SENATE ORDERS SUBPOENA FOR EX- SENATOR G. PURL

Lobby Activities Are Reason for the Action

AUSTIN, Oct. 1. (AP).—The Senate investigating committee today ordered former Senator George Purl, Dallas, be subpoenaed to testify in regard to lobbying activities on behalf of chain stores.

Purl failed to appear after he had been invited to testify. Previously the committee had reviewed Purl's correspondence with Robert Lyons, Washington chain store representative.

Relating Texas lobby activities last spring, Congressman Wright Patman temporarily halted the investigation of chain stores after G. L. Lyle, Houston, A. and P. store official, told him that authorization for supplying goods to the store was that Patman wanted had not been received.

Patman said that he contemplated further investigation of the store now, although an investigator might be sent to Houston.

Change Dove Seasons In Fourteen States

WASHINGTON.—Federal open seasons on mourning doves have been changed in 14 States by amendments to the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, regulations approved by Secretary Wallace and approved by President Roosevelt.

The changes were recommended by the Biological Service for Texas in better cooperation with State and local agencies in enforcement of Federal game laws and, in some cases, to curtail over-hunting during State seasons on quail. Though more satisfactory to the sportsmen and local enforcement agencies, the new regulations will shorten the days of hunting than formerly allowed and are thus expected to further dove conservation this year in a two-fold way.

Colorado This Season, Which Opened on September 11, Will Close on September 30, Instead of on December 15

In Delaware, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico the season will close on December 15 instead of on January 5. The opening date in these States was September 21.

In Alabama a split season has been provided for 3 southwestern counties—Mobile, Baldwin, and Washington—September 21 to September 30 and November 1 to January 31. Elsewhere in the State the season remains September 21 to January 5.

Split seasons also have been provided in 3 States. Georgia, October 1 to October 31 and November 1 to November 31; Florida, September 21 to September 31 and November 1 to November 31; Mississippi, September 21 to October 5 and November 20 to January 31. In each of these States the season was formerly September 21 to January 5.

Zones conforming to the provisions of State laws have been provided in Texas and California. In a southern zone of California, comprising fish and game districts 4, 4 1/2, and 4 3/4 as defined by State law, dove shooting will be permitted from September 21 to October 31 and in the remainder of the State the season will be September 21 to September 30. The Federal season for California was formerly September 21 to January 5.

The northern-zone season in Texas is September 21 to October 31 and the southern zone, September 1 to January 15, instead of September 21 to January 5 for the entire State as formerly provided.

Following the provisions of the State law, the Federal regulations describe the northern zone of Texas as follows: That portion of Texas north or northerly of a line beginning at the Rio Grande west of Del Rio, thence to Del Rio, thence east along Houston & Texas Central Railway to Brazos River, thence north up Brazos River to where Beaumont branch of Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railway crosses said River, thence east along Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railway to intersection with Houston East & West Texas Railway at Cleveland, thence along Houston East & West Texas Railway to the Louisiana border except the counties of Bastrop, Brazos, Burleson, Fayette, Grimes, Lee, Limestone, Milam, Montgomery, Robertson, San Jacinto, Smith, Washington, and Wood."

Poland's First Liner Beats Schedule

Arriving five hours ahead of schedule, the motorship Pilsudski, first trans-Atlantic liner built by the infant Polish merchant marine, is pictured ploughing majestically past the New York skyline at the end of its maiden voyage from Gdynia. This is the ship which was built in Italy and paid for entirely in Polish coal.

OPPONENTS OF WHISKEY BY DRINK IN SADDLE AS MONOPOLY BILL PASSED

AUSTIN, Oct. 1.—Opponents of the sale of whiskey by drink were in the Texas Legislature Monday night.

The House voted 72 to 67 for a state monopoly over sales of hard liquor, forced adjournment having blocked an effort of monopolists to clinch their victory by the parliamentary motion to reconsider and table. A slight change in sentiment would have passed the bill.

Repeal leaders asserted the people voted in effect, for a license system while monopoly chiefs contended repeal was obtained largely through representations in restaurants and hotels.

The state will vote in November, 1936, on a mandatory state monopoly.

Rep. Alfred Petch of Fredericksburg, a former bartender, predicted that unless the monopoly was adopted and private profits removed from the liquor traffic the state would be dry again in five years. Petch termed the private license bill, which would authorize broken package sales in restaurants and hotels, the "poorest and most infamous" that could be enacted.

