At Helm in Washington

ROOSEVELT STOPS IN MONTEVIDEO TO CHEERS OF CROWDS

Last Delay Enroute Home From Peace Conference

TERRA MEETS HIM

Uruguayan Leader Is At Dock When Ship Reaches Port

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 3. (P)—President Roosevelt, returning from his Latin-American voyage of peace, stepped from the cruiser Indianapolis today to the cheers of this republic, into the outstretched arms of President Gabriel Terra. The president made his last stop of the South American trip during which he inaugurated the Inter-American peace conference. A tumultuous crowd, packed behind 3,000 soldiers, greeted him here.

Behind him in Buenos Aires Mr. Roosevelt left Secretary of State Cordell Hull and the rest of the United States conference delegation to represent his country when the inter-American parley gets under way officially Thursday. Cheered by thousands of Argentinians who lined the fifty-block route from the United States Embassy to the pier, Mr. Roosevelt embraced Argentine President Augustin P. Justo, who went aboard the ship for a few minutes.

Then as the Indianapolis moved off into the Rio De La Plata, Mr. Roosevelt stood on the upper deck waving a blue and white handkerchief while rain poured down on him and the thousands ashore, who set up a final roar of vivas.

Honoring Justo at a luncheon before he left, Mr. Roosevelt declared he would recommend that the United States senate ratify an Argentine-United States sanitary convention signed a year ago.

Under the proposed convention, the ban on meat from Patagonia—Southern Argentina—would be removed because, Mr. Roosevelt said, that meat was not diseased.

Although he said existing United States regulations against Argentine meat were inequitable, the president asserted ratification of the convention would not bring lower tariffs.

The Indianapolis carried the body of August Genemich, the president's bodyguard who died Tuesday morning. President Roosevelt and other United States officials attended his funeral in the ballroom of the Embassy before the body was taken to the cruiser.

Roosevelt said at a luncheon given him by President Terra "a new era of friendship and confidence among the Americas" was born at the Pan-American peace conference here three years ago, adding "it is giving back fruits in terms of achievements of the world."

Projects presented the committee included: Upper Colorado Authority, Marvin C. Nichols of Fort Worth, $6,200,000 for a dam in Coke county; $4,000,000 for control and irrigation on the North Concho, and $80,000 for soil conservation in Coke and Tom Green counties.

Brown county water improvement district, Senator E. M. Davis, $1,000,000 to complete irrigation and flood control projects.

Central Colorado Authority, S. W. Cooper of Coleman, $1,000,000 for 16 small dams for Coleman county creeks.

The P. W. A. allotments, according to the planning board, would employ some 57,000 skilled and unskilled workers who will be without jobs on completion of other projects Dec. 31.

MANILA BATTERED BY GIANT TYPHOON

Full Intensity of The Storm Expected to Hit Soon

MANILA, P. I., Dec. 3. (P)—A typhoon battered the Philippine East Coast and flattened temporary buildings in Manila Wednesday night, yet its full intensity remained to be felt.

Striking the coast 100 miles southwest of here, the storm sent huge waves against the Tayabas Province shore and whirled inland on a sixty-mile-an-hour wind. Weather observers said the storm center will strike close to Manila if it holds its indicated course.

Only six weeks ago a fierce storm swept across Tayabas and other Luzon island provinces, killing at least 546 and leaving 1,045 others missing. That storm, however, centered more to the north than the present one.

Storm signal No. 6 was hoisted on the Tayabas Coast and No. 4 in Manila. The numbers in the storm scale range upward from 1 to 10 to indicate intensity.

The Philippine Clipper, ready for a routine flight back to the United States, postponed its departure for the second successive day because of the typhoon. Likewise, the China Clipper delayed its flight from Guam to Manila.

The U. S. Department of Commerce has estimated that 1935 production of cigars in this country totaled 138,656,000,000.

Arrest Governor

Free on $6000 bond, Gov. Charles M. Smith of Vermont, above, faces charges of concealing a felony, a bookkeeper's alleged theft of $251,000 from the Rutland Marble Savings Bank, which Smith heads. The governor defended his action as in error defended his interests. John J. Cocklin, the bookkeeper, was discharged in 1933, when the thefts were charged, and recently was convicted of embezzlement.

Remodeling Bids on Church Building to Be Received Soon

Bids for remodeling the First Baptist church building of Midland will be received at the offices of J. J. Black, architect, in the Petroleum building, to be opened at 9 a. m. December 15. It was announced today by J. O. Nobles, chairman of the church's building committee.

Contractors were advised to get detailed specifications from the architect.

Two projects are contemplated in the building program, one for complete remodeling of the church auditorium, the other for an addition on the west to take care of Sunday school departments and offices.

A building fund campaign has been under way for several weeks, with substantial increases reported each Sunday on a blackboard in the church auditorium.

Same Bid As Maid Last Year Paid Owners At Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (P)—The grand champion steer of the international livestock exposition, owned by the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, was sold at auction today for $3 a pound, on the hoof, the same bid as last year.

Charles Walgreen Chicago, a drug chain owner, was the purchaser.

DELEGATION WILL FOLLOW BULLDOGS TO M'CAMNEY SAT.

'Good Will' Trip To Be One Object Of Tour

STOPS PLANNED

Halts at Cities On Route Expected To Be Made

It was announced today that a delegation of Midland citizens would follow the Midland high school football team to McCamey Saturday afternoon to lend support to the team in its district clash with the McCamey club.

Bob Scruggs has been appointed leader of the parade of Midland cars to the site of the game. Although plans have not been completed, stops in Odessa and Crane are contemplated by those in charge.

Boosts for Midland as a trade territory center will be made in both places if the stops are agreed on.

All persons willing to make the trip to McCamey Saturday are asked to gather at the high school before 11 o'clock. The motorcade will depart from the building at straight up 11 and it is hoped to have at least 100 in it.

All noise making machines possessed are requested. The Midland delegation is planning on "whooping it up" for the Bulldogs during the game and the more noise they can make the better it will be. Cowbells, drums, tubs or anything else that can be used in making all know that the Midland group is at hand will come in handy.

With the realization that the Bulldogs will be facing one of the toughest foes of the season supporters are determined to go over and cheer the team to a win.

GAS INCREASE AND ANOTHER OIL SHOW IN WARD WILDCAT

Finley & Cherry Test To Reduce Hole At 3,000

By FRANK GARDNER
Prospects for production from the Finley & Cherry No. 1 Sealey Estate, North Ward wildcat, brightened today when it struck an increase in gas and another showing of oil while drilling from 2,975-80. Previously, the well showed saturation from 2,905-15 and from 2,820-30, with gas coming in at the latter point. Operations report that both oil and gas are showing up through the drilling mud. The well was drilling and casing through 2,998 this morning and hole was to be reduced at 3,000. Location of the No. 1 Sealey Estate is in the northeast corner of section 54, block F. G. & M. M. B. & A. survey, four miles west of the O'Brien pool.

