ETHIOPIANS INVADEN SOMALILAND

Allred Tells Legislature "Get to Work, Stay at Work"

OLD-AGE PENSION ONLY SUBJECT HE SUBMITS TO THEM

Disappointment in First Session Is Expressed

AUSTIN, Oct. 16. (AP)—Governor Allred called on the legislature in its second special session beginning at noon today, to "get down to work and stay at work". He submitted only the subject providing old age pensions.

Allred said that the "people of Texas are sorely disappointed at the outcome of the first session." "The people overwhelmingly authorized me to call this special session today to get down to work and stay at work." "I have repeatedly directed your attention to the staggering state deficit. With one or two small exceptions nothing whatsoever has been done toward balancing the budget."

Allred expressed opposition to a general sales tax, and emphasized that no pension bill should be sent to his desk without revenues. He also said that property taxes must not be increased.

SECOND SESSION MEETS TODAY

AUSTIN, Oct. 16. (AP)—The 44th legislature gathered for the second special session today after adjourning at last midnight.

They were faced with practically all of the same problems, as all important legislation for which they had been called for the first session had failed to pass.

A final effort to enact a liquor control bill failed when the senate adjourned sine die at midnight. The house followed a few minutes later.

The chain store tax was the chief enactment of the first session. A drastic last minute effort to enact liquor legislation began when the senate minority blocked a final passage of the hour regulatory bill.

Conferees, appointed to save something if possible, were unable to agree.

OFFICIALS OF TWO MEXICAN CITIES WATCH FOR REBELS

NOGALLES, Mex., Oct. 16. (AP)—Nogales and Agua Prieta officials today heightened their defenses against possible attacks by rebel raiders who have killed at least nine persons recently.

Agua Prieta mustered federal soldiers and stationed them at strategic positions. Deputized citizens and police guarded all entrances to town.

Civilian officials in Mexico City said that the Sonora insurrection was a small matter and would be downed quickly by the federales. Border towns, however, were nervous and apprehensive.

ARGUMENTS IN THE MCCUMBER TRIAL ARE BEING HEARD

Lawyers' arguments are being heard this afternoon in the trial of W. H. McCumber, charged with robbing the Citizens State bank here a short while ago.

Defense attorneys ended this morning by placing their argument for the robbery of the Citizens State bank here a short while ago.

Defense attorneys ended this morning by placing their argument for the robbery of the Citizens State bank here a short while ago.

State rebuttal testimony was set to begin early Wednesday.

The state failed in an effort to use a 5-year-old boy as a witness in the trial.

The boy was the son of Toney Bauer, non-commissioned officer in charge of the Midland airport. Bauer had told of McCumber's actions immediately before and after his return to duty from a four-day leave of absence to Ruidors, N. M.

Bauer testified that "only a slight nervousness" was manifested by McCumber after Bauer's 5-year-old boy had said McCumber had "dots of money." Bauer said McCumber asked him "could he buy his silence."

The state then attempted to call Bauer's boy as a witness but the defense succeeded in preventing this step after the state rested its case.

Mrs. Joe McCumber of Moline, Ill., mother of the defendant, was the first defense witness. Her testimony was mainly devoted to family history tending to show that several of her brothers and sisters had been or were confined in state institutions for the insane.

LAST FORTNIGHT FORTUNATE FOR THE MUSEUM AS NEW EXHIBITS ARE ADDED

By MRS. OLA DUBLIN HAYNES
The last fortnight has been a fortunate one for the museum, as many, interesting, and varied articles have been added to the rapidly growing exhibits.

Mrs. M. L. Sholte, the oldest citizen in point of residence, who has signed the visitor's book, has lent a square piece of Chinese embroidery on white silk which is exquisite.

By the way, Mrs. Sholte came to Midland April 5, 1883. Do you know anyone who has been here longer? Mr. Barnhardt, father of Mrs. Sholte, named Germania. He came, with his family, west as the railroad was built.

Spurgeon Howell who was trained at Atlanta, Georgia, during the World War, brought a picture of 12,500 nurses and soldiers in a formation representing the American Eagle. A picture of the Navy Service flag made up of sailors in this unusual formation is a relic of William Wimberly's, Paris Island, S. C. Marine training station, is shown from the air in a picture lent by Glenn S. Brunson, who also lent his hat and overseas cap, a sharp shooter's medal and identification tags. Lee Haynes has lent a picture of the personnel of his ship, U. S. S. Waters, No. 115 which was a destroyer doing convoy duty; a picture of several destroyers in port at Seattle, Wash., and a copy of The Blue Jacket's Manual U. S. N. 1917. The S. S. Rochester, on which G. C. Rann served, is a veteran of the Spanish-American war as well as the World War. Its picture shows that it had many features not usual among World War ships.

A picture of Eugene Burkett, a Midland hero, buried in Arlington Cemetery in Washington, D. C., as well as a picture of Brooks Lee, Jr., who gave his life in Siberia, are sad mementoes of the great strife.

