Peak of Appropriations Reached, President Says

Harvest Queen

Decreasing Deficit Forecast in Talk At Atlanta

By Associated Press
ATLANTA, Nov. 29 — President Roosevelt told the Georgia Homecoming Day crowd today that the government has passed the "peak of appropriation." He announced substantial achievements by the administration toward the employment goal.

"We can look forward with assurance to a decreasing deficit," he said. "As things stand today and in the light of definite and continuing economic improvement, we have passed the peak of appropriation. Revenues, with imposition of new taxes, are increasing."

Repeating his determination to end the deficit, the president said 3-120,000 were off of relief and were working last Wednesday. He said orders already had been issued for the remainder of 3,500,000 employable to go to work.

He compared financial conditions today and in "those dark, perilous years before the crash."

"We were insolvent," he said. "Today we are solvent."

CLIPPER GREETED WITH ACCLAIM AT MANILA LANDING

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 29. (AP)—The Chinese Clipper, four minutes late on the first trans-Pacific airmail flight in history, alighted on Manila Bay amid wild acclaim.

The enthusiasm of thousands swarming the Bay and water front caused the Clipper's failure to land exactly on time, completing the 8,000 mile hop from California. Numerous small craft on the Bay caused the Clipper to proceed cautiously.

The first letter delivered was from President Roosevelt to Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine Commonwealth.

Scouting Bombers Are Here Overnight

Five planes landed on Sloan Field on Thanksgiving Day with four of them remaining overnight.

The four were scouting bombers of the SBUI type in charge of Lieut. Clark. They came from Hensley Field at Dallas and departed this morning for San Diego, planning to stop at El Paso and Tucson, Ariz.

Cadet G. H. Snyder flying an O-34 from El Paso to Brooks Field, made the other landing.

No planes had arrived up until one o'clock today, officials reported.

Injured Woman In Hospital Today

Mrs. J. E. Hill, injured late Wednesday in an automobile accident at Odessa, was reported today as suffering considerably from cuts and bruises, as well as from the shock. She was brought to her home yesterday from an Odessa hospital but this morning was taken to a Midland hospital to be X-rayed to determine whether or not internal injuries had been sustained.

Her son, J. E. Hill, also H. L. Haag of Midland and two Wink boys, all students of Texas Tech., were coming with Mrs. Hill from Lubbock to spend the Thanksgiving holidays at home. Only minor bruises were received by these occupants. Reports had not been received here today from Bettie Joe Burks, small child of Mrs. A. J. Burks, also bruised by the impact of the Burks and Hill cars when they collided on the Andrews-Odessa highway, two blocks north of the intersection of Highway No. 1.

Tomorrow Last Day Split Tax Payment

Final date for taking advantage of the split tax payment plan is Saturday, November 30, it was announced today by Olea Dublin Haynes, deputy tax collector for state and county taxes.

Tax payers may pay half the amount of their 1935 taxes on or before November 30, and the second half by June, 1936. Otherwise, the full amount will be due on or before January 31, 1936, the eight per cent penalty and interest going into effect after that date.

After First Game of Polo, Will Rogers Said He'd Ride to the Poor House With the Rest of the Players

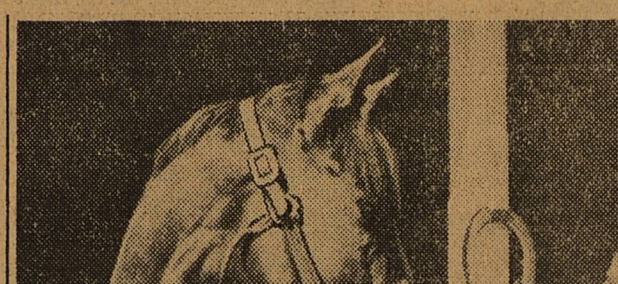

It took a long time to induce Will Rogers to play polo, but once he tried it his conversion was swift and complete, Eric Pedley, of Los Angeles, one of the nation's first ten players, recalls.

