Germanans Issue Fresh Bans Against Youth Organizations

RESTRICTIONS TO BE PLACED OVER ENTIRE COUNTRY

Hitler's Newspaper Calls Church No. 1 Public Enemy

BERLIN, July 22. (P.)—Fresh bans against Catholic youth organizations were issued in the palatinat today with indications that similar restrictions soon may be expected throughout Germany. Full machinery of the Nazi press was invoked for the first time in the fight against "political Catholicism" and Jewry with the Catholic organizations and Jews included in the statement of Reichsminister Hitler's newspaper, Völkischer Beobachter, that political Catholicism was Germany's public enemy number one. Wilhelm Frick, Minister of the Interior, today ordered all German state governments to forbid all Lutheran and Roman Catholic youth organizations from wearing any distinctive garb or insignia or to march together.

TEXAS COMPANY OFFICIAL DIES OF HEART ATTACK

MEREDITH, N. H., July 22. (P.)—Charles Bismark Ames, oil magnate and chairman of the board of the Texas Company, died of a heart attack at his summer home here Sunday. He was 64. Ames had just completed a brief swim in Lake Winnepesaukee and was walking back toward his home when he collapsed. He was dead before medical aid could be given. Dr. Richard Overholt and Dr. Clarence H. Staples pronounced death due to heart failure.

Presently the wealthy oil magnate died here his wife and his daughter, Mrs. J. L. Cleveland Jr. of New York. Four sons also survive—Ben A. Ames and Fisher Ames, of Oklahoma City; Longstreet Ames, of Richmond, Va.; and Charles V. Ames, of Louisville, Ky. Ames, a resident of Oklahoma City and New York, was a graduate of the University of Mississippi and Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va. He had been with the Texas Company for about 10 years, his daughter said. He was chairman of the board for the last two years. The body was taken to Boston last night, en route to Oklahoma City where burial will take place in Arlington Cemetery Wednesday afternoon. Private services will be held at his home, 401 West Fourteenth Street, Oklahoma City.

Charles Bismark Ames was elected president of the American Petroleum Institute at its thirteenth annual meeting in Houston, Nov. 16, 1932, and was the seventh day office as chief executive of the petroleum industry's largest trade association. He was born Aug. 1, 1870, at Macon, Miss., the son of Charles Bingle and Sarah Jane Longstreet Ames. He was graduated by Emory and Henry College, 1890, with the degree bachelor of science, and received the degree bachelor of laws from the University of Mississippi in 1892. After practicing law at Macon from 1893 to 1899 he moved to Oklahoma City to continue his practice. He was president judge of Division I, Supreme Circuit Commission of Oklahoma, from 1911 until March 1, 1913.

During the World War Ames was a member of the Oklahoma State Council of Defense, Federal Food Administration for Oklahoma, and chairman of the Oklahoma Liberty Loan committee. He became assistant to the Attorney General of the United States in June, 1919, resigning in September, 1920, to resume practice at Oklahoma City. He was general counsel for the Texas company from 1923 to 1925 and had been a director since 1921. Ames was a delegate to the Universal Congress of Lawyers and Jurists held at St. Louis in 1904. He represented the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at the Ecumenical Methodist Conference at Toronto, Canada, in 1911, and at London, England, in 1921. In 1916 he was president of the Oklahoma State Bar Association. He was married to Elizabeth P. Allen of Macon in February, 1894.

Reduced Shipping Rates to Continue

WASHINGTON, July 22. (P.)—Because it found "a period of severe drought still exists" in certain counties, the Interstate Commerce Commission today voted to extend September 30, the reduced rates for transportation of drought stricken livestock from those points available to feeding lots and stock farms.

Ask National Guards Be Sent Terre Haute

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., (P.)—Sheriff William Baker and Prosecutor R. J. Kerns joined today in requesting Governor McNutt to send National Guardsmen here to assist police in preserving order during a general strike called by representatives of 48 labor unions.

