WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Cut down at height of his career by swift illness, Joseph Wellington Byrns, 66, speaker of the House of Representatives, died at 12:15 a. m., Eastern Standard time, today as the first speaker in generations to pass away with congress in session. President Roosevelt announced that he will attend the state funeral to be held at Capitol tomorrow and the burial in Tennessee. Apparently in good health when the House adjourned yesterday, the speaker suffered heart attack at 5:30. At 11 p. m., Dr. George W. Carter, congressional physician said he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and died one hour and a quarter later without regaining consciousness.

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Congressional leaders today abandoned hope of adjourning congress before the republican national convention on account of the death of Speaker Byrns. The senate, which expected to pass tax bill today in effort to close Monday night, adjourned out of respect to the speaker.

The House today elected Representative William B. Bankhead, Alabama, speaker to succeed Byrns. Power as speaker of the National House of Representatives came to Byrns when the 74th Congress convened January 3, 1935. Back of him was a full quarter century as a member of the House from the "Hermitage district" of Tennessee, a tenure which saw him go through a dozen successful political campaigns and which brought him chairmanship of the House Appropriations Committee, leadership of the Democratic majority and head of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee.

He was a lawyer by profession, an avid reader of history, biography and detective stories and a fisherman whenever a let-up in his work allowed him to indulge in that pastime. He liked to travel by airplane. A state funeral will be held in the house chamber at noon tomorrow and the funeral at Nashville, Tenn., upon the arrival of the body there Saturday.

Scouts Are Preparing Equipment For Vacation at Camp Fawcett Playground

As the summer camping plans of the Buffalo Trail Council of the Boy Scouts of America call for the opening of camp on June 16th all throughout the area, which stretches from Sweetwater to the Pecos, scouts and leaders are busily engaged getting their equipment in shape for the camp opening.

The camp this year will be held at Camp Fawcett, near Barksdale, which is situated on a high plateau overlooking the Nueces river in the Nueces canyon. The camp has been used previously on two occasions by the Buffalo Trail campers and this year's camp is being held at Barksdale by popular request. The camp which opens a week from Tuesday will continue for three weeks. Each week will be a separate period. The dates are as follows: first period June 16-23, second period June 23-30, third period June 30-July 7. Scouts may register for one week, two weeks, or for the entire three week period.

The program of the camp will feature swimming, life saving, marksmanship, scout advancement, archery, campfires, hiking and exploration, handicraft, nature study, first aid, stories, songs, and plenty of free time so scouts may do what they like best. Camp honors will be given for campcraft achievements, and a regular court of honor will be held at each camp period so that scouts advancing may receive their advancement awards. In all activities, safety is a main consideration.

Co-Defendants Say "Executioner" A "Lunatic"

DETROIT, June 4 (AP)—Dayton Dean, Black Legion's "triggerman" announced today, "I'm going to plead guilty to kidnaping and murdering of Charles A. Poole as soon as they let me." While Dean was telling detectives his 12 co-defendants had recited "nothing but a pack of lies," Harvey Davis, whom Dean named the Black Legion "colonel," and as giving order to kill Poole, denounced Dean as "a crazy lunatic." Examination of the 13 defendants adjourned until Monday.

Waving aside the shouted objection of his attorney and ignoring the hostile gaze of his fellow defendants, Dean testified Wednesday that he shot and killed Charles A. Poole, young PWA worker, last May 12 at the end of a "one way ride," because it was expected of him after "Colonel" Harvey Davis, another defendant, had "got the strike up."

Collins Delivers Talk Boosting The Big Midland Rodeo

Editor's Note: The following is the text of the speech delivered by Bill Collins, member of the publicity committee of the Midland Fair, Inc., concerning the Open to the World rodeo to be held here June 26-27-28, at the Rotary club members at their luncheon today.