Mrs. Brooks Lee has lent also a metal given her son for service in Siberia, coins and currency of Siberia and a knife used in the army. A deck of cards used to while away long convalescent hours in a hospital in France, is a souvenir treasured by Mrs. Sam Kelton, whose brother also brought her a match case, belt buckles, a paper knife made from a shell, and a brocade for the fair.

An Alsaac-Lorraine souvenir handkerchief is a loan from Mrs. H. N. Phillips.

A helmet which was the property of a German officer; two American one pound shells; and a unique pipe have been lent by Laurence Beauchamp. This pipe was a prize won by a German boatmaker in recognition of his service in that capacity to the German army. "Herr Shoemaker" needed marks worn during the evidence of honor so Beauchamp has an unusual World War souvenir.

Mrs. G. H. Butler has added to the growing list of things made from cartridges a beautiful dinner bell made in 1914. It was brought home from France by Lynn Butler. A saber with its scabbard and a sword used in the Civil War are valued additions lent by Norman Laurence, one of Midland's oldest citizens.

Mrs. H. N. Phillips added to the Civil War relics a written agreement between her grandfather and an officer of the Confederate army concerning the use of ox teams, wagons, and labor for hauling army supplies.

Uncle Jules Driver has given to the museum an ox-bow and sloop which have an interesting history. Henry M. Half sent to San Antonio for six oxen, yokes, bows, etc., and Mr. Rayburn went himself to plow a fire guard all the way round the

SOMALI TRIBES JOIN TROOPS IN COUNTER ATTACK

Italy 'Ready' for War If England Forces Her Hand

By Associated Press
Four thousand Ethiopian tribesmen have invaded Italian Somaliland and advanced 45 miles. The Ethiopian commander reported an invasion at Dolo, which Italians claimed they captured 10 days ago. Somali tribes were reported joining this and another Italian force crossing the Italian colony frontier.

The League failed to take action on the proposal of Anthony Eden of Great Britain, that the sanctions committee endorse the "buy nothing from Italy" campaign.

With bombing planes overhead, the Italians drove toward Hakale in Northern Ethiopia, and from south toward Harar. An Italian reconnaissance flight disclosed that Ras Seyoum, Ethiopian northern commander, planned to make a stand over 100 miles south of Addawa.

Addis Ababa was rejoicing, believing that the Italians would fall into a natural trap in the ravines of the mountain fastnesses, as they progressed toward Harar. Emperor Haile Selassie said that Ethiopia was undefeated on any front, and that Italy's military occupation of Addawa and Aksum was without military significance, merely following Ethiopia's strategy.

Rome gave Premier Laval, of France, cold shoulder, asserting that nothing could alter Italy's course. Italian newspapers warned that if war with England was inevitable, Italy was ready.

France and Great Britain were reported considering the strengthening of the Locarno pact, as a guarantee of the peace of western Europe. It was learned that they were willing to restrict imports from Italy if the League applies a similar sanction.

NEW OPENING FOR HITLER

Do not be surprised if the next momentous news from the tangle of European politics is an announcement that Germany has militarily occupied the Rhineland. A few years ago such a step would certainly have caused a war. Now it probably would not do so. For one thing, England is understood to have informed France that mere resumption of German military activity in the demilitarized zone would not be considered, in London, as an act of aggression.

For another, the French have finally completed their long chain of frontier forts; a German army on the Rhine would not be the direct menace that it would have been half a dozen years ago.

Nevertheless, such a move—reliably reported to be contemplated by the Hitler government—would increase the tension. It would be one more token of Hitler's determination to restore Germany to a position of full military preparedness in spite of treaty restrictions or international opposition.

Another baby with an amazing vocabulary has been discovered. In addition to debits, the next generation may have to put up with a bumper crop of filibusters.

What Germany needs is more humanit-Aryans.

Two Troops of Girl Scouts Have Routine Of Work and Play

In response to inquiries from interested parents, Miss Mary White of Roswell, N. M., member of the National council on the part of a two-day visit to Midland in January of this year. While here, she conducted an intensive training school for prospective leaders, which was well attended by teachers, mothers, and members of interested local organizations.

As a result of her visit, Midland's first Girl Scout meeting was held on February 9, 1935, at the American Legion headquarters in the Petroleum building. Two troops were organized and have held regular weekly meetings since that time.

The Mesquite troop, under the leadership of Mesdames E. V. Lawrence and M. R. Hill, is made up of seventeen girls, ranging in ages from ten to twelve, and is sponsored by the Midland Rotary Club.

Chaparral troop is sponsored by the women's auxiliary of the Presbyterian church. This troop is composed of twenty-two girls, aged from twelve to fifteen, under the leadership of Capt. Mrs. L. G. Lewis, with Mrs. Leslie Page and Mrs. Paul Chabas serving as lieutenants.

Mrs. Chabas' work with the girls was particularly interesting because of the fact that she had been both Girl Scout and Scout leader in her home in France. This served to impress the girls with the wide scope of scouting, and it was with regret that the troop saw Mrs. Chabas leave for a new home in Louisiana a few weeks ago.

