Roosevelt Assured That Congress Will Adjourn by Sat.

PROMISE TO QUIT IS GIVEN PRESIDENT BY SPEAKER BYRNS

Final Agreement on T V A Project Certain

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Speaker Byrns today assured President Roosevelt of the adjournment of Congress by Saturday, in reviewing progress made yesterday by the House.

Byrns said that it was certain that a final agreement would be reached on amendment to the Tennessee Valley Authority, but still described the utilities holding company regulation bill as uncertain.

"We're doing things up there now with one thing in mind," he said "This is to adjourn."

ANOTHER BILL ON WAY TO THE WHITE HOUSE AFTER VOTE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—Another vital administration bill passed the White House today when the Senate passed, without a record vote, the House bill to speed railroad re-organizations.

The measure was designed to re-open the railroad bankruptcy act passed by the Hoover administration.

The Senate today added a minor amendment to the bill which necessitates it going back to the House but it is expected to go to the White House immediately.

CONTEMPT THREAT CAUSES HOPSON TO ADMIT PROFITS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—Threatened with contempt proceedings if he did not answer questions, George C. Hopson agreed today that he and his family had drawn profits of $3,887,000 from the Associated Gas and Electric System from 1929 to 1933.

Hopson acknowledged that during half of the time covered that the utility system was not paying dividends on its stock.

Plane Wreckage Is Sighted in Hills

GLENDLE, Wyo., Aug. 20. (AP)—Flying over Laramie Park, Colo., today George Smith of the highway patrol today sighted the wreckage of the plane in which three Indianapolis air travelers—Burnside Smith, Dick Arnett and Arnett's bride—were believed to have crashed.

The plane had been missing since Thursday. Searchers today are trying to reach the scene of the crash through heavily timbered mountainous country.

METHODIST WMS WILL MEET HERE

An all-day meeting of Methodist missionary societies will be held at the Methodist Church Wednesday, under the direction of Mrs. C. M. Beaswell of Coahoma as zone leader.

Prohibition will be the theme of the day's discussion. Mrs. Hugh Barnes of Midland will present a 10-minute talk with other speakers being supplied by out-of-town groups.

The afternoon will be devoted to instructions for study leaders and Mrs. C. A. Long of Sweetwater, wife of the presiding elder, will be in charge of the discussion.

The meeting will open at 10 o'clock in the morning. At noon a covered dish luncheon will be served at the Methodist annex.

About 30 visitors from other towns are expected to attend. Mrs. B. F. Haug, president of the Midland Methodist Missionary Society said.

"Honesty Is the Best Policy"—No?

Monday morning D. H. Rottger found a set of keys in his office and inherent honesty at once prompted him to find the owner of them.

He immediately made tracks to the Reporter-Telegram office and placed a want-ad in the lost and found column announcing his find so that the loser would not lose any time or be "put out" during the absence of them.

About three o'clock "Doly" found the owner of the keys when he tried to get into his own home. THEY WERE HIS OWN.

Just another example of how quick Reporter-Telegram want ads "deliver."

French Strike Mob Derails Trains

Storming through the railroad yards at Bres, France, a mob of angry strikers left a trail of havoc, wrecked buildings and derailed cars in their wake. At left are two cars torn from the rails by the mob that surges on to another attack. The outbreak was a manifestation of French government employees' displeasure over the recently instituted wage cuts.

BODIES OF ROGERS, POST REACH END OF TRAGIC JOURNEY SLATED 'SOMEWHERE'

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20. (AP)—In a darkened cabin of a huge transport plane the body of Wiley Post began its last aerial voyage today, white thousands waited to pay final homage to Will Rogers, who met death with the aviator in an Alaskan air crash.

Rogers' body lay in Glendale mortuary awaiting public and private funeral services Thursday, as the huge plane sped toward Oklahoma City where services for Post will be held.

The plane took off at eight o'clock, central standard time.

MANAGER MEETING TONIGHT

The softball managers of the league will meet tonight on the court house lawn at 8:30 for a business session. All are requested to be present.

The Life Story of Will Rogers

The Lone Wolf That Nobody Knew

This is the first of four stories revealing those homely sides of Will Rogers which gave him his unique position as First Jester to the American people.

