SNOWSTORM FALLS IN TEXAS VOIDING WARM FORECASTS

Sleet, Rain and Snow All Are Felt In East Part
COLDER IN NORTH Below Zero Readings Recorded In States

DALLAS, Feb. 6. (AP)—A snowstorm today slipped into Texas to void weather predictions, the forecast having said rain in the eastern part of the state with warmer weather, but the mercury went to 32 F. Monday last night, sleet fell early today and turned to snow after daybreak. Corsicana reported some sleet mixed with rain. Scattered showers fell in the east and the south but West Texas remained dry.

Flying Tank Visioned as New War Monster

A terrifying war machine that appears like the embodiment of a fantastic dream is the "flying tank" shown in the upper photographic composite with the plane that would carry it, in plans being developed by Walter J. Christie of New York, inventor of the convertible speed tank shown in the lower photo. The tank is shown suspended under the plane's fuselage. In landing, the wheels of the plane are lowered. The tank, its inventor asserts, is capable of traveling 65 miles an hour with caterpillars attached and 90 miles an hour without them. Its adoption is being considered by the U. S. government.

WHAT LIQUOR ELECTION WILL MEAN

Editor's Note: The following article was prepared for the readers of The Reporter-Telegram in an effort to clarify the conflicting ideas and statements on what the county-wide liquor election in the county Saturday will mean. A strict non-partisan attitude is taken by Hines in the article, personal opinion being submerged for a legal one.

"In Saturday's liquor election Midland county, as a unit, will vote on the thing. Legalizing the sale of all liquor in the county as a unit, Precinct One, in which the city of Midland is located, will vote on two things: Legalizing the sale of all liquor in the county, and legalizing its sale in Precinct One as a unit. If the county votes wet it will still have only one Precinct in it, the Wardfield Precinct, in which all liquor may be legally sold, unless in the concurrent election in Precinct One, it should vote wet also. This is because Precinct One, Two and Three had voted dry prior to the county-wide election of 1913 by which the county as a whole went dry, but Precinct Four, the Wardfield Precinct, had not. Under recent rulings of the Supreme Court the county-wide restrictions must be removed first, and then the lesser subdivisions may remove their restrictions if they so desire. By the same holdings, in a county where the restrictions are, and remain, county-wide a wet subdivision cannot exist, but there is nothing to prevent a subdivision of a wet county from voting liquor out of its borders. If one county should vote wet, and Precinct One likewise, then Precincts One and Four would be open to the sale of all liquor sub-

PEKIN, Ill., Feb. 6. (AP)—The three-day general strike of 2,000 men here ended today. Jack Kinsella, business agent for Peoria and Pekin Building Trades union, indicated that an order calling off the strike will be effective immediately.

PEKIN, Ill., Feb. 6. (AP)—The general strike committee's plans to paralyze the complete business activity here today met open defiance in some quarters. Late this afternoon 200 retail merchants defied the ban, and voted to open their doors at eight a. m. tomorrow. Chief of Police Donahue said that he would give them full protection. Strike leaders said that the strike would be continued until Donahue, whom they said attempted to break their picket lines Monday, was dismissed.

YOUR INCOME TAX

HOW TO AVOID COMMON ERRORS

The period for the filing of income tax returns covering the calendar year 1935 begins January 1 and ends at midnight of March 15. March 15, the usual close of the filing period, this year falls on Sunday, allowing taxpayers an additional day of grace, which, however, it will be to their interest to disregard to file early inasmuch as the Government is of mutual benefit to the taxpayer and the taxpayer. Within this period are filed annually millions of individual income tax returns, which usually are accompanied by a large proportion of which report income subject to the tax. The latter contain a considerable percentage of errors, which if uncorrected by the audit would result in the advantage of the taxpayer. Many are errors of computation easily discovered on the face of the return, which usually is accompanied by a payment of more than the amount of tax due. In other returns it is readily discernible that the taxpayer has failed to take advantage of the personal exemption, credit allowed for dependents, or deductions from gross income which he is entitled to.

