Snow, Rain Increase Dangers In East

As Disaster Rode Floods in Eastern States

Incalculable damage resulted when a wall of water burst thru this plate glass front of The Pittsburg Press, burying beneath railroad ties, oil drums, and other heavy debris the $1,500,000 press.

largest in the city, and destroying other costly equipment. The Press, undaunted by disaster, printed all its editions in the plant of the Washington, Pa., Observer and Reporter, 40 miles away.

Tragic evidence of the devastation wrought by the flood roaring down the Ohio river is given in this picture, of a shattered house floating down the swollen stream. Its roof barely visible in the tossing waters, it is seen as it passed Steubenville, O.

"Drastic Price Cuts," read this sign on a downtown Pittsburg music store, but little did the proprietor dream how drastic when he put up the sign! A group of young fellows, trousers rolled up to their knees, seized the chance for a little skylarking in the show-window.

Torrents pouring over the banks of the Ohio river isolated the factory shown in the foreground in Baden, Pa., northwest of Pittsburg, and threatened the rest of the town, shown here after a heavy snowstorm. Water rose steadily toward the highway paralleling the river and many families fled to higher ground.

Hitler Invited To Make Counter-Proposals

Business Men To Compete With All Horses and Women

The Midland country has long been noted for its fast horses and beautiful and attractive women and the latter part of the boast will be even more convincing Tuesday evening when 40 of the most prominent business men of Midland parade across the stage of the Yucca Theatre modeling ladies evening gowns and bathing suits in the Men's Burlesque Bathing Revue which is being staged by the Midland Lions Club as a benefit affair to raise money to help carry on their sight conservation and blind work.

Practically every member of the local Lions club will appear in the fun spectacle along with several other well known male citizens of the town. Nearly all costumes have been arranged for and the wigs and other make-up materials are on hand. The make-up artist, who has so kindly consented to accept the task of making the male "beauties" even more attractive, is also ready to smear the paint. It is certainly going to be a farce from start to finish, and one cannot well afford to miss it.

Local merchants have cooperated wonderfully in the affair and practically every local business house will be represented in the revue. The mirthful and ridiculous revue will be conducted as any other well staged style show, with the "fair" entries first modeling evening dresses and then bathing suits. The announcements of the sponsoring merchants will be all comedy, and just the opposite of what formal announcements should be. W. P. (Doc) Bailey, master of ceremonies, will announce the lovely models and the firms they are representing. Bailey has a side splitting line of gags prepared, which alone will be well worth the small price of admission. Dr. J. B. Thomas has assisted Bailey in getting up some of the original gags. The announcements will be made as the charming "lassies" model evening gowns. The modeling of the swimming suits will be all comedy. Announcements has been made that no water will be on the stage during the revue.

Applause from the audience will determine the winners of the revue. The audience is requested to base its applause on beauty, charm, grace, figures etc. Appropriate prizes will be awarded.

Change Program On Screen
On the screen the same evening, "Don't Gamble With Love," starring Bruce Cabot, and Ann Southern will be shown. The feature picture comes very highly recommended. A very appropriate comedy, "The Perfect 36's" will also be shown.

All in all the entire performance will be an unusual treat for theatre goers of this city and community. The revue will be the laugh event of the season, with short men, fat men, and skinny men participating in the gorgeous display of masculine pulchritude. It will be a luff-riof, new and different in all respects.

Rehearsal Monday
All models, Lions Club members and otherwise, are requested to meet at the First Christian Church Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock for a brief rehearsal.

Local firms sponsoring models in the revue include:
Universal Appliance Co., Midland Hardware and Furniture Co., Carey's Quality Bread, West Tex Food Store, Texan Club, Seriggs Motor Co., 555 Body Works, West Texas Appliance Co., McClintic Bros., McMullans, Piggly Wiggly, T. and P. Railway, Willis Truck and Tractor Co., Howe and Allen, Kingsbury Studio, Tullios Cleaners, Mims and Crane, Sparks and Barron, D. H. TENTATIVE PLAN OF SIGNATORIES IS NOT AGREED UPON

Germany Reassured About Troops in Rhine Zone

DISCORD IS SEEN Smaller Nations Not In Accord With Larger Ones

LONDON, March 21. (P).—British officials Saturday announced that Adolf Hitler had been invited to make counter-proposals to a tentative plan of the five remaining Locarno signatories, Britain, Belgium, Italy and France. London sent word to Berlin that the period during which the 20-kilometer Rhine zone would be occupied by an international force would be "as short as the British can make it."

Discord within the council of the League of Nations was disclosed Friday night over provisions of the Rhineland program mapped by representatives of the four Locarno powers.

A row broke out when the document was submitted at a private session of the council.

Dr. Joseph Beck, Foreign Minister of Poland, led an incipient revolt by angrily accusing the Locarno members—Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium—of trying to railroad the plan through the league which he insinuated, they are attempting to dominate.

When Chile and Denmark gave evidence that they could not hastily approve the proposals without digesting them, Anthony Eden, Britain's foreign secretary, his first flush of enthusiasm chilled by this flank attack, hastily explained there was no intention of forcing anything on the council.