"The Midwest Polo Club at Montrey Park, just outside Los Angeles, was in full swing in the early 1920's," Pedley relates. "A number of us playing there had been attempting to arouse Will's interest in the sport where he would come out and try the game with us. Finally we prevailed upon him, and I believe it was Carleton F. Burke who lent Will a pony or two upon which to ride. Will's liking for the game was apparent from the first minute of play. Towards the end of the match, we were riding off the field together, and Will made this classic remark: "Well, boys the bug's sure got me. I'm going to buy me some 'dogs' and ride to the poorhouse with the rest of you fellows."

With the announcement that handicapped children will be the principal beneficiaries of the Will Rogers Memorial Fund, there is a renewed interest in the opportunity of Will Rogers friends to participate in a living, continuing memorial to perpetuate his friendliness to mankind.

HOLIDAY CASUALTIES HEADED BY TWO FIRES TAKING LIVES OF 10

By Associated Press
Ten persons, including four children and three aged victims, were burned to death yesterday in fires which destroyed an apartment house at Fort Worth and a tenant farmer's dwelling near Beaumont.

Six of the victims were claimed in the Fort Worth blaze, which also left 11 injured, some critically. A farmer and his three small children perished near Beaumont while the wife and mother and a sister of the father were outside unable to prevent the four from dying in the flaming building.

Five bodies were recovered by firemen from the charred Hollingsworth in the state, Midland led Texas school children tuberculosis ranks first as cause of all deaths between ages of 15 and 19 years. It ranks third among ages 5 to 9, and fifth among ages 10 to 14 years.

"During the year 1934 tuberculosis claimed the lives of 40,000 people in the state of Texas alone. Among Texas school children tuberculosis ranks first as cause of all deaths between ages of 15 and 19 years. It ranks third among ages 5 to 9, and fifth among ages 10 to 14 years."

Mrs. Sloan, who is a director of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, expressed hope that Midland would remain lead the state in buying Christmas Seals to support the fight against tuberculosis. Last year, out of 48 other local tuberculosis associations in the state, Midland led with a per capita sale of six cents. However, some states have a per capita sale of around ten cents.

DOUBLE MURDER AT COLORADO IS CAUSE OF PROBE

COLORADO, Nov. 29. (AP)—An inquest verdict of double murder was returned Thursday in the deaths of E. W. Toothman, 60, and Wilson Hamel, Colorado youth, about 22, who were found slain early Thanksgiving morning in Toothman's grocery store on highway 1 here.

Officers were studying conflicting theories that the two were victims of a grudge and that robbery was the motive of the crime.

Shot, Clubbed
Toothman, 60-year-old operator of the grocery-filling station where the two lived, had been shot under the left eye, near the nose, and the youth had died of a bullet wound under the right eye. Officers said both had been shot with a 38-caliber revolver. No gun was found. The elder man's head was also battered and the pillow of his bed was blood-soaked.

An early customer at the store found Toothman's body on the floor beside the bed, and Sheriff H. G. Hines called to the scene discovered the body of the younger man, on a cot in the back room of the place. Both apparently had been dead for several hours.

Officers in the grocery store was in place and that Toothman's purse, containing $8 or $9 was found on the bed, led officers to suspect the killing was related to a grudge rather than by an attempt at robbery. On the other hand, the robbery motive was suggested by indications that the perpetrator of the crime had gained admittance to the place before the men retired, probably on pretext of spending the night with them. The door, which Toothman consistently locked at night, was found ajar, opened from the inside, and the key was missing, officers said. One pump of the filling station was also unlocked and the skid gone.

Powder Burns
The youth's face bore powder burns. Toothman's did not. Officers expressed the belief that Hamel was shot first, the report arousing the elder man and that he probably was shot as he sat up in bed, and then clubbed. The head injuries did not penetrate the skull and it was thought the bullet wound caused death.

