35 BANDS IN B'SPRING FOR ANNUAL CONTESTS

First Groups Are Heard At Auditorium

Marching Tests Tonight To Be One Of Features Of Meeting

A record entry list of 35 bands brought students by the hundreds, dressed in the colorful uniforms of their organizations, to Big Spring Friday for the annual West Texas high school band contests. The number of entries is almost twice as large as those of previous years. Competing not against one another but against a standard, first of the bands made their appearances at the municipal auditorium this morning. Five judges, Earl Irons of Arlington, Wilson T. Betts of Marlin, Ellis B. Hall of Amarillo, Joseph E. Maddy of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Boh Makovsky of Stillwater, Okla., make the numbers and were grading the bands.

These organizations given a "superior" rating of 92 or above will be awarded gold statuettes. Added attraction for the bands this year is the offer of a week's stay at the Texas Centennial exposition at Dallas. The Centennial will provide accommodations for the outstanding band in each of the contest divisions. There are contests for junior high school bands, and Class A, B, C and D organizations.

Of interest to the public will be the marching contests, to be held at the football stadium this evening at 8 o'clock. Contest presentations will be continued through today and Saturday, and the events will be climaxed with a massed band concert on Saturday evening at the municipal auditorium.

No charge admission charges for the marching contests and the massed band concert, and the public is invited to attend. The auditorium was well filled Friday morning during the presentations. As the bands gave their numbers, solo contests also were being held. Individual players in the various organizations compete in these events. Winners will be given honor awards, and cups also will be presented to winners of the marching contests.

Big Spring was all but over-taxed in accommodating the throngs of students. Cots were placed in the high school gymnasium and in the CCC barracks at scenic Mountain side park to accommodate those not given places in hotels and homes.

Bands heard Friday morning included two in the junior high division, Abilene, under direction of R. T. Bynum, and Lubbock, directed by H. A. Anderson.

Next to play were those in Class D, and these had completed their numbers at noon: Rankin, W. R. Wheeler, director; Brady, Lester Calloway; Megargel, David Rose; Bangs, P. A. Sandifer and Blanket.

Mrs. Fuqua Is Death Victim

Funeral Service For Local Woman Set Saturday Afternoon

Pneumonia complications resulting from an attack of influenza brought death early Friday, to Mrs. Margaret Agnes Fuqua, wife of Arthur G. Fuqua, employe at the Howard County refinery. She succumbed at 8 a. m. at the home near the Coaden refinery.

Funeral service will be held at 4 p. m. Saturday from the Eberly Funeral home, with Forrest H. Waldrop, minister of the Church of Christ, officiating. Burial will be made in New Mt. Olive cemetery beside the grave of a sister of Mrs. Fuqua.

Fight Over Relief Plans To Be Taken To White House

ENTOMBED

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—A house bloc today determined to carry directly to the White House a fight to save Secretary Ickes' Public Works administration from oblivion in next year's relief program.

Members of the group announced they had 200 signatures on a petition seeking to earmark 700 million for the Ickes program. The group is irked by the report that Hopkins' Work Progress administration is due to get the bulk of the proposed billion and one-half dollar appropriation for work relief.

Observers believed an Ickes-Hopkins showdown was near. There have been recurrent clashes between the two over conflict in their two divisions of work relief. Ickes has favored putting government money into larger, permanent projects, while Hopkins, intent on speeding reemployment, has developed smaller projects under the WPA.

While this squabble was developing between the two work-relief agencies, republicans geared for battle to demolish the whole federal relief setup and return administration to the states.

Would Remove Both
Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan earlier this week announced his plan of offering a substitute measure for the proposed relief bill, to remove both Ickes and Hopkins from the relief picture and return the activities to the states.

Republicans were expected to discuss President Roosevelt's request for $1,500,000,000 to conduct work relief after July 1 at a party caucus to be held early next week. Democrats are expected to stand solidly behind the appropriation.

Opposition of the bloc was directed at ear-marking a big part of the fund for non-federal works projects under WPA.

PRESTON SANDERS SPEAKER FOR CLUB
A classification talk by Dr. Preston Sanders on the course of training required by the medical profession before a student is admitted to practice was the feature of the American Business club meeting Friday.

Thomas C. Harmon and Paul McDaniel were introduced as new members. Dan Conley, high school band director, was a guest.

PHIL KENNAMER IS DENIED REHEARING
OKLAHOMA CITY, April 17 (AP)—The state court of criminal appeals today denied a rehearing for Phil Kennamer, son of a federal judge who was convicted for manslaughter in the death of John Gorrell, Jr., and sentenced to 25 years in prison.

FARM LOAN ASSN. OFFICES MOVED INTO BANK BLDG.
Offices of the National Farm Loan association in Big Spring have been moved from the Petroleum building to the State National bank building, Ira J. Driver, secretary, announced Friday.

To Run Casing In Glasscock Test
Seven-inch casing will be run to bottom of the Pleistocene Oil Corp. No. 1 Floyd C. Dodson, Glasscock county wildcat, to shut off sulphur water which was encountered Wednesday from 2,795 to 2,835 feet. The water rose 2,000 feet in the hole.

Operators said the test would be deepened since it is below the level of lime production in the Roberts and East Howard pools. Water was struck 442 feet in the line which was called at 2,832 feet. Active lease play occurred when the test missed the salt, then obtained oil shows in sand above the lime. Only show in the line has been a puff of gas at 2,771-79 feet.

Italy's Terms Are Rejected By Ethiopia

Fascists Opposed To Armistice Until Kingdom Is Conquered

(By The Associated Press)
The league of nations committee of 13 today agreed that attempts to effect a conciliation in the Italo-Ethiopian war have failed.

The members decided to convoke the league council in extraordinary session Monday to consider the conflict in the presence of representatives of both belligerents.

The breakdown followed the Ethiopian delegation's flat refusal to consider Premier Mussolini's modified peace proposals, which stipulated direct negotiations without league interference.

Troops Approach Capital
At Rome an Italian spokesman said Italy is willing to declare an armistice only after its armies have completed a smashing victory over the defenders and the fascists have set up an authority sufficient to thwart any military reaction.

The Italian troops were believed to be nearing Addis Ababa, although torrential rains were reported to be slowing their advance on the Ethiopian capital.

France addressed a "supreme appeal" to Mussolini, asking a cessation of the war long enough to discuss peace.

Italy meanwhile warned Britain, now massing warships in the Mediterranean, not to push her too far. In Addis Ababa, tribal chieftains and cabinet ministers met secretly after two Italian planes flew over the capital. The conference were supposed to be mapping defense plans.

House Passes Road Measure
Appropriation Of 440 Millions Provided For Two-Year Plan

WASHINGTON, April 17—A $440,000,000 road program was approved by the house yesterday without opposition and sent to the senate.

The bill would extend the Hayden-Cartwright act for 1936 and 1937 and authorize the amounts the federal government may spend for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1936, and June 30, 1937.

In addition it includes two new features. One is authorization for $25,000,000 each year for farm-to-market roads, to be matched by the states. The other is provision for $50,000,000 each year for grade crossing elimination.

Here is what the measure would authorize for each of two years: regular federal aid highways (to be matched) $125,000,000; forest roads and trails, $10,000,000; public lands roads, $2,500,000; national parks and monuments roads, $7,500,000; farm-to-market roads (to be matched) $25,000,000; grade crossing elimination, $50,000,000.

PTA Sponsoring Dance At High School Gym
The junior-senior dance to be held in the high school auditorium-gymnasium April 24 is being sponsored by the senior high school P. T. A. Principal George Gentry said Friday. Heretofore, the dance has been held in the ballroom of one of the hotels, and has not been sponsored by a school organization.

According to Miss Catherine Young, sponsor of the junior class, the annual junior-senior banquet will be held on the same night, April 24.

Judge Guilty, Is Removed From Bench

Senate Convicts Ritter On House Charges Of Impeachment

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The senate today convicted Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter of Florida on the house impeachment charge he brought his court into "scandal and disrepute."

The verdict automatically removed the 65-year-old jurist from the bench. Ritter was acquitted in the first six articles of impeachment and convicted on a seventh, which combined all previous six and added the "scandal and disrepute" charge.

Decision Challenged
Senator Austin (R-Vermont) immediately challenged the conviction, contending the six acquittals cleared Ritter on the seventh article.

Ritter listened silently, apparently deeply moved by the conviction. Impeachment charges against Judge Ritter came after two years of investigation by members of the house judiciary committee and department of justice operatives. He was charged on seven different counts with "high crimes and misdemeanors in office."

Charge of Fee Splitting
In article one and two the gray-haired former Colorado lawyer was charged with "splitting granting exorbitant fees in the Wischall receivership case. Specifically, the house charged that Ritter requested Federal Judge Alexander Akerman to fix "total" compensation for his former law partner, A. L. Rankin, attorney for the bondholders of the hotel. Ritter said in a letter to Akerman that he did not feel he should set the fee.

