"Second To None" Is Official's Report Of Fair Held Here

"Second to none" was the report about the Midland Fair race meet from horsemen at Rusk. Miss Elizabeth M. Thwaitt, secretary of the racing commission of Texas, wrote to Tom Nance yesterday. Miss Thwaitt, whose home is at Rusk, was honored at the East Texas Downs meet by having the fifth race on November 2 named for her. "I had intended to write you to tell you how far the good reputation of the Midland meet had extended," said Miss Thwaitt. "All that day I was hearing about what a fine meet, track and officials were at Midland. It was second to none." A program of the Rusk meet, enclosed in the letter, showed the names of numerous horses which were raced here during the recent Midland Fair.

FIVE ROBBERS GET $40,000 IN OHIO TRAIN HOLD-UP

Dozen Spectators Are Held at Bay By Guns

GARRETTSVILLE, O., Nov. 8. (AP)—A desperate gang of five machine gun robbers, firing shots and shouting threats, raided an Erie passenger and mail train Thursday, held at bay a dozen startled spectators, and escaped with mail pouches which officials said probably contained at least $40,000.

The gang waited until the train, bound from Cleveland to Pittsburgh, ground to a regular stop at the Garrettsville station. Then one of them held up Earl Davis, a news dealer, who was waiting on the platform. "At least four of them had machine guns," Davis said. One of the robbers, entering the mail car, fired a shot that grazed the forehead of Orlin Workman, a clerk. It raised a bump but did not seriously hurt him. "They started shooting but stopped when we came out," said P. E. Christy, another clerk in the car. As quickly as Workman, Christy and Steve Warren, a third clerk, left the car, the robbers started throwing mail pouches out of the door. "Then they made me and Robert Breckett, local mail carrier, carry seven pouches to their waiting automobile."

"In another minute the whole gang fled." The robbers kept the train under their control for nearly 10 minutes. As the gang was fleeing, Christy got a glimpse of their auto license and reported the number to post-office inspectors who hurried to the scene from district headquarters in Cleveland, about 40 miles away.

Says Cattlemen Here Happy, Had Good Cattle Sale

The November 1 issue of The Hereford Journal, published at Kansas City, quotes a visitor to the recent Midland Fair as saying the show and sale were highly successful.

"In all my travels I have never run into a happier bunch of cattlemen than I found at the feeder sale at Midland, Tex., Oct. 22," said James L. C. Painter, Roggen, Colo., at the American Royal. Mr. Painter attended the Midland fair and feeder sale, and visited other sections of Texas on his way to the Royal.

"Upwards of 2,000 feeder cattle, practically all high-quality Herefords, were sold to buyers from half a dozen Corn-belt states," Mr. Painter continued. The top was $10 per cwt., received by George Glass of Midland for 44 head that averaged right at 500 pounds. The bulk of the cattle sold from $8 to $8.50 per cwt. The quality of the cattle showed that the Midland breeders are using high-class bulls.

"Conditions generally, so far as the cattlemen of the Midland district are concerned, are excellent. There is plenty of grass and cattle are in splendid condition. Prospects for winter feed are good. "Conditions of the cake-feeding district around Fort Worth, where thousands of heavy Herefords are being caked on about the best grass I ever saw. Next spring will see a lot of good beef moving out of that section."

UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT IS RULED INVALID

Court Says That the Whole Bill Is Ineffective

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8. (AP)—The 1935 holding company act—designed to give the government power for a sweeping reorganization of the utility industry—Thursday was held to be invalid in its entirety.

Federal District Judge William C. Coleman ruled to that effect and in those words in instructing the trustees of the American States Public Service company to treat the act as "invalid and of no effect."

Announcement in New York that an appeal would be taken apparently headed the case towards the supreme court of the United States. Judge Coleman took the position that congress "flagrantly exceeded its lawful power under the constitution in enacting the measure by which elimination of most of the holding companies in the nation's vast utilities network was sought. Assailing the new law on four main grounds, he described it as "grossly arbitrary, unreasonable and capricious" and of such nature that "it was impossible to separate from the invalid sections and put into effect parts of the act, if any, as otherwise might be valid."

Following news of the holding company act being held invalid today, the largest day of trading in several years. Several stocks, particularly utilities, jumped from three to five dollars per share and many of them reached a new high for all time.

"Not since the boom days of 1929 have market officials seen such an upward boost as that which hit the market today.