In the Estes pool at the north end of the South Ward field, Gulf No. 7 Estes flowed 5,002 barrels in 24 hours through tubing and casing, with gas volume of 6,012,000 cubic feet. The well is bottomed at 2,600 feet and was shot with nitro.

Seminole Discovery
Amerada No. 1-A Avertit discovery producer three miles northwest of Seminole in Gaines county, flowed 200 barrels of oil in 24 hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning.

Flow was through 1-inch choke on tubing, and gas tested 300,000 cubic feet. Total depth of the well is 5,029 feet in lime, and it has been treated three times with acid.

Honolulu, Cascade and Devonia No. 1 E. B. Duggan, pool opener in southeast Cochran county, flowed 188 barrels of oil on the off 1 1/2 hours. Total depth of the well is 5,244 feet in anhydrite and sand, while the Texas Company No. 1 B Slaughter in Hockley county is drilling salt below 3,281.

Ector Wildcat
Humble No. 1 Cowden, closely watched Ector wildcat southeast of the Cummins pool, is coring lime at 4,235 feet, with no change reported. It showed a small amount of gas on a drill-stem test from 4,082 to 4,200. Location is in section 30, block 44, township 1 north, T. & P. survey.

In the Foster Pool, Weekly Oil Company No. 1 Foster, 330 feet from the north and 440 feet from the west line of section 13, block 43, township 2 south, T. & P. survey.

Rejoicing Winners at 4-H Show

These champions at the National 4-H Club Congress, held in Chicago in connection with the International Livestock Show, smilingly hold the symbols of their supremacy. Florence Erickson, left, of Tracy, Minn., won the president's trophy for achievement, and Cora Mae Briggs, of Seward, Neb., was awarded the H. A. Moses trophy for leadership.

Baldwin, in an unprecedented House of Commons setting, said there was "no statement" on the constitutional crisis. He told Clement Attlee, opposition leader, who reputedly sided with Baldwin in his demand that Edward relinquish the American "the situation is of such nature as to make it inexpedient that I be questioned at this stage."

The King won in the first show of strength. A laborite leader, Josiah Clement Woodwood, told the British press association "Edward is beloved and the thing to avoid is abdication. Any change would tear the country in two. If a general election comes the outcome will be on the side of the King."

Some sources said, however, that Edward may have made a pledge to make no arrangement not satisfactory to the government, church and himself.

Address on Panama, Given By Mrs. Chapple, Is High Spot of Program at Rotary Club Today

Rotarians today heard a talk by Mrs. James H. Chapple, wife of Dr. Chapple, member of the club, on life, history and economic phases of Panama. The address, eloquently delivered, was a part of the international service program.

Songs were given by the high school girls' trio, composed of Jeanette Hayes, Mary Beth Scruggs and Wanda Ticknor, with Mrs. De Lo Douglas directing.

President W. R. Upham appointed a committee to work with the Lions club and with J. Howard Jodge, manager of the Yucca theatre, in staging the annual Christmas theatre party for Midland children. John P. Howe, W. B. Simpson, Barney Greathouse and T. Paul Barron were named.

Introduced by Dr. W. E. Ryan, program chairman, as a native of Panama, educated in London and widely traveled in Europe, Mrs. Chapple gave the following address:

First of all I want to say that I feel greatly honored to have been asked to come to the Rotary club to give a talk on Panama. I must say that my husband played a joke on me in connection with this. He came home one day and told me that a committee of the Rotary club wanted me to give a talk on Panama. I felt very much flattered and in a few days I found out that he had been asked to give that talk and decided to pass it on to me.

After a six day journey from New Orleans the boat arrives at Cristobal, on the Canal Zone and right next to it Colon, on Panamanian territory. It might be interesting to know that these two towns were named after Christopher Columbus, in Spanish, Cristobal Colon. After a train ride of one hour and forty minutes across the Isthmus we see Balboa and Ancon, American towns, and Panama City, on Panamanian territory. Panama City has a population of approximately 75,000 inhabitants. This town was first built ten miles from where it stands now; the tourist can take a ride to Old Panama and see the ruins of the old cathedral, convent, and other buildings. This old town was destroyed by the English buccaneers headed by the pirate Morgan who ransacked the city and took all the wealth. Morgan and his men transported 185 mules laden with jewels, huge quantities of gold and silver, sacred golden cups, pearls and precious stones. The natives in desperation buried some of their wealth and in recent years, after excavating under these ruins, pieces of gold have been found. There was an old golden altar which was painted white when the pirates came so they wouldn't destroy it and afterwards it was moved to the new city. We can see it in a little church called San Jose; it is beautifully carved and a real work of art.

The Canal Zone and Panamanian territory are separated on the P. S. by a street called Fourth of July Avenue. During prohibition, and even now, as liquor is not permitted on a government reservation, the Americans only have to cross Fourth of July Avenue to quench their thirst.

The tourist, going through Panama should not forget the Promenade called Las Bovedas which is part of the wall that surrounded the city. Many years ago, under this wall they had the dungeons where the prisoners of war were kept.

The climate of Panama City does not differ from the public market where you can find from live fish to coconuts. I took my mother-in-law with me one day and she was frightened when she saw me carry a live lobster home.

The climate is warm all the year round but the thermometer never goes up to 100. The humidity is high, though. Nights and mornings are always cool due to the sea breeze. There are only two seasons during the year: the wet season (nine months) and the dry season (three months). The tourist is impressed by the rich verdure of the forests. Everywhere the soft mantle of green soothes his eyes, tired from the glare of the sun and ceaseless motion of the whitecaps during the sea voyage. Blasco Ibanez, the Spanish writer who wrote The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse, said when he went to Panama that it should be called Evergreen Panama. Ex-King Alfonso called it the youngest Daughter of Spain. It is the youngest of Latin American republics having enjoyed but 28 years of independence. Yet it has advanced so rapidly that its development amazes all visitors. The beauty of its streets, its perfect

Contract Let for Large Extension of The Scharbauer Hotel Garage Building

Contract was let Wednesday night for an extension to the Hotel Scharbauer garage, to be 97 by 100 feet in size, joining the hotel on the south. The building will front Loraine and Missouri streets and will harmonize with the hotel proper in construction and architecture.

Suggs Construction Co., of Abilene and Big Spring placed the low bid for the structure. E. B. Ribble of Big Spring is architect. Ribble said the building, one-story in height, will be of steel, concrete, tile and brick construction and fire-proof throughout. It will add greatly to the automobile storage capacity of the present garage building which for several months has been overtaxed each night to take care of automobiles of the hotel guests.

Construction is scheduled to begin within ten days. The edifice will cover the last vacant lot on the hotel block, being on the property immediately west of The Reporter-Telegram and south of the Greyhound bus terminal.

