Contributions to the Rogers Me-morial fund may be made at the Scharbauer Cigar Stand in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer, it was announced today. Many who have found it inconvenient to leave con-tributions at banks or newspaper office have suggested that blanks be left in the hotel lobby. Mrs. Juanita Dorsey said today the personnel of the Scharbauer Cigar Stand would be glad to as-sist in handling the contributions until the close of the campaign next Wednesday.

Bell said, and with the return of better conditions in the cattle business he hopes to have practically 100 per cent representa-tion here. Inspector Leonard Proc-tor was working with him on the project today. It was pointed out that the asso-ciation is able to work advan-tageously for everyone in the cattle business, protecting against loss from various angles, and its support must come from the cattlemen themselves. The memorial campaign was origi-nally planned. Those who have not contributed, and who wish to have a share in the memorial, may leave their donations at either bank or The Reporter-Telegram. Total receipts here will be sent to Amon G. Carter, state chairman, immediately after the close of the campaign, he forward-ing the funds from the entire state to Jesse H. Jones, treasurer of the memorial fund. At Arlington Downs today, the race meet was extended for the one day in order to give all gate re-ceiptis to the fund. The Waggoner interests are paying the expenses for the day's race meet.

Concerning that old saying, "The old order changeth and giveth place to new," we feel inclined to quote in reverse, "The new order changeth and giveth place to old," since Lon-don reports that men there are tak-ing up the use of snuff. An executive of the city's largest department store says that snuff taking is becoming the vogue among men on the screen and stage and other phases of public life. Not to be unprepared, the store is displaying more than 20 kinds of snuff and a valuable collection of old snuff boxes.

We can imagine American men rolling their own eigarettes or gent-ly packing tobacco into some armo-matic (we won't say fragrant) old pipe. But imagination balks at pic-turing the average man of our ac-quaintance deftly transferring a delicate pinch of snuff from box to lip. We think even Clark Gable would lose some of his appeal at such times. Saturday World Friendship club will meet at the Methodist annex Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock for a party. An actress, a novelist, and (of all things) a radio announcer have been selected as the three contemporaries who can most adeptly use the Eng-lish language in speech or writing. The actress is Lynn Fontanne, the novelist is Pearl S. Buck (because she wrote "Good Earth," of course), and the radio announcer is Alois Havrilla. The last selection should make most of us review our diction with something akin to shame for Mr. Havrilla is not English or Ameri-can—he is a native of Czechoslova-kia. Surveying the toy displays, a writer from an Eastern city assures us that toys created for the smallest children this year are pacifist in mood. There is an atom of comfort in that fact. The ideas and conceptions in-stilled in children's minds from their earliest years are most likely to dominate later. So we hope that peace-time toys will dominate among children's gifts all over the world.

A foreigner can beat us at our game.

That is a hope, rather than a be-tief, of course, for older children still cling to their soldiers and guns. Even Ethiopia's younger generation marches gaily in imitation of the fighting tribesmen, newspaper pic-tures show.

We should say that progress in his old world, especially progress oward world peace and other ideals, s somewhat in line with the ad-vance of those ancient pilgrims who used to take two steps forward to their goal and one step backward.

The Federal Senate, which forced Guevara from office after an in-vestigating committee had held that the charges against him were true, has promised to hear complaints of residents of numerous other states against municipal and state officials. Three governors have been re-moved from their posts since Gen-reral Lazaro Cardenas became presi-dent last December. Manual Lastra Ortiz of Tabasco was the first to go and Dr. Rafael Villarreal resigned the governorship of Tamaulipas when his ouster was threatened. The state executives against whom there is active opposition are Gen-eral Viotorico Grajales in Chiapas, Manuel Paez of Sinaloa, Francisco Parra of Nayarit, Jesus Yanez Maya of Guanajuato, Luis Rebolledo of Veracruz and Ramon Ramos of Senora. A small group of Sonora resi-dents recently arose in open re-volt against Ramos, who is alleged to be a supporter of the policies of ex-President Plutarco Elias Calles, now retired and residing at Los Angeles. His opponents assert that Ramos is not legally eligible for the governorship as he was not born in Sonora. However, he is understood to have the support of the central government and of military authori-ties.

Grajeles is accused of carrying out in Chiapas a program similar to that of Tomas Gerrido Canabal, former dictator of the neighboring-state of Tabasco.
