C. E. DELEGATES TO MEET IN FT. WORTH

2500 Expected to Attend Convention Starting There June 11

FT. WORTH, May 6.—Twenty-five hundred Christian Endeavorers from seven hundred churches of Texas are expected to attend the forty-fifth convention of the Texas Christian Endeavor Union to be held here June 11-14, according to an announcement made today by Fred B. Porter and Rev. Patrick Henry, co-chairmen of the convention committee.

Governor James V. Allred has been secured as the speaker for a final citizenship rally to be held during the convention. Other featured speakers will be Dr. Frank Brown, Dallas; J. Kinney O'Heeron, of Houston; Max Morrison, of San Antonio; Gordon Weir, of Abilene; George Lowe of Philadelphia; and Robert S. Nance of Topeka, Kansas. A parade will feature the Friday afternoon session. Other attractions include a series of banquets, climaxed by a gigantic Fellowship banquet to be held in the Texas Hotel.

Rotary Delegates Jubilant Over F. Wemple's Election

Rotary delegates, returning late Tuesday and this morning from the forty-first district conference at Ft. Worth, were jubilant over election of Fred Wemple Jr. as district governor nominee. Ratification of the election of all district governors takes place at the international convention at Atlantic City in June.

Twenty Midland representatives attended the Fort Worth meeting, returning with high praise for entertainment and programs given by the Fort Worth club members, also for the support given the Midland candidate by Rotarians from all parts of the sixty-four district. With 1,100 registrations, the conference at Fort Worth was the largest in history of the district and was declared to be most outstanding in point of programs and entertainment features.

BEHIND THE SCENES

—IN—

WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Among the army of American industrialists, the New Deal finally has found one who is willing to provide factory employment for dwellers on a federal subsistence homestead.

The great grief of the original $25,000,000 homestead program has been the fact that although a score or more of the projects were designed as industrial-agricultural communities, whose success would depend on the presence of factories to provide part-time employment and cash income for homesteaders, manufacturers have failed to move in.

The ice has now been broken at Mrs. Roosevelt's pet Arthurdale projects at Reedsville, W. Va. Julius Tuteur, president of the Electric Vacuum Cleaner Co. of Cleveland, O., has signed up to open an assembly plant for his product at Arthurdale. He will lease the government-built factory there from the Arthurdale Association, homesteaders' co-operative group, and employ 40 or 50 of the War of Extermination Waged by The Japanese Against Religion

TOKIO, May 6.—Japan is busily engaged in trying to tear up, root and branch, a religion that is believed to have 2,000,000 followers. There are about 20,000 in the capital alone.

The "prophet" of the religion, Waniaburo Deguchi, is behind bars, facing a series of charges, including disrespect of the emperor.

The work of seizing and wrecking 1200 buildings and shrines of the religion throughout the empire is under way.

The religion, called Omotokyo, appears to foreign students to be a strange combination of Shintoism, militaristic nationalism, delusions of self-importance, and hypnotism, with borrowings from Christianity, Buddhism, and Christian Science, and a trace of Communism, millennialism, and mysticism.

Started by Widow Omotokyo was started in 1892 by an elderly widow, the town ragpicker of Ayabe, a mountain village. One day she started the village by standing in the center of the main street and shouting "I am the Golden God of Ushitora, the reincarnation of Kunitokorachi no Mikoto." These are powerful gods of the Taoist and Shintoist faiths, respectively.

If it seems strange to Americans that anyone should have paid any attention to this, they need only think a little about Father Divine. So the people of Ayabe began to take the widow seriously, especially when she began scribbling an endless series of complex writings that nobody could understand.

Sect Starts to Grow Scholars tolled at interpreting them, and out of their labors came volumes of prophecies about a great rain of 75 days, about the end of the world (in 1922; it didn't happen) and about approaching Japanese supremacy over the world, including universal adoption of the Japanese language.

The sect began to grow. Many efforts were made to halt it, for edu-ated Japanese generally regarded it as a hodge-podge of mass-delusion.

The founder, the widow Nao Deguchi, was arrested. Thousands of copies of the "Book of Flames," the gospel of the cult, were seized by police, and further distribution was forbidden.

In 1918, the founder died, but the cult grew further into a wide-spread religion.

Weird Rumors Circulate Rumors flew across Japan concerning mysterious doings at the shrines of Omotokyo—tales of wealthy devotees of the cult who disappeared mysteriously and were never seen again, funds provided from unknown sources, a magic spring in the central temple at Ayabe, miraculous cures, strange ceremonies when the massed worshippers felt themselves possessed of devils.

