Bruno's Spiritual Advisor Asks Pastors to Encourage Position Taken by Hoffman

MATTHEISEN IS USING LETTERS TO GAIN SUPPORT

Pastors Aroused by Circulars Sent To Them

'CASE UNSOLVED'

Governor Admits He Doubts Hauptmann Alone in Crime

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 21. (AP)—Rev. John Mattheisen, spiritual advisor of Bruno Hauptmann, the Evening News said today, was sending circulars to all pastors in the United Lutheran church in the country asking that they encourage Governor Harold Hoffman for the action he has taken in the behalf of Hauptmann.

Some 3,500 letters have been sent out by Mattheisen, the news says, and have provoked criticism from some pastors receiving them.

Governor Hoffman said Thursday night, the failure of Samuel S. Liebowitz, New York attorney to "get something" from Bruno Hauptmann convicted him more than ever that the Lindbergh kidnaping case was unsolved.

The governor, who on January 16 gave Hauptmann a 30-day reprieve, said he did not plan another.

A formal statement issued by the governor's office said:

"Asked the questions 'Do the statements of Mr. Liebowitz indicate your position that the Lindbergh case is still unsolved?' Governor Hoffman said: 'No, I am more convinced than ever. I hope that Mr. Liebowitz in almost nine hours of questioning, might have been able to get something from Hauptmann, if he had anything to tell.'"

EARTHQUAKE IN JAPAN IS CAUSE 5 LOSING LIVES

Buildings Wrecked After Osaka Hit

OSAKA, Japan, Feb. 21. (AP)—An earthquake extending over ten prefectures killed five persons and injured 16 seriously today, a police survey here showed. Twelve buildings were destroyed, 17 badly damaged, interurban railways, telephone and telegraph lines were temporarily disrupted.

Firemen were mobilized to fight fires which broke out in 12 places in the city, and to prevent a panic, the quake occurred at 10 a. m., Japanese time.

AVIATOR DENIES REPORTER'S STORY REDFERN LOCATED

Declares He Never Knew Author of New Story

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Feb. 21. (AP)—Another unsupported tale of the finding of Paul Redfern, long lost aviator in the jungles of Brazil, brought action by two governments and a denial by one of the purported rescuers Thursday.

Alfred Harred, reporter, declared through his newspaper, Baniern of Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, that he and Art Williams, former United States army flier, had found Redfern, crippled, in an Indian village in the Tumuc Humac mountains.

Williams, who has been making the flights into the interior, denied the story saying: "I do not know Harred and he most certainly did not accompany me on my recent search."

(The state department at Washington cabled instructions to the American consul at Port of Spain, Trinidad, to investigate Harred's story. The Brazilian foreign office asked its boundary commission, working in the northeastern jungles, to determine the authenticity of the report that Redfern is alive.)

Williams, who is well known in the Guianas through years of flying his own air service, declared he went into the interior accompanied by three natives.

FINANCES FOR A NEW FARM BILL TO BE DECIDED SOON

Next Week Expected To See Passage Of Act

PLANS SECRET

FDR Conferring on Spending With Agencies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. (AP)—The house today wrote a strong consumer-protection amendment into the new farm bill and pushed toward its passage tonight. The amendment would direct the Secretary of Agriculture to work toward a pre-war "parity" income for farmers without discouraging production to a point below the 1929 average domestic consumption. The consumer proviso was along lines of the Wagner amendment to the defeated Senate act.

Washington, Feb. 21. (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that a change in the farm bill was voted today by the house, but even as leaders pressed toward final passage by tomorrow night the agricultural problem was revived again in the senate.

Imposition of a $500,000,000 limit to annual spending under the administration farm bill was voted today by the house, but even as leaders pressed toward final passage by tomorrow night the agricultural problem was revived again in the senate.

Only Big Change The limit to spending, previously voted by the senate, was virtually the only major amendment passed by the house after general debate was ended late in the day and the consideration of amendments began. Controversy over one suggested change was put further action over until tomorrow.

In the senate, meanwhile, Capper of Kansas, a supporter of Governor Alf M. Langdon of Kansas for the republican presidential nomination, introduced a tariff equalization bill. It was intended, he told the senate, as an addition to, rather than a substitute for the soil conservation-subsidy bill already passed by that branch.

