg and started to drag him out.

The next thing he saw, said Hazel, was Johnson leveling his gun on Bunk. Grady grabbed Bunk by the arm.

POSTER PORTRAYS APPEAL

The compelling appeal of the most famous of Red Cross World War posters has been adapted by Artist Lawrence Wilbur in the 1935 Red Cross roll call poster, "The Greatest Mother in the World," was the title given to the original creation, used in the organization's second war fund drive. In submitting a design for this year, Wilbur placed the shadowy, heroic figure of mercy in the background, with the practical Red Cross nurse succoring a sick and wounded child in the foreground, "Still the Greatest Mother" is the new title.

CITY SHOWING FINE RESPONSE IN RED CROSS MEMBER DRIVE

Big Spring citizens are responding in gratifying fashion to the American Red Cross appeal for 1935-36 memberships. It was said Tuesday by E. J. Cook, roll call chairman for Howard county, who is directing the campaign this week.

"Many of our workers started their canvassing Monday and Tuesday," Cook said, "and report that they have found wonderful cooperation from all firms and individuals contacted."

Cook said that district captains assigned certain sections of the city had done "fine work" and that the drive appears headed for success. Some of the district leaders have a score or more volunteers aiding in the campaign, while others are lining up their forces for a drive during the week. Red Cross officials hope to complete the campaign this week.

Edith Roosevelt Reported Better

GLEN COVE, N. Y., Nov. 19. (AP)—The local hospital issued a Bulletin today saying that Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt, widow of the late president Theodore Roosevelt, showed "some improvement."

She is suffering from a fractured leg, and a heart attack aggravated her weakened condition.

Business Club Meeting Set

To Perfect Local Organization Wednesday Evening

Final steps toward organization of a Big Spring unit of the American Business club will be taken at a meeting scheduled for Wednesday evening at 7:30 at Hotel Settles, it was announced today by sponsors of the organization.

A preliminary meeting was held Monday evening, but organization work was postponed until Wednesday. Twenty members must be enrolled for the charter organization.

The Business club would be affiliated with the national association, which functions similarly to other civic organizations, it was said by P. E. Neumann, field representative of the organization, who is here to direct the local work. He is being assisted by E. Durwood Carnett and Howard Thomas, who have been members of the club in other cities, and Charles Frost, who has been named chairman of the membership committee.

The club is open to younger business and professional men. Election of officers is planned at the Wednesday night meeting.

Dallas Co. Traffic Toll Stands At 103

DALLAS, Nov. 19. (UP)—Charles Reese, 32, of Dalworth Park, became Dallas county's 103rd traffic victim of the year when he was injured fatally in an automobile collision on the Dallas-Fort Worth pike near Grand Prairie. He died in a hospital.

GETS TEN-POINTER

Dr. T. B. Hoover, Hayden Griffith and Earl Ezell returned late Monday from a deer hunt in the Davis mountain section of West Texas. Dr. Hoover was successful in bagging a ten-point black tail.

To Sign Bill, Name Three As Directors

No Financing Provided But Governor Will Call Another Session

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred this morning announced that he would sign the state's recently-enacted old-age pension measure this afternoon; and said that he has approved officers' salary bill.

To Name Board

While the pensions statute will not become effective for 90 days from Nov. 14, closing day of the last special legislative session, the governor said he intended to appoint the three-member administrative board immediately.

He said he would sign the pension measure despite the failure of the legislature to provide for financing of age-benefit payments. "The only course left open apparently is to sign the bill as it is and call another session after Jan. 1 to provide funds," he said.

Tax Dispute

Various tax measures before the legislature at the last days of the session were defeated when the house objected to a sales tax system.

Governor Allred on more than one occasion indicated that while he was opposed to a general sales levy he would not be opposed to a selective sales or a luxury tax, but preferred the latter.

His position was similar to that of Senators C. C. Small and E. M. Davis, who previously had opposed a sales tax but declared it the only way to provide for pensions and said: "The people voted for it when they voted for old age pensions."

Small declared there would be one other extensive benefit in a selective sales tax.

"If the legislature puts on a selective sales tax," he said, "it will make the people of this state tax conscious and more careful in urging the legislature to appropriate money for everything. It will awaken them to what our tax problems and burdens really are, when all are sharing these burdens."

The new officers' salary bill provides for payment of district and county officers removed from the fee system by the constitutional amendment voted last August.

$5,000 Bond Set On Murder Charge

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 19. (AP)—V. L. Pearce, 54, of Colorado, was placed under bond of $5,000 here Monday afternoon, following examining trial before Justice J. T. Mathison on a charge of murder in the fatal shooting of Raymond Albright, 49, Coke county ranch employee. It was expected Pearce would make bond today.

A son of the defendant, Bruce Pearce, testified at the examining trial that Albright had advanced on his father with a "tire tool or something," before the elder Pearce shot. Pearce surrendered immediately after the shooting.

Bickley To Speak At WCTU Meeting

Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of the First Methodist church, will address the W. C. T. U. in its regular meeting Wednesday 3 p. m. from the church.

He will make observations on general conditions at the present time.

Leaders of the organization urged that all members be present and issued an invitation to the public at large to hear Rev. Bickley.

Teer Renamed To Board Of Control

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (UP)—Governor Allred today re-appointed Claude Teer as chairman of the state board of control for a six-year term.

Junior High PTA To Meet Tonight

Junior High P.T.A. will meet at 7:30 p. m. today in an important session to be held at the library in the senior high school building.

Fathers of children in the junior high school have been given a special invitation to attend the affair.

Following the business portion of the meeting, a social hour will be held. Refreshments will be served.

JAPAN FORCES NORTH CHINA'S INDEPENDENCE

Action On Autonomy Move Is Due By Tomorrow

(By The Associated Press)

Chinese officials at Peiping said today they had agreed to North China's autonomy government move because of fear of the Japanese army.

The five provinces of North China were to receive financial and economic independence although still acknowledging the nominal sovereignty of the Chinese government.

Chinese sources said that a Japanese army officer had presented an ultimatum to China demanding action on the autonomy plan by noon tomorrow.

Under Tokyo Control

Tokyo reports said that the new state will operate under Japanese control, with Japanese commissions—civil and military—serving in an "advisory" capacity.

Delegates to the Koumintang (nationalist party) congress at Nanking decided to instruct the government to enforce a program of nation-wide conscription for military service.

A spokesman for the foreign office admitted the possibility of Japanese military intervention should the Nanking government send troops to suppress the North China autonomy movement.

The dispatches were from Peiping and Tientsin. Their unanimity of detail indicated they sprang from a common and well-informed source.

(In Washington the proposed Japanese movement was seen as a development of Japanese policy against which the Roosevelt administration made representations to Tokyo more than a year ago. The state department, however, withheld comment.)

