Britain, Italian Marshall Navies; League Decision Near

MUSSOLINI ORDERS TWO BATTLESHIPS FROM RESERVES

British Home Fleet Is Ready for Its Maneuvers

Italy and Great Britain marshaled their naval strength today as the hour drew near for the League of Nations council to make a decision on the Italo Ethiopian dilemma.

Mussolini recalled two large battleships from the reserves and sent orders for squadron commanders in the Mediterranean, Asiatic and Red seas to shape the navy into compact fighting units.

The British home fleet is ready for their maneuvers, usually held off the coast of Scotland. Five of the nation's mightiest cruisers have arrived at Gibraltar.

British cabinet ministers comprising an imperial defense committee met for the fourth time in a month as British warships were moved to strategic points in the Mediterranean.

At Geneva, it was authoritatively stated that the Anglo-Italian-Ethiopian committee were convinced that Italy would reject its report, now in preparation. It was reported that the committee had dropped its idea of offering Italy extreme concessions to prevent war.

BIG SPRING RODEO OFFICIALS CHECK UP ON RECEIPTS

BIG SPRING, Sept. 17.—With the second annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion behind them, officials of the rodeo corporation Monday were checking receipts against statements to ascertain the financial status of the three-day attraction.

While crowds were consistently less than capacity they were as well on the whole as officials anticipated after rain forced postponement of the show from Labor day. Other attractions also reduced total attendance slightly.

The show did demonstrate that the new plant erected for the annual event is capable of affording for needs for future shows, except in the matter of seats. It may become necessary in a few years to erect other stands.

Nothing but praise could be heard Monday for the quality of the performances. Contestants were contented with the money they indicated they would return next year.

To Harold Jackson, Christoval winner of honors. He took two first places Friday and a fourth place Saturday. Thursday he took a second and a fourth in a 10-rod calf roping.

In addition to this he had best time for calf roping and calf penning over a three-day period to win a special prize saddle. He took a pair of boots for second best average in wild cow milking.

Clyde Acton, an Angelo, emerged winner of the other specially made saddle offered for the best three-day average in wild cow milking. He averaged slightly less than 24 seconds for the three days.

Spurs, bridles and hats were awarded to runners up in three-day average.

Winners Saturday in the various events were: Cow milking—Tom Sandifer, Bledsoe, 18 1/5 seconds; Lawrence Daniels, Garden City, 18 2/5; Roy Wilkerson, Garden City, 18 4/5; Clyde Burke, Byers, 19; J. R. Phillips, Marble Falls, 20 1/5.

Calf roping—Roy Wilkerson, Garden City, 12; Brown Todd, Sonora, 12; Bud Spillbury, Pecos, 14 2/5; Clyde Burke, Byers, 12 3/5; Charlie Arnold, Colorado, 14 2/5.

Calf penning—Clyde Acton, San Angelo, 21; Lawrence Davis, Garden City, 21 2/5; Otis Riddle, Odell, 22 2/5; Harold Jackson, Christoval, 23; Homer Wood, Mertzon, 23 3/5.

Steer roping—Hoyt Heffner, Wichita Falls; Bob Estes, and Vic Schwarz, Byers.

Bronc busting—Jimmie Downs, Ahlberg, Dan Utley, San Angelo, and A. C. Wyke.

John Selman, Stamford, or Brownie nosed out Ray Layne, Big Spring, on Sow Belly, for the cutting horse honors.

Guns Near Evelyn Hoey's Body

Instead of the missing weapon mystery, authorities investigating the death of Evelyn Hoey, blonde Broadway singer found slain in the home of H. H. Rogers, Jr., near Lyndell, Pa., were confronted by three guns. An officer examines a shotgun with which Rogers is reported to have wanted to kill himself after discovery of the body on the bed are the pearl handled death gun (left) and a Leuger automatic.

SCHOLARSHIPS AT TECH AWARDED TO VETS, CHILDREN

Texas Technological college has received from the La Verne Noves Estate of Chicago a gift of 20 scholarships of $50 each. A letter from Pres. Bradford Knapp has informed Commander W. V. Bennett of the American Legion here.

The scholarships are sufficient to pay the annual tuition of ex-soldiers of the World War, whether in the army, navy, or marine corps, or of the sons and daughters of such ex-soldiers.

"If there are any students attending Texas Technological college, or desirous of doing so from your neighborhood who happen to be sons or daughters of ex-soldiers of the World War, I have about eighteen of these scholarships left," Dr. Knapp wrote. "I am appealing to you to help me in locating worthy and needy sons and daughters of ex-soldiers of the World War."

Children of veterans or veterans themselves who are interested in such scholarships are asked to see Ernest or Fred J. Middleton at Middleton's Tailor shop for further information and assistance in making application.