The judge held that there was no collusion between counsel for parties who attacked the act and those who defended it in the court. The charge of collusion had been leveled by attorneys for the government and for the securities and exchange commission, which intervened in the proceedings as "friends of the court."

Included in the counsel attacking the act was John W. Davis, 1924 democratic nominee for president. Cannot Appeal High government attorneys held that since the government entered the case as a "friend of the court" it could not appeal from Judge Coleman's opinion. They said the only party able to appeal was Burco, Inc., a Delaware company formed to protect rights of bondholders of the American States Public Service company. Burco appeared as defendant in the case, upholding the constitutionality of the act.

Ralph P. Buell, attorney for Burco, Inc., said in New York he had instructed Hayward Hamilton, of Baltimore, associate counsel, to prepare for appeal. The Public Service company filed in receivership under the federal bankruptcy act more than a year ago and trustees were appointed for its reorganization. The trustees contended, in their attack of the act, that compliance with its provisions would make plans for reorganization impossible for completion.

PLANS DISCUSSED; CAPTAINS NAMED BY THE RED CROSS

Drive for Funds Is To Start Here Wednesday

Plans were discussed and captains appointed for the annual Red Cross roll at a breakfast in the private dining room of the Hotel Scharbauer this morning, according to Ralph T. Bucey, chairman of the red captains' drive and attending were most of the officers of the Red Cross permanent organization here and a number of others.

The town has been divided into districts and each of the eight captains and her workers will be responsible for one district, the canvass to begin next Wednesday.

Although no quota is set by the national organization for the Midland county chapter which includes also Andrews, Ector and half of Gaines county, the local organization has set a goal of 1000 memberships in Midland.

Of each membership subscription 50 cents goes to the national organization with regional headquarters at St. Louis and the remainder stays in the Red Cross fund here to be used in local work. In this way if five dollars is subscribed, 50 cents goes to the national fund while $4.50 is used for Red Cross work in this community, workers pointed out.

Husbands and wives are asked to confer before the opening of the drive Wednesday and decide in amount to be contributed so that it will not be necessary for canvassers to make more than one call at each home or place of business.

Each captain will appoint three workers to assist her in the canvass which will begin after a workers' meeting on the mezzanine of the Hotel Scharbauer Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock.

W. Ily Pratt was elected this morning chairman and E. E. Barron, chairman of the board of the Midland County Chapter, is being planned at Odessa for Ector county which is a branch district of the Midland county chapter.

Present at the breakfast, this morning were: Mrs. John Haley, permanent chairman of the chapter; E. E. Barron, chairman of the board; Miss Lois Patterson, secretary; Jno. P. Butler, treasurer; Clint Lackey, disaster chairman; R. T. Bucey, secretary of the board; W. Ily Pratt, Ralph Geisler, and Miss Cordelia Taylor and Mmes. Holt Jowell, W. T. Walsh, Bucey, E. Barron, Johnson Phillips, L. B. Lancaster.

Will Rogers Was a Flop in Silent Pictures When He Tried to Act, but Starred Sensationally Playing Himself

Although Will Rogers was acclaimed on two continents, there were two days in his life when Rogers once told L. W. (Chip) Roberts of his early days in silent pictures, when he thought he was succeeding in brilliant fashion and would get a big increase in salary. Instead he was advised his contract would not be renewed at all. "It stumped me for several days," Rogers recalled. "Then I went home, as usual, and talked it over with Betty (Mrs. Rogers). As usual she supplied the answer. 'No use blaming the producers, Will, she told me. If you were going good they would want to keep you. There's something wrong with your picture. Let's find out what it is, correct it and then they'll want you again.' Rogers went back to the Ziegfeld Follies. Crowds were larger than ever before. He was getting closer to his audience with each performance. His act was going better. "Then one night when I was out on the stage, twirling my rope and looking silly—nobody in the house thinking I had a serious thought, it all came to me. I said Rogers. 'I was being myself on the stage. I had tried to be an actor in pictures. And I wasn't capable of acting.' "When the Follies closed Rogers went on tour, playing one night stands everywhere. He met thousand of new people. He was more successful than he had ever been. The movie industry wanted him back. "The first thing I did when I got back to Hollywood, I thought, 'was to have those old films rerun. Were they terrible? No wonder they canned me. But I had learned my lesson. I never tried to act again. And I never told the director how to make the picture. If it was good, he could have all the credit. If it was bad he would get enough blame anyway.' MAKALE, GORRAHEI AND DOLO GAINED WITHOUT A BATTLE

Are Important Points On the Harar Route TO RENEW DRIVE

AmbaalgI Is Object Of Next Advance By Troops

Italy's soldiers today planted Fascist standards in Makale, Dolo and Gorrahei after entering them unopposed. Gorrahei is a vital point on the route between Italian Somaliland and the important city of Harar. Official reports of the Makale division have indicated that the next advance will probably be to AmbaalgI, 40 miles closer to Addis Ababa. Scialoja's departure for the front is reported to be imminent.