Rebellious House Members Force Caucus On Decision

CCC Camp Closing Over the Nation Is Attacked

WASHINGTON, March 21. (P).—Seventy-five rebellious House members Saturday forced a Democratic caucus on the issue of closing hundreds of CCC camps throughout the nation, including 20 in Texas.
The action followed a flat refusal by President Roosevelt to revoke his closing order, which affects about 700 camps on April 1. The revolters demanded a caucus be called Tuesday, and said that a committee would be appointed to draft legislation to keep the camps going.
President Roosevelt has given assurance that no CCC workers would be dropped due to camp abandonment. Where camps are closed, CCC men will be transferred to other locations. The new Texas state quota of men for the next six months' enlistment period beginning April 1 will be announced this week.

Ector Offset Well Flows 532 Barrels in 15 Hours

BY FRANK GARDNER

Production of 532 barrels of oil in 15 hours was registered by Stanolind No. 1 J. E. Witcher, offset to the discovery well in the Foster pool of Ector county, while crew was trying to recover a string of tools and line lost in the hole over a week ago while cleaning out bridge. The well is reported to have flowed by heads through casing.
The best previous performance of the new Stanolind well was 396 barrels in 12 hours. Tools and line were lost in the hole when crew ran in to clean out bridge formed after a short from the seats of nitro from 4,092 to 4,198. The well was shut in for more than a week, but was opened up again after the erection of two additional 500 barrel storage tanks. There are now 2,000 barrels of storage at the rig.

The No. 1 Witcher is bottomed at plugged-back depth of 4,211 feet after encountering a small amount of water in drilling to 4,230. It is located 660 feet from the northeast corner of section 24, block 42, township 2 south, T. & P. survey.

The east offset to the discovery Stanolind No. 1 Frank Foster, is drilling plug from 7-inch casing set and cemented at 3,903 feet in line and is expected to reach the pay horizon in the next 100 feet or so. The No. 1 Frank Foster is 660 feet out of the southeast corner of section 19, block 42, township 2 south, T. & P. survey.

YORKWELL FISHING FOR TUBING, PACKER

Five joints of tubing and a packer were lost in Honolulu Oil Corp., Ltd. and Cascade Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Bennett, prospective pool open in southeastern Yoakum county, after the tubing string parted while being pulled. When the fishing job has been cleaned up, it is the intention of operators to swab through casing in an effort to obtain a better gauge on the well's possibilities than was afforded by swabbing through tubing with the packer collapsed.

Field of about 10 barrels for each hour on swab has been obtained from the No. 1 Bennett. It was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid on March 17, and appeared to be benefited by the injection. Bottomed at 5,112 feet in line, the source of its production is a two foot porous section from 5,094 to 5,096. The well's chance for commercial production were thought doomed when salt water rose in the hole while drilling from 5,096 to 5,112, but subsequent exhaustion of the water established the source as from behind casing and from bottom formation.

The Hortholullu and Cascade discovery, the farthest north producing oil well in the West Texas or southeastern New Mexico Permian Basin, is 11 miles southeast of Plains in the northwest quarter of section 678, block D, John H. Gibson

Hold Funeral Service For Bucy This Afternoon

ALLEGED SLAYER OF DAUGHTER IS TO BE UP FOR TRIAL SOON

Hearing Is Set for Wednesday of This Week

GREENVILLE, March 21. (P).—Mrs. Velma Patterson, 34, charged with murder in the poison death January 7 of her 11-year-old daughter, Billie Mae McCasland, will be tried during the week of March 30, District Attorney Henry Pharr said Saturday.

A habeas corpus hearing has been set for next Wednesday to decide whether or not to grant bond.

The murder charge was filed after Dr. Landon C. Moore, Dallas chemist, reported to Pharr that more than a lethal dose of poison was found in Billie Mae's viscera after the body had been exhumed.

Her death, attributed at the time to intestinal influenza, was the third in the family within a few months. Sheriff Newton said, Bill Patterson, husband of the jailed woman, died in November, 1935. His death, the sheriff asserted, was attributed to peritonitis following rupture of the intestine.

SEMINOLE TEST LOSSES FISHING TOOLS

After recovering all the drilling tools and line except the bit, the string of fishing tools was lost in the closely watched Seminole wildcat test, W. T. Walsh and Harry Adams Corp. No. 1 Averitt when it jumped a pin on the fishing jars. Operators are now trying to recover fishing tools as well as the bit.

The well is blowing wet gas at the rate of more than 12,000,000 cubic feet daily. It encountered about 6,000,000 feet while drilling from 4,890 to 4,897 with an increase to the present volume coming at 4,910, where tools were jammed in the hole by cavings around 250 feet off bottom.

The No. 1 Averitt is located on a geophysical "high" three miles north west of Seminole in Gaines county. Reports that it had encountered sulphur water from 4,813 to 4,815 were circulated widely March 13, but it later developed that the supposed sulphur water was merely drilling water which had been contaminated by a slight puff of sulphur gas.

GULF COMPLETES TWO IN McELROY POOL

Gulf completed two more wells this week in the McElroy pool in Crane county. Gulf No. 128 McElroy, 387 feet from the north and 934 feet from the west line of section 197, block F, C. C. S. D. & R. G. N. G. survey, flowed 1,643 barrels of oil per day through casing with gas gauged at 1,281,000 cubic feet. Drilled to a total depth of 2,909 feet, it topped pay at 2,725 and received a shot of 300 quarts of nitro from 2,725 to 2,897.

Gulf No. 129 McElroy flowed through casing for a potential of 902 barrels in 24 hours. It topped pay at 2,705, and reached a total depth of 2,913.

