Insurgents Defeated In Drive on Madrid ASKS REPUBLICS TO HELP AVERT STRIFE

Life-Death Drama of the Woods

Their antlers locked in a tangle from which they could not free themselves, these two mule deer were found near Ogden, Utah, by a game commission worker. The buck at the top, winner of the battle had dragged his adversary 100 yards before the loser died. Death threatened the victor, too, until the rescuer shot off the dead buck's antler. Then the survivor, weakened by the long combat, trotted away on wobbly legs, freed by his most feared enemies, man and firearms.

FARMERS BEING ORGANIZED FOR LARGE TERRACING PROJECT IN THE COUNTY

Cooperation of Commissioners' Court Puts Work Cost at Minimum

Farmers of Midland county are being organized for an extensive terracing program during the next few weeks, through co-operation of the commissioners' court and through terms of the conservation act, according to County Agricultural Agent S. A. Debnam. The commissioners' court voted to make the road machinery available for terracing at a cost of $2.00 per hour for labor and machinery. Under the conservation act, the government will pay 40 cents per hundred feet on completed terracing, which is estimated, will provide the terracing in most cases without cost to the farmer.

Success Taken Today; To Be Confirmed By Next Congress

Allen Tolbert today became postmaster of Midland succeeding John E. Howe who has served in the position since August, 1932. Tolbert's appointment, or confirmation, is expected to come forward at next session of congress after the session of the senate.

Tolbert has for some time been connected with the Higginbotham-Littell Co., lumber, and prior to that in the hardware business and in the First National bank. He is lived in Midland practically all his life.

OVERDUE SHIP AT PORT EARLY TODAY

Fears Dissipated By The Arrival of Crew 5 Days At Sea

CAPTAIN STE. MARIE, Dec. 1 (AP)—Captain Louis Potvin nosed the overdue grain freighter J. F. Durston southward through the ice-choked river today after reporting here from a hard five-day trip across snow swept Lake Superior. Fears were felt for the safety of the vessel and crew when the ship was unheard of since leaving Duluth Thursday.

GERMANS IN WAR 5,000 Alleged To Be With Fascists At Seville

(By Associated Press) A Spanish government announcement that they had thrown back a strong insurgent drive to smash Madrid defenses and claims of strategic successes in the northern Bay of Biscay sector snatched some interest from the larger right-leftist conflict on the international diplomatic front today. The socialists captured the long held "hospital clinic" from the insurgents in the University section of the capital.

Officials refused to confirm reports that France and Britain are preparing to attempt to mediate the war. In London it was said that any move toward an armistice must be made by the League of Nations council when the assemblies discuss Spanish charges that Germany and Italy are actively aiding the Fascist attack.

Authoritative British circles heard that between "two and 5,000 Germans" are concentrated at the insurgent stronghold in Seville. An informed London spokesman said "if they are regular soldiers, the British government will most strongly deplore it."

France, seeking to line up "democratic nations" in a block to offset Fascist powers, expressed interest of reopening the question of repayment of defaulted war debts to the United States. It is believed that this may lead to American "support" to a tri-partite military accord between Britain, France and Belgium.

Spanish government armies in the north pushed forward on two fronts in a combined offensive directed at Burgos, the seat of the insurgent junta.

FIND SATURATION IN WARD WILDCAT

Finley & Cherry 1 Sealey Logs Showings Of Oil and Gas

BY FRANK GARDNER

Interest today shifted to northern Ward county where a wildcat four miles west of the O'Brien pool, Finley & Cherry No. 1 Sealey, encountered some porosity and saturation in the lime section. The test, which is being drilled with rotary, showed saturation in samples from 2,905-15 and drilled soft from 2,920-30, with some gas and oil appearing in the drilling mud. It is now drilling below 2,935 feet in lime. Location of the test is in the northeast corner of section 54, block F. G. & M. M. B. & A. survey.

In the South Ward field, Gulf No. 7 Estes flowed 536 barrels in two hours after shooting with 700 quarts from 2,450 to 2,600, the total depth. Hole was then cleaned and washed to bottom, and operators are now running tubing.

Empire No. 14 McDonald, in the South Ward field, flowed 1,570 barrels a day through 2-inch tubing. It was shot with 380 quarts. Pay top was 2,245 and total depth 2,447.

C. F. Kolp completed two more wells in South Ward. His No. 2 Hardage & Wilson flowed 84 barrels daily through 2-inch tubing after shooting with 350 quarts, bottomed at 2,540. Top of pay was at 2,320. The No. 3 York flowed 242 barrels in 24 hours through 2-inch tubing, bottomed at 2,550. It topped pay at 2,265 and was shot with 330 quarts.

G. survey, is shut down for orders at 3,473 feet in sandy lime II encountered flowing sulphur water from 3,465 to total depth and will probably be abandoned.