Start Of Building Program At Church Answer To Dreams

A long-cherished dream of the congregation of the First Christian church is about to be realized. For several years the need of a working plant has been felt by the church, and actual work on the project began today. The completed plans call for two units, only one of which will be completed at this time. The structure will call for complete remodeling of the inside of the church; a new lighting system; an elevated baptistry, refinishing of the inside, complete including pews and all furniture; thirteen new Bible school rooms, including banquet hall and pastor's office and kitchen. The Bible school rooms are to be two stories in the rear of the present auditorium.

Rev. J. E. Pickering, the pastor, stated today "I must say we are truly grateful. Our people responded in a very splendid way, for every dollar of the cost of the structure was pledged in notes or in cash before the contract was let, amounting to some five thousand dollars in cash and notes and pledges. Also, to the many friends of the church who helped in a fine way we express our appreciation. We feel that the entire city will be proud of the structure and the efforts of the congregation. May I speak for our people and say we feel it a deep privilege to cooperate in every religious and civic endeavor of our city, and that we will certainly deem it a pleasure to return the kindnesses when opportunity presents itself."

The church already possesses one of the most beautiful church plants to be found in all West Texas, and when present plans are completed they will have one of the most modern and serviceable plants in the state.

The building committee is Rawlins Clark, chairman, Lee Cornelius and Bill Evans.

The pastor announced that places for worship and Bible school will be announced in The Reporter-Telegram Friday and Sunday.

At Geneva, it was authoritatively stated that the Anglo-Italian-Ethiopian committee were convinced that Italy would reject its report, now in preparation. It was reported that the committee had dropped its idea of offering Italy extreme concessions to prevent war.

ALLRED SUBMITS COUNTY SALARIES TO LEGISLATURE

Old-Age Pension Act Is Opened in Senate

AUSTIN, Sept. 17. (AP)—Governor Allred today submitted to the legislature subjects regarding compensation for county officers on a salary basis and amending the Brazos river conservation act to conform to federal requirements.

The Senate opened the question of old age pensions by adopting a resolution calling for a form of census for persons eligible under certain restrictions.

The House adjourned until tomorrow. Sharp criticism and defense of the Democratic party was sounded in the Senate during Constitution Day addresses. T. J. Holbrook of Galveston said that the party was taking a major move to undermine the constitution. L. J. Sulak of La Grange expressed surprise at the statement and called it a "slap at the President."

A speedy committee action on the liquor legislation was in prospect as the Senate state affairs committee scheduled a hearing on the bill to license private dealers and permit sales by drink under certain restrictions.

The House Liquor Traffic Committee planned hearings for tomorrow.

Floyd to Take Polo Horses to Pensacola

Jay H. Floyd was scheduled to leave this afternoon with five polo horses to Florida for exhibition at Pensacola, Fla., where he recently delivered a car load, or 23 head. He will pick up a sixth horse which he has had stabled at Shreveport, La., and will take it to the polo club there several months ago.

Floyd will participate in a series of games before returning to Midland.

Richardson Walton Tubing Test Awaited

Results of tubing test after deepening were awaited today on Sid Richardson No. 1 Walton, Winkler county wildcat producer which occasioned Gulf's extensive Keystone project in the northeast part of the county.

Drilled originally to 3,600 feet, where it established a potential rating of 250 barrels of oil daily, the hole is now bottomed at 3,615 feet and making an estimated 20 barrels of fluid hourly, 50 to 70 per cent of which is water.

Skelly Auditor in Tulsa Kills Self

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 17. (AP)—W. D. Hume, 50, general auditor for the Skelly Oil Co., died Monday of a bullet wound in the head, a few hours after he was found slumped over his desk in his soundproof office.

County and city officers reported after an investigation that Hume shot himself.

Hume, president of the company, said Hume had been nervous and in poor health.

Anything May Happen In Louisiana

James E. Crown, veteran city editor of The New Orleans States, is perhaps the keenest political observer in Louisiana. Knowing personally all the men who were Huey Long's lieutenants, he presents in the accompanying article the real qualities of the turbulent muddy political waters of Kingfish.

By JAMES E. CROWN City Editor, New Orleans States (Written exclusively for NEA Service and The Reporter-Telegram)

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 17.—Anything can happen in Louisiana during the next several years.

The political peace for which citizens of the state have cried and pleaded since the ascendancy of the ruthless Long is as far away today as it was the day in 1928 that Huey Pierce Long took the oath of office as governor.