Mr. Chairman, Rotarians, Guests: When I accepted the invitation to speak at this publicity department of the Midland Rodeo, I was of the opinion that my task would be to turn out copy for the various newspapers, and that my good friend Paul Barron would attend to all the speech making, and I was quite surprised when your club president called and asked me to bring you a few words regarding the rodeo. Paul Barron is a capable speaker and could doubtless handle the topic much better than I but I trust that you will bear with me for a few minutes. Anyway, I am very happy to be here today and I have certainly enjoyed the luncheon. Also I am very grateful for the opportunity of bringing you a few facts regarding our coming celebration.

CRANE TUBB WELL SHOWS OIL PRODUCTION

Production of 4 barrels of oil per hour with some drilling fluid present was reported from Sinclair-Prairie and others No. 1 Tubb, newest producer from the deep Permian zone in the Tubb area of western Crane county. The well was swabbed through 2-inch tubing run to within 10 feet of the total depth of 4,469. It is reported showing some gas. Plans have not been made public, but the unit test will probably be acidized. Acid treatments were made with success in the two Hum-bert Tubb wells two miles southeast of the unit test. It is located in the southeast corner of section 3, block B-27, public school land.

BIG WELL COMPLETED IN SAYRE POOL

Sinclair-Prairie completed a large well on the west side of the Sayre pool in Winkler county in its No. B-3 Cummins, 330 feet from the north and 1,650 feet from the east line of section 11, block 26, public school land. The well rated a potential of 811 barrels of oil per day flowing through open casing. Gas volume tested 753,397 cubic feet per day. The new producer drilled to a total depth of 2,994 feet and received a shot of 300 quarts of nitro from 2,745 to bottom.

Landreth 1 Kirk Logs Oil Stains In Lime Section

The Landreth Production Company No. 1 Kirk wildcat in Gaines county came back in the spotlight yesterday when it showed definite signs of oil while drilling near 4,540 feet. The lime formation is reported to have softened up at 4,537, with cuttings from that depth and slightly below showing oil stains. Operators installed core barrel at 4,540 and cored ahead to 4,552, recovering broken cores totaling only about a foot and showing very little if any saturation. The cores appeared to be hard lime ranging in color from light gray to brown. The test is drilling ahead again today after reaming core-hole.

The oil showing in the No. 1 Kirk is the first since the driller reported a slight amount of oil in the pits while drilling from 4,181 to 4,187. The No. 1 Kirk is generally credited with topping the lime at 4,315 with the first lime stringers showing up at 4,021.

CROPS DESTROYED AS WATER, HAIL ABET SANDSTORM

Roofs Are Torn From Buildings In City

NONE INJURED Several Narrowly Escape Hurts In Storm

Midland county crops suffered heavy damage from a sand storm and driving rain that hit here late Wednesday afternoon, and many buildings in town were damaged by the driving wind, estimated to have reached 50 miles per hour at its climax.

With a terrific sandstorm leading the way roofs were lifted off, small buildings overturned and many windows blown out at the first stroke of the storm. The wind showed no cyclonic qualities other than the force of it. It was evidently not a "twister," as much more damage would necessarily have been created. The rainfall in the city limits gauged 63 of an inch but it was much heavier to the south and west the directions from which the storm approached. Farmers two and three miles south of town estimated that at least five inches of rain fell in the short space of two hours. Many crops, just up to a good stand, and many places where the seeds were still in the ground, were completely destroyed and will have to be planted over.

At the T. E. Bizzell town two miles south of town the heaviest rain in years fell. A large lake on the north side of the farm today had more water in it than at any time in the recollection of persons acquainted with the territory. Most of Bizzell's cotton crop was destroyed, and many buildings injured. Two barns were either blown completely down or damaged until they will have to be repaired and a small tenant's house was moved several feet off its foundations. Trees and windmills also were damaged.

Farther south barns and feed stacks suffered along with the wind. Many feed stacks were scattered by the winds and roofs and fences were destroyed.

