Had Been Convicted Under the Old Statutes
COUNTY RULING
Wet Precincts Ruled Against Where County Dry

AUSTIN, Nov. 27 (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today freed 26 persons convicted of violating the old prohibition law, and the supreme court held that a wet precinct was not permitted in a county which was voted dry by local option.

The appeals court held the new act, providing misdemeanor penalties for violating the package law with local law with local option, was repealed with the Dean law.

The repeal of the old felony act will hold invalid convictions pending before the court on appeal and also pending indictments. The supreme court determined its policy in the decision in two cases involving construction of the local option clause in the 1933 constitutional amendment legalizing the sale of 32 beer.

The supreme court also denied a rehearing on its decision rendering unconstitutional the act proposing for discounts for prompt payment of ad valorem taxes, and denied a rehearing on its decision upholding the railroad commission's rule regulating spacing of oil wells.

Midland Man Gets 14-Point Deer

C. M. Mills of the Prairie Lee community has returned from a deer hunt on which he bagged a 14-point specimen, making the kill at first shot. This is believed to be the largest deer thus far killed by Midland hunters for the season.

Mills was accompanied by Mrs. Mills on a week's trip to the V. H. Hulen ranch 67 miles south of Meridian.

Where There's Smoke, Something's Hidden From Enemy Fire

New York wearing a halo? No, no! It's still too venial a place for that. The effect of a halo encircling the towering skyscrapers of lower Manhattan is just part of the smoke screen by which U. S. Army planes concealed the city to defend it from attack by a supposed "enemy" air fleet. The army strategists reported the maneuver successful—and the picture attests the photographic success of the flight.

TWO HAMILTON MEN ARE FOUND SHOT TO DEATH EARLY TUES.

Belief That Men Were Murdered Is Expressed

HAMILTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—The shotgun bodies of C. Gann, 60-year-old farmer, and his nephew 30-year-old W. I. Blackwell, were found early Tuesday in separate bedrooms at the Gann farm house near here.

The body of Gann, fully clothed, was on the bed in his room—victim of a shotgun charge in the heart. G. Gary, a hired man who had gone with his wife to clean up the house, discovered Blackwell, clad only in his underwear, on the bed of his own room. There was a shotgun wound in his stomach.

It's a double murder, said both County Attorney E. L. Williams and Sheriff Houston White, who assembled 12 witnesses to learn what they could of the case.

First Christmas Seals Sold Here To Court Reporter

First person in Midland to purchase the 1935 Christmas Seals was L. P. Uncie, court reporter. The mail box shown on the design is an authentic copy of the first type mail box used in the United States for receiving letters. It was during this period also that this country first saw the use of stamps for charitable purposes.

There is another unusual thing about the 1935 Christmas Seals. On the sheet of 100 seals there are four other seals, and also different from each other.

Each of these four seals accentuates the double barred red cross (known as the Lorraine Cross), by each seal has a different message written underneath the cross. The four different messages are:

10th seal: "Protect Your Home From Tuberculosis."
91st seal: "Tuberculosis Is Preventable."
100th seal: "Tuberculosis is Curable."

Borum Address Will Be Feature of Program

SPECIAL MUSIC
Presbyterian Church Is Gathering Place

Pipe organ music, special songs and an address by the Rev. Winston F. Borum will feature the union Thanksgiving service at the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m. this evening.

The organ's call to worship, "Dein Eigen" will be played by Mrs. W. J. Coleman, on the new pipe organ which was dedicated at the Presbyterian church last Sunday.

The Doxology, invocation and Gloria Patri will follow, the congregation then singing "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come."

The Rev. J. E. Pickering, pastor of the First Christian church, will give the scripture reading and a devotional lesson, using Psalms 107:1-31. The Rev. T. H. Bass, pastor of the Church of Christ, will give the prayer of Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Coleman then will play an organ solo, "Humoresque." Mmes. J. M. Hawkins and De Lo Douglas will give a vocal duet.

The Rev. Borum, pastor of the First Baptist church, will give the Thanksgiving sermon, "The Graces of Gratitude."

Closing numbers will be "Praise, Lord, for These in Zion Walls" sung by the congregation; the benediction by the Rev. W. R. Mann, Presbyterian district missionary, and the organ postlude, played by Mrs. Coleman.

THE MESSAGE OF THE LITTLE STAMP

The Christmas season is heralded throughout the land on Thanksgiving Day by the ring of carving knife against sharpening steel as savory vapors rise like incense from the luscious brown turkey. It is traditional during this period to count the blessings the year has brought and to plan gifts that will bring joy to others as the Christian world celebrates the birth of the Christ Child.

The most striking messengers that come to plead for our attention are the little Christmas Seals. This year marks their twenty-ninth appearance throughout the United States in the interest of the tuberculous. The message they bring, and to which it behooves all of us to give ear, is that tuberculosis is still this country's greatest public health problem.

The National Tuberculosis Association, sponsor of the Christmas Seal campaign, points out that the difficulty of combating tuberculosis lies in the fact that it is not similar to those fatal diseases whose names trip so familiarly across our tongues: typhoid, smallpox, diphtheria and pneumonia. Fatal though these diseases are, they all have the common feature of developing suddenly, and within a brief time achieving a crisis that decides the case.

Christmas Seals offer the opportunity to help others, to protect ourselves, and to spread the message of good will to men by their appearance on our Christmas letters, cards and packages. We heartily endorse the spirit of the statement "It takes Christmas Seals to make it Christmas mail."