The nitro shot was with 300 quarts from 2,706 to 2,901. The No. 129 McElroy is 934 feet from the south and 2,253 feet from the east line of section 200, block F, C. C. S. D. & R. G. N. G. survey.

ANDREWS WILDCAT LOGS SALT TOP AT 1,985

Top of salt has been cased at 1,985 feet in Humble No. 1 Jessie M. Spinks, interesting wildcat extension test northwest of the Means pool in northern Andrews county. The test is about a mile and a half from the pool's present limits and is located 660 feet from the south and 1,897 feet from the east line of section 13, block A-20, public school land. It is now drilling ahead below 2,150 feet in salt.

Farther north, the most recent wildcat to start drilling in Gaines county, Landreth No. 1 Kirk, about midway between the Means pool and the Walsh and Adams Seminole test, is moving in heavy duty rotary after soft sand near 100 feet halted progress with spudder. It had (See OIL NEWS, page 8)

Mr. Bucy, who was taken ill Thursday morning, died at 2:05 a. m. Saturday, of non-contagious meningitis. He suffered first from a severe cold, which went to a local hospital where the war was lanced, giving relief. Friday morning he became ill again and was taken by ambulance to the Lubbock institution, arriving at noon. The malady was immediately pronounced to be meningitis. Although little chance for his recovery was held, he held on to life another fourteen hours.

The Ellis ambulance which took him there brought the body from Lubbock Saturday morning. With Mr. Bucy, at the hospital, had been Mrs. Bucy, Mrs. W. E. Ryan, Don Davis, the Rev. W. J. Coleman and W. J. Pratt.

Ralph T. Bucy was born January 8, 1892, at Joshua, Johnson county, Texas. His mother dying in his infancy, he was reared in the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Townes. In his early manhood he went to the Panhandle and to eastern New Mexico points, working at surveying. He lived in that section until America entered the world war, joining a national guard company at Sweetwater. He served overseas, attaining the rank of second lieutenant in the engineering corps. At the time of his death he continued to hold a lieutenant's commission in the reserve corps.

Mr. Bucy was married December 31, 1924, to Miss Lorraine Davis, Midland. They moved to Lamesa, returning to Midland in March 1927, and have lived here continuously since that time. He has engaged in general civil engineering practice and has been county surveyor for three terms.

An elder in the First Presbyterian church here, Mr. Bucy has been an outstanding religious leader. On numerous occasions he has served as speaker for the laymen's organization and has actively championed community uplift. He and Mrs. Bucy, a few months ago, donated to the First Presbyterian church here a valuable pipe organ, in memory of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Lige Davis.

Mr. Bucy also was vice president of the Midland Rotary club, chairman of the good government league, chairman of the Red Cross for Midland county, a member of the Masonic lodge, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Reserve Officers club.

Officiating at the funeral at the Presbyterian church this afternoon will be the Rev. W. J. Coleman, pastor, who will be assisted by Dr. R. J. Irving, Presbyterian pastor at Fort Davis and head of the Bloys' camp meeting.

Active pall bearers will be J. R. Martin, R. M. Barron, E. H. Barron, J. L. McGrew, Fred Turner Jr., R. L. Miller, W. A. Yeager, Dr. W. E. Ryan, Leonard Proctor, Percy J. Mims, W. I. Pratt and Fred Wemple.

DEATH TOLL 167 Rivers Rising Over States From New Downpours

Mushy snow and sheets of rain increased the terror and danger over the flood-ravaged Eastern states Saturday, as the death toll climbed to 167. The homeless were estimated at 300,000.

Hartford and Middletown, Conn., were without electric power and whole families of trapped residents were rescued as torrential rains dashed hopes for a recession of the river.

Thousands of refugees in Pennsylvania and along the Ohio river to Wheeling, W. Va., faced the danger of pneumonia as a three-inch rain added to their miseries.

President Roosevelt again postponed his southern fishing cruise, to keep tabs on relief efforts being expended by the federal government for victims of the flood.

Waiting To Be Called

BEHIND THE SCENES - IN - WASHINGTON By RODNEY DUTCHER Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The 30-hour-week bill, labor's pet, is regarded as dead for this session of Congress. But another bill is pending which is regarded as "just as good as far as it goes," and this one has a good chance of passing. It is the Walsh bill, which provides NRA-like regulation of hours and wages for all plants which hope to sell any material to the government.

ETHIOPIAN WAR STALEMATE SEEN WITH NEGUS REIGNING OVER AREA

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE United Press Staff Correspondent BERLIN, March 21. (U.P.)—Italy's invasion of Ethiopia probably will end with a stalemate in which the Negus will retain his sovereignty at the loss of huge blocks of territory, informed observers now believe.

tombed to the past to campaigns of a three or four months' maximum length, will tire of the war and go home.

Both are recognized by the Ethiopians. In all probability men will be detached from the front during the rains to till ground and produce food. Arms and munitions are coming in freely whenever they can be paid for.

They also see, now, that in the long run the great powers would not permit a complete Italian defeat, even if Haile Selassie could force back the Northern and Southern armies to the former frontiers—a thing which ill-armed Ethiopia could hardly do against the well-fortified positions now established on invaded ground.

Eventually they argue, Italy will tire of the struggle, reach a point financially where it can continue no longer on the present scale, and look for peace.

