Every child of the community is cordially invited to participate in the affair which has been staged annually by the local Lions Club for the past several years. Hundreds of similar hunts are being staged by Lions clubs over the nation today, the staging of the egg hunts being listed in the yearly program of the International service organization. Separate Hunts for Colored Children The local service club is expanding its Easter egg hunt activities this year in order that every child of the city regardless of race or color may enjoy the time honored custom. Not one, but three separate egg hunts will be staged here this afternoon one for the white children, another for the negro boys and girls, and still another for the Mexican children of the community. The hunt in which the white children will participate will be held at the end of Texas Street near the western boundary of the city, while the egg hunt for the negroes will be staged in the "flat" in East Midland. The varicolored eggs for which the Mexican kids will hunt will be hidden in the Mexican settlement in the southeastern part of the city. Each of the hunts will get underway at 2:30 o'clock. Come one come all. No Prizes Two thousand eggs, both of the hen and candy variety are in readiness, and a committee of Lions Club members headed by L. E. Jones, will start hiding the eggs at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. There will be plenty of eggs for everyone. Members of the local Boy Scout troops will assist the Lions in staging the affair. No prizes will be offered this year. Children are requested not to come to the grounds before 2:30 o'clock. The grounds at the site of the major hunt at the end of Texas Street will be divided into three sections in order to give the children of all ages an equal chance at finding the eggs. One section will be reserved for children of pre-school age; another will be restricted to children from seven to ten years of age, while a third section will be for children above 10 years of age. A committee of Lions and Boy Scouts will be on hand to patrol the grounds in order to care for the safety of the participating children. The Lions Club committee in charge of the Easter hunt is composed of Claude Crane, chairman, L. E. Jones, Ellis Conner and Jim Williams.

New Winkler Well Averages 100 Barrels Hourly in Test

BY FRANK GARDNER

After averaging 95 1/2 barrels per hour for the first three hours of prorotation test, R. H. Henderson and Uscan Oil company No. 1-A Walton new lime producing strike in Winkler county, registered steady flow of 100 barrels per hour for the next 10 hours. Production was through open 2-inch tubing with gas estimated at 3,000,000 cubic feet.

Although under some estimates, previously made on its possibilities, the rate of production from the No. 1-A Walton definitely puts it in the "big well" class and the area near it will doubtless see much exploration in the near future. It topped its main pay section in lime at 3,034 and drilled to a total depth of 3,049. Production is natural, neither acid nor nitro shot having been given the well. Said to be producing from a horizon comparable to that of the Hendricks pool, main Winkler county field, the Henderson and Uscan well is thought to be separated from the wells to the south by a saddle. It is located in the northeast corner of section 9, block 26, public school land, two miles east of the Sayre pool, but can not be regarded as an extension of that area since it is producing from an entirely different pay section.

GLASSCOCK WILDCAT IS UNCHANGED AT 2,542

After logging its best showing so far from 2,477 to 2,494, Fleetborn Oil Corporation No. 1 Floyd C. Dodson, is drilling limestone unchanged below 2,542. The highly interesting Glasscock County wildcat is reported to have a small amount of free oil in the hole, most of which is believed coming from

WARD EXTENSION FLOWS 1,506 BARRELS

Far in excess of most estimates, California Company No. 1 Lucey A. Adams, new half-mile north extension to the Southeast Ward County field, flowed 1,506 barrels of oil through open tubing and casing on the official 24 hour prorotation test. Shot April 3 with 230 quarts from 2,480 to bottom at 2,570, the completion gauge on the California well was delayed for a week while operators cleaned out casing hole. The No. 1 Adams had its first oil show from 2,473 to 2,480, but topped the main pay section at 2,524, cleaning itself at 2,450 and logging additional pays on down to total depth. Location of the extension well is in the south corner of section 39, block 34, H. & T. C. survey. Two offset locations have been announced: F. H. E. No. 1 Richter and others in section 27, and Gulf No. 1 Estes in section 38.

BEHIND THE SCENES

WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Every so often the nation has to have a new chief justice of the U. S. Supreme Court. The next one, many insiders believe, will be Justice Harlan Fiske Stone.

Stone is the youngest and most vigorous member of the court's liberal bloc. His personality and his forceful dissenting opinions have made him a candidate for the mantle of the beloved late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Holmes never became chief justice, but Stone is only 63 and some of those who have Roosevelt's confidence are sure the president will elevate him to that post if he ever gets the chance.

Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes is 74, beyond the retirement age and not very happy. Justice Louis D. Brandeis, although in spiritual kinship with the New Deal, is 79 and hardly likely to succeed Hughes if it fails to Roosevelt to choose a successor.