WAR BY POPULAR VOTE!

James A. Van Zandt, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, declares that we ought to have a constitutional amendment transferring the right to declare war from the Congress to the people as a whole. Under such an amendment, the country could not declare war unless the declaration was approved in a nation-wide referendum.

"We demand an iron-bound, fool-proof policy which will give the people of this nation—those who will fill the trenches in event of war—a chance to say whether or not we are ready to go to war," he says.

It is certain that such a proposal will meet with a good deal of opposition; and it is equally certain that its basic idea is perfectly logical. It is the ordinary, plain, everyday citizen who does the fighting, pays the taxes and suffers the agonies of sacrifice when war comes. Why not let him have the last word on whether war is to come at all?

Another Question

Cattle Feeding Will Be On Larger Scale '35-'36

Shipments of Stocker and Feeder Cattle to Corn Belt States Increasing

Developments during October gave further support to the expectation that cattle feeding during the winter of 1935-36 will be on a considerably larger scale than during the winter of 1934-35. Shipments of stocker and feeder cattle from stockyards markets into the Corn Belt States in October were 40 percent larger than in October, 1934, and showed about the usual seasonal increase over September shipments.

Shipments into the five Corn Belt States east of the Mississippi River continued relatively larger in October, but did not show as large an increase in October, 1934, as did shipments into the western Corn Belt. For the four months, July to October, shipments into the Corn Belt States were about 5 per cent larger than in 1934 and were larger than the 5-year (1929-1934) average.

The relatively large shipments from stockyards markets into the six western Corn Belt States in October brought the total movement for the four months, July to October, above the total for the same period last year; but with the exception of last year, it was the smallest for the period in at least 15 years. Reports from these states show a continued heavy movement during October of stocker and feeder cattle through large scale auction markets and direct to feed lots, and the number of cattle fed in all of these states is expected to be larger this season than last.

Mexicans Not Ready To Take Communism As New Government

MEXICO CITY, (AP).—Mexican workers apparently are not ready to accept communism. This has been the reaction of organized labor in the return to Mexico of Vicente Lombardo Toledano, one of the country's most influential labor leaders, from a visit to Russia, recently a one-hundred per cent communist. Lombardo's statements depicting the U. S. S. R. as a workers' paradise and communism as the perfect economic system not only failed to win the sympathy of his own organizations but have precipitated a "red scare" which resulted in labor unions declaring plainly that they did not believe communism suitable for Mexico. In Moscow Lombardo met Hernan Laborde, who ran for president of Mexico in 1933 on the communist ticket, and other prominent Mexican radical leaders who were there for the international convention. Lombardo expounded his views of the Soviet system at a meeting here to celebrate the 18th anniversary of the founding of the U. S. S. R. He concluded a fervent eulogy of communism but his statements that "Mexican workers should exalt the name of Lenin—they should pronounce it reverently three times a day, at breakfast, lunch and dinner." The meeting, attended by 8,000 persons, adopted resolutions in favor of renewal of relations with Russia and urging President Lazaro Cardenas to terminate the "reactionary-clerical campaign being carried on in the United States against Mexico and its government." The Regional Confederation of Workers and Peasants, in which Lombardo has for many years had an important role, met subsequently and voted a series of resolutions condemning the communist propaganda being carried on in Mexico. The workers voted to demand an explanation from Lombardo of his activities and to issue a manifesto to the country for the purpose of "destroying the atmosphere created by the propaganda which has been

American Highway Enthusiasts Seeing Better Relationship

WASHINGTON, (AP).—Pan American Highway enthusiasts believe that 1936 will witness extraordinary progress toward the linking of the United States with Panama, with probable rebirth of agitation for construction in South America.

The next session of Congress, meeting January 3, will be asked to provide large additional appropriations to finance construction of cooperation with other countries. A figure of from five to ten million dollars has been tentatively suggested, but the actual recommendation probably will depend upon the entry of international arrangements now studied.

The Texas Centennial celebration, to occur in 1936, is expected to cause large motor travel to the Southwest United States, and that event in connection with the prospective completion of the inter-American highway from Laredo to Mexico City

bers to make propaganda in favor of communism," a statement said. Several speakers defended Lombardo, asserting that he had gone to Moscow only on a pleasure trip but there had met Laborde and other Mexican radicals who are now charged her husband with "such cruel treatment as to endanger her life."