Both Capper, and Representative Hope (R-Kan.), who is sponsoring a similar proposal—called by some "the house after general debate"—are backing the administration bill. Their own plan would pay the farmer a subsidy on that portion of his crop consumed domestically, equal to the average cost added by tariff protection to prices the farmer pays.

TIME CLOCK USED Electric Device Sets Off Fire After Murders

Los Angeles, Feb. 21. (AP)—A chauffeur, who police said made electrical devices a hobby, was arrested today on suspicion of murder in the robbery-killing of Carl S. Barbour, rooming-house proprietor, and his wife, Dorothea, yesterday.

Detective lieutenant Lloyd Patton said the chauffeur, Fred Stehler, 25, was a former lodger in the Barbour home.

An attempt had been made to destroy clues of the double slaying by fire, through setting off electrical "time clock" contrivance. Patton said that the chauffeur had in his possessions tools and wire similar to those used in the construction of the time clock mechanism.

Police at first believed the deaths of the elderly couple were murder and suicide but an autopsy showed that both Barbour's and his wife's skulls had been crushed by a blow, probably from a flatiron found on the floor beside the dead pair.

SOUTHEAST WARD WELL FLOWS 417 BARRELS 12 HOURS

Texas Pacific No. 3 Barker Is Shot Last Night

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Co. No. 3 Barker, semi-wildcat test in the southeast Ward county field, is showing for a big well after flowing 417 barrels the first 12 hours after being shot. It was shot at eight o'clock last night with 240 quarts of two lbm. dynamite first pay streak at 2230 to total depth of 2400 feet.

The No. 3 Barker is south of the California Co.'s Durgin production and about two miles northwest of Loyola. The Barker is in section 27, block B-29, public school land.

Texas Pacific has made location for an east offset to the No. 3 Barker. It will drill the No. 5 well 330 feet from the southeast and 990 feet from the southwest line of the same section.

Logs Oil and Gas Show

A show of oil and gas was logged from 4100 feet when drilling was started in Standford No. 1, E. J. Wiltcher, south offset to Barnsdall No. 1, H. C. Foster, discovery well in the Foster pool in Eckman county. One well footed when shut in late last week when seven inch casing was set and cemented at 3917 feet and rotary was converted to a production well when shut in. The well lapped line at 3895 feet and is running 27 feet lower than the discovery which picked up first pay from 4900 to 5000 feet.

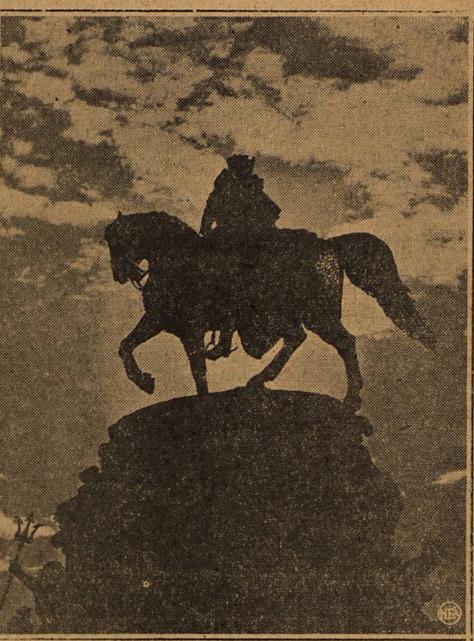

In section 18, block 42, the south west, Barnsdall No. 1, Frank Foster, is drilling below 1920 feet. Operators pumped two tons of cement into the closely watched Glasscock zone. Moore Bros. and others No. 1 McDowell in an attempt to shut off leakage which has caused them to lose a well when shut in. They were reported unable to get circulation. No new hole has been made below 10,883 feet, at which the test was bottomed when shut in. The test was the cause of leakage indicate that the test has drilled into a crevice. The last pipe was set at 9467 feet.

In section 22, block 34, township 2 south, the No. 1 McDowell is generally credited with entering Ellenwood formation, lower Ordovician, from 10,385 to 10,470 feet.

