High Lights In Career of Long, State's Dictator

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Highlights in the career of Huey Pierce Long:
Born August 30, 1893, in a modest farm in Winnfield, La., the seventh child in a family of 11.
At 16, deserted his family's cotton farm for the road, leaving high school to become a traveling salesman of cooking utensils.
At 19, arrested in Shreveport, accused of being involved in a shooting scrape, cleared by an alibi of Rose McConnell, who proved he was in a theatre with her.
At 20, married Miss McConnell, bore him two sons and a daughter.
In ten months of intense cramming, finished a law course at Tulane university and in 1915 was admitted to the bar, passing a special examination.
Three years later elected to the Louisiana state board of railroad commissioners, the start of his political career.
Almost immediately began the legal fight that made him forever a foe of the Standard Oil company, winning a case for independent oil companies before the public service commission.
At 30, ran unsuccessfully for governor of Louisiana; elected governor four years later, in 1928.
His campaign to oust political foes caused a storm that in 1929 brought impeachment proceedings in the legislature, which he defeated in a close battle by one senate vote.
In 1930, was elected to the senate on a democratic ticket, simultaneously consolidating his political control of Louisiana by engineering the gubernatorial election of O. K. Allen.
In 1932, headed a democratic committee to the national convention in Chicago and supported Roosevelt.
In January of this year, declared himself an independent liberal if the democrats nominated Roosevelt and the republicans Herbert Hoover.

U. S. DESIRES PEACE — BUT KEEPS POWDER DRY

The United States fleet having maneuvered extensively in the Pacific and the United States army having gone through its war-like paces in the Adirondacks, this summer might be recorded as the one in which Uncle Sam oiled up his quirel rifle, whetted his bowie knife on his boot, and let the neighbors know that he was ready for anything anyone cared to start.

It looks, in other words, as if we have gone in for militarism in a big way. But the give-away—the straw that shows which way the wind really is blowing—was contributed not by the army and navy, but by Congress.

Right at the tail end of everything, Congress passed an unprecedented new war-time embargo law. It didn't go as far as it might have, but the law was unmistakably designed to keep the country out of war, and within certain limits it ought to be highly effective.

This pacifistic gesture, coming on the heels of the greatest double-barreled display of military and naval might we ever put on in peace time, seems like a contradiction. As a matter of fact, it was not. This country is as fond of peace as it ever was... but the post-war years have at last taught it something.

Beginning in 1922, the United States government devoted a full 10 years to the cause of naval arms reduction. After the Washington treaty it scrapped the mightiest warships ever built. Thereafter it studiously refrained from building up to treaty limits, and it went to conference after conference in an effort to get naval limits down still farther.

All this went, as the saying goes, for Mr. Sweeney. The riveting hammers are clanging in shipyards all the way from Japan to Germany. And if, after all this wasted effort, Uncle Sam decides to exercise his fleet out beyond the Hawaiian somewhere—well, who can blame him?

And as for the army maneuvers... well, by superhuman effort we managed to get 36,000 soldiers, counting National Guardsmen, in one spot at one time. And just as we were getting through with this display of military might, Italy put on her own war games and paraded an army of 500,000 men—as if to remind us that our army is a mere pigmy compared with the armies of the other great powers.

It would be foolish to say that this summer has seen the United States swinging toward militarism. That munitions embargo law is the real tip-off on how the nation feels about war.

The army and navy exercises were nothing more than common sense preparations for the unexpected.

$500,000 FOR A BOOK!

It is hard to imagine even the most devoted book lover paying as much as $500,000 for one book—not an old book, valuable to collectors, but a brand-new publication just off the press, valuable solely for its narrative. Yet that is the price which has been set for "The Mint," the last book written by the late Lawrence of Arabia. Ten copies will be published and offered at that figure.

There's a catch in it, of course. Lawrence wrote "The Mint" to express his bitterness of heart against some of the leading British statesmen who, he felt, had ruined his own work in Arabia. The book can't well be circulated until all these statesmen are dead. It is being published now to protect the copyright—and that $500,000 price tag is just to make certain that no one will buy it.