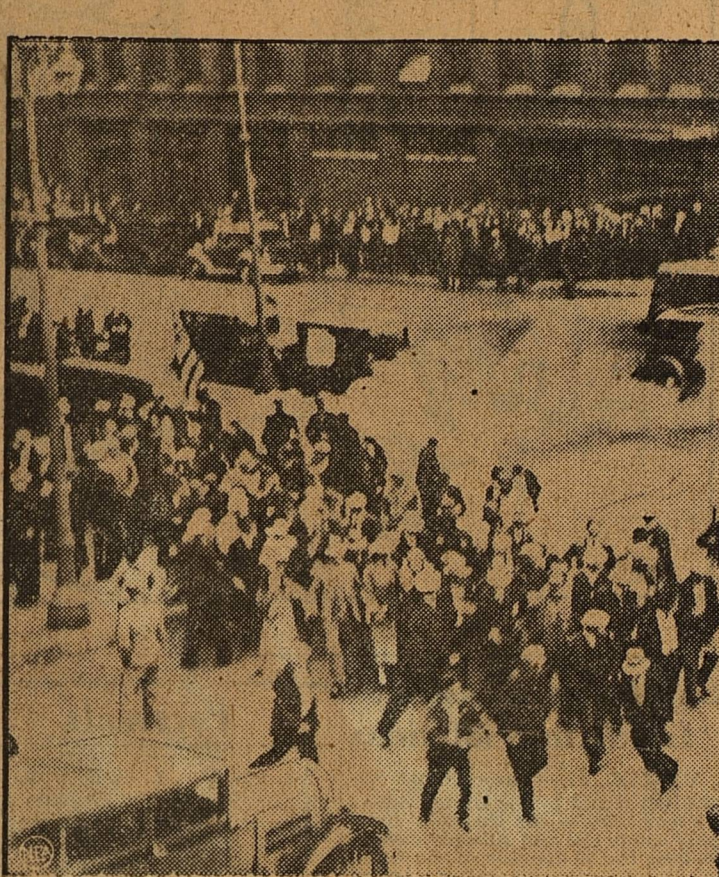

To many political students the fight has just begun. It will be changed only in that the dictator has been removed from the scene. It will not be changed as far as the actual battle goes.

Where heretofore the focal points of attack have been Baton Rouge and New Orleans, the battle front area will be spread over many sectors in the future.

Each little feudal lord of the Long monarchy will surround himself with his individual following in an effort to gain the position once held by the all-powerful and all-masterful Kingfish.

It is well to keep in mind that not a solitary law enacted by the many sessions of the legislature

Tear Gas Halts Riot Death Protest

Tear gas bombs hurled from speeding police cars, as vividly shown in this picture, routed demonstrators who marched on Minneapolis city hall to demand removal of the mayor and the police chief, blamed for the casualty toll in riots in which police fired into a crowd of strikers and sympathizers, killing two and wounding more than a score. The violence followed walkout of employees of the Flour City Ornamental Iron Works, demanding a wage boost and better working conditions. Troops were held in readiness by Gov. Floyd B. Olson to prevent new outbreaks.

SEVEN ARE KILLED IN ENGLISH STORMS OFF COAST TODAY

LONDON, Sept. 17. (AP)—Storms sweeping the English coast last night and today killed at least seven persons. One ship captain was swept overboard and several ships were damaged by the raging waves.

An 80-mile-per-hour gale raged throughout the night about the British Isles, impeding navigation and battering at least one ship, the British freighter Mary Kingsley, which wireless an SOS call early today of the Irish coast, into helplessness.

Thunderous seas, pounding along the coast, tore the German steamer Bismarck off its moorings at Dover, where it had been undergoing repairs as a result of its collision with the British battleship Ramilles, Aug. 30, and swept across the harbor. Tugs managed to secure it after a grim battle.

An unmanned submarine was carried away by the waves and was in the storm lashed Bristol channel and ships were warned to watch for it. The sub had been sold by the British navy to a private trader.

The Mary Kingsley rolled heavily in lowering seas with a cargo of locomotives. Most of its crew of 50 were reported injured. The steamer sailed from Liverpool for East Africa.

Purses and prizes of $8,000 will be distributed in the five day fair.

HOLDS REPORTERS' ALL-DAY SCHOOL

A reporters' school for members of the Midland counties is being conducted here today in the assembly room of the courthouse by Miss Kate Adele Hill, district home demonstration agent of College Station.

During the morning session, which opened at 10 o'clock, Miss Jollene Ramsey, home demonstration agent of Martin county, gave a demonstration on how to clean a straw hat. Club members present were then required to write a report on the demonstration.

Later Miss Hill lectured briefly on the fundamental rules of form and content which club reporters should follow in writing their stories.

Mrs. J. E. Kelly of the Stanton Reporter spoke on the particular needs and requirements of weekly papers in relation to home demonstration work news and a representative of The Reporter-Telegram gave the viewpoint of the small-town daily.