Akerman set the fee at $15,000. Despite this, the house charges said, Ritter granted Rankin $75,000 additional on Dec. 24, 1932. On the same day, Rankin testified, he was given $25,000 as part payment in the fee.

In turn, he testified, he gave Ritter $2,500 in cash in the judge's office with no one present.

Rankin's explanation was that he was afraid both he and the judge would be criticized if he made the payment by check. Later when Rankin received the remainder of his fee, the house charged, he gave Ritter $2,000 more, or a total of $4,500.

Both Ritter and Rankin testified the money was paid on an "honest debt." The debt, Rankin said, was money that he owed the judge was Ritter's share in proceeds of cases unfinished when the partnership was dissolved and Ritter went on the federal bench.

Smokers Pay 'Back Taxes'
State Man Collecting Sums Evaded By 'Bootleg' Purchases

Local consumers of bootleg cigarettes have paid in more than $1,000 in taxes evaded in the purchase of unstamped packages, it was learned on good authority Friday.

For several weeks a state collector has been quietly confronting purchasers of the untaxed cigarettes and demanding the taxes due.

Records of one company dealing in the sale of unstamped packages, which sold for three cents less, have been used in tracking down the buyers.

As many as to number of packages bought have been used in several instances.

BAND AWARDS AND JUDGES

In the top photo are shown the handsome gold statuettes and cups to be awarded hands winning "superior" rating in the West Texas school band contests being held in Big Spring today and Saturday. Below are two of the men judging the events, Ellis B. Hall of Amarillo (left) and Joseph E. Maddy of Ann Arbor, Mich. Other judges are Earl Irons of Arlington, Boh Makovsky of Stillwater, Okla., and Wilson T. Betts of Marlin.

$58,000 Taken In Robbery Of Mail Car

Seven Armed Men Stage Daring Holdup As Erie Train Stops

NUTLEY, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Seven armed men today held up an Erie Railroad passenger train at a suburban station and escaped with $58,000 in silver and bills being carried to the federal reserve bank in New York.

The money was in the baggage car safe when the robbers forced the clerk to surrender his pistol. He was threatened with death unless he handed over the loot.

Escape in Auto
Two passenger cars were crowded with commuters and shoppers who were unaware of the swift holdup.

The robbery was over in a few minutes. The bandits jumped from the mail car into a waiting automobile reported to be a stolen machine.

Federal Reserve officers believed the loot was less than the police reported.

Junior Rodeo Date Reset For April 26

Date for the junior rodeo has been changed from April 19 to April 26, it has been announced by Jeff Good, chairman of the directing committee. Program for the event includes a parade and contests at the rodeo grounds.

All those of school age are eligible to compete in the events and a full rodeo program will be staged. Committee members directing the affair are urging the public to attend.

On the committee with Good are Sonny Edwards, Clarence Percy Lawrence Liberty, James Edwards, and Robert Satterwhite.

Because officials of the association must be in California on business matters, a meeting sponsored by the Independent Petroleum association originally scheduled for Big Spring on April 22 has been cancelled.

C. E. Buchner, executive manager of the association, wired Joseph Edwards, a local director, that Charles F. Roesser and Harold Zell, executive president had been called to California on the 22nd. Edwards was to have been in charge of local arrangements for the meeting. The Big Spring meeting was one of a series scheduled by the association in New Mexico and Texas. It was probable that the seasons will be called on later dates.

Two Officials Give Opinions Upon Request

Hold That County Judge Without Authority To Make Alterations

The county commissioners' court, at odds with County Judge J. S. Garlington over changes in the minutes of the court, Friday were apparently one up on the judge by virtue of opinions from the attorney general and County Attorney Wilbur Barcus.

Following instances of alterations in the minutes of the court and a heated word battle over a notation the judge penned below the April 8th minutes, which commissioners said was done without their consent, the court requested a ruling from Barcus and from the state attorney general on two points.

Only Court Has Power
Joe J. Alsup, assistant attorney general, ruled in his opinion that the county clerk was to prepare the entries to be put in the minutes of the commissioners' court and that only the court had authority to amend or change such entries.

"The county judge," continued the opinion, "is merely the presiding officer of the commissioners' court and does not have authority to change, erase or obliterate the minutes of the commissioners' court sitting as a body." The opinion also held that the judge did not have authority to adjourn the court without proper motion when it had not finished transacting business.

This portion of the opinion evidently was meant to cover the instances of April 16, 1935, when the word "adjourned" was substituted for that of "recessed," causing the minutes to go unapproved by the court.

Barcus' Ruling
Barcus held in his opinion that J. S. Winslow, elected temporary chairman in the April 8, 1936 meeting when the judge refused to put the motion authorizing the payment of a $1,162.88 relief account, and not Judge Garlington, would be empowered to sign these minutes when they were formally approved by the court. It was below these minutes that the judge penned and signed this notation:

"The material facts did not develop as stated above.
References made in the opinion to measures apparently were meant to cover a purported change in the minutes of Oct. 14, 1935. Portions of the minutes of that date which set out that the judge left the room after refusing to act showed erasure marks. All four commissioners declared that the change was unauthorized by them.

Garlington steadfastly contended that he had never refused to act and that at all times he was "ready, able and willing to act."

Doesn't Affect Minutes
In regard to the appendage on the April 8th minutes which provoked a heated controversy between the commissioners and the judge Wednesday afternoon, Barcus expressed the belief that "any additional statements upon the page containing the entry do not affect the entry in any manner."

Sheep Ranges Needing Rain

Feed Shortage In Prospect If Moisture Not Received Soon

Sheepmen, in the last stages of the lambing season without serious loss, are faced with a crisis if ranges do not get rain soon.

Bulk of the lambing will be over within 10 days, but with much lands dry and raked by dust storms, a feed shortage is in prospect.

Sam Greer, Glasscock rancher, said Wednesday that his 1400 ewes were lambing well and that he had lost only a few lambs, mostly from five-year ewes which were twinning badly. S. L. Lockart, who operates a farm and ranch on the northern county line, has passed most of the lambing period without a single loss. In his lot from little more than 100 ewes there were 10 twins.

Club Women Inspect Experiment Farm

Twenty-seven women from 14 home demonstration clubs in Howard county Wednesday afternoon took part in an inspection tour of the U. S. Experiment farm as a part of their study of yard shrubs.

Under the supervision of Fred Keating, farm superintendent, and Miss Mayme Lee Parr, home demonstration agent, the women were instructed in the care of shrubs, told what kinds were best for foundation plants, which were most adaptable to this climate.

Seattle Will Fete Shriners

More Than 60,000 Expected To Gather For Conclave In July

SEATTLE, April 17. (UP)—Between 60,000 and 75,000 Shriners were expected to "Smile With Nile" when the 1930 Shrine convention is held at Seattle July 13-16.

The Seattle Nile temple, hosts to the visiting Shriners, has $136,000 budgeted for the four-day session, the largest convention ever brought to the Pacific Northwest. One hundred fifty-nine temples will be represented.

The convention will bring thousands of tourists into the Evergreen Playground. Delegations from all sections of the United States, Canada and the Panama Canal Zone are expected. One of the largest delegations—approximately a total of 250 Shriners and their families—will come to the convention from Jacksonville, Fla. Special trains will transport the Shriners from the South, East and Middle West.

Convention mass meetings and pageants will be staged in the horseshoe-shaped University of Washington stadium, the open end of which faces out across Lake Washington. The stadium will seat 30,000. Downtown headquarters will take the entire floor space of the five-story Times Square building. Imperial headquarters will be at the Olympic hotel.

Fair Weather Predicted. Astute Seattle Shriners checked back 16 years through weather reports before setting the convention date. They found the third week in July was consistently clear and sunny.

The convention will open the morning of July 14 with a two-mile-long parade. Imperial officers will review the column, which will comprise all Shriners and 60 Temple bands. It will take the parade

San Francisco, Unafraid Of Quakes, Observed 30th Anniversary Of 'Fire'

San Francisco, which rose from the ashes of the fire that followed the earthquake 30 years ago, is ever on guard against a similar disaster. The modern view shows the city from famous Nob hill. The photograph below, copyright by E. J. Waters & Co., pictures the start of the conflagration April 18, 1906.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17. (AP)—A city unafraid of earthquakes but still jittery about fires will pause April 18 to remember a day 30 years ago when both catastrophes struck at once, taking between 500 and 600 lives and wreaking damage of $350,000,000.

San Franciscans have been accused of referring to the tragedy of 1906 as a "fire" instead of a quake because of a false sense of pride—a refusal to recognize California's ever present earthquake threat. But to 300,000 refugees who camped in parks and streets for three days while the flames roared, the disaster was primarily a "fire."

Three hours to pass the reviewing stand.

Other entertainment features include a massed band concert, with 2,500 Shrine musicians participating, illuminated pageant of the Imperial Council session, marine parade and pageant through Washington ship canal, four days of horse racing at Longacres track, boxing events at Civic auditorium and other sporting events.

University Gives Aid. Downtown Seattle will be festooned and banneted for the visiting Shriners. Civic, university and state officials are cooperating in staging the convention—the 62nd in the order's history.