is likely to lead to extensive international travel. The general program envisaged here contemplates construction of the 3,200-mile highway between Texas and Panama before the Southern half of the route to Buenos Aires is attempted, but officials watch with interest every South American highway development which would contribute to the eventual success of the two-continent system. At present, longitudinal routes in South America appear to be developing less rapidly than transverse routes. The major recent developments have been the expansion of highway traffic between Venezuela and Colombia, Peruvian development of highways intended to connect the Pacific slope with the upper Amazon Valley, rapid modernization of highways in Argentina, and reported agitation for a Trans-Andean highway between Chile and Argentina at sufficiently low altitude to permit year-round travel. Highway officials here feel that practical means of international cooperation in furtherance of the highway to Panama has been established through super-congressional Act of June, 1934, which provided $1,000,000 to offset such expenses as the president in his discretion may deem necessary to cooperate with the several governments, members of the Pan American Union, in connection with survey and construction of the proposed inter-American highway. Pursuant to this authority, President Roosevelt in November approved expenditure of $349,000 toward the construction of bridges over the Chiriqui River in Guatemala. The United States will finance surveys, steel, the supplies of construction material, and supervision of construction, while the other country will furnish local materials, labor, and the rights-of-way. Similar arrangements are being negotiated with respect to other Central American bridges. A location survey is being made in Panama to the Costa Rican boundary. In connection with the Central American projects, C. B. McCullough, nationally known bridge engineer, has gone to Panama en route to the scenes of construction, accompanied by technical aides under the auspices of the United States Bureau of Public Roads. Mexico is building her own section of the Pan American highway, and completion of the route north of Mexico City is expected to attract official attention to the southern half. Although confident that the Pan American highway will henceforth make steady progress, officials here think that the completed modern route to Panama may not be ready in much less than a decade. This estimate is based on the rate of progress to date. However the first progress toward the route has been temporary with years of general economic depression, and with better times and active enthusiasm, it is physically possible that the average rate of progress may be expedited.

Plant Timber Belt To Protect Cattle BEAUMONT, (AP).—J. E. Broussard has started planting of a timber belt on his ranch south of La Belle, near Gumbo Island, to protect his cattle from winter storms. Last winter 20,000 cattle died during a severe storm on the coast between Galveston and Cameron parish. The cost of building sheds for protection during storms has been found prohibitive but the efficiency of a wind-break of trees and shrubs was established last winter on the ranch of Elmer Boyd on the Bolivar peninsula. A natural growth of trees and shrubs gave his cattle such shelter that Boyd's loss was small compared with that of neighboring ranchers. Extending east and west, the Broussard wind-break will traverse the ridge on the northern border of the salt grass range, which is about eight miles from the beach. In Jefferson county the ridge extends from four to eight miles from the Gulf waters. C. W. Simmons of College Station, state extension forester, and J. F. Combs, county agricultural agent, are assisting Broussard, who has plowed the ground in preparation for planting.

Run, instead of five pigs. I had our piano tuned instead of the well cleaned out. I spent all my cash in 1928, used my credit in 1929, and traded my future wages on installment in 1930, so hard times caught me in bad shape last fall. "I had only spent my last $10 for flour and meat instead of gas and oil, I would have been okay. I built a nice garage last year instead of covering my barn, and loathed in the mountains two weeks instead of being in the pasture fixing the fence so's my cow wouldn't get out, but she is dry and mortgaged to boot for two blankets my wife bought from an agent instead of paying the preacher. "I'm on a cash basis now but I ain't got no cash. I am tied to the end of my rope, and the man I'm working for is busted on account of nobody wouldn't pay him, and his cotton won't sell 'cause nobody won't buy cotton clothes; all the gals wear slick, silky stockings and silk underwear right here in the cotton patches. I had $4 saved up for a rainy day, but it turned out dry and I spent it for two inner tubes. "I tried hard to make both ends meet with a turnip patch, but when I got ready to sell, everybody else was selling turnips for nothing, and the market was glutted. I was worried plum to the bone, and my wife's kinfolks are coming over next Tuesday to spend two weeks. "Your Downhearted Friend."

As you are the representative to look after my interests down here in legislation matters, I thought you might want to hear from me and know my condition, and the situation I am in. "There seems to be so much talk about our so-called prosperity, I believe it is my duty to write you my views on the same and help to analyze the situation so far as possible, so's we can make up our minds we had ought to change our ways of living and so forth. "I have taken my own case, for instance. I see my mistakes and many others have acted likewise. I bought a car instead of a farm and it's worn out but the farm I figured on is still okay. I invested in a radio instead of a cow, and the radio gives static instead of milk. "I am fasting five nice hotwads that answer to the names of Red, Red Wing, Slobber, Jake and Bay

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

We are told that fancy food stores this year are making a to-do about gifts of actual food for the Christmas season. One collection, for instance, includes the makings for a holiday supper. And another is for a New Year's eve party, this latter including such articles as cheese in wine, great clusters of grapes, a large pudding, and other relished items.

If you don't like getting your nails clogged with the green of peas and beans, you should ask for one of the automatic pea shells which are being sold in the East, as one item for your Christmas stocking.

Efficiency to the nth degree is illustrated in the pink and blue mirrors now being made. The pink side shows how milky looks under night lights while the blue one shows her "as is" in day light.

Flower pails are now made in Siamese twin fashion—a short one for short stemmed blooms, a long one for long ones—both being carried by the same handle.

All this talk of what to buy for every member of the family or Christmas should make us rush out and start making Christmas lists. But somehow the impossible never worried us very much.

YWA Holds Social; Miss Hines Hostess

YWA girls met for a social with Miss Opera Hines at her home, 108 W. Maiden Lane, Tuesday evening.

Autumn amusements such as candy making, marshmallow toasting, and corn popping furnished fun for the guests.

Mrs. R. O. Walker was present as a guest.

Discussion was made of the stewardship declaration contest.

Present were: Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Iris N. Bounds, counselor, and Misses Laura Shelburne, Nora Mae Blizzell, Edna Stewart, Theo Cosper, Dorothy Hines and the hostess.

Mrs. Van Camp Is Honored at Tea

Entertaining for Mrs. Van Camp, member of the North Ward school faculty who is leaving to make her home in Fort Worth, Miss Mary Belle Pratt was hostess at tea at her home, 911 W. Kansas, Tuesday afternoon.

