

End to Midwest Heat Wave Is Forecast

Crop Conditions Best in Country Since 1932

STATES EXPECTED TO RECEIVE RAIN IN NEAR FUTURE

Cool Weather Due To Cover Areas Hit By Drought

TO SAVE CROPS

Farmers Confident Small Yield To Be Made

CHICAGO, July 11. (P)—The end of the heat wave was sighted Saturday and it was predicted that cool weather would sweep eastward from the northwest within a few hours. The parched population of the midwest, hailed the news. Farmers felt encouraged that some crops might yet be saved from the devastating wave that has enveloped at least a dozen states.

On the Chicago board of trade the weather forecast caused a stampeding loss in corn and wheat.

The heat and drought has caused at least 500 deaths and crop damages at $300,000,000.

Meanwhile the Government's aid program was under way and President Roosevelt announced at Washington he will review its progress at a conference with directors.

In North Dakota, Gov. Walter Welford announced he will offer a State drought and pest insurance measure at the next session of the Legislature.

New York's concern over a possible scarcity of milk and other foodstuffs in the metropolitan area prompted State Agriculture Commissioner Peter Ten Eyck to call a conference for Saturday to discuss the situation.

Midland Data Is Given On Sheets

Mimeographed information sheets, giving data on Midland which should be of interest to tourists and new citizens, was passed out to filling stations, cafes and other places of business during the past week by the chamber of commerce.

It was pointed out that clerks, attendants and employes of concerns where tourists stop may be of more value to the city by familiarizing themselves with this information, passing it on when occasions arises.

Additional copies may be obtained at the chamber of commerce office by those desiring them, it was announced.

HONOLULU, (U.P.)—Hawaiian islanders are proud of their dayflying owls. While owls usually fly only at night, those of the islands fly in the daytime. They are used in killing field mice on the sugar plantations.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (U.P.)—No one could deny that U. S. Commissioner Howard S. Abbott is a persistent and patient man.

On 12 occasions, since Sept. 5, 1935, Abbott has gone to the Cedar Lake office of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad Co., and dined through a thick legal document.

To read through the voluminous documents requires a little more than two hours. Burden of the contents of the thick file is the offer of sale of the M. & St. L. railway on foreclosure.

On each occasion, Abbott's two hours of reading have been wasted. Only an occasional clerk will stop to listen.

Abbott goes through the entire sales procedure on each occasion, including instructions to the bidders.

But each time, when he reaches the call "and the bids" he is met with the same response—silence. Abbott's next performance is scheduled for Aug. 21.

"Maybe," the commissioner sighed, "sale No. 13 will be lucky for the company and some bids finally will be received."

The feature of the woman's world that's most popular is the dateline.

LATE RULING ON LIQUOR DEFINED BY BOAD MEMBER

Rules Against Sale Of Beer In Dry Counties

AUSTIN, July 11. (P)—D. D. Benson, chairman of the liquor board, Saturday said that beer of four per cent or less could not be sold by prescription druggists in a dry territory. He said that a recent ruling of the sale of any kind of liquor in excess of four per cent weight under a prescription as legal had been misconstrued in some quarters.

Record Southeast Ward Sand Well Features Oil Activities in Basin

BY FRANK GARDNER
The southeast Ward county field topped all other West Texas areas this week in activity and interest, largely because of the completion by Richardson Oils, Inc. of the largest natural sand-producing well yet brought in in the Permian Basin, the No. 2 Hathaway, which flowed 4,516 barrels in 24 hours through open tubing and casing. Drilled to a total depth of 2,568 feet its sand pay section was several hundred feet thick, and practically continuous except for small lime breaks.

The record well is located 2,310 feet from the southeast and 405 feet from the northeast line of section 37, block 34, H. & T. C. survey, 75 feet southwest of the No. 1 Hathaway, which jinked hole at 2271 and was completed for 12,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Gulf Oil Corporation is building and rigging up boilers for the east offset to the big Richardson well, its No. 3 Estes, 2,325 feet from the southeast and 330 feet from the southwest line of section 38. Although location has not yet been staked, it is reported that Skelly Oil Company will drill the southeast offset.

Also in the north end of the field, F. H. E. Oil Company has completed two large wells: the No. 2-A Richter and the No. 2-C Richter. The former was shot with 180 quarts and flowed through 2-inch tubing for potential of 1,000 barrels per day. It is located 990 feet from the northeast and 330 feet from the northwest line of section 27, block 34, H. & T. C. survey. Total depth is 2,400 feet. The No. 2-C Richter, 2,310 feet from the north-west and 330 feet from the northeast line of the same section, flowed 1,157 barrels per day through 2-inch tubing. It also stopped at 2,570 feet and was shot with 180 quarts.

F. H. E. completed its No. 1-B Maxwell in section 30, block B-29, public school land, for 372 barrels a day flowing through 2-inch tubing. It was shot with 225 quarts of nitro from 2,254 to bottom at 2,400 feet.

NORTHERN WILDCATS NEAR IMPORTANT MARKERS

Attention will be focused on the center of the southwest quadrant of the Cochran county wildcat and the two Yoakum wildcats this week, since all three are expected to top markers in their respective horizons.

Last reported drilling at 4,090 feet in anhydrite and red rock, Fitzpatrick and Bahan & Rhodes No. 1 Alice, Henard, a test four miles northwest of Plains in Yoakum county, is nearing the zone in which first lime stringers are looked for. With anhydrite topped at 2,279 and Yates at 3,090, the well is said to be running favorably. It is in the center of the southwest quarter of section 367, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Elliott Roosevelt and Lou Stogner, No. 1 Gogins, six miles northeast of the Bohann and Rhodes test, was making fast time with standard tools and Bahan & Rhodes test, ever drilled in Gaines county, Humble No. 1 C. H. Eubanks is producing anhydrite at 3,710 feet. Unusually

Dedicates Bridge In New York City With Talk

NEW YORK, July 11. (P)—The $64,000,000 tri-borough bridge financed by a federal grant and loan and a part of the FWA program, was opened Saturday by President Roosevelt who dedicated it as a symbol of the changing human needs which call for "up-to-date government in place of antiquated government."

The president declared "a few among us who, consciously or unconsciously, live in a state of constant protest against the daily processes of meeting modern needs, and most of us are willing to recognize a change and give it reasonable and constant help."

MORRIS SHEPPARD TO SPEAK FRIDAY AT BIG SPRING

Invitation Sent To All Counties in This Section

Senator Morris Sheppard will speak at Big Spring Friday evening, July 17, at 8 p. m., according to a letter from B. A. Reagan to The Reporter-Telegram Saturday. Invitation was extended to the people of Midland and surrounding counties to attend the rally which will be held in behalf of the senator's candidacy for re-election. Mr. Reagan wrote: "As you know, Senator Morris Sheppard will make an address in behalf of his candidacy for re-election in Big Spring at 8 o'clock on the evening of Friday July 17."

"His friends here and in other West Texas cities are anxious that this dean of the congress and outstanding public servant be accorded a hearty welcome and demonstration in keeping with this section's appreciation of his services."

"Believing that you would like to join in honoring Senator Sheppard and expressing your support of his candidacy, the Big Spring arrangements committee cordially invites you to serve on the reception committee for this West Texas Sheppard Rally, acting as one of the representatives of your city."

"We will want you with other members of the committee to appear on the platform when Senator Sheppard speaks from the courthouse lawn."

"Especially do we want you to join us in this event, and we also urge that you bring as many other citizens from your town as possible to hear Senator Sheppard present his candidacy. We feel that with your support, West Texas can give this veteran statesman a welcome that will demonstrate that this section is back of him. It will be his only appearance in this immediate section of the state."

"Your presence and your cooperation in bringing others from your city will be appreciated."

RECENT RAINS PUT COTTON AND GRAIN IN 'TOP' STATUS

Insect Damage Only Thing to Mar Big Harvest

SIGN CONTRACTS

Acreage Kept Down By New Act Of Congress

Midland crop conditions are better now than at any time in the last five years, county agent S. A. Debnam said Saturday.

The recent rains have "made" the cotton crop unless insects should cause damage, and this is considered unlikely with the constant sunshine that has appeared since the rains.

Leaf worms, notorious for the amount of damage they do in cloudy weather (and despite all reports do work in dry weather) are not expected to seriously impair the crops this year. According to Debnam, the most of the damage done by the worms was done during the hottest days. This year, however, they have not been so numerous to create any lot of damage. Cotton flies, also a scourge to cotton crops, are not expected to harm the crops.

With 65 percent of the farmers signing up under the soil conservation act, placing 81 percent of the baseacreage under that act, the acreage this year is expected to be only slightly more than it was last year.

The total acreage expected to be planted in cotton in the county this year will be in excess of 29,325 acres. Already farmers have signed under the soil conservation act to plant 20,574 acres in feed and the total is expected to be approximately 15 percent more than the acreage announced.

Feed crops are in excellent condition despite some of the early feed suffering from the drought before the recent rains. Not any great amount of acreage was lost by the heat and a bumper crop is assured by the precipitation. Some farmers are still planting late feed, and some are even planting cotton with the hopes of gathering it later.

With the present cotton the highest that it has been in years, plus the belief that it will go higher ere gathering time arrives, farmers are universally believed to be in a better position than at any time in the last five years.

Last week's rains benefitted farmers and ranchmen more ways than could be enumerated, one would infer after talking to them on the streets Saturday.

Feed crops which would have been lost in a few days began to flourish. Land on which crops already had been lost was replanted to cattle or other late feed. Cotton, which was beginning to take on a stunted appearance, so that it would have matured too early and with too small a yield, began to add leaves and to take on size.

Grass all over the Midland ranching area was benefitted to some extent, much of it getting enough moisture to insure pasture for winter. Lake water was put out in many places, cool weather kept the cattle from developing excessive thirst. Windmills which had stood still during a series of quiet, hot still days began pumping again, fanned by a steady 24-hour a day breeze. Tanks were filled and the troughs stood full, waste pipes throwing steady streams into artificial lakes or surface tanks about the watering places.

In many cases ranchmen were assured that their cattle would not have to be sold or moved to pasture elsewhere. Stabilization or increasing of prices was made probable.

Rotarians Go To Stamford Meeting

Several Midland Rotarians will go to Stamford Monday to attend the assembly of presidents and secretaries of Rotary clubs in the forty-first district.

Fred Wemple, district governor, will be in charge. Others from Midland who intended going either today or early Monday included W. I. Pratt, W. R. Upham, J. Harvey Fryar, S. A. Debnam, Clinton Lackey, John P. Howe, Father Edw. P. Harrison and Roy McKee.

The assembly lasts only one day, adjourning in time for those attending to return to their homes.

BUILD YOUR HOME! BE SATISFIED!

The need for homes in Midland continues. This newspaper has commented several times on the need for homes in order to make room for new citizens.

Today, the advice to build homes is for benefit of those persons who now are renting. Midland has a population made up to a large degree of persons earning good salaries or who are in businesses which produce good revenue.

The statement heard during the depression that "it is cheaper to rent than to own" may be good a few months out of a long period of time, but in the long run the home owner has the advantage.

Property values are on a steady basis, town lots can be bought at a reasonable price, yet the trading is sufficiently active to create a good investment.

If you live in Midland, you will be safe in erecting your own home. It will bring happiness, satisfaction and economy now. Later, if you should leave, the chances are that the investment will have enhanced in value or at least will have remained on a steady basis.

BEHIND THE SCENES

WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11—The drought's potentialities as a major disaster in a campaign year naturally enough have aroused political effect.

It may be worth remembering that the great drought in the summer and fall of 1934 was followed by a democratic landslide in the November congressional elections.

act of last year, which never became effective and was knocked out by the AAA decision. Early frosts last fall cut down potato bushelage that should have been available this year and bad spring weather has likewise hit this year's crop.

