

Ask Businessmen To Aid in Census

Wayne Brown, Supervisor of the Census of Business, today announced that an effort is being made to finish the canvass in the 16th congressional district within the next few days. He asked that all business firms cooperate by furnishing the necessary information as quickly as possible.

"We realize that some firms require more time than others in as-Brown said, "but it is imperative that the reports be sent to Philadelphia without delay so that the statistic can be compiled and issued by July."

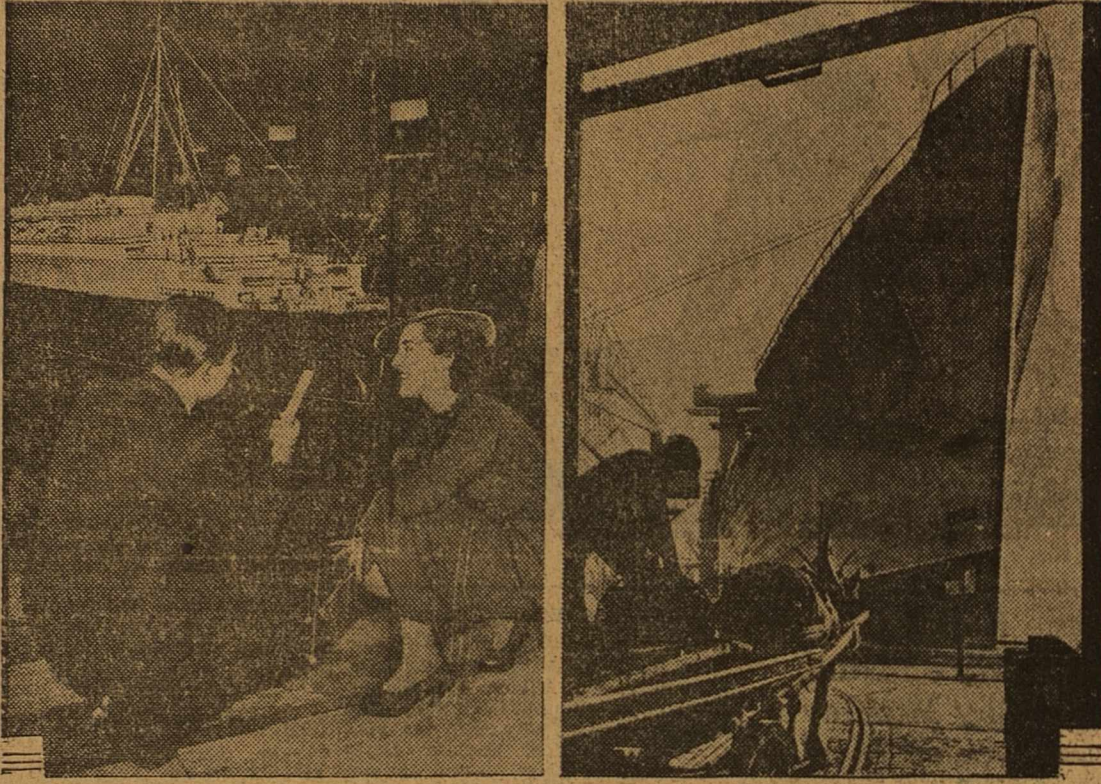

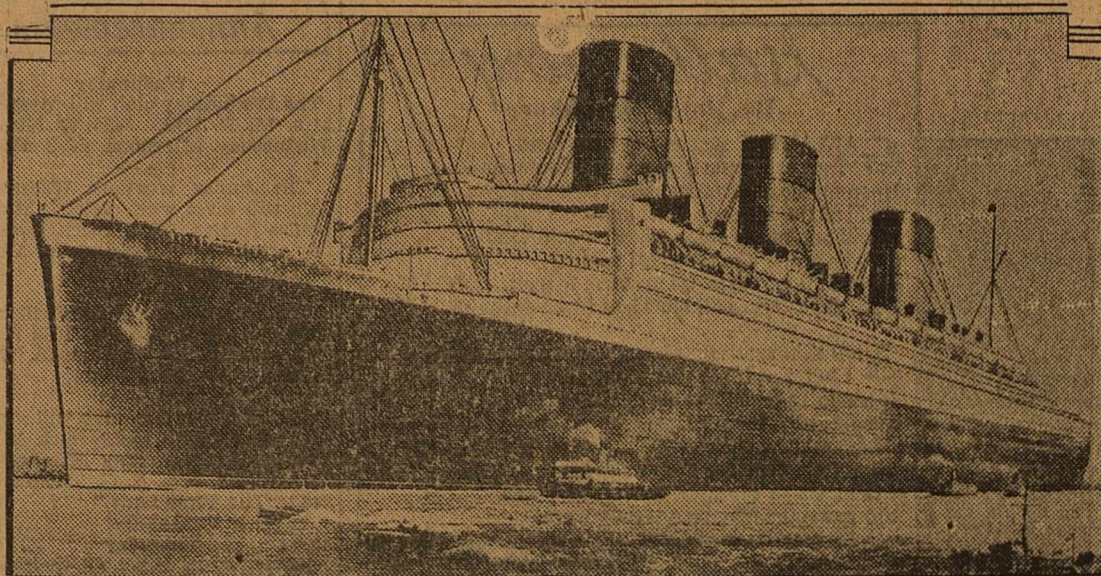

"The timeliness of such statistics," he added, "greatly enhances their value. More than 5,000,000 reports must be handled by the Bureau, and delay in filing these reports delays the statistics for the entire state."

"The inquiries have been made as simple as possible," he continued, "to make the task of supplying the information easy, and have been shaped to secure facts that will be of maximum value to business."

Mr. Brown declared that the Census now being taken is a continuation of the regular Business Census work of the Bureau of the Census and is for business use, not for Governmental purposes. Its scope is the result of requests from business organizations and it has the full support of all branches of business.

He reiterated previous assurances that all enumerators and other persons connected with the Census are under oath not to disclose or discuss purposes or substance of any information submitted for Census purposes, and that under the Census law no access to individual reports is permitted, not even to other Governmental, State or local agencies.

"Queen Mary" Prepares for First Crossing

CLYDEBANK, Scotland.—With many of the preliminary tests already completed and workmen laboring day and night to put the finishing touches to her mammoth hull, the new British super-liner "Queen Mary" is expected to make her maiden transatlantic voyage on May 27. It is reported that no merchant ship afloat will be greater in size, power and efficiency than the "Queen Mary." She is expected to total 200,000 horsepower. American industrial development is playing an important part in the operation of the ship, for the main turbines are lubricated by Socony-Vacuum, makers of Mobiloil for American motorists. At