To the southeast of town several telephone poles were down after the rapidly swirling waters had washed down the road embankments destroying the bases of the poles. The south part of town was the hardest hit, many windmills being blown down or otherwise damaged and several roofs ruined. Lightning struck one residence in the south part of town but fortunately the heavy rains prevented fire. The roof suffered damage but the structure was not otherwise hurt. The roof on the South Ward school house was rolled up and deposited in the yard, the second such occurrence here recently, the roof of the Mexican school being destroyed in the small cyclone that hit here a short time ago.

Within the city limits, the roof of Everybody's store suffered damage, and many signs were destroyed. Windows were blown out at the M System, Texas Electric Service Co., and the Petroleum Pharmacy. The chimney of the Christian church was leveled with the roof.

West of town, at the Garrett tourist camp, one of the cabins was blown into the highway. At least two cars were damaged when the crashed into the building because of the cars overturned but no one was injured.

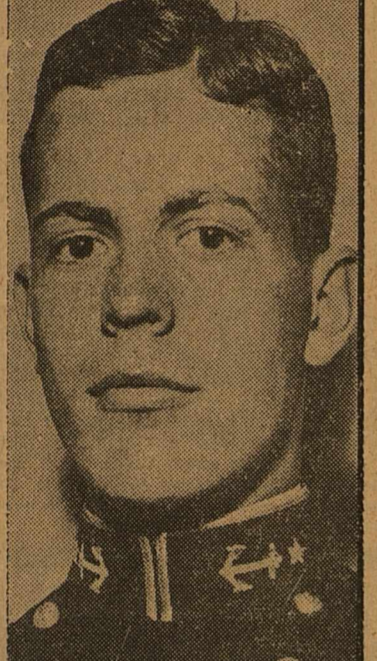

Lights were out all over town for at least 30 minutes, handicapping those attempting to repair damaged structures.

One-Armed Artist Draws Attention With His Modeling of Figures In Street Sand

Bud Truex, 48-year-old one armed artist, has been achieving commendable works of art here since Wednesday with sand and water only on North Main street.

Working only with a sharp pointed trowel, a paring knife and a paint brush, Truex is attracting attention of large numbers of persons who have stooped to admire his creations. The Tuesday night rain destroyed the first work of Truex but he started again this morning and had completed others by noon.

ROTARIANS AND GUESTS BECOME "RODEO-MINDED"

Plans of Project Are Outlined to Club By Collins

Rotarians and their guests became "rodeo minded" today when Bill Collins, member of the World Championship Centennial Rodeo committee, outlined plans for the big entertainment project to be staged at Midland Fair arena June 26-27-28. Collins, widely known West Texas sports authority, painted the western show as one of the leading attractions of the United States this year. The text of his speech appears elsewhere in this issue.

W. B. Simpson then made a brief talk on ways in which Midland business and professional men may assist in publicizing the rodeo and in bringing huge crowds here. He said it would be the biggest builder for Midland institutions to be staged during the year.

Simpson advised local citizens to buy tire covers, available through the chamber of commerce, to be put on cars making regular trips to various points. He pointed out the publicity given the rodeo by the Texas Centennial and declared the event to be "not just a home affair" but one of national importance and recognition.

J. C. Smith and Hilton Kaderli, newly elected members of the club, were introduced as Rotarians No. 49 and No. 50.

Visiting Rotarians included Glenn Myers of San Angelo, Patrick Hill of Pecos and Louis Fischbein of El Paso. Other visitors were H. G. Bedford and Jess Rodgers.

Wadsworth, New York, as Landon's running mate with claims that it evidenced the conservative East secretly favored Kansas from the start.

