Armed Masses Are Threatening Strongholds of Spanish Rebels

Troops And Citizens Clash Together On Highways

VERA, Spain, July 21 (AP)—Three thousand victorious rebels from Pamplona, preceded by machine gunning warplanes, seized the ancient Basque provinces of Guipuzcoa and Navarre tonight with many loyal defenders reported slain.

Insurgents poured into San Sebastian, site of the United States summer embassy, after planes had raked the streets with machine gun fire.

MADRID, July 21. (AP)—Armed masses of peasants and workers concentrated in columns thrust toward rebel strongholds today while thousands of civilians militiamen formed a steel circle around Madrid.

Armed supporters of the popular front Spanish government met revolting troops on the highways and trails leading to San Sebastian. Fighting with Irun police forces followed earlier encounters at Vera, 12 miles distant.

Loyal masses marched to Valladolid, Zaragoza, which the government acknowledged was the principal rebel center. Other columns moved in Burgos and Toledo.

Everywhere, the government insisted, peasants and loyal workers were aiding the rebels.

Death in a Portuguese airplane accident to General Jose San Jurgo, would be rebel leader, was declared a vital blow to the hopes of the rebels.

Among the militia patrolling Madrid were many women.

DICTATOR OBJECT OF SPAIN TROUBLE

Little Hope Is Felt For Restoration Of A Monarchy

PARIS, July 21. (AP)—The exiled Bourbon rulers of Spain watched the flames of Moroccan and mainland revolt with acknowledged "interest" Monday, but Spanish sources here said they excluded from the rebels' plans.

Rather, these sources said, the insurgent soldiers were aiming at another Rightist dictatorship like that of General Primo de Rivera who died in Paris in March, 1930, after ending six years of absolute military power in Spain.

A little more than a year later King Alfonso was forced out of the country by the establishment of a republic, which eventually came under the direction of the left coalition government against which today's rebels are fighting.

After a quick flight from one castle to another in Czechoslovakia, former King Alfonso, himself, said he did not regard the revolt as a movement toward restoration of the throne and asserted he wanted only a peaceful Rightist regime in Spain.

Rumors of military plots in Spain have persisted here for months, although the government shuns its Rightist high army command. General Franco, for one, was sent from Madrid to the distant Canary Islands.

SOUTHEAST WARD WELL HITS PAY; MAKES BIG FLOW

Skelly 1 Martin Is Showing For A Record

BY FRANK GARDNER

MONTREAL, Switzerland, July 21 (AP)—Ten nations gave final approval late Monday night to a new Dardanelles convention, permitting Turkish troops to enter the area surrounding the Straits, demilitarized since 1923.

Fifty thousand Turkish foot soldiers and cavalrymen, accompanied by motorized artillery, began moving into the zone shortly after midnight, enthusiastically cheered by the populace, said a dispatch from Istanbul, Turkey.

Japan, one of the signatories of the Lausanne treaty under which the zone was demilitarized, reserved complete liberty of interpretation of an article in the convention concerning passage of warships engaged in punitive missions for the League of Nations or in carrying out regulations.

Under article 19 of the new agreement, the straits which separate European and Asiatic Turkey—will be closed to warships of belligerent nations unless they are serving under league mandate or helping a victim of aggression under a mutual assistance pact, concluded within the league's framework and to which Turkey is a party.

Japan as a non-member of the league, declared she cannot necessarily be bound by such arrangements.

Observers interpreted the Japanese statement as meaning that, in the event of a Russo-Japanese war, Japan reserves the right to protest against the departure of a Russian fleet from the Black Sea by authority of the league.

Drilled in with cable tools, the pay section in the well had barely been penetrated when it suddenly blew in, tools coming out of the hole and jamming in the upper part of the derrick. The performance of the Skelly well is another example of the "spotty" production of the sand field. The well it offsets to the north west, Staniland No. 2 Martin, was a large well good for some 700 barrels daily, but its size isn't comparable to that of the Skelly No. 1 Martin which is estimated at 12,000,000 cubic feet per day.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram, Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 21—The amusing and exciting aspects of the Townsend movement's convention in Cleveland still gave little indication as to the size of the vote the Lemke ticket will roll up this year.

Among politicians, hardly anyone has been heard of who is at the moment guessing a total of more than 1,500,000. Many estimates run below that.

Despite the fact that Dr. Townsend himself and the Rev. Gerald Smith have joined Father Coughlin in supporting Lemke, there is no particular boom in the North Dakota congressman's stock.

One reason is that it appears to be manifestly impossible to "deliver" the Townsends to any presidential candidate this year. Townsend's hold on his followers is none too firm. When the impressively large crowd of delegates cheered Gomer Smith's pro-Roosevelt speech almost as hysterically as they did Coughlin's vicious attack on the president, it began to appear that the doctor's dream of controlling millions of votes might be slightly cockeyed.

A further tip-off is that the three states of the Pacific coast, birthplace and chief stronghold of the Townsend movement, are generally considered certain to go for Roosevelt.

