LIQUOR QUESTION RULING IS GIVEN

Complications of New Law Further Clarified By Statements

This season of the year brings with it an increase in the motor vehicle traffic. Thousands of persons, enjoying a vacation, are on the highways at this time. Like public health, and a great many other things, traffic safety depends upon effective partnership. Whether you are at the wheel or on the highway or street, your safety and that of the other fellow, depends upon both of you. Assistant Attorney General Leon Moses, who prepared the opinion, said it applied to Tarrant County, which recently voted wet. Before prohibition, certain subdivisions voted dry and later, the county. The ruling was made that such subdivisions became wet areas on the wet county vote because the liquor act recognized only counties, Justice procincts, cities and incorporated towns as local option areas. other fellow, depends upon both of you.

The speed mania and reckless driving, and all that they imply, in the lack of self control, disregarded for laws and for the rights and lives of others, are responsible for a large part of the traffic deaths and unnecessary suffering. In the face of the hazards involved, absent-mindedness on the part of the driver or pedestrain, also becomes a vice, with matorious records for destructive consequences. Motor transportation has become an inherent part of our daily lives. To reduce the hazards for ourselves and for others the least we can do is to admit our obligation

Moses said a different situation exists in Dallas County which will vote on local option repeal Dec. 21. He explained that conditions there were affected by his ruling that a county wide wet yets first would be county wide wet vote first would be recessary and later elections by Justice precincts and cities to legalize sale if it had been prohibited by the county and such subdivisions prior to Statewide prohibition. we can do is to admit our obligation as partners in the Safety Traffic business, and to accept our respon-sibilities as drivers and as pedes-

TEST THAT STRIKES BACK

The "truth serum"-that drug under the influence of which people are supposed to be powerless to tell lies -is generally looked on as a means of bringing the guilty to punishment. A recent case in Oklahoma indicates that it may also serve, occasionally, to protect the innocent.

An Oklahoman told the authorities that his divorced wife and a local justice of the peace had committed a murder 28 years ago. His story seemed plausible and properly detailed, and the two he accused were arrested. Then County Attorney Charles B. Muscular Arms Are Not Beauty Asset

By ALICIA HART NEA Service Staff Writer

"Beautiful arms are symmetrically round and full, but not muscular," says Donald Loomis, trainer of Hollywood stars. "There's not much a woman can do to improve the shape of her hands (however, gripping exercises tend to enlarge them), but if she plans her exercises carefully it is quite possible to develop scrawny arms or to reduce fat ones.

develop scrawny arms or to reduce fat ones.

"A thin arm can be made round and smooth and graceful by exercises that are vigorous and concentrated. The idea is to draw a lot of blood to this portion of the anatomy, to exhaust the muscles as quickly as possible, then to relax and give them plenty of time to rest.

lax and give them plenty of time to rest.

"On the other hand, repetitious exercises, stretched over long periods of time will tear down fatty tissues. In other words, such exercises burn up fat without developing muscle. For instance, a long distance runner who jogs along for great distances is thin. But a sprinter, who puts everything into a short dash, then rests, is big and muscular.

"A good exercise to develop thin arms is done with a bar bell or some other kind of heavy weight. Lift it up and down over the head ten times twice a day for two, weeks. Then increase the number of lifts to eighteen.

"To reduce fat arms, use free arm exercises with no weights. Midland Woman Is Author of History

George O'Brien John, member of The Houston Chronicle editorial staff, is the author of a book, "Texas History, an Outline" which is just off the press of Henry Holt & Co., of New York.

John is a brother-in-law of Mrs. John E. Adams of Midland. His father was the late Judge Robert A. John, associate general counsel of the Texas company for many years. His mother is a granddaughter of Gen. Sam Houston.

The Houston Chronicle, in a lengthy review of the publication said:

Miss Dura Roxburgh visited at San Angelo during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Forrester of Odessa were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Eiland Sunday.

Miss Evelyn Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips is expected to arrive home the last of the week from Ward-Belmont school, Nashville, Tenn., to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Osborne have gone to Denver for a Christmas vacation.

B. F. Ward, who has been at Roswell for several months in the employ of a grocery firm, returned to his home here Sunday.

Miss Dura Roxburgh visited at San Angeld during the weekend.

The book is an abridged edition of the standard history of Texas by Henderson Yoakum, corrected and augmented from the author's personal collection of documents and letters. Descendants of pioneer Texas families were consulted by John in gathering material for his book.

"The history runs about 50,000 words and there are more than 30 illustrations, including a map of early Texas showing historic points never before marked. The book covers the colonial period, the republic and 50 years of statehood."

In a favorable notice, the Houston Press said:

"George O'Brien John, reporter on The Houston Chronicle."

Guidebooks To Be Presented Through Writers' Project

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 14. - Every

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 14. Every county and city in Texas will be presented with a thorough guidebook of interesting facts concerning its immediate locale as a result of the Works Progress Administration writer's project, designed to provide work for competent writers on relief, J. Frank Davis, director of the project, announced today.

"Work has been initiated on the Texas section of the American Guidebook," Davis said, "and as fast as competent writers, eligible for relief, are applying for work, they are being put on the job." The project will employ 233 writers from Texas relief rolls, it was estimated. Expenditures of $21,000 per month have been authorized to finance compilation of the manuscript in this state.

send the assembled material to the state office in San Antonio. Original manuscripts will be presented to the city or county from where the material was gathered.

All Texas material will be condensed by writers in the headquarters office into a concise guidebook for the state. This manuscript will be presented to the state of Texas for publication and distribution if state officials see fit to do so.

The completed work will be fur-