Flour and bread prices, on the other hand, may go up very soon unless the drought is broken. The spring wheat crop has been hit, and spring wheat is what goes into bread.

There has been little administration ballyhoo about it, but the general level of retail food prices lately has been higher than at any previous time in the Roosevelt administration.

Instead of going down in June, as it usually does, the index went up. You can blame that on potatoes, which became so expensive that they forced up the general level.

Spuds to Blame The increase since Roosevelt took office has been just about $13,000,000,000, according to the balance sheets.

But if you are a republican, you must tell your neighbor that the real cost of the New Deal to date has been about $17,700,000,000.

"She's always telling people that we went to school together, but she never mentions that she was the teacher."

King Edward Clings to Friends; Americans Are Among Favorites

BY MILTON BRONNER NEA Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 11.—"I am better known to most of you as the Prince of Wales—And although I now speak to you as the king I am still that same man.

On March 1, 1936, King Edward VIII said this in his first broadcast message to the British people. They took it to mean that all the things which lay near to his heart in his days as Prince of Wales would still be his care—promotion of British trade, care for the unemployed and the ex-soldiers, and wiping out the city slum areas.

But high society took still another view of it. For social lights it meant there would be no Prince Hal business. That famous character as drawn in one of Shakespeare's cold historical plays, was a good fellow while a mere prince, but turned a cold shoulder on his old-time cronies when he became king.

No such change in King Edward was anticipated and no such change has occurred. His friends of the old days are his friends today—so far as the record of the new king's social doings has been made up.

Things will not go to full blast get that by adding the bonds guaranteed by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, the Farm Credit Administration, and other agencies, which didn't appear in Morgenthau's statement.

Other items sometimes also are added, but that ought to hold almost anyone for a while. Here's Democratic Side

On the other hand, if you're a Democrat, it's the simplest thing in the world to whittle down the cost of the New Deal to less than $7,000,000,000.

You begin by asserting that the guaranteed bonds are adequately covered by security and hence are no liability. You then point out that the treasury's cash balance is $2,200,000,000 larger than when Mr. Hoover and Mr. Mills checked out of Washington, and subtract from $13,000,000,000, which leaves $10,800,000,000.

Then deduct that $2,000,000,000 "profit" from gold devaluation which is now in the currency stabilization fund, leaving $8,800,000,000.

Then a couple of billions more in loans by RFC, PWA, and other federal agencies which are supposed to be recoverable. By this time you're down to $6,800,000,000 and there are plenty of officials here who can think of more deductions if you want them.

But the difference between $17,700,000,000 and $6,800,000,000 would seem to be enough difference to accommodate plenty of campaign charges and alibis.

(Copyright 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

until after October, when court mourning for the late King George formally ends.

But, in the meantime, King Edward has already shown a difference between his reign and that of his father. King George very rarely accepted the hospitality of his friends. King Edward in the last few months has already done so a number of times.

GUEST OF DUDLEY

His first week-end at a private house party was spent with the Earl of Dudley at Himley Hall in Worcestershire. The Earl, who is the same age as the king, having been born in 1894 was one of a small circle of intimate friends of the then Prince of Wales.

He was himself, as heir to the earldom, then only Viscount Ednam and sat in the House of Commons. His lovely wife, daughter of one of the Dukes of Sutherland, was the bright light of a charmed circle. She was killed in a flying accident in 1930 and the tragedy, if anything brought ruler and friend closer together than ever.

Lord Dudley is a great owner of coal fields and recently visited America to confer with American steel kings, he being also the head of the British Steel industry.

Not long after his visit to Himley Hall, King Edward was the week-end guest of the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland at Sutton Place near Guildford.

DUKE VERY WEALTHY

This host is one one of the small army of "dumb dukes." Very rich owning most of the county of Sutherland, he has been under-secretary of state for air, one of the chief officers in the great Tory organization, the Primrose League and president of the Navy League.

He and the duchess have made a great success of their married life. Both are film fans. Both have traveled in America and together have visited their properties in Canada.

Partly owing to the mourning period and partly because he cannot move about as freely as he did when Prince of Wales, the king misses the theatre and cabaret. So his friends have brought both to him.

Not long ago Lady Cunard, an American by birth, gave a big dinner party for the king. The midnight entertainment was an entire act from one of the theatrical hits of the season, presented by the original company.

PIANISTS SCORE BIG HIT

Shortly afterwards, Edward was the dinner guest of Captain and Mrs. Evelyn Fitzgerald. Captain Fitzgerald is the youngest son of the late Lord Fitzgerald of Kilmarnock. He was an officer during the World War and is now a wealthy stockbroker.

To entertain the king, he had Rivacz and Landauer, pianists from Vienna, play duets. They are a big feature act in one of the hotel cabaret shows. The king liked them so well that he got them to play on and on giving him the Viennese and Hungarian tunes he learned to love when he was in Central Europe last year.

FRIEND OF COMMONERS

But the monarch is not always entertained in ducal palaces of the town houses of the very rich. There are the Ernest Simpsons, for instance. Simpson is a Canadian, educated partly in America. He served in the Guards during the World War, and is now connected with shipping interests in The City—London's Wall Street. His wife is a Baltimore girl.

The Simpsons are not rich as society London rates riches. But they have a charming apartment in aristocratic Bryanston Square. It has a quiet, homey atmosphere. Here the king used to come before he mounted the throne and here he continues to come.

Sometimes it is for tea. Sometimes it is for "pot luck" at dinner or lunch. And the Simpsons are in turn often week-end guests at Fort Belvedere, the king's own private residence.

When he was Prince of Wales, he and the Simpsons often formed three of a small, select crowd at a GALLEY TWO EDI FEATURING... congenial cocktail party or went to some successful show and dance later at the Embassy Club.

FAVORITE DANCE PARTNER

Occasionally, although invited, Simpson could not go along. Thus, last year, business kept him in London, but Mrs. Simpson joined the other men and women in the prince's party at Biarritz in France and later in Austrian Tyrol and Budapest.

The royal host likes Mrs. Simpson as a dancing partner and enjoys her witty talk. Their delightful freedom from an inferiority complex and their power to amuse has always made American women favorite table companions with the king.

Just the other day social London sat up and took notice when it read in the Court Circular the announcement of one of the king's first formal dinner parties.

AMERICANS IN FOREFRONT

The guests were Prime Minister and Mrs. Stanley Baldwin and Duff Cooper, minister of war, and his wife, Lady Diana—all old and valued friends.

Then there was the king's kinsmen, Lord Louis Mountbatten, and wife, the First Sea Lord and Mrs. Chatfield, Lord and Lady Wigram and the king's equerry, the Hon. Piers Legh and wife.

The other guests were Lady Cunard, Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh, and the Simpsons. So the dinner had a definite American tinge.

In addition to the Lindberghs and Mrs. Simpson, Lady Cunard and Mrs. Piers Legh are also Americans by birth.

The Circular was a Simpson triumph. It sealed the fact that husband and wife were social superlatives. It also proved that England's king valued his friends for something else than titles or vast bank accounts.

Midland Teacher, Oil Man Married at Dallas Saturday

A wedding of interest to Midland people solemnized in Dallas Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock when Miss Maurine Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Ford and a teacher in the Midland schools the last school term, became the bride of Mr. Atlas H. (Dick) Thompson of Midland. The service was read at the home of the bride's parents, 6422 Lake Shore Drive.

Miss Ford was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Alice Ford, as maid of honor.

The best man was Mr. Joe N. Weatherly of Brownwood.

A reception at the home followed the ceremony.

The couple will live in Midland where Mr. Thompson has been associated with the California company since mid-February of this year.

The groom holds a degree of bachelor of business administration from the University of Texas and is a former student of Southern Methodist university. While at the university of Texas, he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

The bride came to Midland in the early part of this year as music supervisor at Junior High school. She has a degree from the Texas College for Women at Denton. Her father is vice president of the Federal Reserve bank at Dallas.

Demonstration, Health Class Hold Joint Meeting

The South Camp Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. R. McCaffrey, Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, Midland County Home Demonstration Agent, told these women: "Strong and mild flavored vegetables are cooked exactly opposite."
"For your strong flavored vegetable," said Mrs. Hollingsworth, "cook as follows: 1 medium size cabbage head cut in neat slices the correct size for serving, use large sauce pan almost full of boiling water, for each quart of water used add 1 tablespoon of salt, put sliced cabbage in boiling salt water, and continue boiling for about 20 minutes or until tender, take from water be careful not to tear cabbage apart, trim most of core from the slices, arrange on platter, pour melted butter over cabbage, serve hot. Cabbage cooked in this way keeps its original color. Be sure to cook uncovered."

"The amount of carrots, taken as example of the mild vegetable, should be according to the number of servings wanted, select young tender carrots, scrape and quarter lengthwise, place in sauce pan, with very little water which is salted to suit taste; cook for about 20 minutes or until tender and size of carrots governs the length of time cooked, take from pan and arrange on platter, pour melted butter over them. Serve hot and cook covered."

The Health Class met the same afternoon and demonstrated various things that could be used in the sick room at home to make both the patient and the attendant more comfortable.

Native flowers in crystal bowls were used for table decorations. A "hobo" lunch was served at the tea hour. Each guest came from the living room to the kitchen door and asked for a handout.

They received bright colored napkins tied on sticks. Jokes and riddles were read.

Two visitors were present. They were Misses Lou Deen Thomas and Gertrude Cogburn.

Club members present were Mmes. Floyd Cogburn, A. G. Bohannon, W. H. Thomas, Herbert Green, Lura Hollingsworth, Misses Elizabeth Wilson, Dotia Cogburn, and the hostesses.

Mrs. McClurg Has 3 Tables Forty-Two At Club Meeting

Mrs. J. A. McClurg was hostess at her home, 403 North A Street, to the Lucky Thirteen Club Friday at 3:30 o'clock.

Zinnias and marigolds were used to carry out the color scheme of yellow and green. Prizes were wrapped in yellow cellophane and tied with green ribbon.

Three tables of progressive forty-two were played with high honors going to Mrs. L. E. Jones and low score to Mrs. Kirby Sims.

Club guests were Mmes. Hugh Hines, Jones, C. G. Stanley, and Misses Bill Adamson and Creta Rose Latta.

Members present were Mmes. J. T. Baker, Bill Cole, Ellis Conner, S. P. Hall, J. C. Hudman, Sims, J. T. Walker, and the hostess.

At the conclusion of the games the hostess, assisted by her sister Miss Latta, served a salad plate decorated with the theme colors.

Police Go Fishing And Get Rich Heroin haul

DALLAS. (U.P.) Dallas detectives went fishing and caught several cap sizes of heroin valued at $2,500.

The officers battered their way into a house in South Dallas, arrested two men, reputedly wholesale narcotic distributors and discovered the cache of the narcotics in an open flue.

By employing the use of a fishing rod and reel which they found hidden in a closet of the house the detectives pulled the heroin out of the hiding place.

After searching the house, unsuccessfully for a time, Detective Dick Gardner noticed the rod, reel and line and found the open flue.

"I'm going fishing," he announced as he cast the line up the flue. The artificial lure with hooks attached at the end caught on an object and the detective began reeling in his catch. The catch proved to be a box containing the heroin.

The arrest of the two men ended a six-month search for one of the sources of wide-spread wholesale distribution of narcotics in Dallas.

Miss Miles Honored At Angelo Party

SAN ANGELO, July 11—Complimenting her house guest, Miss Margaret Miles of Midland, Miss Phyllis Sims entertained a few friends at her home, 1309 Shafter.

Varicolored zinnias were used to decorate the rooms and a salad course was served at the close of the games.

A prize was presented to Miss Miles, the gift for high score being won by Miss Helen Lee. The cut trophy went to Miss Frances Willig. Others included for the occasion were Misses Helen Claire Berry, Corine Bailey, Lucille Miller, Loraine Miller, Virginia Ede, Jacqueline Noelke, and Willene O'Connell, Mrs. Bruce Neal, and Mrs. Eldon H. Gilbert of Fort Stockton.