BEHIND THE SCENES

-IN-

WASHINGTON

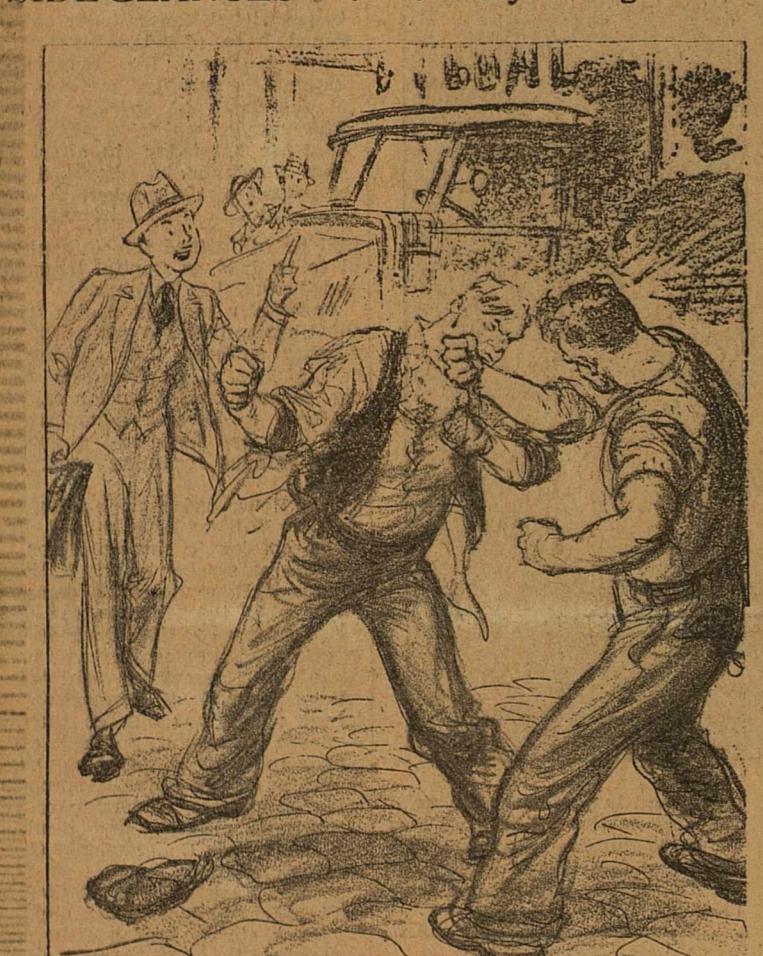

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 4—It wouldn't take a great deal of pushing, under ordinary circumstances, to upset the Landon candidacy at the republican national convention.

But there isn't the slightest indication that the opposition has what it takes. The eve of a convention nearly always finds the camp of the outstanding candidate in a state of jitters. Hoover was virtually shimming from an attack of that ailment in the days immediately preceding his nomination in 1932.

Timber for G.O.P. Platform Planks Hewn by Frazier Hunt from Views Of Party's "Composite Candidate"

BY FRAZIER HUNT (Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

How about the Composite Republican candidate for the Presidency? Roll Landon, Vandenberg, Dickinson, Borah, Steiwer, Wadsworth and Knox into one heroic mass and then recast into a single human figure and what sort of a man do we have? To start with, he's a trifle over five feet ten inches tall. He weighs 158 pounds, and he is 58 years old. That last conclusion takes into account the fact that Landon is 48, Vandenberg and Keynoter Steiwer, 52, Dark Horse Wadsworth, 53, Knox and Dickinson 62, and Borah, the Old Lion of the Senate, a ripe and wise 72.

With Dickinson's great shock of snow white hair making up for Wadsworth's partial baldness our Composite candidate has a fair stand of greying hair. He is three-sevenths lawyer; two-sevenths newspaper publisher; one-seventh oil man, and one-seventh farmer. Geographically from somewhere around the Nebraska country. Only the part represented by Knox Vandenberg and Wadsworth come from east of the Mississippi— and Knox and Vandenberg only miss the Father of Waters by some 200 miles. Ordinarily this would indicate that our Composite Candidate's running-mate would be an eastern man.