Guests were teachers in the school and former teachers.

The tea table was laid in lace and centered with white flowers and greenery on a mirror reflector. Green candles lighted the tea service which was presided over by the hostess' mother, Mrs. W. Ily Pratt.

Present were: the honoree, Mrs. E. B. Thomas, Mrs. Stacey Allen, Mrs. Bill Conner, Mrs. Russell Strader, Misses Dawn White, Elaine Meaders, the hostess and her mother.

Enigma Club Meets With Mrs. Ulmer

Thanksgiving tallies in turkey designs and prizes wrapped in white and yellow reflected the current holiday colors in appointments for the three tables of bridge with which Mrs. M. C. Ulmer complimented the Enigma club and guests at her home, 111 North C street, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. George Glass held high score for club members and Mrs. Harry Tolbert high cut in games.

Club guests were: Mmes. Ed Whitaker, Dick Cowden, A. N. Hendrickson, W. T. Walsh.

At the conclusion of play a party plate was served to guests and the following club members: Mmes. O. B. Holt, Glass, Ghas, Goldsmith, Harry Tolbert, Clarence Scharbauer, Foy Proctor, Allen Tolbert, Geraldine Hill, and the hostess.

Numerous wild horses are to be found in Iceland. These horses were formerly shipped to England for use in the mines, but are now permitted to run wild and continue to multiply.

Don't Forget Fine Cosmetics As Gifts For Your Mother

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

She probably has told you that she needs new house dresses, pans for the kitchen and fabric for draperies, but if you want to make mother doubly glad that you're her child, but at least one beauty gift in her Christmas stocking.

If her own hair has been straggling for months because the budget has been slightly unbalanced ever since the children started back to college in September, pay for a fine permanent wave in a good shop and hang a card that says so on mother's side of the Christmas tree. If you want to do the whole thing up right, buy her several scalp reconditioning treatments that she can get prior to the appointment for the wave.

If her dressing table, except for a good soap and hand cream, she simply has to have, is quite bare, how about a treatment box that contains two creams, a lotion and a powder base especially suited to her type of skin? If you can't figure this out for yourself, ask one of her best friends to advise you.

Housework being what it is as far as hand beauty is concerned, mother undoubtedly would love a huge bottle of lotion and several pairs of rubber gloves. You might look at new little sets which contain gloves, treated inside with almond oil, special hand soap and a hand cream.

A manicure outfit, with cuticle remover, lots of orange sticks and emery boards, powder polish and buffer as well as a neutral colored liquid enamel and a cuticle cream

If Posture's Bad Then Beauty Slumps

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

The woman who slumps forward or worse yet, forces her shoulders backward until she has an exaggerated hollow in the middle of her spinal column simply can't be truly beautiful. Shiny hair, clear skin and sparkling eyes are important, of course, but never for a minute lose sight of the fact that your posture has a great deal to do with the impression you make on others.

You should practice posture exercises to correct round shoulders, protruding stomach, often caused by a hollow in the back, and a sagging chin. Lie flat on the floor with knees drawn up and weight of the legs on balls of the feet. Lift the tip of your spinal column upward from the floor, meanwhile making the rest of the backbone fit snugly against the hard surface. Keep shoulders and neck perfectly flat. Breathe deeply, drawing stomach in and up. This, of course, helps you to get your backbone flat.

When you stand, you should maintain the position you were in on the floor. Stomach should be drawn in, shoulders square, and of the spine tilted forward so hips

Christian Science Service to Be Held

Thanksgiving services for the Church of Christ, Scientist, will be held in the private dining room of the Hotel Scharbauer Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, it was announced today.

The local service is held as a part of the Thanksgiving services of the church throughout the world and the public is invited to attend. It will include the reading of a Lesson-Sermon, the topic of which is "Thanksgiving", as well as an opportunity for the individual members of the congregation to express their gratitude for the blessings which have come to them during the past year, members said.

The Golden Text is: "Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High" (Psalms 50:14).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Behold, God is mighty, and despieth not any; he is mighty in strength and wisdom. He delivereth the poor in his affliction, and openeth their ears in oppression. Even so would he have removed thee out of the strait into a broad place, where there is no straitness; and that which should be set on thy table should be full of fatness" (Job 36-5, 16).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In the scientific relation of God to

for more than a Million cars in 1935

Once more, at this Thanksgiving season, Chevrolet wishes to express its hearty appreciation of the friendship which America has given to this company and its products in 1935 and throughout the past quarter-century.

This year Chevrolet has two very good reasons for saying, "Thank you, America."

One reason is that people have bought so many Chevrolet cars that production for the year will reach 1,040,000.

And the other reason is that they have placed a record number of orders for new 1936 Chevrolets during the first few weeks these beautiful new cars have been on display.

This is a double gift of friendship, representing, as it does, one of the biggest years in all Chevrolet history, and one of the most enthusiastic welcomes that any new automobile has ever received.

Chevrolet is indeed happy to say, "Thank you, America," and to pledge continued adherence to the manufacturing and service policies which have won and held this friendship.