Casing Is Set

In southern Winkler county east of the Halley pool, Gulf No. 1, E. R. Hill set seven inch casing at 3541 feet mudded with clay and aquagel to shut off salt water coming from 3339-3495 feet. Drilling was suspended at 3350 feet with more than 2000 feet of water in the hole. Casing has not yet been tested, but the well will probably start up late today. The No. 1 Hill is in section 9, block B-11, public school land, and will possibly be drilled into the Ordovician if Permian line shows no production.

UNCLE SAM PAYS HIGH FOR HIS LUXURY, WAR

If you could look down the road far enough, you would probably get a glimpse of the banners of an army of pensioners, advancing on the citadel of Uncle Sam's treasury.

The bonus is a closed issue, now. It has been signed and sealed, and awaits only its delivery—which will take place next summer, provided that the printing presses can bring all those baby bonds through their infancy on schedule.

That would seem to make pensions the logical next step. If you live long enough, you will unquestionably see the demand for pensions made; and if future Congresses are like those of the past, you will probably see the demand granted, also—not immediately, perhaps, but long before the Washington monument is ready to crumble into dust.

Now it would be very foolish to see in all this nothing more than an outburst of greed on the part of ex-service men. Pensions for ex-soldiers are an old tradition, in this country. Go back through all of our wars, and you will find that the high private in the rear rank wound up as a civilian on the government payroll, if he lived long enough.

The World War boys are simply following in the footsteps of the Civil War veterans, the Mexican War veterans, the veterans of the Indian wars, and all the rest.

And the important thing to remember is that this sort of thing is nothing more or less than one of the hidden but inescapable costs of war. That's what you let yourself in for when you blow yourself to a fight.

War is a luxury, nowadays; the money paid your ex-soldiers long after the war is over is just one of the things that make it an expensive luxury.

The administration at Washington estimates that the American government, to date, has spent $7,800,000,000 on its World War veterans. The new bonus will add substantially more than $2,000,000,000 to that. And if pensions ever come, the figures will become astronomical.

But it is too late for us to start weeping about it now. The time to have worried about all this expense was in the spring of 1917, when our participation in the World War was still ahead of us.

The lads who went to fight the Germans for us in 1917 and 1918 didn't invent the pensions-and-bonus system; neither, it should be added, were they the ones who thought up the idea of drawing cards in the World War.

In other words, this colossal expense that goes dragging on and on long after war's dead bones have been laid to rest—it just comes with the bicycle. Declare war, and this is what you get.

And if we don't like it, there is one foolproof way to avoid it; by staying out of war.

A BILL THAT HITS CRIME

Almost hidden in the mass of new bills before Congress is a measure providing that, in federal courts, a newspaper man shall not be required, under peril of contempt, to reveal a news source.

Laws granting this vital privilege to the press are already on the statute books of New Jersey, Maryland, and Alabama. They were placed there because, if it is to collect and disseminate information, the press must be regarded as its sources. Reveal the source of much important information carried nowadays by the press and the supply would be cut off.

In exposing crime and corruption, the newspaper must retain the right to protect its confidential informants.

Whether or not Congress passes this bill, individual states could lend no greater hand to good government than to secure this fundamental right for newspapers. In its crusading, the press today holds a unique position, and its need here is far above partisanship.

China's Students Fan Patriotism Flame; Stiffen Spine Against Japs

By LASELLE GILMAN NEA Service Special Correspondent

PEIPING, Feb. 21.—Just when it began to look as though Japan would be able to walk off slyly and quietly with all North China, the Chinese students began to be heard from.

The 50,000 university students of this area have been staging a series of wild demonstrations and street riots in protest against what they consider weak-kneed policies of the Chinese government. They demand more resistance against splitting off the northern provinces into "independent" states dominated by Japan.

These violent and often bloody student protests may stiffen Chinese policy and bring about a resistance to Japanese ambitions that was not expected a few months ago. Ten thousand Peiping students have fought with police and virtually seized their own school buildings in a determined "strike" picketing the campuses, holding teachers as "hostages," and conducting the schools under student government. They even have held up trains.

Scores have gone to prison and hundreds have felt police bludgeons, to attract attention to their demand that China fight back.

Chinese officials are jittery as signs of support of the Peiping students are seen in the southern cities. Concessions may have to be made to their demands if these demands spread and gain strength.

Ever since the republic was started 25 years ago, Chinese students have wielded an influence out of all proportion to their numbers. They feel, and rightly, that in a country where few people have any formal education, they are the only intellectual leaders the people have.