A GREAT REGIONAL EXPOSITION

Visitors are going to flock to Midland on at least three occasions this year as result of the ambitious program adopted by the Midland Fair, Inc.

Dates have been set for the spring race meet, with ten days of running between May 20 and 30. The Texas Centennial is advertising throughout North America the "open to the world" rodeo to be staged here June 26-28. And sometime in the fall there will be the Fair's big stock show and sale, agricultural fair and fall race meet.

The keen interest shown by citizens throughout the southwest in last fall's "hurried up" Fair gave an insight as to what may be expected when three well planned shows are staged during 1936 at the magnificent $50,000 Fair grounds.

Although exact figures have not been released as to the sale of an additional $20,000 in stock to bring the capital stock of the Fair from the original $30,000 up to the actual investment of $50,000, it is reliably reported that approximately $10,000 has been paid in within the past two weeks. That would leave $10,000 to go and practically all of the first stockholders have "raised their ante."

Merchants or property owners in Midland who have not taken Fair stock or whose shares are small can well afford to get into this progressive organization, adding to its possibilities for further establishing the Midland Fair, Inc., as a great regional exposition.

HAPPY DAYS ARE NEAR AGAIN

As statisticians finish compiling their first-of-the-year figures, it becomes more and more apparent that only some unexpected development can prevent this nation from reaching a very real measure of prosperity this year.

A bulletin from the National Industrial Conference Board, for instance, shows that the tide of business activity rose substantially throughout December. The bulletin points out:

"Building activity and steel output advanced in December, although their usual seasonal movement from November is downward. Production of bituminous coal rose by more than the usual seasonal amount. Electric power output reached an all-time peak in mid-December."

"Automobile production in the United States and Canada was about 3 per cent lower in December than in November, chiefly as a result of the Christmas shutdowns. The physical volume of department store sales was 9.7 per cent greater than in December, 1934, and 59 per cent greater than in November."

All in all, the picture is encouraging. It seems to point toward continued improvement in 1936.

"DOCTORED" NEWS

Foreign newspaper correspondents returning from Germany complain that it is becoming increasingly difficult to squeeze real news of the day out of Nazi Germany.

One American correspondent who had to travel to Copenhagen, Denmark, to file his dispatch, remarks that "newspapermen are feeling more and more the clutch of the kid glove of terror."

He reveals that 12 members of the Association of Foreign Correspondents, and many others who were not members, have been expelled from Germany, on the ground that their articles "were misleading and poisoned the international atmosphere."

It is a strange-hold, strong-arm system possible only under a dictatorship. Americans have cause to be thankful that no such conditions exist here. Our freedom of the press becomes increasingly valuable as we view life in countries without it.

War With Britain Would Exhaust Italy's Supplies Within Year

The threat of an oil embargo hovers over Italy like a black cloud. Just how dependent on other nations' oil and gasoline is Italy for military success? Frazier Hunt answers this vital question today in the last of three articles which recount the observations of the trained observations of a world-famous reporter—during a tour of Italy on assignment from NEA Service and The Reporter-Telegram.

By FRAZIER HUNT
Lack of oil and gasoline is the real secret of Italy's military weakness.

She has storage capacity for not more than four months' supply. In 1934 she produced less than 2 per cent of the total amount of gasoline that she used. In 1935 this figure was increased, due to the distilling of alcohol from sugar-beets. And new crude oil fields in Albania were brought into production, and the building of refineries started.

But the full results of these new sources of gasoline and spiritits production will not be secured for at least two years more. At present even the most heroic measures have not been able to increase the home production to more than 10 per cent of the total consumption.

Modern wars are fought on gasoline and crude oil. Oil for Italy's strategically important submarines is as essential as trained men to handle them. Without gasoline those swift battle planes, which glide across the blue Italian skies before the eyes of awed millions who see in these mechanical hawks a symbol of Il Duce's might, would be but wounded war birds tied to the ground. Likewise tanks and motorized and mechanical fighting units, without the precious fuel to give them life, would be but liabilities.

