RETRIEVE PRISON FARM, Texas (AP)—Scores of heavily-armed officers spread over a 30-mile area Saturday in a grim manhunt for three desperate criminals who slew prison guard Felix Smith and escaped Friday.

Led by Luke Trammel, an outlaw sentenced to 162 years imprisonment for murder, robbery and other crimes, he and his two partners in the crime, Forest Gibson and T. B. Atkinson eluded a trailing posse with bloodhounds, organized by Capt. Rube Conner, in charge of the Retrieve prison farm.

"June Teenth" In City Sets Record For Its Quietness

"June Teenth" celebrations in Midland were carried off with the minimum amount of trouble in Midland Friday, only one couple being charged with violations of the law.

One negro man and his wife were "picked up" by officers after "family troubles" had passed the friendly fistfight stage and advanced to where both were using whatever weapons were handy.

Officers said that spectators became so numerous and so crowded as room within sight of the fight (where it was safe) that several on-lookers climbed telephone poles to get a better point of vantage.

Brother, Husband Say Woman Didn't Slay Children, Self

PITTSBURGH, June 20 (AP)—The theory of triple murder gained support Saturday in the mysterious garroting of the wife and two small children of Martin J. Feely, Pittsburgh university professor.

Most police officers had decided on a double murder suicide decision. Discovery of a well-defined man's thumb print on a claw hammer Friday injected the possibility of murder in the case.

TYPHOID CLINICS OPEN THIS WEEK

Service Will Be Repeated For Following Two Weeks

Free clinics for immunization against typhoid fever will get under way this week, sponsored by the Midland County Public Health Board.

The first one will be held at the Mexican school beside St. George's church Monday morning at 9 o'clock. A clinic will be held at the Methodist schoolhouse Tuesday at noon; another at Prairie Lee schoolhouse Wednesday at noon; a fourth at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday at 8 o'clock; and the fifth at the Y. W. C. A. Friday at 8 o'clock.

Physicians who will conduct the clinics are: Drs. W. E. Ryan, Tom C. Bobo, W. G. Whitehouse, L. W. Leggett, and C. G. McCall.

VOTE ON TAX BILL ONLY DELAY LEFT

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—The adjournment bound senate pushed the tax bill toward final passage Saturday in the face of a declaration by Senator Byrd that it was a "mongrel, hybrid compromise."

The house, by accepting the senate version of the ship subsidy legislation, contributed to part of the breaking-up session by a filibuster. With the tax bill out of the way, the only "must" measure unpassed will be the $1,000,000,000 appropriation for the treasury and postoffice department.

DEATH TOLL FROM FALL OF BUILDING MOUNTS TO SEVEN

More Bodies Sought In Debris After 4 Recovered

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—The known dead from the collapse in a Bronx apartment house reached 7 Saturday. Four bodies were recovered and two others were discovered in the ruins.

Police and fire squads searched for others believed buried in the debris of the building which collapsed Friday. Scores of police, firemen, and ambulance surgeons rushed to the scene were spurred in their rescue work by the frantic screams of men trapped in the crumbling mass of steel and brick.

Political Pot Boils Over "Tail Twister" Election

BY BILL COLLYNS "Political Editor" The political pot is boiling over and what has proven to be the most hotly contested election ever held in Midland County will be climaxed Wednesday when Lions Club tail-twister will be elected at the regular mid-week luncheon of the Midland Lions Club in the assembly room of the County court-house.

Candidates involved in the election are Lions J. H. Goodman and Raymond L. Hughes, and both have made an exceptionally active campaign for the coveted office. Although club officials have warned the contestants against a mud-slinging campaign, the race has been one of the "filthiest" ever staged anywhere.

The two candidates faced each other in the Reporter-Telegram office yesterday and aside from a few cutting remarks, the candidates were very cautious in their statements. The aspirants for the tail-twister's office glared at each other for several minutes and nothing but the presence of the society editor, kept them from coming to blows.

Platform Judge Goodman is running on a "good looks" platform, and stated last night that he is very confident of election. The good looks platform is said to be favored by numerous Lions Club members. Goodman predicted yesterday that the coming bout will last longer than did the Louis-Schmeling bout of Friday night.

Lion Hughes proposes the Hughes plan which calls for pension payments of $200.00 per month beginning at the age of 30, and which is said to be retroactive. The plan also advocates three cars in every garage instead of the two secured by Hoover. The Hughes plan has a large following. Candidate Hughes also accuses his opponent of causing depression in East Texas due to the fact that Goodman allegedly imported a left handed rabbit-twister into East Texas and that he (Goodman) made a fortune in selling the previously right hand twisted rabbits to various packing houses, thereby leaving the East Texans in a terrible straits.

MACK COOK HURT AFTER FALL FROM HORSE AT MENARD

Head Strikes Post As Mount Attempts to Quit Track

Mack Cook, 11-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Cook of Midland was injured Saturday morning at Menard when he was breezing a horse on the race track there in a practice workout. The horse, a two-year old filly named Ima Count, wheeled suddenly, broke for the outside rail and threw the rider off, his head striking a post.

Rushed to a San Angelo hospital, the youth was reported recovering slowly Saturday afternoon, although he had been unconscious for nine hours. His parents were with him, having been in Menard for several days to participate in the race meet.

BOY SCOUTS WILL LEAVE FOR TRIP TO CAMP FAUCETT

Youths Will Spend 2 Weeks In Vacation Site

A group of Midland Boy Scouts will leave probably Monday afternoon for two weeks vacation at Camp Faucett at Barksdale.

From troop 54 the following boys will go: Bob Dozier, Howard Ford, Goodrich Hill, James Frank Johnson, Billie Kimbrough, Bobby Martin, Johnnie Pickering, E. J. Ragsdale, Harry Sindorf, Billie Van Huss, James Van Huss, James Waddell.

Stephen Stookey and Jimmie Pieny of Troop 52 will likewise go. All boys will be in charge of Robert Howe, assistant scoutmaster.

Several boys will also go to camp for the third week. The camp this year is in charge of A. J. Stiles, new scout executive of the Buffalo Trail council.

Miss Marquette Hester, county librarian is sending a branch library to the camp for use of the boys as she has done for the past four years.

SERVICE HOUR CHANGED

CRANE POOLS ADDING MORE PRODUCERS

In the McElroy pool of Crane county, Gulf No. 135 McElroy, located in the center of the southeast quarter of section 202, block F, C.C.S.D. and R.G.R.G. survey, flowed through casing for a total of 738 barrels on the 24-hour potential gauge. The well was swabbed in late this week after cleaning out a bridge. With total depth at 2,929, it received a shot of 300 quarts from 2,742 to 2,919 tamped with 72 feet of gravel, cement, oakum and mud.