top: An artist's conception of the "Queen Mary" as she will look when she enters the Port of New York. Lower left: Marine enthusiasts examine a model of the huge ship on display in New York City. and no information will be disclosed which would in any way reveal the facts or figures given in the returns. "The Census Bureau expects," he said, "to publish the results for this state by July 1st unless there is delay in obtaining the relatively few states receive nationwide publicity, and comparisons with the previous Census will show such a healthy increase in the 16th Congressional District, we want nothing to delay the canvass here."

COLD, WIND AND DUST STORMS CAUSE DETERIORATION IN RANGE CONDITIONS

Prospects for Spring and Summer Grazing Much Better Than 1935

Continued dry, cold weather over most of the State, coupled with the high winds and dust storms through the northwest portion of Texas, has caused further deterioration in range conditions, according to the monthly report of the United States Department of Agriculture. However, prospects for spring and summer grazing are much better than a year ago and are about average for March 1. Grain fields have been damaged by freezing temperatures, high winds, and dust storms, and only in a few favored areas are they furnishing grazing for livestock. In most areas, however, with the exception of the northwestern and western districts, subsoil moisture is adequate and only surface moisture and warm weather are needed to start spring grass and weeds.

The condition of RANGES is rated at 76 percent of normal on March 1, 1936, compared with 77 percent a month ago, 47 percent a year ago, and 76 percent the 10-year average on March 1.

ing, cattle have about held their own during February. Some shrinkage occurred following the cold weather early in February, but an abundance of roughage and other feeds were available and feeding was general. With warmer weather improvements was rapid and cattle are now in good condition in most sections. However, heel flies are becoming bothersome in some counties and cattle in these counties are not making normal gains. Prospects are very good for a large calf crop this year and the drop is expected earlier than usual. Losses of cattle have continued very light, but some losses of calves dropped during the cold weather have occurred.