Bright Eyes Turn to Reno

Nancy Carroll turns a bright face to the world as she prepares to leave Hollywood for Reno, to seek freedom from her marital ties. For a year and a half the attractive film actress has been separated from her publisher husband, Bolton Malloy, and at last has decided to make it permanent.

BORAH STATEMENT TAKEN BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, July 22. (P.)—Democratic leaders today refused to take seriously the statement of Senator Borah (Idaho) that the inflationary boom behind the Patman bonus and the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage reformation bills would combine to attach these $5,000,000,000 (billion) proposals to the administration tax bill and keep Congress here until November 1. Senator Robinson, party leader, said that he did not believe measures could be acted on this session. He and Senator Barkley (Kentucky) were reiterating their statement that Congress should adjourn by August 15.

HAS TONSILLECTOMY

Patty Irene McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. McBride, underwent a tonsillectomy in a Midland hospital Sunday. She will return to her home today.

A world-famous writer has been "listening to America" by traveling through 35 representative states on assignment from the Reporter-Telegram and NEA Service, Frazier Hunt heard and faithfully recorded the voice of the nation. The twelve daily articles which he has written for this newspaper afford an epic, enlightening word-picture of what the greatest and the humblest Americans everywhere are thinking, saying and doing in these freudonian times. Here is the first article in this important series.

By FRAZIER HUNT
(Copyright, 1935, NEA Service)
Roosevelt is in the bag for 1936. He is not as strong as he was last fall at election time but he will carry between 36 and 40 states. Huey Long has lost two-thirds of his strength in the past six months. The magic that was Father Coughlin is greatly lessened. The threat or promise of a strong third party in '36 is a myth. The Supreme Court decision ending the old NRA did little harm to F. D. R. Three quarters of the farmers are feeling by the crop reduction are for AAA. The average citizen feels the Republican party has neither a cause nor a leader. The unreasonable bitterness

Hereafter Bennie Will Tell the Dr.

Hereafter when Bennie Bizzell has any throbbing pains in his side he will go to a doctor. About two weeks ago, while playing in a "friendly" game of dominoes, Bennie and one of his opponents started trading words over each other's system of play, and as the game grew hotter—so did the two players. Finally seeing that the word battle could go on all night the two mutually agreed that there was only one way to properly settle the quarrel for once and for all—fisticuffs. The two immediately quit their game and indulged in the age-old custom of settling arguments. When the "battle" was over Bennie was convinced that he was an easy winner as he did not have so much as a skinned place anywhere on him. Since that time, though, Bennie has felt very sharp pains in the very near vicinity of his ribs and, finally getting tired of these interruptions, he paid a visit to a doctor and explained his troubles. X-rays were taken and showed two broken ribs. Bennie is not positive now that he came out so far ahead after all.

MASS. MAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY FOR MURDER OF WIFE

WORCESTER, Mass., July 22. (P.)—Newell P. Sherman, 26, Sittion choir singer and scoutmaster, today pleaded not guilty to the drowning of his wife, Alice, 23, the mother of two children, by overturning a canoe on Lake Singletary Saturday night. Sherman, state detective Edward McCarthy Jr., said, had previously confessed the drowning of his wife to "impress" a 17-year-old factory girl with whom he worked.

27 INJURED WHEN TWO BUSES CRASH

NACOGDOCHES, Texas, July 22. (P.)—Twenty-seven persons were injured, a number of them seriously, in a collision Sunday between two buses near Cullen on Highway 39. The machines came together on a road made slippery by rain. A number of the injured were taken to hospital here. Among those hurt were Basil C. Barber, lacerated right leg, swollen foot, cuts on face, head and body; Sammie Ahls, severe cuts and bruises; Johnnie Williams, student at Stephen F. Austin college, cuts and bruises on the face; Mrs. M. S. Hyde, in serious condition from bruises and other injuries; and Duncan Reed, driver of one bus, suffering from a three-inch gash in the face which physicians said might prove serious.