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

"He can't write my life. Nobody can. I have always been a lone wolf. I have always traveled alone and done things alone. Nobody knows much about me."

That was the reply of Will Rogers when he heard that an old friend in Tulsa was going to write his biography.

A strange reply, when you come to think of it. Why, Will Rogers knew more people than any other person in the United States! Will Rogers was Everybody's Pal! He was the Official Jester in the Court of American Public Opinion.

This was the face ("not handsome, but practical," he called it) that launched a thousand banquets and burned the land and sky roads of the country in a restless urge to be everywhere, see everything, meet everybody.

Indian Blood in His Veins

But it was in the early years that Rogers learned to be a lone wolf. It was 40 years ago that his character welded itself into something that was not to change, even when money, success, public adoration, personal happiness, everything a man could ask, came his way. It was in the Cherokee blood that flowed red in the Rogers veins.

Will's father, Clem Vann Rogers, was part Indian. Rogers descended from that most remarkable of Indian tribes, the Cherokees, whose alphabet, oratory, and general sense of civilization marked them off from the savage tribes.

The elder Rogers was a man of substance, owned a good and prosperous ranch, and helped write the constitution of Oklahoma when the Indian Territory was admitted as a state. The county about Claremore, Okla., was named for him. A lifelong ambition to be elected chief of the Cherokee nation, was denied him because he was not a pure-blooded Indian.

School Incurred Dislike

Thus young Will, christened William Penn Adair Rogers, started life in above-average circumstances for the little, dusty, false-front, tin-roof town that was Okemah in the '80s. He was proud of his Indian blood—"When them people came over in the Mayflower, we was already

Western? This Midland Fair's Going To Be Wild! Add Wild Mare Milking Contest

Addition of a wild mare milking contest by the rodeo committee of the Midland Fair today brought the total cash purses of this division, to $2,600, with five prize saddles in addition.

This unique and thoroughly western arena event promises to be one of the wildest shows ever brought before a Midland grandstand. Day money will pay: first $50, second $30 and third $20 for the three shows. The best average for three days will pay: first, $100 saddle; second $50, third $30 and fourth $20. This makes a total for the single event of $400 cash and the 100 saddle.

Rodeo events previously announced include: bull roping, $200 cash and $100 saddle; steer riding, $225 in day money only; bare back bronc riding, $180 day money; bull dogging, $75 total in day money and $50 best average; team roping, $500 cash and $100 saddle; bronc riding, $265 cash and $100 saddle; cowgirls' sponsor contest, $100 saddle, $100 riding habit, hand bag and decorated spurs.

Rodeo programs will be staged at the following hours: Saturday, October 19, 8 p.m.; Sunday, October 20, 2 p.m.; Monday, October 21, 8 p.m.

Rodeo committee members made up purses which they believe will attract the best arena talent of the world to Midland for the October show. Communications already have been received from several outstanding performers, advising that they plan to "come to Midland."

PIONEER HOWARD COUNTY MAN DIES

BIG SPRING, Aug. 20.—Death Sunday took J. G. Carter, 70, pioneer Howard and Glasscock rancher.

Born in Ohio on April 8, 1865, he came to Texas only when 14 years old. In 1886 he moved to Big Spring and has since been one of the outstanding ranchers of the section.

It was on his ranch that a recent experiment in restoring buffaloes to this section was being tried.

Services for Mr. Carter were to be held at 4 p. m. in charge of Rev. Peters, Wesley Memorial pastor, from the First Methodist church.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two sons, J. G. Jr., and Temp Carter. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Allen, Mrs. Geneva Shaffer, Joe Calverly, of Garden City, and Bob Piner and Will Currie of Big Spring.

Funeral services were to be held at 4 p. m. in charge of Rev. Peters, Wesley Memorial pastor, from the First Methodist church.

Burial was to be in the New Mount Olive cemetery.

JEW IN OLYMPIC GAMES CENTER ARE BARRED IN PARKS

BERLIN, Aug. 20. (AP)—Jews in Garnischl-Parkentrichen, international resort and the center of next year's winter Olympic games, found themselves barred from public parks today.

The municipal council issued an order barring all non-Aryans from public recreation centers.

Further weeding out of Jews from public life was reported from Hanover. The Nazi press service announced that "the district of South Hanover-Brunswick is free from Jewish-owned theaters."