The bill passed house and senate without amendment. But someone on the senate side wrote on it "passed with amendments." If that had been correct, the bill couldn't have become a law, as the house had no time to pass on any senate amendments.

The bill went on the wrong pile and considerable mixup resulted. Finally everything was straightened out and the bill was saved by the quick flight to Jasper and Uvalde.

Significance of the episode is that important senate investigating committees will be able to make things immediately hot for witnesses who refuse to answer their questions, instead of being compelled to wait until after election—and until congress reconvenes in January—to be able to start prosecutions.

The committees to which this is most important are those investigating campaign funds expenditures, labor espionage and civil liberties violations, railroad financing and lobbying.

Lewis "Quick on Draw"
If husky John L. Lewis, leader of the mine workers and other industrial unionists, doesn't look out, he will be getting a reputation as a wisecracker.

The question came up as to how William Green, whose membership in the A. F. of L. derives from membership in the miners' union, could still be president of the A. F. of L. if the United Mine Workers were suspended.

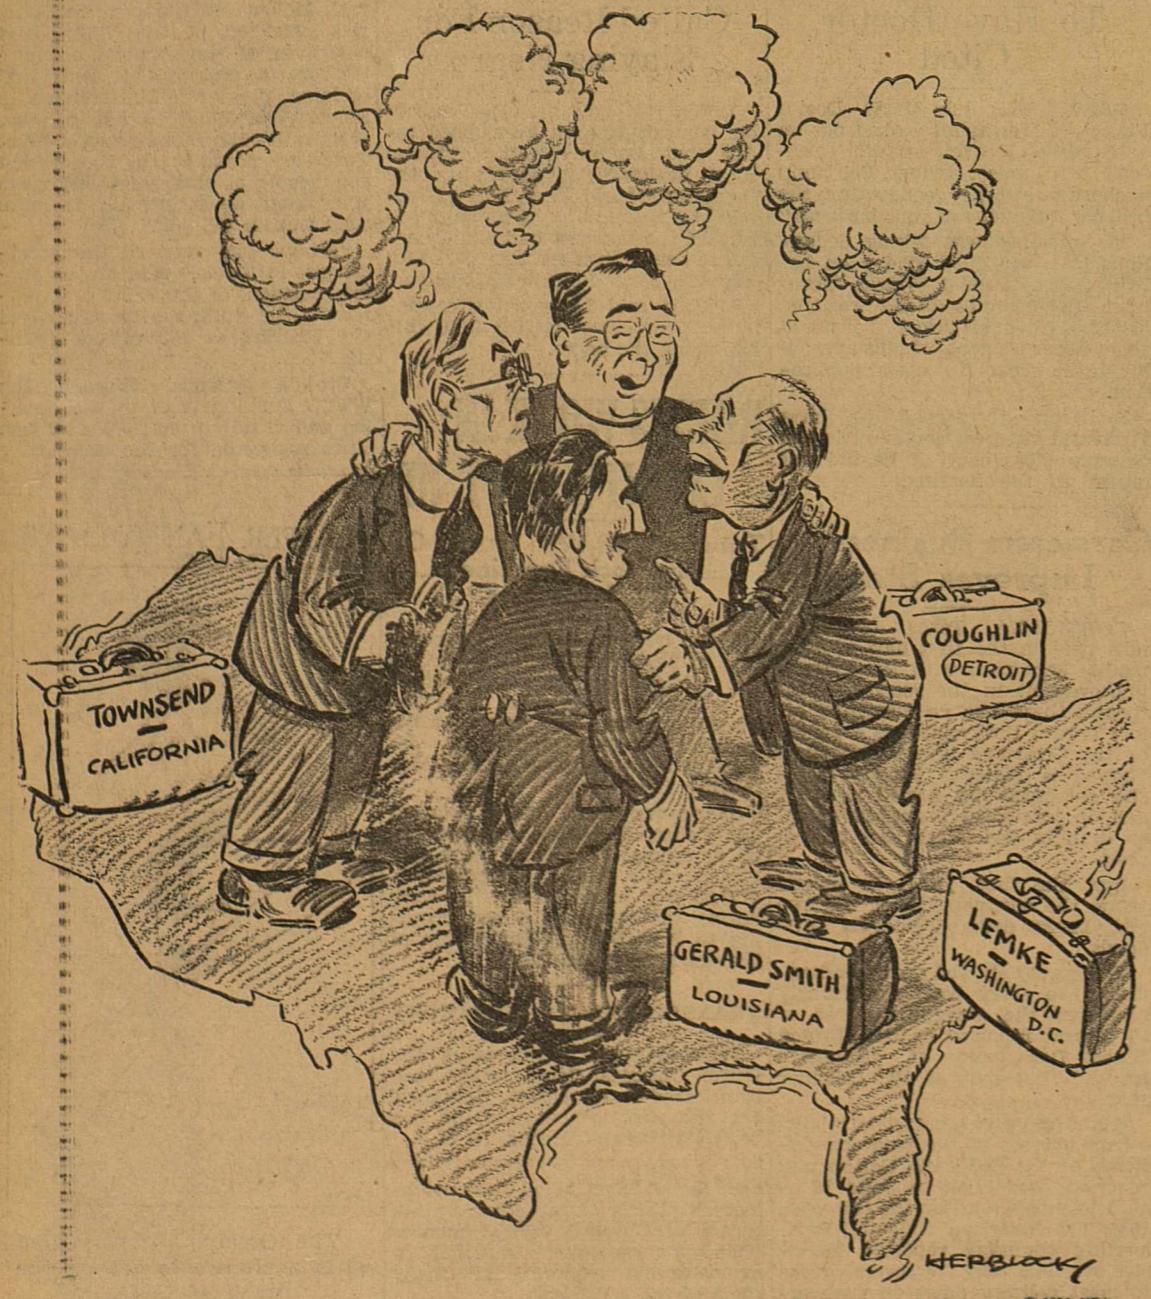

It was pointed out that he could be elected to another union. Lewis suggested that Green might get into the musicians' union, because, he said, Bill was an accomplished fiddler. Then he added, after a pause, "while Rome burns."

"What's the charge?" he was asked after it was announced that the committee for industrial organization unions would go on trial. "Exceptional activity!" snapped Lewis.

veit this year by big majorities. Nevertheless, the Union party will be backed by the most spectacular group of rabble-rousers gathered into a political party in our time lacking only the late Huey Long to give it vital leadership—and predictions now are likely to fall wide of the mark, either way.

The ticket will get much or most of what cynical politicians call the "nut vote" and nobody really knows how big that vote is.

Rush Flight Explained

You may have noticed an interesting story about the night flight of an army transport plane to Jasper, Ala., to get a bill passed in the closing days of congress to Speaker William Bankhead for signature.

Then the plane took off to Uvalde, Texas, where Vice President Garner also signed the measure. The bill was supposed to be a rather inconsequential one, overlooked in the last minute rush on capital hill.

The inside story is this: In the closing days the administration pushed through a bill providing that congressional committees might take recalcitrant witnesses to court on contempt charges in the summer and fall as well as when congress was in session.

The bill passed house and senate without amendment. But someone on the senate side wrote on it "passed with amendments." If that had been correct, the bill couldn't have become a law, as the house had no time to pass on any senate amendments.

The bill went on the wrong pile and considerable mixup resulted. Finally everything was straightened out and the bill was saved by the quick flight to Jasper and Uvalde.