Runners from the Makale division reported that Italian "raking squadrons" had been sent deep into regions leading to Lake Tana, Nile headwaters, in which Britain is vitally interested. Authoritative Paris quarters reported that Hitler's representative, Joachim von Ribbentrop, would go to Paris late in November to discuss the possibility of a Franco-British-German understanding.

It was reported that he would sound out the French attitude toward the development of an anti-Soviet alliance between France and Germany, and to discuss the limitation of land forces and the tripartite air agreement.

BOYS' CALF FEEDING PROJECT NEEDED

Midland is ripe for holding an annual show for calves fed out by farm boys of this and surrounding counties. Never was there a better year to begin such a project, and already much interest has been expressed.

By holding a show annually in connection with the Midland Fair, or by staging a separate show at the Fair plant, Midland could be made the center of such a project for a wide territory. There is no closer "big competition" than the American Royal Livestock Show, according to Fort Worth men who discussed the plan here recently.

With the wealth of high quality cattle available and the thousands of farm boys over the country now in position to provide home grown feed, the program could be of untold benefit. Every boy who feeds out a calf is learning to be a better farmer. Likewise he is likely to make a nice profit and the rancher is finding a new market for good calves.

DEFYING NATURE'S LAWS

It's the clever driver, who knows that he is clever, who causes most of the traffic fatalities. So, at least, says J. Russell Craig, safety expert of a Pennsylvania insurance company. Mr. Craig, in a series of safety talks before an Ohio teachers' association, explained himself as follows: "The driver who gets himself into a 'pocket' and depends upon his cleverness and ability to get him out safely overlooks certain natural physical laws that no man (or his auto) can avoid."

What are these laws? Chiefly that two autos cannot occupy one space at one time; also that a car's hitting power is quadrupled when its speed is doubled, so that you need four times the braking power at 60 miles an hour that you need at 30.

The driver who is too confident of his ability to get himself out of any traffic tangle is apt, sooner or later, to run afoul of these natural laws—and when he does, tragedy is the result.

Pennsylvania waiters, on strike, have walked out. In the next several days, the customers, awaiting their orders, may have to be told.

The famous crack in the Liberty Bell at Philadelphia is now over 100 years old. A bit too young yet, perhaps, for the radio.

Turkeys Hold Glare Of Spotlight Now As Holidays Near

COLLEGE STATION—With Thanksgiving and Christmas drawing near, the spotlight is again turned on turkeys. "Texas turkey growers have paid closer attention than ever this year to selection of breeding stock and finished dressings in order to produce birds of prime quality for the market," George P. McCarthy, Extension poultry husbandman, announced. "He pointed out that, although the turkey crop would be shorter in numbers this year, it would nearly balance in tonnage. Last year, 1,600 carloads of dressed turkeys were shipped out of Texas. This year, trade estimates place the carload shipments between 1,300 and 1,400. McCarthy said that the Luling Foundation has one of the outstanding flocks this year, comprised of 1,800 birds from this year's hatch. Most of these birds will be sold as breeders."

Another good flock is owned by Levi Chubbell, turkey demonstrator in Bailey county. Last year, almost his entire flock was graded prime. He will have around 500 birds this year. Mason Lodge At Brownwood Started On July 13, 1865

BROWNWOOD—One of the oldest Masonic lodges on the plains, established when this city was a pioneer outpost at the beginning of the Indian country of West Texas, the chapter in this city, whose charter dates back to July 13, 1865. It was one of the first lodges in the state, and for a number of years was the frontier lodge for Texas. First membership was made up of ranchers and scouts, and business men of Brownwood. The first meeting place was in the log court house that served this county for many years. First officers included: James E. Sikes, nominal master; Isaac Mullins, senior warden; Brooks W. Lee, junior warden; James S. Reed, senior deputy; M. C. Phillips, junior deputy; Arch Moore, secretary; William Lockart, treasurer; and Gisham Lee, tiler. Other charter members included G. H. Adams, R. Y. Cross, Jesse Bonds, and Howard Tate.