Seven contractors, including four local concerns, placed bids on the project, the Suggs bid being slightly lower than all others which were not at great variance. Adjoining the present hotel garage, one of the largest in the southwest, the building will have direct access to the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer which covers more ground than any hotel in West Texas. With the exception of the property on which The Reporter-Telegram building is located, the hotel and garage will include an entire half block. The main hotel building is six stories in height, with the apartment of Clarence Scharbauer forming the seventh floor on a section at the west side. The hotel has 250 rooms and 250 baths.

FASCISTS PRESS MADRID ATTACK WITH NEW RAIDS

City Bombed Twice Today, Damage Is Light

(By Associated Press)
Insurgent airplanes bombed Madrid twice today as Fascists pressed their drive to capture the capital through an encircling movement. Little damage was done.

Socialists pressed almost in striking distance of the insurgent provincial capital at Victoria.

General Franco, insurgent commander, informed Great Britain that his planes "plan frequent attacks by day and night on 'presumed enemy ships' from north Alicante to west Malaga in the Mediterranean.

Fascist warplanes, in three raids, renewed their death-dealing siege of Madrid, Wednesday, killing more than 50, perhaps hundreds, according to the Red Cross.

While Madrid infantry held their defenses and kept the fascist army from pushing further into the capital, the air attackers dropped at least 70 bombs in the bloodiest bombardment in the city's history.

A British member of parliament, visiting the siege area with a group of colleagues, reported: "We saw scores of injured women and children—four women and two children were thrown in one pile.

The parliamentarians reported also that the city was in dire need of food, with little meat and an acute shortage of beans, potatoes and other foods.

Holt, Conkling Return from Hunting Trip; Bring Evidence of Prowess

O. B. Holt and Russell C. Conkling returned last night bearing many trophies of a three-weeks hunting trip into the wilds of Mexico. Most of the game was garnered about 30 miles back into the mountains from the small village of San Francisco, about 70 miles southeast of Victoria.

The prize trophy of the nimrods was a Mexican tiger skin. The tiger was killed by Holt while hunting with the aid of a spotlight at night. Measurements of the man-killer made immediately after he was slain showed him to be approximately eight feet long from nose to tail tip.

The two local hunters, with the aid of a guide interpreter and a cook landed three deer, 20 wild turkeys and a lot of other smaller game. Most of Conkling's time was spent hunting deer while Holt utilized most of his time in hunting tigers. Several were found but only one fell victim to the hunters' skill. Holt reported his guide missed five separate shots at different tigers.

Being short of pack animals to carry in supplies, the hunters were forced to sleep out using a "saddle blanket for a pillow and the fire for cover." Hearing a noise among the pack mules one night the entire camp turned out to discover what was the cause. On finding evidence that a tiger had invaded the camp, they started a hunt for him and discovered him about a half mile from camp. Holt shot him at a distance of about 50 yards. The bullet entered one side of the neck and plowed the all the way through.

A small tiger cub was captured by the group and Holt is waiting for clearance papers to bring it here. Both state and federal permits must be procured before the cubs can be brought into the state, he said. A friend of Holt gave him a parrot but it "look sick" on him and was left in Mexico until it has recovered.

In explaining the capture of the cub the men said that after its discovery the guide pulled off his coat, threw it and then himself on top of the animal. When it began to look like the cub was going to prove tougher than the guide the others joined in the fight, finally subduing it. What to do with it when it grows up is worrying O. B. now.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Instead of laying down a blueprint of government reorganization for congressional approval, President Roosevelt is more likely to ask for a delegation of power which will enable him to effect reorganization by a step-by-step method through executive orders.

Roosevelt has made no decision about that as yet. He has made decision as to few if any of the major problems of his next administration—and that covers the vast crop of post-election rumors as to a shake-up in the cabinet and the big administrative agencies.

The president is still tired from campaign exertions and prefers to get a good rest before applying his mind intensively to the future.

He has called on individual members of his administration for suggestions to supplement the reports of various committees working on reorganization—the Senate committee under Senator Byrd of Virginia, the House committee under Congressman Jack Cochran of St. Louis and the Louis Brownlow committee working in co-operation with the Brookings Institution.

What Avoid Congress Row Two reasons for influencing him toward filing those various reports and suggestions and pulling from his desk a plan of his own: First, all previous experience indicates that submission of a comprehensive general reorganization plan would mean a howling dog fight right in Congress as the federal machine charged on Capitol Hill to lobby at cross-purposes for preservation of jobs and bureaucratic power.

Any such big program probably would have plenty of mistakes in the first place and by the time Congress got through chewing on it, close presidential advisers believe it probably would be a horrible mess.

Making one fight at a time presumably would allow more careful planning and give Roosevelt a better chance of getting what he wanted.

Second, the president is concerned with the desirability of improving administration from the personnel standpoint. He may seek in some cases to build big new combinations of federal functions around certain top-notch administrators of special gifts rather than to create posts of great importance and then start whistling for men of sufficient caliber to operate them.

He can work better along this line through the step-by-step method.

line through the step-by-step method.

Mergers Are Expected

Insiders take it for granted that there will be consolidation of social welfare agencies—including WPA, the Social Security Board, CCC, and possibly the Department of Labor—and that this will mean creation of a new cabinet post.

Outstanding possibilities for the job are Harry Hopkins of WPA and John H. Fahey of HOLC. Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins might be considered a possibility, but certainly is not a likelihood.

There will be important reorganizations of government financing and housing agencies, but details and probabilities as to administrators are now matters of sheer speculation.

The president hasn't said anything to anyone concerning specific cabinet or other major personnel changes. Most of the rumors as to such changes are inspired by those who want certain things to happen.