Attention Turns To Gains As Wildcat Starts Testing

By FRANK GARDNER

Gaines county held the spotlight as the week closed with all West Texas operators awaiting the outcome of the swabbing test scheduled to start late Saturday on Landreth Production company No. 1 Kirk. Important wildcat in the south-central part of the county. Two and a half inch tubing had been run earlier in week, and plans called for swabbing down the column of mud and water in the hole in hopes that the pressure from bottom formation would cause it to kick off. The well has never had the hole unloaded since drilling the gas zone near 4,500, and the actual amount of gas is unknown, although many estimate it at 500,000 cubic feet. The test will also determine the possibilities of the saturated sections cored into over the last 100 feet of hole down to the present total depth of 4,789. The consensus of opinion is that the formation is too hard and tight to yield free oil in large quantity.

The No. 1 Kirk is located in the southeast corner of section 22, block A-21, public school land, eight miles northwest of the Means pool in Andrews county, and ten miles southeast of the Walsh and Adams No. 1 Averit gas well near Seminole. It is generally credited with topping the lime at 4,315, although the first lime stringers appeared as high as 4,021.

WINKLER EXTENSIONS COMMAND INTEREST

A mile east of the north end of the Sayre pool in Winkler, Magnolia No. 2 State-Walton is reported at 3,113 feet in lime. Operators had intended to core when the lower sand had been reached, but it was not known whether this had yet been encountered. The test is particularly interesting since it will determine the extent of the structure proved by the No. 1 State-Walton, a small producer drilled over two miles to the southeast. Thus far, the test has shown about 200,000 cubic feet of gas on a drill-stem test from 2,620 to 2,718. It showed saturated sand in some cores, but the amount of oil present was not large. Location is in the northwest corner of section 5, block B-3, public school land.

Shell No. 1 Leck, extension wildcat a mile and a half west of production in the Henderson lime pool in Winkler county, is reported still in the anhydrite section as it drills below 2,935 feet. With the lime top yet to be logged, it would appear that the Shell test is much lower than the Humble, Wahlenmaier and Atlantic, and Henderson and Uscan wells farther east and southeast. It is 2,310 feet from the south and 330 feet from the east line of section 32, block 74, public school land.

BEHIND THE SCENES

WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 20—Democrats are all set to cut loose on Governor Landon at Philadelphia.

Admitting that Jim Farley's first blast at the republican candidate was somewhat unfortunate—at least in its effects—they insist they have a tale to unfold which will assure Alf's permanent residence on his beloved prairies.

Effort will be made to paint Landon in the words of one party strategist, as a "hypocritical opportunist" who has no fixed principles, but who is willing to abandon or assume any position when it will aid his political advancement. (If this has a familiar ring, you're referred to the record of what Roosevelt's enemies have been saying of him ever since 1931.)

A booklet entitled "Landon, the Man Nobody Knows," will serve as a textbook for New Deal orators for months, ever since it became evident that the governor would be nominated, one of the democratic national committee's bright boys has been plowing through Landon's record for material.

Slaps at Landon's Record Here are some sample charges: Landon's message to the Cleveland convention called for state minimum wage laws even if a constitutional amendment proved necessary. But in four years as governor he has failed even to suggest a minimum wage law for Kansas. Landon came out at Cleveland for sound currency and the gold standard. But during the Farm Holiday hysteria of 1933 he joined with other western governors in urging payoff of the fourth liberty loan in greenbacks.

Landon also told the convention he stood for a drastic federal civil service law. But Kansas also has a civil service law, passed when Senator Capper was governor, and now defunct because Landon hasn't asked for appropriations for it or tried to carry it out.

Many quotations from Landon are cited, including one in which he said he would have complained that state commissions were hampered by "the almost scandalous interference of the lower federal courts."

Platform Is Evasive First tentative draft of the democratic platform, recently passed around under the heading "Strictly Confidential," ran true to the worst platform traditions of stoddiness, evasion, and timidity.

Some hope for a bolder and more statesmanlike document arose from the fact that the draft was certain to be changed considerably and that practically everybody in Washington seemed to be working on one or more pet planks which he hoped to get tangled into the statement.

The preliminary draft, however, was largely a spectacle of the administration of patting itself on the back and promising, rather cautiously, to go right ahead with its various programs for creating prosperity and making everybody happy.

Dodge Constitution Issue No mention of a possible constitutional amendment was included and the idea was advanced that necessary social and economic reforms can be achieved within limits of the constitution.

Chief difference between it and the republican platform was that it recommended federal as well as state wage, hour, and child labor legislation. Failure to distinguish between the

LANDON The Careful Kansan

The fifth of six installments in the life story of "LANDON, the Careful Kansan"

BY WILLIS THORNTON NEA Service Staff Correspondent "He balanced the budget." Justly or unjustly, rightly or wrongly, that is the one thing that brought Alfred Landon into the national limelight. It is his principal single claim to fame and support.

Those two terms as governor of Kansas are going to get careful scrutiny during the next few months. They began in 1932 when Landon took office by a small majority. He had majorities of only two in each house and senate. In Kansas, with its intense individualism which makes it hard for any party leader to keep even his own followers in line, that is no majority at all.

Landon gradually won the legislature, not by whip-cracking nor by dramatic messages, but simply by calling in leaders one at a time and persuading them to his view.

Woodring Set Stage For Landon's Work

He was not then anti-New Deal. His attitude was one implying friendship good wishes for the Roosevelt reforms, and just before the bank crisis of 1933, Landon made a speech in which he said he thought granting special powers to the executive in emergencies was no menace to democracy. Shortly afterward, he pledged support as a Repub lican governor in the effort to get America on her feet again. The state government was in good shape when Landon took over. There was a treasury surplus, and several economy laws had been passed or framed by the Woodring administration and partly made effective. Landon took up the economy torch, effectively organized and added the Woodring laws, administered them in such a way as to get results.

Three laws enabled Kansas to put its financial house in order. They were:

1. Tax Limitation—a law which strictly limited the amount of taxes which could be levied by the 11,000 taxing authorities of the state. This was proposed by Woodring as a constitutional amendment, and opposed by Landon as such. Later it became law.

2. Cash Basis—a law prohibiting local communities from spending more than their assured income, thus putting an end to the issue of tax anticipation warrants. Landon's administration passed it.

3. Budget—a law compelling local taxing authorities to make and publish budgets and hold hearings on them. Signatures of 20 per cent of the voters was a mandate for revision. Woodring's administration passed this one.

Enforced Laws to Insure Economics Landon himself has never claimed exclusive credit for Kansas' balanced budget. He does claim he tightened up the economy laws and administered them faithfully to get the desired results. It is friends and campaigners for the governor who have made more extravagant claims of budgetary miracle-working.

The main fact is undisputed. From 1932-1935 the total cost of government in Kansas, state and local fell 21 per cent. The budget was balanced and stayed balanced. Kansas was held rigidly to Landon's thesis that "we must not spend what we haven't got."

In addition taxes were reduced. Landon cut still further reductions in real estate taxes made by the Woodring administration and cut auto tags by 50 per cent. He cut salaries all around, including a 25 per cent reduction of his own to $5,000. He abolished the poll tax.

Kept Hands Off In Bond Scandal The controversy about Kansas relief is new history. While the state government contributed very little to relief and nothing at all to work relief, local units had made contributions which made the Kansas total fairly comparable to those of other states.