Five provinces, with a population of approximately 95,000,000 people, apparently would become a "second Manchoukuo." They are Hopei, Shantung, Shanxi, Chahar and Suiyuan.

The Hengo news agency and the newspaper, Asahi, predicted independence would be declared Nov. 20. The newspaper, Nishi Nishi, said it would come Nov. 23.

The dispatches said the new state would be named the "North China United Provinces Autonomous Regime."

Charges Part Of Work Fund Is 'Diverted'

Attacks On Relief Program Draw Reply From Hopkins

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—After hearing Harry Hopkins, Works Progress administrator, accuse some work relief critics of "willful maliciousness," Mayor Frederick Mansfield of Boston today told the United States conference of mayors that part of the works fund had been diverted from its intended purpose.

He charged that money had been taken from the fund to purchase project materials. The money originally was to be used for labor.

Instead of providing jobs, Hopkins said critics of the program are trying to "discredit" projects. He made a blanket defense of the types of projects undertaken.

Secretly Perkins of the department of labor, in an address before the conference, urged cooperation between state and federal officials so that the social security program could begin on a "wide front" as soon as possible.

CANADIAN TRADE TREATY MAY REVIVE TARIFF AS 1936 ISSUE

New Pact Considered Key To Broader Foreign Commerce Program Sought By FD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (UP)—Political circles cautiously forecast today that the newly executed reciprocal trade agreement with Canada would revive the tariff issue and make it a major factor in the 1936 presidential campaign.

Administration officials hailed it as the harbinger of a revolution in the trade relations between Canada and the United States.

Protest against the treaty's provisions, kept secret for several days after being signed by President Roosevelt and Premier Mackenzie King of Canada and made public yesterday, were certain, but their extent remained uncertain pending a general study of the document.

The administration considered the treaty the keystone in the Rooseveltian arch of reciprocal trade treaties through which this government hopes will flow a greatly increased foreign trade that will stabilize world peace by increasing world employment. Officials considered the new treaty the real test of the trade treaty program—at once the most difficult to negotiate and the one from which the greatest cash benefits may be expected to accrue to agriculture and the manufacturing industries of the United States.

"The agreement should assure a marked increase in the exports of each country to the other," an official statement said. "That means a marked increase in their total export trade, since Canada is the second largest customer for our exports and since the United States is the second largest consumer of Canada's exports."

Boys' Work Is Featured At Club Session

Scouts Guests Of Rotary; New Cubbing Program Is Explained

A program featuring "Boys' Work" was given at the Rotary club at its Tuesday noon-day luncheon, in charge of Walton Morrison, Sam Atkins, Jr., senior patrol leader of Troop 1, sponsored by the local Rotary club, and J. B. Bender, eagle scout, were guests of the club.

Atkins gave an interesting description of knot-tying, a requirement made of all scouts. He exhibited a board containing 13 knots, nine of which a boy is required to learn before he can qualify as a scout.

Thomas E. Pierce, director of elementary education in Big Spring schools, told of the new cubbing movement among boys, which is being sponsored by the Boy Scout organization. Pierce has accepted chairmanship of this movement in Big Spring. He explained the purposes of the movement, and urged the boys work committee of the club to lend their assistance in making this campaign a success.

Scouts' Trip

J. B. Bender, eagle scout of Troop 1, selected to represent the troop at the Washington jamboree, told of his substituted trip to the west coast, following cancellation of the jamboree. In an unusually interesting manner, young Bender told the Rotarians of the 5,000 mile jaunt by bus into ten states, including New Mexico, Arizona, California, Nevada, Utah, Montana, Colorado, Idaho, Texas and Wyoming. The scouts left Big Spring early one morning, making El Paso and Juarez for night, he said, continuing to Elephant Butte Dam, across the Yuma desert, to the Grand Canyon, petrified forest, Phoenix and other places of interest along the route. He lauded the San Diego exposition, where they visited all the exhibits, and incidentally where

Witness Says Work Of Commissioner 'Good Business'

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—H. S. Fraze, chief of the weights and measures division of the department of agriculture, called as a witness in the J. E. McDonald hearing, defended McDonald's action in purchasing jacks and stallions for the state.

The hearing was in its second day. Charges of official misconduct had been brought against the commissioner of agriculture, and one of them was that he had misused the state's jack and stallion fund.

Used Own Funds

Fraze said that once McDonald used $800 of his personal funds and that he once sent $350 from Fraze for a Missouri agent to purchase animals, later billing the state.

The witness said that while the outline of the action may have been "irregular," he believed it was good business and that the state profited.

The house of representatives Monday heard the board of managers conducting the hearing make an attempt to impeach one of the state's star witnesses.

The witness, Jim Tate of Waxahachie, testified concerning a charge that McDonald violated the law prohibiting employment of relatives by hiring a truck owned by his brother, A. E. McDonald, to transport jacks and stallions. McDonald also is charged with conspiring with his brother and Tate to evade the law by leasing a truck

Midland Gets Hiway Route

Road To Sterling City Will Be Designated By The State

Designation of a highway between Midland and Sterling City as far as Garden City was promised Midland county by the Texas highway commission at its session Monday, according to Associated Press dispatches from Austin. The designation was made on the condition that $30,000 drought relief funds were used by Midland county on the road.

The commission Monday called for bids Dec. 3 on $1,340,000 road construction. Bids were to be tabulated today on $1,600,000 of work. Projects on which bids were to be tabulated today included highway work in Dawson and Irion counties. Jobs on which bids will be taken next month included an underpass on highway 7 northwest of Snyder in Scurry county.

A. C. Schreiner Taken By Death

KERRVILLE, Nov. 19. (AP)—A. C. Schreiner, 73, pioneer Kerrville merchant and philanthropist, died of heart disease here today.

The Schreiner family have donated large sums of money to good roads, schools, the veterans' hospital at Legion, and to churches in Kerrville and Junction.

GOLDEN BEARS TO RISK ROSE BOWL CHANCES AT STANFORD

RAID ON INDIAN CAMP NOV. 23 WILL BE WEST COAST'S BIG GRID TILT

By O. T. BUICK
BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 19. (AP)—California's Golden Bears, gathering momentum game by game, definitely will have their minds on the Rose Bowl when they raid the camp of the Stanford Indians on Nov. 23.

On the short end of the scoring in the "Big Game" since Stanford's sophomores who are now seniors started slashing their way to two Pacific Coast Conference championships, California has only this big hurdle as the barrier to a Rose Bowl bid.