Foreign Legations Leave Addis Ababa

ROME, July 22. (P.)—Foreign diplomats at Addis Ababa reported today that they were arranging to move their legations to Djibouti, French Somaliland, as Italian officials have a doubt for the final efforts of England and France to prevent an Italo-Ethiopian war.

As Huge 'Flying Fortress' Awaited Air Baptism

Boeing for a series of experimental flights, and then its supreme test, a hop from Seattle, Wash., to Dayton, O., the huge mystery Boeing bomber, said to be the largest land plane ever built, a veritable sky fortress, is pictured here in front and side views before making its air debut at Boeing Field in Seattle. With a wing spread of 105 feet, and streamlined over its 70-foot length, the mammoth, 15-ton low-wing monoplane has four 725 h. p. motors which can hurl it over a 2500-mile non-stop range at a speed of from 200 to 250 miles an hour. From its aluminum body, like warts on a dinosaur, jut four machine gun turrets, shielded by unbreakable glass. Note two of these turrets, at the side and top, in the scene below. The monster air cruiser is protected by the latest safety devices—"robot" pilot, two-way radio telephones and a radio "homing" device. The Boeing, built by the company whose passenger craft now are used for speedy service on transcontinental lines, will compete at Dayton against other ships being considered for army purchase.

SENATE ADOPTS AAA AMENDMENT; PRESIDENT IS GIVEN POWER TO IMPOSE QUOTA RESTRICTIONS TO PRESERVE PRICE GAINS ALREADY ACHIEVED

WASHINGTON, July 22. (P.)—The Senate today adopted, 60 to 17, an amendment by Senator La Follette (Wisconsin) to the AAA bill, permitting the President to impose quota restrictions on agricultural imports to preserve price gains achieved by the domestic farm program. The amendment, in effect, substitutes the House provision in the bill which would have permitted the President to improve quotas and increase tariffs on commodities whose importation was found to be depressing the price of basic farm commodities. In a move to protect the administration's farm program against court attacks, the Senate voted to validate crop control contracts between the Agricultural department and farmers. The Senate then struck from the AAA bill the last vestige of price fixing provisions by adopting an amendment by Senator Byrd of Virginia. "The project to which you refer appears in statement 1, page 15, section deficiency appropriation bill hearings for 1935, and will be given consideration on the basis of its relative urgency to the other listed projects in the state of Texas." before the project is actually authorized. I hope nothing will interfere with the granting of this application, and I will keep you informed of the progress."

The congressman, in a separate letter, pledged his best efforts to "leave nothing undone toward having a federal building erected at Midland." He enclosed copy of a letter he had received from Admiral Christian J. Peoples, director of procurement, treasury department, as follows: "I am pleased to acknowledge your letter of July 12 concerning the construction of a federal building at Midland, Texas. The information submitted as to the needs of this project has been carefully noted and will be brought to the attention of the joint treasury-postoffice committee. "The project to which you refer appears in statement 1, page 15, section deficiency appropriation bill hearings for 1935, and will be given consideration on the basis of its relative urgency to the other listed projects in the state of Texas."

Congressman Thomason Promises Aid In Procuring Airport Improvements And Federal Building For Midland

Letters from Congressman R. E. Thomason, indicate excellent opportunity for Midland to be allotted funds both for vast improvements at the army airway station, Sloan field, and for construction of a federal postoffice building. Referring to the proposed Sloan field project, Congressman Thomason said: "The quartermaster general, war department, has made application to the division of applications and information for the sum of $110,000, to be used for reconstruction of Sloan field, at Midland, including reconstruction of hangar with masonry walls and new roof, and paving of runways, aprons and other improvements to landing area. The quartermaster general also asked an additional $100,000 for a radio station and towers at Sloan field. "Filing of application for allotment of funds does not necessarily mean the undertaking will be carried out, since the allotment board must pass on the matter and the president must give his approval. In western Indiana a storekeeper propounded his views: "Looks to me as if Governor Roosevelt just would be the best man for the Republicans could nominate, but I don't guess it would do him much good. Way runs in the situation is that only a miracle can defeat the President."