Since 1933, however, the Federal government has poured $370,000,000 into Kansas in addition to substantial AAA benefits. These latter have helped farmers to pay their local taxes. The former have helped the state keep down expenses on road and building repair work. It is hard to get around the fact, however, that other states got similar Federal aid and did not balance.

Other events tried the governor's mettle. Eight months after he first took office, a bond scandal shook the state. A million dollars in state bonds had been duplicated from bonds taken from the state treasury. Banker Warren W. Finney, his son, Ronald and State Treasurer Tom Boyd and others were involved. The Finney's were a prominent Kansas family, and personal friends of some of the governor's strongest political backers. But he resisted any pressure they may have been and say young Finney and Boyd behind the bars. The elder Finney killed himself when appeals were exhausted.

Organized Drouth Relief in Advance Landon went to bat for his Kansas farmers at Washington when the drouth struck it hard. He made personal inspections of the dust-storm areas, planned the work of listing and anti-drouth planting so that it went forward as soon as federal funds were available. He got the federal government to double the number of drouth-stricken Kansas cattle it bought.

He gave Kansas its first chance in more than 50 years to vote on the "wet or dry" question, though announcing that he himself was going to vote dry. Kansas stood by its tradition and voted dry.

The economy program extended to small things, such as compelling convicts in the state penitentiary to turn in their old broken shoe strings before they could get a new pair. There was some criticism of the cuts of teachers' salaries, and the administration of the state university. But the economy is there.

As an administrator, Landon has handled state affairs, and public money as though they were his own affairs and his own money, that is, with extreme care.

This is only a brief sketch of the four-year record as governor which will certainly during the next few months become a mine of source-material for both parties.

NEXT: Landon the man, his personality and his principles.

"BUDGET" A public hearing will be held at the City Hall, June 30th, at 10 o'clock a. m. for the benefit of tax paying citizens of Midland who are interested in the City's Budget for the current fiscal year.

The budget having been prepared and filed as required may be seen at the City Secretary's Office in the City Hall.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Reporter-Telegram, Midland, Texas Dear Editor:

Through the columns of your paper the Woods W. Lynch Post No. 19, American Legion, Midland, Tex., desires to express its appreciation to the public, the federal government, the veterans administration, the post office department; and especially to the local postmaster, John P. Howe, and his assistants, for the paying off and handling of the bonus bonds of the ex-service men.

The payment of the bonus through the baby bonds has been most timely as a number of the veterans will be now able to hold their homes, which they had purchased prior to the depression; pay up their just debts, and again look their neighbors in the face with a feeling of security and pride.

Feeling that the American Legion, through this post, represents the sentiment of the veterans toward this generous act of the people, through its congress and the present administration, under the leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt, we express to you and to our government, our gratitude as a service organization and as citizens in our community.

We fought to make this a better place in which to live, and now again pledge to carry on and support that ideal as citizens and peacetime soldiers in our respective walks of life.

We take this opportunity to call to your attention the universal draft law now before congress that proposes to take the profit out of war. We ask that you write your congressmen and senators to support this bill. We believe it to be the most feasible method of preventing wars, except those in defense of our country.

We are sincerely Woods W. Lynch Post No. 19, JAMES H. GOODMAN, Post Commander, ERWIN J. PRAGER, Adjutant.

5-POINT TELEVISION PROGRAM FOR THE UNITED STATES RECOMMENDED BY CHIEF

A basic 5-point program to plan for the successful development of television in the public interest was recommended to the federal communications commission by James M. Skinner, chairman of the Radio Manufacturers association special committee on television, at the engineering conference called by the commission in Washington on allocation of ultra high-frequency waves.

Television will not be ready for the public for several years to come, but provision must be made now for its growth, said Mr. Skinner, who is also president of the Philadelphia Storage Battery company, manufacturer of Philco radios. Sound radio and television will not be competitors. Sound radio is used not only as a primary source of entertainment and education, but also as a background while reading, resting, working or playing bridge. Looking at television requires concentration. However, said Mr. Skinner, the addition of daily television programs at certain hours should be a very important addition to the home life of the American people.

- 1. Establishment of a single set of television standards for the United States so that all receivers shall be capable of receiving the signals of all transmitters.
- 2. Development of pictures free from distortion and blur, approaching ultimately the distinctness and clarity obtainable in home movies.
- 3. Provision for services giving as near nationwide coverage as possible, so that the benefits of television may be available to all sections of the country.
- 4. Provision for a choice of programs, that is simultaneous broadcasting of more than one television program in as many localities as possible, to avoid monopoly and to provide variety of educational and entertainment features. 5. Lowest possible receiver cost and easiest possible tuning, to stimulate domestic installations of television receivers, both of which are best achieved by allocating for television as nearly a continuous band in the air waves as possible.

While it is not possible at present to determine precisely what the selling price of a television receiver will be, it will most likely cost less than the average motor car. The fact that the American public has found ways and means of financing the purchase of more than 20,000,000 motor cars, indicates that there is a wide market for television, Mr. Skinner emphasized.

"The present job of the commission is to stake out for the public in the radio spectrum enough television space to preserve the possibility of a nationwide television service," Mr. Skinner declared. "The Radio Manufacturers association feels that the federal communications commission will supply the flexibility necessary to allow the art of television broadcasting to grow."

Television will further expand the service of radio to the American people as a source of education and entertainment, Mr. Skinner said. But unlike radio, television cannot "feel its way" through the early stages of its commercial growth, he added, pointing out: "Unless tentative standards are now set, and later confirmed by extensive field tests under all sorts of conditions, receivers might be built and sold to the public which would be completely obsolete within a year or two. Commercial television must be born full grown."

Experimental work in television has reached a "promising stage," Mr. Skinner stated, citing the experimental high definition television broadcasts which have been on the air for some time from the Philco radio and television laboratories in Philadelphia and from RCA-Victor at Camden.

Gulf Sound Equipment Here For Big Celebration

A $10,000 portable sound reproducing unit, capable of reproducing the human voice so as to make it audible to 50,000 people has been secured for the Rodeo to be held in Midland June 26th, to 28th inclusive.

This equipment was secured by the local committee through the cooperation of J. F. Girdley, Gulf representative. The larger of the two photographs above show the equipment in use at an outdoor celebration held in front of Sam Houston's home in Huntsville some time ago. The small photograph shows how the equipment looks when set up ready for operation.

sociation views television ultimately as a big business," he stated, "a business which will employ many thousands of people in the production and operation of broadcasting equipment, in the production of receiving sets, in the production of daily programs, and in the fields of distribution and service. Television, we believe, is one of the new businesses the country needs to create new jobs."

Much money must still be expended for research and development, despite the millions of dollars already devoted to this purpose by radio manufacturers, Mr. Skinner continued. Just as ten years were required before general public acceptance of the motor car and the radio developed, it is expected that it will take a similar period for television to come into general use in the average American home within range of broadcasting stations. "In the opinion of the Radio Manufacturers association, the federal communications commission has in television a great opportunity and a great responsibility. Here is an impartial body with no interest to serve except that of the public interest. Although a television service is not likely for several years, the commission must stake out now for the public enough space in the air waves to keep open the possibility of a nationwide television service."