BAUMGARTEN HOPEFUL OF VICTORY AS SPIRIT AND PHYSICAL CONDITION OF HIS TEAM REACHES PEAK FOR THE SEASON

With the full squad in perfect physical condition and with the morale of the boys higher than at any time this season, Coach Baumgarten today expressed confidence that the Bulldogs will play their best game of the year when they tackle the strong Odessa Bronchos in that city tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Bulldogs will enter the fray the underdog and will decidedly upset the nose bucket should they win. Their record offensively and defensively does not compare with that of the strong Ector county team. In five conference games so far this season the Bulldogs have made 66 points while allowing the opposition 38. The Bronchos, playing the same five teams, have rung up 102 tallies while allowing the opposition the same number that has been scored against the Bulldogs.

Comparative scores indicate that the Bronchos can present a much more diversified scoring team on the field as they have made many of their scores via their route, something that the Midland team has lacked all season.

In Green, 190-pound fullback, the Odessa team presents the outstanding back in the district. Green is not a triple nor a double threat man, confining his activities solely to carrying the ball—but how he can carry it. He has scored in each game played by the team this season and his speed and power make him a constant threat.

The Odessa team has not been held to less than two touchdowns in any game this season, while the Bulldogs have twice suffered the ignominy of a whitewash.

AGGIE COACH BECOMES PESSIMISTIC OVER CHANCES BEATING LONGHORNS

Norton Refuses to Be Cheered by the Way Arkansas Beat Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Nov. 27.—Coach Homer Norton, of the Texas Aggies, decidedly isn't the pessimistic type of grid mentor. He's maintained a cheerful outlook on coming Cadet games for nearly two full seasons even though odds were heavily against the Aggies, but now he's at his gloomiest since he came to Texas Aggie land the past year.

"I'm afraid a lot of people are going to be fooled by that 25-13 victory Arkansas won over the Longhorns Friday and make us the favorites against the Steers here Thanksgiving," he mourned while going over reports of the Porker Steer game. "I don't see it in that light at all."

The Aggies haven't won a Southwestern Conference game or any other major argument, to date this year, but a victory over the Longhorns Thanksgiving could go a long way toward salvaging some Aggie pride. The Steers have won only one conference game, turning back Baylor 25-6 after the Bears had defeated the Aggies 14-6.

"People in Austin and our own scouts say Texas showed more offense against the Porkers than they've showed this year and should have had three or four more touchdowns." "Here," he noted, running his finger over play-by-play accounts, "Texas had the ball on the 4 yard line as the half ended. And here receivers dropped two passes in the clear that they'll probably catch in their hip pockets against us. And here they fumbled on the Arkansas 15-yard stripe."

Norton also pointed out the Steers piled up 22 first downs against Arkansas and recalled Southern Methodist made only seven. "They've got power in their line with Pitzer and a bunch of others to lug the ball. And this boy Pitzer can pass that ball too."

"Yes," he concluded, "they've got a great ball club over there at Texas, much better than its record indicates, and I've got a headache trying to figure how we can beat them. And it seems strange to me that the Aggies, who haven't shown enough to win a single major game this year, can be made favorites by any means."

Norton put his Aggies through the heaviest part of their preparatory program the past week and plans to devote the three days this week receding the game to lighter drills. He expects all of the players to be in top shape except, of course, Half-back Waylon Manning and Guard Nick Willis, who definitely won't be able to play. Willis was injured in the Baylor game and Manning in the Arkansas tilt.

by Harry GRAYSON

NEW YORK.—Japan is the only foreign nation more interested in baseball than Mexico.

"They want a dozen American managers and coaches to come down there and develop them," says Al Schacht, the comedian who accompanied the All-American League team on a tour of the republic below the Rio Grande at the conclusion of the campaign.

"They really go for the game. Why, we had hundreds of women of 65 and more at our games every day. They've always got a band out there and they give the visitor a lot of applause when he makes a good fielding play or drives in a couple of runs. When he does that the band plays the hero number when he comes back to the bench and the people stand up and applaud."

"When it was all over they paid us off in pesos. They had coins stacked up by the bushel. I never saw so many coins even in big collections. I sent five pesos out for a barrel and dropped all mine into the barrel, counting all the while."

"I really enjoyed my trip. I got in track. I walked after the barrel was filled I went along with the pesos to the nearest bank and in exchange for my pesos in my vest pocket. What I got was seven $100 bills. Not so good and not so bad!"

Much Too Good for Mexico

American League players who made the trip were Vernon Kennedy, Ted Pons, Earl Whitehill and Jack Knott, pitchers; Luke Sewell and Charley Berry, catchers; Jimmy Foxx, first base; Rogers Hornsby, second base; Frank Hirtz, third base; Eric McNair, shortstop; and Heinie Manush, Roger Cramer, and Ralph Kress, outfielders.

"That team would be good enough for any league, and was much too good for Mexico," asserts Schacht.