But as the last two meetings between these traditional rivals have proved again, season records and pre-game forecasts are likely to mean little when Stanford and California square off against each other in the same stadium. Thanks to the opportune kicking of "Monk" Moscrip, the Indians' great end, Stanford has edged out most of its conference games by field goals. On the other hand, California has been the opportunist, putting the pressure on its opponents and pulling out victory by heads-up football.

Called in some quarters the team "without an offense," the Bears nevertheless uncovered an attack when needed in their most sensational victory, the 14-0 win over Washington. California quickly capitalized a break for its first touchdown and made the second on sheer power and judicious use of the forward pass.

Moscrip's Toe Is Indian Weapon
While the team "without an offense" has shown the punch at critical moments all season, the powerful running attack of Stanford had to turn to Moscrip's toe to win three times in succession—over Washington, 6 to 0; over Santa Clara, 9 to 6; and over Southern California, 3 to 0.

It has been a case of the great Stanford back, all-America Bobby Grayson, mowing his team down the field to let Moscrip put over the winning goal.
And not by coincidence perhaps it is the case that Stanford's 7 to 6 loss to U. C. L. A. came on an afternoon when Moscrip's aim was awful on both the point conversion and field goal tries, partly because of lack of practice due to a knee injury.

A 'Reserve' Is The Hero
As usual, the starting halfback is not the hero at California. This season it is Floyd Blower, who is the sparkplug, usually injected into the game some time after the start. He has engineered most of the Bears' scores with his running and accurate passing. He has been the main spring of the California offense.
Stanford's power has suffered a drop since Grayson has been deprived of the blocking of Frank Alustiza, out with an eye injury, and "Bones" Hamilton, who suffered an injured leg in what was expected to be his best season. Grayson, too, has been bothered by a leg injury. To offset this the Indians have developed three sophomore backs, Coffis, Vigna, and

CHART ON major unbeaten teams:
CALIFORNIA—has defeated Cal. Aggies, Whittier, UCLA, St. Mary's, Santa Clara, S. Cal., Washington, College of Pacific, 163 to 9; yet to play Stanford.
DARTMOUTH—has defeated Dartmouth, Vt., Bates, Brown, Harvard, Yale, William & Mary, Cornell, 289 to 25; yet to play Princeton, Columbia.
MINNESOTA—has defeated N. D. State, Nebraska, Tulane, Northwestern, Purdue, Iowa, Michigan, 159 to 39; yet to play Wisconsin.
NEW YORK U.—has defeated Bates, Carnegie Tech., P. M. C., Georgetown, Bucknell, CCNY, Rutgers, 201 to 26; yet to play Fordham.
PRINCETON—has defeated Penn., Williams, Rutgers, Cornell, Navy, Harvard, Lehigh, 192 to 19; yet to play Dartmouth and Yale.
S. M. U.—has defeated Denton, Tehra, Austin, Tulsa, Wash. U., Rice, Hardin-Simmons, Texas, U. C. L. A., Arkansas, 224 to 18; yet to play Baylor, T. C. U. A. & M.
T. C. U.—has defeated Howard-Payne, Denton, Tehra, Ark., A. & M., Tulsa, Centenary, Baylor, Loyola of South, Texas, 211 to 39; yet to play Rice, S. M. U., Santa Clara.

AFTER THINKING the matter over carefully, we've decided to see the Bobcats game in San Angelo Friday afternoon after all. We've had offers of bodyguards. We thought once of diking out in a Steer uniform and go charging up into the press box. But then drop-kicking may not be a lost art after all. The coop will no doubt be filled with a lot of the enemy.

IT MIGHT NOT be a bad idea to try for a place on the Sweetwater bench. Supt. Covey of Sweetwater is one of the most conscientious, fair-minded schoolmen in the state. Even Coach Hennig is a pretty good fellow.

Mustangs Play Final Home Title Game Against Baylor

$20 Injury!

Several members of the Steer football team journeyed to Austin last week to see Texas and T. C. U. play. On the return trip they wrecked their car. Coach Obie Bristow, here in Big Spring, was hurt worst of all. The boys wired him for $20.

Offense Work Is Stressed

Cordill Apparently Is Fully Recovered From His Side Injury

Steers started the week's work Monday with a stiff three-hour drill on offense. A week's lay-off had softened some of the gridiron coaches reported.
Several of the players failed to show up for the day's work. For the first time this season it appears that Cordill may get to play in a game when he's 100 percent physically OK. The big fellow has apparently fully recovered from a side injury which has pestered him all during the season.
Baker, center, is the only Steer now on the casualty list. He has an injured leg.

Frogs, Owls Have Fought 13 Times

FORT WORTH, Nov. 19.—The Horned Frogs of T. C. U. have played fewer games with the Rice Owls than with any other conference opponent, and have won a larger percentage of them than against any other Southwest eleven.
In the 13 games played to date, the Christians have emerged victorious eight times, Rice has won three, and two have been ties.
The Owls have not scored a victory over the Frogs since 1924, when they came out on the losing end of a 7-0-3 count in Houston. The all-time score for the series is: T. C. U. 126, Rice 93.
Rice was expected to chalk up one in the victory column last year, but, instead, went down before the Frogs 7 to 2 for their only loss of the year.
The complete record for the two teams:
Year Place TCU Rice
1914 Houston 0 0
1915 Houston 3 33
1916 Fort Worth 7 7
1917 Houston 0 26
1923 Fort Worth 6 0
1924 Houston 3 7
1928 Houston 7 0
1929 Fort Worth 24 0
1930 Houston 20 0

Gentry After Another Battle

Big Spring will attempt to force San Angelo to play another game. Prin. George Gentry said Monday. Gentry intends to make every effort he can to force the Bobcats to another game.
"I think the dispute should be settled on the field," Gentry said, "and I believe the fans want to see the game played over."
R. S. Covey, superintendent of schools at Sweetwater, and the man who must render the final decision in the argument, is on a deer hunt in the Davis mountains.

Perfect Records

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (UP)—Synagogue, Marquette and North Carolina dropped out of the unbeaten, untied class last Saturday, leaving only seven major teams with perfect records. They follow:

Southern Methodist 9 213 18
Texas Christian 9 211 39
Dartmouth 8 289 25

Youth Facing A Dark Future, Due To Job Scarcity

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 19. (UP)—"In a world where there are no jobs waiting for them, the outlook for youth is dark today," Mrs. S. M. N. Marra, dean of the Texas congress of parents and teachers, said at the meeting here.
"If the opportunity to earn a living is not given back to our people," she said.
Until the Washington game, California had not suffered a serious loss from injury. Then Jack Brittingham, flashier of the two Brittingham brothers at the ends, wrenched a knee while making a sharp pivot.
As the "Big Game" nears, California is apparently set to throw a wealth of capable material at a bunch of seniors backed by a willing but small group of alternates on the Stanford side.