Four theaters owned by Jews were locked by police who gave as their reason "the proprietors glaringly offended the Reich fifth law."

PROHIBITIONISTS TO SPEAK FRIDAY

Plans of the county committee on prohibition include talks in various communities of the county on Friday, the day before elections are held, according to Rev. Kenneth C. Minter, pastor of the First Methodist church, who is chairman of the committee.

Rev. Winston Borum, pastor of the First Baptist church is slated to speak at Greenwood Church Friday evening.

Mr. Minter and Claude O. Crane will speak at Cotton Flat on the same evening.

Friday afternoon, Mr. Minter will speak on the proposed constitutional amendments at an all-day picnic for Belmont Bible Class to be held at King's ranch.

Under the direction of Crane, young people of the churches will distribute literature opposing repeal Friday evening.

Methodist young people will be headed by Ray Gwyn and Wesley Shull. The Baptist group will be led by Cecil Waldrep and Miss Obera Hines.

The groups will gather at the Belmont church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Sprinkling of Military Strategy

Not all the solid strategy is worked out at the commanding general's headquarters, as these boys on the 16th Infantry prove at Pine Camp, N. Y., where they are taking part in the biggest peace-time "war" games. Lacking shower baths and running water, they adopted this strategem to get a cooling shower.

One Man Slightly Hurt in Collision

One man was slightly injured about nine o'clock Monday night when two cars collided, turning one of them over at the Wall and Lorraine street intersection.

The occupant of one car was taken by ambulance to a hospital immediately after the wreck but his injuries were found to be only superficial and he was released soon after. Both cars were badly damaged.

Cowboy Cling On Renown Engaged For Midland Fair

John Lindsey, famous cowboy clown who entertained thousands at Stamford and has appeared at many other outstanding rodeos, has been engaged to "clown" at the Midland Fair October 19 to 23. He will get in his work during the three rodeo programs, Saturday night, Sunday afternoon and Monday night.

Lindsey, who is equipped with a trick mule, an educated dun pony and a versatility of mirth provoking stunts, hails from Byers, Texas.

There is nothing in the rodeo category that he cannot do and practically everything he can do, he does "funny." He was first choice of the rodeo committee when they got around to selection of a clown.

Lindsey is especially a favorite among the boys and never fails to get a big hand from children attending the rodeos.

ELECTION PARTY SATURDAY NIGHT

Half-hourly bulletins on the Saturday election will be posted in front of The Reporter-Telegram Saturday night, August 24, beginning shortly after 7 o'clock, giving details of the vote all over Texas on the proposed amendments to the state constitution.

The half-hourly reports will continue until 9 o'clock, with one report each hour thereafter until approximately 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Full results of the count up to that time will be published in the Sunday edition of The Reporter-Telegram.

Furnished by the Texas Election Bureau, the reports will be sent exclusively by telegraph to the bulletin board as early as they are released by the election judge.

The Texas Election Bureau service also will give occasional results of the most important amendments from representative cities of the state.

Karpis Threatens Life of E. Hoover

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—Alvin Karpis, ranked as public enemy number one, has threatened the life of J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the department of justice agents hunting for him. The threat was contained in a letter to Hoover from Ohio a month ago. He refused to comment.

Sought by Federal agents since the $200,000 kidnaping of Edward Bremer in St. Paul last year, Karpis was last seen when he escaped an Atlantic City trap last winter.

PROPOSALS FOR A SITE TO BE MADE PUBLICLY SEPT. 6

Postmaster's Office Is To Receive Bids

Proposals to provide a site for the new Federal Building at Midland, for which approval has been made by the Postoffice department, will be opened publicly in the office of John P. Howe, postmaster, on September 6, 1935. It has been announced by J. Peoples, director of procurement.

An advertisement, complying with the legal requirements, is to be started in The Reporter-Telegram on Monday, August 26, outlining the nature of proposals to be made by property owners. A copy of the order, also being posted in the postoffice here.

This step by the postoffice department marks the first official notification in Midland following advice received a week ago from Congressman R. E. Thomason and Senator Tom Connally that the department had approved a federal building for Midland.

Definite amount of the cost had not been determined, although a tentative allocation previously had been set at $38,000.