Chapter Seven—Despite all this, English papers, apropos of nothing at all and without mentioning anything about the wedding rumors, frequently print some new picture of Princess Alexandrine. It is a way they have when they think they have a sure tip on an impending royal event.

Breaks Marriage Precedent

If King Edward Eighth, who is now 42, does decide to get married, he will be one of the few heads of state in modern times to have waited that long.

One of the noted examples was that of President Grover Cleveland. He went to the White House for his first term in March, 1885, and in the following year, at the age of 49, married the lovely Frances Folsom. The American people went quite mad over the "Bride of the White House." The British would probably go madder in their excited loyalty, if the present King married after all. All his immediate ancestors wed long before they reached his age. In fact they had all their children before they reached his age.

Queen Victoria was not quite 21 when she married and by the time she was 38 all her nine children were born. King Edward Seventh was some months less than 22 when he married and by the time he was 30 all his six children were born. The late King George was 28 when he married and by the time he was 40 all his six children were born.

Queen Victoria Is Real Beauty

If King Edward Eighth were to marry Princess Alexandrine history would in a sense be repeating itself. When his grandfather, King Edward Seventh, looked around for a bride, he fell in love with one of the most beautiful princesses in Europe—Alexandrine of Denmark, daughter of King Christian the Ninth. The Princess Alexandrine, who is now being mentioned, is a daughter of Prince Harald of Denmark and a niece of the reigning Danish King. More than she and King Edward Eighth are distantly related. The late Queen Alexandra was the grandmother of Britain's present King. She was also great aunt of Princess Alexandrine.

The fair-haired, 22-year-old blonde Danish princess is one of the few royal beauties of the present day. Like all of her family and house she has been well educated, has been trained to be a good home maker and housekeeper and, besides liking good literature, has also learned to love outdoor sports.

She has two brothers who are younger than herself and two sisters who are older.

Keep Well Stocked For Entertaining

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

By the first of July most of the boys and girls from prep school and college are at home, ready to entertain the crowd and be entertained in turn by the other young people.

First and foremost, it's necessary to have on hand a supply of certain foods in order to be ready for emergencies at any hour of the day or evening. Boys and girls in their teens always are hungry, and, anyway, it's fun to raid the pantry and ice-box and set out an informal repast.

Keep on hand a supply of sugar syrup so that cold drinks can be made quickly. To make this, cook two parts of sugar with one part of water until syrupy.

Keep Supplies on Hand

Always have ginger ale in the refrigerator. It can be used with fruit juices for cold drinks or combined with ice cream to make a more substantial cooler.