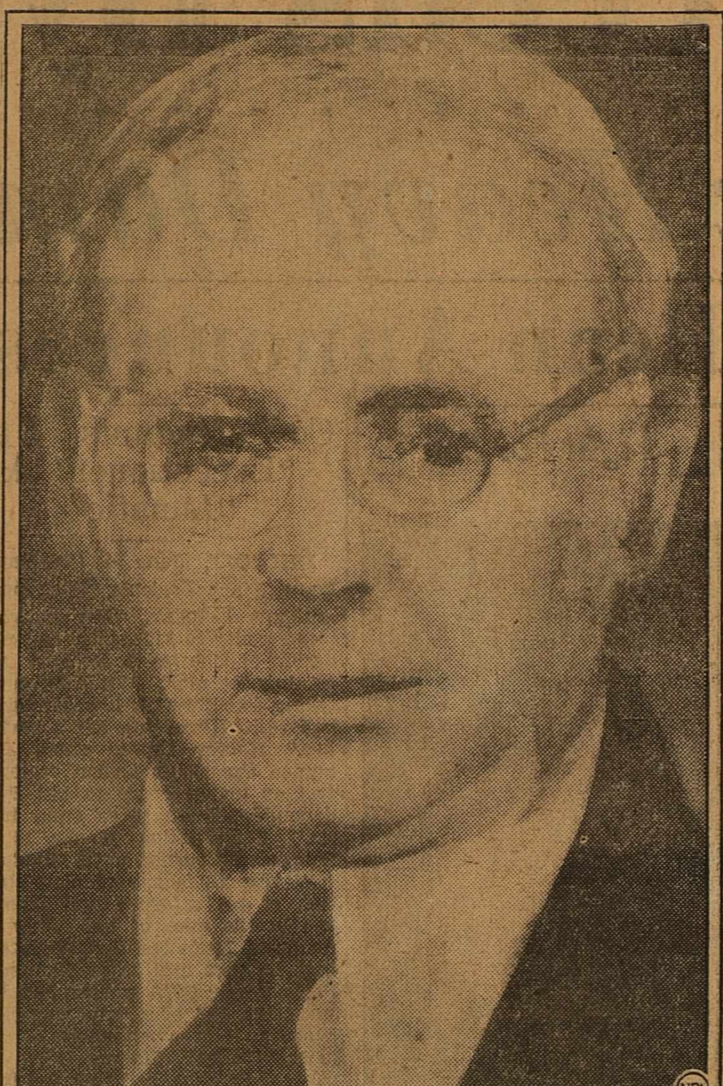

Of the seven component parts of our historic figure, only four are out-and-out candidates. Neither Vandenberg, Steiwer nor Wadsworth is a formal candidate, but none of the three would dodge if the nomination were tossed in his lap.

Now as to the political benefits of this imaginary standard bearer of the Republican forces. In a broad way they probably anticipate more or less accurately the outlines of the party platform that will be adopted at Cleveland next week. It is this that gives them double importance. The ten questions that each of these leaders has answered cover rather thoroughly the important political issues that will be presented during this campaign. And while none of these men will actually be on the platform committee, their views certainly represent the Republican attitude towards the various aspects of the New Deal and the Roosevelt administration.

Here, then, in black type, are the composite views of the Composite Republican Candidate, as nearly as the answers can be reduced to one or two sentences. Following the composite replies, which are numbered to conform with my now familiar questions, I have, in some instances, explained in a little more detail the percentage of divergent views making up the composite answer.