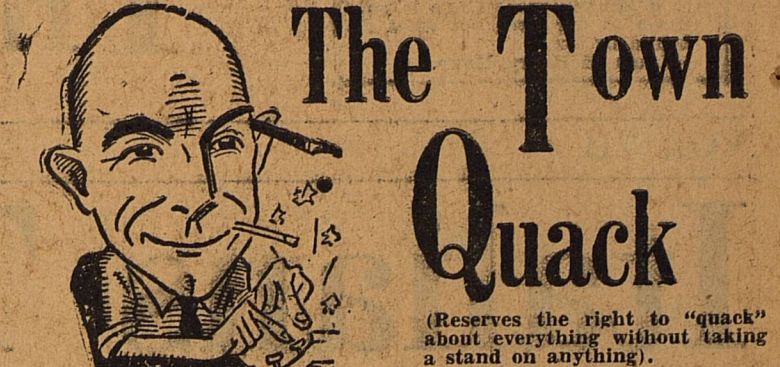

Among the delicacies served at the czar's dinner table in Old Russia were herring cheeks, salmon lips, calves' ears, pigeons' tongues and bulls' eyes.

A negro who lived down near

Houston strayed up north where he got in trouble and he wrote back to a white man who had befriended him ever since he was a boy. His letter read as follows: "Dear Judge: I'm in trouble up here in Chicago. I want you should help me out. You see, Judge, I got married again without going to the trouble of getting a divorce from that lady's wife what I had when I come up here, and these police folks they got me locked up in the jail house and charged with bigamy, that you have knowed me for years, that I belong down in East Texas, and that I've just up here in Chicago operatin' under the good old East Texas laws."

Some people get the idea The Reporter-Telegram doesn't care a lot about these Bulldogs, just because we ran them occasionally. Well, we like 'em plenty and we probably will keep on panning them. The times they have been panned for over confidence, it either worked out that way or made them so mad they put up a good fight, and the latter is just what we want to see.

The old day of saving the home team is right, no matter what they do, has passed. When boys get in a football game, they are on the stage, and the stage has plenty of critics. The test of a player or a team is how he can act and how he or it can take it.

Come on out tonight and see these Bulldogs against the Bison when the stage curtain rises.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

We noticed something new in the culinary line the other day. At least it was new to us—dried prune juice. To be exact, the juice of dried prunes for the substance was liquid and bottled.

Pickles are being put up in attractively shaped glass bottles (perhaps jars is a better word) with wire handles.

We approve the constantly increasing use of cellophane wrappings for foods. They are attractive, sanitary, and (we hope) cheaper than the old time boxes and bottles.

Dorothy Dix sometime ago in her column gave a definition of a lady which was so apt that we hereby reprint it. (We still believe there are ladies even though our newspaper sense will not allow us to use the word.)

"A lady is a woman who has poise and self-control, who has understanding and sympathy, who is neither cast down by misfortune or uplifted by prosperity, who is a little bit more courteous to those below her than she is to those above her, who has dignity without arrogance and who neither bows to the great nor snubs the humble. A lady is always appreciated, always wanted, and she gets what she wants without making a fuss about it."

We refer most times to Dorothy's wisdom but we are a bit skeptical of that last statement about a lady's getting what she wants without making a fuss about it. We'll say a lady was one who could fail to get what she wanted and STILL not make a fuss about it.

Friendly Builders Elect Officers For New Year

'TIS THE TRUTH The Stanton team had rather defeat the Bulldogs than win the district championship.

Those two little backs are the original hard luck boys. Since reaching top form each game played by the team has been in drizzling rain and tonight promises to be the same.

We have not mentioned the "Key mystery" in this column because it is bad publicity for the school, the man and the game.

Chicago vs. Ohio State. The Buckeyes will have fire in their eyes this week.

Illinois vs. Michigan. Michigan is on the upgrade and will use Illinois as a stepping stone.

Iowa vs. Minnesota. The big Swedes once more come through.

Wisconsin vs. Purdue. The Boiler-maker to drink the Badger.

Nebraska vs. Kansas. The Cornhuskers cinch another flag.

Missouri vs. Oklahoma. Oklahoma should not have much trouble in this one.

Alabama vs. Clemson. The Crimson Tide rolls higher all the time.

Georgia Tech vs. Auburn. Tech gets taken.

Kentucky vs. Florida. An easy one for Kentucky.

LSU vs. Miss. State. The Mississippi team after a grand battle.