Chilled watermelon is a treat on a hot evening and needs no accompaniment.

Bottled fruit juices, such as loganberry, grape, pineapple and lime, are reliable standbys.

Sandwich spreads, crackers, cookies, plain and stuffed olives, ripe olives, cheeses in variety, several kinds of canned fish for sandwiches and salads, potato chips, marmalade and preserves offer a good selection of foods for the pantry.

Two or three kinds of bread—pumpernickel, whole wheat, and white—and desirable in the bread

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Apricots, cereal, cream, coddled eggs, toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Jellied veal loaf, creamed new peas, fresh fruit salad, reheated rolls, milk, tea.

DINNER: Vegetable plate, toasted cheese sandwiches, peach cobbler, milk, coffee.

box, too. With the crackers for appetizers and various breads for sandwiches, your young people will be well supplied.

Tiny appetizers, made on a cracker foundation, and open-faced sandwiches are easy to make and attractive to serve. Cheeses of all kinds are delicious with fruity drinks and add much zest to a supper menu.

Roquefort and olive appetizers are made on a toast foundation.

Roquefort and Olive Canapes

Four ounces Roquefort cheese, 4 tablespoons butter, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon paprika.

Cream cheese and butter, working with a wooden fork. Season with salt and paprika, and spread on rounds of hot buttered toast. Make a border of thin slices of stuffed olives. Plimento stuffed olives are best for this.

Anchovy always adds a decidedly swanky touch to foods. Brie and anchovy canapes make tasty mouthfuls. Mash four ounces of Brie with a fork until soft and smooth. Place a small mound of cheese in the center of a small square salted cracker. Make a depression in the cheese and place a rolled anchovy in the center of each.

If you like pumpernickel this appetizer will appeal to you. Mash a package of Liederkrantz with a fork until soft and smooth. If you like, add 2 teaspoons beer slowly and blend to a smooth paste. Fold in 2 tablespoons minced watercress, and spread on fingers of pumpernickel. Garnish each with tiny sprigs of water-cress.

Hard-cooked eggs can be kept in the refrigerator for days if they are not shelled. Sandwiches of sardines, mashed and seasoned with lemon juice, and hard-cooked eggs forced through a ricer are piquant and pleasant.

An egg salad sandwich is easy to prepare and is a good choice when something a bit hearty is wanted.

Egg Salad Sandwich

Four hard-cooked eggs, lettuce, mayonnaise, white bread.

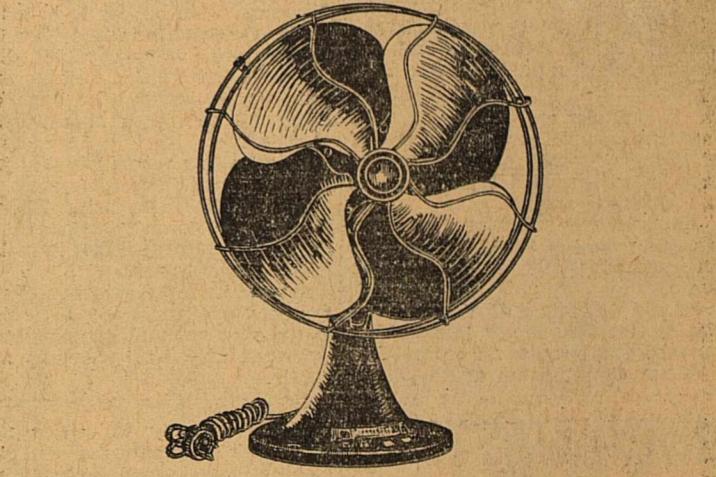

Cut bread about as thick as you would for serving at the table, allowing one whole slice across the loaf for each serving. Butter evenly and cover with a layer of lettuce leaves. Cover with eggs cut in slices, and top with mayonnaise. Garnish with ripe olives.

NEW YORK, July 18—Five world record holders failing to make the grade gives you a rough idea of the formidableness of America's Olympic track and field team.

It is the most powerful squad that ever represented any country and should keep the United States unbroken string of victories intact, regardless of track and climatic conditions.

Ben Eastman, the world record holder, regarded a short while back as the outstanding 300-meter man on this side, was eliminated.

Bill Bonthron, holder of the world mark for 1500 meters, finished fourth and out of the money.

George Varoff, the young San Francisco janitor who established a new vault mark of 14 feet 6 1/2 inches in the national A. A. U. meet July 4 faltered when the big test came.

Walter Marty, who held the outdoor high jump mark before Cornelius Johnson and Dave Albritton came along, and Ed Burke, who held the indoor mark, failed to come through as expected.

Leading the parade of stars is Jesse Owens, Ohio State's sensational one-man team, who covers 31 feet of ground per second when in full flight over the cinders. The Alabama-born negro led the qualifiers in the 100 and 200 meter events and the broad jump, and looms as an excellent bet to be a triple winner in Berlin.