The Composite Candidate says:

- 1. Balance the budget as soon as possible by reducing expenses, including relief expenditures.
2. Relief should be administered by the states and local communities but should be paid for partly by the federal government.
3. There should be old age pensions administered by the state, but paid for partly by the federal government.
4. There should be no inflation of any kind. The dollar should be stabilized as quickly as possible—probably at the present gold content.
5. There should be no program to control or fix wages, but working hours and the work week may be regulated.
6. There should be no amendment to the Constitution, nor should the rights of the courts to pass on laws be changed.
7. The anti-trust laws should be strengthened. There is some sentiment to permit businessmen to get together on trade practices and labor relations.
8. There should be no reduction of production. The farmers should be helped, but there is vagueness as to just how this can be done.
9. The right to make trade treaties and agreements should be returned to Congress.
10. The government should mix as little as possible in public power development, but should have some control over the operation and management of public utilities.
11. There should be no amendment to the Constitution, nor should the rights of the courts to pass on laws be changed.
12. There is unanimity in the opposition to inflation of any kind. Broadly speaking, this imaginative figure of ours believes in stabilizing the dollar as quickly as it is possible—and there is some demand that it be done at the present gold content.

The Composite Republican Candidate as the cameraman produces his likeness by photographing, on a single negative, portraits of Vandenberg, Borah, Knox, Steiwer, Landon, Wadsworth and Dickinson.

denberg, Borah, Knox, Steiwer, Landon, Wadsworth and Dickinson.

Although broadly speaking, the Composite Candidate is opposed to the modification or suspension of the anti-trust laws—except to make them stronger and more effective. Keynoter Steiwer favors sufficient modification to permit businessmen to get together on control of trade practices and labor relations—subject to ample federal regulation to protect the public interests.

Each of the other five-sevenths has more or less divergent views—generally follows the belief that the ultimate solution does not follow reduction of production and the idea of an economy of scarcity. Keynoter and Dark Horse Steiwer lay out a straight-forward four-part formula which may be given a good deal of consideration at Cleveland: nation-wide land conservation; full tariff protection for agricultural products; government aid in disposing of surplus products; and the very practical and popular suggestion of lower rates on farm mortgages.

Happy though our straw figure is over the absence of dispute on the question of returning all trade treaty powers to the Congress, there is a serious internal struggle over the problem of a reduction in tariffs and the present technique of making reciprocal trade treaties.

Vandenberg holds that the whole thing is economically unsound and palpably unconstitutional. Both demands that they be made only by Congress. Landon feels that wherever possible the blocked channels of international trade should be reopened. Dickinson is against reciprocal trade agreements, but Colonel Knox's resentment simply concerns the method involved.

To our Composite Candidate the question of public power development, extension of T. V. A. and the control of public utilities is decidedly a hot potato. Probably Colonel Knox contributed what might be taken as a generally accepted middle-of-the-road solution—one that may become a Cleveland compromise—when he said, "I do not believe in a policy of public power development, save, only, in the case where that is incident to the promotion of navigation in navigable streams. I am opposed to the continuance of extension of T. V. A. and I would rigidly restrict the control of utilities to that point where it will reach the admitted evils in the utility situation, but leave the operation of utilities and their management in private hands, subject to adequate regulation."

But through all this sounds the strident voice of Borah shouting "I favored the Utilities Holding Company Act!"

Next week at Cleveland our Composite Candidate becomes a man of reality. There and then, he will plead his own case and unfurl his own banners.

UNEMPLOYMENT REDUCED

GRIDLEY, Cal. (UP)—Dogs still are youngsters' most popular pets. In a popular pet contest staged by the local schools, 100 canines were entered. Other less numerous entries included coons, rats, gold fish, cats, doves, guinea pigs, frogs, toads and horses.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything).

I'm just a little bit afraid our quiet and peaceful town and county will get a windy reputation if we have a few more houses, plate glass windows, cars and folks shuffled about unexpectedly like we did late Wednesday and again a few weeks ago.

A certain man who owns a couple of hounds and keeps them up so they won't bother anybody is being bothered in a peculiar sort of way. In fact the dogs are being bothered. A neighbor who receives a lot of mushy love letters throws the letters over in the dog pen and the owner has to clean them out. He says if the practice is kept up, he will bring some of the letters down and have them published in this column. And maybe you think I wouldn't like to get hold of 'em.