A picnic lunch was spread at noon. Work was continued in the afternoon session.

Attending the morning session were: Miss Vannoy; Miss Christine Czako, Nolan county home demonstrator agent from Sweetwater; Mrs. J. E. Kelly, Stanton; Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, Midland county home demonstration agent, Marie Hennessy, Courtney, Stanton; Mrs. E. D. Sanders, Midland; Mrs. J. E. Brown, Midland; Oleta Hayworth, Valley View, Stanton; Allie Saunders, Lenora; Ruth Beene, Lenora; Kathleen Eiland.

James Ater, who has been in a Midland hospital with injuries received in a car wreck early Sunday, returned to his home in Big Spring today.

KOENECKE, STAR FIELDER, IS KILLED IN FIGHT IN PLANE

Pilot of Ship Is Held After a Battle In Clouds

TORONTO, Sept. 17. (AP)—A melodramatic flight in an airplane high over the Long Branch race track here in the dark early today resulted in the death of Len Koenecke, 31, outfielder for the Brooklyn National League baseball team.

William Mulqueeny, pilot, and Edwin Davis, assistant, who said that they killed Koenecke in self defense were charged with manslaughter.

Davis and Koenecke were locked in a desperate battle, the fliers stated, then, with the plane rocking and nearly out of control, as the pilot fought to keep one hand on the controls, Mulqueeny struck Koenecke several blows on the head with a fire extinguisher.

Koenecke was ordered home from St. Louis by Manager Casey Stengel and had chartered the plane at Detroit to take him to Buffalo.

Koenecke was purchased by the late John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, about four years ago for a reported sum of $75,000 but failed to stick with the New York team and after being sent back to the minor leagues was purchased by Brooklyn in the fall of 1933.

He was one of the stars of the game last season, both in hitting and defensive play, but so far this season had not played up to his 1934 form.

"If he's dead I killed him," police quoted Mulqueeny as saying. In a statement to the police Mulqueeny said that in the middle of the trip Koenecke got restless and started grabbing the controls. Koenecke got back on the seat at Mulqueeny's order, with Davis in the front seat. In a few minutes Koenecke, exclaiming Mulqueeny also, the latter hit Koenecke with a fire extinguisher which Koenecke knocked to the floor then made for him again. Mulqueeny recovered the plane, but a flier however, and hit him three or four times over the head with it.

After knocking Koenecke "out" Mulqueeny circled and landed, damaging the plane. Police arrived soon afterwards.

A coroner's inquest has been set for Thursday.

Koenecke was one of several Brooklyn players sent to home by club officers decided to test new players.

American airlines officials said that Koenecke, chartered the private plane after he had twice been refused passage on the regular ship last night for creating a disturbance in the plane before its departure.

Officials said his money had been refunded to him and he had been forced to leave.

Fair Officials Buy 48 More Brahmas

It was reported this afternoon that officials of the Midland Fair, Inc., had purchased 48 head of wild Brahma steers from manrol, put on the rodeo in Big Spring last week.

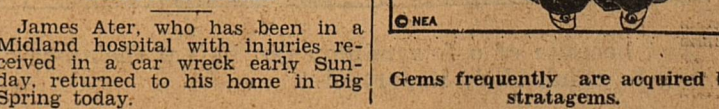

Twenty-five head of Brahmas were purchased by Fair officials here a few days ago and with the new purchase it will give them a total of 73 to be used in the riding, roping and bull dogging events.

BASEBALL THRIVES DESPITE PESSIMISM

The grand old game of baseball continues to thrive, in spite of the pessimists. Several years of severe business depression coupled with the undeniable fact that baseball has more competition nowadays in the shape of golf, movies, etc., than it used to have, put red ink on a great many major league ledgers, and led some commentators to remark sadly that the public was getting tired of the game. But it is announced from Detroit that more than 1,000,000 people have paid their way into the Tigers' Navin Field this year—an attendance record that would have looked good in the palmist of the good old days. Baseball, evidently, is as popular as it ever was—so long as it is good, wide-awake, hustling baseball.

WE WON'T FIGHT FOR OIL

It is hardly surprising to learn that the Standard Oil interests have withdrawn from the Ethiopian oil concession. Public opinion in the United States was so obviously and outspokenly unfavorable that the venture would have enjoyed little support at home; and it swiftly became evident that the temper of the people was unanimously against even the shadow of government backing for the project. The public reaction was pretty well exemplified in the remark of an intelligent printer, "Well," said this man, "we fought the last war for J. P. Morgan, and it looks as if we'll fight the next one for Rockefeller." When people are talking like that, they are not in the mood to be cajoled into taking up arms for the sanctity of oil concessions. This concession had a short life, and none will lament its passing.