Major legislation to be considered by the Imperial council concerns administration of Shrine hospitals, located throughout the United States.

Efforts are being made to have warships anchored at the Puget Sound navy yard, Bremerton, Wash., opened for inspection by Shriners and their families.

Thirty-one committees, comprising every man in Nile temple, are cooperating in making preparations for the convention.

The earth jolt occurred at 5:12 in the morning; the great San Andreas fault slipped a jog undersea and violently jarred the coast over an area 50 miles long and 30 miles wide.

Fire Damage Greatest. San Francisco buildings were violently shaken but few actually collapsed, although chimneys and cornices cascaded to the ground. Insurance companies found that only five per cent of the $350,000,000 damage from quake and fire was directly attributable to the quake.

Flames broke out almost at once in scores of places and spread without hindrance as the city's water system had been jolted to pieces. By evening of the first day eight square miles had been burned and 300,000 of the city's 425,000 residents had deserted their homes in panic.

Whole blocks of buildings were dynamited to create firebreaks. Authorities herded 200,000 of the refugees into Golden Gate park and made desperate efforts to supply them with food and water.

Wind Fanned Flames. On the second day a stiff wind fanned the flames to new fury and out off egress down the peninsula on which San Francisco is situated.

With the third day the fire abated somewhat but completed the ruin of the financial and shopping districts.

It was not until the fourth day that citizens could set to work to restore the 28,000 buildings which lay in embers.

The catastrophe occurred before the days of city planning, and rapid rebuilding, authorities admit, showed more courage and zeal than wisdom. The city of today is one of skyscrapers and of lofty apartment houses crowded close together.

Engineers say that in case of another earthquake few if any build-

BRITAIN PAINTS SUBMARINES TO MATCH OCEANS

LONDON, (UP)—The British Admiralty, after several years of experimenting, has decided to paint its submarines in different colors to "match" the seas where they serve.

The main purpose of the "protective coloring" is to make the underwater craft invisible to low flying airplanes when submerged. For some time it was the theory of naval experts that gray-green would prove the best color, regardless of what sea a submarine might be cruising in. But the hues of the oceans vary to such an extent that new shades had to be added.

British submarines operating in the Atlantic ocean, for instance, will remain gray-green, but those stationed in the Mediterranean will be royal blue. Curiously, those in the Red Sea will be painted black.

Experiments in protective coloring were being carried out when the British submarine M-1 disappeared in 1925. It was painted a pale green and it was a trace of this paint, found on the bow of a Scandinavian steamer when she docked in home port several weeks afterward that finally established the fate of the M-1.

Mrs. Ada Lingo Hatcher came home Friday, called by the illness of her daughter, Jean. She has been in Galveston where she is attending the University of Texas medical school. Clyde Thomas, Jr., came with her in the car.

Lings would fall San Francisco, however, vividly remembers the "fire" and is a city on guard against a possible repetition of such havoc.

GEORGE BARKER, former Interstate cross-country champion, knows what helps build endurance. He says: "I'd run many a mile for a bowl of HUSKIES—they certainly stick to the ribs!"

BOYS! Girls! "Buster" Crabbe is right! HUSKIES are brand-new. And what a flavor you get in those crisp, crunchy flakes of golden-brown whole wheat! Try 'em yourself. Remember, too, that in every tempting bowlful you get the valuable food essentials of the whole wheat berry (see panel at left). Why not treat yourself to HUSKIES today! Your grocer has 'em.

HUSKIES give you these food essentials:
Iron for blood. Phosphorus and other valuable mineral salts for strong bones and teeth. Carbohydrates for food-energy. Protein to help build muscle. And Vitamins A, B, E, and G... important to good nutrition.

Levine's, Newest Department Store In City, To Be Opened Formally Saturday

Paris To Retire Bearded Patrolman Who Won Picture Postcard Fame

PARIS, April 17. (UP)—One of the best-known tourist attractions of Paris will disappear in September unless the committee for the 1937 exposition does something about it.

Remy Leclerc will be 58 then, and will automatically be pensioned.

For the uninitiated, Remy Leclerc is the only bearded traffic patrolman in Paris, the one whose post is at the Porte St. Denis, and whose picture can be bought on a postcard.

Whiskers are against police regulations now, but Leclerc was in service before the regulation was made, and so he was allowed to keep his beard. It is bushy and

COLLEGE WORK NOT A FULL TIME JOB, NRA RESULTS SHOW

CHICAGO, April 17. (UP)—The National Youth administration has upset the theory that getting a college education is a full-time job.

President Roscoe Pullum of Southern Illinois State Normal university reported that 194 students who worked part-time NYA jobs during the last term far outclassed the several hundred other students in general scholarship.

The percentage of NYA students receiving grades of above B plus was 34.53, while the percentage of other students was 22.28.

"The very marked superiority of the scholarship of the NYA group was something of a surprise to me," Dr. Pullum told NYA officials. "I think it indicates that the federal government is certainly making a worthwhile investment in these young people, who, in spite of the fact that they spend three hours daily at work that pre-

Popular-Price Merchandise Is Offered

Complete Stock Assembled In Remodeled Building On Main Street

Newest entry into Big Spring's business world, a merchandising concern designed to accommodate the needs of shoppers in this trade territory, is Levine's department store which makes its formal bow to the public Saturday.

Number six in the Levine system, the local store is located at 213 Main street, in the old F. E. Gary location. The building has been completely renovated and remodeled to suit the needs of the new tenant. The firm has been open for several days, but is observing its formal opening day with a special sales event Saturday.

Two brothers, Morris and William Levine, are the owners. Sons of M. Levine, a pioneer merchant of Wichita county under whom they gained their first store experience, the two have been in business on their own for 16 years. Their first establishment was at Iowa Park, and in ensuing years they operated stores in a number of towns in Northwest Texas. Other units now are located at Wichita Falls, opened in 1924; Pampa, opened in 1926; Amarillo, opened in 1928; Clovis, N. M., opened in 1931; and Lubbock, opened in 1932.

Pete Harris is the manager of the local store. He has been with the Levines since 1927, and came here from Clovis. He had served several years previously in a Levine store at Shamrock.

Confidence in Area Morris Levine, who some time ago was in Big Spring to make preliminary arrangements for the store, has been here through the week supervising work for the opening. He previously had surveyed Big Spring and its trade territory, toured the oil fields and gained knowledge of business conditions in this section. "We have utmost confidence in Big Spring and this area," Levine said, "and feel that in this city we have made a wise choice for a location. Although the Big Spring store is smaller than the units we usually open, we feel we can grow from this start, expanding our stock and facilities to meet the needs of shoppers.

"We think that the territory can be served by a department store selling for cash and at popular prices, and are hopeful that we can provide that service."

General offices for the Levine stores are at Wichita Falls, where they were recently moved from Lubbock. William Levine resides at Wichita Falls and Morris at Lubbock.

Although operating several stores, the Levines follow a policy of having each unit distinctive, made to suit its particular city and trade section. Managers of the stores are partners, each participating in the profits of his own establishment. Each does his own buying, to have on hand the type and variety of merchandise wanted in his town.

The local establishment, with completely new stock, has all types of merchandise of a department store, including wearing apparel for men, women and children, piece goods, shoes and hosiery, millinery and notions.

The building itself has been equipped with a new front, with attractive entrance and show windows. New fixtures have been installed.

Associated with Harris in operation of the store are Lucille Hammock of Big Spring; Loryna Woods of Big Spring; Violet Voss, from Dallas, Joe Debbins, from Lubbock, and Roy Commor.

Saw Bathtub Slayer?

Helen Virginia Meyer, (above) Park Avenue costumer, furnished New York police with a description said to fit that of the mysterious sandy-haired man with mannerly air seen frequently about the Beekman Place apartment house prior to the baffling bathroom strangling of Mrs. Nancy Titterton. dominate in children's wardrobes as well as those of men and women.

Mrs. W. W. Grant, accompanied by her daughter, Billye Frances, left for Rutherfordton, N. C. this week to spend a month with relatives.

POWER-PACKED AND PRIMED FOR ACTION

WE'D like to show you what this Buick owner meant when he coined that phrase about the Buick Special! We'd like to take you out—over any route you care to name—and show you what it's like to ride behind the ablest straight-eight engine in the world!

We'd like to level out a few hills for you—iron a couple of bad roads smooth—let you sample the velvet softness of hydraulic brakes as Buick knows how to build them.

We'll take you through traffic, so that you may see how this nimble, thrifty, mile-eating beauty saves your time at every traffic light, takes the corners without weave or tire-squeal, slides through rush-hour snarls like a rabbit through the brush!

We'd like you to see how obedient a Buick is—how completely it puts control in your hands—how reassuring it is to ride in it at any pace!

After that, if you like, we'd like to prove that you can afford a Buick—how very little more it costs than the lowest priced automobiles.

"Power-packed and primed for action!"—our hat's off to the man who put the words together. Come take a ride in a Series 40 Buick Special and see if you can find a phrase that describes it better!