His Tireless Worker

Outstanding among Stone's distinctions is his sheer physical strength and energy. He is a match for Justice Owen J. Roberts on the conservative side. He is willing to take on the work of writing the most important dissents and to lead in George D. McCormick, who is a bachelor, is reported to have received a leap year proposal, but replied that he would be a brother to her.

Elbert Hubert once wrote: The typical auditor is a man past middle age, spare, wrinkled, intelligent, passive, noncommittal, with eyes like a codfish, polite in contact, but at the same time unresponsive, cold, calm and damnable composed as a concrete post, or plaster of paris cast; a human petrification with a heart of feldspar and without charm of the friendly germ, minus bowels, passion or a sense of humor. Happily they never reproduce and all of them finally go to hell.

By way of rebuttal we wish to refer you to Alec Turner, an amiable and sociable person, comfortably portly in physique and with the warmest of dispositions.

Hubbard must not have been running his business to suit the stockholders, consequently the auditor looked pretty tough to him.

the hot fighting at court conferences which precede decisions. Stone is not in sympathy with much of the New Deal. Appointed by Coolidge and a close personal friend of Herbert Hoover, he is a Republican. But he is a fighting champion for a liberal interpretation of the Constitution and the rights of Congress to legislate against opinions influenced by personal, political, or economic bias.

If Hoover were to be re-elected, Stone undoubtedly would return to his old place in the Hoover "medicine ball cabinet."

For a supreme court justice, Stone's background is unusually diversified. He started out as a teacher of law and got into the habit of judging without the service in corporation law to which most justices have been largely confined.

He left his post as dean of Columbia University law school to join the big firm of Sullivan & Cromwell, where he had a chance to learn the tricks of Wall Street. Finally he served as attorney general in the cabinet.

Personally, Stone probably is the court's most popular member. He "gets around" more than any other justice and has a strong sense of humor.

Hush on Air Crash Probe. A legend is still floating around to the effect that the crash of an American Airlines plane in Arkansas, which killed 17 persons, resulted when a dope fiend, who had taken out heavy insurance just before the flight, suddenly murdered the pilot.

Although this fantastic version wasn't mentioned in the Bureau of Air Commerce's report, which officially declared the tragedy a mystery, the report conspicuously omitted mention of certain evidence which aided the build-up of the theory, and orders have been issued requiring that pilot compartments be locked and passengers barred therefrom.

Several phials of morphine were found in the wreckage. A hole which some thought probably had been made by a bullet fired inside the plane was also discovered in a piece of metal. The wreckage also turned up an unidentified revolver. Then there was the aforementioned rumor that a passenger had been financially embarrassed and had taken out a large amount of in-

Japanese Leads In Rice Planting

ORANGE (P)—K. Kishi, ex-Japanese nobleman and pioneer Orange County rice farmer, will plant the largest rice acreage of any farmer in the county this year. A. J. McKenzie, county yfarm agent, said, The Japanese will cultivate 1000 acres.

Rice growing in Orange County was halted several years ago when salt water invaded Cow and Adams bayous, the only sources of irrigation. The installation of the new irrigation systems this year under government aid is expected to revive the industry and 18,000 acres are being prepared for the 1936 rice crop.

Kishi came here 25 years ago and engaged in growing of rice on a large scale. He maintained the largest combination truck farm and rice plantation in this section but, although salt water drove him from his farm near Terry, he will attempt a comeback this year.

Statue of Monk Is Restored to Alamo

SAN ANTONIO (P)—A four and one-half foot adobe rock statue of a monk, dated 1502, again is resting in its niche in the Alamo, after being treasured in a San Antonio household for 150 years.

The statue, returned to the Alamo by William F. Freeman, weighs approximately 500 pounds. Freeman said it had been handed down in his family for generations. According to family legend, Freeman's great-great-grandfather, a Frenchman named La Baum, found the statue on his property between what now are Alamo and Water streets. It had been taken from the ancient mission by Mexicans, the legend says.

A baptismal font, also obtained from the Alamo in this way, has been returned to the chapel. Beryllium is a metal about one-third lighter than aluminum.

Texas Will Honor Anson Jones, Doctor, Statesman, President

DALLAS (P)—Texas is building a permanent shrine to the memory of Anson Jones—in youth a gloomy store clerk in a New York town, fourth president of the Republic of Texas in maturity, and a suicide when the Republic became a state in the federal union.

The young man, whose greatest ambitions was to be a doctor, became one of the brilliant and tragic figures in the history of Texas will celebrate at a $25,000,000 world's fair here June 6 through Nov. 29.

