A Laugh at Mellon's Expense

The laugh was on Andrew Mellon, former Secretary of the Treasury, when he went to Englewood, N. J., to attend the wedding of his nephew, Richard K. Mellon to Mrs. Constance Prosser McCaulley, for he was temporarily locked out and had to scurry from door to door to get into the church. Which may account for the unbridled merriment of the child who watches the chauffeur help Mellon with his coat.

WEISS CONFESSES KIDNAPING PLOT; OTHERS SOUGHT

Says Parker Offered To Get Him Job As Trooper

BROOKLYN, April 29 (AP)—Harry Weiss, 28, taxicab driver was held on $50,000 bail today on an indictment charging kidnap and assault of Paul Wendel, whose "confession" to the Lindbergh kidnaping delayed Bruno Hauptmann's execution three days.

Weiss entered a plea of innocent when arraigned today. Earlier, district attorney Geoghan said that Weiss had confessed his part in the kidnaping and named Ellis Parker Jr., son of the famed New Jersey detective, as the "finger man."

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan of Brooklyn announced Tuesday night that Harry Weiss, arrested early today in Youngstown, Ohio, had confessed he took part in the kidnaping of Attorney Paul H. Wendel because Ellis Parker Jr., New Jersey detective's son, had promised he would be made a state trooper if the abduction were carried out.

Parker also was sought by Brooklyn authorities. Weiss was brought here by train from the Ohio city where he was found by Assistant District Attorney Francis A. Madden, Weiss' wife, Mrs. Lily Weiss and the fugitive's attorney, former Magistrate Joseph Goldstein of Brooklyn.

In a joint interview Geoghan and Madden described Weiss' story as follows: He and others led in person by Parker, seized Wendel at a Manhattan hotel. When Weiss expressed worry about the five policemen who were pacing the sidewalks nearby watching snow removal crews, Parker told his companions: "Don't worry. If those policemen come over here I will show them my badge."

Weiss was quoted by Madden as saying he fled from Brooklyn to Ohio about March 27 after reading in a newspaper that the extreme penalty for kidnaping in New York state was death.

The letters were mailed to John D. Jones, local theater owner. He was asked to pay $1000 to their writers as instructed in the four letters.

Threats were made of blowing up his theaters, damaging his business and otherwise harming him and members of his family in the event he failed to pay off as demanded.

ROOSEVELT AND LANDON LEADING ON CONTESTS OF RESPECTIVE PARTIES

Borah and Breckenridge Trail Far Back of Pair In Primaries in Mass. And Pennsylvania

By Associated Press
Presidential preference primaries in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts yesterday found President Roosevelt and Governor Alf M. Landon leading on contests in their respective parties on the basis of early returns.

In the Pennsylvania democratic primaries, returns from 1,534 of the 793 districts gave Mr. Roosevelt 150,635 and Colonel Henry Breckenridge 9,252. In the republican preference of the Keystone state, Senator Borah of Idaho, unopposed, had 94,184 in 1,653 districts.

The Massachusetts republican primaries brought these figures from the first 341 districts out of 1529 including 24 in Boston: Landon, 12,035; Borah 714; Herbert Hoover 1114; Colonel Frank Knox of Chicago 2,371; Senator Vandenberg of Michigan 325.

The name of President Roosevelt was found on two republican ballots at Dudley, Mass.

While the vote remained light, there apparently was more interest than in the 1932 presidential preference primary.

A spokesman for Colonel Frank Knox of Chicago, a candidate for the republican presidential nomination, said no effort had been made on the part of Knox supporters in Massachusetts.

Essex republicans wrote the name of Alf M. Landon, Kansas governor, on 49 ballots. They gave U. S. Senators William E. Borah of Idaho, and Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, Colonel Knox and former President Herbert Hoover two preference votes each.

Supporters of Borah, Vandenberg and Hoover, as in the case of Knox backers, have done no appreciable campaigning in Massachusetts.

Bay state voters may express their preference for president, but their vote is not binding upon national convention delegates.

Police Arrest Group Planning to Take Control

BUDAPEST, April 29 (AP)—Police announced today that they had uncovered, by simultaneous raids in several districts, a Nazi plot to engineer a putsch about May first.