Deficient in All War Materials

As this lack of home production and storage capacity for oil and gas is the weakness of Italy, it is equally the strength of the British position. In case of actual war between Italy and England—with or without the League or allies—the sea would probably be closed by the British navy to oil tankers Italy-bound.

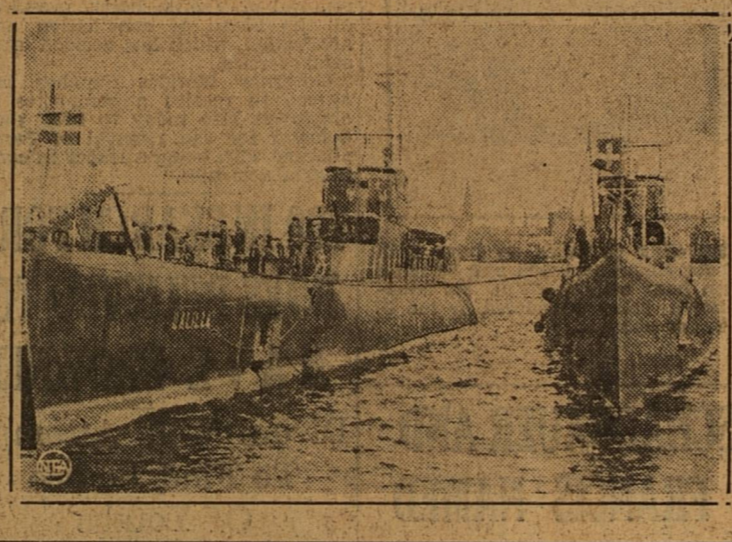

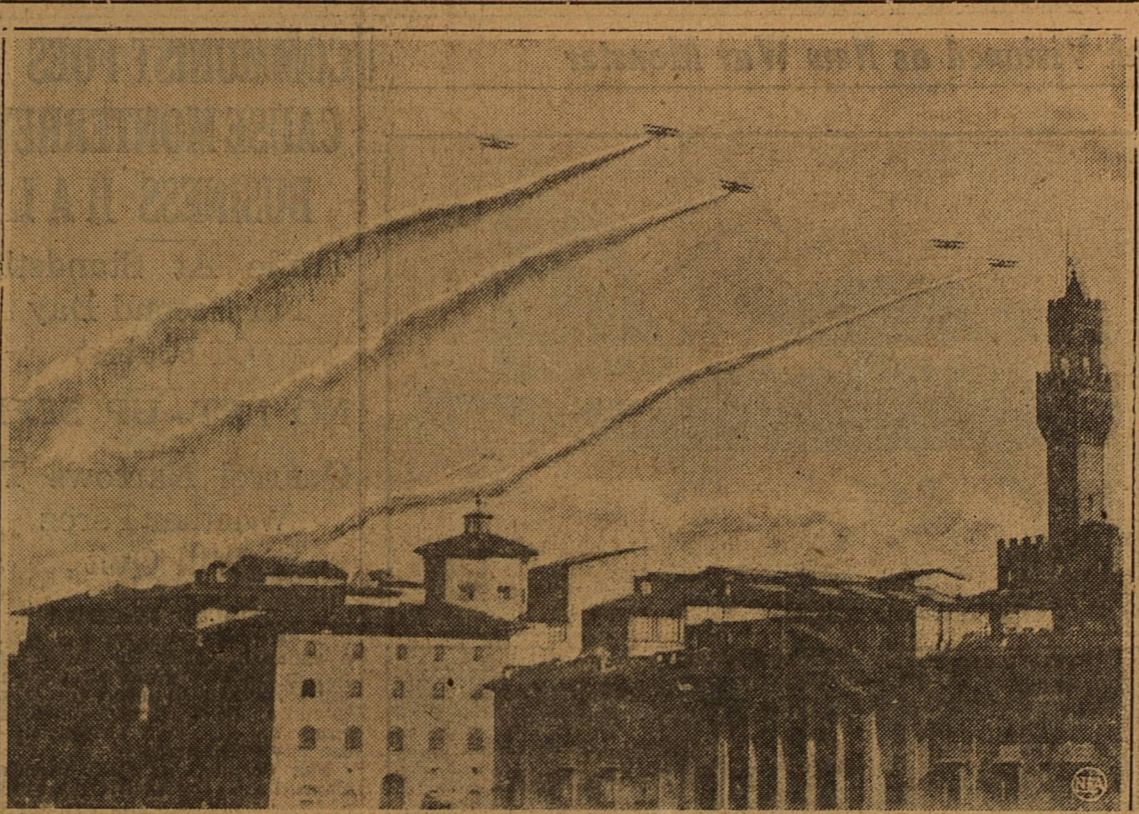

If the League lines up with Britain in a war it will be difficult for Italy to import gas or oil or motor fuel. The length of the war will then depend on one thing—the supply of gasoline Italy has on hand and the pitiful little amount she can produce at home. By the most rigid curtailment of the use of oil and gas, except for purely military purposes, this stock on hand might be stretched out to last half a year.

Italy's normal consumption of crude oil and gasoline is estimated at 1,800,000 tons. Of this grand total 480,000 tons is the gasoline consumption. In normal periods Italy buys only her lubricating and machine oils from the United States.

This means that unless the League and British sanctions include oil and gasoline, the United States is unimportant in the picture. If the League expands its sanctions to include oil and the United States does not, then America would be dragged at once into the dangerous waters of the Mediterranean.

Hardly less distressing and tragic than her shortage of gasoline is Italy's inadequacy of most of the strategic minerals and raw materials that go into the making of steel and war. So lacking is she in these essentials that even if she could answer the problem of oil shortage she could not sustain a major conflict for more than six or nine months—if she is cut off from all foreign supplies.

She has no rubber, cotton, tin, nickel, tungsten or phosphates, and less than 5 per cent of the copper she needs. She must import 75 per cent of her coal. She has only 50 per cent of the scrap iron and steel that she must use. By an almost superhuman effort she can grow, in good years, the food she uses. She must import part of her wool and potash. Of the seven recognized great powers of the world—United States, the British Empire, France, Soviet Russia, Germany, Italy and Japan—she is the poorest in land, minerals and natural resources.