CANADA GIVES HER WAR ANSWER

Anyone who doubts that a self-governing dominion in the British empire enjoys self-government in fact as well as in name need only read the recent statement by Prime Minister E. B. Bennett of Canada concerning the dominion's foreign policy. Premier Bennett gave Canadians a flat promise that Canada will get into no foreign war that is not made necessary by a defense of Canada's own immediate interests. Canada will defend Canadian rights, but it will "not be involved in any foreign war where the rights of Canadians are not involved." All this, read against the background of a possible war between England and Italy, is exceedingly interesting. Canadians are proud of their place in the British empire—but they are masters of their own destiny, and no one is going to cajole them into going to war for the empire unless it seems good to them. Or at least these are the sentiments of her prime minister.

San Antonio District Leads in Violations

UVALDE (AP)—The criminal disposition record by the United States customs service for the past fiscal year shows the San Antonio district leading the 49 districts of the United States in the number of convictions for violation of laws coming under the jurisdiction of the customs service, according to announcement by H. P. Hornby of Uvalde, collector of customs of the San Antonio district. There were 719 convictions in the San Antonio district, and the nearest approaches to this mark were the El Paso district with 668 convictions and Portland, Me., with 113. The total amount of fines collected by Hornby's district was $3,072.35. The number of defendants disposed of during the year in the San Antonio district was 1,032, leaving 153 cases pending. Sentences imposed numbered 19,333 days, or a total of 53 years. The total number of convictions in the United States was 1,835 under the tariff act, the San Antonio district having almost 50 per cent of that total. There were 5,439 defendants disposed of in the United States, and the total amount of fines collected was $195,514.55.

RELIC of MAYAN CIVILIZATION

ON a banana plantation in Guatemala stand two stone pillars whose carvings recall the ancient civilization of the Mayas, that mysterious extinct race of Central America. Some believe that these monoliths merely recorded the history of a particular family that lived some 1500 years ago. Other scientists have found in them some clues to the Mayan calendar, each seeming to record the passage of one "katun" or period of 20 years. The monolith illustrated on the stamp shown here is referred to as "Stele D." and gives valuable clues to translation of the Maya calendar. On either side of this illustration, Guatemala advertises its chief product, coffee, in Spanish and English. (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

In this day of changing standards, one may wonder if the definition of a worthy woman is the same as it was in Biblical days.

The following description was handed us by the town's chief educator and we reprint it for its aptness and beauty. We do not know the author.

WHAT THE WORTHY WOMAN DOES TODAY—

She helps like REBEKAH who welcomed Abraham's servant to her city and watered his thirsty camels.

She wins like RACHEL for whom Jacob was willing to pay fourteen years wages.

She fights like DEBORAH who in defense of home and native land came to the help of Jehovah against the mighty.

She hopes like NAOMI who found comfort after drinking the waters of affliction in an alien land.

She gleams like RUTH who in the fields of Edaz at Bethlehem forever dignified manual labor.

She prays like HANNAH whose voiceless petition was fulfilled in the last and greatest of the Judges.

She suffers like VASHTI who lost her throne rather than sacrifice her modesty.

She reigns like ESTHER who for a mighty task at a strategic hour came to the kingdom of Xerxes.

She believes like ELIZABETH who accepted the impossible and through the Forerunner prepared the way for Jesus.

She serves like MARTHA who provided the best at Bethany for the Young Man of Galilee.

She loves like MARY who from her costly alabaster flask of precious perfume, anointed Jesus against the day of his burying.

She gives like DORCAS who was full of good works and aims deeds which she did for the fatherless and widows in their affliction.

She teaches like LOIS who caused Timothy from a child to know the sacred writings which are able to make wise unto salvation.

She worships and works like LYDIA who opened her heart to the Lord and her house to the earliest Christian missionaries to the continent of Europe.

This worthy woman of yesterday live and will live in worthy women today and tomorrow—women of energy, women of ideals, women of influence, women of achievement, women of capacity and consecration—God bless them every one!

The tweed jacket is hand-woven, with brown specks of copper, the latter note repeated in the velvet bonnet.

Brief Memory

By Helen Welshimer

I HAVE loved too often— That is why I know
Roses have brief blooming;
Loveliness of snow
Lasts a winter's evening,
Candles burn the night,
Leaving melted tapers,
(Darling, am I right?)