Rig Builders Return to Jobs; Restore Activity

Southeast Lea Area Most Affected By Strike

BY FRANK GARDNER

Setting of the rig builders' strike early this week and the resultant resumption of activity by the workers is expected to bring operations in Lea county, New Mexico back to the high level they had reached a month ago up to the time of the general walkout. Although parts of the West Texas oil area had also suffered from the strike, Lea county was the district most greatly affected by it, rig-building operations there being virtually at a standstill. Wells already drilling at the time were naturally not hampered by the strike, but a great number of new locations, many of them for interesting wildcat tests, were prevented from getting under way.

No outstanding developments were reported this week in Lea county, New Mexico, but probably the most interesting was the completion by Amerada Petroleum Corporation of a big natural well near the present east limits of the Monument pool. Amerada No. 1 Sarah Phillips in the southeast corner of the west half of section 33-19S-37E, flowed through open 2 1/2-inch tubing at the rate of 711 barrels in 6 hours and revived interest in the area at the eastern extremity of the Monument pool. Its potential is far greater than a well it offsets to the west, which flowed 142 barrels in 18 hours through tubing.

Production in the Amerada flush well is natural, with gas volume gauged at 1,000,000 cubic feet. It drilled to a total depth of 3,910 feet in lime and topped the main pay section at 3,846.

Big Monument Well
Among the largest wells completed this week in the Monument pool was Continental Oil Company No. 4-C-30 State in the center of the southeast of the northwest of section 30-19S-37E which had a natural initial production of 73 barrels an hour through 3-4-inch choke on 2 1/2 inch tubing together with 2,750,000 cubic feet of gas. Total depth is 3-971 feet in lime, with main pay topped at 3,875.

After drilling plug from 8 1/4-inch casing set at 1,728 feet, Culbertson and Irwin No. 1 J. S. Eaves, interesting wildcat test six miles west and a mile and a half south of the Lea pool, is now at 1,795 feet in anhydrite. Top of anhydrite was logged at 1,660 feet in the test. It is in the center of the southwest of the northwest of section 18-21S-33E.

Important Locations
Although over 125 miles from the nearest pool in Lea county, a wildcat location is made in Roosevelt county this week that will attract attention. Known as the Wirt Franklin and Flynn, Welsh & Yates No. 1 Catts, it will be drilled in the center of the northwest of the northwest of section 22-31S-30E.
Another location of interest was made by Repollo for the No. 1 J. M. Brown in the northeast corner of the southwest of section 25-21S-36E. It is over two miles east of the Eunice pool and a half mile south of the Gypsy No. 1 H. T. Matern, a gas well.

Derrick has been completed and rotary drilling equipment is being rigged up on Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Scharbauer-Eidson, new Lovington area test in the center of the northwest of the northeast of section 20-16S-35E. Present plans are to carry the hole to the top of the salt with rotary. The Magnolia test is seven miles west and three miles south of the town of Lovington and four miles north and a mile and a half east of the old Vacuum Oil Company No. 1 State-Bridges, a 120-barrel natural well completed seven years ago which has been shut in until recently but will be re-conditioned by Magnolia.

Eaves Well Flows
In the Eaves area in extreme southeastern Lea county near the Winkler county, Texas line, Continental No. 2-A-19 Eaves has been completed for natural production of 60 barrels per hour through 3-4-inch choke on 2 1/2-inch tubing set at 3,197. Gas volume is 1,500,000 cubic feet per day. Pay was found from 3,100 to 3,200, the total depth. While testing at 3,173 the well flowed 44 barrels an hour.

Seven-inch casing was cemented at 3,329 feet in Tide Water No. 1-H State in the center of the northwest of the southwest of section 32-19S-37E, Monument pool. Total depth is 3,350 feet in lime. In the center of the northeast of the northwest of section 20-19-37E Tide Water No. 2-F State, bottomed at 4,037, was washing hole preparatory to running the string of 7-inch pipe.

Plug is being drilled from 7-inch casing cemented on bottom in Magnolia No. 1 Carson, Hardy area test northwest of the town of Eunice. Located in the center of the northwest of the southwest of section 28-21S-35E, the Magnolia well had 5-780,000 cubic feet of gas at 3,459 which decreased to about 2,000,000 feet overnight. It latter logged other gas zones at 3,525 and from 3,565 to 3,578. Present total depth is 3,622 feet in lime.

Stuart Sand Area
With only routine drilling depths reported, no developments were noted this week in the Stuart sand area northeast of Jal. Still above the pay horizon, Repollo No. 1 Stuart in section 10-25S-37E is drilling gray lime at 3,175 feet, while Skelly No. 1 Stuart in section 15-25S-37E is rigging up cable tools at total depth of 3,150. At the north end of the area, Plains Production Company and Culbertson and Irwin No. 1 Williams in section 34-24S-37E is drilling red rock at 170.

Yale Scientists Explore Dura, City In Syria Where East Met West In Early Days

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (U.P.)—A sculptured head of Hadad, the Thunderer, known to the Romans as the "Greatest Zeus," has been uncovered in one of the oldest temples of the ancient city of Dura during the current season of excavations conducted by Yale University in conjunction with the French Academy of Inscriptions and Letters according to reports received at the university.

The excavations, under the supervision of Prof. Michael I. Rostovtzeff of Yale, and directed by Prof. Clark Hopkins, have been systematically conducted for the past nine years at this site in Syria, known to scientists as the "Pompeii of the Euphrates." Frank E. Brown is field director.

The head of Hadad, which is of stone, was found in one of the four buildings uncovered this season. These buildings, considered "sensational finds" by the Yale scientists, were important centers of the religious and governmental life of the Roman outpost. They included the temple of the "Greatest Zeus" which was founded in the third century; the temple of Jupiter Dolichenus, the Syrian soldier's favorite god; the headquarters of the governor or "Duke" of the Euphrates frontier and the palace of the family of Lysias, or hereditary mayors of Dura, the largest and richest private dwelling in the city.

City Fell in 256 A. D.
Dura now famous to students of antiquity, existed for 600 years before its fall in 256 A. D. It was covered by the sands of the desert and forgotten for almost 17 centuries. Founded by the Macedonians about 300 B. C. on the trade route along the Euphrates Valley, Dura reflected in its civilization the effects of the interplay of two great cultures that of the West represented by Greece and Rome, and that of the East by a Persian-Parthian tradition founded to some extent on the ancient Babylonian.
The Greeks lost Dura to the Parthians, the powerful rivals of the Romans. The Parthians ruled for the succeeding 300 years. Dura then was seized by the Romans and incorporated in the Roman Empire of Marcus Aurelius. It fell under the advance of the New Persia of the Sassanians in 256 A.D. and was abandoned. It was a melting pot of various religious elements, Babylonian, Syrian, Hebrew, Persian, Arabian, Greek and Roman, all of which left their influence on the city and its development.

Rare Synagogue Found
In this city have been found a Christian church built in 200 A.D. containing the earliest known examples of Christian Church art; the oldest Jewish synagogue yet found, dating from 245 A.D. with its walls covered with frescoes illustrating the stories of the Bible; the excellently preserved shrine of Mithras, the great god of the Roman Empire and the Roman Army; painted wooden shields used by Roman soldiers almost seventeen centuries ago.
Dura has yielded a vast amount of material which has illuminated the methods of early warfare, the life of the Roman army, religious practices of various cults, and painting and sculpture of historical and artistic importance.

The temple of the "Greatest Zeus" and a lesser satellite, Arsu, just uncovered, comprise three separate sanctuaries opening off two great open courts. In one court stood the high-altar, about 17 feet square and 16 feet high, approached by a flight of stairs. It formed a miniature Babylonian Ziggurat or tower of Babel, Prof. Rostovtzeff says.

Prize Sculpture Intact
In the principal sanctuary the altar of burnt offerings with the throne of the high-priest before it was preserved. The temple is rich in sculptures of the peculiar semi-oriental style of the city. They include two bas-reliefs of "Greatest Zeus," a head of the god represented as Hadad, the Thunderer, and a relief of the companion-god, Arsu, armed with sword, shield and lance scepter bearing an inscription in Paimyrene "Arsu and his scepter."
The temple of the Syrian soldiers' favorite god, Jupiter Dolichenus, formed part of the camp of the Roman garrison which occupied one entire quarter of the city. This small temple contained many altars of incense dedicated by the soldiers of the various regiments in the garrison.
The discoveries this season also included coins, glazed pottery glass, terracotta, ivory, silver and bronze, many of which have been placed on exhibition in the Yale Gallery of Fine Arts. At the nearby site of Baghanz a vast cemetery was partially excavated. More than 600 tombs were opened and found to contain gold and silver ornaments, weapons, vases of glass and clay and wooden jars of unguents.

POTATO HI-JACKERS APPEAR
SHAFTER, Cal. (U.P.)—With the potato shortage boosting prices as high as $2.50 a hundred weight, the hi-jacking of potatoes has become a new field for gangsters. Truckmen, hauling a heavy crop here, report an unusually large disappearance of 100-pound sacks of spuds from their trucks.

DOG MISUSES MAILS
MONTROSE, Colo. (U.P.)—A small dog arrived at the local postoffice recently unaware that he was violating the law. It is against the law to ship dogs or other animals by parcel post. This dog, however, was mailed at a small postoffice where the rule was not known.

Any soil that will produce good garden crops will grow good roses.

The UNITED

TRADE CENSUS IS MOVING TOWARD FIRST REPORTS

PHILADELPHIA, July 11. (U.P.)—Publication of a preliminary report on the federal census of American business late next month is expected to reveal the trend of recovery during the past two years.

Fred A. Gosnell, chief statistician in charge of the survey, said first reports probably would contain complete figures for Arkansas and several other states which virtually have been completed.

A staff of 19,000 WPA workers, taken from relief rolls have been engaged in the field work since Jan. 1 compiling information from the corner grocer, the great industrialist, the neighborhood barber and the wealthy manufacturer.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

1,650 workers, specially trained in preliminary courses by census bureau experts, are checking, indexing and tabulating the returns on every business in the nation from the smallest merchant to the largest corporation.

A census of retail trade in 1929 showed sales totalling $49,000,000,000. By 1933, the figure had dropped to $25,000,000,000. Gosnell declined to make any flat prediction but said he thought this year's total would be a substantial increase over the latter figure.

The 1933 survey also will offer a basis for comparison in many smaller details including the number of retail establishments, employees, payrolls and sales by kinds of business. The 1935 census, however, is the most complete business survey ever attempted by the department of commerce.

Canvass 1,570,000 Firms
Approximately 1,570,000 firms of all classifications have been canvassed to date and Gosnell said the final figure probably would be 1,600,000 as compared with 1,543,000 in 1929 and 1,526,000 two years ago.

The chief statistician said the bureau had had no difficulty in obtaining a high type of personnel from federal relief rolls to do the work some of which is highly complicated and technical.

"We are losing more and more of our workers to private industry," he said. "Many of them who had not been employed a year or two years were qualified for new jobs through the training course. That has been especially true of our tabulators here."

Final statistics on the census, with returns broken down into city, county, state and kinds of business units for the entire country will be completed by June 30, 1937.

'SAN FRANCISCO' PUTS FAVORITES IN GAY SHOWING

First Time Pair Has Been Cast In Same Picture

Clark Gable and Jeanette MacDonald, who head the cast at the Yucca Theatre showing of "San Francisco," film showing the famed California city during its life of gaiety and song in 1905-06.

"San Francisco" now showing at Yucca brings Clark Gable and Jeanette MacDonald together as a co-starring team for the first time. The musical romance gives Miss MacDonald the widest scope in vocal numbers in her screen career—a total of nine presentations ranging from a solemn hymn to the most beautiful operatic arias.