The religion spread like a forest fire, and began attracting many military and naval members, drawn no doubt, by its emphasis on aggressive Japanese tactics in international affairs and on eventual Japanese world supremacy. Army and navy leaders, many of them retired, who belong to the cult helped to resist all attempts of authorities to suppress it.

The government several times arrested numbers of the priests of the cult and held them with or without charges for days. Umeno Deguchi, sister of Waniaburo and a "high priestess" of the cult, has also frequently been arrested.

Leaders Await Trial But despite all this, the new religion continued to advance. Now the Home Office is embarked on its most strenuous effort to exterminate the queer cult.

Waniaburo Deguchi, the present leader, and seven of his close associates, are awaiting criminal trial. Deguchi is charged with having used the imperial crest, a grave offense in Japan. But most serious is the allegation that he claims to be the reincarnation of certain of the primitive gods of Japan, who preceded the sun-goddess, considered to be the ancestress of the present imperial family. Deguchi lived on a mountain above one of the imperial tombs.

Whether the attempt to suppress a religion of 2,000,000 followers is a success, only time will tell. Skeptical Japanese intellectuals believe the cult will persist in one form or another as Japan's particular manifestation of the spiritual unrest that is seen in almost every country in the world.

Snake Bites Cause Many State Deaths AUSTIN, Texas.—Spring fever, that seasonal malady which accompanies the first warm days and early blossoms, has become more or less of an epidemic, Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, reminds the citizens of Texas with some suggested precautions.

The most outstanding symptom of spring fever is the urge felt by both old and young to get into the open as often as possible. While people are getting all the benefits possible from contact with Mother Nature, Dr. Brown urges the use of common sense precaution.

Some Plain Speaking During the war and after, Harliee says, marines occupied the Dominican Republic so agencies of the National City Bank, "cleaning up dividends of more than 1000 per cent a year" on sugar, could control the government. "I found the only 'bandits' were those engaged by the bank to deplete on all properties except its own."

This From a Marine! Col. William C. Harliee of Dillon, S. C., has announced as an anti-New Deal candidate against Senator Jimmy Byrnes. The most remarkable thing about Harliee is the fact that he was 35 years in the marine corps, became a high offi-

Spiritual leader of 2,000,000 followers of the Japanese cult of Omotokyo, Waniaburo Deguchi is seen here with his wife, leaning from a train window after their arrest. Deguchi is charged with having used the imperial crest, and with having claimed to be the reincarnation of certain of the primitive gods of Japan.

"Some of the glamour has been taken from the shining hole by the modern world," Dr. Brown said, "but it is more than offset by the sanitation and safety devices which promote health and save lives. Swimming now can be learned by everyone, without the needless sacrifice of lives and without the constant threat of typhoid fever which is a hazard of every out of the way swimming place."

"With the first excursions into woods and fields in quest of wild flowers, everybody should remember that about 75 per cent of snake bites occur on the lower extremities, as they have in many sections, it is a hazard of every out of the way swimming place."

"If one should be bitten by a rattlesnake, prompt action is necessary and a physician should be obtained as soon as possible. No time should be lost in removing the poison by suction. Apply a tourniquet above the wound and make cross-cut incisions over the fang marks. Suction should be applied for at least half an hour. The most dangerous fluid is farthest away from the wound; its absorption must be prevented as it is the source of the systemic poisoning. Release tourniquet every 10 or 15 minutes for about a minute at a time.

"Obtain the services of a physician at the earliest possible moment."

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

We had 2,125 poll taxes paid this time, not counting the 60 and overs. If most of these votes are cast we could get as many delegates as seven for the next democratic convention. Let's keep that in mind and not overlook the general election voting next fall.

The local Rotarians got their job done again, with the election of Fred Wemple as governor of the district. A year ago the conference met here and was one of the best in the organization's history. Although Midland is the farthest west of all the clubs in the district, it has been getting away with a good deal.

A boy asked his dad what is a lawyer and the old man said a lawyer is a man who induces two men to strip for a fight and then runs off with their clothes.

Sharp Reduction in Pecan Crop Is Noted

SAN ANGELO, Texas. (AP)—A sharp reduction in the pecan crop of the state due to frost and cold is predicted by West Texas pecan experts.

Mickey Stephens of Lometa, who has about 750,000 pounds in storage, estimates a 10 percent loss in native trees and 75 percent loss in the crop from budded trees. Roy Bagley, San Saba buyer, believes the crop this year will be only 25 percent. Bagley said when the pecans send out their leaves before the blossoms, as they have in many sections, it means short production. Bagley last year had 1,000,000 pounds of pecans bought on the trees in August. He has no nuts in storage this year.