The younger man, who had been in Colorado only a few weeks, was identified by a card in a bill fold in his pocket, giving the name of C. H. Hamel, route 4, Corsicana, and Miss Thelma Hamel and Miss Grace Hamel, his sisters, communicating with Miss Thelma Hamel, a sister, learned that C. H. Hamel, the father, is in Brownfield and notified him there of the tragedy.

Texas Business, Industry Show Gain

DALLAS, Nov. 29. (AP)—A sharp increase in construction activity in October after the September recession, and mounting sales of department stores, are the salient features of the Monthly Business Review of the Federal Bank of Dallas, released today.

Department store sales in principal cities were two per cent larger than in September and eight per cent above the corresponding month last year. The volume of building permits at principal cities was 55 per cent larger than in the previous month and exceeded the total in October of last year by 110 per cent.

"Developments in business and industry in the Eleventh Federal Reserve district," the Review summarized "were generally favorable during the past month."

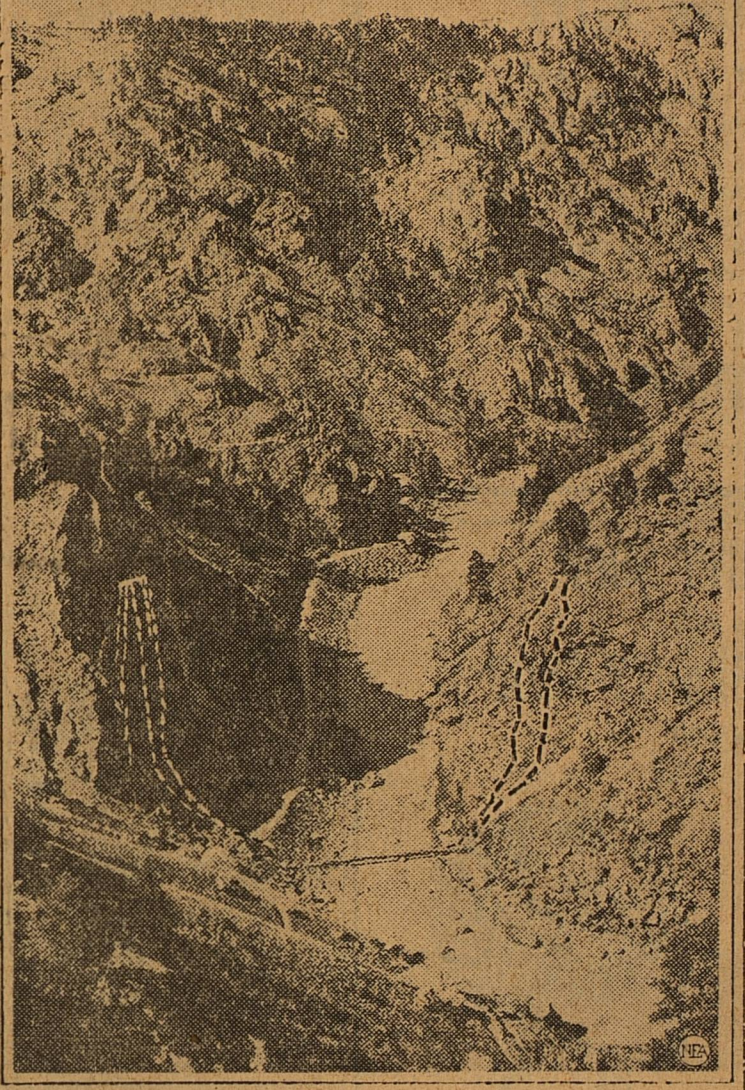

The increase in department store sales between September and October was found, together with the meager remains of the older children's bodies. The baby's body was never located.

Miss Ratliff's Betrothal To Mr. Bailey Announced

Of interest to a wide circle of friends was the announcement made Thanksgiving Day of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Dorothy Ratliff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ratliff and member of one of Midland's pioneer ranch families to Mr. Edmund Ira (Bill) Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Bailey of Waco. The wedding will take place December 21 at Midland.