$765* is $1945 are the list prices of the new Buicks at Flint, Mich., subject to change without notice. Standard and special accessories groups on all models at extra cost. All Buick prices include safety glass throughout as standard equipment.

BOSS ARTIST OF WPA HAILS THE BRONX AS NEW MURAL CAPITAL; ONE MAN GETS CREDIT

James Michael Newell, 36, is covering 1,200 square feet of walls in a Bronx high school with murals like the one pictured above with the artist. His work is heralded as important enough to move the mural capital to New York.

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—A young artist, James Michael Newell, has in the opinion of at least one reputable critic, moved the mural art capital of the world to New York's Bronx.

Holger Cahill, director of the federal art project of the works progress administration, who bosses more than 5,000 artists, is the critic.

Cahill, criss-crossing the country to observe the work being done under a program which, he says, has made Uncle Sam the greatest art patron in history, spent most of a New York visit in the library of the Evander Childs high school in the Bronx, where Newell is at work on a series of murals entitled "The Evolution of Western Civilization."

Cahill was enthusiastic about the seven panels which cover an area of 1,200 square feet and about the 36-year-old artist who is their creator.

Murals An Ancient Art
"Mural painting is one of the most ancient of arts," he explained. "At certain stages of history certain places have been the mural capitals of the world."

"The earliest mural capital of which we know are the paleolithic caves of Altamira, Spain, whose powerful drawings of animals are proof that there is no progress in art, only change in expression—they are great today because they were true and powerful expressions of life when they were made."

"Then there was Pompeii . . . then one of the cities of ancient America, perhaps a city of the Mayas . . . then Ajanta in Central India, and any number of places in China."

"Padua, Italy, when Giotto was working, was the mural capital of the world."

Later such masters as Raphael, Piero della Francesca and Michelangelo made whatever places they were working in the mural centers of the world.

Mexico City Prominent
"In the 1520's, when Diego Rivera, Orozco and Siqueiros worked in Mexico City, that place was the capital."

"Today, the mural centers have shifted to the United States, and the capital of mural art shifts from day to day as dozens of fresh

China Stocks Up On Guns, Planes To Check Continued Raids By Reds

CHANGSHA, Hunan, China, Apr. 17 (AP)—Renewed activity by Chinese communist armies, which has sent a wave of alarm through high government places, is stimulating China's arms purchase from the United States.

Recent heavy government buying of airplanes and machine guns— which is one month totaled more than $5,000,000—has coincided with severe communist outbreaks in north and west China.

The communist march on Taiyuan, capital of Shansi province, was checked 30 miles from the city only when General Chiang Kai-Shek dispatched half a dozen airplanes to bolster the wavering provincial army.

Similarly, in the mountain wilderness of southwest China, the generalissimo's air force demoralized the reds' almost at the gates of Kweiyang, chief city of Kweichow province.

Though repulsed, the communists expanded their area of control, just when the government was confidently forecasting their extermination. Further, they replenished their supplies with spoils of conquests.

Numerically, too, the reds have been augmented, according to messenger reports. In Shansi, north China, they won recruits by proclaiming they would march against the Japanese and recover Manchuria.

Hsiao Keh and Ho Lung are leaders of the hordes of 20,000 ill-equipped but hardened communist campaigners who recently swept from Hunan through Kweichow into Yunnan. The invaders of Shansi, in the north, are led by Mao Tse-tung and are said to be about equal in number. The two forces communicate by wireless.

For the capture dead or alive of the leaders—whom the Chinese government regards as its foremost public enemies—huge rewards have been offered. They have been reported killed in battle more than once, but latest reports indicate none has been so much as scratched.

Miss La Verne Sims has gone to Dallas to visit friends.

young talents are developed.

"At the present moment it is my conviction that the mural capital of the United States is situated in the Bronx—this because of the extraordinary talent and power of James Michael Newell."

"Tomorrow the mural capital may be Newark, N. J., Woodside or Astoria, L. I., Chicago, Washington, San Francisco or Saugus or Falmouth, Mass., where excellent work is being done by brilliant young talent."

Newell, born in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1900, is the winner of the gold medal award for decorative painting in the architectural league's 50th annual exhibition. He studied in New York and Rome and served with the marine corps during the World War.

'Youngsters' In The Senate Keeping Busy

Many Of The Newcomers Fast Making Names For Themselves

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The senate's crop of youngsters—those who rode in on the unprecedented wave of Roosevelt popularity in 1934—are amazing old-timers by the way they are stepping out these days.

Holt of West Virginia, Minton of Indiana, Schwelienbach of Washington, even that old war horse of politics—Bilbo of Mississippi, who has been observing a self-imposed year of silence—have been parading across the front pages during the past few weeks with as much gusto as the oldest senators in point of service.

Only "Honest Vic" Donahey of Ohio seems to have resisted the temptation to join the parade. He hasn't made a speech yet, says privately he has no idea when he will break his silence.

There are varying opinions as to how these new senators have acquitted themselves in their initial acts.

Bilbo Met Reverses
Bilbo, of course, suffered a crushing defeat. Five hours display of oratory on his part to block the confirmation of a federal judge netted him exactly four votes including his own on the showdown.

Minton and Schwelienbach, members of the Black lobby committee, have been savage in their attacks on those who would attempt to thwart their investigation. Only time can prove how effective their actions have been.

Benison of Minnesota, who came to Washington to take the seat of the late Senator Schall, has been active, but his career in the senate ends with the present session. He plans to return to Minnesota and run for governor this year on the farmer-labor ticket.

Guffey's Name Looms
Guffey of Pennsylvania has his name on one of the major "new deal" measures passed during the present congress—the Guffey-Snyder coal bill. In addition, he is chairman of the democratic senatorial elections committee charged with the duty of electing as many democrats as possible to the senate in November.

Since the days of the late Huey Long, the time-honored custom of newcomers to the senate being seen and not heard until they have served their apprenticeship no longer prevails. Some still observe it and even those who break it are a bit apologetic. Bilbo apologized elaborately before he launched his five-hour speech.

Things move so fast on Capitol Hill these days and are of such importance that from sheer necessity the "youngsters" are forced into activity.

Matadors Send Two Men To The Drake Relays

LUBBOCK, April 17.—Two men, John Case, sensational two-miler from Petersburg, and Maurice Cowan, pole vaulter from Lubbock, will be Texas Tech's representatives at the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Ia., April 24 and 25, Coach Berl Huffman announced Wednesday.

Tech's two-man team, which has not failed to place in either of the two meets it has entered—the Southwestern exposition meet and the Texas Relays—will leave April 22. Alton Terry of Hardin-Simmons university, one of the best javelin throwers in the Southwest, will accompany the Tech team, Huffman said.

Cowan capped the Southwestern exposition pole vault event but

Loving County's No-Crime Record Finally Is Ruined

PECOSS, April 17.—When Loving county, youngest of the state's 124 counties, lost its distinction of being the only county in the state which had never sent a man to the penitentiary, District Judge J. A. Drane and District Attorney Wm. L. Kerr, both of Pecos, probably set a nation-wide record, one that even they can't improve on.

Judge Drane has the record of having sentenced the first men in three counties to the state penitentiary, each of them being prosecuted by Mr. Kerr. The counties are Crane, Loving and Andrews. Incidentally these three counties are placed fourth in the Texas Relays after sealing the bar at 13 feet. Case captured second in the mile at the exposition meet and fourth in the two-mile at the Texas meet. Terry won the javelin throw at the relays with a toss of 207 feet.

the last in the state to add to the state's corrective home. And now that Loving has fallen by the wayside to complete the list of "zero" counties, the record can never be improved upon unless another county is organized, an unlikely event.

Judge Drane sentenced Norman C. Hill to four years in the penitentiary on conviction of theft of pipe valued at $4,000. Last summer the first Andrews contribution was made through the efforts of duo. It was about two years ago that they broke Crane county's "lily white" record.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bugg of Garden City are the parents of a daughter, born on Easter Sunday. Her name is Barbara Maxine.

Correction of Constipation* Is Often a Matter of Menus

For years, the medical profession has insisted that proper diet is more effective in promoting health than the indiscriminate use of patent medicines.

For instance, millions of families have learned that common constipation is largely due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

This delicious cereal supplies generous "bulk" in effective form. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and contains iron. It may be served as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked into tempting puddings, breads, etc.

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN often. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is not a "sure-all" but it does correct common constipation. It is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SOFT SHADES AND AIRY FABRICS FEATURED IN SIMPLE POST-LENTEN EVENING GOWNS

POST Lenten parties will call for new gowns and wraps. Fashion dictates that they reflect simple elegance. The new frock on the left, fitting neatly into both the dinner and dance picture, is created of black net over a plain black slip and is lightened by a short sleeved bodice and wide hem band of natural colored linen lace. A little standing collar and short sleeves give a distinctive air to the summer wrap on the right. Elizabeth Hawes designs it of white silk bengaline with a molded bodice and a skirt which falls in deep folds. Although net is used in the gown illustrated, other airy fabrics also are in favor.