The condition of CATTLE is reported at 80 percent of normal compared with 81 percent a month ago, 61 percent a year ago, and 79 percent the 10-year average.

Over most of the SHEEP country subsoil moisture is adequate, but surface moisture and warm weather are needed to start spring grass and weeds. Practically the entire sheep area needs moisture badly. High winds and dry, cold weather were instrumental in setting range feeds back and depleting the already short supply of surface moisture. The condition of SHEEP ranges is now reported at 77 percent of normal compared with 80 percent a month ago, 55 percent a year ago, and 75 percent the 10-year average.

While there has been a slight decline in the condition of sheep during February, generally they were in better than average flesh on March 1. Prospects are good for a heavy wool clip and a lamb crop fully average. The condition of GOATS, continue good, and kid crop prospects are better than average.

Livestock generally came through the severe weather of February in fairly good condition in the 17 western range states, but with considerable shrinkage in northern sections. Cattle in the northern areas were able to stand the severe weather condition very well. Losses were generally light except in limited areas. There was considerable shrinkage in Montana, the Dakotas, Wyoming, and parts of Nebraska. Cattle are generally in good flesh in Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, and Texas, with a few thin cattle in the dry southern Great Plains sections. Cattle have wintered well west of the Main range with only light shrinkage where snow was heavy and weather severe. Cattle are making good gains in California and Arizona.

Sheep are generally in good condition and came through the severe weather of the past month with light losses. There was some loss in flesh in the northern areas. Feeding has been rather heavy on the desert and other winter rangers. Sheep and early lambs are doing well in California and Arizona. Weather conditions have been unfavorable for the early lamb crop in Idaho, Oregon and Washington.

COMING BACK!

will have a pleasant sparkle and, even though your features aren't exactly good looking, you'll have beauty.

Generous, good natured people get lines around their eyes and mouth, of course, but the lines are mellow, non-objectional ones. The lines in the faces of selfish unsympathetic women, and men, too, generally are hard and unlovely.

How long has it been since you analyzed yourself as critically and unsparringly as you often do a friend who has displeased you? Too long probably. Why not sit down one day this week and with no one to hear and no book or paper to distract, face quite fearlessly the person you have been, the way you have lived and thought since, say last Easter?

Are you willing to criticize? Are your head and heart filled with envy all too often? Do you honestly see and try to understand the viewpoint of people who sometimes disagree with your own ideas? How long ago was it that you truly went out of your way to do a small favor for someone outside your family and intimate circle of friends? Are you resenting these questions right this minute? You shouldn't, you know. No one need ever hear your answers to yourself.

We all are prone to forget the care and treatment of our inner selves. Creams and lotions and exercises are important, of course, but in the final analysis, good health and a really pleasant disposition keep us young-looking and make for greater beauty.

Ham Blends Well In Delicious Meat Pies

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer
Whenever I have half a cold baked ham in the house, I feel comfortably fortified for any emergency.

For Sunday morning breakfast, when the family have time to enjoy it, try creamed ham on toast. For luncheon any day there's nothing nicer than ham croquettes, each croquette accompanied by a slice of browned pineapple, relishes and creamed vegetable.

Creamed ham is as good on hot waffles as it is on toast. Or it can be served in pop-overs.
Creamed Ham
Two cups finely chopped cold cooked ham, 1-2 cup minced celery 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 6 slices bread.

Melt butter in sauce pan and stir in flour. When bubbling slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Add ham and celery and let cook until thick and smooth, stirring to prevent sticking. Season with pepper but no salt. Toast bread to a golden brown on both sides and arrange on a hot platter. Pour over the creamed ham, garnish each piece with a sprig of parsley and serve.

If you are using ham croquettes for a company luncheon, serve with frozen horseradish cream which is nothing more nor less than two tablespoons prepared horseradish and 1 tablespoon prepared mustard folded into 1 cup whipped cream and the mixture frozen in the freezing unit of your automatic refrigerator or packed in six parts ice to one part salt and allowed to stand for three or more hours.