Peeping Toms Use Plane SAN JOSE, Cal. (AP)—Peeping Toms have taken to the air here. Police are looking for one who swooped down close over an apartment house where several young women were taking a sun bath.

Mr. and Mrs. Aycock Celebrate Fiftieth Year of Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Aycock celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary with a dinner for a small group of relatives at their home, 321 E Kentucky, Tuesday.

Friends called during the day to offer congratulations and gifts were presented to the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Aycock were married at Sweetwater, May 5, 1886, with the Rev. J. A. Moore, a pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Mrs. Aycock was Miss Maude West before her marriage. The young couple came to Midland in 1889, where Mr. Aycock engaged first in the mercantile business and later in ranching, having followed the latter occupation for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Aycock have four living children, Mr. West Aycock and Mrs. Bob White of Midland, Mrs. Forrest King of Stanton, and Mr. Thos. F. Aycock of California. Mrs. King and daughter, Dorothy Jean, were out-of-town visitors for the anniversary observance.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Among the colored glasses, our favorite had always been green—a cool and restful yet somehow cheerful color. But our allegiance is wavering since we've seen some of the clear, deep blue glass dishes which are so pretty and yet not expensive.

We don't believe that old story about Atlanta being drawn from her path with golden apples artfully thrown. We're sure the distractions were new clothes. We never get to the point where we feel that we MUST start saving fare for a vacation trip, but that we find some new article of clothing that it is simply necessary for us to have.

From the fashion stories, suits bid fair to be ranking favorites for wear well into the hot months as well as during the cool-and-warm days of spring. Suits are practical and they seem specially made for business women in their crisp matter-of-factness.

The Centennial is certainly focusing attention on certain hitherto-overlooked items of historical interest. Midland citizens have passed by the doors of the Pliska blacksmith shop hundreds of times and probably most have never given more than a cursory glance at them. Doubtless if they had, they would have characterized the array of cattle brands burned upon them as untidy.

But J. Evetts Haley, who has a faculty for seeing the interesting and the historically worth-while in commonplace things, remembered the doors when collecting relics for display at the University museum of which he is director. He sent word to Midland that he wanted them for the Centennial exhibit.

So the doors which have weathered the sandstorms and winds, rains and droughts of thirty years, which have seen Midland pass from the era of the horse and buggy to the car and the airplane age, have taken a long journey to Austin.

Admiring visitors will exclaim over them as picturesque and unique and "romantically Western" no doubt. And—we have a feeling the old doors will be laughing to themselves.

North Ward PTA Installs New Officers

New officers for the North Ward PTA for next school year were installed in a meeting held recently. They are: President, Mrs. W. R. Hamilton; vice president, Mrs. J. P. Butler; secretary, Mrs. Earl Moran; treasurer, Mrs. R. M. Barron.

The annual Summer Roundup has been postponed until fall.

Mrs. E. R. Thomas, principal, has requested that at the opening of school all worn children's clothing that mothers may have on hand be brought to her for distribution to needy children.

The room taught by Miss Dawn White won a picture as a permanent award for having most mothers present.

About 45 members were in attendance at the final meeting.

Naomi Class Plans Cloverdale Picnic For Children

Mrs. W. P. Knight was hostess to the Naomi class for a business and social meeting at her home, 1002 W Missouri Tuesday evening.

Plans were made to entertain under-pivileged children at a picnic at Cloverdale on Wednesday, May 13, each class member being expected to invite two children. The party will gather on the courthouse lawn at 6 o'clock in the afternoon. The following committees were appointed to make arrangements for the picnic: Refreshments, Mrs. Tom Nance, Mrs. Knight, Miss Dimple DuBois; transportation, Mrs. L. H. Tiffin, Mrs. Carl W. Covington; entertainment, Mrs. S. M. Laughlin, Miss Drotha Johnson.

It was announced that a special Mother's Day program will be presented at the class meeting Sunday.

Other business matters were also discussed.

Present were: Meses. Cotter Hiett, R. R. Cowan, R. L. Mitchell, W. C. Maxwell, Miss Joyce Hollman, Miss Dimple DuBois, Meses. M. J. Nolan, E. A. Hoffman, Covington, W. P. Collins, Laughlin, A. E. Horst, Tiffin, Miss Virgie Locklar, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Nance and the hostess.

Wesley Bible Class Meets on Tuesday

The Wesley Bible class of the Methodist Sunday School met in the home of Mrs. M. J. Allen Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock for a social and business meeting.

The devotional was led by Mrs. E. B. Patterson.