It is also, incidentally, a fine bit of advance press-agency, against the time when the book is actually released to the public.

FEMININE FANCIES

We seem to be unfortunate in our choice of adjectives recently. We've been asked to define "strong," to explain what we meant by "fine-drawn," and taken to task for using "efficient" when we've been asked why we didn't write of world events.

Well, we still maintain we said just what we meant—or, at least, what we wanted to say.

Speaking of world events, there is something admirable to us in the story of the return of the expedition which went to the wilds of Central Asia to hunt for new drought-resisting plants to be introduced into the United States.

To us, the development, through long years of experiment, or through tedious journeys of research of better plants with which to feed and clothe the people of the world has a certain flavor of heroism, just as authentic, if not as colorful, as those acts which bring front-page headlines to the doers.

Paul de Krieff, in a fascinating book called "Hunger Fighters," tells the story of men like these Gobi desert plant seekers, men who worked for years to perfect a wheat that would mature 14 days earlier in order to escape the killing cold; men who fought cholera among hordes in order to save the country's meat supply; men who, again and often unrewarded, fought the encroachment of hunger among humans.

We take off our hat to the men who bring home new foods. The average weekly attendance at the picture theatres in this country is said to be 3,000,000. That means that about three out of every five men, women, and children in the United States see at least one show a week.

Didn't some wise man whose name we've forgotten say, "Let me write the songs of a nation and I care not who writes the history?" It seems more appropriate now to say, "Let me film the pictures of a nation and I'll make the history."

We have a theory that whatever is consistently held up before the youth of a nation will be reflected in its character. If the good and noble and beautiful are held up, then, to a certain extent at least, those things will come into the lives of the beholder. This overlong dwelling on the sins of the world and of one's fellow citizens, even in the form of condemnation, is unhealthy for the reason. A mind that is focused on sin has too little time to develop purity and beauty.

Remove Old Makeup Before Applying New, Says Kay

By ALICIA HART, NEA Service Staff Writer
To have a really lovely skin, translucent and young looking, a woman always must remove—and I mean thoroughly—remove—all old makeup before applying new," says Kay Francis, one of the most beautiful stars in Hollywood.

"Of course, there are times during the day or evening when a nose gets shiny and has to be dusted with powder. But this should be done seldom and as little powder as possible should be used.

"At all other times, a girl must take off her old makeup before putting on a new layer. I think a liquid preparation that cleans the skin and, at the same time, serves as a foundation ought to have a place in every fastidious woman's pocketbook.

"In my own handbag I carry a small bottle of my favorite liquid cleanser which I can use at a moment's notice. Then, with one small, but well-equipped vanity case containing powder, rouge and lipstick, I am able to run into a dressing room and give myself a fresh makeup as quickly and in

The mystery game of "The Magic Wagon" furnished amusement—and puzzlement—for the remainder of the evening.

Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Gee, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Colter Richardson, Miss Alice Powell, Miss Jamie Lawson, Miss Alline Farris Lubbock; Miss Ellen Potter, Charles Hitt, Hershel Anderson, Lee English, Jack Hitt, J. much more satisfactory manner than I could repair the old. I believe the first rule in good grooming should be never to wear make-up in layers."

"This advice is not only extremely sound, but unusually easy to follow. Putting on layer after layer of powder and rouge grinds dust and dirt into the pores and gives the skin a rather grayish, unhealthy look. It behooves every woman who values her appearance to carry a cleanser and a few pieces of clean cotton in her bag.

When rouge lumps faded and powder has disappeared in spots, removal of old and application of new cosmetics is the ideal procedure.

To dab a bit of color here and a touch of powder there is just about as satisfactory as the job the landlord does when he tells you he can redecorate, but that he will touch up your apartment so it will look just like new.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

You hear all sorts of comment about the assassination of Huey Long. Some say it was good riddance, some say he had it coming to him. Some say he was a menace to the nation and dangerous to society.

Another slant, as one man expressed it, is that he had brains, and in view of the scarcity of them it was a shame to destroy him.