"This is not revolution," one Chinese student explained the riots. "But the government must change its weak-kneed policy. We will not stand by and see our country gobbled up by the Japanese. Study is all very well, but while we study the nation is disintegrating. The Chinese people are degraded by the invaders and by their own officials. We will oppose to the death the forces that are destroying us!"

These were no idle words, for death is what it meant to one Peiping high school girl, who was killed by a blow from a Japanese soldier in the hands of a Chinese military policeman.

Within a few days, recently, students held two huge demonstrations, clashing violently with police both times. The first was finally broken up with fire hose. In the second, 10,000 students streamed through the streets shouting their defiance of the Japanese invaders and of the Chinese government, which has failed to oppose them.

At the city gates, the students fought savagely with the police, hurling paving blocks and firecrackers into their ranks. One of the student leaders is a wisp of a girl, not five feet tall, who climbed a 40-foot wall surrounding the city and opened a gate to her comrades. Immediately arrested, she launched such a tongue-lashing against her captors that they, ashamed, left her free.

Another girl climbed a wall and, dodging stones thrown to dislodge her, shouted, "Why do you close the gates to us as if we were foreign invaders? Why do you not close the gates to the Japanese?"

The last word is the final insult to a Chinese. The guards left the gate open to the students. All this agitation gradually is beginning to arouse the ordinary Chinese people, who usually are slow to get excited about politics, wishing nothing more than to be let alone to go about their business in peace.

But they are beginning to listen to the shrill students; and it is possible that a spark is being kindled that will in the end ignite a fiery barrier against further Japanese expansion into China. The students may be expressing more accurately the feeling of the common people of China than are either their military leaders or governing classes. In that case, they may become a rallying point for a native movement to stop Japan's encroachments.

May Force Japan's Hand Should the present Chinese government fail to respond to this sort of pressure, there is always the chance that strikes and riots might force it out of power. The anarchy chaos would probably be the signal for Japan to move in definitely.

But if the rising gained national proportions, it would mean that Japan would have to move into northern China, not with a small expeditionary force on the Shan-hai-kwan scale, but with a huge army of occupation.

Japan has always counted on Chinese indifference, disorganization, and general supineness. The students are playing with matches about a fuse that might light a really formidable giant-cracker.

Colonial Dame Cake Is Easy to Fix for Party on George Washington's Birthday

According to George Washington's biographers, that courtly gentleman delighted in the finery of the day and used to send to England for long lists of lovely things for Lady Washington and her daughter. That makes me sure he would approve an adorable little Colonial lady as a centerpiece for your Washington's Birthday dinner.

Begin the dinner with Blue Points. Be sure to have them well chilled and loosened from their shells and provide all the traditional seasonings so that each person may Washington's day.

For the cake, bake any favorite recipe or the one I'm giving you in a tube cake pan. Dress a little doll in short-sleeved bodice of crepe paper, or ribbon, drape a bit of lace or chiffon over her shoulders for a fichu, powder her hair and pose a little lace cap on it and set her in the hole in the center of the cake. Fill in any crevices around the doll with waxed paper before putting on the frosting. Cover cake first with white frosting. Then when this has dried use pink frosting to suggest panniers or a little puffed skirt.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Chilled tomato juice with lemon juice, cereal, cream, creamed spinach, hard-toasted corn bread, milk, tea.
LUNCHEON: Noodle soup, prune and cottage cheese salad, toasted corn bread, milk, tea.
DINNER: Baked stuffed filets of fish, baked sweet potatoes, new beet greens, celery and cabbage salad, cherry pudding, milk, coffee.

choose his own particular favorite. For the main course, chicken a la Maryland on sliced Virginia ham is fitting, with candied sweet potatoes and new peas in cream on the side.

Don't Forget Cherries
A fruit salad featuring big salad cherries and pineapple in lemon jelly suggests the famous cherry tree story (which maybe wasn't true). Serve the salad with brown bread sandwiches cut in the shape of a tiny hatchet.

For dessert nothing could be more appropriate than cake and syllabub. Syllabub is sweetened whipped cream flavored with wine or jelly and was a favorite dessert in George Wash-

Rotary Anns Plan For International Program in April

Preparation for an International program to be held in April was made by Rotary Anns at their monthly luncheon in the assembly room of the court house Thursday at noon. Names of people in foreign countries were drawn. Each member is to write to the person whose name she drew and to read the answering letter at the April meeting.