Win. Hannigan No. 1 Logsdon, Andrews county wildcat in section 5, block A-32, public school land, is drilling at 1,785 feet in anhydrite. Another Andrews test, Sinclair-Prarie No. 1 Emma Cowden, is drilling at 1,595 in red rock, shale and anhydrite.

Two Romping Girls Crossing Street--Then This

Homeward bound from school, Mildred Walch and Catherine Redman ventured across the busy Philadelphia street. Their childish laughter was turned into screams of terror as a heavily laden truck hurtled upon them, and terror turned to anguish. Screaming brakes brought the truck to a halt. This unusual picture shows the grim instant after the tragedy. A bystander already lifts Catherine's lifeless figure. The truck driver runs to aid Mildred, whose crumpled form can be seen under the juggernaut of death. Mildred was expected to live.

THOMPSON SAYS STATES BEHIND INTERSTATE PACT

Oil States Treaty Declared Aid To All

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 1 (Sp.)—The Interstate Oil Compact has demonstrated the efficacy of the Interstate Compact as a means of solving many regional problems, declared Ernest O. Thompson, Chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission at the opening of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission meeting here today.

Colonel Thompson, who is Chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact, predicted that the several oil states would renew the Compact in 1937. "It is now being generally recognized by the industry and by the people generally, that the Oil States Treaty is not a plan to make oil scarce in order to make it dear," said Thompson.

"They know that our sole object is to study methods to prevent actual, physical waste in the production of oil and gas."

The Chairman drew a parallel between oil production and the production of agricultural products.

"Distribution is the great problem of agricultural production," observed the Colonel.

"The producers of any commodity have open to them the same opportunity to work together through Interstate Compacts that we have been so happy and contented to work under on oil production control by the prevention of waste and the conservation of oil and gas," he said.

"Taxation is responsible for the price of gasoline," he said. "Gasoline is cheap when the tax is subtracted." "Cheap gasoline has made the oil business prosperous," he said.

The Colonel called attention to the fact that New York State had reduced its gasoline tax from 4c to 3c per gallon, saving New York motorists more than 15 million dollars annually.

"A good product widely offered at cheap prices will get the business and bring prosperity to all connected with that industry."

Roll Call Chairman For Red Cross Here Thanks Residents

Following a check of final results of the annual membership appeal conducted by the Midland County Red Cross Chapter, W. I. Pratt, Roll Call Chairman, today expressed gratitude for the public's response during the enrollment period.

"The generosity of the local citizenship again has been demonstrated," he Roll Call Chairman said. "The outcome of such an appeal cannot be measured wholly upon a dollars and cents basis. Service rendered in the Roll Call by volunteer workers, the manner in which these solicitors were received on all sides and the faith in the Red Cross evidenced throughout the chapter territory are all as gratifying as the results."

"The Red Cross is only as strong as its membership. It is able to serve humanity only in the degree to which it is supported."

"In behalf of the local chapter, I take this means of expressing profound appreciation and thanks to all citizens of Midland County who gave so generously of their time or funds, or both, during the annual Roll Call."

"Since the Red Cross is an agency of and by the people, its entire membership is not only entitled, but urged to take a part in the chapter's year-round activities. Through it, we, as individuals, multiply our usefulness."

"We were able to set a new record of 806 memberships with a total contribution of $851.65, all of which was received from Midland citizens. Of this amount $404.82 has been remitted to the National Organization leaving the balance of $446.83 in the local treasury for expenditure in this community as directed by officers of the local chapter."

CATTLEMEN PLAN DRAFTING BILL TO HALT RUSTLING

Legislature Will Be Asked to Pass Measure

A committee of West Texas cattlemen, meeting at the court house here yesterday afternoon to discuss the drafting of a proposed bill designed to put an end to cattle thieving, especially by truck and trailer, voted to meet with Weaver Baker, Junction special attorney for the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, on Thursday, December 3, in San Angelo, relative to the drafting of the bill, which, it is hoped, may be presented to the State Legislature for adoption at its next regular session.

Mr. Baker has done considerable work along this line, is thoroughly familiar with the present situation confronting the live stock industry, and it is felt that he will be of great help in the drafting of the bill. It is now planned to draft a state-wide bill rather than a local bill. Chas. Miller of Barstow served as chairman at Monday's meeting in the absence of L. W. Anderson of Pecos.

The committee, appointed at this session here two weeks ago, is composed of Hilroy Bedford, Midland; Buck B. Curry, Seminole; Frank Van Court, San Angelo; Mack Kyle, Loving County; John Gist, Odessa; W. J. Underwood, Andrews; Chas. Miller, Barstow; and C. O. Finley, Pecos. L. W. Anderson, Pecos, is ex-officio chairman of the committee, and Elliott H. Barron, Midland, is secretary. Senator-elect H. L. Winfield, Ft. Stockton, and Representative Clyde Bradford, Grand Falls, are also ex-officio committeemen.