The site proposals, to be opened at 9 o'clock on the morning of Friday, September 6, provide for the "state or donation to the United States of a lot conveniently located; approximate dimensions, corner lots 125 foot frontage by 180 foot depth, interior lots 150 foot frontage by 180 foot depth.

"Sites having different street frontage dimensions will be considered provided the area is approximately the same. In all cases where possible the bids should be submitted by actual owners of properties located in the area. Documentary evidence of agent's authority must be attached to proposals.

"Upon application, the Postmaster will supply prospective bidders with proposal blanks and a circular giving particulars as to requirements and instructions for preparation of bids and data to accompany same."

No definite information has been given out by local property owners as to sites to be offered. The United States postoffice department, in the new Federal Building here, although it has been indicated that spirited competition may be offered to attract the building to various locations in the business section.

Congressman R. E. Thomason, in a recent telegram to The Reporter-Telegram, said he expected actual construction on the project to be started this fall.

White Boys Get Bell Boy Posts At The Scharbauer

Ten white bell-boys took their posts in Hotel Scharbauer at noon today, replacing the corps of negro boys used since the hotel began operation.

W. H. Farmer, who assumed the management of the hotel less than a month ago, coming here from Clovis, said he made the change in the belief that it is to the best interest of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, and to the hotel itself.

"Several of the boys I have engaged are college students or college graduates," Farmer said. "Five of the ten have worked for me before and I know they are dependable. All are experienced and will conduct their duties in a creditable and high class manner."

HOUSE AND SENATE REACH AGREEMENT ON NEW TAX BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—The Senate and House Conference Committees today reached a final agreement on the $250,000,000 tax bill, leaving out the new inheritance levies proposed by President Roosevelt instead of the inheritance taxes.

The bill agreed upon would increase the estate and gift tax rates.

WEST TEXAS EDITORS TAKE A STAND

A few minutes prior to adjournment of the annual convention of the West Texas Press Association, at Big Spring Saturday, editors attending the meeting voted loud "Noes" to a resolution which would have pledged their support to the Texas Centennial.

Perhaps even some West Texas citizens were shocked by the action. Perhaps many in eastern sections of the state charged the West Texans with disloyalty. Perhaps some explanation should be offered of the editorial action.

However, one who has made even a precursory study of the allocation of funds can readily find the reason. Certain West Texas editors, and loyal West Texans who had appeared on the convention program, showed that of the $3,000,000 of original Centennial appropriations, all had been allotted except $200,000, and not a cent had gone to the western half of the state.

If all of the $200,000 which remains should be allotted to West Texas cities, towns or places of historic interest, the injustice still would be so great that little support from this area would be merited.

Appropriations already allotted include: Dallas, $1,200,000; Austin, $225,000; Houston, $250,000; San Antonio, $250,000; Gonzales, $50,000; Victoria-Goliad, $50,000; advertising, $500,000; monument to pioneer woman, $25,000.

With the exception of the Hon. Coke Stevenson of Junction, all members of the commission of control live in the eastern half of the state. All members of the advisory board of Texas historians live at Austin and Houston.

West Texas will pay 42 per cent of the taxes required to defray the cost of celebrating the hundredth anniversary of Texas independence. Will West Texas have any part in the Centennial? Yes! Just like the citizens of Maine or California. West Texans may attend the Centennial by paying the gate fee.

WERE YOU IN RANGER?

Boyce House, genial staff member of The Fort Worth Star-Telegram and formerly editor of a Ranger newspaper, has a book which should appeal to every Texan, to West Texans in particular, to oil men everywhere and to any reader of exciting literature.

"Were You In Ranger?" is the title of a thrilling oil boom story which might have taken place anywhere but which actually transpired in Ranger, Texas. The book is announced by the Tardy Publishing Company of Dallas.

"Bigger than the California rush of '49! Bigger than the Klondike! Biggest rush of all," says the publishing house.

To freshen the memory of those who witnessed the memorable boom which made history for Ranger, Breckenridge, Cisco, Desdemona and Eastland, the publishers ask:

"Do you remember the sled that hauled folks across the mud on Main street in Ranger? The cemetery that was not for sale? The gun-fight in which three men were killed? Mud-hole Johnny? Jess Willard, heavyweight champion? The Belgian Count who fought a driller? Tex Rickard? Rex Beach? Billy-Sunday? Jake Hamon? John Ringling?"