Engineers of the radio industry have already held many meetings under the auspices of the Radio Manufacturers association and have arrived at practically complete agreement on basic television standards, it was pointed out. Nine basic items have been covered, laying the groundwork for future television developments, all pointing to the same goal—a single television system for the United States, with every receiver capable of receiving every broadcast reaching its locality.

Life of "Dan" Voorhees In Politics Is Written

BOSTON (U.P.)—A democrat of the "North" who survived republican landslides for nearly 40 years during the Civil war and post-war era is the subject of a book, "The Tall Sycamore of the Wabash," just published here by Bruce Humphries, Inc.

It is the biography of the "frontier type" of Hoosier congressman and senator, familiarly known in his time as "Dan" Voorhees. The author is Leonard S. Kenworthy. Voorhees was known during the Civil war as the "Voice of Two Million Democrats" who shared his views on slavery.

Credits 2-Cent Reward For Rise in the World

CLAIRTON, Pa. (U.P.)—Two cents, the reward for running an errand, started Mayor Robert W. Ostermayer, along the road to prominence. The vast problem as to what to do with two pennies faced him while he was a boy living in Camden, N.J. With stern resolve, the boy closed his eyes to candy shop windows and bought four newspapers. It was the beginning of his work as an ambitious and popular newsboy, a chapter that preceded his entrance into public life.

Commenting upon his observations during the upward trail, Ostermayer said: "Very early in the game I learned that there was a difference in people. I saw capital and profits disappear because of the deadbeat. I learned whom to trust and whom to sell for cash; I could have exposed many a family that managed to 'keep up with the Joneses' but, didn't pay their newsboy; I learned to respect the honest workingman who didn't make much, but always paid his bills."

FORD V-8 ECONOMY MEANS HIGH "Dollar Mileage" [MORE MILES PER DOLLAR]
ONLY THE FORD V-8 GIVES YOU ALL OF THESE FEATURES
1 V-8 ENGINE PERFORMANCE WITH ECONOMY
2 SUPER-SAFETY MECHANICAL BRAKES
3 WELDED STEEL BODY—STEEL STRUCTURE AS WELL AS SURFACE
4 SAFETY GLASS ALL AROUND AT NO EXTRA CHARGE
5 CENTER-POISE RIDING COMFORT
NO MATTER how you classify your expenditures for car up-keep—it's your total expenditure that counts. How much "dollar mileage" is your car giving you?
Dollars do go farther in the Ford V-8. Modern improved carburetion gives you unusual gasoline mileage with brilliant V-8 performance. Most owners of today's Ford change oil only at 2000-mile intervals and never add a drop between changes. And after the first few thousand miles you know what Ford V-8 "dollar mileage" really means.
It gives you more miles per dollar because it gives you all-round economy—low first cost, low up-keep cost, low depreciation and long life—as well as low gasoline and oil consumption. All these help to make the Ford V-8 the most economical car.

Society Looks to Rodeo Days

Full Calendar of Contest and Social Appearances Is Planned for Visiting Cowgirls Who Enter Sponsors' Contest

Centennial Rodeo days, climaxing the week, are attracting the attention and plans of socially-minded Midland these days. Gay with picturesque color and contests that still make the blood of beholders quicken, the three days when the Old West rides triumphantly through the will claim another gayety through the social events clustering around them.

Foremost come the affairs which will honor the approximate score of cowgirl sponsors who will gather here to represent towns of the Southwest in the sponsors' contest under auspices of the chamber of commerce.

Hours outside those devoted to witnessing the exciting scenes of the rodeo arena will not hang heavy on the hands of the visitors. Social events have been planned for each day of the rodeo.

A buffet supper Friday, swimming party and dance Saturday, and morning coffee Sunday are chief attractions in the calendar of festivities for the girls.

A chamber of commerce committee consisting of Mrs. Clarence Schaubauer, Mrs. Foy Proctor, and Mr. Roy Parks is in charge of entertainment for the visiting cowgirls.

After being greeted by the hostess sponsor, Miss Walter Faye Cowden and an assisting committee, the visitors will make their first official appearance in the opening parade Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

At 2 o'clock they will ride in the Grand Entry at the rodeo arena at the Midland Fair grounds.

The sponsors, following the afternoon performance, will be guests of the Midland chamber of commerce at a buffet supper given at the home of Miss Cowden, 111 North F street, at 6:40 o'clock Friday evening. Serving as co-hostesses, will be Mrs. E. W. Cowden, Mrs. John Dublin, Mrs. George Glass, Mrs. Leonard Proctor, and Mrs. Tom Nance.

The cowgirls will ride again in the Grand Entry at the evening rodeo show, starting at 8 o'clock.

A swimming party (optional) at which the group will be guests of the Pagoda Pool management will give a fresh start to a day of activity Saturday. Following this swim at 8 o'clock will come the high point in the visit for the girls: Their parade in the sponsors' contest at the Fair Arena at 9:30 o'clock.

Officers Elected by Signal Mount Union Here Friday Night

Young people of the Signal Mount Union met at the First Methodist church in Midland on Friday evening to elect officers for the coming year. As this was the first meeting since the summer assembly at Abilene, the president, Mrs. Ray Gwyn, gave some of the high points of the session in a bulletin "The Signal Mount News."

The meeting opened with a song, "Take My Life And Let It Be." Mr. Ray Gwyn extended a greeting to all the pastors and their wives, and the sponsors of the leagues. In the business meeting the following officers were elected: Mrs. Ray Gwyn, Midland, president, re-elected; Ruth Gilliam of Big Spring, vice president, Mrs. W. D. Lovelace, Big Spring, secretary-treasurer; Alvon Patterson, Midland, chairman of publicity, re-elected.

The couple will be at home for the summer in Denton, where Mr. Ladd will attend North Texas State Teachers' college.

The bride was reared at Midland and is a graduate of Midland high school.

Mr. Ladd also has a circle of acquaintances in Midland, having visited here.

Midland Girl Is Married at Austin In Recent Ceremony

The following account of the wedding of Miss Tinney Smith, Midland girl, is clipped from an Austin paper:

Tinney Smith, daughter of Mrs. Frank Smith of Midland, became the bride of Walter DeVere Ladd of Mineral Wells at an early morning ceremony June 6 at Kirby Hall, with the Rev. Virgil Fisher, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Before the professional, Frances Butts sang "I Love You Truly," Elizabeth Watts played the wedding march from Lohengrin, and then "Liebestraum."

Mary Lynn Evans and Jerome Vannoy, as the two attendants, led the procession. Miss Evans wore a navy and white ensemble with white accessories, and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. The bride was dressed in navy blue crepe with corresponding accessories, and her bouquet consisted of yellow roses with a green spray. The improvised altar was banked with white lilies and white roses, interspersed with green fern.

Mrs. Ladd was a junior in the university during the past year, and Mr. Ladd has attended the summer sessions for several years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ladd of Mineral Wells, where he is a teacher in the public schools.