This was sent in. It was one of mother's busiest days. Her small son, who had been playing outside, came in with his pants torn. His mother helped him change to another pair but in an hour or so he was back, his pants torn again.

"You go right upstairs, remove your pants and mend them yourself," his mother ordered.

Some time later she thought of him and went upstairs to see how he was getting on. The torn pants were lying on a chair but there was no sign of Johnnie. Returning down stairs, she noticed that the door to the cellar, usually closed, was open, and she called down, loudly and sternly, "Are you running around down there without any pants on?"

A deep voice answered, "No ma'am, I'm reading the gas meter."

New Mexico Visitor Is Complimented at Breakfast Bridge

Mexican Motif Distinguishes Affair in Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer For Which Mrs. Wheeler Is Hostess

Capitalized on the social calendar for the week was the breakfast and morning bridge with which Mrs. E. C. Wheeler entertained approximately 50 guests in the Crystal ballroom of the Hotel Scharbauer Wednesday morning. The affair was a compliment to Mrs. Wheeler's guest, Mrs. Buster Clayton of Deming, New Mexico. Mrs. Clayton was Miss Faye Young before her marriage and formerly lived in Midland.

The Mexican motif, specially favored by hostesses of the Southwest, was employed in party accessories and the red, orange, and green beaded in the land of Manana dominated in tallies and score pads of Mexican theme and in wrappings of prize packages. Spring flowers in orange hues were used in decorations.

A two-course breakfast was served at the sixteen foursome tables. Awards in the bridge games went to Mrs. M. C. Ulmer for high score, to Mrs. Allan Hargrave for second high and to Mrs. J. Howard Hodge for cut.

The guest list included: The honoree, Mrs. Geo. T. Abell, John E. Adams, J. M. Armstrong, Harry Adams, A. P. Baker, W. R. Bowden, Jas. H. Chapple, W. J. Coleman, Frank Cowden, J. L. Crump, Harvey

Mrs. Alf Reese Entertains with Bridge Luncheon Honoring June Bride-Elect

Continuing the round of gaieties honoring Miss Martha Louise Nobles who will be married to Mr. Ben Black on June 10, Mrs. Alf Reese was hostess to a group of the younger social set with a bridge luncheon Tuesday.

Roses and baby's breath, appropriate to June, were used for decorations and a bridal theme marked appointments. A three-course luncheon was served followed by games of bridge.

Blue and Yellow Mark Appointments For Midweek Party

Mrs. Fred S. Wright entertained for the midweek club in its last meeting of the season with an attractively planned party at her home 904 W. Tennessee, Wednesday afternoon.

A blue and yellow color scheme was carried throughout party appointments with clusters of blue larkspurs and corn flowers and yellow poppies decorating the rooms.

Tallies, pencils and score pads for the four tables of bridge played were in blue and yellow and prizes were packaged to carry out the same colors, being tied with yellow ribbon. Awards went to Mrs. I. E. Daniel for high score and to Mrs. M. C. Ulmer for cut.

At the refreshment hour, the party plate was featured by ice-cream cleverly served in tiny flower pots swathed in blue and yellow fluted paper. Chocolate gave the cream the appearance of earth in the pot and sweetpeas apparently "growing" out of the pot completed the garden semblance. Individual cakes iced in white and decorated with wee blue and yellow flowers were served in paper cups of the same two colors.

Playing guests were: Mrs. John House and Mrs. John West and Mrs. Miller of Del Rio was a tea guest. Members present were: Mmes. J. M. Armstrong, J. R. Ashley, J. L. Crump, Elliott Cowden, Allan Hargrave, Frank Johnson, Geo. Farley, Daniel, W. L. Brown, J. B. Leonard, M. D. Self, Don Sivals, and the hostess.