Changes Are Forecast

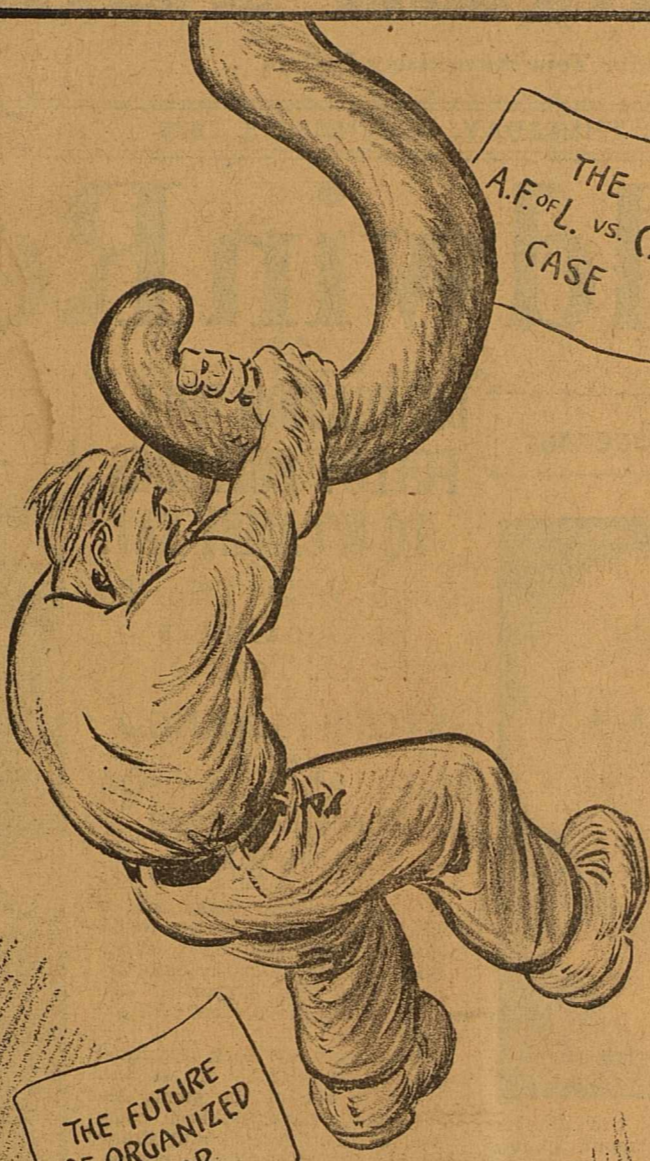

It is generally known that there's a move on to make Secretary Ickes comptroller general, that Secretary Roper is extremely unpopular among New Dealers, that Secretary Swanson is a sick man, that certain groups for years have vainly urged a more aggressive man as attorney-general than Homer Cummings, that Secretary Perkins makes no great dent, and that Jim Farley is soon to resign as postmaster-general.

Hence, there's one certainty and several possibilities of change, but at this writing that sums it up and Farley's successor has not yet been picked.

Believing that his second administration is likely to be more important in history than his first, the president is anxious that it be more ably and efficiently administered.

That's why, with respect to reorganizations and shakeups, he may

Peerage Suggested for Britain's General Gough, A Hero In Defeat

BY MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent LONDON, Dec. 3.—Will that British justice—concerning which these islanders always proudly preen themselves—take off its symbolical blindfold and after eighteen long years right a wrong that thousands of men in and out of the British Fifth Army think was done to General Sir Hubert Gough?

That is the question that is being aired these days in the press. In the meantime the main figure—Sir Hubert himself—maintains a dignified silence. But he is being deluged with letters and telegrams congratulating him upon what is already looked upon as a belated vindication.

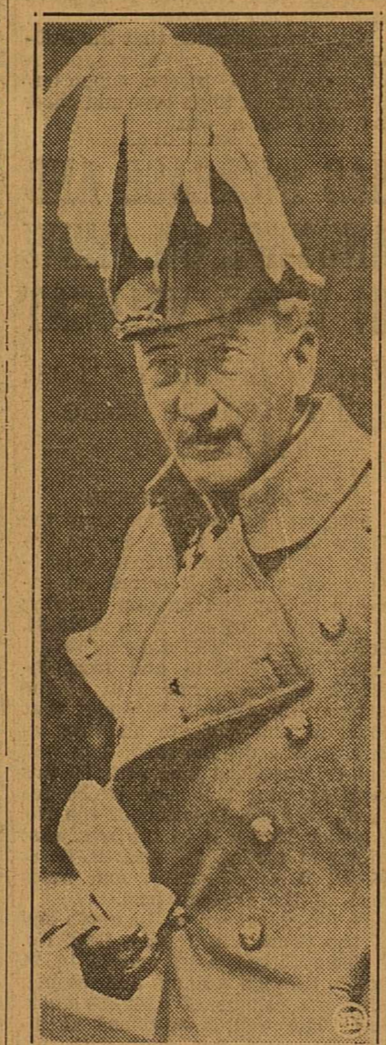

In Irish Incident

Here are the facts: Sir Hubert—born in 1870 of a military family—had a fine early career. He served with credit in the South African war. He was in command of the cavalry at the Curragh in Ireland in March, 1914, at the time of the famous "incident." The Liberal government, then in power, contemplated having to use the army to quell anti-home rule agitation in Ulster. Officers at the Curragh were given the option of obeying orders to this effect or resigning. Many, particularly those of Ulster stock, resigned. Gough led in this. There was a political upset in the cabinet, the resignations of the army men were withdrawn and Gough, among others, went back into the service.

He went to the front in the World War in 1914 and by 1918 was in command of the Fifth Army. He had to protect a front of 42 miles with eight divisions. His Intelligence Service informed him the Germans were massing troops for a break-through on his front. Gough appealed for more men. He was given grudgingly four more divisions. His demand for still more fell on the deaf ears of Foch, of the British General Headquarters and of his government at home.

42 Divisions Against 12

On March 21, 1918, his devoted 12 divisions had to face an onslaught by 42 German divisions. The Fifth Army suffered terrible losses. It fell back for miles, but fought grimly over every inch. There is no finer story in the British record of the World War. By March 28 the retreat ceased and the main force of the German attack quieted down. General Gough was called home and was replaced by General Rawlinson. By that time, the government had found plenty of troops to send to the hard pressed line. Gough was the scapegoat.

The unfortunate general had understood that he would be granted an inquiry. This, because of the speech in Parliament by Lloyd George, then Premier, who said: "Until all the circumstances... are explained it would be unfair to censure General Gough. But until the circumstances are cleared up, it would be equally unfair

Swimming Pool Made Into Winter Theater

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Zealous amateur actors have transformed the Alden Park swimming pool into a little theater.

A winter covering has been built over the pool, and provision made to heat it. Bathrooms have been transformed into dressing rooms, and a partition erected between the doorway and main auditorium to form a ticket booth.

Members of the Little Theater movement have completed sets and backdrops for the first show.

to the British army to retain him in the field."

Turned To Business

Gough never had the benefit of the inquiry. He resigned from the army and is today a director of various business firms in The City—London's Wall Street. Byng, who commanded the Third Army, Plumber, who commanded the Second, Horne, who commanded the First, and Rawlinson, who commanded the Fourth, were all given peerages and Parliamentary grants of $150,000 each for their services. Gough got nothing. He was allowed to remain with a cloud on his military name.

But some of these, who were in various cabinets and who wrote books, did much to vindicate him. "If one soldier more than another was directly responsible for our victory in 1918 it was General Gough. . . Ludendorff's last throw had patently failed. . . Amiens was saved; so was Paris; so were the Channel ports; so was France; so was England. Whereupon Gough was recalled.

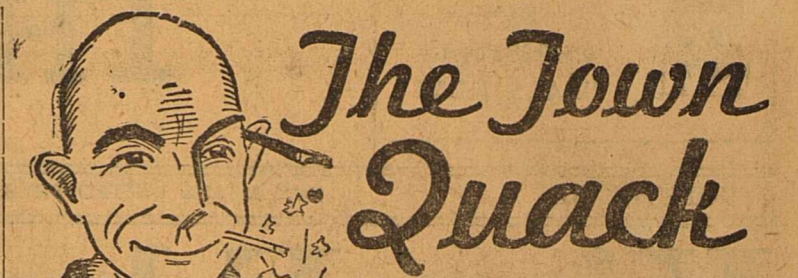

Lloyd George Vindicates Him

Winston Churchill, likewise wrote in praise of Gough.