LINE BATTLE IS EXPECTED

Froggies, Owls Boast Powerful Forward Walls

FORT WORTH, Nov. 19.—Baugh and Lawrence vs. Wallace and McCauley—that is the way most of the 20,000 fans who will crowd into the T. C. U. stadium here Saturday visualize the coming battle.
But the tide of battle really will flow the one way or the other largely because of the work of the lines. Both teams have great forward walls, with the Owls having a slight edge in this department, according to those who have seen both teams in action.

T. C. U.'s line will probably be made up of three seniors and four sophomores, while Rice's will contain five seniors and only two sophomores, giving the latter a considerable advantage in experience.
To counteract this, however, the Frogs have a weight advantage of something like five pounds per man, average. Also, they have Capt. Darrell Lester at center and Walter Roach at end, both of whom were extremely important in the defeat that the Frogs dealt the Owls in Houston last year. In fact, one Houston sports writer made the statement that Roach beat the Owls.

The conference record of the two teams to date leaves little room for preference between them. Both T. C. U. and Rice have met Arkansas, A. & M. and Texas. In addition, T. C. U. has played Baylor and Rice has played S. M. U.
Against the four opponents, the Frogs have rolled up 88 points, held them to 21. Against their four, the Owls have scored but 85 and have had 46 scored against them. Rice has held no conference opponent scoreless, while T. C. U. has blanketed both Baylor and Texas.

Against the three opponents which they have had in common (Arkansas, A. & M., and Texas), the record reads: T. C. U., 60, opponents 21; Rice 65, opponents 36. That is, the Frogs were 39 points better than these three teams, while the Owls were 29 points better. Certainly not enough difference to brag about.

Maybe, after all, it all comes back to the fans' viewpoints—can the Frogs stop the "Touchdown Twins," Wallace and McCauley? Or can the Owls stop Slinging Sam Baugh's passes and Lawrence's team-roller drives?

Library To Be Opened At 2:45

Mrs. B. T. Cardwell, librarian of the public library, has announced that the library will be opened 15 minutes before 2 o'clock from now throughout the holidays to see if this will enable women to take advantage of its facilities who have been unable to get there after 3.
Unless the additional calls for books warrant keeping up the change, the library will revert to its present hours of 3 to 5, she said.

Sweetwater-San Angelo Game Friday Afternoon

SWEETWATER, Nov. 19.—The Mustang-Bobcat football game to be played in San Angelo Friday, originally billed as a night affair, will be played in the afternoon.
School officials agreed to the change Monday.

ple soon, the morals of our nation will be broken down," Mrs. Marra said. "Pensions are necessary, I suppose, but I am most concerned about our young people."
Mrs. Marra predicted that the parent-teachers organization numbering almost two million women and growing, will become one of the strongest factors in the United States some day.

Bad Memories

George Gentry, high school principal, has been "shelled" considerably of late by certain West Texas sports writers for his part in the Big Spring-San Angelo football dispute.
Monday, members of his faculty presented him with a scrapbook filled with clippings concerning the grid argument.

No Criticism For Schmidt

Notre Dame-Ohio Game Is Still Being Thrashed Out

By ROBERT WALTON

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 19. (AP)—The Notre Dame-Ohio State game has taken its rightful place in the history of gridiron classics, but here in Columbus they're still playing it on street corners or wherever football fans congregate.

This being the home town of the Buckeyes they're trying to figure out how Ohio State could have staved off that fourth-quarter attack of the Irish that netted three touchdowns—and victory for Notre Dame.

One effective way, everyone agrees, would have been not to have played the fourth quarter at all. Up until then Ohio State was leading 13 to 0 and appeared to be on the threshold of a national championship, with the door partly open.

Schmidt Is Spared
And no one so far—has aimed any criticism at Coach Francis Schmidt, which is in itself quite a novelty.

The team also has escaped bombardment, which is all right, too, inasmuch as folks hereabouts not only thought, but said the Buckeyes were the greatest team in the land and maybe it was so—before Notre Dame came to town.

Of course, there are any number of reasons, including Coach Schmidt and perhaps Coach Elmer Layden of the Irish, too—who would like to see the game played over. But, that's not the way they do things in football.

So, with Schmidt, the team and other factors removed as the causes of Ohio State's downfall—no one around here has even got around to thinking that maybe Notre Dame was the better team, the officiating is about the only thing left that could account for it.

And with 81,000 spectators draped around the majestic sides of the big double-deck stadium, it's difficult to find anyone, especially on the Ohio State side, who didn't see every play better than the officials. It's always that way.

Here's how one Columbus columnist—admits he did his "officiating" from the press box—lets the officials in on the Buckeye defeat: "It is true enough," he writes, "that Notre Dame's aerials in the fourth period seemed to baffle the Bucks completely, but isn't it just possible that the very doubtful ruling of interference in this period might have had something to do with the Bucks' defensive deficiencies?"

"On this play, Notre Dame was given the ball on the Ohio 8-yard line just after the first Irish touchdown. No one can officiate from the stands, but even so, this decision looked entirely out of order."

"Boucher, on whom the ruling was made, clearly played the ball and in fact, hit it while in the air. He might possibly have touched the intended Notre Dame receiver on the way down but even if he did, it had no bearing on the play."

"Made Defenders Over-Cautious"
Then he goes on to admit that it had no immediate bearing on the score, for a moment or two later Notre Dame fumbled over the goal line; but he believes it too Ohio's pass defenders "too cautious" thereafter.

"At any rate," he says, "it may or may not be significant that six out of 10 successful Notre Dame passes were completed after this ruling, including two for touchdowns."

Before this, he points out, the Irish had completed only four out of 14 passes attempted.

Bobby Jones Says

Slicing is probably the most common fault among average players, and most commonly the direct cause of a slice is the outside-to-inside direction of the stroke during contact. To those afflicted in this way, I suggest as home work for the winter a course of schooling designed to form the habit of hitting in the direction of play.

- 1. Hitting from the outside, or cutting may result from one or more of several mistakes. They are:
1. Allowing too much of the body weight to remain on, or moving it to the left foot during the backswing.
2. Omitting the forward shift of the hips in starting the downswing.
3. Turning the shoulders too fast coming down.
4. Picking the club up from the ball with the right hand.
No. 1 is a characteristic of beginners, but often it sticks longer than anyone would believe possible. It results in keeping the player off balance throughout the swing, for with his weight too far forward at the top, the effort of hitting must throw him back upon his right foot as the club comes through. In extreme cases a player may be thrown back with such violence that his left foot will leave the ground and swing around one pace toward "third base."