Such interesting memories, compiled in ten years of hard work by Boyce House, make up a permanent and authentic record of a tremendous chapter in Texas' history and in oil history.

Sediment in Cream Indicates Quality

While the amount of sediment in cream cannot always be used as a measure of quality, it does serve as a good indicator for the care that was used in producing and handling the cream on the farm. The sediment disk presents indisputable evidence, not only to the cream buyer, but also to the producer, of the relative cleanliness of the cream. While a cream sediment disk may not mean that the cream is first grade, it does show that the producer is using care in keeping his cows and utensils clean.

There is considerable correlation between the keeping qualities of cream and the amount of sediment present in the cream. Good cream which is clean will keep longer than dirty cream. The type of sediment present will also have considerable effect upon the keeping qualities of cream.

The following kinds of sediment of animal or plant origin may be found in cream: barnyard manure, flies, ants, straw, feathers, dirt, and even small rodents. The presence of any of this foreign matter in cream is rather conclusive proof that the producer has been very careless in the production and handling of his cream, and this type of cream should be condemned as being unfit for human consumption. In some cases its presence is due to lack of information as to correct methods, and in others it is due to a general lack of observing sanitary methods. The first is more easily remedied than the second.

The Town Quack advertisement featuring a cartoon of a man with a quack and the text 'Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.'

Stephen Bolles, editor of the Jamesville (Wis.) Daily Gazette, quotes the following condensed paragraph about a newspaperman: "Somebody wishes to know the qualifications of an ideal newspaperman. There isn't any such individual, but if there were, he would be as fast in action as an electric fan and as patient as Job; he would have the endurance of 20 and the vision of 70; he would brushing the flanks and thighs before milking; the use of small-top buckets will also help in eliminating these hairs. Cotton disk filters will eliminate them entirely from the milk as they cannot pass through the cotton strainer pad.

Ants, flies, feathers, small rodents, etc., most of these types of sediment gain entrance after the cream has been separated and while it is being held on their arm prior to delivery to their tying station its presence indicates carelessness in handling the cream. Cream should be stored in neither a stone crock or well-timed can. The crock or can should have a loose fitting lid which will come down over the top side of the can or crock. The practice of tying muslin cloth over the top of the cream can will prevent the entrance of small red ants, dust and sand.

Curd sediment: Sometimes the sediment pad will show small and rather uniform sized lumps of curd. Usually this indicates that the cream is of high acid or has been held at a high temperature, or both. Frequent stirring of the cream during cooling, stirring the cream thoroughly each time a new batch is added and again just before delivery will assist materially in remedying this defect. While it is not as serious as the other types of sediment it does prevent an accurate butter fat test from being made because a representative sample cannot be taken.

Baptist Women Hold Circle Study Meetings Monday

Study meetings were held by all three circles of the Baptist WMU Monday afternoon at the homes of members.

Annie Barron circle met with Mrs. J. O. Vance, 110 W. Louisiana, at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. J. M. White brought a Bible lesson on the subject of service.

After the lesson, a social hour was held and refreshments were served to: Meses. A. C. Francis, John Hix, F. H. Lanham, Martha Holloway, J. O. Nobles, A. W. Wyatt, Geo. Phillips, B. C. Girdley, White, and the hostess.

The Evangelists circle, meeting with Mrs. D. C. Musslewhite, finished the study of the mission lesson book "The Wandering Jew in Brazil." Mrs. H. S. Collings led the study.

Present were: Meses. D. M. Ellis, Collings, Herbert King, O. C. Dodson, O. J. Hubbard, and the hostess.

Mrs. Claude Crane was hostess to the Lucille Reagan circle meeting at 3:30 o'clock at the Crane home, 507 N. Colorado.

The devotional was read by Mrs. E. O. Walker and the study hour was occupied with a lesson from the mission study book.

Refreshments were served later to Meses. H. B. Dunagan, S. L. Alexander, Locksley Hall, N. W. Bigham, Roy Tillman, W. W. Wimberly, J. H. Williamson, Hale, E. O. Walker, R. V. Lawrence, and the hostess.