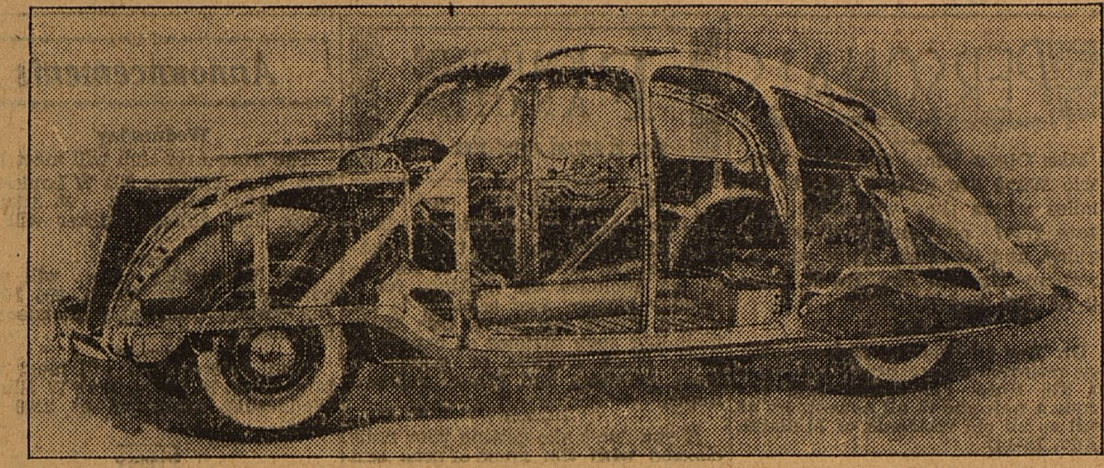

The club appeared in Mexico City on Thursdays, Saturdays, and Sundays. On other days it performed in nearby towns.

"Our opponents in Mexico City were the Aztecs, a pretty fair club," relates Schacht. "The manager of the team smoked a big black Puerto Rican cigar incessantly, and all during the game he walked between first and third base, puffing wildly."

"We played the Aztecs on a Sunday and the ball park in Mexico City had no outfield fence; it stretched from here to hellandgone. And there were no warning lines left-handed pull hitters in the lineup and what they did! Gentlemen, I hate to think of it even to this day."

Norton put his Aggies through the heaviest part of their preparatory program the past week and plans to devote the three days this week receding the game to lighter drills. He expects all of the players to be in top shape except, of course, Half-back Waylon Manning and Guard Nick Willis, who definitely won't be able to play. Willis was injured in the Baylor game and Manning in the Arkansas tilt.

Structural Design of Lincoln-Zephyr Is Unique

THIS PHANTOM drawing shows the all-steel "bridge truss" body construction of the new 110-horsepower V-12 Lincoln-Zephyr. This new car is the product of the combined resources of Ford and Lincoln and is the newest entry in the medium-priced field. The entire body structure takes the place of the conventional chassis frame. The various parts are welded into an integral unit. The steel top, side and rear panels, cowl, underbody assembly and floor are welded to the body framework and are part of its strength—an innovation in body manufacture. There are some 8,000 welds, believed to be the largest number ever used in an automobile. Center of gravity of the car is unusually low, one of its many outstanding safety features. The floor of the body is only 12 inches from the ground.

Albert Spalding Is On Ford Sunday Hour

Albert Spalding, probably the greatest American violinist of mature standing, will be guest artist with the Ford Symphony Orchestra and Chorus, under Victor Kolar's direction, in the Ford Sunday Evening Hour concert of Sunday, December 1. The program is heard from 9 to 10 p. m. Eastern Standard Time, over the complete coast-to-coast network of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

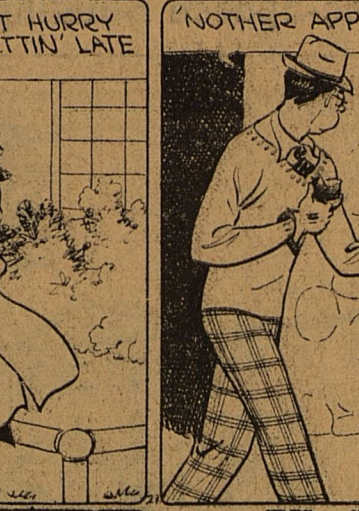

Spalding began his career at a time when prejudice against native born American artists was still in existence, especially in this country. He was born in Chicago, although his parents were New Yorkers on a visit to the Midwest metropolis. His early music education, under New York's finest teachers, was followed by study at the Paris Conservatory and in Florence. At twenty, he made his debut in Paris with Adeline Patti, who was then making her farewell tour. Tours of Russia, Western Europe and America followed the Paris debut. Critics and laymen alike were quick to realize that America had at last produced a first rank virtuoso. Spalding has appeared since in almost every corner of the globe, and for years has maintained a schedule of more than 100 concerts annually. He has appeared on many nation-wide radio broadcasts, and is as well known to the radio listener as to the symphony and concert patron.

In addition to his concert successes, Spalding has received many other honors. He was the first American ever to sit as a judge at the examinations of the Paris Conservatory. When war broke out, he enlisted as a private but quickly rose to the rank of captain in the Aviation Corps. During the war, he was awarded the Cross of the Crown of Italy and the Cross of the Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

Fifty thousand people are engaged in the radio industry in England.

Largest Crowd Ever To Attend Game In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, TEXAS (AP)—The largest crowd that ever saw a football game in Fort Worth will be present for the T. O. U. S. M. U. contest here at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Monday, 23,000 seats had been sold and the staff of the athletic department was working on a huge pile of mail and telegraph orders which poured in all day.

Temporary bleachers at the two end zones will make it possible to seat some 10,000 spectators in addition to the 13,500 which the regular concrete stands hold. If the customers demand it, a limited number of standing room tickets will be sold on the day of the game. If the weather is fair, it would not surprise anyone to see the attendance pass the 30,000 mark.

The game is easily the No. 1 contest of the nation and will draw sports writers here from many eastern points. Joe Williams, sports editor of the New York World-Telegram, came in Monday to spend the week getting acquainted with the two teams. Grandland Rice sends word that he will either be here or send a personal representative.