No. 2 and 3 are closely related. When one omits the shift, the swing is thrown to the outside because the hips unwind too quickly; the same effect is often produced when a turn-of-the-shoulders moves the hands forward before they can start down.
No. 4, of course, results in a too-upright swing, which is outside if proper are from the very beginning. When one picks the club up with his right hand he rarely employs enough body turn, because he can get the club up without feeling the need for it.
The enumeration and the brief explanation of these faults have been set out in order to give the slicer something to work on. Now here is the way he can do it at home.

Let him take a club into any place where he has room to swing. The first thing is to relax the grip, for his right hand as he addresses the ball, and then he is to learn to swing the club

Mrs. E. W. Potter Hostess For
Lovely Autumn Tea Complimenting
Her House Guest From Louisiana

Mrs. D. R. Lindley, Wife Of Former Pastor Of First Christian Church, Visits Friends Here And Relatives In Colorado

Complimenting her house guest, Mrs. D. R. Lindley, wife of a former pastor of the First Christian church, Mrs. Ernest W. Potter entertained with a charming autumn tea Monday afternoon at her lovely home in Edwards Heights. Co-hostess was Mrs. Lindley's sister-in-law, Mrs. Harold Lindley of Colorado.

The honoree is spending a week here visiting old friends. She plans to leave about Friday for Colorado. After a short visit there she will meet Mr. Lindley in Fort Worth and accompany him to their home in New Orleans, La.

The two hostesses and their honoree composed the receiving line. Mrs. Lindley wore a shoulder carriage of roses that was the gift of the two hostesses.

Mrs. Dillon Smith presided over the guest book.

In the dining room Mrs. Wade Scott poured tea. Assisting her in the serving were Mrs. Joe C. Ernest and Mrs. J. L. Le Bleu. The dining room was decorated with the pastel colors of that used in the lovely bouquets of chrysanthemums artistically arranged throughout the rooms. An imported lace cloth over orchid lent a lovely color to the table. Cream candles in amber holders and a centerpiece of yellow and orchid chrysanthemums carried out the pastel colors.

Guests who called throughout the afternoon were: Mmes. W. J. Darby, George S. Grimes, George C. Schurman, H. L. Bohannon, H. E. Clay, J. R. Parks, H. Clay Read, Gene Davenport, Charles Koberg, Lloyd Wasson, P. W. Malone, Elmo Wasson, J. R. Creath, Ray E. Shaw, C. M. Shaw, W. W. Inkman, G. L. Wilke, W. T. Strange, Jr., Hayes Stalping and F. M. Purser, and Mmes. James Logan and Charles Wyatt of Colorado.

Mrs. R. D. McMillan is ill with the influenza.

The members voted to make a quilt to sell and made plans to go to Sweetwater for a harvest day program, Dec. 6.

Those present were: Mmes. W. W. Coleman, Leo Ward, A. H. Knowles, Glenn Lemly, Fannie Barrett, J. W. Wood, Jack King, J. E. Peters and John Whitaker.

Congregating For Session

EL PASO, Nov. 19. (UP)—Character building by unselfish parents is the future goal of the Texas congress of parents and teachers, it was announced here at the beginning of the 27th annual convention of the organization.

The keynote of the convention—that of character building—was sounded by Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, national third vice-president of the council of parents and teachers.

"We don't know what kind of government we will have, but we can prepare our children," Mrs. Smith said. "We must teach them to think, to be sincere and to be courageous. Parents must forget about their own selfishness and having a good time, and put in more of their time in rearing and educating their children."

Mrs. J. D. Voti, state recording secretary, and Mrs. Joe A. West.

Harold Lytle. Miss Freeman will be the next hostess.

Leondorf, state chairman of character education, of Houston, arrived yesterday for the convention. Another delegation of 50 from Houston will be here today, headed by Mrs. C. R. Larimer, president of the Houston council.

Mrs. De Voti told of the work of the Houston organization last year in backing the child labor amendment, and said the organization "will put the amendment over next time."

Mrs. S. P. Jones Leader

MAKING THE 'BREAKS'

Some accounts the other day had it that the Agricultural Adjustment administration got a "lucky break" when, just as its plans for payment of the cotton subsidy were announced, the average spot price of lint passed the 12-cent level. The cotton subsidy is to be paid on the basis of difference between an average spot price on the day of sale and 12 cents. Hence, if cotton brings 12 cents and above, the AAA pays out nothing.

Perhaps it is a "lucky break." But another way of looking at the cotton price factor would be to give the AAA program at least part of the credit for the advance. Markets went up even on rumors that the AAA payment plan was being drafted.

The AAA policy is not without its shortcomings; even its staunchest supporters will admit that. But the manufacturers and processors in the East who are railing at the farm program will have to present a lot better argument before they convince the farmers of the South and West that the AAA has not justified its existence.

The process tax has been the principal point of objection of these manufacturing interests; and even at that they have shouldered little of the tax themselves. They have passed it on to the merchant and the consumer. We are all paying the bill in the interest of advancing the economic status of agriculture; and it has not been too costly.

News items every day point out the advance along the business front. Singularly, the advance generally has been a steady accompaniment of the rise in farm prices.

We in West Texas know well that low cotton prices mean slow business all along the line; and we know too that profit to the farmer means profit for the rest of us.

The uptrend in agricultural lines last year and this year has been too closely identified with the AAA program to ignore that agency in counting the causes of the advance. If the AAA has a "lucky break" on cotton prices now, it helped make the break for itself.

★ Man About Manhattan ★

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—For more than an hour I talked with Sidney Kingsley the other afternoon. He was excited, as usual, because he departs soon for Sabastopol, or some place, to finish a new play—which means that he will return probably by way of New Orleans, break his leg while climbing out of a Dauphine taxi, and find an amazing idea for a new drama on the label of a pill box.

Don't be too certain this won't happen. After he composed "Men in White," a first play and a Pulitzer prize winner, Kingsley went to Russia with the idea of writing a play about a foreign correspondent, then came home and coined a dramatic hit about poor people who live on the fringe of the slums near an East river waterfront pier.

That's what Kingsley did and his play is "Dead End," Broadway's current rave.

For more than an hour we sat in a favorite sidewalk cafe, discussing the good and the bad in current play writing. "From the first curtain to the last the action must move inexorably forward," Kingsley said. "One sequence must dovetail into another naturally and logically. Once the plot is clearly conceived, there really isn't anything to making a play. You just place yourself in each character's stead and make him do what you think is natural."

Success and an accurate estimate of one's worth brings on thoughts like these. Wasn't it Don Marquis who explained how simple writing was? You just put the words in line, one after the other, and you don't even need a vocabulary because all the words are alphabetically arranged in the dictionary.

After Kingsley had said me on the inexpressible ease of playwriting, he asked what I thought of "Dead End."