Industries Face Collapse

When the League of Nations, led by England, imposed the original sanctions, cutting off most of her vital imports—except oil, copper, coal and iron—they made one other provision that in many ways was more devastating than these import sanctions—the stopping of all exports from Italy into sanction countries and the ending of all financial and economic intercourse.

In the more dramatic and spectacular question of oil sanctions, the importance of these reverse sanctions in all exports from Italy has been overlooked. Its effect has been the slow strangulation of Italy's economic life. Many Italian factories could shift their gears into war production and, at least for the time being, keep going. But within six or nine months, when the accumulations of raw materials and minerals are exhausted, the majority of these industries will be forced to close their doors. A new wave of unemployment will then have to be faced and solved.

The truth is that even without any further embargoes or extension of the sanctions, Italy can only, with great sacrifice sustain herself for more than nine months or a year at the outside. In the

Modern Study Club Host To Tea at Country Club

Seventy-Five Women Attend Social Affair Which Follows the Valentine Motif In Flowers and Appointments

The Modern Study club entertained with a tea at the Country club Wednesday afternoon with Valentine colors holding the preference in appointments.

Red carnations and other blossoms were used throughout the club auditorium where 75 guests were greeted.

Mrs. J. M. Haygood, club president, welcomed those who called with an original verse. She also introduced the program numbers.

Mrs. W. J. Coleman presented two piano selections, the first being Schubert's "The Fragment from the Unfinished Symphony" and the second, "Minuet in B Minor," from the work of the same composer.

A one-act play, "Thin Ice," was given under the direction of Mrs. R. Steele Johnston. The cast included: Mmes. Coleman, L. C. Link, J. H. Rhoden, J. M. Skinner, and Johnston.

Miss Mary Belle Pratt entertained with piano selections during the tea hour.

The tea table was covered with an Italian cut-work cloth and favored Valentine colors in the red carnations and the red candies which lighted it.