The announcement was made at a 9 o'clock breakfast for which Mrs. Bill Blevins, sister of the bride-to-be, was hostess at her home, 807 W. Kansas. Pink and yellow rosebuds and bridal wreath decorated the entertaining apartments.

Guests were seated at tables for four which carried out a note of bridal white. Centering each table was a huge white wedding bell topped with a white bow from which white streamers led to the miniature bells at each plate.

Cards thrust into the smaller bells announced the news—"Dorothy and Bailey, Dec. 21, 1935." Place cards were bridal bouquet cut-outs.

A two-course waffle breakfast was served. The honoree was presented with a gift of lingerie and handkerchiefs from the hostess.

Miss Ratliff has been reared in Midland and is a popular member of the younger social set. After graduation from Midland High School, she attended Texas Christian University at Fort Worth and the College of Industrial Arts at Denton.

From the latter institution she received a degree in library science. She is at present employed as secretary to Supt. W. W. Lackey of the city schools.

Mr. Bailey, who formerly was employed by the Petroleum Rectifying company here, is now with the same company in Ashland, Kentucky. He is a graduate of A & M and is an electrical engineer.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

We don't know why but it is the truth that we are often more tired after a holiday than after a day of the usual routine of work. Does that indicate that play is harder than work?

If so, the fact may explain the prevalence of nervous breakdowns and the need for "cures" among those whose only task in life, apparently, is to play.

(All the above is very superficial reasoning, but something must be put down when one has to write a column in eight minutes by the clock. So don't blame us.)

The union church services on the night before Thanksgiving are very nice. But we wonder if more people would not go if they were held on the morning of Thanksgiving Day.

At least we received a couple of inquiries as to whether there would be services on Thanksgiving morning. And the remarks made set us to thinking.

Where there is music in a home, there seems to be less need for amusement. A group can always find pleasure in playing and singing. And in many cases merely in talking, if the music is coming over the radio.

Perhaps we're not turned sensitively enough for we know some people who seem to think it sacrilege to do anything except listen raptly when there is music. But, unless it is exceptionally appealing, we like music just as an background for conversation.

There are no awkward pauses, when music fills the silence. And people seem to be willing to speak their thoughts when the music curtains them round so that the effect is not that of shouting their ideas from the house-tops.

An inquiry has been going around as to why and wherefore of the red lights in the courthouse Wednesday and Thursday nights. Since a great deal of work and worry were connected with the aforesaid illumination, it seems that some explanation should be made.

Have you seen the double-barred cross on the 1935 Christmas seals? Well, there you have the explanation of the red lights. Now, did you guess right?

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brumley of Houston and is a graduate of A&M in the class of 1931.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Kingsbury Jr. of New Franklin, Missouri. She is a graduate of Lindenwood, exclusive finishing schools for girls, and of Central College, Fayette, Missouri.

After a wedding trip the couple will be at home here at 410 W. Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barron and children went to Dallas to spend Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. Carter.

Felix Haltom is here from North Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college visiting his relatives.

Dr. John B. Thomas is leaving tonight for the Rio Grande valley where he has a citrus farm.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

The following clipping is a news item dated from St. Joseph, Mo. I'm not sure which Joe Taylor the story is about, but it sounds very much like one I know: Joe Taylor was downcast today in Buchanan-co jail until he received a letter from home.

Then he grinned. Taylor was arrested on a state warrant, arraigned and committed to jail when he failed to make bond.

Today he received the following letter: "Dear Joe: "Someone stole the door off your house, the cow has been poisoned, and the plaster in two of the rooms upstairs has fallen. Mice ate part of the door of the kitchen cabinet and a man came here and said you promised him he could have 12 quarts of your peaches. I gave them to him. Did you promise him?"