A small employer of labor in Chicago, who announced that he was a Hoover man and proud of it, declared: "The Democrats have built up a great machine here, and with the relief and Public Works money to work on they're invincible. . . . Many big firms in Chicago are beating the state sales tax by ostensibly moving their offices to Indiana. . . . There should be federal supervision over minimum wages, maximum hours and anti-labor. Price-fixing never did nor never can work."

Hoover to Roosevelt

Thirty miles north of Madison, Wisconsin, a Master Farmer said to me as I voted for Hoover—and the LaFollette—but I sort of think I'd vote for Roosevelt today. He's doing everything that he can with a "tough" job."

Minneapolis the editor of a farm paper made this contribution: "Governors more or less have to play along in order to get their share of the federal money. When F. D. R. is off the air he is like a preacher who stops preaching—the people stop believing in him so ardently."

At Ames, Iowa, a professor in the College of Agriculture, who goes about this pivotal state, said: "Right now would say that 80 per cent of the farmers of Iowa are behind the 3 A's and consequently behind Roosevelt and Wallace."

In one bleeding Kansas the sage of Emporia, the mellow Wil-

RANGES AND FARMS ARE RELIEVED BY A HEAVY DOWNPOUR

Hail Does Damage in Some Sections of County

The long-awaited "general rain" fell at Midland and over a large area Sunday afternoon and night, relieving ranges which in some localities had begun to "burn" and providing sufficient season to assure a crop over the entire Midland farm territory except where hail wiped out a few narrow strips. The gauge at the Southern Ice & Utilities company, official government weather bureau observers, showed a total of 2.03 inches for the afternoon and night downpours. The greater part of the rain fell in an hour's time, between 8 and 9 o'clock last night, although earlier in the afternoon there had been a shower and another fell during the night. The army airdrome station reported 1.03 inches. Ranchmen and farmers who had come to Midland this morning had reports of good rains in all directions from the city. Railroad and bus reports, also those of the utilities companies, bore out the proof that the rain was general.

Midland citizens coming from the west last night reported rain in some amount from Royalty and Monahans, getting heavier at Judkins and standing over the highway practically all the way from Pecos to Odessa. Rain was reported at Rankin on the south and Andrews on the north. The rain was light at Big Spring, but at Colorado a six-inch rain was reported to have fallen in an hour and a half late Sunday afternoon. Midland people who came through there said the water was knee deep in the streets and ran into stores, buildings in much of the downtown section. No rain was reported from Marfa and the Big Bend section this morning.

Water reached the doorways of hotels and store buildings in Midland last night, the streets running like rivers for several hours, but no damage to property was discovered. Automobiles were drowned out on North Main street and even at some points on the pavement. The damage, according to the morning rains southeast of Midland, was reported here this morning. The Buchanan place, farmed by J. B. Swales, suffered severe damage to cotton and feed crops. To the east of that section, the Adams farm, known as the Mill Water place, had cotton and feed crops badly wiped out. Wind was so hard that windows were broken out in the home and a kitchen stove was blown over. The E. E. Ellard place was struck by high winds, the windmill being blown over. Hail also fell northeast of Midland, in the vicinity of Mabae and Fyle's New place, it was reported here this morning. Neighboring farms sustained considerable damage.

SISTER MEXICAN GOVERNOR MISSING

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 22. (P.)—Senorita Matilde Torres Sanchez was still missing today, her brother, Enrique Sanchez, Governor of Durango, said. He said that the girl had not been seen since she left home last Thursday night. He said he had received a note signed by her asserting that she could not be released until the religious laws were changed.

MIDLAND MAN IS CHARGED AFTER ANGELOAN DIES

SAN ANGELO, July 22. (P.)—H. B. Whitte, 64, nightwatchman of San Angelo, died at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, an hour after he allegedly was struck by the fist of Herbert King of Midland. A coroner's inquest was scheduled to be held this afternoon, after arrival of witnesses from Midland. King, meanwhile, was jailed here, charged with murder with malice.