Clark Gable returns to the vigorous type of role that first elevated him to stardom as a blustering Barbary Coast gambling baron who has no faith in anything but his own power and his charm over women.

Co-starring with Miss MacDonald and Gable is Spencer Tracy in his most unusual role, that of a priest; a distinguished supporting cast includes Jack Holt, Jessie Ralph, Ted Healy, Shirley Ross, Margaret Irving, Harold Huber, Al Shean, William Ricciardi and Kenneth Harlan.

"San Francisco" is laid in the colorful period of 1905-06, its life of gaiety and song, its Barbary Coast prior to and through the disaster that leveled the famous Golden Gate city thirty years ago.

Among Miss MacDonald's vocal numbers are: "The Jewel Song" from "Faust"; musical excerpts throughout the "Faust" opera; the "Prison Trio" with Mephistopheles and Faust; an aria from "La Traviata"; "Love Me and the World Is Mine"; "My Heart Is Free"; Gounod's "Ave Maria"; "Nearer My God to Thee"; "Battle Hymn of the Republic"; and "San Francisco." Other rollicking musical features of the period are contributed by Shirley Ross and Ted Healy in the quaint setting of a Barbary Coast resort.

The picture follows closely in the wake of the tremendous successes scored by "Naughty Marietta" and "Rose Marie," and comes to the screen as the third of Miss MacDonald's films directed by W. S. Van Dyke.

The story deals with a homeless girl who finds herself in the boisterous atmosphere of the Barbary Coast and who rises from an entertainer in Clark Gable's gambling resort and cafe to great heights as a famous opera star in San Francisco's historic grand opera house.

Elaborate settings are typical of the period and reproduce many of the famous structures destroyed in the 1906 disaster. The catastrophe scenes showing the destruction of the city by fire and earthquake are said to be the most thrilling shots of their kind ever recorded in motion pictures.

Baxter Appearing In One of His Best Shows

With Warner Baxter contributing the finest performance of his career, "Robin Hood of El Dorado" opens today for three days at the Ritz Theatre to take its place among the truly magnificent outdoor features of the talking screen.

Produced on a spectacular scale, it is a romanticized slice of one of the most glamorous periods of America's frontier history—that era which began in 1848 with the discovery of gold in California.

Possessing much of the epic sweep of such tremendous hits as "The Covered Wagon," "The Big Trail," and other outdoor films that marked the closing days of the silent screen, "Robin Hood of El Dorado" has a dramatic majesty that gives it the aura of importance, while at the same time retaining the intimacy of romance and personal thrills which make for truly superb entertainment.

Baxter surpasses even his performance in "The Cisco Kid," with his characterization of Joaquin Murrieta, the dashing good-bad man of the Far West who left a trail of plundered gold and broken hearts as he rode through the American mining settlements at the head of his outlaw army.

With him is a notable cast which includes Ann Loring, a spectacular newcomer who seems destined for stardom; Bruce Cabot in his best sympathetic role to date; Marco, the little Spanish dancing beauty who has become an outstanding dramatic actress.

JUNGLE PATROLS URGED

SINGAPORE (U.P.)—Flying squads for the jungle to control the activities of elephants, tigers and other big game in British Malaya, are among the suggestions being considered by Sir Thomas Comyn-Pitcairney, after a tour of Ceylon and Malaya, for the benefit of the Society for the Preservation of Empire Fauna.

Mr. Deeds to Appear In Show At Yucca As As Star Of Big Film

The nation's critics are tumbling all over each other to acclaim the story of Mr. Deeds and his 20-million-dollar spending spree as the fastest, funniest, entertainment in years! Mr. Deeds' mad adventures are to be seen in Frank Capra's "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town," starring Gary Cooper and featuring Jean Arthur which is coming to the Yucca Theatre next Sunday.

Only Capra could make a picture like this! Only Capra could contrive the thousands and one uproarious twists and surprises! It's the famous director's greatest accomplishment—surpassing his own "Happened One Night!" Only the genius of Capra could create another new "best picture of the year" It's the gayest romantic fun since America roared with laughter when the walls of Jericho came tumbling down!

Featured in the outstanding cast are George Bancroft, Lionel Slandier, H. B. Warner, Douglass Dumbrille, and Raymond Walburn. Robert Riskin wrote the screen play.

Facts About Warner Baxter

Warner Baxter is a member of the oldest pioneer families of Ohio. He antecedents migrated to Ohio from Virginia when Ohio was considered the Far West.

Warner Baxter was named for the physician who officiated at his birth. Dr. Frank Warner, of Columbus, Ohio.

Warner Baxter nearly starved to death in Hollywood while trying to find work as an extra in silent pictures.

Warner Baxter once was prominently identified with a budding "little theatre" movement in Columbus, Ohio, his home town.

Warner Baxter's mother was just eighteen when he was born.

Warner Baxter took an active part in dramatics in the public schools of New York City, but became a life insurance salesman soon after his graduation.

POOR PITCHING, POWER MAKE AMERICAN LEAGUE BALL APPEAR LIVELIER.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Baseballs used in the two major leagues are identical, despite arguments still being advanced that the American League ball is livelier.

Sunny Jim Bottomley, in the American this season after 14 years in the National, is the latest to express the belief that there is more jackrabbit in the junior loop pellet. "I got this when I stuck my hand in front of a line drive," says the veteran first baseman of the St. Louis Browns, displaying a throwing hand wrapped in bandage.

Bottomley fails to take American League pitching and power into consideration. Bill Dickey, the Yankee catcher, is right when he asserts that poor pitching is mainly to blame for the heavier hitting and preponderance of home runs in the Harriage wheel. Scores and pitching records support his contention.

National League pitching excellent that of the Americans in the all-around play farther back and have more time to get to the ball.

"American League outfielders have roamed too deep for years. The percentage is in favor of the ball being in front of them. Yet they seldom catch a ball in front of them nowadays.

"A lumber of base hits that fall between infielders and outfielders is sickening. Several drooping liners or Texas Leaguers drop in front of an outfielder for every three base hit he cuts off by laying back against the boards. The place for him is from 20 to 40 feet closer in except when an extra-base hit would do a lot of damage.

"What good is he propped up against the wall? When a ball is hit far it usually bounces off the fence anyway.

"The ball travels faster than it did in my day, for which reason I don't say that I could play in as close now as I once did, but I'd play in a lot closer than the outfielders of today.

"Nearly all outfielders can go back and fungo hitting practice would teach those who can't." It is too bad that motion pictures of Tristram Speaker in action were not preserved. They would open the eyes of the current crop.

Water Parks Draws Most Patronage, New Survey Shows

AUSTIN, Texas, July 11.—State and local parks containing water areas, with facilities available for swimming, boating, and fishing, are shown in a preliminary study by the National Park Service to be the most popular in Texas, from a use standpoint.

Whether within close proximity to population centers, or in comparatively isolated regions, water is the lure that draws the crowds, provided adequate provision also has been made for picnicking. The mermaid and the mermaids, the followers of Isaac Walton; the devotees of the oars and the paddles—these are away out in front, immediately following picnicking, in the classification of activities in the parks.

The study is important from the standpoint of planning for continued development of recreational areas because it furnishes a definite guide to activities that are most popular with park users. It shows, in the number of hikers the advisability of continued development of foot trails.

Another point brought out is that in Texas there appear to be an unusually large percentage of people who are interested in nature study, including geological formations, plant and animal life.

In cooperation with the Texas State Parks Board and other state agencies, the National Park Service now is carrying on development work at eighteen State Parks; Palo Duro Canyon, Bonham, Eastrop-Buescher, Lake Corpus Christi, Big Bend, Longhorn Cavern, Mother Neff, Garner, Gollad, Fort Parker, Balmorhea, Daingerfield, Lockhart, MacKenzie, Cleburne, Tyler, Paris, and Kerrville.

Work in metropolitan parks at Fort Worth, Dallas, Beaumont, and Sweetwater, is being done in cooperation with the respective local park boards.

Where there are no natural bodies of water, and conditions are favorable for development of adequate water supplies, dams are being built to create lakes. Construction of roads, trails and bridges; comfort stations, overnight cabins, shelters, and picnic units with fireplaces, tables and benches, are among other major projects.

Emergency Conservation Work funds and Civilian Conservation Corps labor are being used.

More extensive planting of trees and shrubbery is being done in sparsely forested regions. To encourage the return of birds and small mammals to areas they have abandoned, water holes are being developed, and plant material brought in to afford food and shelter.

Permanent structures, such as administration buildings, caretaker's houses, and cabins, are being screened with plant material to blend into the natural surroundings. Parking districts are being arranged to restrict automobiles to limited areas, so as to promote ground cover and

Deal Just Closed Makes Paper 'All-Home-Owned'

Editor Buys Stock Of Partners In Midland Daily

The Midland Publishing Co., Inc., publishing The Reporter-Telegram, Midland's daily newspaper, and operating the Commercial Printing Co., became "all home owned" during the past week when T. Paul Barron, president and editor, purchased the interests of all other stock-holders.

Charter for the publishing company was granted in March 1929, when The Midland Reporter and the Midland Daily Telegram were consolidated. Barron had owned and edited the Reporter since August 1924. The Telegram was bought from C. C. Watson at the time of the consolidation by Gene A. Howe and the late Wilbur C. Hawk of Amarillo, the two papers simultaneously being merged into The Reporter-Telegram.

After the death early this year of Wilbur C. Hawk, Howe and the executors of the Hawk estate decided to dispose of holdings in Texas newspapers with the exception of the Amarillo and Lubbock publications. Barron secured an option on their stock in the Midland publication, as well as that of T. E. Snawden, Atchison, Kas., and Will Winch, El Paso, closing the deal as of July 1.

Staff Unchanged In the reorganization of the corporation will not be dissolved, Barron continuing as president and manager and James P. Harrison becoming acting secretary and treasurer. Harrison has been connected with the organization since the consolidation in 1929, having joined the staff of the Reporter January 1 of that year. He is advertising manager and also manager of the printing department.

No changes in the staff of The Reporter-Telegram have been announced, Barron continuing as editor, Harrison as advertising manager, Kathleen Elliot as society editor, Fannie Harrison as circulation manager and Frank Gardner as oil editor. Josephine Ray is serving on the news staff during the absence of Miss Elland who is on a vacation trip to California.

In the medical department, E. G. McCoy, formerly of Wichita Falls, has been named foreman, succeeding S. M. Warren who on July 1 accepted the same position on the Peos Enterprise. Roy Hoffman and Ben L. Critts are linotype operators; Therman Ruple, chief of the pressmen; The Midland Daily Telegram was started in 1927, is pressman and floor man; J. P. Smith is commercial printer and John Rhoden is apprentice floor man and also in the circulation mailing department.

Seven boys are employed as route carriers, in addition to the street sales force. Staff members and their families account for a total of 25 persons, aside from route carriers and news boys.

Has Many Features The Reporter-Telegram, published afternoons on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, and on Sunday morning, is a member of the Associated Press, also having services of the United Press and the NEA feature service, both daily and with Sunday colored supplement. Popular features, such as "Boots and Her Buddies," "Wash Tubbs," "Alley Oop," "Salesman Sam," "Freckles and His Friends," "Out Our Way," "Our Boarding House," "Slide Glances," sport news pictures, editorial cartoons, spot news pictures, and the word puzzle.

"Behind The Scenes In Washington" and the locally written "Town Quack," "Sports Horn" and "Feminine Fancies," appear daily in the newspaper. Colored supplement appears each Sunday morning.

Circulation of the daily paper covers the city or Midland, the rural mail route of Midland county and a large mail circulation and has been on a constant increase for the past two years, giving readers first accounts of local, state and world wide happenings, as well as up to date advertising, local and national.

Asks Co-operation The publisher, a native of Midland and for twelve years in the newspaper business here, in a statement after completion of the purchase from the other stockholders, expressed gratitude to the efforts of the staff of Midland and to the readers in general for making possible the publication of a daily newspaper in Midland, a small city which "demands the best." He asked a continuation of this public support, promising renewed efforts of the entire staff to give to this section a larger and better newspaper.