By ADELAIDE KERR
NEW YORK (AP)—Dramatic simplicity marks the festive frocks which American designers have launched for spring parties.
 Gowns are sumptuous and dazzling effects. The 1936 spring edition of playtime clothes is young, chic and tinged with an air of simple elegance.
 It gets its effects with a clean line—full swirling skirts or soft clinging ones—such airy fabrics as net, organza, silk mousseline or lace and soft hues marked by a brilliant dramatic splash of color. White, black, navy and grey are shades often used, while pink, mauve, pale green and chartreuse make colorful contrasts.
 This favorite accent is flowers on décolletés or waistlines.
 One designer has launched a series of frivolous frocks of mist grey or cinnamon brown net fashioned with softly beruffled shoulders and full frothy skirts which billow around heels. A single cluster of yellow and orange nasturtiums appear at the front of the waistline, adding a vivid splash of color.
 Besides these there are long sleeved evening gowns of black and navy blue net whose low cut front décolletés are rimmed with a band of dazzling white flowers, and whose full skirts lend an air of grace to the silhouettes.
 Some of the most striking evening frocks of the season are the Grecian gowns, modernized in design, but giving a somewhat sculptured effect. Most of them are made of filmy white mousseline or chiffon with incrustations of green or red chiffon forming a high pointed belt and long back draperies.
 Jacket costumes are ready for the smartest festivities of the post-

Easter season. Worn with the little coats they step out to dinner, without if they are ready for the gayest dances. Navy and white polka dot crepe and dark blue or black organza trimmed with bright field flowers make some of the smartest designs.
 Evening wraps vary from the brief jackets which top some of the frocks to glamorous long capes of lams lined with blue satin. Between the two extremes fall swishing swaggar taffeta wraps of finger tip length and full length wraps with fitted waistlines, some of whose sleeves have been cut short at the elbow to give a springtime effect.
 FORT WORTH, April 17.—Governor James V. Allred will deliver the commencement address for the class of 1936 at Texas Christian university, according to announcement made here by President E. M. Waits.
 The exercises will be held (weather permitting) upon the T. C. U. campus at 7:30 p. m., Monday, June 1.

Baccalaureate services will be held on the day preceding, Sunday, May 31, with the sermon by the Rev. F. M. Warren, pastor of the First Christian church of Abilene.
 There are 75 candidates for degrees in this year's class at T. C. U., according to an unofficial count by S. W. Hutton, registrar.
 Johnny Knowles, Houston, is president of the graduating class. Other officers are: Ben Bussey, Fort Worth, vice-president; Miss Katherine Swiley, Longview, secretary-treasurer, and W. A. Tunstall, Fort Worth, business manager.

Services Churches Topics

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
 Services: Sunday, 11 a. m., room 1, Settles hotel.
 "Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 19.
 The Golden Text is: "The preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God" (Corinthians 1:18).
 Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are home in the body, we are absent from the Lord; We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord" II Corinthians 5:6,8.
 The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Become conscious for a single moment that life and intelligence are purely spiritual—neither in nor of matter—and the body will then utter no complaints. If suffering from a belief in sickness you will find yourself suddenly well. . . . Live and Master, we must depart from material sense into the spiritual sense of being" (pages 14 and 41).
FIRST PRESBYTERIAN
 Rev. D. P. McConnell, D. D., pastor, will speak at the 11 a. m. service on the subject, "How To Be Happy." His sermon topic for the 8 p. m. worship will be "I Know." Sunday school is at 9:45 a. m. and young people meet at 7 p. m.

WEDNESDAY: Mid-week Bible study, 8 p. m.
 You are always welcome.
FIRST METHODIST
 C. Alonso Hicklay, Pastor
 Sunday school 9:45. Preaching services at 11 and 8 o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Flowers will speak at both hours. His morning topic will be "Fruitfulness" and his evening topic, "Doom of the Impenitent." Mrs. Flowers will address a large rally of young people in the evening at 7 o'clock.
 The meeting will continue throughout next week.
FIRST BAPTIST
 Rev. R. E. Day, Pastor
 9:30 a. m., Sunday school. Geo. H. Genry, superintendent.
 10:50 a. m., Morning worship. Anthem: "The Eternal God," choir. Sermon: "The Wise Builder," pastor.
 7 p. m., Baptist Training Union, Ira M. Powell, director.
 8 p. m., Evening worship. Trio, "Satisfied With Jesus," Miss Ruby Bell, Mrs. Ruby Reed and Mrs. Alma Mount. Sermon by the pastor.
CATHOLIC SERVICES
 Every Sunday at St. Thomas Parish church in North Big Spring.
 At 8:30 a. m., Catechism or Sunday school for all children of the parish from 5 years of age up to and including the sophomore high school.
 At 9 a. m., Mass, English sermon.
 At 8 p. m., Rosary, question box, doctrinal lecture, benediction of the most Blessed Sacrament.
 Everybody cordially welcome.
 Father Charles Taylor, O. M. I., pastor.
RACING STABLE GETS $300,000 LUXURY HOME
 SAN JOSE, Calif., April 17. (UP)—The last word in equine luxury is to be embodied in a $300,000 plant being erected here by Norman W. Church for his string of race horses and stable men.
 First of all, two model stables of 20 stalls each are being constructed. They will be encircled by open and closed rings so that the animals can be exercised in any kind of weather without the slightest danger of a cold or a draft of air.
 The usual mile track will be specially surfaced so that it can be used in rainy weather.
 A dormitory for 15 men will contain an amusement hall.
 For the horses there will be an "equine hospital." Power operated winches will lift the horses from the stables to the hospital. A private fire department and water supply will take care of fire hazards.

 The wire fencing alone surrounding the plant and which is intended to keep horses in and the tourists out will cost $18,000.
 Horses will also have their own private food sources. Private fields will grow the precise brands of alfalfa and hay that veterinary dieticians have found best for the racing breed.
 Mrs. Margaret Whaley is confined to her home after having suffered a relapse from an attack of influenza. Her condition was satisfactory Friday.

"You like your milk better when its kept in an ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR"

And no wonder! Children have a sensitive taste and appreciate the flavor of fresh milk that is kept pure and wholesome in an electric refrigerator.
 When your child refuses to drink milk, especially in hot weather, perhaps the milk doesn't taste just right. To keep milk and other perishable foods fresh, see that the food compartment of your refrigerator stays below 50 degrees—the food safety zone.
 If your refrigerator wastes food, see the new model electric refrigerators at your dealer's. Some attractive models are priced in the $100 class and the operating cost is lower than ever—only a few cents a day on your cheap electric rate.

Replenishing Alaska Sportsmen plan to take more birds and animals to Alaska, already famous for its wild life.

The recently organized Tama Valley Sportsmen's association announced attempts would be made to introduce new species into the northern part of the territory.

Jack Warren, president, said the club would investigate the feasibility of stocking the region with giant Scandinavian woodcock, pheasants from Northern Asia and elk and white-tail deer from Canada and the United States.

Buffalo from the Yellowstone park herd were placed in the Big Delta country several years ago. The animals apparently have thrived.

Short Shots
That cocky little game bird, the Hungarian partridge, is drifting into northwestern states from the Canadian provinces, and sportsmen hope he'll take up a home site where efforts to "plant" him failed.

Always wet the hands before taking an under-size fish off the hook. Unless the hands are wet a fungus infection starts and the fish usually die. Barbed hooks are easy on the lists, follows.

Demos Claim Roosevelt To Get Landslide

Republican Candidates In Primaries Fail To Make Gains

WASHINGTON, April 17. (UP)—Democrats today acclaimed presidential results so far as evidence of an approaching Roosevelt landslide and republicans scanned returns for development of a decisive movement among party members toward any of the several aspirants to the G.O.P. nomination.

President Roosevelt's Nebraska and Illinois preference primary leads over the combined vote of republican candidates for party favor was a significant phase of this week's polling. Mr. Roosevelt also outpolled republicans last week in Washington. Political observers disagreed on interpretation of the Illinois republican primary vote in which Frank Knox of Chicago defeated Senator William E. Borah by a margin of fewer than 100,000 ballots.

Borah's Plight
Some persons insisted Borah accomplished much against tremendous odds. But there never yet has developed a handgun stamped in the direction of a loser, even though the man on the short end of the returns may have fairly claimed a moral victory. Borah would be leading the parade today if he had achieved a decisive victory over Knox in Tuesday's polls and Borah-for-President clubs might be multiplying throughout the land. A good many troubled statesmen who are looking for a place to go would be edging toward the Borah boom.

But Borah did not win and there is no evidence of a stampede to Borah. He must go to the May 12 Ohio primary branded with defeat in Illinois.

Landon Boomed
Knox beat Borah, but by a comparatively modest margin. To have made the most of his Illinois opportunity, the Chicagoan would have had to swamp the senator, and he failed to do that. Some observers believe Knox and Borah hurt each other more than they helped themselves by their Illinois fight. And that line of reasoning quickly swings political discussion to Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, who has been following a see-all, hear-all and say nothing strategy with increasing hope and confidence.