I told him two things, one which I consider a regrettable flaw in a very extraordinary piece of work. It is a flaw comparable to the little detail which, off stride, keeps "Tobacco Road" from being the most amazingly realistic thing I've ever seen on a stage.

In "Tobacco Road" there is a scene where the mother takes a bundle of sticks and presumes to belabor the husband of her favorite daughter. She is supposed to beat him unmercifully, but the action is faked. She doesn't strike him really. To drain the last juice of perfection from the play I think she ought to whale the tar out of him.

The one flaw in "Dead End" to me is the swimming scene. A gang of young pier rats are on stage all through the play, diving into the river, squirting water on each other, cavorting in general as young hoodlums do. But after awhile, when they emerge from the river, their heads aren't dripping with water, and a great scene is robbed of its essential realism by more or less dry skins. When you dive into East river, in real life, you come up saturated, water trickling from eyes, ears, and nose.

"I'll answer that," Kingsley said, "and I'm glad you brought it up."

But, he didn't. Just then a sleepy waiter accidentally spilled a pitcher of water, half of which dashed in Kingsley's lap. As he hurried away to his hotel for a change he called over his shoulder:

"Ah, now I get you. You mean—realism!"

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—A bombshell is waiting behind the scenes for hundreds of business concerns which sell goods and services to the government.

The Guffey coal act requires government agencies to buy coal only from companies which are operating under the code provided in the Guffey act. Few know, however, that there is a section (14-a) in the act—slipped in just before it was passed—that bars the awarding of government contracts to all industrial concerns that do not use code coal.

Under the spurring of the bituminous coal board, the procurement division of the treasury is moving to put this sweeping clause into effect. Several days ago, it held a secret conference of government purchasing agents to discuss the framing of a new contract form for federal buying.

The effect of this provision is far-reaching in the extreme. It means that concerns selling shoes, shirts, food to the army and navy; utilities supplying electricity to post offices; building contractors, steel makers, warship builders, railroads carrying mail; in short, practically all industry must use code coal or do without government business.

The leverage this specification gives the coal board in forcing coal operators to sign the code is terrific—which is exactly why it was slipped into the law. The effect of the clause is to cut off non-complying coal companies from a vast volume of business, something which few will, or can, long resist.

A stranger walked into the office of Senator Moore, of New Jersey, the other day and asked to see him. "The senator is not in the city," said Jack O'Brien, his secretary.

"What did you want to see him about?" Perhaps I can help you. "I'm trying to get a job and I'd like a letter of recommendation to the bureau of self control."

"The bureau of what?" "The bureau of self control." It finally developed that the caller wanted a job in the bureau of space control, which assigns office space in government buildings.

New Role
The Home Owners Loan Corporation is undergoing a quiet metamorphosis. Once a $3,000,000,000 fund of distressed home owners, it is now becoming a hard-boiled forecloser of mortgages.

The change in character is not due to a sudden accession of hard-heartedness. The HOLC is operating wholly in line with the law. With the exhaustion of its lending resources, the agency is now occupied chiefly with administering the 900,000 pieces of property on which the government made loans.

In fulfilling this function, the HOLC is finding it necessary to foreclose on homes at the rate of 100 to 200 weekly, due to failure to meet payments, abandonment of property and other causes.

To handle this growing liquidation problem the HOLC has set up a new section, the property management division. In charge is Colonel Harold Lee, former New York lawyer and real estate operator, who won his colonelcy overseas with the 36th division.

The rate of foreclosures is now running one to every 400 homes mortgaged. Total liquidations to date are around 2,000, of which the HOLC still has about 400 on its hands.

Homes taken over by the government are disposed of either by renting or by selling through real estate agencies in the local communities. The disposition of the properties is so handled that real estate values are not disturbed.

Goat Gland Victor
It looks as if Dr. John R. Brinkley, famous goat-gland specialist of Kansas, has finally licked the state department and the federal communications commission in his fight to broadcast his medicinal cures from Mexico.

The Mexican supreme court has given Dr. Brinkley the right to reopen his radio station—one of the strongest in the world—just across the Texas border.

The state department, which lodged various protests with the Mexican government, has decided that it cannot go beyond the Mexican supreme court.

Note—Charley Curtis, when vice-president, went to bat for Dr. Brinkley in his fight with the state department.

On The Hip
It's a closely guarded Triple A secret, but the bakers have Secretary Wallace on the hip in his war with them over bread prices.

Wallace may be convinced the bakers are gouging. He may yell "profiteers" from the house-top, but he can't prove it. He lacks the authority to get the figures to sustain his charges.

He has only himself to blame for the loss of this potent weapon. Among the original AAA amendments sent to congress last session, was a provision giving the AAA power to examine the books of processors. Naturally, the latter fought it tooth and nail. And Wallace, under pressure of Chester Davis—real boss of the agricultural adjustment administration—agreed to a "compromise."

The revised clause as finally cu-

Safety Dept. Inquiry Soon To Be Opened

Witnesses May Be Called For Hearing At Austin This Week

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (UP)—Chairman Sam Hanna, Dallas, head of the committee to investigate action and efficiency of the new state department of public safety, said today that the committee may call a few witnesses this week for an Austin session.

"I have not had an opportunity to consult all members of the committee," Hanna said, "but there are some witnesses whom we can hear in Austin. We can then go to Fort Worth and may not have to return to Austin."

Hanna indicated the committee hearings would not be attempted until the end of the week, in expectation that the department of agriculture investigation may be completed by then.

The safety department inquiry was ordered after Hanna and others first demanded an investigation of why former Ranger Captain Tom Hickman, Fort Worth, was removed from his command after a gambling raid. Hanna quoted Hickman for saying the raid was "tipped off" by a high state official.

Sees Vandenberg As Best Choice For Republicans

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 19. (UP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan was selected today as the most likely Republican presidential candidate by E. Mont Kelly, original sponsor of the campaign of Theodore Roosevelt and Warren G. Harding.

If nominated Vandenberg will defeat President Roosevelt and he is the only Republican who can, Kelly, former governor of Puerto Rico, predicted.

His statement, Kelly indicated, may be regarded as the first pronouncement of the candidacy of the Michigan senator despite Vandenberg's refusal so far to commit himself on presidential aspirations. Kelly, silver-haired broker and church deacon, is recognized as the original Theodore Roosevelt man. He also started the boom for Harding and takes pride in asserting that in his 40 years of political experience he has failed but once to pick the winning candidate.

Kelly said. The WPA authorities have agreed youths may be worked on consecutive days each 15-day period, thus enabling them to complete the maximum 23 hours each period in as few days as possible.

Chapter 21
LISA'S PLANS
A slow smile touched Anne's pale lips. At least she could make Lisa happy, and ease life a little for Tecla. Lisa had said the boys might buy a girl of their own. She could loan them the money for it, and instead of Lisa's taking Tecla's place in the cannery, she could go to business college as she'd dreamed of doing.

