High School Students To Present Play In The Auditorium

Walter Stone's "Drums of Death"

Midland High School's contest one-act play, will be presented in the high school auditorium on Tuesday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock. The action of the play takes place on an English island off the coast of Africa. The tropical night is feverish with the sullen beating of tom-toms. (The tom-toms are beaten by Janie Marie Johnson and Betty Maness.) Inside the living stoom of the governor of the island Coionel Sutherland, played by Frank Cowden, sternly and subbornly adheres to his sense of duty and justice, and refuses to yield to the pleadings of his old philosopher friend, Dr. Graves, played by C. Jack Denton Suffers Bullet Wound In the Neck

Roy Cain, Midland man, is in jail today pending outcome of a bullet njury to Jack Denton, suffered at approximately six p.m. Sunday in an alleged altercation at the Sandwich and beer parlor on South Main Street operated by Arlis Cope. One bullet was fired by Cain, it was alleged, it striking Denton in the left side of the neck and coming the left side of the neck and coming out on the opposite one. The victim was rushed to a hospital where emergency treatment was given him. Temporary paralysis is affecting him today, Denton being unable to move either arms or legs. X-ray pictures failed to show any broken bones, however, and physicians expressed the opinion that nerve shock was the cause of the paralysis.

According to reports the shooting

According to reports, the shooting followed threats by Denton toward Cain while both were in place. As Denton advanced toward Cain the latter picked up the pistol and shot one time. He was taken to jail by officers, but no charge has been filed yet.

race started. Managerial trouble, it was said, caused so much strife that the Indians were unable to play their best. When Steve O'Neil took over the job near the end of last season from Walter Johnson, the Indians began to move. And this year, strong in every position, Cleveland figures to be a real contender.

INC. Foster, recent pool opener in Ector, is drilling below 3,7'5 feet to be a real contender.

Both the Tigers and Cubs will stand virtually pat on the lineups which won pennants last year. Only major addition to the ranks of the Tigers is outfielder Al Simmons, who was bought from the Chicago White Sox, where he had a disastrous year at bat.

See Captain Dare Devil Leo Sithat the Midland club played four innings against the San Angelo glub members of the upper brackets.

The National League race, as was the case last year, again shapes up as a three-club affair among the New York Giants, St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs.

The Detroit Tigers, who won the American League pennant in 1935 without much trouble, are expected to encounter stiffer competition this year. The Boston Red Sox, who finished fourth, are greatly improved as a result of Owner Tom Yawkey's costly winter purchases.

The New York Yankeer with the Dean brothers again set to carry the brunt of the pitching, stack up about the same as last year. John Leonard "Pepper" Martin, who played third last year, probably will move to the outfield and Charley Gelbert, who is making a comeback after being shot in the leg before last season, will be back at third. The pitching staff will be strengthened by addition of Leroy Parmelee, who was procured in a trade with the Giants.

"Ifs" Face Giants

The New York Yankees, with Joe Di Maggio, the year's prized rookie, expected to add more power at bat, will be strong. And the Cleveland Indians, with one of the best pitching staffs in the major league, are determined to do better

"Ifs" Face Giants

The Giants, who led in the stretch for the past two years only to fold up, will be a mixture of veterans and newcomers. There are many "ifs" about the Giants. "Simmons will give us added batting strength," Manager Mickey Cochrane says. "He had a bad season last year, but I'm sure he'll come back."

The Cubs have not been involved in any trades and do not appear to have any rookies who will oust the regulars. Manager Charlie Grimm, who played first base up to last year, when he retired from the active list, has placed himself back in