Both national broadcasting systems are completing arrangements to carry the game and will send special announcers here to call the plays.

Continue Knee-Action In New Chevrolets

Motorists will welcome the news, contained in Chevrolet's 1936 announcement, that fully-enclosed knee action is being continued as a feature of the new Master deluxe models, according to W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, who declares that knee action has registered with the motor-car buying public as one of the most important refinements ever incorporated in motor cars.

"After thorough demonstration of its abilities, in hundreds of millions of miles of use on every kind of road and in every climate, Chevrolet knee action is now entering upon its third year," said Holler. "Refinements have been made in the unit, but its design and the purpose behind it remain basically the same as when it was introduced, while the riding comfort and driving ease which it ushered in have been carried to new heights.

"Now that knee action and the resultant fine riding and steering qualities have become acknowledged essentials, there will be an increasing wave of orders from those who have heretofore been hesitant. Their friends have reported favorably and even enthusiastically, but the thought that the feature might not be retained in the 1936 product has doubtless held back thousands who would otherwise have bought long before this. With that final question dispelled, and knee action established as an unqualified success, they will cast aside their hesitancy and gratify their desire to own and drive the most comfortable car we have ever created."

Holler also pointed out that knee action had undergone hundreds of thousands of miles of development work and testing, both at the General Motors proving ground and on the road, before its introduction; and the thoroughness of this preliminary work, so characteristic of Chevrolet engineering operations, was reflected in the public's instant acceptance of knee action as a major improvement, and in the long trouble-free service which it has given in the hands of owners. Official figures for the year to date show that 98 per cent of all Master deluxe models sold were equipped with knee action, offered as optional equipment.

Ted Lewis Makes Hit In His First Picture

Ted Lewis, high-hatted troubadour and his merry mad musicians, who have established innumerable all-time box-office records on their recent tour of the nation's theatres, come to the screen in a blaze of glory in "Here Comes the Band."

Romance is set to melody and thrills rides high on wings of song in this love story set to music, which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer produced as one of its most elaborate extravaganzas, and which starts with a preview tonight at 11:15 and shows Thanksgiving day and Friday at the Yucca Theater.

Beautiful Virginia Bruce, following a series of outstanding portrayals in many recent MGM pictures, plays the heroine and Harry Stockwell, one of America's foremost baritone, is the singing hero. Stockwell, prior to joining the film colony, scored in the New York musical hit "As Thousands Cheer" and Earl Carroll's "Vanities," and won a national reputation on the radio with Paul Whiteman.

Pendleton Plays Piccolo Ted Healy and Nat Pendleton keep up their comical feud, with the elephantine Pendleton as a piccolo player whose art is comically ridiculed by the disparaging Healy, who tries to get music out of a clarinet.

Outdoor Swimming Is Annual Event At Fort Stockton

FORT STOCKTON, TEXAS (AP)—An out-of-door swimming on Thanksgiving and Christmas is an annual event in Fort Stockton, whose civic pool is led by one of the largest springs in the United States. The pool maintains a year round temperature of about 70 degrees, giving the inhabitants cool swims in summer and warm plunges in the winter.

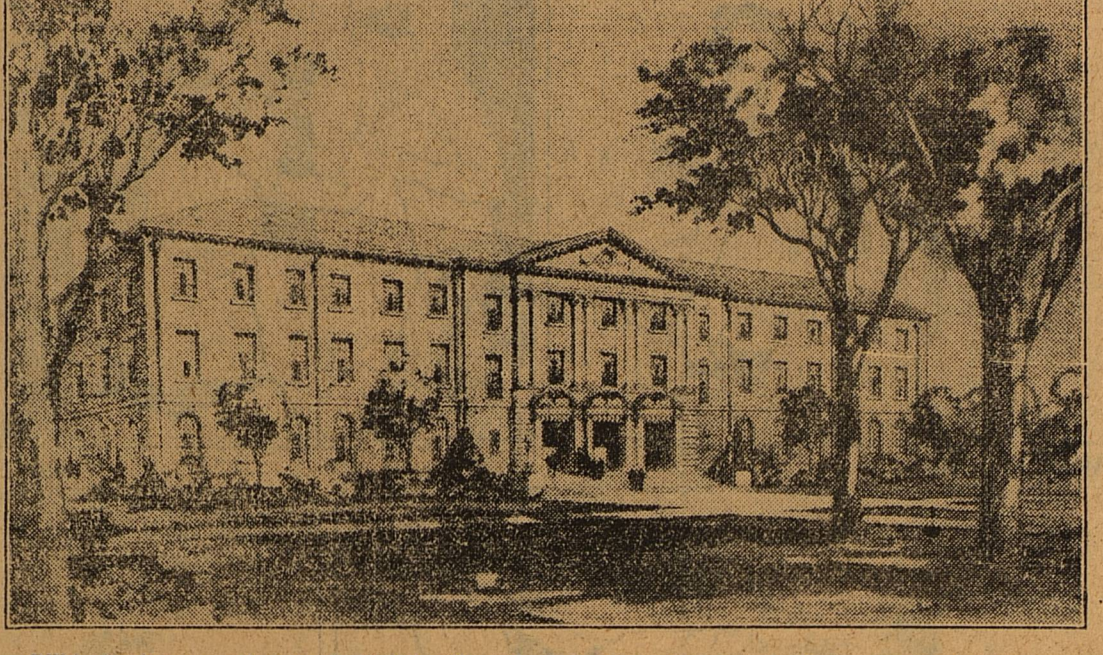

Thanksgiving and Christmas swims this year are preparatory to the Centennial celebration that Fort Stockton plans for next spring as a part of a region wide program west of the Pecos. This town's contribution will be a water festival and all the pretty girls of West Texas will be invited to take part.