"Some people are living in your other house but won't pay rent and won't get out. Ray and his family are well except Ray who is in poor shape. We are trying to ready the house up for winter. Someone stole the top off your stove and broke two windows. They also stole your crosscut saw and that gallon of sorghum. "I'd have written sooner to tell you they stole your last four chickens but I couldn't find a stamp. The mobs are in your clothes and two of your blankets. Both of the children have mumps. "Harry says he will sign your bond if the weather ever fails up."

EARLY FUMBLE LOSES FOR BULLDOGS AT ODESSA THURSDAY

Sunday Feature at Ritz Is Breezy Hit

Sparkling with bright dialogue, uproarious comedy and breezy performances by its stars, "Hands Across the Table" which comes to the Ritz Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, should be marked down on your list of "musts" as a delectable bit of sprightly nonsense you shouldn't miss.

This laugh provoking, entertaining vehicle also gives the seductive, blond Carole Lombard an opportunity her talents in a totally different role. In place of her customary gorgeously gowned sophisticated lady characterizations, the fetching Miss Lombard discloses an amazing flair for light comedy in her portrayal as a poor, but attractive and ambitious manicurist, and she emerges as an able comedienne, delivering her lines with a delightfully sarcastic, infectious gaiety.

Fred MacMurray, as a penniless young playboy, gives his most engaging and skillful performance of his short but promising screen career. This personable young actor reveals himself as a deft comedian, master of snappy patter. His lively utterances provoke most of the hilarious moments in the film as he has a rare gift of enjoying his role for the pure fun of it.

FIRST THREE MINUTES OF PLAY TELL FINAL 6-0 STORY AS ODESSA RECOVERS

Conversion of a Midland fumble into a touchdown in the first three minutes of play spelled the final score of the Odessa-Midland high school Thanksgiving game at Odessa Thursday, the tussle ending Odessa 6, Midland 0.

A crowd of 3,000 fans at Fly field, watched Odessa's highly touted backfield star, Johnny Green fail to gain against the stubborn Midland eleven. Midland, however, had little to be proud of, failing to take advantage of scoring opportunities and lacking punch at crucial times. Once the Bulldogs got to the ten yard stripe only to find Odessa's defense airtight beyond that line.

Odessa kicked off to Midland. Wafford fumbled the ball on the first play and Odessa recovered on the Midland 20 yard line. In six plays the Broncs had made a touchdown but failed to convert for the added point.

For Midland, Wafford was the offensive star, Midkiff and Prothro standing out on defense. Watson of Odessa showed greatest offensive attitude, while Tucker, Green and Smith were best offensive players.

Midland made seven first downs to Odessa's six. Twenty yard penetration was two for Odessa to one for Midland.

The line-up:

"The Payoff" Comes To Yucca Saturday

"The Payoff," First National's latest newspaper drama, comes to the Yucca Theatre Saturday only with a tri-star cast, including James Dunn, Claire Dodd and Patricia Ellis.

The picture is entirely different from its predecessors in the newspaper field, centering about the activities of an honest sports writer, his contact with the gambling fraternity, and his love affairs, which, incidentally, furnish a new twist to the triangular romance.

The picture is based on the story by George Bricker, for many years a newspaper writer, and depicts all the thrills and glamor and excitement in a work of a reporter who is constantly threatened by gamblers who try to bribe and intimidate him.

James Dunn has the role of the sports writer, Claire Dodd is the selfish wife and Patricia Ellis a newspaper woman genuinely in love with him. Dunn is fired from his job when he ceases in his attack on the ace gambler, a part played by

Big Spring Radio Permit Approved

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29 (P)—Examiner John P. Bramhill recommended to the communications commission that it grant applications of the North Texas Broadcasting company, Paris, Tex., and the Big Spring, Texas, Herald Broadcasting company for new, 100-watt radio stations.

He said, however, the North Texas company would have to place its antenna on a site approved by the commission engineering department, and said the Herald company application should be granted on condition that its antenna conform to regulations.

Bramhill also recommended that