Mrs. O. L. Wood and Mrs. J. M. Haygood presided at the silver services, pouring tea.

Reviews of Books

At Wednesday Club

Mrs. J. M. DeArmond reviewed a number of new books as leader of the book review program of the Wednesday club which met with Mrs. W. G. Whitehouse, 1505 W. College, Wednesday afternoon.

Under the classification of fiction, non-fiction, biography, autobiography, poetry and drama, and travel, the speaker discussed outstanding writings of the day, discussing several literary prize winners in the list.

Announcement was made by Miss Martha Louise Nobles of the book review to be sponsored by the Junior Wednesday club, February 15, at the Country club. Miss Paula Finch will review "Silas Crockett" by Mary Ellen Chase.

Club members in attendance were: Mmes. J. M. Caldwell, Elliott Cowden, Frank Cowden, DeArmond, Frank Elkin, Andrew Fasken, George Glass, C. M. Goldsmith, M. R. Hill, O. B. Holt, R. L. Miller, John Perkins, W. T. Walsh, and the hostess.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Linen and silk combine nicely in a gold and gray ensemble of dress and coat. A gold linen flower posed at the neckline adds an unusual touch.

For the woman who is "suited" a pure silk print dress with a flannel coat.

Pretty necklines and sleeves are the chief interest in the new dress designs, we are told by a saleswoman in a ready-to-wear department in town. There is a striving after the new and different and some of the results are effective, as in a green print crepe which boasts sleeves of such intricate fagotting trim that they defy description but make an intriguing appearance.

Evening bags carry a perennial glamor about them and the ones this spring are no exception to this interesting law.

An outstanding bag is made of pale pink wooden beads strung on double linen thread which, it is said, will not break. The handle is a double affair, reminiscent of traveling bags.

An even more delicate one is made of pearl beads in white, gold and pastel shades applied in flower designs to a cloth bag.

Buttons and buckles show natural color wood and colored enamel in interesting proximity. These will be especially nice for spring sports wear.

Of all the meals of the day, perhaps breakfast is the hardest to vary interestingly. Personally we'd rather cook both the other meals than have to get up early enough to make toast and coffee.

Sunday breakfast, particularly, should be a leisurely meal dedicated both to culinary perfection and mental relaxation.

Inez S. Wilkon, home economist, writing for a national concern, gives the following suggestions for the morning meal on the day of rest:

Bacon and waffles, with maple syrup.

Hot cakes and fried sausages.

Ham and eggs.

Sausage and fried pineapple on toast points.

Creamed sweetbreads on toast.

Veal a la King on baking powder biscuits.

Stuffed bacon slices with broiled grapefruit.

Bacon and cheese omelet.

Broiled ground beef patties with corn bread muffins.

Canadian style bacon with scrambled eggs.

"Conscience Fund" Of Nation Growing Larger Every Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. (U.P.)—Persons who wanted to have an easy mind paid $5,885.69 to the United States treasury last year. By so doing they took a load off their respective chests and raised the value of the national "Conscience Fund" to $621,867.65.

To this a resident of Sacramento, Cal., recently added $100. These contributors never give their names.

The "Conscience Fund" more prosaically known as Document 126,420, was started in 1811 when an unknown individual sent $5 to the treasury of President Madison because he felt he had "defrauded the government."

Before the year was over enough money had been contributed by guilty minded persons to bolster the fund to $250 and it was launched into perpetuity.

Although there were no more contributions until 1827, every year since then with the single exception of 1848, bad consciences have increased treasury totals.

The money is set aside as "anonymous contributions" and included in the nation's general fund.

The worst conscience the nation ever had, judging by the year's total, must have been 1916 when $54,923.15 was sent in and, on the basis of population, each citizen's bad dreams were worth exactly one-twentieth of a cent.

Contributions usually are impelled by sudden pangs of conscience and are customarily sent by persons who have used postage stamps a second time, failed to pay duties on articles, evaded income taxes, or stolen government property.

The only way the treasury has of notifying them of receipt is by publishing the fact in the press.