A likeness of Jones will appear in the Hall of Heroes in the $1,200,000 Texas Hall of State along with those of Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin, a permanent memorial to the men who realized Texas' freedom in 1836.

Jones was 29 when he went to Utica N. Y. to clerk in his brothers' general store after two years of teaching school. He read medicine by candle light when store chores were done and after two years of plodding was granted a license to practice medicine. Subsequently he managed to go through Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia but when he arrived in Texas in 1828, $17 in cash and about $50 worth of medicines, were his only possessions.

At the Battle of San Jacinto he was both surgeon and soldier. During the Republic he was Brazoria County representative in congress minister to Washington, two terms senator, secretary of state and finally president.

He opposed bitterly the union of Texas with the United States and soon after the ceremony, February 16, 1846, in which the Stars and Stripes replaced the Lone Star flag, he took his life.

Miss Watson Forecasts Great Future For Newly-Created Eighth District

Editor's Note: The following paper was read by Miss Watson as a "class prophecy" for the Eighth district of the Texas Federated clubs at the "class commencement" luncheon which celebrated the creation of the new district during the Sixth district annual convention at Abilene last week.

By MISS LYDIE G. WATSON
Today I am reminded of a personal experience which was mine, about two months past. For many moons the question had been "to bob or not to bob" and at length, finally, and consequently, after much mature and perspiring reflection, and I had relieved myself of an ankle deep sigh, but with a very decided upside down feeling the momentous question was decided, and I went to the beauty parlor. Such a major operation seemed to justify me in going to the hospital, but lo! that woman casually snipped off in three minutes the platinum home grown tatch which I had been one hundred and four years raising.

"This is it today when we are bidding farewell to our Alma Mater severing those contacts so many years dear, leaving those friends and associates, who during years past have kept our hearts, souls and minds in a whirl of star shine.

We feel timid, reluctant, and as if we are leaving our youth and girlhood behind us. That we are going to face the grim realities of men and be tested in the furnace of life. But just watch our step! The 8th District will now go swinging off into star spangled skies and rising like a touch of glory we'll hardly recognize the moon as we shoot by.

And now while our spirits are doing aeronautic stunts, and we are using a little high powered optimism to discourage the jinx which the secession of the 6th district has placed upon us, let us tell you of this new District. This infant 8th district, which even in its romper days is going to march sturdily off as though it heard cheering.

We are not thrown off the main road of life and cast into a country lane. Our entire district lies in a sun-drenched area of scenic beauty. Midland and Big Spring are rich in oil and the world of "hoofs" and the invigorating prairie air makes us feel as fresh as a January calendar. Those stretching Western Prairies, where 'tis said there are more rivers and less water, more cows and less milk, and one can see further and see less than any where in the world.

Within our District is El Paso, a city of wealth, health and history and is located in Paso-del-Norte from which the city derives its name. El Paso with a population of 102,421 and might be regarded as the capital of the Sunshine Belt. This means that El Paso has not only sunshine and climate, but also the sufferer from tuberculosis, but also, here against a background of romantic history are all the facilities and creature comforts which the most sophisticated could ask. Great hotels, modern apartments, beautiful homes, gardens and parks, amusements and sports, fraternal and religious organizations, schools and colleges.

In every direction from El Paso lie scenic and historical wonders. Carlsbad Cavern, the world's greatest underground marvel. To the north are 10,000 foot mountains. National Park, streams for fishing, woods for hunting. Ruins of Pueblo homes of the red man stand as mute reminders of the races that once flourished. Gigantic dams restrain water of turbulent rivers for farming in green valleys that once were desert. Mines bring forth the riches of the earth. To the south lies Mexico, land of mystery, with its untold and unspoiled beauties. From these sources El Paso draws material for a background full of interest. Indian legends, tales of the old cattle days of boom towns, of the youthful desperado Billie the Kid, of gun fights of the glamorous old West.

Frankly your speaker, not having any more sense of direction than an egg beater does not know exactly how to pilot you to the Alps of Texas" but perhaps if we take a southeasterly direction we will come to Alpine a little city of 5000 inhabitants, nestled among the foothills of the Rockies in the Texas Big Bend, and the last frontier of America, therefore is rich in historical interest.

Alpine is the largest city in Brewster county, which is the largest county in Texas—hence the slogan:

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Easter, possibly more than any other holiday, unless Christmas, seems to call into display the musical talent which Midland has in such abundance. We rather like the idea. While our idea of religion is not a thing of too much display, the average person is sincerely helped, we believe, and so is the average community by occasional worship services. Easter is a fitting time for such.