Landon's backers are joyously claiming everything in sight and none can prove them wrong until the rolls called in Cleveland. The Landon, Borah and Knox managers are not worrying now about their democratic opposition during the summer and autumn campaign, but the democrats have nothing to do but look ahead.

Moral Values Sermon Topic

"Will A Man Rob God?" Is Evangelist's Subject For Tonight

Moral and not material values are the greatest in the world, declared Evangelist R. L. Flowers in the service of the Methodist church revival Thursday evening. "If moral values are really greater than financial values, then it would seem that every citizen in Big Spring would be interested in helping the only institution in the world whose sole existence is to build a better morality," the evangelist said. "That institution is the church. Remove from Big Spring the church and its influence and see what happens. The most valuable lot in the city would deteriorate in value 50 per cent."

Rev. Flowers' subject this evening will be "Will A Man Rob God?" At this morning's service he discussed "The Crusading Church." There will be no services Saturday morning or night.

Mrs. Flowers said in part in her message last night: "The greatest tragedy of history was the Christ hanging on the cross to save the world. Yet men have quit even thinking of the event. Folk have become so fed up on shallow things until such an event does not make an impress upon them. The need of America is to stand before the cross of cavalry and view that event. If we will and drink in its real significance we will go away not to be the same folk. No single event in the world's history has such a significance. The idea of the cross of Christ took hold of a few humble people in the first century of the church and wrought out such results in their lives that they went out into a hostile world and helped to subdue them decency and righteousness. The right view of the cross will make lives and civilization over as it did in the long ago."

M. G. Smoot. To appear early this afternoon in the Class D contests were Pecos, Colorado, Spur, Knox City and Kermit.

Also to play this afternoon were the Class C bands: Lorrain, Odessa, Bronte, Crane, Iranan, Pecosan, Levelland, Fort Stockton, Monahan and the Abilene Christian college academy.

Other Divisions
Class B and Class A bands will play Saturday. In the former division are Sweetwater, Lamesa, Coleman, Big Spring, Wink, Slaton, Eastland, Midland, Brownwood, Snyder and Cisco.

There are two bands in class A, Abilene and Lubbock.

The contests are those sponsored annually in the western division of the Texas Bank School association. Officers of the division, here for the events, are Joe Berryman of Fort Stockton, president; H. A. Anderson of Lubbock, vice-president; and Clyde Rowe of Slaton, secretary. D. O. Wilson, director of the Texas Technological college band and formerly president of the state association, is attending the contests.

difficulty in supplying the demand for immediate deliveries of reasonable merchandise.

Crops experienced unfavorable conditions in many sections. Dallas reported an estimated loss of 500,000 bushels of wheat daily in the Panhandle on account of the drought. Denver reported harmful dust storms in southeastern Colorado. San Francisco reports commented on spotty fruit damage as a result of low temperature and Missouri was similarly affected, according to the St. Louis report. Dry weather was hurting crops in the Kansas City area, while Portland reported deep snow in the higher altitudes, but no great damage to fruit and sheep shearing progressed. Los Angeles reported heavy citrus fruit exports under way.

Atlanta business was affected by the Gainesville storm that destroyed 600 homes and $10,000,000 worth of property, while Memphis hospitals were filled with casualties of the Mississippi tornado which also depressed trade, largely wholesale.

Construction
Louisville reported heavy construction throughout Kentucky, while $1,400,000 of permits were issued in Seattle during March of which $980,000 was for the University of Washington chemistry building. Philadelphia reported an all-time shipping record in the first quarter, 233 ships having cleared the port and gross tonnage was 84 per cent greater than in the same period last year and 11.5 per cent over the 1930 period. In Charleston cotton exports in the August to April period were 26 per cent ahead of last year. Over a million feet of cypress lumber cleared from Jacksonville, the largest single cargo ever loaded on a steamer ship. The Seattle salmon industry was in stronger position with a smaller inventory by 750,000 cases than last year.

Most steel centers operated on the level of the previous week but demands were increasing from farm implement, automobile, pipe, wire and heavy machinery industries, according to the Cleveland report. First quarter shipments of farm implements from Chicago were 35 to 40 per cent ahead of last year. Steel rolling mills in the Pittsburgh area were affected by increased automobile and rail orders. Industrial employment improved moderately in Detroit with many new industries opening in state.

March chain store sales made the best relative showing since December with a gain of 6.95 per cent over the 1935 month. Variety store sales for March were 2.5 per cent higher than March last year.

Such writing, regardless by whom it was done, is not a part of the duties of the commissioners court unless the writing was subsequently duly passed and approved.

The breach between the commissioners and the judge over the minute question has been widening since the first change a year ago. As the rift grew, County Clerk R. L. Warren refused to let the judge have possession of the minutes unless it was in his presence. Recently they tugged over a minute book when the judge sought to take it to his office before the clerk was finished serving a customer.

Wednesday afternoon when sharp words crossed the commissioners' table over the notation penned at the foot of the minutes, Judge Garlington summoned a deputy sheriff "to keep peace."

Placed in the mails here Friday were these souvenir boxes directed to every rural boxholder in Howard county. The packages will be distributed in Big Spring later.

The Centennial package contains Wheat Krispies, Rice Krispies, Corn Flakes and Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuits.

Cardenas Sets Up Fund For Industry Development

MEXICO CITY, April 17 (UP)—President Lazaro Cardenas issued a decree today creating a fund for industrial development, to be handled through the government-controlled National Mortgage, Urban and Public Works bank. Appropriations will be made as needed for the fund. Cardenas ordered the bank to present a definite program for governmental aid in developing the national industry under the six-year plan of economic development.

Brother Vince Talked Joe Di Maggio Into First Job -- Lost His Own

PROGRAM HAS BEEN UNWIELDY

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—The University of Pennsylvania is wielding the big broom with a view to making a shorter, more entertaining affair of the 42nd renewal of its classic relays carnival, April 24-25.

Several events which cluttered up and prolonged the program the last few years are being swept into the discard. Restrictions are placed on other events in order that only the cream of the cinder-path crop shall be assembled in Franklin Field's big concrete horseshoe for the relays week-end.

Gotham Stock Up Thursday First Time

Yankees Come Through With A 6-5 Win Over Washington
NEW YORK, April 17.—Gotham's stock soared for the first time Thursday when the Yankees finally came through with a 6-5 victory over Washington that showed plenty of power through the McCarthy lineup, and the Giants won their third straight from Brooklyn, 7-6.

DALLAS, April 17.—The ease with which the Dallas Steers won their first game in three starts from the Fort Worth Cats Thursday night proved one of several things that they would be very much in the fight for Texas league honors; second, that Fullerton is going to be hard to beat through the season; and third, that George Rena is one of the best mittersmen to come to Dallas since Al Todd wore the Steer colors.

Young Lady's Painful Condition Relieved by Cardui

For over fifty years, Cardui has been recommended by mothers to their daughters for the relief of functional pains at certain times and as a tonic for nervous irritation. "I was very weak and nervous when a young girl at home," writes Mrs. J. H. Daniel of Elkhart, Mich. "My mother was so uneasy about me, she did not ask me to help with the work. My mother decided to give me Cardui and she didn't want me to miss a dose, after she found it was helping me. I gained and it was splendid how I responded to the treatment. After six bottles of Cardui, I was regular and the pain and trouble stopped. I grew strong." Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.—adv.

NEW YORK, April 17. (UP)—To most of us, the mere thought of starting out on foot toward a goal 26 miles and 385 yards away is enough to cause a sinking feeling in the region of the head. It must take a special brand of courage even to start in a marathon run, to say nothing of the grit it must take to complete the grueling grind.

Don't Watch Race

It wasn't until recently that I noticed how little the actual race man to race-track customers care for the attitude of the track when a race is being run, but spend their time studying form sheets, thumbing over money and just sitting down looking into space with stupid, empty expressions. The numbers on the board are all they care about. They'd go out to tracks just as readily to see the horse men as to see the race.

Don't Watch Race

It would be much more sensible to forget about improving the horse and set about improving the breed of the people who populate the tracks. (Copyright, 1936, by United Press) war in the near future, he said: "When? How? Nobody can say, but the wheel of destiny turns very fast." State Controls Key Industries Comparison of Italy's armed strength today with that existing at the outbreak of the World War shows the extent of military development under fascism. Coupled with this military progress are gigantic changes in the national economic structure. These include placing economic, agricultural and professional life under 22 corporations, giving the government full control of credit, and guarding the state direct or indirect control of all key industries.

Directors of college bands, realizing the benefit of early experience for musicians, just as athletic coaches see the need of trained players, have encouraged the development of high school musical organizations. Contests, concert appearances and the like have served to stimulate interest. The result is that West Texas has some crack high school bands.

Abrahamson, a young Bowdoin professor, was the 48th state administrator to be appointed. This time Hopkins, sore at political appointees, picked out his own man. No sooner had he taken the oath of office than Abrahamson ran up against political opposition as tough as a Maine winter.