Tulane vs. Georgia. The Greenies of Tulane.

Vanderbilt vs. Sewanee. We have picked Vandy in every game and should win in this one.

Baylor vs. Texas. The Longhorns finally win a conference game.

Rice vs. Arkansas. The Owls will make sausage out of the Razorbacks.

Texas A. & M. vs. Texas A. & T. The Aggies should finally win one.

California vs. Washington. California should win this one, but it will be no run-away.

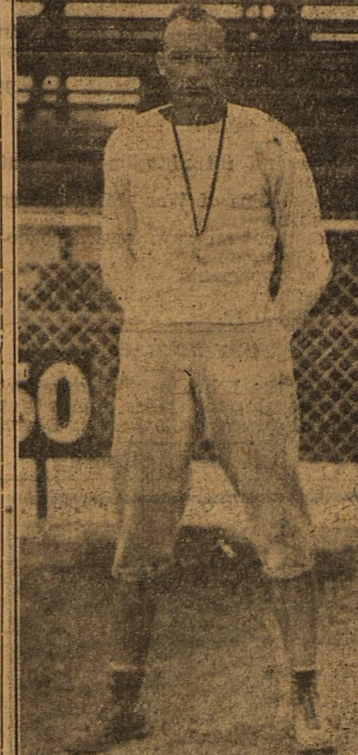

Oregon vs. Oregon State. The State team.

U. S. C. vs. Stanford. Grayson and company would lose another before they play the Golden Bear.

Princeton vs. Harvard. The Tiger has far too much power for Harvard.

Yale vs. Brown. The Yale Bulldog by many points.

Stanton Coach

Bryan "Bendy" Henderson, for several seasons assistant coach of the Midland Bulldogs, will be after a victory over his team of two years ago when he leads a green and inexperienced, but hard fighting team of Stanton Buffaloes onto Lackey Field tonight.

The adventurous career of that benign detective, Charlie Chan, very nearly comes to an untimely end as Warner Oland, again playing Chan in "Charlie Chan in Shanghai," now at the Yucca Theatre, ventures into China's roaring metropolis to break up a dangerous gang of international opium smugglers.

From the moment Chan sets foot in Shanghai, his adventures begin with the murder of his host, an English secret service man.

Joining forces with the American secret service, Chan takes up the threads of the crime. The Englishman's secretary, Charles Locher, is suspected of the murder and held, despite the protests of his lovely fiancée, Irene Hervey.

The motives and the positions of the various members of the drama become more and more involved. Until finally in a thrilling gun fight in a water front cafe, Chan gets his men and uncovers the forces behind the mystery.

They hold 100 tons, cost virtually nothing to construct, can be moved with each new construction if desired, and even the bundles that form the silo remain as good for feed as if stacked any other way.

Marriage of Midland Girl Announced by Her Parents Here

Rev. and Mrs. K. C. Minter announced the marriage of their daughter, Mary Francis, to Mr. Alfred P. Wright, Jr., at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. B. Cline, at Bryan, Wednesday.

The bride is a popular member of the younger set in Midland where she graduated from Midland High School two years ago. Since that time, she has attended Allen Academy, living in her aunt's home, and has also attended the A & M summer session. At the time of her marriage she was attending business college in Houston.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Wright, Sr., of Alice, Texas, has recently completed his college work at A & M. He is now employed by the government.

The families of the two young people have been acquainted for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright will make their home at Houston.

They are expected to arrive here Sunday night for a visit in the home of the bride's parents.

Unceasing Work Of Midland County Farm Woman Shown By Food Demonstration

The proverbial ant with his unceasing industry has nothing on Mrs. J. T. Hundle, judging by the amount of food she has stored for future use and which was displayed at the farm food supply demonstration at her home, two and a half miles northwest of Midland, Thursday afternoon. The demonstration was a part of the Achievement Day program of the county home demonstration clubs. Exhibits were of uniformly high quality.

Displayed on Mrs. Hundle's dining table were 15 varieties of fresh vegetables which were gathered from her garden a few hours before the demonstration. They included sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, red and white radishes, sweet green pepper, turnips, mustard greens, butter beans, Chinese cabbage, huge okra, snap beans, and onions.

The vegetables were grown in a garden 45 by 60 feet, which is irrigated from a well and windmill.

Mrs. Hundle has stored 90 varieties of food, canned, fresh and dried, a total of 896 quarts packed in 1500 containers for use of her family consisting of her husband, her 11-year old son, and herself. She does her canning with a pressure cooker and uses both glass jars and tin cans in her work.