Last and possibly most important, Lloyd George has belatedly done so. He was the Premier of the cabinet which recalled Gough. In his war memoirs, he has handsomely vindicated Gough. Moreover, the other day, he wrote Gough a letter in which he said:

"I need hardly to say that the facts, which have come to my knowledge since the war, have completely changed my mind as to the responsibility for that defeat. You were completely let down and no General could have won that battle under the conditions in which you were placed."

It is being suggested to the present cabinet that it would be a good move if, before his coronation next May, King Edward VIII were urged to confer a belated peerage upon General Gough, thus emphasizing that a long chapter of injustice had been definitely ended.

faced road, connecting with Kermit. The grade is already in use by oil men who want a quicker route to the northwest territory. The pink boll worm discovery announced yesterday which placed a part of Midland in the quarantine zone apparently doesn't make any change here at all, but puts the northeast part of the county, adjacent to Stanton, under the same restrictions which have regulated Midland county cotton growing for the past three years.

Things are really popping around here. Clarence Scharbauer let the contract for a garage 100 x 100 feet, to increase the capacity for automobile storage for the hotel. The city council is making it possible for an unlimited amount of street paving, the city to pay one-fourth and the property owners three-fourths, with out the customary bond issue to tax the rest of the populace. New business enterprises are opening, older ones are taking on new life. The new postoffice building is nearing completion and is adding substantially to the appearance of Midland's beautiful business section.

The Bulldogs are going to McCamey Saturday for the bi-district championship game, after taking the district honors for the home town. More residences, of the substantial type, are under construction here at present than in any town three times the population of Midland in the state of Texas. A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

A cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. You can relieve them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery that aids nature to soothe and heal the infected membranes and to relieve the irritation and inflammation as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Medical authorities have for many years recognized the wonderful effects of Beechwood Creosote for treating coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations. A chemist worked out a special process of blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children. Thousands of doctors now use Creomulsion in their own families and practice, and druggists rank Creomulsion top because in this genuine, original product you can get a real dose of Creosote so emulsified that it goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles, especially those that start with a common cold and hang on and on. Get a bottle of Creomulsion right now from your druggist, use it all up as directed and if you fail to get satisfactory relief, he is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

TALK OF COLLEGE SCHEDULES BEING HEAVIER-FIND A HARDER CLASS-B THAN MIDLAND HAS HAD TO TRAVEL

Talk of college schedules becoming heavier each year. Take a look at the Midland high schedule for the past season and find a class-B team that played a tougher one

Through a series of events over which the team, and certainly the schedule makers, had no control, every team played by the Bulldogs this season have been "set" for the game.

The first game of the season, with the Big Lake Owls, and the fourth game, with Kermit, might well be termed the only "soft snaps" on the program. This despite their 53-0 defeat of Stanton. Because the Stanton club was primed to defeat the locals and the coaches were forced to get the boys into the same mental condition for this one as some of the far harder games.

The second game of the season found the team playing the Colorado Wolves on the Colorado grid. And a combination of rain and a 14-man team almost spelled ruin. To the credit of the team they managed to come out on top.

The next game found them slightly "chesty" and they were lucky to tie Pecos 7-7 and then win a decision from the district fathers. Following the Kermit game the boys took the jaunt to Crane confidently expecting to roll up a record-breaking score. Imagine their surprise when they managed to beat a club they outweighed approximately 20 pounds per man only 20-0.

Coming on the heels of the Crane game was the battle royal with the Wink Wildcats. And there was no doubt in the minds of Wink players that the game would be the toughest of the season for them. After that one came the game with the Bowie-Hi Bears. From a less than mediocre club early in the season the Bears had developed into a fair class-A club. Taking literally the word of their coach that the game to Pecos was the only one they would lose to a Class-B team this season the members of the team were determined to uphold his statement. No one could truthfully say that club wasn't "ready".

With the Bears hurled the road became rockier rather than smoother. After the touchdown parade over Stanton the Bulldogs met the Monahans and Odessa teams. And no two teams were ever primed more for a game than were those two.

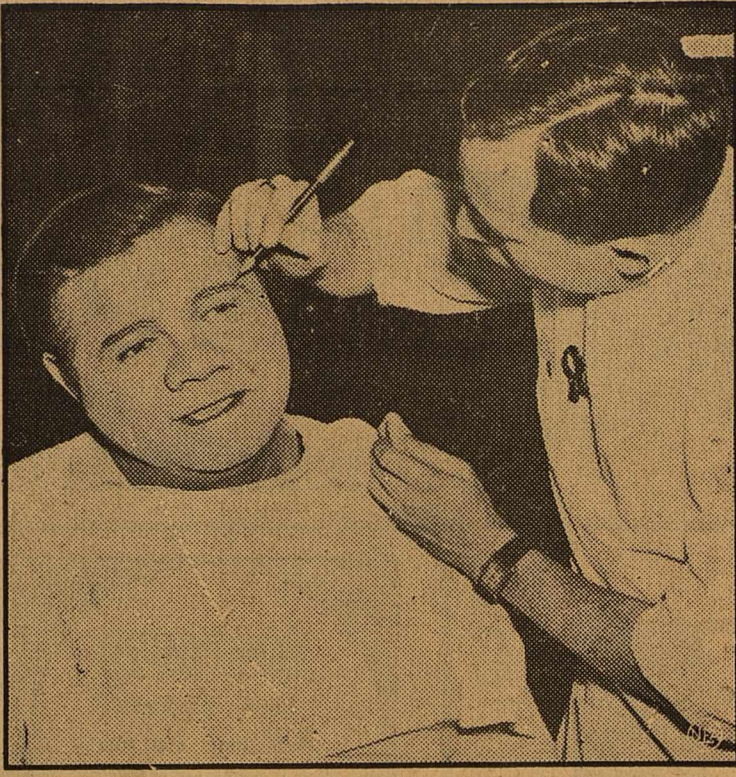

And the fun has only begun. This week they get a club that is going to be putting out all they have and then some. Last season McCamey was champion of their district but went down to a four touchdown defeat at the hands of a Wink team that improved as the season advanced.

Being the largest town in the district was incentive enough to cause all other schools in the district anxious to plaster a defeat on the Bulldogs; being on top of the league at all times was something extra. For what is sweeter than beating the champs?

General opinion is, and it is shared by this department—that the Bulldogs should defeat the Badgers when the two clubs clash Saturday. But the game is going to be one of the toughest of the year. The Bulldogs are going to have to be right mentally and physically to hurdle the Upton county lads.