The great spring that feeds the pool gushes millions of gallons daily, changing the water in the pool many times each day. It is one of a large group of springs said to have been discovered by the little wandering band of men headed by Cabeza de Vaca on their remarkable journey across Texas to the Mexican west coast less than 50 years after Columbus discovered America.

These families have lived on their own this year. For this and the resources to repay money borrowed for food they are grateful. In many instances they are doubly grateful because they have been able to repay the cost of equipment, livestock, and feed and seed secured through a Resettlement Administration loan, and many are now debt free as well as self-sustaining.

Thanksgiving will be the equinox between their seasons. Last season they have tried to forget. In the new season men will go to fields with a more hopeful attitude because they

Rehabilitationists Face Thanksgiving With Pilgrim Spirit

DALLAS, Nov. 26.—Thanksgiving Day will be thanks giving in Texas, in a way not witnessed since the Pilgrim's offered their first thanks for plenty, safety, and a promising future. More than twenty thousand farm "rehabilitation" families in this state are facing 1936 with the same Pilgrim's faith; and this after similar years of dreading the winter and finding no promise in the spring.

These families are thankful for the plenty of cupboards, pantries and cellars overflowing with food. They are thankful for the average of 250 quarts of canned foods in each family's store-house. They are thankful for bushels of potatoes and many pounds of dried fruits and vegetables, and popcorn filling large hard cans. They are thankful for the hundreds of pounds of canned and cured meats, and animals yet to be butchered. They are thankful for grain and roughage to carry the stock through until another crop is made.

These families have lived on their own this year. For this and the resources to repay money borrowed for food they are grateful. In many instances they are doubly grateful because they have been able to repay the cost of equipment, livestock, and feed and seed secured through a Resettlement Administration loan, and many are now debt free as well as self-sustaining.

Thanksgiving will be the equinox between their seasons. Last season they have tried to forget. In the new season men will go to fields with a more hopeful attitude because they eat three square meals a day, meals balanced by the variety of goods produced by the family. Women will greet Thanksgiving with a special womanly thankfulness for the plump goose, turkey, or hen they have carefully fattened for the occasion. Many of these mothers will have such a feast for the first time in ages.

"I never came before in my life, and only 13 jars out of a thousand spoiled." Thus one woman bespeaks the success and pride with which these homemakers have watched their food supply increase. It is easy to take other steps with the first to success. Homes were improved, yards cleaned, clothes worked over, and even the Saturday bath was renewed with money for soap and tubs. The purchase of 58 large wash tubs in September (106 in August) doesn't necessarily indicate women are doing more clothes washing. It means that the men are insisting on greater comfort for the Saturday night ritual.

Getting the day's sweat out of the eyes and the whiskers of the face makes men critical of their surroundings. So the husbands and wives collaborated to clean up more than five thousand yards, fence 281, and plant shrubs and flowers in nearly a thousand in one month. One thing led to another and houses were given such a going over as they had never received before. Walls were cleaned, floors finished, pantries built, furniture made, and bedding washed and aired.

Texas was literally blanketed with new and renovated bedding. Families who formerly thought bed linens wretched "TAOETAOINETAOIT" were for the rich are now finding them necessary for their own welfare. Rural resettlement women made and renovated 2,329 pieces of bedding in September and 2,791 in August. November will far surpass these two months in bedding activity. Straw ticks have given way to home-made mattresses which utilize cotton grown on the farm. These families are also reading to learn new and better ways of working. In the last two months more than thirteen thousand pieces of literature (books, magazines, bulletins) were passed from one family to another. Several newspapers are giving short-time subscriptions to Resettlement Administration farmers.

Employment Shows More Gains in State

AUSTIN, Texas.—Employment conditions in Texas have improved moderately during November, both in comparison with the preceding month and the corresponding month last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Reports from about 1,300 representative Texas establishments give an aggregate of 59,890 employees, an increase of 1.2 per cent over the number of workers in the same establishments during November last year and 1 per cent over the number during the preceding month. Total payrolls of these establishments for the week ended November 16 increased 6.5 per cent over the corresponding week last year and about 1.7 per cent over the preceding month. Cities showing increases over the State average in the number of workers compared with November, 1934, were: Abilene, Amarillo, Brownsville, Denison, Houston, Port Arthur, Waco, and Wichita Falls. The groups of industries showing an increase were: cement plants, cotton oil mills, electric railway car shops, foundries and machine shops, hotels, men's clothing stores, millwork, petroleum refining, quarrying, and structural iron works.

Indian Bones Identified (U.P.)—Eight human skeletons that were found near here have been identified as Indians of the first Chiwere group, which were the ancestors of the Winnebagos, Iowas, Otoes, Missouris and Mondaks. The skeletons were found during excavation for a building. The Malays value the teardrops of the dugong, or seacow, as love potions. They believe that a man carrying a vial of dugong tears can win the love of any beautiful woman.