If further sprint strength is required to beat off the challenges of the world, Ralph Metcalfe will be an able assistant to the irrepressible Buckeye, not to mention Frank Wykoff, Mack Robinson, and the 19-year-old Georgia freshman, Bobby Packard.

Faster and Higher

Owens created a world record of 21 seconds for 200 meters around a turn in winning his third event of the climactic tryouts.

Johnson and Albritton leaped to a world record of 6 feet 9 3/4 inches on successive efforts in the high jump.

Harold Manning of Wichita ran the fastest 3000 meter steeplechase on record, 9 minutes 8.2 seconds.

Glenn Cunningham again proved to the complete satisfaction of everyone that he is America's premier miler when he led Archie San Romani of Emporia State Teachers to the tape in the final of the 1500 meter or "metric mile."

Not since 1908, when Mel Shepard prevailed in London, has America captured the Olympic "metric mile," but the two Kansas promise to rim the cockeyed world.

Slender, but powerful running Don Lash, Indiana's great distance luminary, who recently shattered Paavo Nurmi's outdoor world record hope for an American victory in the 5000 or 10,000 meter runs in a dozen years.

Whoever breaks the tape head of Johnny Woodruff, the Pittsburgh freshman, or Charley Hornstetl, the former Indiana flyer, in the 800-meter will have to do some tall running.

Goes to Towns

Forest Towns will run the 110-meter hurdles in 14.1 no less than four times this year.

A one-two-three finish for the United States would not be too surprising in this event, with the surprising Fritz Pollard, Jr., of North Dakota, son of Brown's old All-American halfback, and Roy Staley of Southern California, backing up the nimble Towns.

Bill Sefton and Earl Meadows of this year's Southern California array and Bill Graber, one-time Trojan ace, soared 14 feet 3 inches in the pole vault to get their boat rides. They do 14 feet without removing their sweat shirts.

Only in the field events does the American team appear to be a little weak. Gordon Dunn and Ken Carpenter are very capable discus throwers but Sweden and Germany have platter-tossers who have been doing 165 feet with almost listless abandon.

America has yet to win the javelin throw in the Olympic games, and although Lee Bartlett, Malcolm Metcalf, and Alton Terry can all toss the spear 220 feet, films have been doing 230 or better.

America's representatives hardly are good enough to win first places in the shot-put and hammer-throw, but pack sufficient power to score points.

INVENT LENS TO PHOTOGRAPH DUST

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 21 (UPI)—A "dust camera" which will actually "shoot" dust in the air, and provide the only permanent record of dust which can be obtained today by scientists making studies in the dust content of air in various industries, has been invented by Lawrence H. Ott, of Cleveland, a student in the Sloane Physics Laboratory at Yale University.

Ott worked two years with J. B. Ficklin, chemical engineer for the Travelers Insurance company, in developing the apparatus which, it was said, would have prevented the recent silicosis tragedy in West Virginia, where several people died as the result of an over-abundance of silica dust in the air.

The camera is extremely useful, Ott says, in industries using brick-making, quarrying and furnishing in their manufacturing processes. "As soon as employers are required to keep the dust volume in the air down by legal statutes, such a method of counting dust as we have devised will be even more interesting and valuable," he asserts.