When Anne awakened the next morning the house was still. A fresh wind billowed the curtains, sunlight flooded the room. Donning robe and slippers, she opened the door and listened, no sound of voices, or footsteps. She called once, and receiving no answer went down the steep narrow stairway.

The big kitchen was empty. The round table was set for one, and before the plate, tipped against a cup, was a note:

Nikki: I'm off to work. The kids are taking their lunch. Open the draughts and the fire will pick up. Coffee on back of stove, bread in green box with red roses. In the cooler's some stew to heat up for your lunch. Aunt Lisa says to take the magazines in her room. She's coming home early today. Don't bother about the work. Love, Lisa.

Anne looked about the room. The dishes were unwashed but neatly stacked in the sink. Lisa's couch was open; it looked tumbled, as if she hadn't slept well.

Anne went back to her room, found an old housekeeper of Lisa's and set about her first housework. This was different from the kitchen of her old home where she had played at housekeeping under the amused eyes of the servants.

An hour later, unable to find anything else she could do, she slipped into an old sweater and went out on the rear porch, which backed up against the hill. A steep wooden stairway led to a ramshackle old house above. Anne looked at it a moment. It was deserted. There would be a good view from there.

There was. Finding a sheltered, sunny corner in the yard, she settled down and for a while was content to sit basking in the sun, looking down on Union Town, the wharves with their drying fish nets, the red canneries jutting out into the water.

From here she could see how the two bays joined the Columbia to pour their waters into the Pacific ocean, marked by the lip of foam at the bar, and a line of black rock jetties, riding gently on the broad expanse were numerous small boats drifting with the tide, net buoys gleaming red.

Anne remembered the last trip on the Ahli and how she had told Lisa that she felt as though she were only then coming home, and she had seemed startled. Well, perhaps it was to be home, for a while at least.

She looked down on the town. It seemed sheltered from the rest of the world. The hill behind her thrust two arms towards the water, holding it between them. The shadowed face and she was on her feet with a brisk "come on."

"Then round the western face of the house, went up the slanting, shelf-like yard to the front entrance, which opened onto a dirt road, the highest on the hillside. The door was unlocked, but a broken window was readily unlatched and they climbed through to the inside.

Anne looked about her in dismay. Five small box-like rooms with plaster sagging, wall paper peeling from the walls, wainscoting scarred with rough usage.

"Nikki—see, we could knock the partition out between these two rooms. That would give us one, long living room with two, three, four windows."

(Copyright, 1935, Jeanne Bowman)

Anne was well, tomorrow, from Judge Kellogg.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Berry of Stanton spent Sunday here visiting with friends.

Children's Colds Should Have This Safe Treatment

Young Mothers Benefit from Two Generations' Proof of This External Treatment For Fighting Colds.

IT AVOIDS CONSTANT "DOSING"

There's nothing like a child's cold to upset a young mother. And mothers of two generations, anxious to help and calm, have depended on Vicks VapoRub. It is effective—external—and safe. It avoids the risks of constant "dosing," so often upsetting to children's delicate digestions. Just rubbed on throat and chest at bedtime, VapoRub acts two ways at once:

1. By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster.
2. By inhalation of its penetrating medicated vapors, released by body heat and breathed in direct to inflamed air-passages.

Continuing through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion.

A Practical Guide for Mothers Each year, more and more families are being helped to faster colds and shorter coughs by Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Vicks Plan has been clinically tested by practicing physicians, and further proved in everyday home use by millions. Full details of the Plan in each package of Vicks VapoRub.

Securities Act Of State Called A Model Statute

AUSTIN, Nov. 19.—That the Texas securities act is a model of its kind, is becoming common knowledge throughout the country, according to D. Leon Harp, Texas securities commissioner and Secretary of State R. B. Stanford, who are two officials charged with its enforcement.

Supporting this contention, they point out a recent press dispatch from Washington, which says, in part: "Gerald C. Mann, former secretary of state of Texas, and now Washington representative of the Texas planning board, has been invited to address the National Association of Securities Commissioners at their annual convention at Miami Fla., in December." "Mann, who was primarily responsible for the enactment of the Texas securities law, has long made a study of securities legislation. The Texas law, in the opinion of securities officials in many states, is looked upon as a model of its kind."

Mrs. R. V. Hart has returned from Dallas.

Roosevelt Leads In Illinois Poll

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—"Illinois would be in the Roosevelt column by a plurality of more than 350,000 votes if the presidential election were held tomorrow, a year ahead of the regular date," says the Chicago Times (2nd.) in announcing the result of its three-week straw vote of the city and state.

"Roosevelt stands to come up to Cook county (Chicago), the canvass shows, with a victory margin ranging from 150,000 to 175,000. He should carry Cook county, according to the straw vote results, by 229,000. The Times poll gave the administration 58.5 per cent of the total. Of particular significance in the city was the fact that the negro wards, which voted for Hoover in 1932, have swung around to the New Deal.

"Dismissing politicians point out that the strength of the democratic organization has increased tremendously since the last presidential election. They refer to the mayoral election of last spring when, with Mayor Kelly's popularity, the democratic organization helped produce a victory margin of more than 600,000 over the GOP candidate. But whether the eventual plurality is greater or less than the Times sign-post of 350,000 in the state is not as important as the fact that all straws are blowing in the direction of a Roosevelt victory in Illinois in 1936."

Credit Agencies Continue Service

HOUSTON, Nov. 19.—Improvement in farm conditions and gradual lessening of the need of emergency credit agencies will not affect the continued services of the Federal land bank of Houston and the other permanent institutions of the Farm Credit administration of Houston, according to A. C. Williams, general agent.

"During the emergency brought about by the depression," Williams said, "the government supplied a large part of the capital necessary to conduct emergency lending operations. The permanent units of the Farm Credit administration are basically cooperative institutions and government capital is being paid back as rapidly as possible." "When private creditors," he continued, "largely withdrew credit

"CRIME of DR. CRESPI"

Defense attorneys revealed that they intended to introduce three principal witnesses in the afternoon with a view of character witnesses to follow.

Johnson May Testify
John Johnson, the youthful looking Lynn county deputy on trial for the killing, was expected to take the stand in his defense. Throughout the morning session he sat back of his counsel, intensely interested in the proceedings. Occasionally he leaned forward to confer with his attorneys when they cross examined Hazel Hancock and Grady Best. Jury for the case was completed at 6 p. m. Monday after about half of the special venire of 108 had been exhausted. Chosen to hear the case were Will Nabors, P. N. Shive, A. Gratham, R. E. Martin, Fletcher Sneed, J. E. Monteth, Dewey Kinard, A. B. Shortes, Sam Fisherman, Joe Millaway, Guy Wallace, and E. B. Carriger.