Mrs. M. D. Johnson, president of the class, conducted the business meeting.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and Meses. M. A. Ulmer and Paschall as cohostesses to the following members: Meses. F. H. Wilmoth, J. M. Hughes, Merrill, W. T. Beauchamp, J. E. Feeler, M. V. Coleman, Hall, Vest, Jackson, E. B. Patterson, M. D. Johnson.

Mrs. Walsh Hostess To Edelweiss Club At Bridge Party

In courtesy to the Edelweiss club, Mrs. W. T. Walsh entertained with an afternoon of bridge at her home, 605 N. Big Spring, Tuesday. Playing appointments for the four tables laid for the games were in keeping with the Centennial theme favored by hostesses this year.

Club guests were Mrs. M. B. Arlick, Mrs. Russell Barbour, and Mrs. Tex Crawford.

Mrs. Tom Nance scored high for the club in the afternoon's play and Mrs. Roy Parks held second high score. Mrs. Barbour held high score for guest.

At the tea hour, a party plate was served to: Meses. Arick, Barbour, Crawford, Clyde Cowden, J. L. Crump, John Dublin, J. R. Martin, E. Hayden Miles, Nance, Parks, Hal Peck, Foy Proctor, Harvey Sloan, J. M. Speed, Maymie Stokes, Miss Leona McCormick, and the hostess.

RURAL SCHOOLS

Preparation is being made for commencement exercises at Prairie Lee school.

Students took part in the health program at the Yucca theatre last Friday, presenting the play, "The Lens Maker" and the song, "The Quest for Health." About 40 pupils from the school attended the program.

Miss Jewel Midkiff and two students, J. D. Hart from the athletic department and Raymond Wright from the literary department attended the state meet at Austin.

The school board held an official session on Tuesday of last week, discussing routine matters.

Fairie Lee will hold open house and present a program Friday afternoon. All patrons are invited to attend. Prin. A. M. Bryant said.

Mischa Elman Is on Ford Sunday Hour

Mischa Elman, brilliant Russian violinist, will be guest artist with the Ford Symphony Orchestra and Chorus, under the direction of Victor Kolar on Sunday, May 10. The program will be broadcast from 9 to 10 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time (8 to 9 Eastern Standard Time) over the entire coast-to-coast network of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Mr. Elman was born in Stalnoje, Russia, and at the age of five gave his first public performance. Hearing him play, Professor Leopold Auer sensed the boy's genius and he became one of Auer's most brilliant pupils, studying at the Imperial Conservatory in St. Petersburg. After sensational triumphs in Europe, Mr. Elman made his American debut in New York in 1908, at the age of 17, with the Russian Symphony Orchestra. Since then he has given concerts throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and South America which have been received with enthusiasm. Critics acclaim him "the consummate virtuoso."

"The orchestra will open the broadcast with Auer's overture to 'Marsello.' Mr. Elman, accompanied by the orchestra, will present the Andante and Finale of the "Concerto in G Minor for Violin and Orchestra" by Bruch. Following this the orchestra and chorus will be heard in the "Hunting Song" by Gilchrist. Closing the first portion of the program the orchestra will present "Entrance of the Boyards" by Halvorsen.

The second portion will be opened by a group of three numbers played by Mr. Elman with piano accompaniment, including "Hungarian Dance No. 7" by Brahms-Joachim, "Cavatina" by Roff, and the familiar "Turkey in the Straw" by Manen. "Salome Dance" by Glazounov, played by the orchestra, will precede the closing song by Henry, "Love of Our Mothers," presented by orchestra and chorus.

During the program another short talk on current affairs will be presented by W. J. Cameron of the Ford Motor company.

It is said that the average American spends $6 a year on medicine.

Three Brothers Are Winners of Awards

OTTAWA, Kan. (U.P.)—The Lyons brothers of this town appear to have a monopoly on the Leopold Schep Foundation awards.

Carl Lyons sophomore at Ottawa University received a $100 scholarship for having lived up to the pledge of the foundation's standards for youth for three years. A second brother, Emery Lyons junior at the school, previously received $200 from the foundation, and a 3rd brother, senior in Sioux Falls, S. D., College, also a $200 award.

TWO things above all are worth looking at carefully before you choose your new car. One is the real dollar value and motoring satisfaction you are going to get for your money. The other is the price of the car delivered and in your garage ready to drive. Here you see the low delivered price of a new Ford V-8. If you will drive this 1936 Ford car, you will also see at once how much greater value it gives you than even Ford has ever offered before. In performance, safety, comfort, and beauty, it is by far the finest Ford car ever built.