The couple will be at home for the summer in Denton, where Mr. Ladd will attend North Texas State Teachers' college.

The bride was reared at Midland and is a graduate of Midland high school.

Mr. Ladd also has a circle of acquaintances in Midland, having visited here.

Booster Band Has Picnic at Baptist Church Friday

The Three B's Booster Band of the First Baptist church met for a picnic at the church Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

After playing a number of games and having two or three guessing contests, the guests were served with ice cream.

Present were: Faye King, Harold Tisdale, Gwendolyn Ward, Billy Howze, George Howell, Tom Cowden, Tom Tisdale, Daisy Bizzell, Dorothy Bizzell, Mal Kidwell, Eileen Eiland, T. E. Shelburne, Jack Bryan, Eula May Green, Myrtle Lee Tilman, Elsie Tisdale, Ruth Tisdale, Billie Chandler, Dorothy Cook, Franklin Ward, Butler K. Sutton, Eloise Gabbert, Del Bizzell, Lene Faye Shelburne, Theron Adams, Dorothy Mae Adams, Tommy Green, Pauline Wyrick, Jean Wyrick.

Messrs. E. B. Milam and R. L. Denham were in charge of the picnic.

Classes Will Meet Jointly

The Friendly Builders class of the Methodist church will be hostess to the Men's class at the meeting hour this morning.

Mrs. H. C. Barnes will make a "Father's Day" talk.

Members of both classes are urged to be present at the Sunday school service.

Demonstration Club Women Will Hold Clothing Contest

Midland county home demonstration club members will compete in a clothing contest to be held at the courthouse June 27, with Miss Mattie Phenix, Dawson county home demonstration agent, doing the judging.

The demonstrators who will take part are: Mrs. Palmer Evans, Prairie Lee; Mrs. W. A. Eason, Valley View; Mrs. A. L. Hallman, North Midland; and Mrs. T. D. Jones, Cotton Flat.

South Camp club organized too late in the year to have a demonstrator as this demonstration starts on September 1. However, they have some members who will enter the co-operators' contest.

The demonstrators are to take inventory and keep records on expenditure for each member of the family, to provide adequate storage space taking picture before and after improvement, to make a foundation pattern and to know how to use it, to write a narrative of her work which should include the help given to others and a summary of the work done by all other club members and to enter and dress and slip cut by the foundation pattern.

First place winner will be given a trip to short course; second place winner will be given her choice of material for house dress or room rent while at short course; and third place will be given material for a slip. All three prizes will be given by the home demonstration council.

The cooperators, who are all other club members, are set goals as follows: To provide adequate storage space; to know the uses of the foundation pattern and enter dress and slip cut by foundation pattern.

All co-operators will also give a record of their clothing work to their demonstrator that it may be included in a club summary.

First place winner will be given room and board while attending short course; second place will be given material for a house dress; and third place will receive material

All fathers and mothers want their children to succeed and as long as they can mothers and fathers the country over sacrifice and plan to give their boys and girls every advantage, every opportunity, for they want them to have a start which they too often were denied.

"We want to send Jim to college if we can afford it," they say. "We plan to give Mary special training in music if we have the money when she has finished high school."

But why should an IF threaten these dreams? A PRAETORIAN EDUCATIONAL POLICY can erase that IF and permit mothers and fathers to say positively: "MY CHILDREN ARE GOING TO COLLEGE." The Praetorians' plans offer a systematic way of saving. A little put away each month makes the education SURE. Investigate the Praetorians' Educational policies for children.

Colwill of Ontario, Canada, Mrs. John House, and Miss Eunice Beckes of Los Angeles. Awards in the games played went to Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith for high score and to Mrs. James Fitzgerald for second high. Mrs. Colwill and Miss Beckes were presented with guest gifts by the hostess. Refreshments were served at the tea hour to the guests and the following club members: Mmes. Joe Crump, C. C. Duffey, Fitzgerald, Goldsmith, Pop Parks, Johnson Phillips, Williams Simpson, Don Sivalls, Harvey Sloan, John B. Thomas, M. C. Ulmer, Ed M. Whitaker, and the hostess.

Mrs. W. L. Miller Entertains with At Home Friday

Mrs. W. L. Miller, 707 W Tennessee, was at home to friends Friday afternoon from 4 o'clock until 6 o'clock. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. A. W. Cherry. Baskets of pink blossoms brightened the pleasantly cool room where guests gathered for informal conversation. Continuing the pastel color note, refreshments of yellow and green were served. Those calling were: Mrs. W. J. Coleman, Mrs. E. Hazen Woods, Mrs. Lem Peters, Mrs. Tom Sealy Jr., Mrs. Hall Edwards, Mrs. John Reagan, Miss Mary Belle Pratt. Mrs. Miller came to Midland recently from Eldorado, Oklahoma, where she had been teaching, to join her husband who is scout for the Superior Oil company.

At The Library

Of the following 20 best sellers for the month of May the library has the ones starred:

Fiction: *Sparkenbroke by Charles Morgan; *The Last Puritan by Geo. Santayana; *The Thinking Reed by Rebecca West; *The Hurricane by Charles Northwood and James Norman Hall; South Riding by Winifred Holtby; Jamaica Inn by Daphne du Maurier; Beyond Sing the Woods by Trygve Gulbransen; *It Can't Happen Here by Sinclair Lewis; The Rolling Years by Agnes Sligh Turnbull; The Weather in the Streets by Rosamond Lehmann.

Non-fiction: *The Way of a Transgressor by Negley Farson; Wake Up and Live by Dorothea Brande; Man the Unknown by Alexis Carrel; *North to the Orient by Anne Morrow Lindbergh; *Around the World in 11 Years by Patience, Richard and John Abbe; Inside Europe by John Guiter; *Life With Father by Clarence Day; The Living Jefferson by James Truslow Adams; From a Surgeon's Journal by Harvey Cushing; *Birds of America, edited by T. Gilbert Pearson.

New books on the rent shelf are: *Charles Goodnight, Cowman and Plainsman by J. Evetts Haley. One of the most readable and important western biographies of recent years, vivid, thrilling, witty, and completely authentic. Mr. Haley talked with Charles Goodnight himself, and Goodnight's own lusty narrative is an integral part of the book.

*Sparkenbroke by Charles Morgan (author of "The Fountain," etc.). A novel laid in the English countryside and centering around the life of Lord Sparkenbroke, his relationship with two deeply contrasting women, his aspirations as a writer, and his struggle to discover the unifying essence of love, art, and death.

*Around the World in Eleven Years by Patience, Richard and John Abbe. In this account Patience, with the occasional collaboration of her brothers, tells exactly what happened to the Abbes from her birth in Paris, through the years in France, Austria, Germany, Russia and England, up to the summer of 1935, spent on a Colorado ranch. They knew everybody, from Stalin to Alexander Woolcott (of whom Patience writes, when they ran

Miss Cowden Will Be Sponsor for Midland Thrie

Miss Walter Faye Cowden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cowden, has been named for a triple honor during the rodeo season. She will be "Miss Midland," hostess sponsor at the World's Championship Centennial Rodeo here Friday, Saturday and Sunday. She will be Midland's representative in the cow-girl sponsors' contest at the Texas Cowboy Reunion held at Stamford, July 2, 3 and 4. And she will again be sponsor for Midland in the cow-girl sponsors' contest which will feature the Texas Cowboy Reunion at the Texas Central Centennial Exposition at Dallas during the first nine days of August.