NEW YORK—Among the town's most interesting young millionaires is Tom Yawkey, owner of the Boston Red Sox, a native New Yorker who runs his investment business from a high office just off Park Avenue when the ball teams aren't playing and from a box back of the Red Sox dugout in the summer.

Meanwhile, the democratic national committee continued to support Brann 100 per cent, recently it sent Forbes Morgan, chief aide to Farley on a trip to Maine. Amiable and charming, Forbes is the uncle of Mrs. Roosevelt; and while in Portland he visited Mrs. David Gray, one of Mrs. Roosevelt's aunts.

Of all the tributes paid daily to Katharine Cornell, perhaps the most significant is Briane Aherne's belief in her genius. One of England's most popular young leading men, Aherne has refused to accept countless offers to play the lead in plays here in favor of playing in support of Miss Cornell.

It happens that Governor Brann has opposed the president publicly on such definitely new deal measures as the devaluation of the dollar, holding corporation act, processing taxes, and constitutionality. He is also closely associated with Guy Gannett, a Maine republican leader.

"I don't know Colman without that mustache," the exhibitor finally explained, "so how can you expect my people to know who he is?"

Chapter 14
STRONG WORDS

"You would spend your winters with us in our Park Avenue apartment, and the summers either on Long Island or traveling," Phina went on. "I can give you everything you should have, and I will with me, you should make the sort of marriage that is right for you."

Owen's words had almost made her say an eager yes; but Phina's were so detached and cool that something in her shivered away for a moment. The orchestra was playing a tripping dance of Delibes; the chatter of groups around them, the hurry of waiters, went on. After all, to go away from people who were fond of her... Phina didn't say anything about love.

"Do you want me—because you like me?" Iris said, stumbling a little.

Phina smiled.

"You foolish child, who wouldn't?"

"It's wonderful—it's like a fairy-tale," she said. "But I can't say yes this minute. May I tell you tomorrow?"

"Of course you may," Phina said. But her air said that it was settled. "I have to telephone New York now," she added. "Wait for me in the lobby, when you finish."

"She keeps the shop tied to a telephone wire," said Owen. "Never a detail gets out from under Phina's hand."

"She's wonderful—and isn't she generous?"

Owen did not answer for a moment. Then with a visible effort, he began to talk.

"She is wonderful. And she is generous. But she never gives without some prospect of return. I'm being disloyal to her, but you're my own sister. I want you because you're young and kind and human and belong to me. Phina has some reason, I'm afraid, beyond all that—it may be merely to pay off Aunt Ella, whom she has never forgiven and never will. Come, anyhow, Iris, I need you like the devil! But don't take Phina for a romantic or you'll be disappointed."

"Why," said Iris, wide-eyed, "if there's something I could do for her to pay her back, I'd feel better about going! It's such a lot to take!"

Owen said no more.

When she returned home she ran upstairs, happy, excited, to show herself.

"Isn't my hair nice this way? The rings are kept in shape with brilliantine so they can't come out! I don't look like a whisk-broom. And see my earrings and my nails!" She showed the pointed pink-tipped fingers, the smart suede shoes and gloves, the dusky hair thinned and shaped and polished, outlining her living, lovely young head.

"Nothing anybody could do to it would make you anything but pretty," said Uncle William. "I suppose that's the way girls should look now."

"She's been taking you up into an exceedingly high mountain," Morgan said bitterly from the little table by the window where he had been at work.

It was too much, on top of this radiant, wonderful day! "It's not your affair as far as I can see," Iris told him with more of anger than she had shown since their first days together.

Before he could answer there was a rap on the half-open bedroom door.

"May we come in?" said Aunt Phina's cool loud voice.

Uncle Will sat up, a light on his face that transformed him for the moment into a young man.

"Josie, my dear!" He held his hands out.

There was no answering light on the face of the tall woman who came toward him. She smiled brightly, mechanically, as something told Iris she had been doing for years.

"I'm sorry to see you so ill," she said conventionally.

He stared up eagerly at the artificially smooth face, the set smile.

"Do you know, my dear, you look no older now than you did then? I suppose"—his thin sensitive face flushed as she took his hand—"I look an old man to you."

"You look as if you'd had a hard life. Not greatly changed otherwise. . . . I came to talk to you about Iris."

"Is Iris all you have to talk to me about, after all these years, Colonel?"

It had been a love-name. Iris, standing at the door with her brother and Morgan, knew that, and felt as if she were eavesdropping.

But Uncle Will had forgotten everything but the fact that after twenty years he was seeing a woman he had—Iris knew it now—never, in his gentle, romantic way stopped loving.

Josephine Ross's face broke up suddenly into convulsed lines. The smooth massaged youthfulness went; in its place came a haggard youth she was like a ravaged girl. Her blunt-fingered capable hands wrenched themselves. Then she stiffly, steadily. She too had forgotten her young people at the door.

Iris turned, self-conscious for those who were not self-conscious for themselves, and found that Owen and Morgan had gone. There was a small room at the stairhead, glassed in; half conservatory, half sewing room. She leaned her head back. Yes. There were tears, with the doors closed; talking pleasantly enough, it seemed. That was all to the good anyway. . . .

"And you can reproach me now!" Josephine was saying furiously standing over the bed where Uncle Will lay, propped with pillows, his thin cheeks flushed, his hands playing nervously with the edges of his gray dressing-gown as he had that treated her as you did. You, that let your sister treat Jean and me the way she did!"

"I wanted to marry you, Josie," he said. "I loved you. I've never loved anybody else."

"And what good did that do? What did you do to prove it?" she demanded. "You asked me to marry you—you that were twice my age, with twice my knowledge of life. But we had to wait because your brother Lawrence was a genius, save the mark."

"And so my fine girls comes with you to the little house where Jean and I were working; young girls who asked nothing but to earn a living and be let alone, and the first I know of, that you had to help support because he was a genius—a genius, when he'd done nothing to show it at forty, lawfully with my little sister to Philadelphia and marries her."

"He didn't stop for thoughts of duty. No, with all his good looks and his selfish charms and his clever talk and his grand ways, he sweeps off little Josie, that you would believe anything she was told, and love anybody for a kind word, the poor little pretty thing. And still you persuaded me to wait, and still I waited."

"You were too well-bred and proper to marry me and let me go on working, and there wasn't the money to support Lawrence and Jean and for your marrying too. You loved me, but your duty to everybody on God's earth came before me—or your sister Ella and your brother Lawrence had you so cowed and hypnotized that you thought so."

Her voice had risen; it swept on like a flood. She came closer, and stood above the bed with clenched hands. "I even went to Philadelphia to work, so that you would have a few dollars. The family wouldn't be shamed by a well-brought-up girl earning an honest living—young affectionate fool I was!"

"Josie, Josie, if you had only explained some of this to me, long ago!"

"Explained it to you! Didn't I say it and scream it for five years? But what could two girls do against three middle-aged people who were all set one way, and two of them selfish? For I'll say for you, Billy, you were never selfish for yourself, only for Lawrence."

He held out a thin hand. She pushed it away.

"Never mind." She had gone back to her hard, smooth, English-accented voice. "We're through with all that, you and I, and I suppose I should thank you. It was the hate of you and your sister Ella that drove me along. To where I've got. To where I'll be. . . . She caught her breath.

He sat up in bed and caught her hands. "Josie, Josie, I'm sorry. We were selfish—we were cruel. But

She laughed suddenly, harshly jerking her hands away.

She seemed about to come closer to him, when Aunt Ella, carrying the five o'clock tray of tea brushed past the rapt Iris, and then stood suddenly still.

US Cooperates In Dirigible Flights

WASHINGTON, April 16. (UP)—The United States department announced today that it would cooperate with the German Zeppelin company in a six-month series of flights by the new German dirigible, Hindenburg, starting early in May.

Acting Secretary of Navy William Standley announced that the department would make available for the Hindenburg the naval air stations at Lakehurst, N. J., and Miami, Fla.

The Hindenburg is scheduled to arrive at Lakehurst May 9, after a non-stop transatlantic flight from Germany. It leaves on the return trip to Frankfurt, Germany, the following day.

The Zeppelin will make regular flights at ten-day intervals thereafter except that every other flight will be followed by a three or four-week layover in Germany or an intervening trip to Brazil.

An American naval officer will accompany the Zeppelin on all trips. The arrangement for use of Gene Autrey, the singing cowboy in "Red River Valley," an exciting picture of the old west which is the Lyric's feature for Friday and Saturday.

Gene Autrey Star Of Western Film At Queen Theatre

Gene Autrey, the singing cowboy is back on the local screen this week-end, appearing at the Queen on Friday and Saturday in "Red River Valley," a picture that presents a dramatic side of the long fight by Arizona and California ranchers to harness the Colorado river with Boulder dam.

Dramatically the picture reflects the long battle of cattlemen against private bankers and politicians who sought the water for their own profits. The picture was filmed along the Colorado, and many scenes show construction of Boulder dam.