Rep. J. D. Young of Cuero charged monopoly would open the way to political graft and corruption and would prove an "absolute failure."

BUYERS OF ARMY HORSES WILL BE HERE THURSDAY

Army horse buyers will be here Thursday to select a car load of mounts for cavalry use, horsemen were advised today. The information came from Snyder where they were looking at available horses.

Specifications are the same as a year ago although it was intimated fewer three-year olds will be taken, and fewer mares. Horses meeting the requirements must be 15 hands and one inch tall, or taller, weighing around 900 to 1,000 pounds and possessing type and breeding. Horses leaning too much to the "quarter" type are not desired.

Captain Harry Fudge, who has been a year ago, is buyer, and Major Conant, here during the summer to select national guard horses, is veterinarian.

SUPREME COURT AUTHORIZES SUIT AGAINST TAX ACT

Constitutionality of Discounts to Be Tested

AUSTIN, Oct. 1. (AP).—The supreme court today authorized the filing of a suit to test the constitutionality of an act offering discounts for prompt payment of state ad valorem taxes.

BIG SPRING MAN ROBBED, KIDNAPED

BIG SPRING, Oct. 1.—Curtis Head, Big Spring, was kidnaped, robbed of a new car and bound to a fence 20 miles north of here Sunday night by two unmasked men.

His abductors took him in his own car to a place near South where he was bound to a fence with wire. He succeeded in freeing himself from the fence and walked to Highway No. 9 north where he succeeded in hailing a truck belonging to Jimmie Mason. The driver unwired his hands and brought him to the city.

Head reported the kidnaping and robbery to city police who in turn reported it to the sheriff's department Monday morning.

The car, bearing a Taylor county license number, and his description of his assailants was all official report on Monday morning. Head said one of the abductors was about six feet tall, wore a dark suit, the other was of medium build, had a heavy, light colored hat and gray suit. Both were estimated to be about 30 years old.

Head said he had gone to the post office to mail a package when he saw a 1935 Chevrolet coach, on West Second street across from the building. When he returned, a man jammed a gun to his side, commanded him to get into the car and hand over the keys. He got into the car but managed to drop the keys on the highway.

When he got out of the car, the two hijackers began to abuse him. They attempted to throw him around the block, but he managed to get away.

They drove to a point near the Cap Rock camp, north of town, where they tied up the car and held him on head until the other went to the camp filling station and got the white repaired.

When he returned they drove north, turning off toward a fence. After binding him to a fence, they drove back to the highway, cutting off lights before they got there, thus preventing Head from knowing in which direction they went.

Monday noon no trace of the hijackers or the car had been found. Head is an employee of Homan service station.

It indicated that it would reconsider the rejection of the private license plan and voted against a parliamentary motion to reconsider and table, leaving the way open for a reconsideration of yesterday's vote adopting the monopoly plan.

President Sees Boulder Dam Marvels on Trip West

Bulking far over all attractions on President Roosevelt's cross-country and sea journey was the engineering marvel of the age, Boulder Dam, nearing completion, as shown here. The huge power project was the scene of one of the chief executive's major interests. "Key points" in the mammoth barrier are indicated on the picture. Accompanying the president on his trip was Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, inset, below, under whose jurisdiction come the great power and reclamation projects of the New Deal.

100 Hear Sibley In Address

Commanding the emergency acts of the federal government to rescue tumbling farm and commodity prices a few months ago, but advocating a departure from permanent policies which place the government in business, Harper Sibley, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, addressed a banquet audience of more than 100 Midland citizens Monday evening in the Crystal ball room of Hotel Scharbauer.

The speaker, who is here with C. G. Rohrer, manager of his Illinois farm, on a cattle buying trip, gave startling statistics on the steadily growing burden on the government, caused by the mass of employees required to carry out the various administrative agencies through which the federal government engages in the cotton, wheat, pork and other industries.

Prior to his treatise on national affairs, the speaker gave interesting accounts of his travels in India, Africa and other foreign countries, especially dealing with the cattle industry in other nations of the world.

Mr. Sibley paid high tribute to the forward thinking citizenship here for organizing the Midland fair and declared that although he will not be able to attend he will leave a bid to be placed for cattle consigned in the feeder auction sale.