At that point the great powers again will put pressure on the Negus. It is agreed that if he can, the Emperor will make terms. Up to the present, he could never have done so at the cost of one inch of the northern provinces.

That situation still applies. Occupation of Amba Aradam, or of Amba Alaji, does not mean control of an easy road to Addis Ababa. The road is a next-to-nonexistent track which scales mountains or winds through steaming lowlands.

Further Italian advances slowly would reconcile both Emperor and chiefs to the loss of Tigre and part of the South, and the shift in Italy's southern strategy from the Walwal to the Dolo line seems to indicate Italy's realization of the fact.

Despite General Graziani's decision not to prosecute the Ogaden attack in November and December, it is still considered that a route through Jijiga and Harrar provides the easiest access to the railroad and thence possibly to Addis Ababa.

Between it and Addis Ababa are the Sidamo gorges and mile after mile of mountains almost without roads, but the country is fertile, and in the event of peace negotiations Italy could demand sovereignty over anything it succeeded in capturing.

Nothing that has ever come into my life since I have been in Texas has so distressed me as the news that Ralph Bucy has passed on. An obituary notice is a notice that tells of the passing of someone, but it cannot tell of the affection that he could not get away from what the Almighty had ordered.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

It's got to where every time our friend and contemporary, R. Henderson Shuffler, can't get enough "tall tales" to fill his editorial page, he launches into a series of jabs and jibes at Midland. He still can't seem to understand why Midland expected the Ector county commissioners to allow Midland citizens to maintain a highway in a little old insignificant stretch of Ector county, just to allow our oil boys to get home to supper on time.

But don't get it in for Henderson. He's just taking up for the home county like a good editor ought to, even if he does get off on a tangent and make much-ado about very little. When we have the West Texas Press convention here and you see at least 100 editors walking around with badges on, you can give Henderson Shuffler a lot of the credit for getting them here and for helping take care of them after they come. He's a good neighbor.

An Amarillo man discovers that most good coaches have eleven letters in their names. To back up the statement, he cites his own Blair Cherry, also Madison Bell, Homer Norton, Knute Rockne, Elmer Layden, Slip Madigan, Alonzo Stagg and a lot of others.

T. C. U. PROFESSOR ADDRESSES STUDENTS
Dr. Morris, professor at T. C. U., gave an inspiring address at the chapel hour Wednesday morning. He pictured life as a three-sided pedestal composed of heredity, environment, and personal endeavor.
Heredity, he pointed out, cannot be changed, but one can rise above it, through the influence of environment and personal endeavor.
Dr. Morris said many people take advantage of their environment but some do not. As an illustration, he cited Judas among the disciples who failed to be influenced by his surroundings.
Abraham Lincoln was given as an example of one who rose above his heredity and environment through personal endeavor.
"Now addeth with us heredity, environment, and endeavor," Dr. Morris concluded, "but the greatest of these is endeavor."

OUR ANNUAL EDITOR
Marcelle, Editor in Chief of the annual, when asked how she liked her position, replied, "oh, boy!" After taking one look at this golden-haired, blue-eyed, dainty little senior, one would hardly suspect her of holding so important a position. However, she has a way of getting around and about. She has everyone on the annual staff (we might as well include Sam) acting as she wills. The annual workers are spending a lot of time and thought trying to make this annual outshine all others produced. Work, at the present, is being spent arranging the favorite pages, and from all reports things are running smoothly. So, the interview is concluded by stating that Marcelle enjoys holding the position of Editor-in-Chief very much.

ADDRESS ON THE SANTE FE EXPEDITION
Given by Judge Whittaker
In observance of the week set aside by Governor Allred as the time for special study of Texas history, Judge E. M. Whittaker spoke at the assembly hour Thursday morning on the Sante Fe Expedition. He vividly pictured the experiences of the few hundred brave Texans who set out on the expedition in 1841 to take control of the land in New Mexico which they claimed was rightfully theirs, since the Rio Grande River had been determined the boundary of Texas. The group surrendered to the Spanish troop in Sante Fe, which far outnumbered them. Many of the Texans were executed and others were taken prisoners to Mexico City where numbers of them died.

OUT WHERE THE WEST BEGINS
Out where the town is in the making,
Out where the people are always aking,
That's where the West begins.
Out where the days are always sunny,
Out where the people have no money,
Out where the bees have no honey,
That's where the West begins.
Out where the sand is a little thicker,
Out where the streets lights always flicker,
That's where the West begins.
Out where the kids are a little meaner,
Where the baregrass is a little greener,
Out where the people say "I see her."
That's where the West begins.
Out where the guests have no place to sit,
Out where the kids think they're "it,"
That's where the West begins.
Out where the cars are always stalling,
Out where the cows are always bawling,
Out where the rain is never falling,
That's where the West begins.

Local Chapter Sends $80 For Use in Flooded Eastern States

In answer to a telegram from William M. Baxter, Jr., of the Midwestern branch of the Red Cross to Mrs. J. A. Haley, chairman of the Midland county chapter, requesting the local branch of the Red Cross to wire $80 to be used for the rehabilitation of flood victims in eastern states has been answered with the forwarding of a check for the amount asked.

Baxter wired Mrs. Haley that at least $3,000,000 would be needed by the organization, and designated the Midland county quota as the above $80. The Midland county money was taken from the funds accumulated in the last drive in the county. Appreciation for the donations made by the citizens in the county-wide drive a few months ago, enabling the organization to forward the desired money to the national chapter immediately thereby avoiding soliciting of the funds to meet the present need, was expressed by Mrs. Haley.