MIDLAND COUNTY HOME OWNERS BORROW FEDERAL FUNDS UNDER MODERNIZATION CREDIT SYSTEM

FORT WORTH, July 11—Latest figures reveal that 158 loans amounting to $43,189.24 have been made in Midland county under the Modernization Credit Plan or Title I of the National Housing Act, according to a statement today by P. S. Luttrell, associate director of the Northwestern Texas District of the Federal Housing Administration.

The northwestern district of Texas with headquarters in Fort Worth comprises 113 counties of north and west Texas. During the 20 months operation of the Federal Housing Administration, there has been a total of 9,610 loans amounting to $3,241,505.08 made under title I throughout the district, state Luttrell.

Title I or Modernization Credit Loans are made by banks and other financial institutions approved by the Federal Housing Administration; the loans are made for repairing, altering, modernizing and the improvement of real property. The obligation is repaid in small, equal, monthly payments over a period of years not to exceed five. This particular section of the National Housing Act expired on April 1, 1936, but because of the demand for this type of loan, and the great benefits to property owners, building material dealers, and labor in the building trades, the Modernization Credit Plan was extended to April 1, 1937.

"Altogether, many thousands of business firms, and millions of wage earners, have profited," says Mr. Luttrell. "The recovery evident during the past year and a half in practically all lines of industry related to housing indicates that the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration has acted as a substantial force.

"The impetus gained as a result of this emergency legislation, being enlarged and carried forward by increased home-building activity, which has given a start and has been greatly accelerated by the timely inception of the Insured Mortgage System or Title II of the National Housing Act, has resulted in new residential building started during the first six months of 1936 is double that of the first six months of 1935, based on building permits issued in the district.

"This revival of home-construction has resulted in the rapid reemployment of building trades workers, to such an extent that in many areas there are today no idle skilled craftsmen available," states the FHA official.

"The widespread effect of the National Housing Act may best be judged from the fact that the number of homes in all except four of the one hundred and thirteen counties in this district," says Luttrell. "Information on the FHA plan of financing repairs, alterations, and modernization of homes as well as for the construction of new homes has been established.

Kobayashi arranged to call a meeting of educators and social workers and to map out a series of lectures on the prevention of suicide.

Jumping Practice Grows Last year the practice of jumping into the crowded Ginza from a tall building apparently was in disfavor after several years which saw an average of more than a score annually kill themselves in that manner. The three who committed suicide recently were young men.

In 1931, 18 men and seven women killed themselves by jumping from Tokyo buildings. There were 22 men and 14 women in 1932, and in 1933 and 1934 there were 25 men and 16 such suicides respectively.

Police are considering a system of net construction around some of the larger buildings. Special guards are being posted. The Matsuya department store has guards of its own and a rail around the roof has been designed to prevent any climbing to the ramparts.

OFFICER SPINS ONE LIMA, O. (U.P.)—U. S. Navy Recruiting Officer Herbert E. Trusler tells this one: During naval target practice, a ship fell short of the raft target, 16 miles away, ricocheted over the water, to come to a balance on its butt end on the raft.

"SMITHY" ASTOUNDS CROWD MECHANICVILLE, N. Y. (U.P.)—The remaining Blacksmith shop in this village held the center of attraction recently when the smithy shrunk an iron tire on a wagon wheel. The crowd around the shop admitted they hadn't seen anything like it in many years.

Facts About Midland

POPULATION: Midland's present population, conservatively estimated, is 7,500 for city, 9,500 for county.

LOCATION: Midland is located 300 miles west of Fort Worth and 300 miles east of El Paso, on the Texas & Pacific railroad and the Broadway of America.

ALTITUDE: The altitude of the city of Midland is 2,768 feet above sea level. INDUSTRIES: Midland's principal industries are cattle, oil, sheep, agriculture and horses.

CATTLE: The beef cattle business, long the backbone of West Texas, centers at Midland. More live beef cattle are sold here than at any point in North America, according to authorities. Herefords are the principal breed.

OIL: Midland is the business center of the Permian Basin oil area. Although there is not a producing well in Midland county, a large per cent of the population is composed of business, technical and professional men connected with oil operations in fields of West Texas and New Mexico. The 12-story Petroleum building and the 6-story Jno. B. Thomas building are approximately 80 per cent occupied, largely as result of the oil business.

SHEEP: Although a few years ago the sheep business was handled in towns and cities south of Midland, much of the ranch country to the south has been fenced wolf-proof and stocked with sheep, so that the business here has become a million dollar industry annually.

AGRICULTURE: Midland county, according to the A. & M. college's survey, has a potential cotton crop of 75,000 bales, although so little of the farm land has been put under the plow that an average crop is approximately 8,000 bales. Feed crops, such as hegira, milo, cane and kafir, grow abundantly in this section and, with cotton, bring in a fair share of Midland's annual revenue.

HORSES: Long recognized as a horse breeding country, the Midland ranch area has taken great strides within recent years in the production of well bred horses. Using thoroughbred stallions, approximately 200 mares in the near vicinity of Midland are producing colts each year, the animals being sold for polo, army, race track, ranch and bridle path use.

HOMES: Midland is one of the most desirable "home" cities in the state. Residence property is of substantial type, with hundreds of beautiful dwellings, both large and small. Living conditions are admirable, with social and cultural advantages equal to those of larger cities.

CHURCHES: Religious environment is strong in Midland, with active memberships and substantial church plants. Denominations include, Baptist, Methodist, Christian, Presbyterian, Church of Christ, Catholic, Episcopal, Lutheran, Christian Science, Holiness.

SCHOOLS: Rated among the best in the state, the Midland public schools are on the Southern accredited list and have 41 units of affiliation with the state university. Six brick buildings are in use and bonds have been voted for an additional $75,000 ward school. Other building plans are under contemplation. Approximately 1, 600 students were enrolled at the end of the last term.

BANKS: Two strong banks are located at Midland, with combined capital and surplus of more than $300,000. Deposits of the two institutions, on the last statement, exceeded $2,500,000. There is also the Midland Production Credit Corporation and the Midland Federal Savings & Loan association, as well as representatives of private financial institutions.

RETAIL STORES: Midland stores, adequately serving the city, county and a large trade territory, carry dependable merchandise, ranging from popular priced goods to city-class, custom-made stock. Clothing, dry goods, foods, drugs, automobiles and accessories, hardware, implements, novelties, furniture, luxuries, electrical and gas appliances, in fact all lines of needed merchandise are carried in the heavy stocks of Midland retail stores, eliminating the necessity of mail order or city store purchasing.

TOURIST FACILITIES: Hotels, ranging from the more popular priced to the most modern, provide more than 400 rooms for tourists spending the night or remaining at Midland. There are five hotels at Midland. Six tourist camps also are located on the Broadway of America, with cottage rates of $1 and up. The Texas & Pacific Railway, Greyhound Bus lines, Broadway of America and a splendid airport handle tourist travel in and out of Midland. An army airways station at Sloan Field provides weather information at all times.

AMUSEMENTS: Two outstanding theatres, a modern swimming pool and park, the Country Club golf course, the Midland Fair and its race meets and rodeo, Cloverdale Park and its recreational advantages, tennis and other entertainment are available to both residents and visitors to Midland.

CIVIC BODIES: The chamber of commerce, with offices in Hotel Scharbauer; Lions Club, meeting Wednesday noon at the court house; Rotary club, meeting Thursday noon at Hotel Scharbauer; American Legion, lodges and other bodies are represented at Midland.

UTILITIES: Water, $1.50 minimum for 6,000 gallons; electricity minimum $1.00; natural gas minimum $1.35; telephone rates standard for area.

TAX RATE: City $1.20, school $1.00, county .90, state .62; based on 70 per cent valuation for city and school and 40 per cent for county and state. Bonded indebtedness, city $567,500.00; school $204,000.00 ($75,000.00 additional bonds voted); county $287,000.00.

MISCELLANEOUS: Postal receipts in 1935 were $39,700.59; a daily newspaper, three oil company tank farms, a 100-watt radio station, the Hughes Tool Co., American Chemical Co., and other industrial plants are located at Midland. Annual rainfall averages from 18 to 21 inches, temperature in winter averages 40 degrees and in summer 60 degrees.

INFORMATION: Any type of additional information desired about Midland may be obtained by calling or writing the chamber of commerce office.

Scout Speech on Independence Is Given by Noble

Billy Noble, Midland high school honor student and son of Mrs. Susan G. Noble, gave an Independence day speech at the Boy Scout camp, Barksdale, last Saturday night in special July fourth exercises. The complete text, given The Reporter-Telegram by a local scoutmaster follows:

On the Western shores of the great Atlantic Ocean rested thirteen struggling colonies. Three thousand miles north-eastward glared the half insane king, King George of England. One year previous these two came to violence. Bunker Hill, Concord, Lexington, Paul Revere, all famous as history; battles won and lost by both fighters; turmoil, torques and Continentals! A continental congress met and twice, each time struggling to govern a mad people; And now 'twas July Fourth!

Thomas Jefferson had worked strenuously for days, and in beads of sweat he completed a thing—extremely brave in undertaking—which was to set a people free from tyranny. July 4th, he came before the critical congress with representatives from all the colonies and presented to them the illustrious and famous Declaration of Independence from England.

Debates followed. A definite plan was laid and the famous, historical fathers of our country took up pen and ink and signed their names upon the document.

John Hancock is said to have remarked with words to this effect, "I'll sign my name so King George can read it without putting on his spectacles," and with that he scratched his name large and plain upon the sheepskin.

Others, our praise should go to our patriots, who took their life in their hands and set our nation free, to develop into one of the world's powers. These men laid the plan, and we scouts are to try to follow this plan. Improving it and making a better nation of our United States. We are citizens of this country and it is our lot to keep the "Spirit of '76" and carry on with the faith and patriotic feeling of our historic forefathers.

Today our objective is Peace—World Peace. As scouts we should strive for such an end. Scouting is growing into the most powerful and wide-spread brotherhood of the world and brothers do not fight brother. "Fight for peace" is old and out-dated. No longer should we be compelled to fight for peace, for no profit ever comes of it. The World War proved as much. There is more unrest and turmoil in the world now than anytime since 1918.

We are pioneers, we scouts, striving to launch upon a new and better way of bringing about peace. Scouting is primarily with the nation. The first friendships of scouts are brother Americans. Next come the "World At War" Jamborees many boys of diverse nationalities, come together. They become acquainted, trade trinkets, form effective friendships, correspond after they depart. These scouts are the farmer, the banker, the merchant and the statesmen of tomorrow. If lasting friendships are formed and a clearer understanding of each other, and their countries are made there will be less chance of ill-feeling between the statesmen of tomorrow who met at World Jamborees.

Each scout should do his part. If it is possible to go to a Jamboree he may get a fellow scout who is fortunate enough to go to bring him addresses of friends of foreign countries. In this way scouting friendships may be augmented a hundred fold—not stopping with the nation but continuing to foreign countries. If this were followed explicitly, peace would be established forever and "Fight for Peace" would be forever blotted out.

U. S. Authority Over Migrant Birds Extended WASHINGTON, (U.P.)—A bill passed by congress during the last session and approved by President Roosevelt on June 20 will reinforce and extend federal authority over migratory birds, the Biological Survey announces.

The new law is designed to make effective in this country a convention between the United States and Mexico for protection of migratory birds and animals. Ratification of the new law by Mexico is yet to follow, and it will take effect upon proclamation of the exchange of ratifications.

Federal authority over migratory birds heretofore has depended on the Migratory Bird Treaty with Great Britain. The new treaty reinforces this authority by providing for a dual basis for the federal regulations conserving ducks, geese, and other migratory birds.