Eighteen Nazi leaders, including Dr. Zoltan Boszormenyi, reputed to be national chief of the movement, were arrested.

Police said they learned the Nazis had planned to disguise themselves in Hungarian army uniforms and assume charge of troops in the capitol. They said they had learned that rural Nazi sympathizers had been ordered to come to Budapest May first.

LARGE CROWD AT LEGION MEETING

Important Business Is Completed in Late Session

Commander James H. Goodman of the Woods W. Lynch post of the American Legion announced today that the regular meeting last night was well attended and that much important business was completed.

In addition to the regular business, final plans for the sixteenth district convention here on May 9-10 were worked out with District Executive Committeeman M. L. Hopson of Alpine who was among those present.

The Sunday morning open meeting will have four outstanding speakers: Col. E. O. Thompson, chairman for the railroad commission; State Adjutant Fred Young, Committeeman M. L. Hopson and wife, Mrs. Edith Hopson, of Alpine.

Commander Goodman today asked that all churches in the town send their Legion in making it the greatest memorial and Mother's day service ever held in West Texas.

A number of state as well as department Legion officials have signified their intention of being present. The post also wants to take this opportunity, he said, to express its appreciation for cooperation which is receiving in the district and in Midland.

Sanitary Survey Is Made By Health Com.

A sanitary survey made by the negro health committee of the "Flats," shows 43 families and 129 individuals. Twenty-one of these families have no water on the premises, and sanitary toilets are limited.

It was found that fourteen families make use of three sanitary pit toilets built during the state department's CWA pit toilet campaign, that two unsanitary toilets are being used, and that one water closet used by the cafe, tailor shop, barber shop and beauty shop drains into an open cess pool.

Only nine houses are in need of screens, and the majority of them have electric lights. Only seven families take milk regularly.

Mrs. H. N. Phillips, acting chairman of the negro health work of the Midland County public health board stated in regard to this report: "With a little help, encouragement, and cooperation from the citizenship of Midland, the negroes can clear up their community and make sanitary conditions what they should be. They are anxious to improve their health surroundings."

"It is vitally important that the citizenship of Midland concern themselves with the health of the negro and Mexican communities for it is from them that we get our cooks and nursemaids."

FORMER MIDLAND GIRL DIES TODAY

Mrs. Jack Geaslin, 19, Succumbs in Odessa To Illness

Mrs. Jack Geaslin, 19, better known to Midland friends as the former Miss Francine Fowler, died at Odessa this morning at 4 o'clock. She is survived by her husband, a month-old baby daughter, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fowler, who formerly resided in Midland. She was returned to the hospital about 10 days ago, friends said, after an earlier hospital stay.

Funeral services will be held at the Christian church in Odessa either Thursday or Friday, it was learned, but final plans are pending word from relatives in Illinois.

Mrs. Geaslin had gained a wide reputation in this area for her talented work in music. About two years ago she was presented by Miss Lydie G. Watson in a piano recital at the Hotel Scharbauer. In the period of seven years during which she studied under Miss Watson, she was never late to a lesson and was absent only two or three times, the teacher declared.

She graduated from the Odessa High School and later attended Stevens college, at Columbia, Mo. When she was only 16 years old, she was offered the post of assistant director of music in the 100-year-old school.

GOP EFFORTS TO DEFEAT MEASURE ARE UNSUCCESSFUL

Measure Designed To Raise Money for Bonus, Relief

GOES TO SENATE
Consideration of Act Already Begun by Committee

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—The administration's $803,000,000 tax bill was passed by the House today, the heavy Democratic majority crushing the Republican opposition. The bill now goes to the Senate, where the finance committee already has begun consideration.

The bulky measure was designed to raise funds to meet the bonus and farm relief costs, and embraces complete revision of the corporate tax system.

Speaker Byrnes announced the vote as 267 to 93. Only four changes were made in the original measure. All were sponsored by the democratic members of the house ways and means committee, who drafted the program. Not a single dissent could be heard.

Republicans for the most part stood silently by. Only a single republican effort was made to amend the bill. It proved futile.