She has received ribbon awards on 9 varieties of stored food in addition to those of fresh products.

All food exhibited was raised on the Hundle farm except the pumpkins and the pears, the latter fruit being obtained by exchange.

"Food in the making" is also plentiful at this progressive home for a trip about the grounds showed four Hampshire hogs in the pen, two calves in the lot, turkeys, chickens, geese, ducks, and guineas.

The orchard contains less than a quarter acre, Mrs. Hundle said, but there are peaches, plums, figs, grapes, apricot, and jubilee trees. There are pear trees which are yet too young to bear and one cherry tree.

Sweet potatoes, peas, and beans were grown in the field, the other vegetables in the small garden plot.

A gas refrigerator keeps food fresh and cold and showed a display of dressed fowl, other meat, cake, pie, and various food stuffs.

Mrs. Hundle bakes her own bread twice a week.

The six-room, neatly painted frame house, is equipped with bathroom, running water, and gas connections. Rooms are papered and show evidence of pride in home-making. Flowers and vines make the place homelike.

All improvements have been made in the past two years, Mrs. Hundle said.

Mr. and Mrs. Hundle are not farmers. Most of their 100-acre place is rented out, while Hundle is employed at the Pliska-Hundle blacksmith shop. Enough land is retained for raising a supply of feed, in addition to the house, orchard and garden space.

A crowd estimated at 60 people visited the Hundle home during the demonstration Thursday.

Mrs. Hundle is a member of the Busy Bee home demonstration club working under Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, county home demonstration agent.

GOODYEAR FLEET COMING SATURDAY

Stopping at Midland while en route to Phoenix and Litchfield Park, Ariz., the Goodyear test fleet will arrive at Lowe's Service Station here Saturday. Time of arrival had not been announced today.

In the party will be Art Halley, Red Jacobs, M. D. Scott, G. P. Matthews and Jack Greenleaf, members of the Goodyear's garage staff. The fleet will go to its winter quarters at Litchfield.

Since 1913 when the first Goodyear tire test fleet started its operations, this road tryout operation for tires has covered more than 44 million car miles or a total of 176 million tire miles. Drivers cover a specified route each day excepting Sunday of between 300 and 400 miles, after which the tires are carefully checked, the cars gone over carefully and made ready for the next run. One month's driving of a test car is equivalent to a year's ordinary driving by the average automobile owner.

The trip to Arizona is made so that tire operating conditions will simulate summer weather when heat is harder on tires. There are two test cars, however, which remain in Akron, Ohio, for testing tires under winter conditions. The total fleet in Arizona includes four trucks and 10 cars, to which two will be added later, coming up from Texas, where some special work was being done.

The colony of the Goodyear test car group will include a total of 120 persons; 42 in the driving, mechanical and engineering staff of the fleet itself and the remainder wives and children of the men, who drive to the proving grounds in 34 cars belonging to the families.

Route over which the Goodyear fleet travels this year includes these cities: Mansfield, Columbus, Springfield and Dayton, Ohio; Richmond, Indianapolis and Terre Haute, Ind.; Casey and Vandalia, Ill.; St. Louis, Columbia, Booneville and Kansas City, Mo.; Topeka and Independence, Kan.; Bartlesville, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Wynnewood and Ardmore, Okla.; Gainesville, Denton, Dallas, Fort Worth, Brady, Abilene, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Midland, Pecos, Van Horn and El Paso, Texas; Deming and Lordsburg, N. M., and Tucson, Phoenix and Litchfield Park, Ariz.

MIDLAND CITY COUNCIL RULES THAT DELINQUENT WATER AND SEWER BILLS MUST BE PAID OR THE SERVICE SHUT OFF

To avoid working possible hardships on customers, the City for the past several months has been lenient in the collection of water and sewer bills and refrained from shutting off any one's service, but conditions have improved to the point where it is thought that these bills should be paid. Therefore, the City Council, in session October 17, 1935, ordered that notice be given through the paper and individually that delinquent bills must be paid by November 11th, or the service of such customers discontinued.

According to the Council no exceptions shall be made in carrying out their order, therefore City employees will have no choice in the matter and should not be blamed for any inconvenience that may occur to those failing to pay their bills before the final date. It is sincerely hoped by the City officials and employees that it will not be necessary to cause such inconvenience.

By order of the City Council, Oct. 17, 1935.