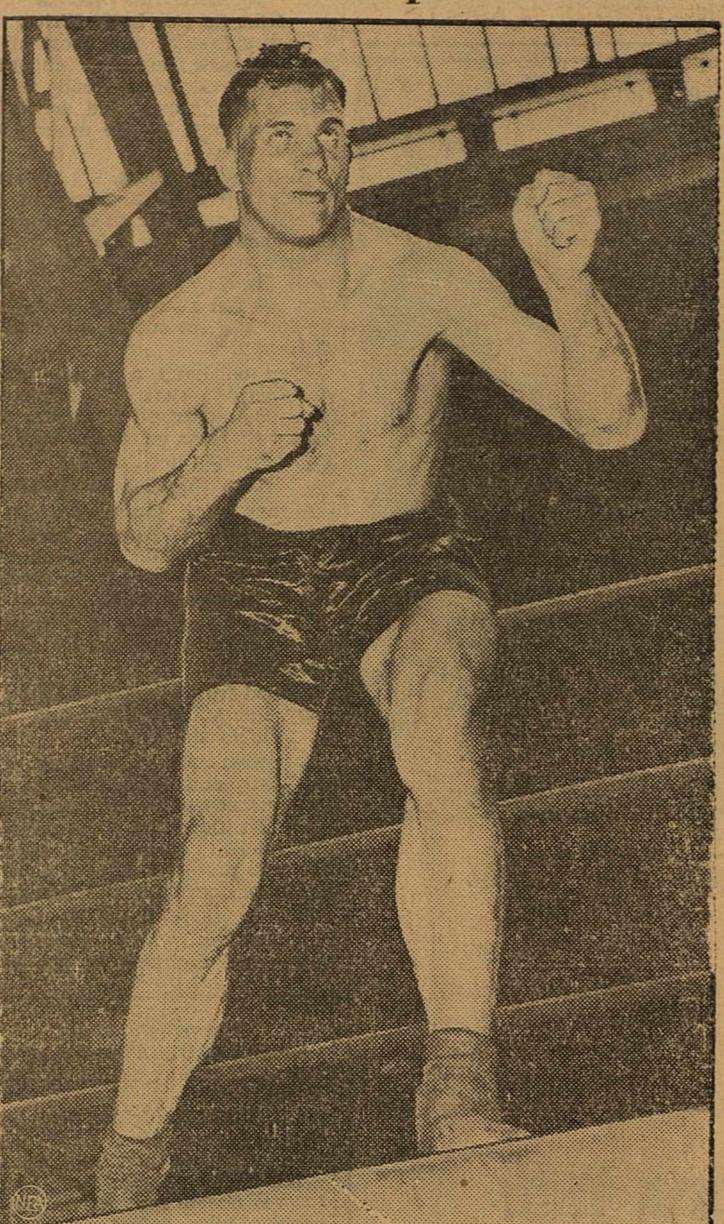

Dust Particles Counted

The camera takes a picture of the particles of dust in a very small amount of air. These particles are counted and the percentages of dust in cubic feet of air estimated, similar to the method now employed by physicians and physiologists to determine the number of blood cells in the human body.

The simple and light apparatus was fashioned and assembled by Ott in the machine shop of the Sloane Physics Laboratory. It consists of an upright shaft with a camera box on top and the lens within the tube to which are attached three cylindrical pipes. Each of these three pipes contains a flashlight bulb, such as is now used in commercial photography, wired for lighting.

NEW ORLEANS, July 21 (UPI)—Duelling still has its place in Germany, according to Cecil Shilstone, young Tulane university graduate who has returned from a year's study at Heidelberg.

Challenges are issued speedily if a student winks at another's girl in a tavern, says Shilstone. Some of the rapier's scars left on duelists' faces are disfiguring, but the boys prize them as they did in the days of the empire, he found.

"American boys prize their good looks too much," Shilstone continued. "It would be hard for them to understand the German tradition, and yet it makes for a certain manliness."

"Although dueling technically is forbidden at the university, there is a huge building where duels have been fought for centuries. It is maintained for the purpose. The floor bears dark stains. Doctors with medical kits are handy, and the gallery is packed with spectators when a duel is staged."

"There are 'grudge duels' where someone is wronged—known also as the 'onor duels,' and 'exhibition duels' which are planned to show the skill of two contestants."

"Rapiers—long swords with no points—are used for the exhibition duels, with points added for the honor duels. In the latter type only the eyes and neck are protected."

Shilstone minimized the danger of dueling. "There has only been one death in 550 years. There is rigid regulation," he explains. "The rigid regulation stops the duel when a man is badly cut. If a man lunges at an opponent he is disqualified. If he flinches when cut he loses the duel."

Ford Plans Double Feature for Radio

A "double feature" will be offered to radio listeners by the Ford Dealers during August when two different commercial music programs take over the CBS and NBC spots that will be vacated when Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians take a month's vacation on the air-waves.

The Tuesday evening broadcast, heard over the Columbia network at 9 p.m., EDT, will feature Tommy Dorsey's orchestra. The distinctive swing music of the Dorsey orchestra will be picked up from the Ford Exhibit at the Texas Centennial in Dallas. With the orchestra two soloists, Edythe Wright and Jack Leonard, will be heard. The first of the Tommy Dorsey programs will be broadcast August 4 and will continue through August 25.

On Fridays at the same time over the National Broadcasting System network, B. A. Rolfe's orchestra, with Richard Bonelli, famous operatic baritone, and the "Three Men About Town," will be heard, with the first of the Tommy Dorsey programs.

Speaking at a dinner given for prefectoral governors, Household Minister Tsuneo Matsudaira recounted recent happenings at the imperial palace, the most inaccessible spot in all Japan.

"The political change following the February 26 incident caused the emperor much worry," Matsudaira told the governors. "At that time the emperor was constantly hearing reports on the situation, keeping late hours and causing worry as to his health. The emperor's health, however, was not disturbed by the new camera process.

The minister said that the emperor undertook all small and large religious services and worshipped regularly at the three shrines at the palace.

Matsudaira reported that the empress and the empress dowager also was in good health.

"Two years and a half have passed since the birth of the crown prince of Japan," he continued. "Since the birth he has been enjoying excellent health and is growing in a most satisfactory way."

Yes, There Was Such an Animal!

A life-size restoration of the largest land mammal known to science—the Baluchitherium—is the latest marvel to be added to the American Museum of Natural History in New York. Taller than a giraffe, weighing as much as two average elephants, it was a titanic member of the hornless rhinoceros family that inhabited the Gobi desert region 25,000 years ago. Bones found in Gobi were the basis of the restoration, which dwarfs the five museum executives standing between the legs.

Cavalcade Enacts Early Texas Drama

DALLAS.—A battered Spanish galleon limped into the stillwaters of Corpus Christi Bay four hundred and seventeen years ago this past spring. Her masts were torn away, her sails in ribbons, and her hull showed the terrific battering she had received from the maddened seas.