The Willingness of a Bank to Loan —is limited only by the fundamental rules of good banking practice.

IN making loans a bank uses primarily the money of others—its depositors. As custodian of this money it is obligated to obtain adequate assurance that its borrowers are responsible and its loans are safe. Furthermore, a large part of a bank's deposits are subject to withdrawal on demand and it must always have ample cash available.

For this reason preference is given to commercial loans for current business activities, because their cash proceeds are sufficient, within a specified period, to repay the loan. These repayments, together with new deposits, enable the bank to meet the requirements of depositors and to make fresh loans.

Conoco's Use Of Newspaper Space Is Proven Sound

Tangible evidence that the Continental Oil Company's heavy use of newspaper space in its marketing territory during 1935 was a sound advertising move is indicated in the figures of the company's annual report for 1935 just issued.

These show that the Company increased the volume of its general business as well as its profits and that it enjoyed a notable gain in the sales of its patented "germ-protected" motor oils. This product which was especially stressed in the Company's advertising, had an increase in sales of over 14 per cent, in comparison with the figures for the previous year.

Continental recently announced that it would again expand the larger part of its 1936 advertising appropriation for newspaper space. The Midland Reporter-Telegram has received Continental schedules for seven years.

Twenty-two Models Take Part in Style Show Saturday

Episcopal Auxiliary Sponsors Fashion Display in Crystal Ballroom of Hotel With Representatives From Seven Firms

Most important of the social affairs of the week was the Style Show sponsored by the Episcopal auxiliary of the Trinity chapel in the Crystal ballroom of the Hotel Scharbauer Saturday afternoon.

Twenty-two models participated in the parade of fashions representing seven business firms of the town and illustrating spring styles suitable for morning, sports, tailored, street, afternoon, and evening wear.

Firms taking part, with their representatives, were: Everybody's, Mrs. E. H. Ellison, Miss Kathleen Scruggs, Miss Phyllis Haag, Mrs. Frank Miller, Lettie Lee Shop, Mrs. Hugh Corrigan, Mrs. W. B. Harkrider, Miss Ruth Akin of Odessa, Miss Martha Louise Nobles, Mrs. Tom Sealy, J. S. Smith company, Jean Bodkin, Adale Reiger, Frances George, Marcelline Wyatt.

Kaydelle shop, Miss Martha Louise Nobles, Mrs. Frances Stallworth, Miss Connie Wells.

Wilson Drygoods, Mrs. J. D. Hicks, Miss Bernice McCullough, Wadley's, Miss Bennie Sue Ratliff, Mrs. Tom Sealy, Miss Allene Kaderli, Mrs. Alf Reese.

Modern shop, Miss Lucille Thomas, Miss Julia Ann Aycock.

Mrs. A. N. Hendrickson was master of ceremonies, announcing the program numbers and the firms participating.

Mrs. Fred Wilcox was at the piano during display of costumes.

Models entered from the east end of the ballroom and advanced the length of the room ascending the orchestra dais before retiring.

Attractive entertainment numbers marked the change from one type of style presentation to another.

Morning wear fashions were displayed first, including a selection of becoming and wearable little frocks for the hours when one's attention is not focused on dress.

Miss Frances Gillett played "Waltz" by Levitski as an intermission number.

Sports dresses with color emphasis varying from brilliant yellow to the ever-popular navy and white formed the second style series, with the jacketed outfit a favorite.

"Carmena" by Lane Wilson was presented by Mrs. Geo. Bennett as a vocal solo.

The third division consisted of tailored and street dresses with the suit holding a leading place, particularly in dark and more neutral shades.

A reading by Mrs. Bryan Henderson of Stanton brought a note of humor to the program.

Afternoon dresses were modeled in the fourth section followed by a "Mexican Hat Dance" presented by Miss Georgia Goss in costume. She was accompanied by Mrs. Holt Jowell.

Appropriately concluding the picture of a day in the life of well-dressed Miss America, models of evening gowns were displayed. Among these, the long lines of drapery hanging from the shoulders were noted as were sheerness of material and gowns splashed with vivid blossom prints.

As the final number for the afternoon, Mrs. Tom Sealy played a violin number, "Roses of Picardy," accompanied by Mrs. Frank Miller.

Tea was served following the style showing.

The tea table, placed before the tall mirror at the end of the ballroom was laid with heavy lace. Four tall green tapers burned, flanking a centerpiece of pastel blossoms and greenery.