Those present at Monday's meeting were: Buck B. Curry, Seminole; W. J. Underwood, Andrews; Bill Eddins, and C. O. Finley, Pecos; Clyde Bradford, Grand Falls; Chas. Miller, Barstow; Bob Beverly, Seminole; and Hilroy Bedford, E. H. Barron, J. H. Goodman, S. A. Debnam, and Bill Collins, Midland.

Christmas Lights for The Downtown Streets of City Will be Strung In Few Days, Merchants Decide Today

Christmas lights for Midland's downtown streets will be strung immediately, following a meeting this morning of the retailers' committee of the chamber of commerce, and in addition a committee was appointed to work out extensions of the territory decorated in previous years. For several holiday seasons, only four blocks have been decorated with the colored lights, including two blocks on Main street and two on Wall. Under a plan discussed this morning, additional wiring and lights probably will be purchased to take in an additional four blocks, or at least additional street intersections. On the committee were: S. M. Vaughan, manager of

GARNER'S RETURN TO CAPITAL EYED BY THE LEADERS

Returns Soon After FDR Completes SA Trip

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Vice President Garner returned to the capital Monday night silent on the cause of his early arrival and the wide-spread speculation it had stirred.

A heavy summer's tan showing through a day old stubble of beard, the vice president arrived from his Uvalde, Texas, home with Mrs. Garner and two battered suit cases. "I just came back to see what the old town looked like," he said. "I don't know what business I'll have to attend to until I look around awhile."

He refused to confirm reports that he had been summoned to Washington by President Roosevelt, to be on hand for any emergency that might arise during the chief executive's trip to South America.

The Garners were met at their hotel apartment by Representative Rayburn (D-Tex.), a candidate for the already heated race for the floor leadership of the house, strengthening reports he might be active in Rayburn's behalf.

Rayburn and the vice president went into an immediate conference behind closed doors. White House aides refused to confirm or deny that he had been called to the capital by President Roosevelt to be on hand should any emergency arise while the chief executive was 6,000 miles away in South America.

It was noted, however, that the vice president was arriving within a few hours of the time Mr. Roosevelt reached Buenos Aires and left his naval cruiser for the foreign shore. With the president away, Mr. Garner is, of course, the highest official within the national borders.

FHA IS SHOWING A STEADY GROWTH

Gives Mortgage Insurance On Home Construction In Country

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The percentage of Federal Housing insured mortgages which cover new home construction is constantly increasing, with more than half the number at the present time devoted to this type of mortgage. Administrator Stewart McDonald has announced that during July, August and September, new construction mortgages accepted for insurance jumped to 53.46 per cent of the total business.

During those three months new construction mortgages totaled $65,392,324, while the entire volume of business accepted amounted to $122,326,916. Their District of Columbia leads the nation with 91.74 per cent of mortgages accepted covering new construction.

Other states which show a major amount of new-construction mortgage insurance are: Florida, with 90.26 per cent; Texas, 82.17 per cent; Connecticut, 80.57 per cent; Arkansas, 79.06 per cent; Mississippi, 78.87 per cent; New York, 75.75 per cent; North Carolina, 73.45 per cent; Wisconsin, 73.05 per cent.

A large percentage of the construction now under way in Midland is being handled through Federal Housing insured mortgage, interest in the FHA plan having mounted by leaps and bounds here during the past few months. Many local citizens interested in building or remodeling homes have investigated and chosen the FHA plan.

R. E. Sikes, field representative of the FHA is spending several days in Midland aiding local residents who are interested in building or remodeling homes here. The interest in the FHA plan has increased in the FHA plan area to contact Mr. Sikes at the office of commerce office.

The population of Midland should attain its maximum by 1950, according to

Hall Conference Delegates here for the conference hailed the meeting as "bearing whole-hearted support of citizens of all western world republics," giving full credit to Roosevelt for the plan.

Roosevelt said in opening the conference that these republics could help avert war in the old world by maintaining peace among themselves. He proposed American republics stand "shoulder to shoulder" to prevent aggression should war flare abroad.

President Roosevelt declared flatly at a press conference that there was no possibility of the United States entering the League of Nations.

Asked whether the Inter-American parley might propose a league for the western hemisphere, he said that the matter was entirely in the hands of the conference.

One million Argentines gave President Franklin D. Roosevelt the greatest mass welcome in their nation's history when he arrived to open conferences by which 21 American republics hope to build a citadel of permanent peace in the new world.

Argentine secret service men said the wild ovations which lasted far into the hot night exceeded those accorded England's King Edward VIII when, as Prince of Wales, he visited Buenos Aires in 1931.