When a final minority attempt was made to sidetrack the big measure by sending it back to the ways and means committee the proposal was beaten down by a shouted vote.

The bill that will almost certainly go to the senate before nightfall is intended to remodel completely the existing corporation tax structure. (It calls for a graduated tax on undistributed corporation income, designed to raise $20,000,000 of additional annual revenue when coupled with the removal of the present exemption of dividends from the normal 4 per cent income tax. It will seek another $100,000,000 through an 80 per cent "windfall" tax on processors who avoided payment of AAA processing levies. Through deferring the repeal of present excess profits and capital stock taxes another $83,000,000 is anticipated by the treasury.)

SAFETY DRIVE IS GETTING RESULTS

March Highway Tragedies Show Falling Off From Figure in 1935

CHICAGO, April 28.—The nation's campaign to take death off the highways climbed a "startling" peak of success during March—cutting motor tragedy 18 per cent below March, 1935—the national safety council announced today.

The number of lives saved was the highest since the council opened its safety drive, and two and a half times the average set in the council's five-year goal.

R. L. Forney, council statistician, said the March figures brought deaths for the first quarter of 1936 nine per cent below the first three months of 1935. The goal of the campaign is a seven per cent cut each year for five years.

Translated into lives, the quarterly percentage was a saving of 650 individuals. In January, February and March of 1935, death came on the highways to 7500 persons; in the same month of 1936, 6850 persons died.

Mrs. Edith Hopson Discusses Work of Legion Auxiliary at Supper Meeting

Mrs. Edith Hopson of Alpine, wife of the committeeman of the sixteenth district American Legion, presented a brief and interesting account of the varied activities of the Legion Auxiliary to a group of women interested in the Auxiliary work at the home of Mrs. James H. Goodman, 1204 N. Main street, Tuesday evening. The address was given quite informally following a buffet supper in her honor for which wives of Legionnaires were hostesses.

Baskets and vases of larkspur in purple were placed about the entertaining rooms. Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Elliott Barron and Mrs. Goodman, while others in the house-party were: Mmes. Oley A. Kelly, T. Paul Barron, Geo. L. Wright, W. V. Bennett, and Jessie Cole.

Tall spikes of larkspur in the favored colors centered the dining table which was laid with cream-colored Mexican lace. Mexican pottery struck a vivid note in the table service.

Informal friendliness was the note maintained during the meal which was served in buffet style, guests finding seats as they chose on the wide screened porch of the Goodman home.

Mrs. Hopson in her talk brought out the fact that the Auxiliary is a working organization—that it is not and cannot be a social organization, although it sponsors more or less social activity according to the desires of the local units. It is fundamentally a service organization, she said, and spoke briefly of the various projects on which the Auxiliary works including helping with families of hospitalized veterans, child welfare work, aid of war orphans, a community service project for each Auxiliary unit each year, and disaster work.

At Legion, where families of veterans have assembled to the point of there being 700 resident children, the Auxiliary maintains a clinic and four nurses. It aids needy veterans' families at Christmas, sponsors the sale of poppies, and does similar helpful work.

Mrs. Hopson reported that the Legion and Auxiliary often aid citizens in the case of disaster before the Red Cross, hampered by red-tape, can reach the scene. This was exemplified in the floods this year in the East and in earthquake troubles. She discussed the coming sixteenth district convention and named several important officials in Legion and Auxiliary work who plan to be in Midland for the event. Mrs. Hopson made suggestions, also as to entertainment plans for the Legionnaires' wives.

Present besides those named were: Mrs. Clyde Barron, Mrs. Jas. G. Harper, Mrs. Irby Watson, Mrs. Geo. Barham, Mrs. Susie G. Noble, Mrs. Carl W. Covington, and Kathleen Eiland.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Another of those afflictions that make us wonder why they were foisted upon the world is a spring cold.

The winter kind is bad enough but then in winter we resign ourselves, more or less, to the idea of a cold as a necessary but unpleasant accompaniment of the season.

In the spring the disease seems doubly unpleasant since it doesn't seem to fit in with a season of gaiety and activity.

The seated tea with which CIA ex-students are honoring senior High School girls Saturday is a nice courtesy and will be good advertising for the college also.