Miss Allene Alverson presented a reading. The club voted to extend an invitation to Rotary Anns of Abilene to meet with the organization here in March.

Twenty-two women were present including: Misses Winston F. Borum, Clint Lackey, Harvey Fryar, W. C. Maxwell, L. H. Tiffin, K. F. Campbell, Joe Pyron, Preston Bridgewater, H. S. Collins, Fred Wemple, Alf Reese, A. D. Thomas, Tom Sealy, W. P. Ryan, Addison Wadley, R. V. Lawrence, Paul Barron, R. T. Bucy, Percy Mims, Fred J. Middleton, Cotter Hiett, Dunn, and Miss Alverson.

Then color what is left with a few drops of pink vegetable coloring matter for the contrasting panniers.

Chicken a la Maryland
Disjoint chicken and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Dip in melted butter, then in fine dried crumbs, then in egg slightly beaten with 1 tablespoon water and again in crumbs. Place in a single layer in a well buttered baking pan.

Baste every five minutes with 2 tablespoons butter melted in 2 tablespoons hot water. It will take about forty-five minutes in a hot oven to cook the chicken. Serve each piece of chicken on a thin slice of baked ham and pour over one or two tablespoons of sauce made by adding one cup of cream to pan in which chicken was baked. If fowl is used in place of chicken, parboil after disjointing for forty minutes.

Vegetables come from tubers, roots, bulbs, fruits, seeds, and leaves. They may be any part of a plant that serves as food, but the word is seldom used in connection with plant foods that are sweet.

FEMININE FANCIES

Quite a commotion seems to have been caused by Mrs. Mary Beardsley's calling the books of John Erskine "dowdy."
"We can think of nothing more mortifying" to an author of smart, debunking articles than to have his work referred to as "dowdy." Even the use of the word is not smart, let alone its connotation.
At that, Mr. Erskine may have deserved just what he got.

We always knew women adored bargains but we didn't know their adoration extended to bargain marriages. But up at Reno, Kansas, there's a Justice of the Peace who offers cut-rate bargains in wedding services charging only three cents per couple—enough to cover the cost of mailing the license to court—and he declares that since he started the low-price service he has married eight couples, whereas in 18 years before, he had married only four.

But despite the increase, the fact that only eight would-be brides and grooms have patronized him seems to indicate that the price doesn't weigh too heavily in bridal calculations, even now. And that, of course, is encouraging to the romantic minded.

Gloves are going gay this year, being matched to colored scarfs or bright blouses. Some even boast bright-colored slide fasteners down the backs. And that is certainly a new note after years of pull-on or button variations.

We just have to mention again how clever we think the bright plaid dishes are. They almost make us wish we had a kitchen so we'd need some.

Stanton Schools Showing Progress Under Mr. Limmer

Stanton, (Spl.)—At a recent special meeting of the Board of Education, A. M. Limmer was reappointed for his fourth term as superintendent of the Stanton Public Schools. In commenting on the reappointment of Mr. Limmer, the board gave its endorsement of certain progressive administrative achievements such as: reinstatement to accredited standing, new credits secured, teacher training level considerably raised, desirable changes in the curriculum, reporting and marking methods modernized, tax valued reasonably equalized and budget balanced.

The public school system at Stanton is composed of a high school, an elementary school, a Mexican school, and a negro school. In addition the oldest parochial school between Fort Worth and El Paso, Our Lady of Mercy Academy, is located in Stanton.

MAKE FULL USE OF ELECTRIC SERVICE

Count over the many tasks around the home that electricity has made easier... does quicker... does better. Cleaning rugs, refrigerating food, washing clothes, cooking and dozens of other chores have been simplified by your electric service, which is replacing hours of drudgery with hours of new freedom.

And electricity is still one of the smallest items of household expense, for unlike other costs which are going up, your electric service is cheap.

Penny Wise Says:

"Electricity is so cheap that you can make 10 slices of toast in an electric toaster for one cent."