Although living in Rochester, N. Y., where he has bank and lumber interests, Mr. Sibley's holdings are spread across the continent and in Canada. He operates a ranch between Los Angeles and San Francisco, near the famous Hearst place, on which are raised pure bred Hereford cattle.

The huge Sibley farms at Sibley, Ill., for which the manager, C. G. Rohrer, buys feeder cattle here each year, cover 14,000 acres and have 45 improved places on them, in one body of land. The largest corn crib in the world, with a capacity of 130,000 bushels, is located there, also a grain elevator of 105,000 bushel capacity.

Mr. Sibley owns silver mines at Cobalt, Canada, coal mines in West Virginia, oil mines near Duluth, Minn., and timberlands in the northwest. He also operates a ranch near High River, Alberta, Canada, near that of the Prince of Wales.

Mrs. Roy Parks sang at the banquet Monday evening. Mrs. Holt Jewell played the accompaniment. T. Paul Burton was toastmaster. Fifteen new citizens of Midland were introduced to the audience.

STRENGTHENING OF GERMAN BORDERS WILL BE STARTED

Seek British Help For Any War Threats

By Associated Press
France today unexpectedly ordered military maneuvers and strengthened their German borders as Germany's withdrawal from the League of Nations, set for October 21st, approached.

France was reported to be seeking British aviation help against any German threat. In return, the French would reinforce the British Mediterranean fleet in the event of Italo-British trouble.

It was believed that Emperor Seilas might order mobilization this week. The Italian minister at Addis Ababa ordered five Italian consulates in the Aduwa and Harar provinces to evacuate immediately. Sources expected Ethiopia's impending mobilization a "menacing threat" for war. They said that Italy's east African army was braced against any Ethiopian attack.

George Lansbury, aged leader of the Labor party in the British House of Commons, repudiated the policy for military sanctions in the event of aggression in the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

Society and Clubs

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

We like the idea of a joint session of church societies on each Fifth Monday. Such a friendly communion should do much toward promoting goodwill, tolerance, and other essentials of real Christianity, we feel.

It is strange what fixed ideas people have concerning what they can and cannot wear becomingly and how they come to actually see things in accordance with that belief. We'd never thought we could wear a roll brim hat. When at last we did try one on and found that it actually looked about as well as any other hat does on us, we thought we must be seeing things crookedly. We couldn't believe our eyes.

There are now on the market "pink" scissors which automatically finish the edges of a garment by pinking as each piece is cut out. Somebody who knew the problems of women thought that idea up. If there is anything we hate, it is having to spend long minutes in finishing seams, thereby greatly prolonging the time of making the garment.

Corded fabric gloves frilled at the wrists are pretty and dressy looking.

One of those dresses that we have no use for whatever but which we dream about nevertheless: A crushed velvet in rust color whose glowing radiance seems designed to bring light into social gatherings on dark winter afternoons. The only touch of harmonizing color is found in touches of gold.

Church of Christ Bible Class Is Host To Church Societies on Fifth Monday

The women's Bible class of the Church of Christ was host to the missionary societies of the town in the regular Fifth Monday joint meeting held at the church Monday afternoon.

The church was decorated with clusters of zinnias and roses intermingled with ferns. The meeting was opened with congregational singing and a prayer, followed by the reading of the nineteenth chapter of I Corinthians by Mrs. W. F. Hejl.

A diet was sung by Mrs. D. E. Gabbert and Marian Canelon after which Mrs. T. H. Bass, wife of the pastor of the host church, offered prayer.

Two quartet numbers were sung by Laverne Bodine, Florine Hamlin, Marian Canelon, and Pauline Buffington.

Mrs. Curtis Bond read "Little Things," followed by readings by Mrs. S. A. Debnam of Stanton, Mrs. Kinnie Reese, and Doris June Bayless.

Following the program, a social hour was held and refreshments were served.

That was a long time ago, but today thousands of future champions just as eagerly follow THE AMERICAN BOY.