Spontaneous salvos of cheering and "Vivas!" rolled about the presidential party for 15 minutes without interruption tonight when he drove to the Casa Rosada to pay a formal call on Argentine's President Agustin Justo.

Some who broke through police markers in attempts to reach the presidential car felt the blows of police clubs as their excited disorder threatened to tie up the 11-car procession of United States and Argentine officials.

On the Plaza San Martin, mounted officers rode at the crowd with drawn sabers, forcing the spectators back behind lines.

Along the whole route there were shouts of "Roosevelt! Roosevelt!"

United States and Argentine officials declared they viewed the reception of President Roosevelt as a good augury for the success of the inter-American parley.

He already had stirred Latin America with his speech before the Brazilian congress in Rio De Janeiro Friday when he declared the "false gods" of dominations, coalitions and balances of power had no place in the western hemisphere.

Kentucky and West Virginia have complete jurisdiction over the entire Ohio river along their shores as far as the low water mark on Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois banks. Ordinarily, the center of a river channel marks the boundaries of states separated by rivers.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Now that Big Business is cuddling up to the New Deal again, you can expect a number of raids on the administration personnel.

Natural desire of financial-industrial interests to employ men who know the ropes and can exert influence in Washington plus the natural desire of most New Dealers to make a little money is bound to result in some job changes which will be news.

Feelers already are being extended toward several more of less prominent officials.

One of Roosevelt's great problems has been lack of adequate personnel, especially on the administrative end. But Big Business probably will be glad to lend him plenty of new help. That also has been one of Roosevelt's troubles.

With Jam Farley away in Europe, Hollywood knows more than Washington about reports that the movie industry has a $150,000 a year job for him, although such rumors have been current in the capital just before leaving. Farley swore he hadn't received any offers, but there has been plenty of trans-oceanic radio traffic since then and everybody knows Jim is quitting the cabinet.

The movie magnates stuck their necks out such an unprecedented distance in the anti-Roosevelt campaign that they're supposed to be feeling that Jim would be a bargain at $150,000.

Farley's Prestige Soars
Furthermore the election so enhanced Farley's prestige that even John D. Rockefeller, Jr., lifted his hat and bowed in a cordial letter to Jim. Rockefeller, like J. P. Morgan, is heavily interested in the movie industry.

Also Jim has perhaps more important personal contacts throughout the nation than any other man. His network of these was what enabled him to predict the election results with such amazing accuracy. Also waited around Washington is a rumor that Joseph P. Kennedy, former SEC chairman, will be hired as a sort of "czar" or co-ordinator of the public utilities industry, with the primary function of compromising differences between the industry and the administration.

Some of his best friends, however, say the rumors are being inspired by those who want to appeal to Joe's vanity and at the same time create a demand for such a deal.

Getting Up Into The Higher Altitude Again

Ball, Tomlinson Suddenly Discover Selves Managing 23,000 Mile Road

By NEA Service
CLEVELAND, Dec. 1. — Neither George Alexander Ball nor George Ashley Tomlinson ever expected that he would find himself and his partner in charge of 23,000 miles of railroad.

But when death called for O. P. Van Sweringen in his private railroad car, Ball and Tomlinson became his successors, at the head of the "patchwork empire" of pyramided railroad interests built up by the picturesque Van Sweringen brothers.

Mantis J. Van Sweringen, the other brother, died less than a year ago. Ball is a 74 year old fruit-jar manufacturer of varied financial and philanthropic interests in Muncie, Ind. Tomlinson, head of a fleet of Great Lakes boats, is a former newspaper reporter and wild west performer who rose to financial power. The curious way in which these men became "heirs" to the Van Sweringen railroad empire is told in the current issue of Fortune Magazine.

The Van Sweringens were in financial difficulties. When the depression struck, it undermined the slender base of the inverted pyramid on which they had built. They owed the Morgans $48,000,000 which they couldn't pay. And the Morgans proceeded to "sell them down the river."

Business Goes On Block
The controlling stock of the Vans Company, "top company" of the Van Sweringen interests, was sold at auction in New York. The Morgans, naturally expected to bid it in to protect their loss of $43,000,000, did not do so. Apparently they had little confidence in the Vans' project and future.

Instead, a buyer appeared in the person of Midamerica Corporation, which bid in the Van Sweringen controlling interest for $3,121,000. And Midamerica Corporation turned out to be Ball and Tomlinson.

The Van Sweringens, Fortune reveals, hadn't a cent in Midamerica. But though Ball and Tomlinson owned control of Midamerica, they gave the Van Sweringen brothers the right to vote their stock, and a 10-year option to buy 55 per cent of the common stock at cost plus 5 per cent a year.

Had Faith in Vans
It was a strange arrangement, even to top off the strange financial manipulations of the Van Sweringen brothers. Ball and Tomlinson evidently had confidence in the ability of the Van Sweringens to pull out on top even when nobody else had.