Our idea of a really strong person is one who can live through a time of stress and strain with a really calm demeanor, unhurried, unconfused, sure of his goal. To any such, we offer unstinted admiration.

But, contrariwise, we don't like or admire people who are TOO calm, who can never be enthusiastic, or ardent, or indignant.

In other words, still waters are only to be admired if we know there is a current beneath and a calm and cool exterior only if we know it masks a flame.

We're all ready for the Easter parade today—which is to say that we've had our last year's hat refurbished, our last year's coat cleaned, and our last year's shoes polished. Even so, we'll enjoy the parade of fashion, despite the fact of standing on the sidewalks.

There's something to be said for the ability of being content on the sidewalks anyway.

We're ready to admit that it is spring. Yesterday we drank iced tea for lunch and didn't shiver afterward. Also yesterday the office force started on its summer menu of mid-afternoon ice cream cones.

The county school fair is a worthy enterprise and one which deserves cooperation from schools and citizenry. It should be encouraged to grow in size yearly.

Bridge was also played at the clubhouse following luncheon. Golf games were played in the morning.

Women Golfers Have 8-Table Luncheon

Mrs. Jas. S. Maxwell Jr. and Mrs. S. P. Hazlip were hostesses at the weekly luncheon of the women's Golf association at the Country club Friday.

Luncheon was served at eight four some tables laid with colored covers and centered with bouquets of daisies, baby's breath, and fern.

Among the luncheon group was a party of fifteen, guests of Mrs. C. H. Oles, entertaining for Mrs. Thompson. This group afterward gathered at the Oles home for an afternoon of cards.

Bridge was also played at the clubhouse following luncheon. Golf games were played in the morning.

Cowboy Ballads Grow in Popularity

SAN ANGELO (P)—Cowboy ballads are more popular now than at anytime in the 46 years. George Allen has sold music here.

Allen came to West Texas in 1883 to be a sheepherder but instead opened a music store in an adobe hut on $50 capital. For years "a goodly part" of his trade was in French harps which he sold to sheepherders.

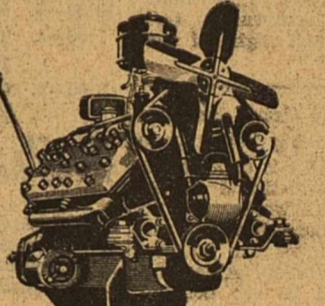

"Cowhands confined their yearnings for their boots and saddles to the bunkhouse and the call of the range was ever present without the accompaniment of an off-key steel guitar in the early days of West Texas," he said.

"Wherever a group gathered, the most natural outlet for high spirits was music. People of this little western trading post sang, played and enjoyed better music on the whole than they do today. Coming from all points of the compass San Angeloans then had been educated in music."

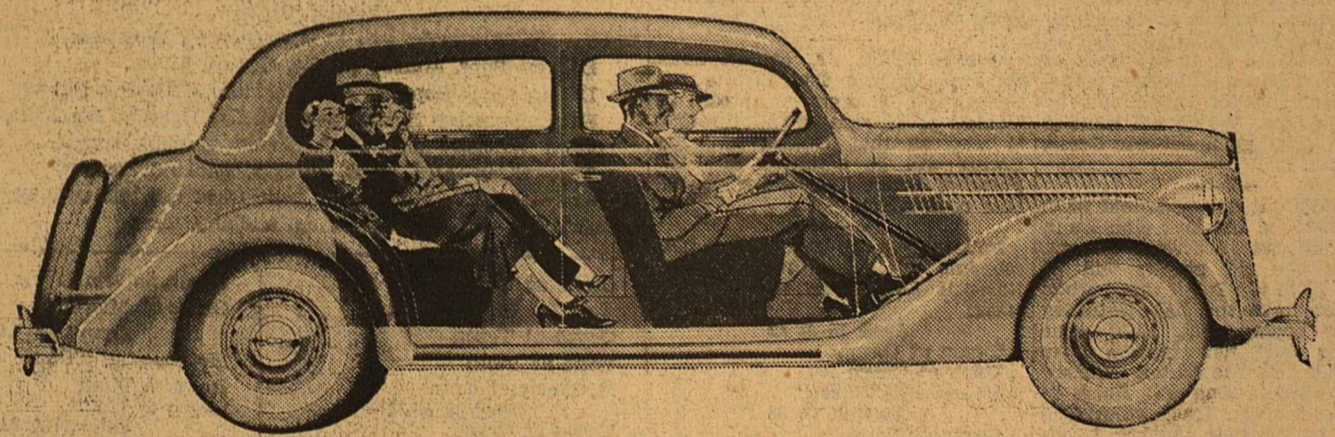

Mr. Allen who came here from Boston, is 80 years old.