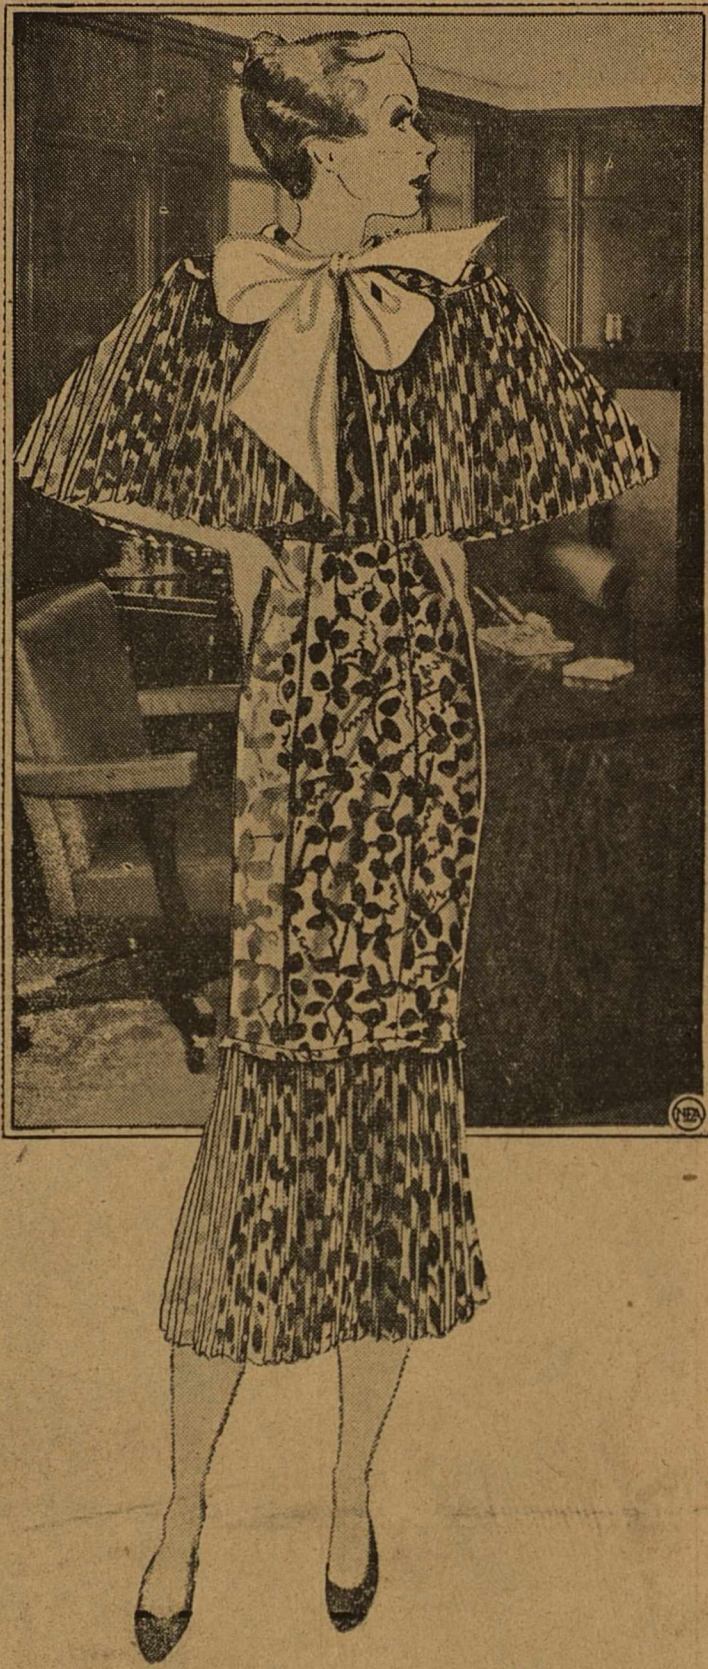

Mrs. Alden Donnelly and Miss Mary Maude Sparks poured tea.

In behalf of the auxiliary, Mrs. Hendrickson expressed appreciation for the cooperation and contributions of various businesses which assisted the auxiliary.

A crowd estimated at 150 persons or more attended.

"First Lady" Is A Satire on Women In Washington

Editor's Note: The following review of "First Lady" was written by Mrs. Thomas especially for The Reporter-Telegram after she read the play at a recent meeting of Play Readers club.

By MRS. A. O. THOMAS

"First Lady" is a clever satire on women in Washington. Lucy Chase Wayne, daughter of a former president, wife of the Secretary of State and a Washington social leader, has a rival in Irene Hubbard, wife of a Supreme Court Justice. The latter having previously been married to a prince of a small country, which existed before the war, married Justice Hubbard in order to gain social position, and tiring of her husband, who is much older than she, becomes interested in a young western senator.

Lucy, thinking she is going to divorce Hubbard, marry young Sen. Keene and steer him for the White House, cleverly breaks up the affair for it is her desire that her husband be the next president. In frustrating what she thinks is Irene's plan, she unwittingly causes Justice Hubbard to receive the nomination. The pleasant prospect of being "First Lady" makes Irene decide to remain with her husband. Then Lucy, realizing her mistake, sets out to undo what she has done, and just before formal announcement is made, she brings to light the fact that Irene's divorce from her former husband was illegal since the United States and Slovakia did not recognize each other's marriage laws.

(This information being secured only after months of pains-taking effort to find a reason for breaking up the "Hubbard for president" plan.) This revelation would, of course, bring shame upon the heretofore spotless name of Justice Hubbard, and he can only reject the nomination.

Lucy then finds, to her dismay that Sen. Keene, for whom she thought Irene was going to divorce Justice Hubbard and was steering for the White House, was born in Canada and therefore not eligible for that position.

As one senator's wife expressed it, "Life in Washington is just the same as at home and just as hick. You have to be for or against either the first or the second wife in every divorce. The only difference is that in Washington everybody is 'somebody' and it puts gossip on a much higher plane. Back home Lucy Wayne and Irene Hubbard would be just any two methodists but in Washington it's Lucy Chase Wayne, wife of the Secretary of State and Irene Hubbard, wife of a Supreme Justice."