The new financial backers were not even long time friends or associates of the railroad magnates. Tomlinson had first met them when O. P. came to him during the 1928 boom. The Vans were then buying everything in sight, and asked Tomlinson to buy the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The deal failed to go through but the business connection remained. In 1930 the Vans put Tomlinson on the board of directors of the Missouri Pacific. Two years later Tomlinson recommended his friend Ball for the similar position with the Nickel Plate.

When, in the summer of 1935, the Vans approached their financial Waterloo, Ball and Tomlinson were ready to bail them out. Now, with both M. J. and O. P. Van Sweringen suddenly dead, Ball and Tomlinson find themselves in the drivers' seat with 23,000 miles of railroad stretching ahead. Neither has ever been primarily interested in railroading.

"First Citizen" of Muncie
George Alexander Ball was born in Green, Ohio, Nov. 2, 1862. He is the most active surviving brother of five who started the glass works which popularized the fruit jar bearing their name.

In Muncie, Ind., with his elder brother Frank, Ball is "First Citizen." He heads Ball Stores, Inc., Durham Mig. Co., the Merchants' National Bank, and is director of a dozen other enterprises. He is interested in the Great Lakes Portland Cement Company, Dictaphone Corporation, Intertype Corporation, and the Marine Trust company.

Philanthropy has made him even better known than the big home on the banks of White river or the summer home at Leland, Mich. In 1929, the family set up a charitable trust of $2,500,000 in memory of Edmund Ball. The Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., municipal golf course, Masonic Temple, hospitals, and normal school have all felt the touch of the Ball millions.

Active at 74
Despite his age, Ball is very active, and is a familiar sight to employees, rushing with long impatient strides from one building to another in a suit none too new.

"I'd give anything to live like this," he told a farmer friend not long ago while attending the wedding of an employee.

The farmer, puzzled, looked over his humble farmyard. "Well, why don't you, Mr. Ball?" he asked. "You could buy a hundred places like this if you really envied this life."

"I can't" was Ball's answer, illogical but complete. A power in Indiana republican politics, and close to former Senator James E. Watson, Ball was found at the Cleveland convention summer as host to the Indiana delegation in an elaborate suite of the Van Sweringens.

Ball has collected one of the great private libraries of the country, specializing in thousands of children's books. There are rare item too, including original letters of George Washington, early Bibles, and one of the few complete sets of original letters by signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Performed For Queen
Tomlinson's career is even more spectacular. Now 70 years old, he started as a $6 a week reporter for a Detroit newspaper.

He had already spent some time on a ranch in Wyoming, in the days when Indians were numerous there. When he was sent to interview Buffalo Bill, he joined the troupe. During a tour in England, he rode in a command performance before Queen Victoria.

Returning to the states, he had another go at newspaper work, but his eyes failing, he turned to the shipping business, in which his father-in-law was interested.

Gradually he built up one of the greatest fleets on the lakes. During the World War he served for three years as director of inland waterways for the Railroad Administration.

When Van Sweringen approached him to act as agent in buying the Cleveland newspaper, he "fell dead mentally," Tomlinson once said. But through this connection, Tomlinson became director in 14 railroads, and otherwise broadened his interests.

He's a Book "Fan"
He is also a book collector, and boasts of a complete set of the writings of Ambrose Bierce in his enormous library. Tomlinson has also been active in the affairs of Children's Hospital and other benevolences.

He is a director of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, and a vice president of the Cleveland Indians baseball club.

The death of the last Van Sweringen brother abrogates both his voting power and option to buy into Midamerica. So the fate of the railroad empire, which includes the Chesapeake & Ohio, Nickel Plate, Pere Marquette, Missouri Pacific, Wheeling & Lake Erie, Chicago & Eastern Illinois, and Erie Railroads, is now in the hands of the two men who only tried to save it for the friends they trusted.

The Town Quack

here and the town should be lighted and dressed up for the occasion right away. Chamber of commerce committees are at work today getting the lighting project shaped up. If you are a merchant, don't lose any time in preparing your store to attract holiday trade. A lot of people are dropping in on Midland and we ought to have our Christmas clothes on.

Before Tom Grammer became game warden, he was out with a wagon cooking for the cowboys with a trail herd, according to a story somebody told me. Some town fellows drove up at noon and asked Tom if he would have son-of-a-gun for dinner.

"I will if you guys stay and eat with us," Tom is reported to have replied.