Mrs. Haag Hostess To Circle Meetings Of Methodists

All circles of the Methodist Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. B. F. Haag, president, Monday afternoon with the Belle Bennett circle in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. M. J. Allen opened the meeting with prayer.

Program topics were taken from "Workers in Rural Villages of Korea" by Susie Peach Foster.

Mrs. M. V. Coman spoke on "Working in Rural Villages" and Mrs. J. M. Haygood discussed "Entering a Village on Foot."

Mrs. Coman dismissed the meeting with benediction, after which refreshments were served by the Laura Haygood circle.

Present were: Meses. Allen, Coman, Rea Suidori, Sam Preston, L. L. Payne, A. J. Norwood, Luther Tidwell, W. J. Voliva, Haygood, Cox, J. M. Prothro, Jess Barber, Frank Prothro, Clyde Gwyn, Chas Nolan, C. C. Watson, Everett Klebold, and the hostess.

Turtles Obstruct Work

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. (AP)—Turtles nearly stopped the work of draining the municipal swimming pool here preliminary to construction work. Large as a dinner plate, they crawled into the 12-inch outlet and snapped food delicacies washed their way, stopping the flow. In a several-hours stretch the pool fell only about a foot.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

After this, we promise to subside and accept properly the refusal of the West Texas Press Convention to endorse the Texas Centennial. But just this once, we'll say what we really think: That is, that whether or not West Texas was slighted in the allocation of funds, the Press Convention, representing leaders of public thought in this region, should have pursued all personal prejudice and voted for the endorsement.

It was the human thing to refuse. It would have been a more magnanimous thing and more in line with the vaunted Texas spirit to have approved the project.

Among imported novelties from Mexico that we've recently seen is a lemonwood cigarette box. It is, of course, conventionally decorated but its attraction comes from the pleasant, fresh lemon smell that exhales from the wood.

Brightly-painted wooden plates from the same land of manana are also attractive. (The merchant who ordered them thinks the phrase "manana" or tomorrow is applicable to the rate at which orders are filled.)

There seems to be no limit to the modern idea of "ensembling." Now there are "puff" sets consisting of two ashtrays and four glass coasters, all in chromium, which are intended to appeal to the hostess desiring all appointments "to suit."

New waffle pitchers resemble mixing bowls equipped with handles and lips. In this way, the batter is easily mixed and poured from the same vessel which is, by the way, a presentable piece for the table when used in soft-colored heavy ware.

Casseroles of ware made for both cooking and serving are available with platters to prevent marring the cloth when put upon the table directly from the oven.

Mrs. Noyes Honoree At Birthday Party At Wyatt Home

Mrs. A. W. Wyatt entertained for Mrs. Iva M. Noyes on the latter's birthday with a party at the Wyatt home, 706 W. Storey Monday evening. Dahlias and other summer blossoms decorated the rooms.

Games of Trivial occupied the evening, after which Marcelline Wyatt, assisted by Darleen and Gertrude Vance, served a party cake. The birthday cake was in green and white.

Present beside the honoree, were: Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. White, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kelly, Mrs. Harold Kelly, Mrs. J. O. Vance, Mr. and Mrs. Otis McClain of Plainview, Billy Noyes, and the host and hostess.

Midland Girl to Enter CIA in Fall

DENTON. (Special to Midland Reporter-Telegram)—Miss May Beth Judkins of Midland is among those students who have reserved rooms at Texas State College for Women (CIA) since July 1. She will register as a freshman on September 16. Miss Judkins, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Judkins, is one of the 1,350 girls who have paid fees in preparation for attendance at the college during the 1935-36 session.

The birthrate in the United States has been declining on an average of 75,000 annually in the past five years.

Sight of Too Much Food May Kill the Child's Appetite

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Tom eats like a pig, but Billy won't eat at all," worried Mrs. Brown. "Honestly, I don't know what the child lives on."

The doctor looked Billy over and asked some questions. Finally, he took a sample of Billy's blood by painless methods, and some other specimens. The boy was a bit underweight for his height, but then he was very tall for his age.

"He seems as fit as a fiddle to me," he announced finally, "but I'll give you a better report Wednesday if you can come in. No, I won't need Billy again. Go home and play and have a good time, lad. You are as sound as a nut."