Wind Tricks Firemen

WILLOUGHBY, O. (U.P.)—The wind plays queer tricks. For example: it crossed wires connected to the fire siren, yanked ten firemen out of bed, and disturbed the sleep of almost everyone in Willoughby.

Making Light of Darkness

Beams of light that wheel across the tropical night sky in a startling northern lights illusion silhouette the towering royal palms of the Hawaiian Islands. The amazing spectacle was created by eight maneuverers of the U. S. Army searchlights at Honolulu.

All Snowed Up 'n' No Place to Go

Their tops barely protruding from the drifts, these two autos show strikingly the depth of the snow in the near-record blizzard that swept the country from northwest to the east coast. Marooned on a state highway near the Illinois-Wisconsin state line, they were only two of thousands of cars abandoned by their owners. State police made a thorough search of all roads in that section, fearing some motorists might have been trapped in their cars and frozen to death.

Super-Giant of Air Gets Its First Test

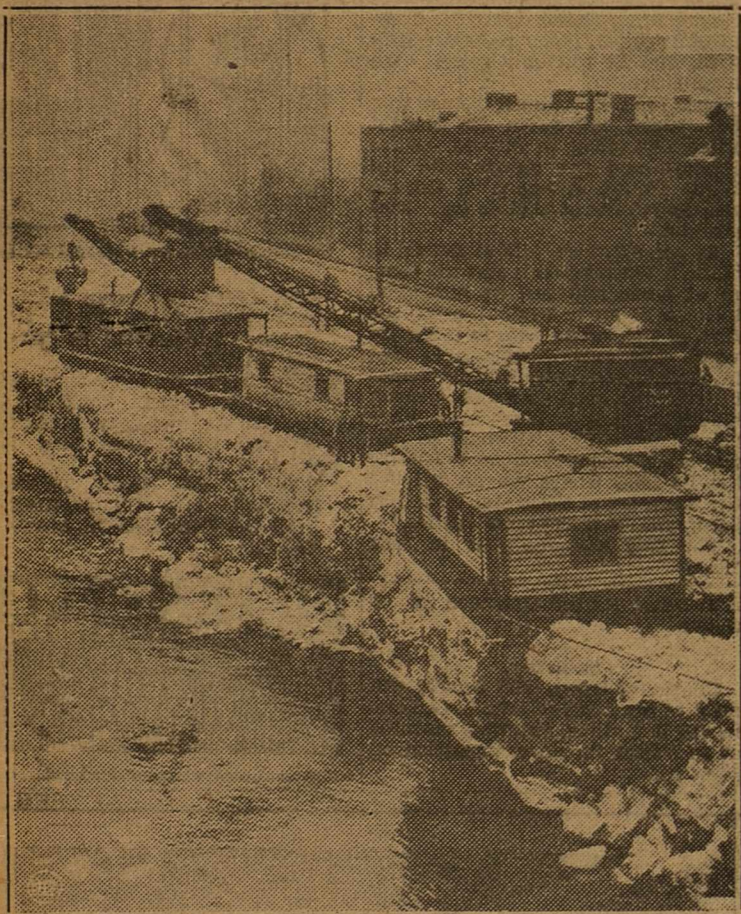

The world's largest airship, the super-giant LZ-129, here is pictured as it emerged from its hangar at Friedrichshafen, Germany, for its inaugural flight over Lake Constance. Going through her paces under the watchful eyes of her commander, Dr. Hugo Eckener, the mammoth air liner's trip was a complete success. Built at a cost of more than $3,500,000, the LZ-129 is 813 feet long, 145 feet high, and can carry 50 passengers. She is expected to cross the north Atlantic to Lakehurst, N. J., late in May, before going into South American service.

Flood Puts Houseboats 'On Ice'

The flood is over, but the mischief lingers on, here, high and dry on a bank of the Allegheny in downtown Pittsburgh are several houseboats, the ice-carpeted ground about them reminiscent of the recent huge break-up. While a derrick clears ice from the railroad right-of-way, rivermen are scratching their chins, wondering whether they ought to slide their houseboats back into the water and risk another of King Winter's practical jokes.