The letters that have poured in over the years after mental tussles and sleepless nights are manifold

FLUSH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste, poisonous matter may develop, causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

duly impressed to restore a postage stamp which I used once. . . . May the Lord bless each one and save each one and save our souls."

An old Civil War soldier gave $200 to an Indiana pastor to send to the fund because he had ridden away on a government mule after Appomattox and he wanted to square the debt.

"And a girl of the native decade, once wrote to the president:

"To his Majesty, President Cleveland:

"I am in a dreadful state of mind. About two years ago I used two postage stamps that had been used before. I did not realize what I had done until lately. I think of it night and day. Now, dear President, will you please forgive me. I will never do it again. Enclosed please find cost of three stamps and please forgive me for I was 13 years old and I am sorry for what I have done. From one of your subjects."

In 1916 one contributor sent $30,000 in four installments and after the World War an Englishman sent a farthing as his pro rata share of the British debt.

Only recently have come contributions to "help balance the budget" or to "help in the deficit our country is facing."

Many requests have been forwarded to treasury officials asking for loans or gifts from the funds. They vary from charitable organizations to the man who wanted to get out of the poor house to write and illustrate a novel.

Once a letter in German came from the depths of the Brazilian forest, written by a Russian.

The treasury will not allow any part of the fund to be paid out. It belongs to the taxpayers. And the contributors don't care much. They figure on being angels.

Cripple Expert With Knife

PAINESVILLE, O. (U.P.)—An accident to James F. O'Moore's back three years ago caused his hands to shake constantly, so he mastered use of a penknife for skillful wood-carving in defiance of his crippled condition. His work includes a complete barnyard, with animals and implements.

A spear will stop a lion's charge, even though the wound be slight. The animal stops to rid itself of the shaft.

"Eleven billion dollars a year for Food?"

THAT'S HOW MUCH American women spend. If you are buying food for the so-called "average" family of four your share is at least $11 a week.

The job of getting the most out of that eleven dollars requires thoughtful planning, if not ingenuity. You've got to keep a supply of staples on hand—flour, sugar, shortening, baking powder, essential condiments and spices. A variety of breakfast cereals is required. Milk, butter, eggs and cheese figure in meals constantly. Tea, coffee, cocoa and canned fruit juices are consumed daily. Fresh, as well as canned fruits and vegetables, can't be overlooked. Meats and fish—either fresh, smoked or canned—demand that you buy them. Jellies, jams, relishes and canned soups insist upon a place in your market basket. And last, but not least, is bread three times a day.

So what's the best rule to follow in buying this wide assortment of food? How can you avoid monotony in meals? How can you discover new menus and recipes? How can you have enough money left over each week from your food allowance for a few tasty luxuries that make meals more appetizing? How can you save time and money in buying?

Well, you can tramp through the markets daily—looking, pricing and comparing. But here's an easier way—a more accurate way—a more up-to-the-minute way—

THIL'S FOUL ENDING STATUESQUE

Marcel Thil, Europe's idea of the world middleweight champion, reaches for a strand of rope in his own corner as he collapses in the fourth round of his second edition with Lou Brouillard in Paris. The bait Frenchman claims that he was fouled, but Georges Carpentier and others express the opinion that he was knocked out fairly.

Where Italians Have Extended Gains in Ethiopia

With heavy rains checkmating Marshal Badoglio's advance in the northern war zone of Ethiopia, gains of the invaders have been confined to the southern theater of conflict, where Gen. Rodolfo Graziani's forces have pierced far into the territory around Filta and Noghelli, capturing both of these cities and seizing a wide area around them. Goal set by Badoglio in the north before weather causes complete cessation of his drive is to a line extending east and west through the town of Amba Alagi. The darkened areas on the map show how far the Italians have advanced in both war zones.