On Wednesday the test reports from the laboratory were good—excellent. "The chemistry of the blood was balanced and showed no increased defense against toxins of any sort. Calcium and so on were all right. No sugar or other signs of kidney trouble."

"Then what is it, doctor?"

"Well—a number of things. Very possibly he has a digestive system that absorbs one hundred per cent nourishment out of everything he does eat. Very possibly, too, he was born to be tall and thin and never will weigh what is considered standard. He's as straight as a gun-rod and his eyes are sparkling and clear. If he was ill he would show signs of perpetual fatigue, be nervous and cross and either be too sleepy or not sleepy enough."

"But why does Tom eat so much?"

"Tell me, what do you have for a regular meal—say, dinner in the evening?" The doctor's eyes swept over Mrs. Brown's thick figure and her very heavy arm.

"I set a good table, Doctor," she retorted, misunderstanding him. "I have good thick cuts of meat—Charles, my husband, likes potroast with thick tomato sauce, or steak smothered in onions. And potatoes, two or three vegetables, and biscuit or rolls and a couple of kinds of jam and pickles or relish. Then always dessert. Roly-poly or pie or raisin and rice pudding. Oh, yes, there's always a big dish of fruit somewhere, too. I will say that about Billy. He does eat fruit."

About Mountainous Meals

The doctor sighed. He had a short appetite himself. "Mrs. Brown," he said, "don't be offended, but if I had to sit down to a table

For Bright Fall Days

Of course, you don't have to play croquet to get an excuse to wear this delightful jacket frock. It's good for any outdoor activities of early fall, the jacket providing protection from too balmy breezes or the sun. Note that Genevieve Tobin wears a scarf stuffed into the low neckline.

PERSONALS

Miss Fannie Cambron of Dallas is visiting her aunt, Mrs. H. E. Mrs. H. E. Skipper.

Mrs. O. A. Reynolds and children have returned from East Texas where they have been visiting relatives and friends for the past six weeks.

International Fashion Influence

GLADYS PARKER

The exciting new fall fashions have international glamour, with their Oriental influence, Tyrolean jackets, Scotch plaids and lumberjack trends.

For classroom wear a football games and general tearing about, the outfit shown at the top of the sketch couldn't be more appropriate. It is a sturdy affair inspired by a lumberjack's outfit.

The skirt of plaid wool, has a pleated back for action and a zipper opening at the throat. The skirt, of green corduroy, has a wide self belt buckled snugly over its front zipper opening.

The pleated skirt, always a favorite of the schoolgirl, is back again. The costume at top right is in a wool plaid and the pants are situated to just below the hip. The accompanying jacket is velveteen with shining buttons.

Capes will be very popular this year and the flattering hooded version shown at the lower left sketch in ermine is almost glamorous in its "lapin cousin" copy.

Evening clothes show drapery at the knee, bodice or all the way up the front.

The street frock of heavy crepe at the bottom center illustrates the wide front flare, starting at the waistline. The peaked cap of velveteen is worn on the back of the head to reveal the youthful face.

The Oriental influence is strongly felt in the harem skirt on the larger figure. The young dancing set will find plenty of room for tangling in these wide, wide pantaloons that look exactly like a skirt when not in action.

The brief bolero of red velvet is completely studded with sparkling rhinestones.

REFRIG-O-METER

NOTHING TO BUY—NO OBLIGATION

WHAT IT DOES

Simply hang the Refrig-o-meter in your refrigerator. It will show you whether the food compartment temperature is within the "Safety Zone"—below 50 degrees and above 32 degrees. A printed slip comes with each Refrig-o-meter. You paste this on the inside of your refrigerator door. It tells you how to get the utmost in hot weather performance from your ice box or mechanical refrigerator.

No matter what kind of a refrigerator you have—ice or mechanical—you should know at all times whether the temperature in the food compartment is safely below 50 degrees. Temperatures above this mark cause food to spoil.

We are giving away these handy little Refrig-o-meters to anyone who owns a refrigerator, so that refrigerator temperatures may be known with certainty. Watch your refrigerator temperatures these hot days with a Refrig-o-meter. Remember, it is free. It is not an ordinary thermometer, but made especially for refrigerator use. Just step into our store and ask for yours today.