All the girls of both troops have completed the tenderfoot tests which they must pass before being entitled to wear the Scout pin. To enter Scouting, a girl must:

- 1. Must be at least ten years old.
2. Must have attended at least four troop meetings in one month.
3. Must pay national membership dues of 50 cents.
4. Must know: (a) Girl Scout laws, promise, motto, song, and salute; (b) four trail signs; (c) Tell or write the story of a pet; (d) Must know how to whip the ends of a rope, be able to tie the square knot, bowline, clove hitch, sheepshank, and sheet bend and demonstrate how each is used; (e) give the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States of America; show how the flag should be used.
Two of the girls of the Chaparral troop, Eleanor Wood and Jean Smith, also fulfilled their second class requirements. These consist of a review of the tenderfoot tests and the passing of fifteen more advanced ones, such as signalling, fire building, use of compass, first aid, simple cooking, and so forth. Meeting periods are spent in passing these tests and in a social program of hikes, suppers, swimming parties, and similar activities.

During the past summer, seven Midland Girl Scouts attended Camp Mary White near Clouderot, N. M., for periods varying from two to six weeks. These girls were Marjorie Jordan, Mary Jane Harper, Jean Lewis, Barbara Jean Harper, Freda Faye Turner, Pady Sue Whitcomb, and Elizabeth Page. There is

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

There is one kind of work that a woman is always glad to engage in—that is shopping. (Let no more man say that shopping isn't work, for it is. What is more nerve wracking than trying to find those of the right degree of sheerness combined with the right price, or the kind of dress that will see off one's looks to advantage?)

Feathers are slowly coming back into favor as hat decorations. We've often noticed one or two ostrich tips. Perhaps in another year or two we'll be wearing those huge "willow plumes" that our mothers wore years ago.

Of course such plumes might get a bit bedraggled in the playful breezes of our West Texas sandstorms but for the first wearing, at least, they would lend a look of elegance to one's costume.

"All I've heard about since I've been here is the Fair," a newcomer to town told us today.

That all-pervading interest may mean a slight monotony in conversation for the stranger in our gates but it means an interest and pride in the part of citizens without which the project could not be the success that we heartily believe it will be.

Do you know what a "Toysy" is? Neither did we until we read of the one presided over by Miss May Jean Robins in New York.

A Toysy is a toy lending depot. Children go there and borrow toys which they may take to their own homes and use for sometime, returning them at the end of the period to the depot.

It is, of course, patronized by those children who can not be provided at home with the playthings which all children crave.

Miss Robins invents many toys, some of them on the educational line. For instance, she has a self-checking multiplication table. The tables are set down and then made into puzzles so cut that only the correct answer can be made to fit into the space after the 2x2 or the 7x6.

As a pleasant contrast to the plights of children's destructiveness which we hear so often is the statement of Miss Robins. Children, she has found, are much more careful with the toys they borrow than most adults are with treasures they borrow.

That, we think, is just another instance of the way in which superior adults sometimes get their come-uppance when they face the straightforward characteristics of children.

A prospect of a much larger camp attendance in the summer of 1936. Through the courtesy of the American Legion, the club rooms of that organization were used for the indoor meetings of both troops. Due to a change of tenants, this meeting place is no longer available, but the annex of the Baptist Church has been offered for the use of the girls in the future.

In addition to the regular work on requirements, present Girl Scout activities in Midland include an all-day rally, Glendale, on Oct. 12, with the Sand Hills Troop of Monahans as guests, help with the Christmas seal sale of the local Red Cross unit, and the entry of a float in the Midland Fair Parade on Oct. 9th.

Fair-Minded Our Modern Homes Last week the story of the house needing repairs was in the act of getting started on the badly needed repairs and was promised by Mr. Owner that work would begin at once. Then he left for a week's work out of town. We find him back home again now and is he surprised? Now go on with the story. (Mr. Owner): Well, home sweet home, I passed by my own home and after driving two blocks on down the street, discovered I had gone too far down and after turning around and coming back, I still couldn't believe my own eyes. Hello, House, here you are with a brand new dress and all the new trimmings, and boy, did that Nell fix your bathroom? Tell me, House, why did you want to look your best? (House): Well, haven't you heard about Midland's first big Annual Fair and Anniversary Celebration? Well, of all things! Always an hour late and a dollar short. Why everybody is Fair-minded and you should be. Now run along down town and get yourself some new duds and be ready to attend the Fair. So Mr. Owner leaves the house headed for town. As he goes along he sings the good old song, "Home, Sweet Home." Folks that is what we are all interested in—our own little Home. Sweet Home, and that goes for our Home Fair. We are dressed up now and, believe you me, with some place to go. WE WILL MEET YOU AT THE MIDLAND FAIR GROUNDS Neill's Plumbing-Sheet Metal Works Bonded Roofers Midland, Texas Phone 351 "What you want when you want it" P. O. Box 458