Rose Island, part of the Samoan group, has the distinction of being the most southerly land to which the United States has undisputed possession.

PERMIAN BASIN CLUBS READY FOR LEAGUE OPENER APRIL 18

6 TEAMS WAITING FOR "GO" SIGNAL IN PENNANT CHASE

Texon, the Perennial Champs, Again Favorites

By BILL COLLYNS

The six clubs comprising the Permian Basin circuit, Texon, Ozona, Wink, Crane, McCamey and Iraan, are ready to go, the umpires have been appointed and assigned, and everything is in perfect readiness for the opening April 18 of what promises to be the most successful season in the history of West Texas' fastest baseball loop. All of the clubs have strengthened up for the current season and competition is expected to wax unusually warm.

The Texon Oilers, perennial champions of this section, have added a pitcher, a catcher and a utility man, and it appears that the Oilers are taking no chances in relinquishing the championship. The veteran Snipe Conley retains the managerial reins of the Big Lake Oil Co. sponsored club with Fred Haddock handling the business end.

Slim Harris remains at Ozona as manager of the Giant entry, and it is reported that the Ozona club will be in the money again this season. Harris, former Texas leaguer, piloted the Giants to the second half championship last season. Ozona has added several new players, but the club will not be strengthened until the second half when numerous college stars will be added. If it rains in Crockett county within the next two months, watch the Giants go.

The veteran Ed Neely replaces the fiery Mack Saxton as manager of the McCamey Refiners this season, Neely promising the McCamey fans a team of championship calibre. Only three members of last season's McCamey club will be listed in the starting lineup this year, eleven new players from over the state having been added. Manager Neely says his club at present looks more promising than any team he has ever managed. Upon a fast infield and a hard hitting club in general, Neely bases his championship hopes. Bill Duncan, pitcher, who tried out with Oklahoma City this season, is back and ready to go on the mound for McCamey. Should McCamey come through as planned, it will be their initial championship. Harry Frieden is the business manager.

The Wink team has been incorporated, a $25,000 grand stand has been built, and a fast club has been gotten together as Wink plans on returning baseball as the major sport in the Winkler county capital. Mayor Theoford is at the helm of the club. A warning has been issued to the other clubs of the circuit by the Wink fans. We do not want to miss the initial game between Ozona and Wink.

Jerry Wilford has organized what promises to be the best club Iraan has turned out in several seasons. Most of the old players will be missing from the Iraan squad when the Oilers take the field Saturday in their opening tilt, since some eight or nine new players have been added to the roster. Wilford says the Iraan nine will finish in the upper bracket. Iraan, recognized as one of the best baseball towns in this section, is gunning for a championship this year. Look out, Texon.

The Crane Oilers, thought by many to be the outstanding club of the circuit this season, return the same team this year and the Gulf sponsored club is the outstanding favorite to date. The veteran Wild Bill Orchard and Bob Osborn will manage the Crane club, and both are plenty smart. Osborn, voted the

Heads School

Francis A. Schmidt, Ohio state, who heads the teaching corps of the Fourth Annual Texas High School Football Coaches Association coaching school to be held on the T. C. U. campus, Aug. 3 to 8. He will also coach the Northern all-stars in the Texas High School Gridiron Classic. Others appearing on the staff with Schmidt are Bernie Moore, L. S. U.; Matty Bell, SMU; Dutch Meyer and Raymond "Bear" Wolf, T. C. U. and "Ears" Whitworth, L. S. U. Moore will coach the Southern team which will meet the Schmidt team coached Northern on La-Grave field the last night of the school.

best pitcher in the circuit last season, has been looking better than ever in practice, and is expected to win more than two-thirds of the games in which he works. Led by Big Moos and Osborn, the Gulf entry is recognized as the hardest hitting club in the loop. A fast infield and outfield is also boasted. We are picking Crane to come through.

The action starts next Saturday and the going may be a bit rough for some of the clubs. Each of the entries have been working out for several weeks and all look good. Plenty of action is promised.

Two exhibition affairs are slated for this afternoon; Crane meeting McCamey in McCamey and Texon going to Ozona. George Elliott Jr., Odessa hotel magnate, reports that efforts are being made to organize a team in Odessa. If the venture goes through, it may be that Odessa and Big Spring will be admitted into the Permian Basin League for second half competition.

Following is the official first half schedule of the Permian Basin Baseball League as released this week:

PLANS FOR DISTRICT MEET HERE NEXT FRIDAY; SATURDAY NEAR COMPLETION

With complete programs off the press, and mailed to all schools that will compete, plans are rapidly being completed to handle the large number of school children and officials that will be here next Friday and Saturday for district 31 Interscholastic League meet.