The commander, Alvarez de Pineda, ordered anchors dropped and boats lowered away. He and his ragged sailors made a landing party, and on the smooth beach in the still halfmoon of curved green shore, they raised the gold and crimson standard of Aragon, and lifted their voices in a Te Deum of praise for deliverance from death.

It was the year 1519 spring, and the Holy Thursday of Corpus Christi.

Pineda had sailed from Jamaica months before to seek the Southwest passage to India. He never found the passage, but he made a map of the coast of Texas which was to bring hundreds of navigators, explorers and adventurers to these shores. And on that map was the Bay of Corpus Christi, so named because God had sent them safe harbor from the storm on this holy day.

The story of Pineda and his coming to the Land of the Tejas is told in the Cavalcade of Texas, dramatic spectacle of the birth of an empire, presented twice nightly at the Texas Centennial Exposition as their outstanding attraction.

Here on the world's largest stage—a miniature of Texas almost a block long—300 Texans re-enact the stirring ring history of the past, from the day the storm-tossed Conquistadores found the safe haven of Corpus Christi May and gave it a name, down to the present time.

Cavalcade of Texas is the most thrilling drama ever given on any stage, splendidly mounted and costumed, and expertly directed, with a hundred head of cattle to add to the realism. It is a story all Texans will thrill to.

At RitzNickle Admission Price for Children At The Centennial

DALLAS.—A nickel, which has been children's money throughout the United States for generations is the price of admission for children 12 years and under at the Texas Centennial Exposition every Tuesday until 6 p. m.

"I want to emphasize that Children's Day is for children all over Texas, and in neighboring states as well," said W. A. Webb, general manager of the $25,000,000 World's Fair. "Children always enjoy a fair just as they do a circus, but this Exposition offers them so much free entertainment and so much else at reduced prices that I feel we can say without fear of contradiction that it is the biggest nickle's worth in history."

Concessionaires whose shows appeal to children reduce their prices, some posting a nickel as the price of admission. There is a special matinee of "The Cavalcade of Texas" at which children are admitted for a dime. "Cavalcade" is a $250,000 spectacles, which depicts in the world's largest stage the 400-year history of Texas under the six flags of Spain, France, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States.

Recreating as it does the landing of LaSalle, the siege of the Alamo and the Battle of San Jacinto, it is far more exciting than a wild west show or a western movie. There are lots of soldiers, galloping horses and much, much shooting.

The 80 horsemen who compose Troop F of the Fifth Cavalry present free fire, monkey and musical drills at 7:15 p. m. in the Arena. The first two are exhibitions of all kinds of riding and jumping, while in the third the horses dance to music like a trained ballet, changing their steps with the music with out a single command being given.

Then Rube Curtis and his troupe of clowns are always on hand to entertain the children free, as are the Sue Hastings marionettes in the Chrysler Hall of Celebrities, two Mexican orchestras, two big name bands offered by General Motors and the Ford Motor Company, three mechanical men and the Jubilaires, a mixed negro chorus which sings oldtime plantation and work songs and spirituals.

"Dallas hotels and restaurants are living up to their agreement not to raise their prices," Mr. Webb said, "so Texas parents can bring their children to the Exposition on Children's Day and let them enjoy them selves to their heart's content for ridiculously little money."

Two gold medals were won by Pat O'Gallagher. He clinched victory in the hammer throw twice in succession, at Amsterdam in 1928, and at Los Angeles in 1932. Another victory for Ireland was scored in 1932 by Robert Tisdal who won the 400 meter low hurdles event in 51.8. This is the fastest time ever made in the games although it is not an Olympic record as fleetly Robert knocked down one hurdle.

The holder of the Olympic record is Glen Hardin, U. S. A., who placed second to Tisdal with a time of 52 seconds. The remaining two BERLIN, July 21 (U.P.)—Ireland will send about 10 representatives to the Olympics at Berlin. At previous Olympics Erin's green flag with the Lyre was hoisted five times at the center flagpole to announce the victory of a son of the Emerald Isle in track and field sports.

Two gold medals were won by Pat O'Gallagher. He clinched victory in the hammer throw twice in succession, at Amsterdam in 1928, and at Los Angeles in 1932. Another victory for Ireland was scored in 1932 by Robert Tisdal who won the 400 meter low hurdles event in 51.8. This is the fastest time ever made in the games although it is not an Olympic record as fleetly Robert knocked down one hurdle.