Sponsors at Dallas will be entertained at various social affairs and will compete for rich prizes both in merchandise and cash. They will have rooms in dormitories at Miss Hockaday's School for Girls.

across him in Russia: "A big man in a big coat of a camel. He is very nice and smart man. He loves children." They have lived in all sorts of countries, in all sorts of cities, in all sorts of shelters, from tents to palaces. They talk and think in several languages. Written by children for grown-ups.

New books on the 14 day shelf include: "King of the Range," by Frank Austin. A tale of whirlwind action that smells of burnt powder and crackling bullets, resounding with good western oats, pulsing with the clear wild air of the open range.

"Wild Pastures," by Rex Beach. Wild Pastures is a novel of romance and swift adventure in the sparsely documented cattle districts of modern western Florida. It has the appeal of a novel of the West, and the charm of a Spanish-American love story.

"The Fighting Danites," by Dane Coolidge. Action, adventure, excitement. A good story and true picture of the West. The story of Brigham Young's Mormon empire. Written by a man who crossed the plains in '77 and has been crossing them ever since.

"Rainbow Cottage," by Grace Livingston Hill. Appeal to all Grace Livingston Hill readers.

"The Chinese Orange Mystery," by Ellery Queen.

"Square Shooter," by William MacLeod Raine. Raine's westerns are always good, but he has never written a more thrilling story of the trigger-finger duns in the Old West than "Square-Shooter."

"The Visiting Villain," by Carolyn Wells. A Fleming Stone detective novel.

New juvenile books are: "A House of Her Own" by Marjorie Hill Allen. The story, motivated by a girl's independent spirit and longing to make her own way, culminates in a happy romance.

"Hunk and the Moose," by Phil Stong. A lean and hungry moose, discovered in the town livery stable by two little boys, Ivar and Vaino, is the town problem, but eventually becomes the pride of Birora, hilariously funny lithographs by Kurt Weese accompany the equally amusing story. (Booklist).

"A Bowlful of Stars" by Florence Crammell Means. The adventures of a 19-year-old Colorado girl half a century ago. There among pioneers, people of fashion, miners, and Indians, she finds the beginning of a series of events that lead

BY JESS RODGERS

Extra! Extra! A new idea! A marvelous idea! A stupendous idea! A colossal idea! A magnificent idea! A "Brain Son" of a man with the brains of a genius! An idea that is likely to change the attitude of the entire nation regarding contests! An idea that will undoubtedly be so far reaching in its scope that it is nothing short of revolutionary! It almost borders on treason! One that is sure to throw the conservative minds in chaos! An idea that will make old-timers and youngsters wonder what the nation is coming to, an idea that will make dead persons look down on this pin point called earth and wonder what is going on!

We'll let you in on it so you can get into the same state of near hysteria as the rest of the nation just as soon as the population realizes the full scope of it.

Directors of the Midland Centennial Rodeo have announced that the winner of the sponsors' contest will positively NOT be awarded a trip to Hollywood. Whoever heard of such a thing. Since time immemorial it has been the custom of all and sundry to award the winner of a contest where the feminine pulchritude has been displayed the opportunity to go off to some "Big Town" and startle the world with their beauty.

Try to imagine the consternation of entries in the contest here when they find out that when the contests are over that they will not be called "Miss America," "Miss Universe" or Miss something else. The winner of the contest here will be awarded a swell $100 saddle, but no trip or title. It is almost enough to shake one's confidence in the traditions that have made this the land of the spree and the home of the knave.

Other entries beside the winner will be awarded chaps, boots, bags, make-up cases, etc., but no trip. Who ever heard of it. That idea alone is enough to attract thousands of persons to the show that never heard of Midland before. It had better be copyrighted, patented and placed in a burgular proof, x-ray proof vault.

Judges have announced that the winner would be decided on appearance of cowgirl, appearance of horse, ability to ride and ability of horse to be reined. But, say, Mr. Judges, what would your verdict be if a modern lady Godiva showed up astride a burro? Pardon, maybe that is too personal.

To the best all-around cowboy will go a Stetson hat. And maybe you don't think he will earn it. All he will have to do is demonstrate his ability at riding broncs, riding wild mares, bulldozing, steer roping, calf roping and a few other little stunts, any one of which would put the average business man on the "rest" cure for the next few months. We'll just keep on going bareheaded.

Just Rambled! A few things the world would be better without: cigarette and beer mothers, bill collectors, cooks who put pepper in food regardless of whether or not the customer likes it that way, gossip-mongers, taxi drivers who honk their horns every time they turn a corner, petty thieves who search a car every time it is parked, people who insist on telling why their last round of golf was not par-breaking, people who read over your shoulder, people who get mad every time they see their name or any indirect reference to them in print unless something good is said about them, magazines and book salesmen.

Reminiscing: Why won't Midland support a baseball club like they used to? The game is just as good as ever. Thoughts of the old Midland Colts, Bob Boken, Big Ed Kallina, Little Lagunas, Gene Moore, and other names which escape. But not that of John King. One of the bitterest pills he had to swallow as a manager was the necessity of having left-handers on the club. His uncontrollable temper and lurid language. He said what he thought regardless of time or place. Some of the players of other clubs in the circuit—Chief Moore and Jim Parker of Abilene, Lee Stebbins, Bear Allday, the fiery little Big Spring catcher, Snipe Conley, Garland Orr, many others whose names do not register.

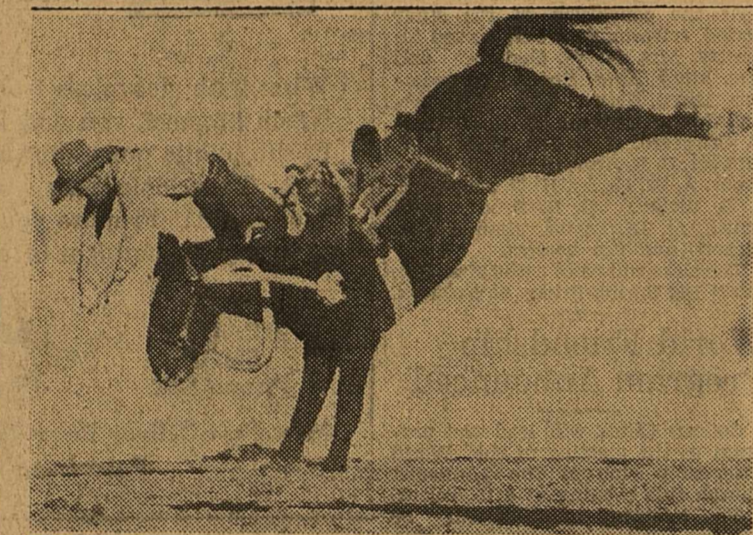

The good and bad football teams of Midland high. The team of 1928, the club of '30 or '31 that made Midland's first year in class a highly successful. Hallman, Burris, McCall, Sherrod, Straughan, Collins and others. Not an overgrown bunch, but the "fightingest" bunch ever thrown together. Coach Barry's pep talks to players just before the start of games. They

In Romance Of Foreign Legion

Rapturous, tragic and unforgettable for its sweep and power, "Under Two Flags", brings together four of the screen's greatest stars—RONALD COLEMAN, CLAUDETTE COLBERT, VICTOR McLAGLEN and ROSALIND RUSSELL—in a flaming saury of men's heroism and women's devotion. Ronal Colman and Rosalind Russell are seen above in a scene from the picture, which is showing today thru Tuesday at the Yucca Theatre.