On the McCamey club are four men that were chosen all-

Babe Makes Hit in Movies

Not even penciled eyebrows and painted lips can disguise the face that is an institution in baseball. It belongs to Babe Ruth, the old Sultan of Swat, who is now busily following a movie career. He is shown being made up for his part in "Home Run on the Keys," a movie short being filmed in Brooklyn.

district in district 8. At quarter is Leon Belcher, all-district man last year and generally conceded to be the nearest approach to Dave Wafford of the Bulldogs in West Texas class-B circles. Some argue he is better.

At fullback will be Truman Reynolds, who, despite injuries, has been one of the stand out backs of the league. He has led the district all season in passing and punting. So far he has not had a punt blocked and only a bare few passes thrown by him have failed to come to rest in the arms of one of his mates.

W. O. Reeves, a defensive tackle and offensive end, is generally conceded to be one of the best linemen in the district. He is a sure catch on passes and on defense is declared immovable.

The fourth "all" man on the Badgers is Jack Belcher, center. He is declared to be one of the surest blockers, best tacklers and outstanding line backers of the district. He is declared the best blocking center of all representatives in the league.

The McCamey club and citizens are taking the forthcoming game far more seriously than are the Bulldogs and the Midland citizens. The town is reported to have enough "Beat Midland" stickers plastered on the buildings to insure the buildings against any weather damage this winter.

The McCamey team started slow but has come along with each game until they reached their peak Thanksgiving. Supporters of the club are emphatic in statements that the team will be better this week than last. The Badgers got out of the Fort Stockton melee with no serious injuries and the club will be in the best physical condition of the past month.

Coaches Baumgarten and Taylor are working hard with the Bulldogs this week preparing a more diversified attack than has greeted other opponents this year. Wafford failed gallantly to take advantage of the defense system used by the Odessa club last week and the coaches are attempting to work more open type football into the boys.

The Badgers use passes and end runs to a large extent along with the power drives of Belcher. They have not been held scoreless in any game this year and in only two have been held to less than two touchdowns. In eight games this year, seven of them against conference foes, they have made 161 points and given up 49. Which means an average of three touchdowns per game for them while the opposition has been making one.

High School Press Assn. Will Meet In Abilene Feb. 12-13

ABILENE, Texas, Dec. 2.—Annual convention of the Texas High School Press Association will be held in Abilene, February 12 and 13, 1937. The association which was organized in 1923, has formerly met annually in Belton.

More than 500 student journalists, representing schools in all parts of Texas, are expected to attend. ### Aggies Studying New Plays to Spring On Manhattan Jaspers In Saturday Game

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Dec. 3.—Bold Texas A&M, sticking its collective neck out for the fourth time this year in intersectional grid combat, plans a bit of hitherto untried skulduggery for its season's closing game Saturday, Dec. 5, at Tyler with the Manhattan Jaspers.

Based on reports of Assistant Coach J. W. (Dough) Rollins, chief scout who saw Villanova trim Manhattan 12-0 two weeks past, the Aggies are overhauling their attack and inserting new plays here and there especially for this game. Some of their standby plays also may be dropped because Manhattan has had the Cadets scouted in every game they've played to date this season.

As Villanova threw few passes, Rollins had little opportunity to see the Jaspers pass defense tested. His research showed, however, that Detroit completed eleven of fifteen aeriels in defeating the Jaspers 20-0 several weeks past. The Aggies, knowing this, probably will have Jim Shockey uncork his left-handed passes both for yardage and to spread the Jasper defense which averages more than 200 pounds a man in the line.

The Aggies still probably will rely mainly on their running attack, which has picked up a net of 1,706 yards to 781 yards from passes in eleven games. The Jaspers, operating from a single wingback formation, feature Dick Turley, Vic Fusia and Ralph DiMartino as first class ball carriers, the cocktail-named back having been nicknamed "Death in the Afternoon" by New York sports writers. The Jaspers, however, also have had much success with passes this year and probably will attempt to show the Southwest its own favorite style of action.

The Aggies are strumming through their plans while the Jaspers, who entrained Tuesday night at New York, are hearing the click of railroad rails that became so familiar to the Cadets while they were winning three and losing two games within twenty days on trips that carried them to California, Utah and Louisiana. The Jaspers will work out Thursday at New Orleans, La., Friday at Tyler. The Aggies will complete home preparations Thursday and will leave for the game site Friday morning.

Two Eastern officials are accompanying the Jaspers and will assist in "working" the game. They are: E. F. Hughitt, Michigan, who will umpire; and Tom Degnan, of George Washington University, who will be head linesman. Harry Viner of Missouri will referee and Jack Roach, of Baylor, will be field judge.

With the exception of Co-captain Harry Wheeler, Manhattan guard, both teams probably will enter the game in top shape. Wheeler received a broken collarbone in the Villanova tilt it is making the trip. The Jaspers have had no game since Nov. 21. The Aggies lost 0-7 to the University of Texas the past Thursday but had a complete vacation for three days afterwards to recuperate from the strain of five games within twenty days and have travelled a moderately light practice pace this week.

The Aggies to date have won two intersectional games and lost one. They defeated San Francisco 34-14 and Utah 20-7 within the space of four days but later lost to Centenary, 0-3.

TOWNSEND AND 2 AIDES INDICTED BY FEDERAL JURY

Cited for Contempt For Refusal To Testify

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. (AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, co-founder of the Townsend old age pension movement, and two associates, Rev. Clinton Wunder, New York; and John B. Kiefer, Chicago; regional directors of the organization, were indicted by a federal grand jury today on contempt charges growing out of defiance to the congressional investigating committee.

The jury charged Townsend with "knowingly and willfully" absenting himself from the committee and Wunder and Kiefer with ignoring committee subpoenas.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

RESCUED BY A WOLF.

THE Turkish tribe was captive in a valley in northern Caucasia, many centuries ago, and no way could be found for escape. A blacksmith of the tribe, one day, wandered away and was accosted by a gray wolf.

That wolf became the saviour of the Turks, and to this day is almost worshipped by them. He is "Boscourt," which means "gray wolf."

He led the blacksmith to a narrow opening in the mountains, through which later the Turks were able to flee. The blacksmith, also, became the idol of his people, for he widened the pass to freedom.

For many years thereafter, the people of Ergene Kon, where the original Turks had been captive, celebrated this strange rescue with an annual festival. A stamp issued in 1926 and 1929 pictures both "Boscourt," the wolf and the blacksmith, with his hammer and anvil, marks by which some Turks claim the original discovery and use of iron ore. The stamp is shown here.

ing and ginning their cotton for 3 years under the light restrictions, practically the only regulation being on seed shipped from Midland to outside points. Most of the seed shipments are to cotton oil mills and regulations take care of such shipments with little inconvenience to the growers.

The part of Midland county put in the zone Wednesday is the northeastern part, adjacent to Stanton, it was advised today, placing all of Midland county in the regulated area.

Announcement was made by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, from Austin that a new boll-worm commission, appointed last week by Governor Allred, will decide on the type of regulation for counties affected by the order which came from the office of Secretary Wallace of the federal department of agriculture.