Troubles Come Double BERKELEY, Cal. (U.P.)—Although only 12 years old, Charles Martin is already convinced troubles never come singly. Charles fell off his bicycle in a vacant lot. The fall disturbed a rat. The rat bit him.

Tail Lights For Mules EDENTON, N. C. (U.P.)—Mules must have tail lights if they are to walk the highways after dark, George Hausley discovered. He was fined $5.45 because his mule which was being led back of his car had no tail light.

WIDE VARIETY OF MERCHANDISE IS OFFERED PUBLIC

Shopping Advantages Of City Proven By Events

PRICES REDUCED New Citizens Urged Acquaint Selves With Values

Store-wide clearance sales at several of Midland's leading retail institutions, announced in both sections of today's issue of The Reporter-Telegram, offer to the trade area a galaxy of shopping events unexcelled in recent months.

Merchants here are putting before the buying public a wide variety of dry goods, clothing, novelties, hardware, and furniture which, based on present-day prices, make it profitable for residents of a wide area to come to Midland and "stock up."

The merchandising events, besides providing timely shopping at low prices for the season, are designed to acquaint the citizens of a wide territory with the up-to-the-minute shopping facilities of the stores located in Midland.

Many newer citizens of oil field towns and of other sections outlying from Midland, as well as those who have moved to the city itself within recent months, will be impressed with the fact that all classes of merchandise, from the popular priced to the custom fashioned, are available here, and are now offered at reduced prices.

Institutions joining in the store-wide sale movement include the Adelson-Wadley co. department store, Wilson Dry Goods Co., Midland Hardware & Furniture Co., United Dry Goods Co., J. C. Smith ready to wear store, Everybody's Store and the Popular Store.

Quantity buying, constant contact with the nation's leading market, and the fact that the merchandising in order to keep clean and reasonable stocks at all times have placed Midland merchants in a strong position to serve the citizens of a wide area. Today's issue of The Reporter-Telegram, with its array of advertisements outlining the unusual store values is a "catalog" of information for the interested shopper.

Merchants asked that readers keep copies of the paper to be used as a shopping guide when in Midland on the dates specified in the various clearance and store wide sales.

Terriers Are Used In War on Coyotes

SAN ANTONIO, July 11. (U.P.)—Prompted by a story of a Montana coyote trapper, Texas hunters of predatory animals are preparing to use wire-haired terriers in their business.

R. E. Bateman, a Montana district agent for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, predatory animal survey, described how the tiny dogs were used in den-hunting. He sent a dog into a female coyote's den, and to his surprise the terrier returned without its prey.

Bateman then tied a light chain to the dog's collar and sent it back again. There was a great commotion in the hole below. The hunter gave a tug on the chain and out came the dog with a coyote almost twice as large.

The dogs are used for their ability to follow a scent as well as their retrieving ability. Professional hunters in Texas destroyed 914 predatory animals in April. The animals—coyotes, bobcats, wolves and mountain lions—annually take a heavy toll from domestic animals on farms and ranches in West Texas. The April catch included 702 coyotes, 144 bobcats, 66 wolves, and two mountain lions.

In April 101 men worked a total of 2,977 days with dogs, traps and other killing predatory pests. The best catches were by Alvin Streys and Mike Williams. Streys took 49 coyotes and 14 bobcats in Culbertson county and Williams killed 13 coyotes, eight bobcats and one mountain lion.

Pastor and Family On Month's Tour

The Rev. W. J. Coleman, Presbyterian pastor, with Mrs. Coleman and their two children, will leave Monday for a month's vacation. First they will go to Mobile, Ala., where he will engage in deep sea fishing for several days. They then will go to Tennessee, Kentucky and Indiana points, visiting relatives, friends and points of interest. The Rev. Coleman will attend a fish rodeo at Mobile.

Galaxy of Stars Listed in Fort Worth Frontier Centennial, Bringing "Tops" Of Entertainment; To Open Saturday

FORT WORTH, July 11.—Preparations for the entertainment of the largest crowd in the history of the city at the opening of the Ft. Worth Frontier Centennial, Saturday, July 18, are now being made and will be completed in a few days. The various shows as well as all structures have already been completed.

The galaxy of song, dancing and novelty stars, showgirls and musicians assembled in Fort Worth for the final rehearsals on the four major shows of the Frontier Centennial made the town look like Forty-second and Broadway this week.

Paul Whiteman and his Orchestra arrived Friday to go into the final week of rehearsals with the 250-member cast of the Casa Manana Revue. Joe Venuti and his orchestra will play for ballroom dancing in the same vast cafe-theatre.

The Casa Manana evue, spangled with hush names as Everett Marshall, baton-stare of Zigfeld's "Follies," Salome and the fans and bubbles, Ann Pennington of the "Follies," the Lime Trio of "Life Begins at 8:40," Walter Dare Wahl of vaudeville and the "Follies" and young Gareth Jopelin of the movies, will last for a little over an hour.

Between the shows of the cafe-theatre, the 130-foot revolving stage, floating on water, will be moved forward to a level with the terrace so that the guests may dance. Reservations already were pouring in this week for tables in the fabulous cafe-theatre for the opening night. Dramatic critics from every newspaper and theatrical journal in New York will be here to witness

Merchant Goes On 12,000 Mile Journey For Buying

CHICAGO, July 11 (U.P.)—American ingenuity, political stability and discard of the gold standard are proving magnets in attracting European buyer trade to United States markets, according to Lawrence Katz, South African merchant prince, addressing a group of manufacturers in the Merchandise Mart while on a 12,000 mile buying trip from Johannesburg.

"Merchants in many countries of the eastern hemisphere are finding it more profitable to come to the United States to do their buying despite the increased distance they travel," Katz declared. "In this country they find scores of ingenious articles not produced in European countries and prices are far below those of countries where political unrest and the gold standard prevail."

The time element in buying is another factor that is drawing European purchasers across the water to the United States, Katz said. There are,

"There are," he said, "no permanent concentration points for wholesale merchandise or manufacturers' display rooms abroad comparable to what Chicago offers. Because of this concentration it is possible to accomplish in a week here buying that abroad would require a month."

TIRE BLOWOUT RUINS FOOD NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (U.P.)—When a tire on a 10-ton truck loaded with foodstuffs blew out, the rubber began to burn because of the heat generated by the blowout. The smoke affected the load to such an extent that the food was condemned by Dr. Louis J. Dumont, superintendent of health.

Texas Tips Ten-Gallon Hats To Stream Of Visitors And Inaugurates First of World Expositions Of Year for Nation

Texas tips its ten-gallon stetson to a stream of visitors for whom Dallas is a reception committee, and inaugurates the first United States exposition in the world's bumper crop for 1936. After the Texas Centennial, the veteran exposition fan may as well start packing for jaunts to Cleveland, Ohio, and Johannesburg, South Africa.

Although this is the first world's fair in Texas, the United States has been a happy hunting ground for elaborate expositions, according to the National Geographic Society. Philadelphia, Chicago and San Diego have each had two. New York and San Francisco have both set the date for their second, 1939.

World's Fairs for U. S. Birthday Parties

Such celebrations are becoming the accepted sort of birthday party for important national anniversaries. The Philadelphia Centennial in 1876 brought the world's activities in miniature to the front door of a nation just one hundred years independent. The Columbia Exposition in Chicago in 1893 was intended to show Columbus that he hadn't seen the half of it when he discovered America 400 years before. In 1907 the effectiveness of English colonization of this country was displayed by the Jamestown (Virginia) Tercentenary. The young nation's first wavering westward steps were recalled in the Louisiana Purchase Centennial in St. Louis in 1904, and Portland's (Oregon) celebration of the Lewis and Clark Expedition's hundredth anniversary in 1905.

The South contributed to the country's fair festivities with the Cotton States Exposition at Atlanta in '95, the Tennessee Centennial Exposition at Nashville in 1897, and in the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian Exposition at Charleston in 1902. Seattle was "at home" for an exposition in honor of Alaska, the Yukon, and the Pacific coast in 1909.

By that time the United States had acquired the world's fair habit, and would have one at the slightest provocation. When the Panama Canal was opened in 1914, no one wanted to wait a hundred years for the vent to simmer down into a centennial, so that formality was waived, and the occasion itself was celebrated with important expositions in both San Francisco and in San Diego.

The general enthusiasm for fairs was dampened somewhat after 1918 by the World War, which appeared to destroy man's appetite for the arts and industries of civilization. Then Philadelphia gave its second performance, the Sesqui-centennial in 1926. Chicago followed suit in '33 with its own hundredth birthday party to which everyone was invited, and to which everyone went and then went back the following year.

In 1935 the San Diego Exposition was announced along with centennial celebrations in Arkansas, Wisconsin and Springfield, Massachusetts.

The World's Fair a World Favorite For 85 Years

The past century might well be called the Exposition Era, for it has witnessed the sudden gaudy sprouting of the World's Fair from the ancient family tree of the traditional trade fair. This new and dazzling era began in 1851 with that granddaddy of fairs in the modern manner, the London Crystal Palace Exhibition, officially opened by Queen Victoria and Prince Albert. Since then, many crowned heads and presidents have seized opportunities to combine official business with seeing the sights.

After London started the world's fair fever, it spread through Europe and North America with amazing rapidity, with isolated cases cropping up all over the world from Melbourne, Australia, to Seville, Spain. Within 85 years, Paris has had seven important expositions and reports another planned for 1937, establishing a world record for world's fairs. London follows, with a score of five. It is often difficult to decide whether a busy industrial exposition or a big centennial celebration is a world's fair.

There are few set rules for playing the exposition game, although an international agreement on the subject has been discussed and standing committees exist in most European countries. Almost any occasion now is considered legitimate for a world's fair. Rio de Janeiro staged one to celebrate the centenary of Brazilian independence in 1922. Antwerp commemorated Belgium's centenary of independence in 1930, and Brussels in honor of the centenary of Belgian railroads in 1935.

Indeed, the latter seems symbolic of the tendency of the 85 years of fairs—away from the early arts and crafts and toward the accomplishments of science, especially in the service of transportation. In 1851 the only transportation exhibit sent to the exposition from the United States was an artificial leg! But at Chicago Centennial in 1893-94 the modes of transportation constituted a more extensive display than did the exhibit of any one State or nation. There is no wonder, however, that fairs recognize transportation as important, since fairs are becoming bigger and better and more frequently because of the ease with which they can be reached.

The world's fair today, with its bewildering mixture of amusement, education, and commercialism, is sometimes hard to distinguish from its more workaday relative, the international trade exposition for advertising purposes, such as the International Petroleum Exposition at Tulsa, Oklahoma. The World's fair is a sporadic celebration, however, and thus differs from the perennial industrial exhibition, like those of the British Industries fair held simultaneously in London and Birmingham every year since 1915, and the Leipzig fairs which have been landmarks of international trade for 700 years and are now considered the oldest and largest of the hardy perennials.

Each fair offers a novelty of some sort, like London's original Crystal Palace, Chicago's camel ride in 1893 and its sky-ride in 1933, or the Texas Centennial's rocket-ride; but there is no novelty in holding a fair. Always it has been "fair" weather somewhere in the world, since Chinese tribesmen began to congregate at some convenient crossroads 3,000 years ago, when trade really meant trade and business was on the barter standard. Ancient Greeks and their Roman imitators held periodic fairs garnished with games and some religious trimmings. Shrewd medieval European merchants reaped the rewards of virtue when they all journeyed to their nearest religious center—and set up booths for a fair during a church festival. So general was this practice that some languages combined the word fair with that for church service. The hiring of servants and the settlement of marriage contracts were transactions no more out of place on primitive medieval midway than the exchange of cattle or the sale of horses. Incidental matrimony became such a substantial factor that it soon set up in business for itself, primly differentiated with the term, "pleasure fair." One of these, the St. Bartholomew's fair was abolished in London only as late as 1926. England retains traces of many primitive fairs, such as Goose Fair and Onion Fair, while developing the more modern trade shows to a high degree of specialization, from the annual exhibition of British products to an international audience with 80 different potential language markets, to the restricted Antique Dealers' Fair or the Exhibition of Acetylene, Oxy-Acetylene, and Allied Industries.