It is estimated by school authorities that more than 500 students will enter the various indoor and outdoor events for the two days. The athletic events will include all track and field contestants and the indoor events will include debate, declamation, extemporaneous speaking, essay writing, typewriting, one-act plays.

First place winners in the district meet will be sent to the state meet to be held in Austin later in the month. Midland was the district winner last year, their large number of votes polled in the indoor events making up for their small number gained in the track and field events, a division in which they finished fourth. McCamey was winner of the track and field events by a small margin.

New Track Nears Completion For Opening of Tri-State Race Meet

Tri-State Meeting Features Thrills

Increase in Interest Makes Track One Of the Best

AMARILLO, April 11.—The dull thud of horses' flying feet will sound on a brand new track next month when the spring race meeting of the Tri-State Fair Association will bring once more thoroughbred horse racing to the Panhandle. The dates are May 8-16.

A gradual increase in interest among stable owners and trainers has made the Tri-State track one of the country's leading minor plants. To meet the demand for more stables and better equipment, officials this spring have started a remodeling program at the historic plant.

The old course was too close to the grandstand and its curves not quite up to standard. Hence, the first step in the remodeling plans was to move the track east 15 feet. Mason King, fair racing director, has been in charge of this work and recently said it is his belief the new course will be the best 5/8-mile track in the entire Southwest.

Although 50 new stalls have been added to the plant, the demand for stable space has been so great that Ted Taylor, fair manager, predicts an overflow of horses. During the spring meeting, the overflow will be taken care of in the fair's stock barns.

Officials who were in charge of the races last fall when a new record for minor tracks in Texas was set will be in charge this spring. The feature of the meeting will be a distance derby race for three-year-olds. It will carry a purse of $500 and will be called the Chamber of Commerce Handicap.

The club is hoping Bill Duncan, mainstay of the pitching staff for the last two seasons, will return if he does not stick with Oklahoma City. Ed Neely, manager of the team, was once a brilliant prospect but stayed on the "primrose path" too long. Another colored ball game is scheduled for here today. This time it is the Colorado darters that are to furnish the opposition. We called their sandstorm for them last week. The Angelo team did not even get here. All schools in this section of the country will be here for the district meet next Friday and Saturday. Crane now looms as a threat to beat Midland out. They outscored the Bulldogs in the invasion meet at Crane. McCamey will enter 12 boys in the track and field events. The Badgers took home the first place cup last year, but only after a squabble with one of the other clubs at the meet. Crane unless we are mistaken. The Sand Belt club will play their matches scheduled for last Sunday today if the weather permits. The "rain" last Sunday was too tough for them. Big Spring is on top in the league at present, having defeated the Odessa club last Sunday. The hills and trees of the Big Spring course gave them little protection from the weather. What about softball here? Lots of kids are playing it in the streets and on corners but no general comment is forthcoming. Other towns have already played their opening games.

The youth movement has grown so rapidly that there are now more than 3000 youth hostels in Europe. Of this number, 213 are in England and Wales.

Dallas Entertainers To Be Here Tuesday

Spending an hour at Midland Tuesday morning, after arrival at 8 o'clock of the special train bearing Dallas business leaders, the entertainers pictured above will present a program at the east side of the court house square. In the group are (1) J. Durrell Padgett, president of the Dallas Wholesale Merchants Association and chairman of the executive committee; (2) W. V. Bailey, general chair-

Rheumatism? I am not positive about the spelling of it, but I darn sure know what it is. All hats off to Bill Collyns. Since its founding he has been the guiding spirit of the Permian Basin League. Without him it is doubtful if the league would have operated the last few years. Particularly this

one. He had a lot of internal bickering to settle before the clubs would get in line, but thanks to some excellent diplomacy, and a little bit of the iron hand where it was needed, all is now in readiness for the biggest season of all. Lapse of memory. What club in the league in 1935 in Wink substituting for this year? Was Odessa the one? Incidentally, Odessa had 18 men out for the first workout of the season the other day. Morris (Buck) McCormick, former catcher for the Minneapolis club in the American Association, is managing the team. Little George Elliott just can't get along without a team in the Ector Capital. Would that someone like him would move to Midland. Look for him to turn up with a club of college boys in the last half of the season that will give any of them in this section a run for their money. McCamey has scouts out searching the bushes for likely looking prospects for the club there this year. Home town talent must depend upon ability rather than pull to make the club there this season, according to ad- vices. Playing of men whether or not they had the talent had handicapped the teams there in the past. Jobs were available for good men but politics ruined any pen-

Federal Drive For Greater Safety Given Spur by Shocking Tragedies

By Willis Thornton
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—With 11 new names written in blood at the top of airplane victims, efforts at making air travel safe are being redoubled here.