From what I have been hearing around town, Odessa sport fans outsmarted us Thanksgiving day. It seems that they believed Odessa would win, but they were smart enough to hold out for points, and the points they got averaged somewhere from 7 to 12. Some went as high as 18. And, as you know, we beat them only 6 to 0. In other words, Midland won the football game and Odessa won the money. Be careful about that in this McCamey game. We ought to beat them but it's no cinch. And they will score over the Bulldogs heads while the Bulldogs are scoring through their line if they are not watched at all times. Other coaches in that district say the McCamey boys have a smart way of getting the defense scattered so they can work passes, and they get 'em off so quickly they are nearly always touchdown plays. Fort Stockton gained much more yardage than McCamey but the Badgers won 25 to 12.

Even if it is Saturday, Midland people ought to invade that town of McCamey at least 500 strong. Maybe that's too small a crowd of local supporters. Anyway, if you can get off at all, don't fail to see that game.

Episcopal Women Present Reviewer, Reverend P. Walter Henckell, At Tea

Episcopal Minister Reviews Biography of Albert Schweitzer at Country Club

The Episcopal Woman's Auxiliary was hostess Monday afternoon at the Country Club to the church women of the city at a tea at which they presented Rev. P. Walter Henckell, minister in charge of the Trinity Episcopal church of Midland, in a review of the book, "The Life and Work of Albert Schweitzer."

Mrs. E. H. Ellison introduced the speaker, who opened the program with a prayer. A convivial sing-song was followed by a beautiful interpretive dance by petit Doris June Bayless. Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by Mrs. Robert Dewey.

St. Thomas Study Club Meets Monday With Mrs. Duffey

The St. Thomas Study club of St. George's chapel met at the home of Mrs. C. C. Duffey Monday afternoon for a brief Bible study before adjourning to attend the Episcopal book review at the country club.

Mrs. F. H. Schouten, who was leader for the afternoon led the members in completing their course of study in the New Testament.

Those who attended were Mrs. Allen Tolbert, Earl Moran, F. H. Schouten, Patrick Riley, R. E. Gile, W. T. Walsh, J. W. Jordan, J. J. Kelly, Father Edw. P. Harrison, O. M. I., and the hostess.

Mrs. I. E. Daniel received the guests into the central room of the club, which was brightly decorated in brilliant autumn leaves and yellow chrysanthemums, affording a harmonious setting for the tea table, spread with an Italian lace cloth.

A floral centerpiece of baby's breath and yellow chrysanthemums interspersed with fern was banked by crystal candelabra holding lighted tapers, which were reflected in the two handsome silver services at each end of the table, presided over by Mrs. John P. Butler and Mrs. E. H. Ellison.

Naomis Make Plans For 'Country Store' During Christmas

The Naomi class for women met at the home of their president, Mrs. C. C. Hiett, Monday evening for a business meeting, which was reported as one of the most enthusiastic of the year.

Mrs. Hiett presided at the session at which it was decided that the class would sponsor a "Country Store" at the Ritz theatre December 15, using the proceeds to purchase Christmas gifts for the poor of Midland.

The members also voted to have a Christmas party in the near future at the Yucca Theatre for the class.

Those who attended the meeting were Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, teacher of the class, Carl Covington, M. J. Nolan, L. H. Tiffin, Tom Nance, S. M. Laughlin, Butler Hurley, A. E. Horst, W. P. Knight, and Misses Ethel Long, Eva Batchelder, Joyce Holman, and the hostess, Mrs. Hiett.

Gifts To Enhance Masculine Charms

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Some of the nicest Christmas gifts for men are right on cosmetic counters. Whether HE is a rugged individual who likes an old-fashioned tube of shaving cream and a straight razor or a fussy modern who favors a shaving bowl or an electric razor, you can find a beauty gift that will make him happy.

Shaving sets, containing cream or soap, talcum powder and skin tonic or lotion come in all sizes at all prices. A new de luxe but compact pigskin kit for a man contains hair tonic as well as regular items and has ample space of toothbrush, razor, comb and his pet gadgets.

This year, you can get talcum powder in various shades, so there's no excuse for giving a dark-complexioned man white or pale pink. Also, there are excellent face lotions that will keep his skin from chapping but which do not smell like one of your perfumes. Men, generally speaking, do not like heavily scented colognes and lotions on their own faces.

A neat little jar of brilliantine and a bottle of really good hair tonic are sure to be appreciated. Also a floating bath bowl or a circular bath brush or soap balls for the shower.

Other interesting gifts for men are: an imported clothes brush with satin wood top; whiskbroom, with silver-tipped staghorn handle; a hollow chromium and enamel brush, filled with comb, razor, shaving brush and soap.

Maybe he'd like an electric razor or an elegant gold safety razor. Or one with automatic blade magazine. I'm told that a shaving brush with real badger bristles last for years and that the recipient of one of these remains ever so grateful to the donor. Some men like tiny shaving brushes, others prefer the giant varieties. You might inquire about his preference before you buy.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Dec. 1 (UP)—The recent destruction of hundreds of street bulbs has been solved by the admission of 14 high school and junior college students, two of them girls, that they broke the bulbs as part of an initiation ceremony, W. H. Stone, chief of police, said.