Where Japan's Rebellion Flamed

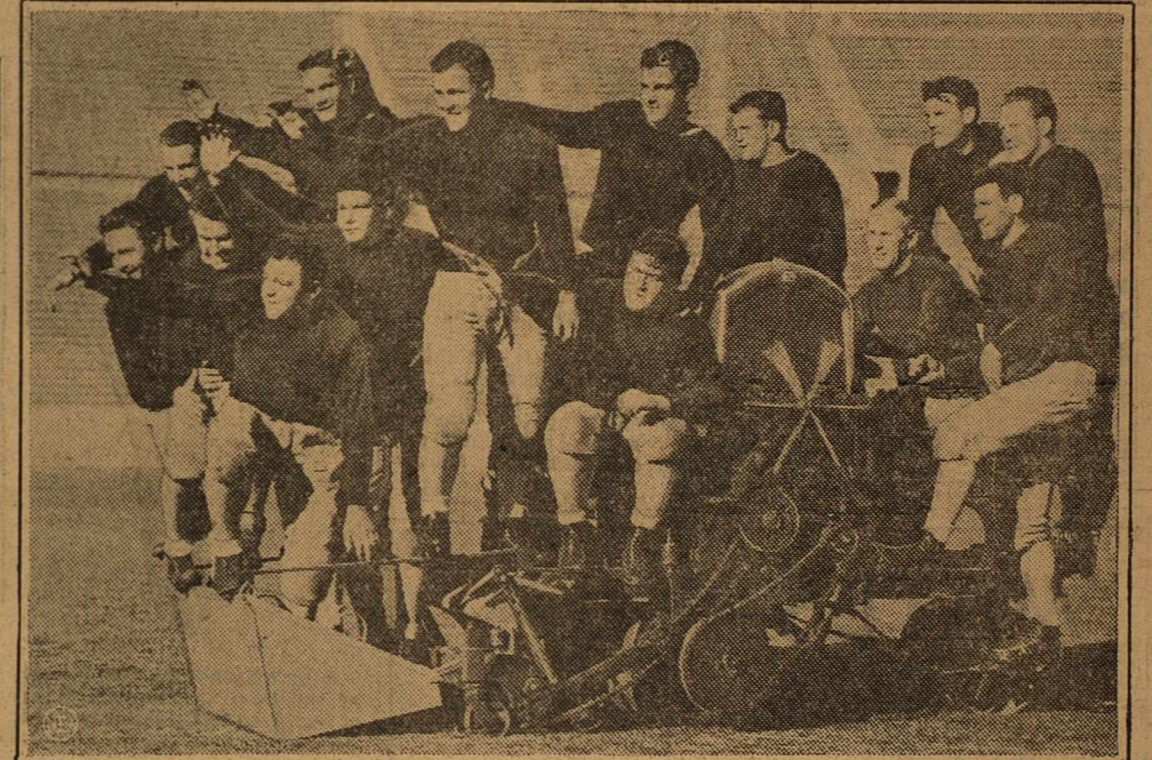

A city in which revolt by young militarists flamed against the liberal regime, the government acting swiftly for suppression, Tokio, capital of Japan, is shown on this map, locating the principal centers of official and business life and the 15 districts (Ku) into which it is divided. Almost in the center of the capital of more than 2,000,000 population is the imperial palace and within a short distance are the American and British embassies and part of the great business area. The city is on Tokio bay and the wide but shallow River Sumida and is connected with its port, Yokohama, by 18 miles of railway.

'MRS. G. B. S.'

You've seen a thousand and one pictures of bewhiskered George Bernard Shaw, famed Irish dramatist. Well, meet the missus! And take a good look, because a picture of Mrs. G. B. S. is something rare, she having been eclipsed by her noted spouse since their marriage in 1898. Since then, she has quietly been taking care of him, while he has been taking care of the headlines.

FALL FASHIONS GREET COMING SPRING

Don't fall for that propaganda that spring is just around the corner. More than likely it's autumn in disguise, for football players are donning their fall duds and going into training for the coming gridiron season. Here's proof—part of the University of Southern California squad that recently reported for practice. The man on the driver's seat of the power mower is Coach Howard Jones.

notebooks on different subjects, and in product maps.

Poster work in notan composition displayed striking use of blacks, grays, and browns in their sombre shadings.

The tie and dye luncheon cloths augured well for the practical side of learning in sets made by 6-A pupils. A number of paintings with crayolas on cloth, especially those concentrating on barbaric Mexican and Indian designs made a bright new note in the display ranks.

Occupying a table by themselves, soap carvings in bas-relief displayed deft handling in reproductions of human heads and figures and of animals.

Probably every woman looked at least twice at the collection of buttons and buckles carved from wood in diverse colors. These were attractive in a number of sizes and shapes.

Carved wooden boxes and pictures and various bright paper handwork made another interesting class of exhibits.

A parade of gay chanticleers, clowns, and other figures paced across the first grade exhibit at South Ward school which featured crayon pictures, applique pictures, and three brown bears of cutout work.

Patriotic silhouettes of Washington and Lincoln in red stood out in the second grade exhibit along with bright flower bouquets in cutout work.

Third and fourth graders exhibited along with many other articles pretty baskets of paper with painted flower designs, Dutch girl cutouts, and an excellent display of the six flags of Texas.

Among the articles which drew attention in the South Ward exhibit was an outlined portrait of Washington done in red and blue Washington stamps which was the product of the high third grade.

North Ward first grade pupils showed considerable clay modeling and a collection of peepholes along with stick horses adorned with horse heads, and some clever Dutch notebooks as outstanding in their display. "The Seven Health Sisters", quaint cut-out doll figures, led by Molly Milk and Dolly Do with their sage advice to small boys and girls, were an attractive feature of the second grade display.

Skillfully woven mats made on looms which the pupils themselves had constructed was another high spot in this grade's collection along with cut-out mapbooks of Texas containing interesting facts about the state.

The spatter-work of third grade pupils was outstanding in the display of this class. The spatter work background made a unique note in colors but was strikingly effective in black and white.

Silhouette portraits were another feature of third grade work. The exhibits are held at the various schools annually, and draw many visitors from among patrons and others interested in the school work.

Wheel chairs are being put into the "Big Room" of Carlsbad Cavern for the use of those who are physically unable to walk through the cave.

Major Thomas J. Bales, superintendent of Carlsbad Cavern National Park, said during a brief stop in Midland Saturday. Three persons, each over 100 years old, have already traversed the Cavern in this way, he said. The level of the room is reached by elevator.

Bales presented the Ever-Ready Auto Service where he stopped with a picture of himself and his staff grouped at the entrance of the Cavern.