The Sports Horn

By JESS RODGERS

Odessa vs. Crane, at 4:30 today on the Odessa diamond... Should be a good game... Odessa is serious about having a good team this year... A prominent Odessan tells us, however, that the team will not last the season unless better patronage is received... Their attendance so far has been remarkable by its smallness... Nothing new on the situation here... Bill Duncan, McCamey stand-by for several seasons, has started a damn good quarrel in the Permian Basin League... Duncan, after spending the training season with Oklahoma City but could not make the grade... He then returned to McCamey and offered to pitch for that club if they would find him something to do, or so it is reported... Backers of the club rented a pool hall for $50 per month and placed him in charge and advanced him $15 in cash, whereupon, Duncan went on the mound for the club one time, letting the weak Wink team beat him 11-1, and then jumped to the Crane Oilers... The league, however, has a ruling that forces a man transferring from one club to another in the league to sit on the bench for three weeks before he can play again... McCamey has refused to give Duncan his release, and has appealed to Prexy Collyns to see that they get the $65 they spent back in the treasury before allowing Duncan to play with the Crane club... In all probabilities, Collyns will do just that... Without being called a dictator Collyns should have some authority over the conduct of the players when not playing if their actions are a detriment to the league... "Gentleman Jim" Wakefield, for many years wrestling promoter extraordinary in Abilene has sold out there and admits that he is interested in starting the sport up in Midland... I'll pass his question to me along to you... "Do you think it would go over in this town...?"

Detroit Track To Use Saliva Test at Meet

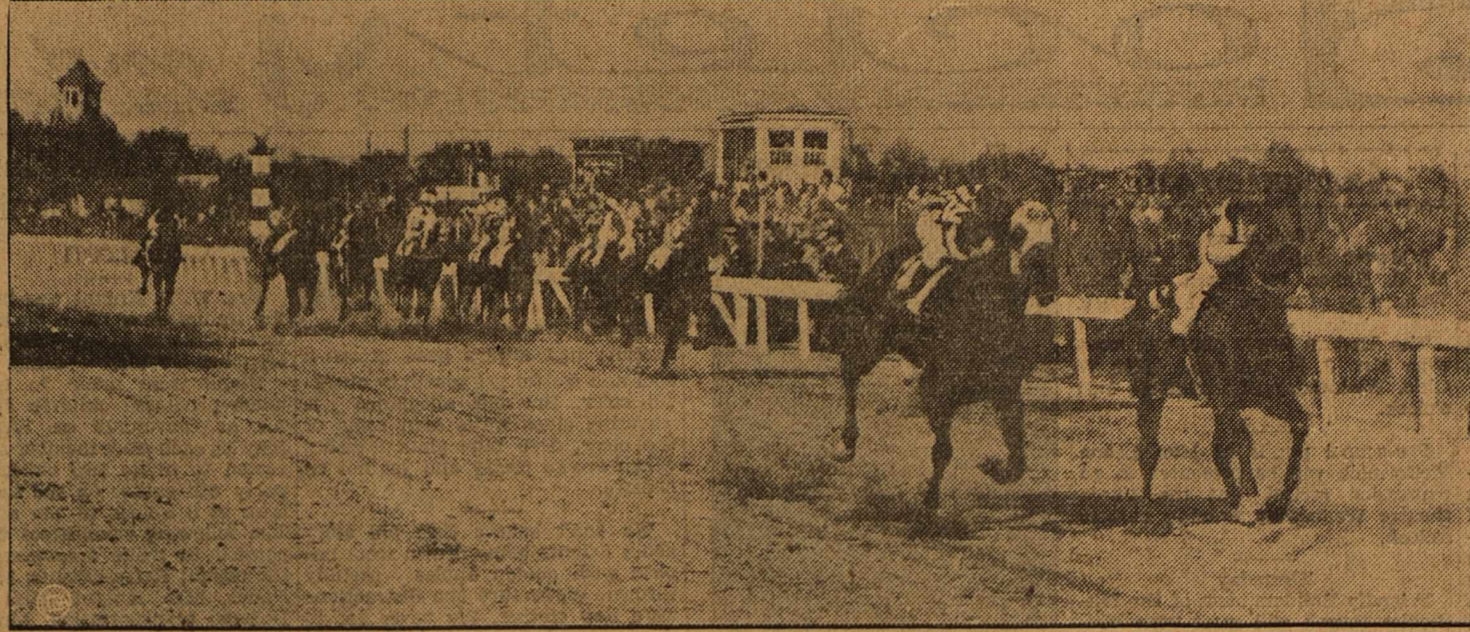

DETROIT, (UP)—Use of stimulants for race horses at Detroit's Fair Grounds track will be taboo under an order handed down by Joseph D. Frost, Michigan racing commissioner... With Fair Grounds being groomed for the opening of the spring meeting May 23, Frost announced that every horse winning a race will be subjected to the universal saliva test... He will be assisted in his campaign against stimulants by Harry J. Anslinger, federal narcotics commissioner, and Ralph H. Oyler, federal narcotics supervisor in Detroit... Saliva samples from all winning horses will be sent to a New York laboratory maintained by the federal narcotic bureau, where all tests will be made... Meanwhile Workmen are busy at the Fair Grounds plant preparing the stables and track for the spring meeting. Several Michigan horsemen already have begun transporting their charges to the grounds... Before the 3-day meeting closes July 4, purses amounting to $198,000 and stakes totalling $55,000 will be distributed to winners... Seven stake races are on the program, opening with the $5,000 Wolverine Handicap on the inaugural program and closing with the $2,000 Woodward Stakes on July 4... The $25,000 Detroit Derby, richest race of the meeting, will be held on June 13... The Detroit Racing Association plans to install a camera system for recording not only the correct finish of each race but the entire progress of each event from the starting barrier... A similar system in use this season at Santa Anita is regarded as a great improvement over the electrical eye... With the camera system, film records of the entire race are made available to stewards shortly after each event for decisions on starts, foul claims and finishes... Use The Classifieds!

Citrus Growers Will Get RRA Loan Funds

DONNA, Texas, (AP)—Citrus growers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley will continue to receive loans from the Rural Resettlement Administration... J. W. Evans of Donna, district supervisor for the R. R. At the same time, he added, the newly inaugurated community service loans, granted on a co-operative basis, are beginning to be approved... When summoned for being in arrears with his taxes, a man in Liverpool, Eng., stated that his only asset was a lion... Use The Classifieds!

INTRIGUE STAMPS AUSTRIA AS DANGER SPOT; NAZIS BORING IN FOR POWER

Espionage Rampant, Propaganda Showers Down, Murders Charged in State With Army of 35,000

VIENNA, May 5 (UP)—The ceaseless, sinister struggle to make of Austria and its 7,000,000 inhabitants a second Nazi State under the domination of Fuehrer Adolf Hitler goes on daily with ever increasing vigor and fury, it is apparent here... To the West, statesmen talk and plan, propose and counter-propose in an effort to settle Europe's ills, which most of them appear to believe center mainly in the vital Rhineland zone... In Austria, the government and people, as well as most intelligent observers, are convinced that the danger—the weak link in Europe's structure—lies within this country's orbit... Life in Austria today is reminiscent of the exciting, breathless days in Germany when Hitler was riding toward victory, but had still no certainty that he and his Brown Shirts would achieve it... Without any war being declared, Austria is a battleground. Just under cover of normal affairs, a continual whispering campaign is carried on. Mostly inspired by the Nazis and backed up, according to the Government, by funds supplied from Berlin, these rumors are counteracted by the Socialists and Communists... The latter are not only out to fight the Nazis, but aspire for power themselves, fearless of the fate of their former leaders who were hanged after the failure of the Socialist rising in February, 1934, when the government turned guns on the workers' dwellings... Wholesale Arrests Made... Espionage, sectional battles, wholesale arrests, even murders figure in the political melodrama now being played in Austria... More than a hundred arrests followed the recent murder in Carinthia, in South Austria, of two former Nazi storm troopers... They had turned traitor to the Nazi cause, said the Austrian police, and they were killed by Hitler's supporters... Austrian authorities have a name for such crimes. They are "Feme murders"—part of the Nazi creed of stilling the voice of the traitor forever... The Hitler Swastika is illegal in Austria. Officially it may fly only on one building—the German Legation occupied by former Reich Military Attache to the United States, Herr Franz von Papen. But planes suddenly appear in the sky and scatter tiny swastikas over the streets. Once, the Nazis broadcast paper swastikas. They have learned since then. Now their swastikas are made of metal; they are harder to get rid of... Anyone who is seen picking up one of these tiny symbols of Hitlerism is subject to arrest. The same fate awaits anyone found in possession of any of the Red Front leaflets circulated by the Socialists and Communists... Foreign Spies Busy... Spies abound throughout Austria, working either for the government, for the Nazis or for the Red Front, if not for any of the foreign powers who are interested in knowing what is going on, under cover, in this politics-riven country... One day a former Chancellor goes to jail as a Nazi; the next day a police chief is arrested by his own men as a conspirator; while on scores of occasions the authorities break in on so-called social events and rush the merry-makers off to prison or concentration camp because of alleged Nazi or Socialist activities... The Austrian government, under Chancellor Kurt von Schuschnigg, former lawyer who took over office when Chancellor Engelbert

Dollfus, midget dictator, was murdered by Nazi plotters in July, 1934, has now a firm grip on the country... It knows it cannot stop the ceaseless agitation and, perhaps not even political murder. But it is aware that it is powerful enough to snuff out any revolt within the nation's frontiers either by the Nazis or Red fighters... External Aggression Feared... It fears, however, external aggression. The government spokesmen avow that they dread the time may come when Austria will be taken by force into the Nazi fold by invasion across the undefended Austrian frontier... Officially the frontier is defended, but only by a handful of Austria's total army of 36,000 men, which is not strong enough to stand up against the military might of a great power... Premier Benito Mussolini has pledged help to Austria if it is menaced from abroad, but the Austrian government feels even with the aid of Italy's Black Shirt army the danger is great and that the Western Powers must hasten to take effective steps to solve a problem which is held to overshadow the Rhineland question as a peace or war issue... An epitaph in an Enosburg (Vt.) cemetery reads: "In memory of Anna Hopewell. Here lies the body of our Anna, done to death by a banana; it wasn't the fruit that laid her low, but the skin of the thing that made her go."

Val Verde Offering Primitive Man Study

DEL RIO, Texas, (AP)—A tremendous opportunity for study of primitive people is seen by Dr. W. C. Holden of Texas Technological College in a cave on the Pecos river in Val Verde county. The cave is in a limestone cliff overlooking the river. Wiley Puckett, who explored the cave in 1913, escorted Dr. Holden through. The 10-foot high entrance is 200 feet above the river bed and 60 feet below the top of the cliff. The average height is 12 feet. Signs of long occupancy was indicated in the pile of ashes at the doorway... Yucca culture was the classification given by Dr. Holden to the people who inhabited the cave. Flint pieces, evidently used in shredding yucca, were found. Two types of matting and several shafts of cane and sticks for stretching hides were found. No burial places were located. Dr. Holden said the smaller caves in the vicinity may have been used for burials, as was the practice of primitive people of the section.

The first U. S. secretary of agriculture was Jeremiah McLean Rusak, who served under President Harrison from 1889 to 1893.

Two Cities Will Bid For '37 Convention

AMARILLO, May 6.—Bids for the 1937 convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be submitted by at least two delegations to Amarillo—Brownwood and Wichita Falls.

Brownwood withdrew last year in favor of Amarillo at the Plainview convention. Both Brownwood and Wichita Falls will bring large delegations to Amarillo, traveling by special trains. Both, too, will bring bands.

The convention contenders each year furnish special entertainment throughout the three-day meetings. Amarillo, the host city this year, made strong bids at two previous conventions, San Angelo and Plainview—before landing the meeting for the first time in 10 years.

The 1926 convention was held here and at that time Amarillo had to build a tent city to house the visitors and delegates.

The 1926 convention is May 11-13.

THESE THREE with Miriam and Merle HOPKINS- OBERON JOEL MCCREA. SAMUEL GOLDWYN presents. Screenplay by LILLIAN HELLMAN. Directed by WILLIAM WYLER. Released thru UNITED ARTISTS.

What Has Gone Before Karen and Karen have just graduated from Eastern Womens College. Gloomily they survey the future. Karen is alone in the world. Martha has, unfortunately, her aunt, Mrs. Mortar. They decide to open a private school in an old farmhouse left to Karen by a grandmother. The place has gone to seed, but a chance acquaintance Dr. Cardin, prevails on them to renovate it. Dr. Cardin is obviously attracted to Karen. Chapter Two. Martha was busily engaged ripping the old wall paper from the main hall when she heard the familiar chug of Dr. Cardin's car. Her face lit up, but she continued briskly at her task. Dr. Cardin grinned when he saw her. "I remember you," he said, "when your face was clean." They were chatting gaily when Karen's voice came from the top landing of the staircase. "That you, Joe?" she called. "Come on lazy, I need help." Cardin responded with too obvious alacrity. Martha's face grew sad, and slowly she returned to her task. A new source of grief awaited her. The sound of a car was again heard along the road, and soon a cherubic head poked into the open window and a chirping voice called into the room. "Hello Hello, Hello!" It was Mrs. Mortar. Martha tried hard, but unsuccessfully, to make her greeting cordial. Karen came down the stairs with Dr. Cardin. They were carrying a chair between them. Karen dropped her end of the chair at the sight of Mrs. Mortar. But that lady was delighted. "How well you look," she said to because of Mary's delight in scandal. And then there was the incident of a gold bracelet that was missing and hadn't been found. Karen went marketing that day, and it was the most natural thing in the world that she should find herself in the afternoon sipping a soda with Dr. Cardin. "You look tired", Cardin said suddenly. "Take a vacation with me this afternoon. It's what you need. I know just the place to go." "No. Certainly not," said Karen sternly and prissily. "I've got to go back." "Why do you have to go back? Chickens can wait." "No, they can't. I've got to—". Cardin lifted her bodily from the stool before she could finish the sentence, and started hurriedly for the door. The soda clerk jumped from behind the counter and solicitously opened the door. "Bad, Doc?" the clerk inquired, pointing to Karen, who was kicking and protesting. "No," Cardin answered. "A mild fit." Despite the fact that she had been virtually kidnapped, Karen enjoyed herself tremendously at the country fair where Dr. Cardin had taken her. She rode on the merry-go-round danced like a little girl through all the exhibits, and gorged herself on cake and ice-cream. But strangely enough, the merrier she grew, the gloomier Dr. Cardin became. He had been trying to speak seriously about something all afternoon, but Karen had been in no mood to listen to him. Until, finally, she noticed a sharpness in his tone towards her. She was surprised, but too happy to be angry. "What's the matter with you?" she asked. "This is what's the matter with me," Cardin fairly shouted. "I'm in love with you. I've been trying to tell you for an hour. Now, I'm tired out, see, and I can't tell you—". (To Be Continued)

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Reporter-Telegram. Oil contracts with the state as they now exist will kill our fish and mar the beauty of our great coastline. Oil companies are getting permits to drill in our gulf and bays and are preparing to use dynamite in some of their operations. If they get the oil, the waters will be sprayed with the greasy fluid. What will the dynamite and oil do to our fish? What will the oil derricks do to the beauty of our waters and the beaches? There is plenty of land in Texas for experimentation. In fact we have limited the number of acres on which wells may be drilled. Why, therefore, permit the purity and beauty of our waters to be destroyed and the fish killed? We know it is illegal to pollute the waters. That would seem to be a protection, but can you drill an oil well in a waterway without letting loose some oil, although each well may have the latest automatic valves? This question, as I am often asked, is not up to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission but is given direct from the State and all we can do is voice our disapproval and when Legislature meets next January, urge upon the legislators to give us further relief and to pass and exact laws to that effect. The state organization of Texas sportsmen passed a resolution at their May meeting in Austin disapproving of the above, as have the Isaac Walton Leagues, and many other organizations and especially those living nearer the coast and South Texas. Yes, it is possible that the recreational advantages can be eliminated for the people of Texas and that our beloved gulf may cease to be a playground and source of enjoyment as of the past. Mrs. Hal C. Peck, State Game Commission.

Don't Flirt, Typists Advised

PROVO, Utah. (AP)—Helen Hansen of Lehi high school and Marjorie Stevens, Millard county high, inter-mountain commercial contest champions, said refraining from "flirting with the boss" is one of the prime requisites of a good stenographer. Toads six inches long and three inches wide were discovered in South America by Dr. C. W. Parsons, of the University of Glasgow.

Alaska Seen As Sheep Country

SEWARD, Alaska. (AP)—Western Alaska will become a great cattle and sheep country, J. S. Hersey, prominent meat packer from Tacoma, Wash., predicted on a visit here. This region is free from burrs and other wool entangling impediments, he pointed out. In Argentina, American motion pictures hold a dominant position. German films rank second, French third, and Spanish fourth.

is any oil any different? Eat up distance, but not your bearings Get alloyed oil... and you'll get the difference Ask your wife. The least little heat makes smoke out of some of the oily substances she puts in her frying pan. They vanish double quick, while others stay put. That's the sort of difference your hilliest hot-weather drive will show you in Germ Processed, the alloyed oil. Patented. It not only stays up around "Full," but stays right up in every working surface of your engine. Yes, the pistons, cylinders, valve gear, and any types of bearings ever used, can really take in this alloyed oil. You might say they become lastingly, smoothly "oil-glazed." And you can see that this added sleek oil-surfacing, together with the high-durability Germ Processed oil-film, easily doubles your guard against summer grief. Now when you want to go farthest fastest, get Conoco Germ Processed oil—the alloyed oil. Continental Oil Company. CONOCO GERM PROCESSED OIL Drive to Texas Centennial—this year's greatest show.