All fathers and mothers want their children to succeed and as long as they can, mothers and fathers the country over sacrifice and plan to give their boys and girls every advantage, every opportunity, for they want them to have a start which they too often were denied.

"We want to send Jim to college if we can afford it," they say. "We plan to give Mary special training in music if we have the money when she has finished high school."

But why should an IF threaten these dreams? A PRAETORIAN EDUCATIONAL POLICY can erase that IF and permit mothers and fathers to say positively: "MY CHILDREN ARE GOING TO COLLEGE." The Praetorians' plans offer a systematic way of saving. A little put away each month makes the education SURE. Investigate the Praetorians' Educational policies for children.

FLUSH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

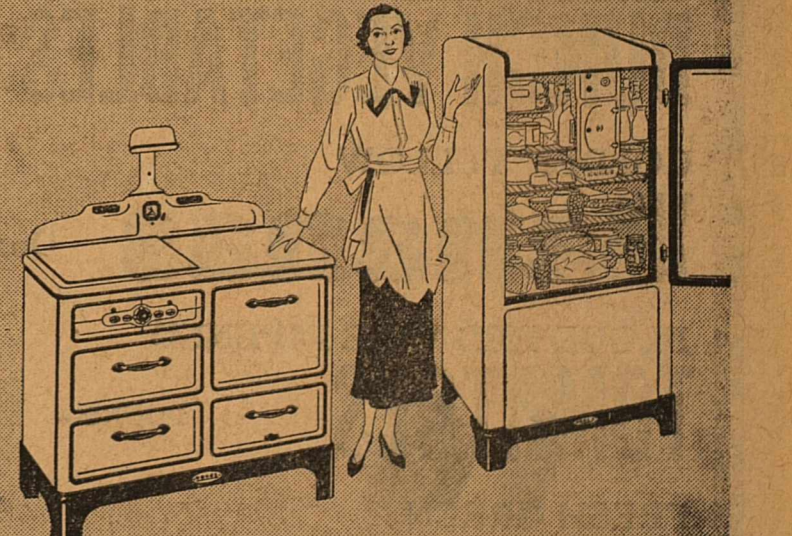

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste, poisonous matter may develop causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Authority Puzzled
By Dinosaur Trail

AUSTIN.—Frank N. Getzendenar of Uvalde, Humble Oil company geologist, was "stumped," he said, when he heard about the university securing for the Texas memorial museum the longest train of dinosaur tracks known.

terminal Exposition, at which the dinosaur tracks will be displayed this summer: "I thought I knew about all the dinosaur tracks in the United States. Where on earth did Dr. Stenzel get such a long trail of them?"

He was speaking of Dr. H. B. Stenzel, geology supervisor for the museum. The tracks were pointed out to him by Judge Herbert Chesley and Herbert (Buster) Gordon of Hamilton, on the Cowhorse creek farm of Mrs. Fred Gromatzky in Hamilton county.

The trail, made more than 125 million years ago in tidal flats which covered more than half of Texas, was 67 feet long and shows 17 separate footprints. W. S. Strain, geology technician, quarried the limestone bearing the footprints, wrapped and shipped the blocks to Austin. Now they are being joined together again and will be exhibited in front of Gregory gymnasium, central exhibit hall for the University Centennial Exposition, which opened its doors on Monday, June 1.

Paris Is Paralyzed As 400,000 In Strike

PARIS, June 4 (AP)—Premier Albert Sarraut and his coalition cabinet resigned today, permitting socialists to assume the government of strike-ridden France.

From Roger Salengro, the man who will be the socialist minister of interior in the new Blum cabinet, came a demand that communists call off the strikes and order their adherents out of the plants.

"This agitation is not admissible," he declared. "The people's front must not be in a state of anarchy. The people's front stands for order."

Communist charged the French worker's buying power had been cut 30 per cent in the last four years.

In every case the workers wanted higher wages, a 40-hour week, abolition of overtime, recognition of unions and pay to discharged workers.