Increasing success of that effort during the last five years is observed in times of mourning for recent deaths—in this case those of the TWA "Sun Racer" at Uniontown, Pa.

Yet the success is real, considered over a period of years rather than weeks.

Six Times Safer

For instance, five years ago the accident rate on commercial air lines justified this expectation; That a man could be aboard an airliner every morning of the year, fly 1,000 miles a day for 10 years before he would be "due" for a fatal accident.

Today, he should be able to keep up that 1000 mile a day flying for 60 years without his fatal accident "coming-due."

In other words commercial air travel in five years has become six times safer. That is based on the number of miles flown in proportion to the number of passengers killed, as correlated by Eugene L. Vidal, director of air commerce of the Department of Commerce.

But gradually-growing safety is not enough. The spectacular horror of airplane accidents is such that each one speeds up greatly

A Good Commercial Loan

THESE hallmarks are:—the good name of the borrower; the sound purpose for which the money is to be used; and the self-liquidating character of the underlying transaction which assures repayment of the loan in accordance with its terms.

These are the essential features of commercial loans made by this bank. They help our customers carry on useful, profitable business activities. Bankers call them "short-term, self-liquidating loans" for they finance industrial, agricultural and merchandising operations which are normally completed within sixty or ninety days or seasonal periods, and bring in funds to repay the loan.

Tests East of Jal-Cooper Pool Hold Lea County Interest

EAST JAL TEST HITS HEAVY GAS IN SAND SECTION

Other Strike Still Heading Oil Past Stuck Tools

By FRANK GARDNER

Development of heavy gas flow in one of the wildcats east of the Jal-Cooper pool, continued heading of oil past two strings of stranded tools by a prospective discovery in the same area and the completion of another flowing producer in the fast-growing sand belt south of Eunice were features of this week's activities in Lea county, New Mexico.

Texas Company No. 1 Lanehart in the northeast quarter of section 29-25-37e, two and a half miles from the Jal pool wells, encountered an estimated 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day from 2,570 to 2,585 while drilling a sand section, and operators were delayed several days by loss of rotary returns. Circulation was finally re-established, and the test drilled ahead to 2,636 where it is now shut down for orders.

Striking of the gas at such a high point in the section is believed to indicate position on a structure, although some geologists doubt that the Texas Company test will find oil in commercial quantity.

Pool Opener Showing

Three miles to the northeast and bottomed in a different horizon, Culbertson Wrin and Stovall No. 1 J. A. Stuart continues to show for a pool opener by heading oil past two strings of tools lost in the hole. Early in the week it made 46 barrels of 41-gravity oil in a 20-hour period.

The No. 1 Stuart encountered its main pay at 3,280 in a sand section entered at 3,265. Drilling tools were blown up the hole by a gas kick from total depth variously reported as 3,288 and 3,294, and operators later lost the fishing string while pulling them out. Tools are about 1,300 feet off bottom, and operators are now drilling by since there is enough open hole between the top of stranded tools and the bottom of 8 1/4 inch pipe set at 1,300 to make sidetracking possible.

The Culbertson, Irwin and Stovall discovery is located in the center of the southwest of the southeast of section 10-25-37e about four miles east of the Jal-Cooper pool.

Complete Sand Belt Well

In the south part of the Eunice sand belt pool 13 miles farther north, Skelly Oil Company No. 1 A. L. King was completed for a potential of 142 barrels per day flowing through open tubing set on bottom and perforated for five feet in the bottom joint.

The latest sand belt producer reached a total depth of 3,683 feet and topped its pay at 3,560. It was shot with 270 quarts of glycerin from 3,500 to bottom. Location of the No. 1 A. L. King is in the center of the southeast of the northwest of section 4-23-37e, offsetting the Skelly No. 1, H. O. Sims producer to the west.

To Run Casing

Harry Leonard No. 1 Lanehart, another prospective pool opener in the Jal sand belt area, is preparing to run 7-inch casing to shut off gas gauged at 17,800,000 cubic feet encountered from 2,975 to total depth at 2,979. The Harry Leonard well had a heavy oil spray blowing from the hole together with the gas and is believed to presage a distinct pool since it is producing from a different horizon from the No. 1 J. A. Stuart strike a mile east and a mile and a half north. Operators killed the gas by pumping in mud and will drill into the pay section under pressure after running casing. The well is located in the center of the southwest of the northeast of section 21-25-37e, a little more than a mile due east of Jal township.