The holder of the Olympic record is Glen Hardin, U. S. A., who placed second to Tisdal with a time of 52 seconds. The remaining two

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

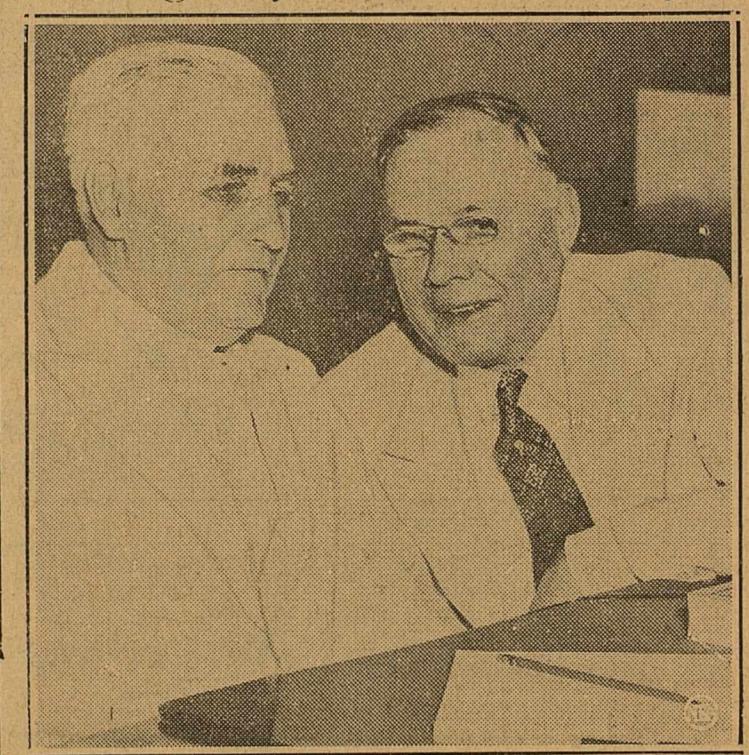

A 3500 LB. AUTOMOBILE, TRAVELING ONLY 15 MILES PER HOUR, HAS MORE MOMENTUM THAN A 50-POUND SHELL FIRED AT A VELOCITY OF 3000 FEET PER SECOND!

THE manna of the Israelites is identified as a saccharine substance called Mount Sinai Manna. The substance exudes from the bark of the tamarisk, when the surface of the plant is punctured by insects. It is yellowish in color, and has a honey-like odor.

Tiny Plane 'Takes Off' in Contest

Miniature gasoline-powered planes, such as that being launched above by Vernon Boehle, Indianapolis, rubber-powered and radio-controlled craft filled the air over Wayne County airport, Detroit, as 400 model plane flyers from every state in the Union, and from Canada, England, and France competed in the Wakefield international trophy contest. Most of the midget planes, so small they had to be fueled with an eye-dropper, were built of balsa wood, glue, paper, and rubber. Boehle, an alternate United States flyer, was one of those competing for the trophy given by Viscount Wakefield of Hythe, England.

Seeking Way to Avoid Labor Split

To gain time for a last effort to win over the John L. Lewis industrial union faction, action was delayed on the threatened suspension of eight major unions by the American Federation of Labor executive council. William Green (right), A. F. of L. president, is seen conferring with Frank Morrison, secretary at Washington meeting.

Dorando, finished first. He had, however, been supported for the last 50 yards or so the tape by a track official and a London policeman after having collapsed several times on the stadium track from exhaustion. According to the rules Dorando was disqualified and the gold medal was awarded to the second to cross the finish line, sturdy John Hayes, U. S. A., who for the second, and so far last time, won this coveted trophy for the Stars and Stripes. Dorando was recommended by the Queen of England, who gave him a special prize.

Subsequently Italy gained three gold medals in track with Ugo Frigerio who won two walking events in 1920 and one in 1924. As a result he became a national hero. In addition he was made a cavaliere which shows what an Italian may expect for taking home gold medals. Cavaliere Ugo Frigerio will be among the track judges for the walking events at the Berlin games.

LATVIA

This little nation has notified the Olympic committee that it will send approximately 30 athletes to Berlin. So far Latvia has not won a gold medal. Its best bet to accomplish this feat this year is Janis Dahnlin, second in the Los Angeles 50 kilometer walking race. He recently covered 40 kilometers in 3 hours 27:40 minutes. This is extremely fast if compared with the 25 miles 40.2 kilometers world record for walking which is 3:32:26. An official world record for 40 kilometers is not listed. Additional Latvian entries in the games are in the wrestling and weight-lifting contests as well as for the basketball tournament.

Born and reared in Macon county, Missouri, Pilcher ventured into the Black Hills country of South Dakota in 1876. There he became acquainted with "Buffalo Bill" Cody and Wild Bill Hickock.

"My first contact with Wild Bill, noted not only as an Indian scout but also as one of the best gamblers, was in a gambling hall. Down to his last dime, I staked my overcoat on him and changed his luck. The overcoat not only brought me half of Bill's large winnings but sealed a friendship which now holds."

Pilcher said he had arranged with the county commissioners court to get the constable appointment should Henderson quit. The resignation was perfected through the load of hay.

Since Pilcher has been constable, city marshal, deputy constable, deputy city marshal, deputy sheriff, chief of police and jailer. At one time he held the place of deputy sheriff, city official, constable, and jailer. A ruling by the attorney general denied him the privilege of holding an office that conflicted with another and he resigned all positions except constable.