Leases Ranch, Buys Entire Cattle Herd

Brack Mitchell of Sweetwater has moved to the A. N. Hendrickson ranch, the former Wraga place, 25 miles southeast of Midland, having leased the fourteen section ranch and bought the entire herd of cattle from Hendrickson.

Terms of the lease deal call for Mitchell's fencing the ranch with woven wire, or sheep fence, the project being under way at present. Mitchell, an experienced sheep and cattleman, will run both classes of stock there.

Hendrickson will give full time to his oil interests, having been operating the ranch personally for the past few years.

If one layer is good, maybe two layers would taste even better. That's the theory. Here it is in practice:

Chocolate Bottom Pie. For the chocolate player, use 2 square unsweetened chocolate, 1 cup milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch, dash of salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla and 1 baked pie shell, 9-inches in diameter. Add chocolate to milk and heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary beater until blended. Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Gradually add these dry ingredients to chocolate mixture, stirring constantly, and continue to cook until it thickens, never ceasing to stir. After it has thickened, cook another 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Add vanilla. When cool, turn into the baked pie shell.

Light Top Layer. For the light layer, use 1 egg yolk, 1/2 cup sugar, dash of salt, 2 cups milk, 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin, 1 egg white, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup cream. Beat egg yolk slightly, then combine with sugar, salt and milk. Cook in double boiler 7 minutes, or until scalded. Stir constantly. Remove from fire and add gelatin, stirring until gelatin is completely dissolved. Then chill.

When slightly thickened, fold in the egg white, stiffly beaten, and add the vanilla. Spread this magnificent benediction over the smooth dark surface of the chocolate layer. Chill until firm. Top with whipped cream. After that there is nothing to worry about.

Caramelized Pineapple Pudding. Caramelized pineapple pudding can stand on its head and not lose any dignity, either. For enough to thrill 8 persons, use 1 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 quart can best sliced pineapple. Drain pineapple and cut into large pieces. In large iron frying pan caramelize the brown sugar. Then add the butter. When the brown sugar and butter have blended, turn in the pineapple and cook for 12 minutes, turning the fruit occasionally. Keep warm.

For the cake top, use 1/3 cup butter 3/4 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 cup milk, 2 cups flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon almond extract. Cream butter and sugar. Beat egg and add the butter mixture. Then slowly stir in the milk and sifted dry ingredients, alternately, a little at a time. Add almond extract. Mix thoroughly. In a buttered pudding dish, arrange the pineapple and pour the cake batter over it. Bake 1/2 hour in a moderate oven, until cake is browned. Serve steaming hot with ice cold whipped cream. Yes, it's really true.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 1 (U.P.)—The Kreschmer Memorial Lighthouse for the blind here is offering any Georgia blind person the loan of special machines required to play records prepared to entertain blind persons.

The Lighthouse furnishes Alabama, Georgia and Florida blind with records of the classics, drama, short stories and current fiction. This method of entertainment is known as the "Talking Book."

The federal government has furnished a number of these machines for the use of blind persons financially unable to purchase them.

Dickenson to Deliver Young Bulls to Brady

E. D. Dickenson will deliver Thursday to Raleigh and Chas. White of Brady a load of choice bull calves, raised at his ranch northeast of Midland. The bulls, pure bred, are a part of some 300 produced by Dickenson for breeding purposes this season. Over 100 head already had been sold to various breeders over the country. Dickenson said prices are highly satisfactory this season.

Stores Here Well Stocked in Gift, Holiday Articles

A Midland woman today paid tribute to the stocks of merchandise carried here for holiday trade. She said she had been in all towns in the vicinity of Midland recently, also in cities to the east, and that the Christmas stocks here compared favorably with those of the larger cities.

Midland stores have been decorated for holiday trade and most of them reported active buying immediately after the Thanksgiving holidays.

One store has its shelves lined on each side with goods already sold. Store windows, lighted at nights, reflect the holiday spirit in attractive manner.

With less than twenty days in which to shop, buyers of Christmas goods apparently were making the time count this week and laying in supplies of all kinds.

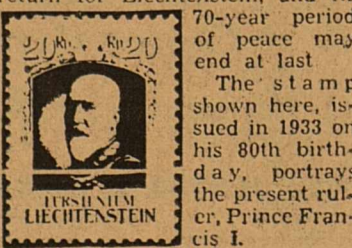

East Midland widow says she likes indoor sports if they look half way decent and are not tightwade.

PRUSSIA was attacking Austria at Koniggratz in 1866, when the little principality of Liechtenstein sent its tiny army of 81 men to Austria's aid. Prussia won quickly, and in the peace negotiations that followed, the little country that borders Switzerland and Austria, and is smaller than the District of Columbia, was forgotten.

Officially, therefore, Liechtenstein remains at war with Prussia, but in fact this probably is the most peaceful country in the world. For since 1867 the inhabitants of Liechtenstein have not been liable to military service, and there has been no army since 1868.

But again trouble seems to be brewing in the land, and the 83-year-old Francis I, who has been living in Vienna, may have to return before blood is shed. Racially of German origin, the youth of Liechtenstein has become divided over Nazism. War may return for Liechtenstein, and its 70-year period of peace may end at last.

"This is my party, mother, and I won't stand for dad doing all his old card tricks."

PROFESSOR POINTS OUT AGRICULTURE NEEDS IN TEXAS AND OTHER STATES

Dean W. R. Woolrich, who at the beginning of the current session of the University of Texas became a member of the staff of that institution as head of the College of Engineers, has made a study of the economic situation of the south especially as it relates to cotton, its principal product. In a series of five articles, of which this is the first, Dean Woolrich has analyzed the situation which confronts the people of Texas and for his latest visit, she did not recognize him.
Dust swirled through the ghostly, deserted streets of Old Tascosa and about the gravestones on "Boot Hill."

upon industry for their entire existence.

In a northern Alabama hotel the atmosphere in the lobby was under considerable tension. A traveler from the Chicago Gold Coast was voicing his disapproval of the south, of southern backwardness, and of the aid extended to southern areas by the federal program.

Directing his statement to the writer he emphasized:
"You folks in the south ask for more, do less, and receive more from the federal treasury than any gang I know of, and we fellows pay the bill. I tell you it is a damnable graft, and we are fools to pay for it."

He had thrown down the gauntlet, and for the next two hours he was obliged to listen to the other side of the story.

It is upon the south that our international exchange most largely depends. For a century cotton has been the principal factor in our United States exchange values. Cotton has gone onto the exchange market without any national protection. Both plantation owner and worker were forced into competition with the foreign labor markets. Ethiopians, Chinamen, and Hindoes are typical of the laborers with whom our southern workers have had to compete.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys
Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Spanish Military Caps Popular With Russians
ODESSA, Spain, Dec. 1 (U.P.)—Cosmopolitan, girl members of the Young Communist League, returning from Alicante on the Soviet steamer Neva after leaving a cargo of food for Spanish women and children, started a rapidly spreading fad by wearing the quaint caps of the Spanish loyalist militia.