Try This For an Appetizer

in the west; and there will be plenty of them during the Centennial Rodeo in Midland June 26-27-28.

went something like this: "Alright you yellow -) -) -) -) -) -) you are going to get the -) -) -) -) -) -) beat out of you but it will get you out from under my feet for a few minutes. Now go out and show people just how rotten you are. He would get a club so darn mad that they were willing to eat raw meat, and usually took their feelings out on the other clubs.

Umpiring a ball game at Iraan. The feeling of relief when the home club won. Lindy Hiet, trying to play after about ten years out of the game. . . . The year the softball league passed a rule because of the bat throwing proclivities of one man. . . . We never played with a club that finished higher than third in the standing. . . . Little Bobby Miller challenging the entire sidelines because he couldn't take it. Horse races at the old fair ground. The football field here in '28. Way out by the railroad in the southwest part of town. . . . Some of the so-called referees that used to officiate in the basketball league here. . . . Trying to guard a six-foot six inch center. . . . Doc Wright giving the blindest tom in the league a present when the season was over. . . . The league had to pay for it. Most of the players would rather have given arsenic. Walking seven miles while returning from Andrews one cold night after a game. . . . After riding the bench. Doc Ellis' year in year out efforts to keep baseball alive in town, the time we didn't get to see all of a game at Big Spring, foolishly giving a bunch of points and betting Midland would beat Stanton many years ago. Betting a month's wages on Midland when they played Marfa for the district championship one year. And winning. Attempting to start a gang fight at a game between Midland and Odessa. It was all Odessa in the few seconds it lasted. Baseball at Bizzell stadium. Cotton Ward throwing and forgetting to duck. Doc Ellis staggering around in a pile of lumber trying to catch a fly ball. Fritz Kinnikin telling Roy Long "look at me when you are going to throw the ball to me." Roy's reply: "Hell, I am looking at you." Some of the "tall" ones told by Dewey Colum. A trip to Big Lake when the entire gate was $1.20. Carrol Hill's "round house curve." Preacher Munns, Bob Lewis, Bob Sanguinet, Dave Cheeves. "Hobo" Carson beating Midland a double-header. On the club with him was Blackie Williams, Joel Hunt, Herman Clark and other Southwest conference luminaries. The "line" dished out by the announcer at the rodeo here last year. Our attempt to announce a softball game. Like one of Dr. Thomas' jokes, this has got to end somewhere—It might as well be now.

New Subjects Will Be Studied at Univ.

AUSTIN, Texas—Recent developments in the field of politics, economics, education, and science will be treated in a number of new courses to be offered for the first time in the 1936 summer session of the University of Texas. Nine new courses will be given in the college of arts and sciences alone. The first term opens June 9, the second July 20.

In the department of economics, Dr. Ruth Allen during the second term will conduct a course on "Labor and the State," which will treat of policies and methods of organized labor in the light of court decisions and governmental action. Applications of the anti-trust laws, the injunction, criminal law, the police power and other topics will be discussed.

Dr. J. B. Wharey, a well-recognized authority on Bunyan, will offer an intensive study of Bunyan's prose, of the influences that shaped it, and of the influence on the development of modern prose. This course will be the only addition to the curriculum of the English department for the summer. It will be offered in the second term. A survey of German ballads and lyrics will be taught by W. E. Betzenthin, professor of Germanic languages, during the second term of the summer session. Special emphasis will be placed on the ballads of Goethe, Schiller and Uhland.

Two new courses will be given in the history department, one the first term, on "The Trans-Mississippi West, 1819-1889," and the other the second term, in "Progress of the Social and Political Thought of the Agricultural West and South in the Late Nineteenth Century." The former will deal with Indian relations; settlement; communication; economic development; social and political institutions. It will be taught by Dr. Cardinal L. Goodwin, visiting professor of American history, from Mills college, Oakland, Calif. The latter will be taught by Dr. James A. Barnes, associate professor of history from Temple university, Philadelphia. Dr. Barnes' course will provide a study of the new social and economic problems with special reference to the West and the South.

The home economics department will offer for the first time a course dealing with food demonstration, for students interested in county demonstration work. Lectures and demonstrations will be given concerning the preparation of and preservation of foods and the use of equipment. It will be taught by Miss Jennie Wilmot, during the second term.

A new course in psychology will deal with the origin, nature, and extent of individual differences and aptitudes; age, sex, and race differences. It will comprise an introduction to measurement of individual and group differences. It will be conducted by W. H. Brentlinger, during the second term.

"French Romanticism," a new course in the department of romance languages, will be conducted by Dr. Marcel Moraud, professor of French from Rice Institute, during the second term.

A second-term sociology course will treat of the social processes, offered for the first time. It will present a consideration of society as process and function. Special attention will be paid to the concepts of social interaction, contact, competition, conflict, accommodation, and assimilation. It will be taught by Dr. Rupert Bayles Vance, professor of sociology and research associate in the institute for research in social science, University of North Carolina.

pool of Crane, Gulf No. 14 Waddell is drilling line below 3,273 feet with 700 feet of oil in the hole. No increase in oil or gas has been logged below 3,226. Location is 330 feet from the north and 990 feet from the west line of section 11, block B-23, public school land.

In the same pool, Gulf No. 5 Henderson, 440 feet from the south and 1,320 feet from the east line of section 3, block B-23, public school land, is drilling sand below 3,495 feet. It struck an increase in oil and gas in sand from 3,491 to 3,495 and made three heads into pits in two hours. Each oil head was estimated at 10 barrels. Previously, a steel line measurement corrected 3,486 to 3,483.

Two other wells in the Waddell pool also show progress. A proposed north extension, Tide Water No. 1 Edwards, 2,310 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west line of section 2, block B-23, public school land, when last reported was drilling line below 3,100 feet. Magnolia No. 6 Edwards was drilling below 2,165 feet in anhydrite. It is 330 feet from the south and 1,650 feet from the west line of section 2.