Slain in Newest Chicago Mystery

In the second mystery of the kind to baffle Chicago police within a week, Miss Audrey Vallette, above, 31, former showgirl-singer, was found shot to death in her bed in a Chicago North Side hotel, where she had registered as Annabelle Blake. She was the daughter of a Gary, Ind., steel official. Four days earlier, Mrs. Florence Castle, night club hostess, was found slain in another Chicago hotel.

The old-fashioned fair to which products were brought, sold, and carted away now is being replaced by the modern exhibition which is simply a huge sample case, where potential buyers make choices, but not purchases. Such are the fairs which have made traveling buyers thrive where the vanishing traveling salesman once flourished, around such international commercial centers as Leipzig, Lyons, Basle, Praha, and Nizhni Novgorod in Russia. The great Hindu market at Hurdwar in Indian is less advanced.

The world's fair, no matter how frivolous, brings profit to its exhibitors by whetting the public's appetite for commodities to be bought later. The novelty introduced at the Philadelphia Centennial in 1876 was Dr. Alexander Graham Bell's curious machine called the telephone, which carried voices across empty space for some distance but seemed to the fair-goers too fantastic to amount to much.

Expositions have set the style for everything from jewelry to hotel facades. The Chicago Columbian Exposition of 1893 was responsible for an epidemic of pseudo-Grecian architecture which supplanted the brownstone front throughout the United States until 1915, when the Moorish-Spanish buildings of the San Diego and the San Francisco camps, and the Y. W. C. A. with 230 camps scattered throughout the nation, all are reporting better registrations.

Physical culturists and health authorities attribute much of the steady improvement in America's child health and strength to the services of the summer camps. Especially is this true of the contributions to the underprivileged city children who are sent to the fresh air outposts.

Summer Camps Showing Increase In Enrollment

NEW YORK, July 11 (U.P.)—The nation's 25,000 private and semi-private summer camps will care for half a million youngsters, this year according to estimates here.

Ranging in interests from bronco-riding on dude ranches to trimming sail on offshore sea-camps, everything for the upbuilding and entertainment of America's youth is being offered.

The de luxe camps suffered most in the last few years, and consequently the gain is most marked in higher-cost brackets of the 900-odd private camps for boys and girls. Organization camps, bulking large in the national picture, are filling this year. The Boy Scouts, with more than 700 camps, the Girl Scouts, with 350 regular and 700 reserve camps, and the Y. W. C. A. with 230 camps scattered throughout the nation, all are reporting better registrations.

Physical culturists and health authorities attribute much of the steady improvement in America's child health and strength to the services of the summer camps. Especially is this true of the contributions to the underprivileged city children who are sent to the fresh air outposts.

Supervised games and the rambling recreations of youth are the best preparations for adult health and strength, according to Charles

Atlas, twice pronounced the most perfectly developed man, who advises no deliberate muscle-building activities for boys and girls under the age of sixteen. "Flexibility in muscular condition is necessary if growth is not to be retarded," he says.

Burial Customs of The Middle Ages Are Still A Comfort to French Protestants

POITIERS, France. (U.P.)—Like India's towers of silence, where the Parsees place their dead before they ultimate burial places, so have the farming district around Poitou and Saintonge in central France a strange burial custom.

The attention of the traveler in these regions is attracted by the clumps of four cypress trees set out in a square some 25 to 30 feet apart which dot the landscape. Few know that here are the private family cemeteries of the French Protestant farmers. The districts of Poitou and Saintonge always have been the strongholds of Protestantism in France and ever since the day of Catholic persecution the Protestants have buried their dead on their farms.

The people of Poitou are affable and readily permit strangers to pass through the farms to little family cemeteries which usually are situated some 50 yards behind the house. A space about the size of a large room, enclosed within a thick hedge, a cypress tree at each corner is the last resting place of those who have labored on the farm.

On passing the hedge the traveler finds half a dozen humble graves, a wooden cross here and there. Tombstones are rare. The cemeteries never grow in size for the newest grave is dug in the dust of the oldest.

These Protestant farmers explain: "Well, it might seem strange but it is not fitting that those who lived here should lie in the ground hallowed by their work and that of their fathers? Our dead are here, they are not crowded among strangers. They hold us to the soil with unbreakable bonds, and when I die, I shall lie where I have labored, loved and hoped."

French Hear Foreign Speeches By New And Quick Translation Over Radios

PARIS, July 11 (U.P.)—Probably the most difficult job of translation the world affords is carried off with the greatest of ease at the listening station of the French Radio Administration when a speech from a foreign country is being relayed in French over the state network.

The translator who follows orators in other languages and reproduces in French what they say as they go along has to be more than a translator—he is an actor as well. Headphone over his ears, he hears the foreign broadcast and in the microphone before him, he speaks as he listens, following phrase by phrase the sounds he receives, never slipping up on his syntax. If a person couldn't hear the words, he could follow the speech by the expression. The translator roars when the original speaker roars, whispers when he whispers, becomes threatening, cajoling, humorous, serious as the man to whom he is listening changes tones.

Immediate translations (conspicuous) are provided by the French radio service from four languages—German, Spanish, English, and Italian. Perhaps the hardest test the translators were put to came after the Rhineland rearmament, when Hitler's speeches were rebroadcast in French simultaneously with

Needy Children to Enjoy Cabin Life in Great Forest

Comfortable log cabins of this type will be available for vacations of many underprivileged girls this summer, through a project of the U. S. Forest Service. Fifty-six buildings, to accommodate four youngsters each, are being constructed in the 10,000-acre Shelby forest, overlooking the Mississippi river near Memphis, Tenn., using Resettlement Administration funds. They will be rented for a small fee to social service agencies, which will select the girls to occupy them for short periods.

Productions Little Theater Exhibited

AUSTIN. One of the featured exhibits of the drama division of the University Centennial Exposition is a set of 57 scenes from productions of the Dallas Little Theater between 1924 and 1931 under the directorship of Oliver Hinsdell, now with Merton Goldwyn-Mayer. The pictures were sent to the University Exposition from Hollywood by Mrs. Hinsdell along with an autographed picture of himself.

Three of the plays represented, "Judge Lynch," "The No. Counting Boy" and "El Christo," won the Belasco Cup in the National Play Tournament in New York in 1924, 1925, and 1926 giving the Dallas Little Theater permanent possession of the cup.

Also in the drama division are displayed the works of John William Rogers of Dallas, author of "Judge Lynch" and "Roam Though I May." The manuscript, autographed copies, and program of the one-act play, "Westward People" the story of Mary Austin Holley's first visit to Texas in the early 1830's, are on exhibit. This is Mr. Rogers' latest work. An autographed picture of the author and an autographed copy of "Brazos Boat Song," words and original tune by Mr. Rogers and added tune by David W. Guion, conclude the Texas playwright's work on exhibit.

Other Texas authors and playwrights represented are Mrs. John Ayres of Fort Arthur who wrote the one-act play "The Runaway Scrape," and Mrs. Mary Matlock Griffith, author of a book of original short Texas history plays. One entire case is given over to the work of Stark Young, famous author and playwright and former member of the University faculty. The exhibit includes the original manuscript of Mr. Young's latest book, "So Red the Rose."

An interesting item in the exhibit is the manuscript of the first play written in America. The play is included in a manuscript containing four books and written in Mexico in 1619. It was discovered in the Garcia Collection, which belongs to the University, by Dr. Carlos E. Castan-

Cost of Razing Saves Ancient Wall of Mukden

DAIREN, China. (U.P.)—The wall surrounding the old city of Mukden, historical landmark for centuries, will survive the onward march of progress because the expense of tearing it down is greater than city authorities are willing to provide.

The wall, about 30 feet high and from 16 to 26 feet thick, is an encumbrance to traffic between the old and new cities. There are eight gates to accommodate an increasing amount of travel back and forth.

It has been estimated that it would cost more than 1,500,000 Manchurian dollars to tear down the wall.

The wall was built originally in the Yuan dynasty to protect the old town from invasion during the feudal days, was rebuilt in its present design by the Chinese emperor Tatum about 300 years ago.

Boys In Canoe on 3200 Mile Trip to New School

INDIANAPOLIS. (U.P.)—Two Indianapolis boys are paddling a canoe today on a 3,200 mile trip to Phoenix, Arizona.

Everett and Paul Dye, 20 and 19 respectively, embarked on White River, south of Indianapolis, determined to reach Phoenix in time to enroll in the University of Arizona next fall.

The trip will be made in easy stages, with plenty of camping for hunting and fishing en route.

Heading south from Indianapolis the boys planned to follow the White River to the Wabash, then on down into the Ohio and finally along the Mississippi to New Orleans.

From the Louisiana city the itinerary includes the Tetch Canal to Orange, Texas, then down the Sabine river to the Gulf of Mexico.

The boys plan to paddle through the Inter-Coastal Canal and the Bayou to Houston, Texas.

The trip from Houston to Phoenix will be made by Automobile.

Nine years of canoeing, principally in Indiana waters, prepared the boys for the long journey.

Everett was graduate from high school in 1933 and Paul a year later. They have been working and saving money for the trip and for their college education.

Six hundred fatal accidents were caused by defective cars in England last year.

TODAY'S NEWS IN PICTURES

Fleet Has New Chief After Picturesque Ceremony

A NEW commander took over rule of the United States fleet in this colorful ceremony aboard the flagship Pennsylvania. In the center, beneath the frowning guns, is Vice Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, who had been commander-in-chief for two years. At right Admiral Hepburn, left, and Admiral Reeves are shown shaking hands after the picturesque pageantry.

Plane Crashes Way Onto Normandie

The liner Normandie was the scene of one of the most unusual air crashes on record when a British Royal Air Force bomber plunged to the deck while the ship was anchored at the Isle of Wight. How narrowly the pilot missed falling into the sea is apparent from the position of his plane's wreckage on the narrow prow. Heated air rising from the liner's funnels was said to have caused the pilot to lose control of the plane.

In the Swim for Olympic Aquatic Team Honors

Demonstrating fine form—in the water and out—the United States feminine swimming stars made bids for Olympic team consideration with record performances in the A.A.U. meet at Manhattan Beach pool, in Brooklyn. Mrs. Lenore Kight Wingard of Homestead, Pa., is pictured in action (inset) while setting two new world marks in the one mile swim. And Eleanor Holm Jarrett looks ready to extend the remarkable comeback campaign that has carried her to new records.

Two Generations of Newcomers

Broadway never was like this, might have been the thought of the venerable Daniel Frohman, dean of the American stage, when he posed for this picture with two charming young actresses—all three newcomers in Hollywood. Both English girls, Margaret Sinclair, left, has just arrived from Shanghai, and Elsa Buchanan has finished a dramatic course at the Paris Conservatory.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

IF THE EARTH WERE THROWN OUT OF THE UNIVERSE, IT'S GOING TO HAVE NO NOTICEABLE EFFECT ON ANYTHING IN THE SKY, EXCEPT THE MOON, WHICH WOULD BE DRAGGED ALONG WITH IT!

THE MODERN AUTOMOBILE IS ONLY 8 PER CENT EFFICIENT, WITH REGARD TO ENERGY IN FUEL PUT TO USEFUL WORK.

TWO TINY SPECKS OFF THE SOUTHERN COAST OF NEWFOUNDLAND ARE THE ONLY REMAINING TERRITORIAL POSSESSIONS OF FRANCE IN NORTH AMERICA! THEY ARE THE ISLANDS OF MIQUELON AND ST. PIERRE.