Odesa's largest department store quickly followed the fashion, ordered hundreds of the caps made in five colors and sold them at a moderate price.
Inquiries for the headgear now are being made at Moscow stores.

It was this differential between the national and international market that encouraged the south first to adopt a slave, then a tenant system to find a way out. It is a question whether the latter is much of an improvement over the former.

Panama--

(Continued From Page One) sanitation, the purity of its drinking water and the comfort enjoyed by the most advanced cities of the world, give the traveler accustomed to entirely different climates, as safe a sojourn in Panama as in his own country.

The city is made up of all races, complexions varying with all the shades of human possibilities; yet it does not lose its half Spanish, half native characteristics. A cosmopolitan atmosphere is felt everywhere. The oriental bazaars with their rare perfumes, their Manila shawls, their perfumed woods, their incense, their grotesque idols; shops displaying skins of tiger, crocodile, squirrel, etc. Picturesque clothes woven by the San Blas Indians of Panama; Panama hat stores; some hats so fine they can be passed through a finger ring; cabarets, revues, modern ice cream parlors, the ancient and the modern, give the impression of a happy carefree city.

I must not finish this talk without giving a little history on the Panama Canal, that gigantic work of engineering whose glory was attained by the United States.

The Isthmus of Panama unites North and South America. Due to the fact that this isthmus is very narrow, they thought, many years ago that it would be possible to open an artificial way through it, which would join the Atlantic and Pacific.

Engineers and explorers studied some other places also like the Isthmus of Tehuantepec in Mexico and the Lake of Nicaragua. In 1853, an English engineer, Gibbons, organized an expedition that crossed the Isthmus of Panama. After this there were expeditions conducted by Frenchmen, Englishmen, and North Americans. In 1876 a French engineer, Bonaparte Wise together with a Panamanian engineer, Sosa, explored the isthmus in several directions and negotiated a contract with a French company in Paris to start the excavation of the canal. This said company passed its rights to another French company presided over by Fernando Lesseps, the man who had made himself known all over the world for the construction of the Suez canal, which as you know, unites the Mediterranean and the Red Sea.

In 1881 the Frenchmen started working and had great inaugural celebrations. They even brought to Panama their famous actress Sara Barnhart to add to the festivities. After five years of hardships the Frenchmen realized that it was impossible to build the canal all on one level like the Suez due to the difference of tides on the Atlantic and Pacific sides; the Pacific tide is much higher than the Atlantic. They realized that it would be necessary to use the system of locks but it was too late. All the money

ALLRED URGES NEW PAROLE SYSTEM

Interstate Cooperation Asked at New Orleans By Conference

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3 (AP)—Governor Allred of Texas, president of the Southwestern States Probation and Parole conference, emphasized the need for interstate-cooperation to solve probation problems in an address here today. The conference is seeking a uniform parole system.

GOODYEAR PLANT IS HIT BY STRIKE

6,000 Workers Walk Out In Protest of New Work System

(By Associated Press) Strikes in industries supplying units for automobile production extended today to the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, where a plant employing 6,000 workers closed. Company officials said they were informed the strike was a protest against the new wage rate and rotation work system.

Holt-Conkling--

Parrots are found galore in the area of their camp, they reported. Many of them were shot but there were far too many to make any appreciable difference in the amount of noise they made.

Oil News--

(Continued From Page One) was shot with 450 quarts from 4-1048 to 4-228, four feet off bottom, and flowed 550 barrels the first 15 hours. It made 120 barrels the first hour after the shot and dropped to 60 barrels the second hour.

they had gone. Lesseps tried in vain to borrow more money from the French people but they were disappointed with his failure and when the company was dissolved, two years later, they started great charges against Lesseps, and sentenced him to death. This sentence did not take place because the unfortunate count died in an insane asylum in Paris. Then the United States started the negotiations for the opening of the canal and in 1902 a treaty was signed between the United States and the Republic of Panama. The first four years were spent sanitating the land. Not doing this, was the main mistake with the Frenchmen. They died by the thousands from yellow fever, typhus and malaria. It was found out later that 22,000 Frenchmen died during the construction of the canal. In 1907 the actual work of the canal was started, headed by Colonel Gorgas, a man of great energy and ability. Colonel Gorgas was appointed chief health officer, and in a few years he was able to sanitize this country that had been called the "grave of humanity." It was said that for every man that was sent to work on the canal, a coffin was sent along. They also said that the railroad built across the isthmus cost a man for each tie. After several years of hard labor, the canal was finished in 1914. I still remember when I was a little girl that my father took me to see the actual opening of the canal. There was a very narrow strip of land that was going to be blown with dynamite at a certain hour and this would unite the two oceans. There was great commotion all over town as people would say that the town was going to be flooded. I remember how impressed I was to see the waters rush in big waves from one side to the other.

The canal cost the American government 535 million dollars, up to July 1931, with 3 per cent interest per annum. The gross profit is approximately 23 million dollars per annum. The boats pay a dollar for each ton so a great liner has to pay thousands of dollars. The traffic through the canal is approximately 15 boats daily.

The work of the Panama canal written with the blood of thousands of laborers (French, English, Americans, Italians, Spanish and West Indian) who sacrificed their lives, has in addition to its practical value a much greater spiritual one. And the day is not far distant when there will be erected on the banks of the canal, a monument to the unknown heroes, the laborers of the canal, a tribute as that to the unknown soldier, the hero of the war.

Easy to Take' Now At Ritz Theatre

There's a lot of fun behind the scenes in the making of some of the nation's favorite radio programs, and Paramount has put a good-sized chunk of it into its comedy-romance, "Easy to Take," the screen play which shows today at the Ritz Theatre.

Back-ground for the picture is largely set in a radio studio, and John Howard, leading man, is introduced as "Uncle Roddy," a radio children's hour story teller.

Comedy of the picture stems out of Howard's dilemma when a wealthy eccentric woman, charmed by his radio voice, stipulates in her will that he shall be the guardian of her spoiled ten-year-old nephew, Douglas Scott. Howard wants to decline the job. After meeting Marsha Hunt, the boy's sister, however, he changes his mind. He accepts custody of the brat, chiefly to win her over from her antagonism.

The romance that follows is loaded with comedy throughout, arising from both situation and character. Howard finds that the huge estate left to Scott is non-existent and that he must support the boy and his sister on his own forty-dollar salary, though Miss Hunt still believes herself financially well-fixed. The general unpleasantness of the boy culminates in a scene when the sugar-voiced "Uncle Roddy" breaks down and whips his ward in the radio studio—with millions of outraged parents listening in. Like the famous kick which W. C. Fields delivered in a never-to-be-forgotten film, the spanking brings a surge of pleasure to those who have watched Scott as the spoiled youth.