Huey Long is dead. Regardless of what was said for him or against him he was one of the most powerful men of the nation, of all times. Ruthless in his tactics, he ran rough shod over opposition, setting up a veritable dictatorship in his home state of Louisiana.

Apparently he was ambitious to set up such a dictatorship in the United States, as he announced a month ago that he would be a candidate for the presidency.

Yet, he stood out as a friend to the common man. Maybe his friendliness to the common people was genuine, maybe it was socialistic. His share-the-wealth plan made him thousands of followers and had much logic to it.

But the sudden termination of his career reminds us that America is a democracy and that there is no room for dictators. The unfortunate Dr. Weiss, a political enemy who was enraged at Long for personal reasons, probably knew that he was committing suicide when he fired the fatal shot, making himself a target for the guards who would tolerate no attack on their leader. Some have expressed the opinion that the assassination was fore-ordained and that Dr. Weiss was the chosen victim who removed this unusual and powerful figure from his position which affected the entire nation. I'm not a fatalist, so I do not take that view, but I see in the tragedy the inevitable termination of any career which departs radically from the principles of freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of politics and any other kind of American freedom. Americans won't be subjects of a dictator.

42 MEN ANSWER FOR FIRST PRACTICE SESSION AT S.M.U.; 22 ARE LETTERMEN

DALLAS, Sept. 10.—When Coaches Matty Bell, Vic Hurt, and Charlie Trigg called the roll for the first practice of the Southern Methodist Mustang football team on the morning of Sept. 10, 42 men will answer present. Of this number 22 will be lettermen from the 1934 team, which gave a very good account of itself. In addition to the lettermen, there will be three squadmen and 17 sophomores. This is very near the ideal squad, with 16 seniors, nine juniors, and 17 sophomores, including eight ends, seven tackles, seven guards, three centers, and 17 backs. The Southern Methodist coaching staff presents an entirely new setup for the opening of the 1935 season. For the first time in 12 years the Mustangs will be without the services of Ray Morrison, Matty Bell has been elevated to the post of head coach and will fill that position for the first time this fall. Bell has chosen for his assistants Vic Hurt from Oklahoma Baptist and Charlie Trigg from Highland Park high school. Hurt comes to Southern Methodist with quite an enviable record at Oklahoma Baptist University. He served as football coach, basketball coach, track coach and athletic director for 10 years and will be quite an asset to intercollegiate athletics at Southern Methodist. Charlie Trigg returns to his alma mater as freshman coach after several years' experience as head coach at Highland Park high school. This fills out the new and very efficient staff. The Mustangs are being captained by Mace Stewart, end, Harry Shuford, fullback, and J. C. Wetzel, guard. The squad will be composed of Southern Methodist players, Tipton, Carroll, Colville, Acker, Ransport, and Wisenbaker; tackles, Spain, Orr, Sanders, Weant, Phillips, Griggs, and Jones; guards—

Chevrolet Delivers 99,000 New Cars

DETROIT, Mich.—Chevrolet delivered to retail consumers 99,018 new cars and trucks in August, eclipsing its July sales by 24,979 units and setting an all-time August record. It was announced here today by W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co. August sales were 33,623 greater than in the same month last year, and exceeded every other August in the history of the company including August, 1928. This August's sales exceeded the 1928 record by 4,100 units, Holler said. Commenting on the heavy volume registered in a month which normally sees a slackening off of automobile business, Holler cited the Chevrolet sales record as added evidence of improved business. "The fact that our volume increased so sharply over its total for July—itself an excellent month—shows undiminished confidence in the country's buying power is increasing, and that there is not only the ability but also a universal willingness on the part of the public to buy," he said. "We were especially gratified at the uniformity of the improvement in conditions. Every one of the Chevrolet regions showed a splendid increase, and our forecasts further favorable developments for the remainder of the year."