Autrey, as the cowboy who volunteers to help the cattlemen build the irrigation project, employs both his singing of cowboy songs to win the goodwill of the workmen and his cool strategy to defeat the enemies of the project.

The battle between cattlemen and their opponents provides many exciting sequences. Appearing with Autrey in the film are George Cheseboro, Smiley Burnett and Frances Grant, the latter a newcomer to the screen.

Tim McCoy In Lyric Picture

Cowboy Actor Appears Friday, Saturday in 'Roarin' Guns'

In his latest western thriller, "Roarin' Guns," which comes to the Lyric theater Friday and Saturday, Tim McCoy is starred as a detective of the Cattlemen's association, a gunman on the side of the law who is feared as a sure-shot killer from one end of the Mexican border to the other.

Tim is sent to clean up an outlaw infested district, to run down a gang which has conducted hold-ups, cattle rustling and bank robberies.

He immediately has a brush with the gang, and from then on exciting events occur. There are wrongs to be avenged, there is a pretty girl to be taken care of, and convinced that Tim is not a crook but an officer of the law. She is convinced in the long run and Tim wins her while he rounds up the crooks.

Rosalinda Price plays opposite the western star. In support are Wheeler Oakman, Karl Hackett, John Elliott, Tommy Bupp, Jack Rockwell, Lou Meehan and Rex Lease.

PRISONER

Warner Baxter, popular film star who has the title role in "The Prisoner of Shark Island," is this offering for Friday and Saturday. The film is based on incidents in U. S. history.

Redwood Rises 364 Feet, Boasts 11 Feet Diameter

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP)—After a survey of California's many redwood groves, officials of that state division of parks have given the title of "the tallest tree in the world" to a redwood monarch in Dyerville Flat grove 45 miles south of Eureka.

The giant California redwood (Sequoia sempervirens) towers 364 feet in the air. It is 47 feet in circumference at the base and 11 feet in diameter and contains approximately 125,000 board feet of lumber, it is estimated.

Another tree, even larger from the standpoint of potential lumber, is in the Bull Creek Flat grove. This tree is 72 feet in circumference at the ground, is 345 feet high and would make approximately 154,000 feet board measure of lumber.

Shirley's New Play At Rit

Child Player With Gu Kibbee In 'Captain January'

The adventures of a little girl and her two grizzled old sea-and-captains furnishes the story base for "Captain January," the latest of Shirley Temple's starring pictures which plays at the Rit theater at a Saturday midnight matinee and on Sunday and Monday.

Shirley in this film is the nimble-footed little lady of a lighthouse adored and jealously guarded by old Guy Kibbee. One lighthouse keeper who had fished her from the sea years before. Her other old sea friend, Slim Sumner, constantly bickers with Kibbee, but when authorities threaten to take the little girl away, the two old sailors put up a united front.

Despite their efforts, Sara Flan, as the truant officer, takes possession of Shirley. But not to good, because unexpected friend turn up to bring Shirley and Kibbee together again, and the picture to a happy close.

Shirley executes her dances to "Captain January" with Buddy Ebsen, formerly a Gogfield Follies dancer. She also sings three new songs. June Lang, Jane Darwell and Jerry Tucker are others in the cast.

Oil Chieftain Tells Of Deal With Ethiopia

Affair Was A Tempest In The Teapot, Standard President Says

NEW YORK, April 17.—Actual terms of the famous oil agreement between Standard-Vacuum and Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, which raised an international furor in the early days of the Italo-Ethiopian war, were revealed for the first time today by Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

Writing in Colliers, he gives a full report of the negotiations leading up to the contract, which finally was cancelled at the request of the state department.

Several times in years past, Teagle writes, the oil company had sent its geologists to look over Ethiopia, so far as they could with the natural obstacles in the way, and the territory was "in the future book."

"About a year ago they looked into the situation and thought they might obtain a concession," he explains. "They engaged an English agent, because of his previous experience in similar work, to trade with Haile Selassie. Since fantastic stories have been published that this concession involved a commitment of $50,000,000, I might as well tell the actual terms.

Like a Lease
"Not a nickel was to be paid to the Emperor; the arrangement followed the general lines of a lease in the United States. If production were obtained within five years, Ethiopia would have received the customary royalty. Standard-Vacuum executives advanced their negotiator $25,000 for expenses and agreed to pay him another $25,000 if he brought back the concession. He got what he wanted, but as Italy and Ethiopia were coming to grips, no further steps were contemplated until peace should be restored."

But news of the lease was prematurely published, Teagle said, in such a way as to make it appear that the United States might become involved in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, and the state department accepted the "oil company's offer to cancel.

"Had the story not been published," he added, "the situation as regards Italy, Ethiopia and the United States would be today exactly what it is, but Standard-Vacuum would hold the right to go into Ethiopia when peace is restored and carry through its plan for exploration. No work would have been attempted in the meantime, and no money nor credit would have been advanced."

In referring to the current conflict in Africa, Teagle said that "it may surprise you to be told that war is injurious rather than beneficial to the oil industry." He added that that is "probably true of any business, the steady growth of which is disrupted to an extent that is not compensated by the temporary forced consumption due to the war.

"Some sellers who appear only when the regular suppliers are out of the market may have made money selling oil to Italy," he said, "but the American companies which were in the foreign business before the Italo-Ethiopian war have lost out. Our Italian subsidiary imported in 1934, from all sources including the United States, 4,908,000 barrels. In 1935, with all the extraordinary demands for fueling the troops, tanks, lorries and airplanes, their receipts were actually less than in the previous year."

CHURCH OF CHRIST REVIVAL WILL OPEN HERE ON APRIL 26

The Church of Christ, at 14th and Main streets, will begin its spring revival on April 26, with Evangelist Hulen L. Jackson of San Saba doing the preaching. It has been announced by Forrest R. Waldrop, the local minister. Services will be held each day at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

"Jackson is a young man of unusual ability as a speaker and gospel preacher," Waldrop said. "I am sure people will be impressed with the simplicity of his messages, and the strict adherence to the scriptures in his lessons. The public is invited to hear him."

WALTER HAMPDEN TO TAKE A LONG REST FROM STAGE WORK

DETROIT, April 17 (UP)—Walter Hampden, America's foremost actor-manager, will take the leading role in "Cyrano de Bergerac" for his 1,000th performance, and then never play the part again.

When the dramatic season ends, he will have given his well-loved impersonation of the romantic with the large nose exactly that many times. He plans to return to his place in Connecticut, take "a good big stretch, and then lie down under a tree."

His decision doesn't mean that he's through acting, but he's not in any big hurry to get back into the theater. He is tired of being a classic torch-bearer, and wants to look through a pile of manuscripts to see if he can find a play, done in the modern manner, that's to his liking.

Hampden is tired of being two men, a manager and an actor. He has been traveling around the country for years playing Hamlet, Othello and Macbeth in addition to his Cyrano. He would like to take a fling at "King Lear" or "Coriolanus," but Shakespeare doesn't appeal to the masses, and an actor manager has to be careful of the expenses.

"I have a good mind to burn Cyrano," he said, "because I am certain I will never play the part

Dallas Chosen By Baptists

All Officers of Sunday School Convention Are Relected

MINERAL WELLS, April 17.—Dallas was selected Thursday as the meeting place for the 1937 Baptist Sunday school convention. It will be held April 13, 14 and 15.

The present officers were re-elected for 1937. They are: President, Rev. H. E. Fowler, Dallas; corresponding secretary and treasurer, G. B. Hopkins, Dallas; Mrs. Julia Mae Slaughter, Dallas, and Mrs. Marion Sewell, Dallas, recording secretaries.

The final session of the convention was held Thursday night when Dr. J. M. McConnell, Dallas, editor and business manager of the Baptist Standard spoke on "Our Indispensable Medium of Exchange." "The Type of Church That Will Win in the Second Century of Texas History" was the subject of Dr. T. L. Holcomb, Fort Worth. He first paid tribute to the pioneer preachers of Texas and told of the hardships they suffered in carrying on their work. Dr. Holcomb stressed that three points would be necessary for the church to achieve its goal in this second century. These were a sacrificial ministry, a real service program for all ages and that each church emphasize a Bible message.

The meeting closed with songs rendered by a negro community chorus.

LIQUOR REVENUE IS OVER TWO MILLIONS

AUSTIN, April 17.—Revenue from liquor at the end of the first five months of operation of the liquor law amounted to $2,401,831, State Administrator Charles Miller announced Thursday. The tabulation was complete through April 15.

This was an average income of $110,000 per week for 22 weeks during which the law has been operated. Stamp taxes contributed $1,377,729 of the total and permit fees $324,112.

Cobbler Sticks to Last 75 Years LIMERICK, Me. (UP)—Samuel Sawyer Knight, 92-year-old shoe maker and oldest resident of the town, still occupies the room in which he was born. He has been in the shoe repairing business for more than 75 years and is still actively employed.

again." However, his friends say that he will be back in the theater before the next season is very old, even if Cyrano is dead.