Immediately after the jury had been selected and sworn, Johnson entered a plea of not guilty when District Attorney Cecil Collings read the indictment. Judge Charles Klapproth recessed the court until Tuesday morning.

Bills Mailed On War Debts

Finland Probably To Be Only Nation To Make A Payment

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (UP)—Bills for the $155,051,301 December war debt installments were sent to 12 foreign nations today but it appeared likely the United States treasury would not collect more than a fractional part of a cent for every dollar owed.

Finland will likely respond as usual with the prompt payment of $230,453 on Dec. 15, but the other 11 nations probably again will allow their bills to run unpaid and make not tender of funds to the United States.

The so-called foreign war debtors now owe the United States government approximately $12,000,000,000, of which more than $1,000,000,000 will be in arrears on December 15. The $12,000,000,000 principal of the debts would pay the United States government's record-breaking expenses for two years.

Gets Two Years On Guilty Plea

Gordon T. Avery, remanded to jail since March 2, was sentenced to serve two years in the state prison for forgery after entering a plea of guilty in the 70th district court Monday evening.

He was arrested the same day he was alleged to have passed a false instrument to J. C. Penney Co. here. At one time his list of defense witnesses amounted to about 100 persons ranging from close friends to state senators and the governor.

Avery asked continuance for two terms and had his case passed this term. Credit was given him for the time he has been in jail.

Ethiopians, Italians Are In Fierce Battle; Emperor Leaves Capital

(By The Associated Press)

Emperor Haile Selassie left Addis Ababa today for an unannounced destination, and some speculated on the possibility that he had departed for the front to take command of his troops.

Twenty Italian bombing planes commanded by Count Galeazzo Ciano killed 2,000 Ethiopians, dispersing a force of 15,000 in a land and air battle along the northern front. Just south of Makale, Ethiopians trained their anti-aircraft fire on a machine gun and bombing attack overhead. The Ethiopians succeeded in bringing down Ciano's plane, but the Italian chiefstain managed to escape unhurt.

Before landing his plane, Ciano had directed the attack. Mussolini's sons, Bruno and Vittorio, participated in the aerial bombardment.

An Italian spokesman at Rome today said that the United States cannot expect special consideration if it adopts further restrictive measures in pursuit of its neutrality policy.

the arms, pulled him back a pace and had his hands pulled into the air. He made a gesture to show how he had them up in a position to a man throwing his hands up at a command to do so.

Two Shots Fired
It was then, declared Hazel, that Johnson fired. Two shots were fired, one striking Bunk in the chest about the left breast and the other hitting Grady's arm.

Bunk did not fall, Hancock related, but staggered back to the borrow pit at the edge of the road. Grady, still holding him by the arm, staggered with him until Bunk collapsed.

Then Johnson, said Hazel, got out of his car and "threatened to kill the whole outfit" while Bunk "was pleading for his life."

Grady Best substantiated the testimony of Hazel Hancock as to the events leading up to and during the shooting. He said that they had driven north of Lamesa on the highway in an effort to find Barnhart after they had talked with the Durham boy.

Previous Fights
Taking the witness on cross examination, the defense counsel shot a barrage of questions at him about a series of fights he had participated in before the shooting. Grady testified that he had indulged frequently in physical combat.

Grady testified that on one occasion his head had been peeled by a fence stake in the hands of his adversary and that he got in his car to drive away to get the wound dressed when he looked back and saw Bunk fighting. He drove back and the fence stake came into play again. Grady recalled that he threw up his arm and stopped the blow, drew a pistol and told his opponents to "stand back."

On the many other occasions when he fought, he said that he fought only with his fists. Once he offered to take on a group "one at a time."

When he told Defense Attorney Tom Gerrard he did not remember the number of a group, Gerrard insisted that he make an estimate.

"I don't know," he snapped.

"Would you say four or five?" said Gerrard.

"I don't remember. If you would call them over I could remember."

"Yeah," retorted Gerrard. "Your memory seems to be pretty good."

Throughout the time he questioned Grady Best, George Dupree, special prosecution attorney, kept asking at the conclusion of Grady's accounts of his many affairs: "You never shot a man when he had his hands up like this, did you?"

Never Faced Charges
Dupree repeatedly asked him if he or his brother had ever been charged with shooting or cutting anyone. Grady always answered with an emphatic "no sir."

Mrs. B. O. Best, widow of Bunk Best, took the stand for a few brief questions before the noon recess. She spoke in a clear, even tone, never giving any display of emotion.

The last time she saw her husband alive was when he left with others for Lamesa to put the beaves on storage, she testified.

"The next time I saw him was in Brown's funeral home at Lamesa—dead," she told the court.

purported to have been purchased by Tate from A. E. McDonald.

Tate testified he purchased the truck from A. E. McDonald and made a contract with J. E. McDonald to haul state animals. He said he made several payments on the truck but did not remember how many. The truck, he testified, was purchased "on time" and he made no down payment, but said he believed he paid about half before turning it back to A. E. McDonald.

The committee for impeachment purposes read from the testimony given by Tate at a hearing early this year before a special house investigating committee. The record quoted Tate as testifying the truck belonged to A. E. McDonald, that Tate had not bought it and that warrants for its use were turned over to A. E. McDonald.

On cross examination Tate denied there was any plan to evade the law so J. E. McDonald could lease his brother's truck and said the commissioner knew nothing of the details of the transfer.

Mistrial Ends Eskridge Case

Ruling Made Because One Of Jurors Was Under Suspended Sentence

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—District Judge Langston D. King this afternoon declared a mistrial in the murder case of Rev. Edgar Eskridge, when he was informed that one of the men chosen for the jury, W. R. Morgan, was under a two-year suspended sentence.

It was not announced whether the minister's trial would be reset for a later date here, or transferred to another county.

Morgan was under sentence, it was said, on an assault with intent to murder charge.

Six jurors had been chosen before the judge declared the mistrial. Eskridge faced trial on a charge in the slaying of Ed J. O'Reilly, chief of police at Orange, last May 29.

Gable Looking For The 'Right Girl'

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19. (UP)—Clark Gable, the popular woo-and-wed man of the screen, is willing to have another fling at it in real life. Two wrecked marriages haven't soured him on romance.

"I will marry again if the right girl comes along," he admitted a few hours after he returned to town and talked with Mrs. Gable No. 2 for the first time since their separation was publicized.

But no more would he admit. On the contrary, he denied any and all notions that he has focused his attentions on:

1. Mary Taylor, New York debutante.
2. Loretta Young, the actress.
3. Elizabeth Allan, also of the movies.