Red Cedar Being Turned to Profit

Uvalde, Texas. (AP)—Red cedar, regarded by many Texas ranchmen as a pest to be turned to profit. A plant is being assembled and expected to be put into operation within six weeks, for the manufacture of oil of cedar. It will be located on the Edwards plateau, 60 miles from here, at a point known as Camp Eagle, a former summer resort, and approximately 50 men will be given steady employment. It will be the only one of its kind in the state. The area is reputed to have the largest stand of cedar in the world, many thousand of acres of hilly country being densely covered. Ranchers long have discussed methods of eradicating the growth because its density prevented grass and weeds, upon which cattle, sheep and goats graze, from growing. Oil of cedar is used in the manufacture of soap, cosmetics, perfumes, paints, varnishes, insecticides and other products. The oil may be obtained from green or seasoned timber although the latter is regarded as the best for processing. J. H. Richardson, who is moving the plant from Grayford Palo Pinto county to the Hill country, states that there are instances on record where oil has been obtained from cedar fences in service 60 years. For the present, he said, only seasoned wood will be used. It is probable, he added, that machinery will be installed later for manufacture of oil from cedar foliage. The first step in processing is cutting the cedar into 4-foot lengths. It is then chipped and ground preparatory cooking in high retorts. The vapor from the retorts is condensed, passed through separators and distilled. After being filtered and treated the oil is placed in containers for shipment. Large quantities are exported to Holland, Japan and Germany. No titles of nobility are granted by the government of Canada.

BULLDOGS OFF TO TOURNEY AT WINK

The Midland high school bulldog basketball team will make their last appearance in a tournament this season when they journey to Wink to enter play for the district championship, number seven.

The tournament was to have opened at eight o'clock this morning with the Bulldogs playing the winner of the Gaines county playoff, the winner not being known at press time today.

According to pre-tournament dopsters Midland ranks as one of the favorites to cop first place, along with Odessa, Kermit and McCamey, but Coach Baumgarten is pessimistic because of the loss of Wright, rangy forward, who is ill with pneumonia, and the poor condition of Wofford, center and mainstay of the club. For several days the elongated spark plug of the team has been ailing, and only his determination to play in the tournament has kept him out of bed. Without him at his best chances for the Bulldogs are exceedingly dim.

George Harris, University of Texas graduate and coach of the Crane high school, will officiate the tourney games.

Defends $560,000 Statler Will

Bradley Davidson, Jr., husband of the late Elva Statler, is pictured on his way to court in Carthage, N. C., where evidence was heard in the suit contesting his wife's will, which left him the bulk of her $560,000 estate. The will was made only twelve days before the hotel heiress's mysterious death in the garage of her home.

No Favoritism Is Shown in Adoption

Austin, Texas, Feb. 20 (P)—Boys and girls were of equal choice to couples adopting children in Texas last year.

Dr. W. A. Davis, state registrar of vital statistics, said 122 adoptions were recorded during the eight months of last year a new law was operative.

Adoption records of 63 others were incomplete because court clerks filed insufficient data.

"Those children. Many of whom were of illegitimate birth, are entitled to proper recording of adoption," he said. "Adopting parents should see that court clerks file the records for the recorded adoption legitimizes the children."

Of the 122 children adopted last year, 31 per cent were of legitimate birth and 69 percent illegitimate. One was a negro, one was born in France, five percent out of Texas and the remainder were native Texans.

Babies under one year had odds against the field. Records showed 59 percent of the adoptions were children in the first year and 14 percent between one and two years old. The highest age of an adopted child was 16 years.

The act required that records of illegitimate births should be sealed, attached to adoption papers which legitimized the children, and opened only upon a court order. It was designed to protect children saved from illegitimacy by adoption.

TO MILLIONS WHO SHOULD USE BRAN

Tests Show ALL-BRAN Corrects Constipation Gently and Naturally

Since its introduction, some fifteen years ago, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has been used with beneficial results by millions of people.

Realizing the important relationship between proper diet and health, the Kellogg Company has aided for some years research in leading university laboratories. These tests show that the continued use of bran is thoroughly satisfactory.

ALL-BRAN supplies soft "bulk" which absorbs water, and gently cleanses the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron. Use as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook in delicious recipes.

This tempting cereal may be enjoyed by every normal person. Two tablespoonsful of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Consult your doctor if you do not gain relief this way.

Help your family keep well. Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly for regular regularity. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk."