Several Midland business men and family members of King left for San Angelo this morning to appear in his behalf at an examining trial which had been set to investigate the death of Nightwatchman H. B. Whitte. King, reports here said, had been at San Angelo all day Saturday with local business associates, attending a regional sales meeting of a wholesale oil company. Details of the incident out of which the charges grew were not available here today but were expected to follow the examining trial. Numerous offers of bail or other assistance had been made by cattlemen and business men here. King's business associates said, Judge Chas. Gibbs, former Midland jurist, was representing the Midland man.

“LOANS” WELL LOST!

A dispatch from Washington indicates that PWA authorities have dropped the notion that federal slum clearance projects must pay their own way. It is now announced that the federal subsidy on such grants will run to fully 45 per cent; furthermore, this subsidy will not bear interest, and it will not have to be repaid.

This means that a family which moves from a dank slum into one of these new, modernized apartments will have nearly half of its rent paid by the taxpayers.

It is quite probable that there is no other way to provide good housing for the "submerged tenth." No one to date has been able to show how slum dwellers can afford to pay the sums necessary to finance rehousing jobs completely.

But it is important that the point be understood by the citizens generally. Slum clearance is a fine thing—but to accomplish it the taxpayer must put out a lot of money that will never come back.

FEMININE FANCIES BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Midland continues to acquire the ways of a city. For the first time, we are told, there is now on display a collection of fur coats owned by a department store of the town.

Following the practice of metropolitan stores there will be a "day-a-way" sale of the coats. Six Midland women who wish to take advantage of pre-season sales in the fur garments may do so in their own home town.

But despite these innovations from the city we are still aware that we live in a small town. That was brought to our attention quite distinctly this morning when we stepped out of the office door and were greeted, not by clanging street cars and the rush of crowds, but by the peaceful and unhurried cackling of some industrious hens across the street.

And speaking of chickens, we were looking at a handsome suit in a downtown store the other day which featured a small white figure against a darker ground. We supposed that the figure was a flower geometrical print but found on closer examination that it was a wee chicken.

Poultry is coming into style when hundreds of hundreds of tiny chickens march primly across a dress for Madam's dresser hours.

Our idea of a woman of strong character is one who can go through a store which is advertising a clearance sale and not even toy with the thought of buying something—whether she needs anything or not.

Five Midland Girl Scouts Take Part In Camp Activities

Five Midland Girl Scouts are attending Camp Mary White, the Cactus Region and Roswell Girl Scout camp near Clouderof, New Mexico for the first session, July 14 to July 28. They are: Fredda, Fae Turner, Barbara Jean Harper, Mary Jane Harper, Margie Jordan and Jean Lewis.

Camp Mary White, directed by Miss Mary White, regional Girl Scout director, is one of the outstanding pioneer camps in the Southwest. The girls participate in mountain pack trips, overnight hikes, trail cookery, pioneering, horseback riding, as well as in varied Scout techniques and drafts. Unit camps are held three times a week, and a general campfire at Great Hall is a feature four nights a week. These evening campfires afford opportunity for singing, folk dancing, square dancing, dramatics, and special entertainment programs.

All the Midland girls will play prominent parts Saturday, July 27th, in a Round-up and Old Timers' Reunion at the camp. The Roundup will consist of field events by units in the afternoon. Old time square dancing will feature the evening. Bears, bonnets, and other costume necessities will provide the authentic atmosphere. This will be the closing event of the first session for the 104 girls who are registered.

The visitors were entertained with a picnic at Cloverdale Sunday.