Parents of the students agreed to pay for the damage, estimated at $1,000, according to Stone.

Evening Calls For Makeup Shoulders

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Before you put on an evening dress, you should make up your arms and shoulders just as carefully as your face. Cover them with foundation cream or lotion, powder generously, let it set, then whisk off the excess. Or, better yet, use a liquid powder which is less likely to rub off on the sleeve of your escort's black dinner jacket.

Always use your nail brush or a long-handled bath brush on shoulders as well as elbows. If they get chapped and rough in cold weather apply a night cream once or twice a week and leave it on for at least twenty minutes. Also, be sure to put hand lotion on arms and elbows once a day.

If your arms are too plump, you can reduce them by massage. With the palm and fingertips one hand knead and manipulate the superfluous flesh on the other arm. Put cream on your hand before you start. Keep massaging until the skin is quite pink. Then reverse working on the opposite arm, with the other hand.

Certain stretching routines will alleviate the flabbiness on the under-side of arms between elbows and shoulders. Stretch your arms high above your head, clenching fists and making muscles tense. Lower arms to shoulder height. Relax and repeat.

Cranberries Are Autumn's Cherries

By NEA Service
Cherry pie gives a seasonal hue to the menu. But there are other good dishes to add richness to the family meals.

Cranberry Refrigerator Cake for Six

Three and one-quarter cups raw cranberries, 1 1/4 cups water, 8 pitted dates, sliced, 5 figs, sliced, 1/3 cup chopped nuts, 2/3 cups sugar, 1 small sponge cake, 1/2 cup cream, whipped, grated rind 1 orange.

Odd Australian Town Has No Laws, No Taxes

SYDNEY, Dec. 1 (UP)—The town of Collarenebri, 455 miles from here, claims more of the comforts of home and fewer of the municipal discomforts than any other town in the world.

As for the lack of municipal discomforts, it has no mayor, no aldermen, no property rates, no fire department, no brick buildings, no unemployment, no crime and no golf.

As to the real municipal comforts of home, the population prides itself on its modern hospital equipment including X-rays, its river water pumping station and its electric light and power plants, without the necessity of any local body to control these things. The population plays tennis instead of golf.

The town operates under the control of the state works department which makes unnecessary any council, city ordinances or levies to worry about.

South Texas Ideal For Winter Travel Says Carveth Wells

A visit to a subtropical season—a sportsman's paradise "where winter is just a rumor"—awaits listeners who tune in on Carveth Wells Sunday, December 6, when the well known explorer and radio star will devote his weekly travel broadcast to Southern Texas, "the ideal place for winter motorists and trailerites."

Sponsored by the Continental Oil Company, this twenty-fourth program of the current "Exploring America with Conoco and Carveth Wells" series will include a description of Texas' most historic spot—The Alamo in San Antonio—as well as a tour through the famous Rio Grande Valley and to other points in the southern part of the Lone Star State.

"You'll enjoy yourself in Texas no matter where you go," says Wells "because Texas people are invariably genial souls. They enjoy an astonishing variety of business opportunities and an equally varied selection of recreations to choose from—golf, polo, fishing, hunting, boating, swimming—all available the year round."

Local listeners who wish to tune in on Carveth Wells, Sunday, December 6, may do by dialing station WFAA at 12:30 o'clock.

Whoever first started picking so called All-Star teams probably did it just to start an argument in a small area, never realizing that it would sweep the country like a game. Nowadays, anyone who doesn't pick an all-star club is considered an outsider by all and sundry, an outcast in any society.

With that thought in mind, today we give you our choice of the best team that could be garnered from all the talent in district 7-B

The team is the pick of this department only, not one coach, sports writer or grandstand coach having been asked their opinion. There will be neither medals nor honors attached to having a name on the team.

To the victor go the spoils. Therefore, it is only logical to place more Midland members on the club than from any other school. As can be noticed, five schools share the honors. Three members failed to get a man on the club. These five teams, Midland, Pecos, Wink, Odessa and Monahans were so closely balanced that there was very little to choose between them. Crane, Kermit and Stanton failed to come up with anyone we believe could crash the team.

However, Crane has a little half back, Williams, that could come nearer it than any other. Poe of Stanton was also a good back but failed to measure up to the standard of the quartet chosen.

Kelton, as he finished the season, could be placed on the team instead of any of the backs other than Wafford but he was slowed up through the early part of the campaign by regrettable injuries and only flashed his true form as the season was ending.

Only two men on the team were so valuable that no competition could even be considered. They were Wafford of Midland and Warren of Pecos. They were head and shoulders above any other backs or line-men.

At the end positions Callon and Garlington had opposition all down the line. Acker of Odessa was tough all year and Rountree of Midland improved as the season went along but neither are as consistently good as the ones picked.