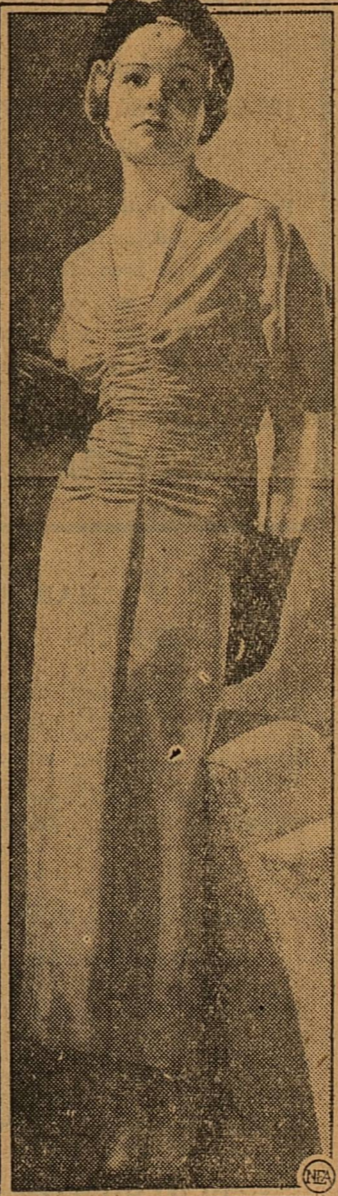

I HAVE loved too often,
I should understand
Love's a fragile bluebell
In a misty land.
Love's a pretty story—
Hill-tops on the moon,
Two who run forever
Through a breathless June.

ONE should take life calmly,
Daffodils in spring,
Woodfires, gypsy laughter,
Not expect a thing
From a gallant promise—
Take loves as they come.
But, if I remembered,
Life would be so dumb!

Draped Effects

Azalea pink antelope crepe fashions this novel afternoon gown by Paton which shows the new draped effects in skirt and bodice.

A House committee has rejected the idea of midget coins, thus saving the country from these practical jokers who give gifts in pennies.

Four-Part Play Presented at Methodist WMS

A four-party play on the topic, "Releasing Captive Bodies," was the chief number on the program of the social meeting held by circles of the Methodist missionary society at the home of Mrs. Ray Sindorf, North D street, Monday afternoon.

The play was founded on the work of hospitals in Korea.

Mrs. M. V. Coman opened the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. L. L. Payne was in charge of the session.

Refreshments were served to 29 women.

Members were dismissed with sentence prayers.

Auxiliary to Help Beautify New Park

Decision to give a tree for the triangular park in front of the Church of Christ was made at the meeting of the Episcopal auxiliary Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. E. Kinsey, 1101 W. Illinois.

Individuals will also give shrubbery for the park in the name of the auxiliary.

Thirteen members were present including: Meses. I. E. Daniels, John Shipley, H. S. Johnson, W. A. Yeager, Hillyer, Packard, E. B. Soper, John E. Adams, Chas. Ver-trees, Dave Findley, Allen Hargrave, and the hostess.

Pumpkins Grow in Boston

BOSTON. (U.P.)—Pumpkins are growing in Charlestown's business district. They are ripening on the vines in a flower pot. Where the seeds came from is a mystery.

In addition to lightning flashing from the clouds to earth and from cloud to cloud, it sometimes flashes from the earth up to a cloud.

Committees Are Appointed for Rijnhart Circle

Mrs. S. P. Hall, new president, presided at the meeting of Rijnhart circle of the First Christian church with Mrs. Chas. Sherwood, 511 W. Louisiana, Monday afternoon.

The following committees were appointed: Lions and Rotary luncheon, Mrs. F. F. Elkin, Mrs. Horace Rankin; building fund, Mrs. John R. Crump, Mrs. Bill Blevins; flower and Skitoo, Mrs. B. W. Stevens, Miss Josephine Guly; social, Mrs. J. E. Pickering, Mrs. N. P. Baker, Mrs. G. L. Wright; rummage sale, Mrs. E. A. Hoffman; Mrs. J. R. Jones, Mrs. J. R. Jones, Mrs. Glen Brunson.

Repetition of the Lord's Prayer in unison opened the meeting. Mrs. Geo. Ratliff taught a Bible lesson taken from the first eight chapters of 1 Kings.

Present were: Meses. G. H. Butler, Jones, Wright, Crump, B. W. Reeser, Pickering, J. T. Raggsdale, Hall, Z. T. Reader, Stevens, Elkin, J. H. Goodman, Blevins, Ratliff, Brunson, D. B. Snider, H. G. Bedford, Rankin, M. G. McCool, R. D. McBrien, L. B. Pemberton, Miss Guly, and the hostess.

Our Modern Homes

Since the assassination of Old Man Depression we have all bought ourselves new clothes, new shoes, new suits and dresses, new hats, and new everything except new homes. Now let's get down to where we live and do some new building and remodeling on our homes and make it all look alike. We don't want to look one sided and forget the thing that after all should look its best, too. In buying furnishings for the different rooms of the home don't overlook the bath. This room, the most essential of all, costs less to furnish than any; yet it is one that is most neglected. We are always too busy to notice the bath until it becomes a point of embarrassment to us, then we have to make excuses for it. Keep your bath room as up-to-date as you would your living room or your bed room. People notice them as much as any room. We all admire a pretty bath room. "Let us tell you how."