Pectin Test for Jelly Described

"In making jelly, give a pectin test to the juice used to determine the correct amount of sugar to use," said Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, county home demonstration agent, in making demonstration before a group of club women recently. "One tablespoonful of denatured alcohol placed in a glass to which is added one tablespoonful of fruit juice will give you your answer. In case the mixture congeals like jelly, the amount of pectin is high and for such juice one cup of sugar should be used to one cup of juice. Where it congeals in heavy lumps, use three-fourths cup sugar to one cup juice as the amount of pectin decreases, the amount of sugar used should be decreased. "After the fruit juice reaches the boiling point add the sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved. Boil very rapidly until jelling test is reached. Remove from the stove, skim, and pour up into sterilized glasses. When cool, cover with a layer of melted paraffin, place the lid on and when paraffin is cool, store for future use."

GARDEN GOSSIP

Hardy borders are now as much a part of the furnishings of a home as the garage, the fences, or the clothes poles. They are a sign of permanence, an insubstitution of beauty appearing each year. They may be simple, composed of only a few varieties of plants. They may be narrow, only 3 or 4 feet wide, or they may be elaborate, 10 to 15 feet wide and employing a great variety of plants and a carefully thought-out color scheme.

The most interesting border is the one that you grow and plan yourself. The great majority of the perennials can be raised in quantity from seed. A few perennials, such as irises, peonies, named perennials phloxes, delphiniums and others, must be bought as plants if a particular variety is desired. Named plants were originally raised from seed, however, and the finest seedlings were selected as worth perpetuating and naming.

At the start there was only a single plant of the variety. It was then propagated either by dividing or by cuttings of the roots or stems. Hybrid plants do not breed true from seed. So each named plant in the world of a certain variety is really a piece of the original plant.

For instance, the famous old white peony, festiva maxima, distributed over the gardens of the world wherever peonies grow, now numbers millions of plants. All are pieces of one plant.

The best way to secure a high standard of plants for the hardy border is to raise a large quantity of seedlings in rows like vegetables until they bloom and then select the best types and colors for permanent occupants of the border. This should be done wherever space permits.

Delphiniums, pyrethrum and perennial poppies have many inferior types among seedlings which should be discarded. However, all of them make good displays and it is only the advanced gardener who will be particular in his selection. It pays in the long run.

Midland Girl Wins Riding Honors at Kerrville Camp

KERRVILLE, (Special)—Lorraine I. Stengel, 1303 W. Illinois, and Anna Beth Bedford, 611 N. Marienfeld, were among the girls at Camp Waldemar, near Kerrville, who won honors for the first term, which closed July 19.

Miss Stengel was the winner of the cup for being the best low senior rider in the Western division. She also received a bronze medal for progress in archery during the term. At the horse show the morning of July 19, Miss Stengel rode in the darning and spectacular quadrille, which always closed a Waldemar horse show. Only expert riders are chosen for the difficult number.

Miss Bedford received a silver medal for placing third in the Western riding class. She also earned the Waldemar "W" and felt star for making a maximum number of points in her activities.

Miss Stengel received a silver star pin because she has been an All-Star camper for two years.

Mrs. Alma Thomas, who has been an academic counselor this term, will visit friends before returning to her home in Midland.

Club Girl Contest Winner Discusses Renovation Work

Miss Imogene Hale, 4-H club girl from Stokes and dress contest winner, said: "Being a wardrobe demonstrator has inspired me to have a better wardrobe which is better kept and to which is given more individual attention than in the past."

"Renovating my clothes closet was my most interesting problem. My closet was large enough but there seemed to be no room for anything. The shelves were large and inconvenient and I had to push everything on the shelves. So I made the shelves just half their width and then there seemed to be more room and the closet was made much more convenient."

What is the yardstick for a cigarette . . .

Take mildness for one thing—how does it measure up for mildness? Chesterfields are milder—not flat or insipid, of course, but with a pleasing flavor. Then take taste for another thing—does it have plenty of taste? Chesterfields taste better—not strong but just right. In other words, They Satisfy—that's my yardstick for a cigarette.

Chesterfield... the cigarette that's MILDER Chesterfield... the cigarette that TASTES BETTER