There was a dearth of good tackles in the district this year for the first time in many seasons. The two Bulldog members were chosen because it has been their duty more than any others to make way for Wafford. On their shoulders has fallen the task of blasting a hole in the opposing lines for him to get through and the undefeated record of the team shows how capably they did the job.

Practically every team in the district boasted at least one good guard. But only two could be chosen. Richardson at times was shifted to an end position and often was pulled into the backfield to do the Pecos punting. He was one of the out-

Frogs Face Strong Santa Clara Bronco Club December 12

FORT WORTH, Nov. 30. —Texans have a nation-wide reputation as bronco busters, but that little group of Texans known as the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian University are going to have a full-size rodeo on their hands when they take on the Santa Clara Broncos in San Francisco Dec. 12.

Coach Dutch Meyer will start in tomorrow on seven days of intensive preparation for the California game. The Bronco tilt looms as the most difficult on the Frogs' 1936 schedule, as the Santa Clara outfit stands as the only major undefeated and untied team in the country.

The Frogs, though entering the game as underdogs, will be out to regain a place in the national football spotlight with a victory over the Broncos.

"Santa Clara has a fine team, but if we can recover from various injuries and go to San Francisco with the team at full strength, I think we will give them a good run for their money," is Coach Meyer's comment on the situation.

While the Christians have won over Santa Clara the last two years the victory has in both cases been by a narrow margin—2 points in 1934 and 4 points in 1935.

This year Santa Clara has what is probably the best team in the history—and that is saying a lot, for the Broncos have been playing top football for quite some time.

T. C. U., on the other hand, has not hung up as good a record for 1936 as for last season. Close followers of the Frogs, however, feel that since the middle of the season the Meyermen have been equal to the flashy eleven of last year.

Sam Baugh's reputation as a sensational passer has spread until a near capacity crowd is expected to gather in Kezar Stadium on the afternoon of Dec. 12 to see him try

Modern Motors Get Modern Gas by Gulf

In announcing the new Gulf No-Nox Ethyl Gasoline, Mr. H. C. Meyer, General Sales Manager, says: "Gulf is keeping pace with the trend in automotive engineering in that we are giving motorists a modern fuel for modern motors. Ordinary gasoline will no longer do."

Mr. Meyer calls attention to the fact that during the past ten years the automobile has gone through a revolutionary period. Box-shaped bodies have been transformed into graceful streamlined contours, new designs in spring suspension and to the comfort of driver and passengers, and wheeling motors have given away to high compression units which rival the powerful engines that are used in America's finest planes.

The modern automobile motor has not been increased in weight over the engine of ten years ago, but higher compression ratios have made it more than twice as powerful and half again as fast. This new efficiency has made possible the reduction of operating costs and the increase in power and speed. But the high compression motors require a faster burning fuel than ordinary gasoline.

The new Gulf No-Nox Ethyl Gasoline answers today's demands for power, speed and uniform performance, and at the same time enables the motorist to drive his car up the steepest hills without the slightest trace of a compression knock.

Our sex has always been a clearing house for confidences of other people and I think it is time we had public recognition of this virtue.

—Mrs. Stanley Ward Cooke, British feminist leader.

FRANCE HINTS AT PAYING WAR DEBT

Later Negotiations Are Expected to Follow Monday Meeting

PARIS, Dec. 1 (UP)—The United States and France agreed Monday on the advisability of liquidating all war debts.

The information came a few hours after Ambassador William C. Bullitt held a long conference with Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos.

The agreement was in principle which presumably means it will be followed by detailed negotiations later.

The informant said France and the United States have agreed fully on the advisability of liquidating all war debts.

The two nations also agreed on advisability of bringing Great Britain into the conversations.

The agreement would provide that the United States write the French debt on a new basis calling for payment in twenty annuities provided Britain agrees to join in a three power settlement.

The story deals with two newly-appointed Postal Inspectors who set out to track down the sender of a time-bomb to a United States senator, and run across a hooded organization that is terrorizing an American city.

They meet a straight-forward young fellow who is loud in his condemnation of the legion, and his sister, who fears for his life.

It is only after the young man meets death at the hands of the legion, and the girl and one of the Postal Inspectors are about to be disposed of in the same fashion, that the organization is apprehended.

The film mounts grippingly to its final dramatic fade-out. The racketeering methods of the legion, its insidious propagandizing, its blood-chilling ceremonies—are all graphically depicted.

Cabot does an extremely fine job as one of the Postal Inspectors, and Miss Churchill, in a role that calls for genuine ability, acquires herself admirably.

Weaver demonstrates a definite personality and talent that promises much.

C. C. Coleman, Jr., fresh from his post as assistant to Frank Capra, handled the direction expertly.