"This year," states Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor, "our staff writers have gone to the two greatest football teams of the country—Minnesota and Pittsburgh—for first-hand tips on strategy, blocking, tackling, passing and the fine points of play. There has been quite a lot of weed cutting under way for the past few days. The City of Midland will furnish all the labor you want at $1.50 a day and will supervise the job, during the clean-up campaign. Midland should be at its best for the Fair, and it will take from now until the middle of October to get the weeds cut and the vacant lots cleared off. If you don't have someone in mind to do your work, call Mr. Cole at 565 and he will get it done for you. All you have to put up is the $1.50 per day per man.

Down at the Fair grounds they are winding up the job on the rodeo arena, corrals and fences. It is about the most complete set-up for a rodeo you ever saw, and if you haven't driven down to inspect it you have missed something. Men who have seen the arenas at Cheyenne, Calgary, Pendleton and the other internationally known shows say Midland has the best one.

Our Modern Homes

Last week the well-depreciated home was having an argument with the owner; and the owner, getting a bit peeved, left the house for a week's work, and now is back again (now go on with the story).

Oh, hello, Mr. Owner, you are back again; well I still have on the same old dress and not a change has been made. Now I hate to bother you but look at all our neighbors; they have changed their dresses and put on winter coats and my friend next door has a new water heater, and my good friend across the street has a new heating system bought at Neill's. They say he has real bargains and attractive prices, and best of all, terms to suit the pocketbook. Now, Mr. Owner, can you get around this kind of argument? Well, say something. (Owner): "Blow me down." (House): No, that is what will happen to me some day if you keep on putting off for tomorrow what you should do today (and on and on into the night).

Folks, it looks like the House is going to be the winner of this argument. Be sure and watch next week's issue and find out more about the story. But in the meantime, call on

A British inventor once proposed to make 12-hour balloon trips from England to Australia, his plan being to ascend high in the air and wait for 12 hours until the earth had made half a rotation. He believed he would then be able to land on the other side of the globe.

In the early days of four-wheel brakes, the braking force usually was divided in the proportion of 40 to 60 between the front and rear brakes respectively. None of the present-day passenger cars, however, have more than one-half of the braking force applied to the rear wheels.

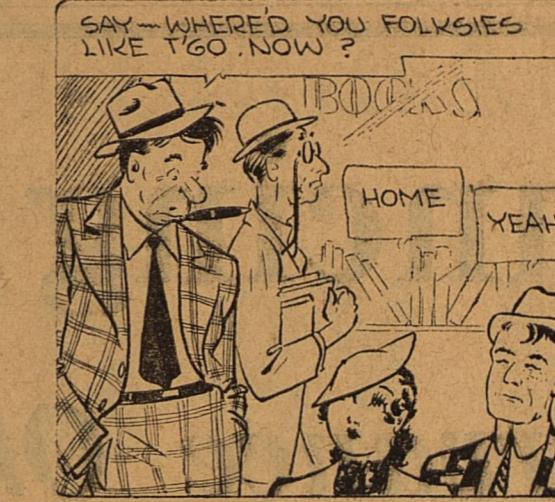

It is estimated that of all automobiles produced in Germany last year, practically 20 per cent had front wheel drive.

It has been estimated that more than half the men in Newfoundland are engaged in the fishing industry.

CRACKERS EVEN UP DIXIE SERIES BY WINNING 9-2 GAME

By KENNETH GREGORY
ATLANTA, Oct. 1.—Big Jim Lindsey, veteran curve ball artist, turned in a brilliant hurling exhibition Monday night as Atlanta's Crackers squared the Dixie series count with Oklahoma City in the second game. The score was 9 to 2.

The burly righthander, used most of the season as a relief pitcher, muzzled the Indians with a dazzling, fast-breaking curve. He struck out 10 batters and gave up but seven hits. Only once was he in serious trouble, and then he struck out Paul Easterling, Oklahoma City outfielder who fanned four straight times, once with the bases loaded.

Oklahoma City's defense collapsed from the start, the Indians committing nine errors as Atlanta big guns roared out eleven safeties. Sheriff Dave Harris, big Joe Hutcheson and Johnny Hill led the Cracker attack. Hill collecting three hits and Harris and Hutcheson blasting a pair of doubles apiece.

Approximately 6,000 fans saw the Atlanta club, conquered 7 to 4 in the first game of the annual baseball classic yesterday, overcome Oklahoma City's ace hurler, Russell (Red) Evans, who led the Texas league in pitching with 24 victories and eight defeats, but it was the ragged support that accounted for most of the runs off him.