100-Year-Old Woman Dies In Matamoros

BROWNSVILLE, (P).—Mrs. Refugio Yturria de Harris, who watched the soldiers of Gen. Zachary Taylor march in and raise the American flag on the square at Matamoros, Mexico, died recently at the home in that city where she was born in July, 1836. For almost a century Mrs. Harris lived at Matamoros, a member of one of the best known families on the border. Her early recollections include the bombardment of Fort Brown, during which one of her brothers raised the Mexican flag in a tree at Matamoros and drew fire from the guns at Fort Brown. She knew Cortina the raider and Maximilian and his "mad empress", Charlotte. Mrs. Harris steadfastly refused to move from the family home at Matamoros. In 1913 her life was endangered when Gen. Lucio Planco stormed the city. The entrenchments of the defenders were less than a block from her home and bullets struck the house frequently. She was married to Jose Pinero, Matamoros merchant, in 1851, and in 1882 to Walter Clifford Harris, partner of Humphrey C. Woodhouse in operation of a line of clipper ships from Brazos de Santiago to New York. Mrs. Harris had a retentive memory and frequently during recent years described in detail the events of 90 years ago along the border. England has more than 1,650,000 childless couples within her borders, according to a recent census. Nevada is the only state in the Union that does not levy inheritance and estate taxes. WHY? WHY?

WHY do the liquor dealers want a legalized liquor traffic in our County and City?

Because they POSITIVELY KNOW that it will mean MORE LIQUOR SOLD and MORE MONEY MADE FOR THEM!

OF COURSE, it also means more drunkenness, more poverty and misery in homes, more murder and fatal accidents especially on our highways, more danger and ruin to our young people.

But the liquor dealers care far less about these tragedies than they care for their profits.

WHY do the "dry forces" fight against a legalized liquor traffic?

Because we would protect the security and happiness of the homes.

We would stop murder and fatal accidents from drunken driving.

We would protect the physical, the mental and the moral welfare of our young people against the menace of the liquor traffic.

We solicit the help of every citizen. Work and vote to make and keep our County and City free from the blight of a legalized liquor traffic.

SHERIFF'S SALE No. 2803

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Midland.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Midland County, on the 1st day of February, 1936, by Neily C. Romer, Clerk of said District Court, for the sum of Three Hundred Forty-Five and No/100 Dollars and costs of suit, under a Judgment in favor of Thelma Walker in a certain cause in said Court, No. 2803 and styled Thelma Walker, Et vir vs. Mrs. Ada Perry, placed in my hands for service, I, A. C. Francis, as Sheriff of Midland County, Texas, did, on the 1st day of February, 1936, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Midland County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

Lots Four (4) and Five (5), Block Fourteen (14), located in the town of Germania, Midland County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of Mrs. Ada Perry and that on the first Tuesday in March, 1936, the same being the 3rd day of said month, at the Court House door, of Midland County, in the City of Midland, Texas, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., by virtue of said levy and said Order of Sale I will sell said above described Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said Mrs. Ada Perry.

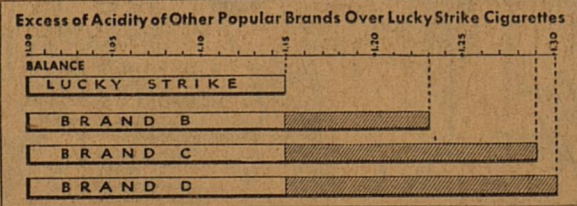

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Midland Reporter-Telegram, a newspaper published in Midland County.

Witness my hand, this 1st day of February, 1936. A. C. FRANCIS, Sheriff, Midland County, Texas. By Fisher Pollard, Deputy. Feb. 6-13-20.

A LIGHT SMOKE offers something to each smoker!

Luckies are less acid

Recent chemical tests show that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

All kinds of people choose Luckies, each for reasons of his own. But everyone agrees that Luckies are A Light Smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco. It is a rather surprising fact that the leaves of the same tobacco plant may vary far more than the leaves from plants of quite different types. Chemical analysis shows that the top leaves contain excess alkalies which tend to give a harsh, alkaline taste. The bottom leaves tend to acidity in the smoke. It is only the center leaves which approach in Nature the most palatable, acid-alkaline balance. In Lucky Strike Cigarettes, the center leaves are used.