PREMATURE EXPLOSION COSTS FISHING JOB

Operators were fishing for drill-pipe in Mid-Continent No. 2 Walton, Keyes pool well in Winkler county, after it had been lost as a result of the nitro shot exploding prematurely. A shot of 180 quarts had been run from 2,793 to 2,980, the total depth, and bridge had been set above the charge. Drill-pipe was then run in order to maintain circulation and keep the hole clear. However, the shot went off 10 or 15 hours before scheduled, and the damage to the drill-stem resulted. The well is flowing pure pipe-line oil at the rate of 27 barrels an hour, indicating that the casing has not been broken. Natural rating of the Mid-Continent well was about 150 barrels a day. It is 2,310 feet from the north and 1,650 feet from the west line of section 24, block 26, public school land.

The tremendous gas volume developed by some of the wells in the Keyes pool was again evident when Sinclair-Prairie No. 4-B Walton blew out at 2,510 feet, jamming the drill-pipe and blowing gas gauged at 46,700,000 cubic feet daily. Operators pumped in 120 tons of mud and baroid and recovered the drill-pipe and were able to kill the well by pumping in an additional 600 tons. They are now circulating. The No. 4-B Walton is 2,310 feet from the south and east lines of section 24, block 26, public school land.

Gulf No. 3 Oscar Clapp, also in the Keyes pool, is drilling lime below 2,770 feet after coring from 2,750 to 2,765 and recovering cores that showed softening of the formation from 2,760 to 2,764. The Gulf well is located 2,310 feet from the west and 330 feet from the north line of section 26, block 26, public school land.

SOUTHEAST WARD WELL COMPLETES GAUGE

Initial production of 756 barrels of oil in 24 hours was registered by Texas-Pacific Coal and Oil company No. 7 Barker, new well in the southeast Ward county field. Location of the No. 7 is 1,650 feet from the southeast and 330 feet from the southwest line of section 27, block B-29, public school land. It was shot with 360 quarts of nitro from 2,247 to the total depth at 2,400.

Texas-Pacific No. 6 Barker has been completed as a gas well rated at around 6,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day. The well had been spraying oil before shooting, but the amount was not increased to commercial proportions by shooting with 340 quarts from 2,254 to 2,410. Total depth is 2,420. It is located 1,650 feet from the southwest and 330 feet from the southeast line of section 27, block B-29, public school land.

At the north end of the field, Gulf No. 1 Estes is drilling lime below 2,430 feet. The well encountered 4,540,000 cubic feet of gas per day in sand from 2,389 to 2,395 which increased to 7,590,000 from 2,415 to 2,420. Volume decreased, however, the gauge at 2,425 showing 5,500,000 feet. The test is located in the east corner of section 38, block 34, H.

CORSICANA, June 20. (AP)—Will S. Knight, 60, chief of police here for the past 32 years and an officer in the state for almost 40 years died in a hospital here Saturday. He was born in Leon county.

P. O. Sill and Two Daughters Return

P. O. Sill returned Friday night from New Orleans, La., where he had gone to meet his daughters, Miss Maxine Sill and Mrs. David Lawrence, and bring them to Midland. Miss Sill had been visiting her sister in New Orleans since the closing of the college year at Gulfpark college, Gulfport, La.

The trio spent a few days at the Centennial at Dallas en route home. Mrs. Lawrence will visit her parents here for two weeks, being joined in July by her husband. A few days later the couple will go to California to spend the remainder of the summer.

Building Site

Voelcker and Dixon, Wichita Falls architects recently appointed by the board, are drawing up plans for the proposed new building, bonds of $75,000 having been voted two weeks ago by tax paying voters of the district. Board members, at the same time, are in touch with bond buyers, seeking to determine the most advantageous type of bonds for good sale and for low total interest cost. The architects were those who designed and supervised the construction of the court house now in use by Midland county.

"Palm Springs" Film Shows Stars' Resort

Frances Langford, Sir Guy Standing, Smith Ballew, David Niven, Spring Byington and Ernest Cassart head the cast of Walter Wanger's production for Paramount, "Palm Springs," which is now showing for two days at the Ritz theatre. This is the first time the resort near Hollywood, where movie stars rest and play between pictures, has been filmed. Because of its interesting atmosphere, it is used as the setting for the story which offers Frances Langford as a young society deb who is suddenly thrown into the gay maze of a Palm Springs vacation.

She is forced into seeking marriage with a playboy millionaire to save her family from poverty, in spite of the great love she already bears for a handsome cowboy. To win the young scion, she masquerades as an English noblewoman. Frances almost succeeds in completing the alliance when her father, realizing that she is sacrificing herself for him, exposes her.

How he frustrates the marriage, and aids Ballew, enabling the cowboy she loves, to get her, supply a fitting climax to the story.

Five songs especially written for the picture are sung by Miss Langford and Mr. Ballew during the course of story unfoldment.

Ford Plan Reduces Operating Problems

Universality of Ford service and convenience of the Ford motor and parts exchange plan have greatly simplified operating problems and reduced operating costs for the Cleveland Cartage Company, according to J. C. Deveney, president of the company.

With lines extending to all the leading cities of Ohio and to New York and other eastern centers, the Cleveland Cartage Company employs a large fleet of tractor-trailer units to transport merchandise between cities. In addition, standard trucks are used to make deliveries in the several cities which the company serves.

"The widespread and economical availability of Ford parts and service in many different ways," stated Mr. Deveney.

"In the first place all worry as to who will service our trucks on the road is eliminated when those trucks are Ford V-8s. We know that if service is needed by one of those units it will be found near at hand and the delay will be brief and the cost of such service small.

"Ownership of Ford V-8 trucks has another important advantage. Through use of these trucks, we are able to extend our lines into new territory and operate such lines economically and satisfactorily without being compelled to establish costly terminal maintenance shops. For wherever we extend our lines, we always find Ford service conveniently close.

"We have repair shops in only three of the cities which we serve, and these are maintained chiefly to service other trucks in our fleet. Yet we find that our Ford V-8 units are better cared for than if we had shops in all the cities which we serve. The Ford men can make needed adjustments and repairs cheaper and better than we can.

"The low cost of Ford parts permits another convenience. We find that we can carry a small stock of parts without tying up much money and that the availability of spare parts eliminates costly delays. This is a real asset to a transportation company as its revenue depends upon reliable, economical transportation of goods.

"The availability of factory-rebuilt motors has been a real assistance to us at times. The factory can rebuild motors better and more cheaply than we can and they are important in keeping motive power

Collin County Paving Program Completed

MCKINNEY, Texas. (AP)—Paving of highway No. 75 through the northern part of Collin county having been completed, plans are making for dedication of the road, along with the old Collin McKinney home here, June 5. Harry Hines, chairman of the highway commission, and other prominent state officials are expected to attend the dedicatory ceremonies of the old landmark and the new highway. Completion of the highway assures Centennial tourists a north and south paved highway through the county.

Pampa Discovers Shortage Of Horses for Celebration

PAMPA, Texas. (AP)—Although Gray county is supposed still to be a productive livestock area despite development of wheat and oil, sponsors of Pampa's Centennial celebration June 2 to 5, discovered there is a scarcity of horses.

"Horses are as scarce as they were last year," said an announcement by the directors of the celebration. "The committees will need every horse in the country to make a good showing in the parades and pageants."