SOFTBALL TEAMS TO RESUME PLAY AGAIN TONIGHT

After more than a week's delay due to inclement weather the softball schedule will be resumed tonight when the Cox Motor Company and the Conoco tangle in the first game and the Midland Hardware and the Gulf Refining Company tangle in the nightcap. With the regular season scheduled to end Thursday night, it is doubtful if the games which were rained out will be played off as the result of scores of them could not make any material change in the standings of the league. The Hughes Tool, Southern Ice, Gulf and Hardware have already cinched their places in play-off series. What teams will oppose each other in the first of the play-off games will be decided by the managers of the league some time this week. Last year the teams finishing first and fourth met in a series while the second and third place teams met in the winners meeting in the finals. If the same system is followed this season the game tonight will decide which of the two teams, Hughes Tool, will decide which team will finish in third place and thereby avoid meeting the Hughes team in the first play-off game. The Gulf is only one-half game ahead of the Hardware and they will change places after tonight's game if the Hardware team is the winner in the Southern Ice is roosting in second place, one game ahead of the Gulf but with the Cox Motor as their opposition in the first game tomorrow night there is little danger of them being forced lower in the standings.

Information Rec'd On Gov't Subsidies

COLLEGE STATION.—Information as to procedure in obtaining the Federal government's adjustment or subsidy payments for the 1935 crop has been received by F. E. Lichte, Agricultural Adjustment Administration field representative with headquarters at Texas A & M College. All producers who are eligible to participate in the 1935 adjustment program, but regardless of whether they participated in the 1935 program. The producer who made the 1935 Bankhead application, or his successor in interest, will submit application for the subsidy, according to Mr. Lichte's information. The subsidy will be the difference between the average of the ten spot markets on date of sale and twelve cents, middling 1/8 basis, but the maximum payment cannot be more than two cents a pound. The total poundage subject to subsidy is the amount of the producer's Bankhead allotment. Application for payments are to be made to county agents. A disbursing section probably will be set up in Texas to make payments about Dec. 15, 1935 and March 15, and Aug. 15, 1936.

TRI-STATE FAIR TO OPEN SATURDAY

AMARILLO, Texas, Sept. 10.—Saturday of this week marks the opening of the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. Then follow seven days packed with excitement and entertainment, ending Saturday, September 21. Horse races, a daily feature of the exposition, start a day earlier—Friday, September 13. From every standpoint, fair association officials predict, this year's exposition will be the most interesting, instructive and intriguing ever held in the Southwest. With no state fair this year at Dallas, it will be the largest. All exhibits with the possible exception of a few livestock herds from distant states, will be in place when the fair opens. "Every effort will be made to have the exposition as complete as the opening day as on the closing day," said Wilbur C. Hawk, president, who predicts more and better entries and a larger attendance than during any of the 12 previous years. In addition to thrilling races every day, there will be other major attractions. Snider's three-ring circus, featuring Jack Hoxie, screen star, who will appear in person at each performance, will be at the fair beginning Monday, Sept. 16. Beckman & Greney, owners and operators of the largest midway shows in the United States, will come direct from Detroit and probably will open a day before the fair. There will be other amusements, too. O. L. "Ted" Taylor, secretary-manager, declared every department of the exposition would be complete, revealing the best in agriculture, industry and art in the Southwest. "Livestock exhibits specially will be unsurpassed anywhere," he said. "Visitors to the Tri-State Fair will see the same noted herds entered at the American Royal in Kansas City or at the International in Chicago." Many of these herds are sent to the exposition by foremost breeders from distant states. "Make arrangements now to attend the Tri-State Fair and spend more than one day on the exposition grounds, if possible," suggested Mr. Hawk. "The Tri-State Fair is too large to be seen in one day, particularly if you want to view all of the exhibits and attend some of the many attractions." Many visiting delegations, accompanied by bands, will come to Amarillo during exposition week. These delegations will come by special train and motor caravans. "Nobody left in Groom but the city marshal" is the slogan of that town for its day at the fair. Other towns have issued official proclamations setting aside certain days to visit the fair.