Two miles and a quarter due north of Culbertson, Irwin and Stovall No. 1 Stuart, Plains Production Company No. 1 R. L. Mosely is showing for an oil well as it drills ahead below 3,450 in sandy lime. Since encountering 2,500,000 cubic feet of gas at 3,310 and 3,345 to 3,355, the well has threatened to blow up tools and operators have rigged up a high-pressure head to avoid trouble. The flow line from the head is showing for a definite oil spray together with gas. The No. 1 Mosely has logged a number of oil shows, those recorded being from 3,060 to 3,065, 2,193, 3,300 to 3,310, 3,345 to 3,355, 3,360 to 3,370, 3,415 to 3,425 and 3,420 to 3,435. It is in the center of the northwest of the southeast of section 34-24-37e.

Wildcat Reported Low

Liberty Oil and Drilling Company No. 1 J. W. Hair, a wildcat test two and three-quarters northeast of the No. 1 Mosely and three miles southeast of the Cranfill No. 1 Hair discovery producer, is said to be running low as it drills below 2,765 feet in brown lime and anhydrite. The test is said to have logged its last salt at 2,637.

The most interesting location made this week in Lea county was for the Cranfill and Germany Oil Company No. 1 Ellen Wier, a wildcat test four miles east and a half south of the south end of the Monument pool. It is two miles and a quarter north and a half mile east of Continental No. 1 Sophie Meyers Permit, a failure which logged some oil shows in drilling to a total depth of 3,915 feet.

Monument Extension Drilling

Repollo Oil Company No. 2 Williams, interesting wildcat two and a half miles east of South Monument production, is making fast time in drilling below 2,655 feet in anhydrite. It is located in the southwest corner of the east half of section 32-18-37e, a mile diagonally across the half section from Repollo No. 1 Williams, a pump completed this week for 15 barrels of oil and 167 barrels of water per day.

BEDFORD UP, THANKS FRIENDS FOR HELP

H. G. The cattleman was able to be down town a short time Saturday and reports his strength gradually increasing.

DOPE ABOUT DOPEHEADS

By Bigger Dopeheads.

Well, Mary—sickness does some good! That is, if Dan Green will always write you a letter every afternoon. A special delivery at that. Correction! Kitty Jean Ellis was in on the Harriette Rand too. She was quite indignant, John, because she was left out.

It is really fun to watch the Fish couples come in the show. For example, Kitty Jean Ellis and Charles Dodson, and Maxine Hays and Tommie Wilson are quite amusing. At least they are not half so awkward as Benford-Girdley, and Self-Sindor.

Well, Rettig—are you losing your 'grip?' Bernard had a date with Dorothy Lou Sunday night and that early looks bad (for you).

Odessa is the root of all evil—not women. If Odessa were a million miles away that would be too close. —'Chunkie' would get here anyway. But brace up Frank, Jane has chosen you instead of 'Chunkie' and after all, where would Midland people go if it weren't for Odessa?

We have a Shirley Temple now—Mary Howe.

When Mr. Lackey spoke about

Midland high boys that had girls hanging around them—why did everyone look at B. C. and John? Lige is beginning to enjoy sunshine and freedom again—but Lucille will change her mind soon. Just a little bit of advice, Lige—you are a sap to put up with it.

'Pinkie' is waiting for time's flight. Maybe Fredda Fae can have dates next year.

We'll hand it to Bodkins for she is now going with John Nobles. No wonder, she is easily our prettiest blond.

Scandal! Neil was seen out in the country the other day with his bicycle and couldn't account for his being there! After all, Neil.

Our greatest problem of the day is whether Gerald and La Moine will make a go of it. So far it does not look very good. Anyway, they're doing their best—they are together enough. Boy, I bet that is discouraging to a certain little Fish girl who owns the initials of B. J. H.

It seems very strange that there

With a happy Easter—"As all folks"—until next time!

EVERYDAY BALLYHOO

From what I can pick up and what I hear, the Midland boys showed the Hardin-Simmons girls a pretty good time. I hear Bill Harris almost married one of the girls' quartet members.

A freshman said that he was hit by a car the other day but it didn't hurt him because he didn't know which one it was, and what you don't know won't hurt you. (One minute pause for laughter.)

My girl, the parlor lamp, and me,
Now there is a crowd which you no doubt know,
So the parlor lamp went out.

B. C. didn't get to keep the typing pin he won the other day over ten minutes. Anna Beth was sporting it around. I'm sure I couldn't say whether Anna Beth and B. C. go together or not. One minute they do and the next they don't.

Gerald has been going with La Moine a bit here lately, and a Moine doesn't mind at all.