"WHAT YOU WANT WHEN YOU WANT IT"

"I'd like to buy a Telephone Call"

When you call a telephone number on the other side of town, you are making an important purchase. You say in effect...

"Give me the use of some miles of wire in a cable under the street, a section of switchboard and all the other equipment needed in the central office. I shall need one kind of current to carry my voice and another to ring the bells that signal the other party."

"I may need the services of an operator or two. I want all your equipment to be in perfect working order so my call is clear and goes through without interruption. I would like this all arranged to connect me with my party instantly... and at a cost of a nickel or so."

Telephone people are asked to do this millions of times a day and find nothing unusual in the request. But to do it at the price you pay for telephone service... in fact, to do it at all... has taken the most skillful and unremitting research, engineering and organization.

In the Bell System, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company is the parent company, and operates the long distance lines connecting the 24 regional Bell companies. Bell Laboratories carries on the research work; Western Electric manufactures, purchases, and distributes.

Without this specialized organization back of the men and women of the Southwestern Bell, telephone service might be possible. But it could not be service as uniformly good, as quietly accurate, as far-reaching, and as inexpensive as the service you know today.

GULF WINS PLAYOFF GAME; HARDWARE FORFEITS TO HUGHES

ADAMSON GIVES UP ONLY FOUR HITS TO THE SOUTHERN ICE

The second game of the series between the Gulf and the Southern Ice will start tonight at 8:15.

The Gulf Refining team took a one game lead in their play-off with the Southern Ice, which started last night by taking a 10 to 5 decision. Because of inability to put a team on the field the Midland Hardware lost their game to Hughes Tool by a 9-0 forfeit.

runs in the third when they put together four hits with some sloppy playing by the Ice infield for six runs. The big blow in this inning was Chandler's triple with the bases loaded. The final Gulf run came in the fifth when Girdley singled, advanced to second on a passed ball and scored on Fogue's single.

The Ice made their first two runs in the second when, with one out, Adamson walked, Dobbins and Robinson and Estes drove home with a two base hit.

They scored one more in each the fourth, fifth and sixth.

Whitmore was the leading Gulf hitter of the evening with two singles and a double. He was followed by Girdley and Woods, each having two singles.

"What's This?" Overconfidence Hits The Bulldogs Before 1st Game; Coach Ired

By JESS RODGERS

Overconfidence—that bugaboo of many good teams—has for some crazy and unexplainable reason has already hit the 1935 edition of the Midland high school Bulldogs.

Coach Baumgarten is unable to explain the attitude of the team this early in the season but is blaming it on idle gossip that says Midland backers are giving 18 points and betting that they will win their first game Friday night.

The boys are not taking their practice sessions seriously and, despite the fact that Midland victories over the Colorado teams have been exceedingly scarce in years past, the boys think this time the game will be a pushover.

With Collins, Adams and other boys out with injuries, Adams out for probably about three weeks, Coach Baumgarten has called off scrimmage for the rest of the week but is prescribing plenty of hard work for the boys in an effort to get them into shape for the game. The coach is satisfied with the physical condition of the boys but their mental attitude is causing him to spend nights walking the floor.

In a statement to this writer, Baumgarten was emphatic in his statements that something drastic must and will be done to change the attitude of the team before game time. What he will do he has not made known but he indicated that "hard work and lots of it" has been used at other times very effectively.

Flubdubs

BY JESS RODGERS

The Midland Bulldogs will beat the Colorado Wolves here Friday night. How bad? Just as bad as they want to. That seems to be the opinion, for some unknown reason, of the local athletes as they go through their practice sessions in a way that is distinctly NOT pleasing to coach Baumgarten.

The boys have evidently been listening to some idle rumors going around that the Colorado team is only a push-over this season and will not even go anywhere in class B, where they are this season.

The following is not exactly the coach's statement but it is near enough to it to make any material difference. "This is the first bunch of boys that I have ever seen who get the heat every time someone happens to mention that they look good in practice. Evidently they cannot remember what happened to them last season in games with Texas and Marfa over an attack of over-confidence."

The statement wasn't any pre-season moan and groan story that the coach was putting out. "Dutch is satisfied that he has the makings of one of the best teams that Midland has boasted in several years if only a few of the men come through that he is counting on, but he is well disgusted at the way the Midland boys take every compliment to heart—and head.