LIQUOR NOW LEGAL IN PARTS OF STATE

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (U.P.)—Constitutional prohibition ended a 16-year stay in Texas Monday night. The prohibition against possession and sale of liquors went out of the fundamental law with issuance by Governor Alfred of a proclamation declaring results of the Aug. 24 election. The official canvass of the vote showed repeal carried 297,597 to 250,097. Legal in 12 Counties Sale of intoxicants became legal immediately in 12 counties and in one or more subdivisions of 50 other counties under a ruling of Attorney General William McGraw that sales may be made without restraint in political entities that were wet under local option prior to statewide prohibition. The Dean law, prohibition enforcement statute, remained in force in local option dry territories. The attorney general held sales in local option wet subdivisions could be made without regulation of taxation pending enactment by the legislature of regulatory statutes. The legislature has been called for Sept. 16 to pass a law regulating the liquor traffic. Results of the election were certified despite failure of eight counties to report. They were Bristow, Kimble, Maron, Randall, McMullen, Farmer, San Augustine and Stonewall. Wet counties of those in which sales are legal in one or more subdivisions according to records of the comptroller were, Austin, Bastrop, Bexar, Blanco, Brazos, Brewster, Calhoun, Cameron, Colorado, Comal, Dallas, Dallas, Dewitt, Duval, El Paso, Falls, Fayette, Fort Bend, Galveston, Gillespie, Goliad, Gonzales, Guadalupe, Harris, Hidalgo, Jefferson, Karnes, Kendall, Kerr, Kinney, LaSalle, Lavaca, Lee, Live Oak, Llano, Maverick, McLennan, Medina, Menard, Milam, Orange, Presidio, Robertson, San Patricio, Starr, Tarrant, Terrell, Tom Green, Travis, Val Verde, Victoria, Waller, Washington, Webb, Wharton, Wichita, Williamson, Wilson, Zapata. Three precincts in Midland county are still legally dry. Warfield, wet when the prohibition law was passed in Texas, is the only one that is legally wet.

Big Spring Lawyer Presides Over Court

BIG SPRING, Sept. 10.—Charles Sullivan, local lawyer, was appointed Monday as special judge to preside over the 70th district court during the absence of Judge Charles Klapproth. Klapproth left Monday morning for Fort Stockton after Governor James V. Alfred had called him, requesting that he set aside a vacation and take the court. Sullivan was appointed special judge. One of his first acts as judge was to sentence Riley Waugh to 45 days in jail and revoke his driving license for 6 months as the result of guilty plea to a driving drunk charge. Waugh was indicted for figuring in a collision with Roy Coombs south of here several weeks ago, damaging the Coombs car to the extent of $247 and inflicting a knee injury to Coombs. The case of A. N. Norris vs. Travellers and General Insurance company, suit to set aside award, was continued. Petit jurors for the second week were told to meet Wednesday 9 a.m. A guilty plea from P. J. Franks on a drunk driving charge was to be heard Monday afternoon.

Our Modern Homes Did you know that according to actual survey that 60% of the way any mechanical work is done and the finish it has when work is completed depends upon the tools that are used and the working condition they are in? The other 40% is in the workman that uses the tool. No man can make a job finish up as it should without good tools and equipment. Our different departments are equipped with the best of tools and then there are experienced men to use them; therefore, our work is bound to please; our men do not cuss their tools—they work with them! Actual survey also shows that the man with poor tools to work with does 20% less work in the same time that the man with good tools will do; hence, you pay more. Why? Is it because you have never figured this out for yourself, or is it prestige? Well, at any rate you are entitled to what you pay for. Lubbock Designated NYA Headquarters LUBBOCK, (U.P.)—Lubbock has been designated as headquarters for about 100 counties under the National Youth Administration setup. Representative George Mahon announced at Washington, D.C., that Mahon advised that the Lubbock district would extend from Amarillo to El Paso and that another office probably would be established at Dallas. He said he recommended Lubbock because it is the site of Texas Technological College and because it is a logical center from which to direct NYA activities in West Texas. Lyndon Johnson, Texas director for the Youth Administration, is expected here soon to direct establishment of the office. The $50,000,000 youth program was designed to train and provide work for about 300,000 persons from the ages of 16 to 25.