ACCORDING to science, the present-day automobile is far from perfect when it comes to getting energy from fuel. About 40 per cent of the fuel energy is used in cooling water, alone. Transmission and engine friction use up about 12 per cent; some 20 per cent is lost through incompletely burned fuel, and another 20 per cent is lost through still other causes.

Opens Great Steel Plant

A power in the steel industry, which is girding for a war to the finish against the challenge of union labor, Eugene C. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel, is shown here as he appeared at the formal opening of Bethlehem's new $20,000,000 strip mill in Lackawanna, N. Y. Grace was closely guarded during his visit to the huge plant.

Striking View of Ship Christening

Miss Mai Duane, descendant of William J. Duane, Secretary of the Treasury in President Jackson's cabinet, took no chances on fizzling the christening of the new U. S. Coast Guard Cutter at Philadelphia Navy Yard. She gritted her teeth, grasped the baptismal bottle of champagne firmly and used both hands to smash the flagon against the Duane's prow. Then look what happened.

Bounty Racket Develops From War Made on Snakes

WAUKON, Ia. (U.P.)—The county commissioners of Alamakee county are puzzled to know just how much of a rattlesnake can be cut off and permit the snake to remain alive. Their interest is due to the offer of a $1 bounty for each rattler killed in the county. When the offer was made the rattlers were required as proof of the claim to the bounty. The plan failed to result in the extermination of the snakes, county supervisors said, because the snake hunters learned that they could cut off the rattles turn the snake loose and so assure themselves of later profits. The bounty was cut to 50 cents, but the rattlesnake population of the county increased. Last year the supervisors sought

Whim of Fashion Turns Pest Into Source of Riches

SYDNEY, Australia (U.P.)—Thanks to the American demand for rabbit skins for hats, the Australian rabbit, heretofore considered a pest, is becoming one of the nation's leading sources of wealth. From Sydney alone $3,750,000 worth of pelts have been shipped to the United States. The rabbits are declared to be worth more to Australia than wool shipments to the United States. Despite this new market for pelts, the government has been obliged to organize a campaign to keep rabbits from over-running the country.

TWO FISHING POLES COSTLY

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., July 11 (U.P.)—An angler was fined $25 and costs by Justice George Corcoran on a charge of fishing with two poles. His practice—besides not being sporting in the eyes of anglers—was illegal in the eyes of the law.

$400,000 "Twins" Are Exposition Showpieces

The Hall of Transportation and the Hall of Varied Industries, the latter shown above, form one of the most picturesque layouts on the $25,000,000 Texas Centennial Exposition grounds in Dallas. Each costing $400,000 the buildings flank the Esplanade of State and its reflecting pool.

Great Magnetic Rock, An Indian Landmark, Found

GRAND MARAIS, Minn., July 11 (U.P.)—An ancient landmark, the great magnetic rock on the Gunflint ranger district, was uncovered recently by an old settler. The settler, following the vague directions of Indians still living in the area, found the 42-foot rock and directed rangers to its location. The landmark is of gray granite, perpendicular on all sides, and magnetized to a high degree.

Charles Swanson, assistant ranger on the Gunflint district, found his compass failed in the vicinity of the boulder.

PAPER WASTE BINDS ROADS

SALEM, Ore. (U.P.)—Oregon and Washington pulp mills are now selling the liquid waste remaining after the manufacture of paper from hemlock to eastern highway departments for use in "binding" materials for highway shoulders. State Forester J. W. Ferguson has discovered.

Second Sutter's Star Rises

Scoring a victory in the national intercollegiate tennis tournament in Chicago, young Ernest Sutter, above, of Tulane University, became the first player in the history of the meet to follow a brother as champion. The youngster, brother of the noted Cliff, former Davis Cup player, defeated Vernon John, of Southern California, in the final match.

Air-Conditioning On Trains Cause Large Change In Fashions

CHICAGO, Ill. — "Something old, something dark," used to be the standard prescription for travel clothes—and it always induced "something blue" in the traveler's mood. For when a girl is spending a good part of her vacation aboard a train and has to keep her bright new wardrobe packed in her suitcase, it's not much fun!

Today, she leaves the old dark things behind, and when she boards the train she looks like a holiday and not like a funeral. While this fashion business may mean nothing to the engineering fraternity, they are the fathers of the new travel style, since they developed air-conditioning.

Clean, washed air and sealed windows that keep out dust and soot mean that a white glove can stay white from Chicago to California. Regulated temperature means that crisp cottons and summery fabrics won't curl up and wilt. The result? A revolution in travel fashions.

The vacation crowds now rolling to mountains, woods and lakes on the western railroads give the impression of a summer resort on wheels. Bright flower prints, cool dark chiffons, summer suits in the new fabrics which combine enough linen for body and enough "synthetics" to keep them from wrinkling, are especially popular. The smartest summer suits in all-white, maize or pale pastels are frequently accented by bindings, lacings or buttons of brown, wine or marine blue.

Fashion decrees brilliant color and soft, feminine frills for this summer, and, fortunately, the advance of air conditioning makes it possible for the traveler to follow the decrees. This not only makes for better dressed traveling but for more comfortable traveling. Luggage is lightened because the passenger does not need one wardrobe for the train and another for the destination. Cool, informal clothes increase the pleasure trip. And at the end of a train ride, you don't have a bundle of grimy clothes to dash to the cleaner.

Even the men are getting heady under the influence of brighter train rides. On the western holiday trains, many of the masculine passengers are blossoming into lighter summer suits. Panamas and light colored shirts, because even a white linen suit suit will get through a dust storm unscathed in an air-conditioned car. With 50% more cars air-conditioned this year than in 1935, every principal train on the western lines offers this new travel comfort. In more ways than one, the railroad cars now add to the gaiety of vacations. The backgrounds of light wood panelings, harmonious color schemes in pleasant greens, blues, maize, lavender, brilliant blues and every other refreshing new hue create a holiday atmosphere for holiday clothes and moods.

Club cars and observation cars no longer have the slightly musty effect of a political convention, but in their new colors, pleasant lighting, informal groupings and airy freshness they immediately give the feeling of a delightful country club or mountain resort. In fact, a leading fashion magazine this month urges women travelers to "dress up to the new trains."

Not only the de luxe new streamliners are appearing in modern dress on the western rails, but hundreds of older cars have been re-conditioned as well as air-conditioned. Completely stripped inside, the old standard cars are redecorated in new colors, re-lighted by new scientific methods, and rejuvenated by new and more comfortable types of coach seats or Pullman berth equipment.

Many of the new and rejuvenated cars will be displayed at railroad terminals all along the routes of the western lines during the second annual observance of "Broad Week," from July 13th to 18th. Sponsored by the Western Railroads, "Broad Week" will celebrate the progress of the western roads with special ceremonies, colorful parades and instructive exhibits at terminals and locomotive roundhouses. While the mechanical minded may peer at the inside of Diesel engines or mammoth steam locomotives, the feminine visitors feel that the Western Railroads have shown just as much initiative in choosing upholstery fabrics that anyone would be delighted to have in her home. Or in introducing the intimate note by clever lighting in the diner. Or in maintaining a supply of cleansing tissues in the washrooms. Or

May Help Solve Chicago Mystery

Chicago police may question Mrs. Ruth Freed, above, in their endeavor to obtain any clues which may lead to the arrest of the murderer of Miss Audrey Vallette, 31, ex-showgirl from Gary, Ind., found shot to death in a North Side hotel. Mrs. Freed was believed by police to have been an acquaintance of the victim, and to have visited her shortly before the slaying took place.

More Talented Children Seen As Lower Birth Rate Permits More Supervision

CHICAGO, July 11 (U.P.)—America's declining birth rate indicates that more and more Shirley Temples will be starred in the movies of the future, Prof. William F. Ogburn, University of Chicago sociologist, believes.

Children will become objects of greater care, attention and "value" as the birth rate decreases, the sociologist predicted.

The increasing proportion of older people in the population will mean more votes for the conservative party, he said.

Present figures indicate the population of the United States will reach a stationary figure of 150,000,000 to 155,000,000 in 25 years and thereafter may decline, Dr. Ogburn said.

He attributed an increase in the birth rate in the past two years to marriages which had been postponed by the depression.

The automobile and the telephone are breaking up cities "by centrifugal force," he said, with suburban areas benefiting by the continued trend of population away from farms.

Ogburn forecast an increasing volume of propaganda until "it will be difficult to get away from people trying to sell you something, either goods or opinions." A tremendous rise in nationalism, coupled with propaganda, he said, will make for intolerance.

He warned that the whole complex may endanger personal liberty, the defense of which "should be a major concern of the American people."

ROTARY CLUB SEA-GOING

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The first permanent sea-going Rotary Club has been established aboard the new super liner Queen Mary. Meetings are held on every voyage east-bound and west-bound and have so far been well attended by members from Rotary Clubs in the United States as well as from Great Britain.

Death Dodger Wins Three Times Already This Year

FORT ST. JOHN, B. C. (U.P.)—Friends have declared Toger Gronseth the "champion death-dodger." Thrice in the last year, he has cheated death.

Last winter he stepped into the path of a falling log, but it only bruised his shoulder. A month later his rifle exploded as he laid it down on the ground. The bullet went through the peak of his cap.

Recently he was standing near a log chack, and a loosened log dropped on his head. It knocked three of his teeth out, but otherwise he was uninjured.

In arranging observation cars so that congenial groups may sit comfortably about a bridge table or chat over a refreshing drink. And, last but not least, the fact that she need not ruin her wardrobe or complexion when she rides the rails on the air-conditioned western lines.

PULLBEARERS GET SHOCK
CANON CITY, Colo. (U.P.)—Billy Smith of Coadale, Colo., was surprised to discover that he was supposedly dead. The report was circulated that he died following a stroke of paralysis. Friends who called to offer their services as pallbearers found Smith in one of his fields supervising the irrigation.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

IN BRAZIL... THERE IS A SPECIES OF FROG THAT BUILDS MUD ENCLOSURES, WHICH SERVE AS PROTECTION FOR THE EGGS AND TADPOLES.

The OKAPI, CURIOUS ANIMAL OF AFRICA, IS CONSIDERED BY ZOOLOGISTS TO BE ABOUT 30,000,000 YEARS BEHIND THE TIMES!

IT RESEMBLES ANIMALS OF THE MIOCENE PERIOD.

THE curious okapi was not discovered by white men until the beginning of the present century. It is related to the giraffes, but, according to scientific findings, it is more primitive in skeletal formation than any of the fossil giraffes so far discovered. It is very rare, and close to extinction.

Picturesque figure who has rushed to every war in the world since the Cuban insurrection, he was broken in as an after-dinner speaker by the late Will Rogers, has had contact with the show business off and on for 25 years.

In addition to these major attractions, such smaller shows as Sally Rand's Nude Ranch, Beauty and the Beast (semi-nude girl dancing in cage of lions) and regular mid-way attractions fill the grounds.

West Texas exhibits and a room containing the ranch and old-West collection of Will Rogers have been installed in the old-fashioned railroad station. Other mementoes of the Southwest, including rooms set with the furnishings of the early pioneer are arranged in buildings on Sunset Trail, the pioneer village street.

Colorful characters will enliven the section of a frontier town with the lusty goings-on of an outpost village. On the little street called Sunset Trail, Broadway and the Old West will join hands for four months of fun.

All fathers and mothers want their children to succeed and as long as they can, mothers and fathers the country over sacrifice and plan to give their boys and girls every advantage, every opportunity, for they want them to have a start which they too often were denied.

"We want to send Jim to college if we can afford it," they say. "We plan to give Mary special training in music if we have the money when she has finished high school."

But why should an IF threaten these dreams? A PRAETORIAN EDUCATIONAL POLICY can erase that IF and permit mothers and fathers to say positively: "MY CHILDREN ARE GOING TO COLLEGE." The Praetorians' plans offer a systematic way of saving. A little put away each month makes the education SURE. Investigate the Praetorians' Educational policies for children.