Before the Bulldogs, and they haven't proven yet that they should not be called Toy Bulldogs, should start counting the game in the bag we would like to remind them of a little something. "Just look back over the records and see how often the teams from here have come out winner over the Colorado teams." Midland victories over that school have been few and far between and came only when this school had some of their best teams—far better each time than the aggregation as it is today.

It has not been more than a couple of years since the Bulldogs team, fed up with statements that they would shove the Wolves all over the lot, went out on the field expecting to do just that thing. As we remember the score it was something like 50-0 and it was not in favor of the Bulldogs.

If the attitude of the team does

Politics

as the successor to Allen. Those familiar with Long's political strategy did not place much faith in this public announcement.

In 1932 Long indicated that he was in favor of John B. Fournet for governor, but in reality was using Fournet only as a smoke screen. His first choice was John H. Overton and his second choice was Allen. When Overton expressed a preference for the senatorial toga, Allen was named as Long's candidate.

Noe, a wealthy oil operator in the Monroe fields when he became interested in Long in politics, will not give up his gubernatorial aspirations without a fight. He probably has more personal friends than anybody else in the Long organization and also has friends in the opposition camp.

Tugwell Reported Choice

While Noe was the public choice of Long for the governorship, it is reliably reported that A. P. Pat Tugwell, chairman of the Highway Commission, was in reality Long's candidate for the post was offered to Tugwell on the day that the senator was slain.

Tugwell is considered a capable administrator and is known for clean political clothes, but his ability as a vote getter remains an unknown quantity.

Perhaps the most aggressive campaign for the governorship will be conducted by Allen J. Ellender, House speaker. Long promised Ellender the lieutenant governorship four years ago and the governorship at this time, but backed down on his promise when Fournet demanded that he be re-elected on his name to be used as a gubernatorial candidate.

At times Ellender has indicated that unless he received the support of the heavy north Louisiana vote, where the anti-Catholic element dominates, there has not been a Catholic governor of Louisiana in generation.

Martin Strong Figure

In the same category is Wade O. Martin, a member of the Public Service Commission, who defeated Dudley J. LeBlanc, one of Long's opponents in the 1932 fight.

Martin is a strong political figure in the third district and has had definite gubernatorial aspirations, but the fact that he is a Catholic has discounted his effectiveness.

SOFTEN? DISH? SOUTHERN FOOT BALL?

SPORT REBUS

Jacobs seems the reincarnation of the lamented Texan. No one even approached the astuteness of Rickard until Jacobs took the bit between his teeth and decided to be a promoter on his own account. How he has succeeded is the talk of the country.

Rickard corralled Jack Dempsey and went on to fame and the largest of his numerous fortunes.

Jacobs, following closely along the lines adhered to by Rickard, has tied up the best bucks office attraction, Joe Louis, incidentally.

It was Wallace who wrote practically all of Long's legislative acts and who was the most tireless worker in the Long entourage.

When Long was governor, Wallace was his private secretary. He is considered an authority on constitutional law and is said to be as resourceful as Long himself.

Regardless of whether Wallace forces himself forward, the faction which obtains his aid will have the services of perhaps the most capable and efficient man in the entire list of Long subordinates.

Carload of Calves Sent to Orphanage

A carload of calves, including 47 head of well selected animals, was shipped from the Midland stock pens today to the Methodist Orphanage at Waco, a gift from Midland cattlemen, oil men and merchants.

It was the third consecutive year the calves were donated. O. B. Holt, who makes up the car each year, said he found a ready response when he started to get up the gift. Besides those donating or buying calves, trucks, gasoline and labor were donated.

The best calves will be placed on feed lots at the orphanage farm while those animals of lesser quality will be butchered and canned.

Ranchmen donating calves included Wilson Eryant, Clarence Schreiber, Clyde Cowden, Roy Parks, George Glass, Bill Kelton, F. A. Bird, Hokus Pokus grocery, Andrew Faskan, J. C. Francis, H. E. Gimmels, A. C. Francis, R. W. Smith, J. E. Hill, Hence Barrow, B. N. Aycock, Hilroy Bedford, R. B. Cowden, E. W. Cowden, S. R. Wright, E. H. Blakely, Mrs. Phil Schreiber, A. N. Hendrickson, Marvin Fisher, E. P. Cowden, K. S. Boone, Bill Wyche, O. B. Holt, Joe Youngblood, Foy Proctor and W. A. Hutchinson.

Calves were bought and donated by Harry Adams, Harry Watson, Landreth Production Co., J. L. Greene, First National Bank, J. H. Elder, Geo. T. Abell, York and Harper, Bert Little, R. H. Gill, Alex Turner.

The following list paid $15 or $12.50 each, paying half the price of a calf: Ralph Lowe, W. T. Walsh.