Excitement always keeps us from being hungry. We wish a little excitement would arise every warm spring afternoon about 3:30 o'clock.

The new wide-brimmed straw hats in pink and white for summer wear are delightful in appearance. One of our seldom-satisfied longings is to wear a big hat. It was rather unkind of Nature in the first place to give us a longing for such headgear and then a physical stature that made them, except in occasional styles, unbecoming to us.

Maybe there is something gloomy after all in the theory of some gloomy writers that Nature delights in playing ghastly jokes on humans and laughing at their subsequent discomfiture.

Mrs. Creech Is Hostess to Club

At the close of the games, a salad course was served to: Mmes. Davis, Prickett, A. E. Horst, S. M. Warren, Bill Van Huss, J. G. Harper, J. J. Kelly, S. O. Cooper, W. N. Thurston, W. P. Knight, E. D. Richardson, Winnie Reese, and the hostess.

Child Likes to Feel She Helps at Home

BY Olive Roberts Barton
Children love to feel that they are helping. It gives them a sense of belonging, of being necessary to the home-life of the group in which they live.

"I don't know how I could get along if Martha didn't dry the dishes for me," a mother will say.

Seven-year-old Martha who has dried two cups and saucers, four orange juice glasses, two milk glasses, four oatmeal bowls, and half a dozen spoons will glow as though some one had lighted a candle and put it back of the blue eyes in her plump little face.

She smooths the sheets at one end while I do it at the other. Bed-making goes twice as fast," another mother will say. In almost no time Mary will start out on a great adventure to see if she can make a bed alone.

Old Folks in Same Plight
You are familiar with old people, whose own active existence is over, who sit in their sons' and daughter's homes, hands folded too often, wishing that they could do something to help. Their uselessness gives them a feeling that they are in the way, desirous though their children may be of having them there. They want to know that they are necessary!

A child, while too young to assume such an attitude, does not have the sense of responsibility toward his home that he should have, when he does nothing to help make it bright and shining and warm. It is too likely to become a place where he keeps his books and toys and gets his meals. However, if he is responsible for a small duty—never an irksome strenuous one—he will be happier because he knows that the home is his, too. It won't succeed unless he helps it.

"What can I do to help?" is a cry which children often make. All too often a mother will answer: "Run along and play, Betty. There's that new book that Aunt Jane sent you and your doll's dressings were just laundered. Find something to amuse yourself, honey, until I'm through."

Make Cooking a Pleasure
If that mother is baking cookies, a far wiser solution to the problem would be to give Betty a piece of dough, and a small tin pan, and let her roll a ginger cake and sit quietly in the kitchen, getting her first lesson in the spicy realm of the cookie world, while she waits for her own particular treasure to brown. The next time that baking day comes she will want to make another cookie. Gradually she will acquire an interest in baking which in time will give her an excellent knowledge of this particular type of domestic routine. She will like cooking because it was fun in the beginning. Her mother will never say, as too many mothers do: "I wish Betty liked to cook. The child never comes near the kitchen. She's almost eighteen and she can't boil water."

Too often mothers have themselves to blame when their daughters dislike housework. They were too busy to teach them. Or it was too much trouble.

A wise mother takes a long look ahead.

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything).

I read with interest yesterday of the nomination of Foreign Relations for the $1,000 added Merchants Handicap. He being the first nominee, the purse at that time had reached a value of $1,010. How Gerald can go for that length of time without the use of his ten beats me.

I heard another Scotch story. A Scotchman visited a friend in another city and they dined down town. The friend took the check and paid off. Next day they again dined together. The friend took the check and paid it. It happened a third day but on the fourth, when they finished their meal, the Scotchman said: "This has gone far enough. Let's flip."

A Scotchman had a fine wife and some other man complimented her one day. "She's worth her weight in gold," he said. "Want to buy her?" said the Scotchman. "Yes, sir, I'll buy her right now." "Can't have her for six weeks." "Why six weeks?" "I want to fatten her."

From an Oklahoma weekly newspaper: Dave Dirks, a farmer near Plain Center: "I want to get married; I'm lonesome because I haven't any hogs on my farm this year."

Budget Clinic Leads To New Medical Row

MILWAUKEE, (U.P.)—This city is the latest battle ground in the national controversy among physicians and surgeons over establishment of budgetary medical clinics.

Recently a group of Milwaukee physicians organized the "Milwaukee Medical Center," a budget clinic where persons of low incomes may obtain medical care, exclusive of hospitalization, for a small monthly fee.

Three of the founders of the center have been ousted from the Milwaukee county medical society. They plan an appeal to the Wisconsin medical society and perhaps to the judicial section of the American Medical Association of the courts.

Clinic Solicitation Charged. The three doctors—A. L. Curtain, J. E. Rueth and H. C. Dallwig—were discharged from the society for "advertising and soliciting business for the clinic," which, it was charged, defeated the purpose of the society. It also was charged the physicians intended to violate state insurance laws.

The clinic, which now employs 10 physicians, offers medical service at the rate of $1 a month for a single person; $2 a month for a man and wife; and $3 a month for a family, regardless of the number of children. During the month, it offers to treat subscribers without additional charge except for medicine and other necessary materials needed in a particular case. Home calls would be made without extra charge.

Each applicant is examined for a chronic ailment to exclude persons needing an immediate operation or treatment. Costs would be budgeted and those who might subscribe for a short period and then drop from the clinic.

Called Aid to Health. Founders of the clinic here predicted it will raise general health standards by providing adequate medical supervision of children and adults.

Shortly after the clinic was organized, Dr. Chester M. Echols, president of the county medical society, submitted to the society a plan for establishment of a "Medical Service," designed likewise to assure persons of lower incomes with adequate medical care.

Any person unable to pay for all necessary medical and hospital care would be referred to the service for treatment. Costs would be budgeted over a period of not longer than one year. The plan, already approved by the society's committee on social and medical economics, is expected to be adopted by the society.

ITALY RELIES ON TOURISTS TO MAKE UP WAR'S DRAIN UPON THE TREASURY

ROME, April 29 (UP).—To get gold to pay for its colonial war, the Italian government this year is spending approximately 29 million lire...

If the tourists come it will be a golden investment, because for every million the government spends in attracting them here it hopes to receive 100 million in foreign exchange...

The success of the government's campaign all depends on how many tourists come and how much they spend. Because of the Italo-Italian Epiroplan war and Anglo-Italian tension...

The first alternative has no chance of success because of sanctions, and because even normally Italy's trade balance is passive.

This explains why Mussolini has ordered his agents to exploit every avenue and spare no pains to get Italy's tourist traffic back to normal.

Hotels and pensions which have been badly hit by the slump in tourist traffic are granted $500,000 in subsidies under the new budget...

The facilities which Italy is offering to tourists are many and attractive. Coupons giving special reduced rates at Italian hotels are offered abroad...

The government refuses to divulge any figures, but it is unofficially estimated that fewer than 1,000,000 tourists came to Italy last year compared to 3,000,000 the year before.

Dixie Aid Foreseen For New Soil Plans

Tunnel Through the Alps Being Studied

PARIS (UP).—Sudden revival of interest in the project to drill a tunnel through Mount Blanc, Europe's highest mountain is hailed by the French press as a boon to motor tourism, but there seems to be underlying motive of far more significance.

There have been discussions for years of such a project and remilitarization of the Rhineland by Germany has caused France to realize the military need for such a tunnel.

At present there is only one passage through the Alps from France to Italy—the Montcenis railroad tunnel. The two other Alpine railroad tunnels, Simplon and Saint Gotthard are both in Swiss territory, hence closed to French troops.

With Montcenis for troop trains and Mont Blanc for a vehicle tunnel for motorized units, the largest part of France's transportation problem in event of an Eastern European war would be solved.

The bore of the suggested tunnel would be the shortest of any in the Alps, for despite the height of Mont Blanc, it is not particularly wide at the point where the tube would pierce the mountain.

Preliminary surveys have indicated the bore would be approximately 7 and 8-10 miles long as compared to slightly more than 8 miles for Montcenis. Cost of drilling a roadway 45 feet wide would be $21,000,000. This sum would be repaid in 50 years through tolls, it is estimated.
