Initial Work on New Postoffice to Start Friday

EXCAVATION FOR BASEMENT FIRST JOB SLATED FOR

Work Order Issued To Contractor On Building

USE LOCAL LABOR

Unemployed Here To Be Given Work On Structure

H. M. Strickler, who will serve as temporary superintendent of construction on the new postoffice here, received word today from A. Barnett, Lake Charles, Louisiana, contractor in charge of construction, that a work order had been issued by the government to start construction of the building this week. The new building will be on the corner of Texas and Loraine streets.

Excavation for foundation, the initial work on the structure, will begin Friday. It is expected that the building will be completed during December.

Work on the building will be rushed during its construction and it was announced that the end of two weeks the foundation would be laid. Employers will use local labor in the work as much as possible.

The new postoffice will be modernistic, and judging from the blueprints, the front exterior will resemble the county court house. It is to be finished in light brick of mingled shades laid in the American bond pattern, with limestone trim. Across the top of the building, in bronze lettering will be the inscription "United States Post Office, Midland, Texas."

Above the doorway of the main entrance will be three engraved limestone squares, each symbolic of the three methods of mail transportation: the locomotive, the air-plane and the ocean liner. Aluminum lampposts will stand on each side of the granite staircase ascending to the aluminum plated doors at the main entrance.

The building is to be set back 15 feet from the street, leaving a large lawn space. Dimensions of the building are at the front 79 feet, four inches and the sides 69 feet and six inches. The flag pole will be placed at the northwest corner.

Inside, the public lobby will be done in light buff tile and plaster. The floor will be unglazed tile, a few shades darker than the border. The three and one-half feet wainscot will be finished in four inch by four inch squares of glazed tile.

SPAIN CONFIDENT OF 'MASTERING' ITS REVOLUTION

Garrisons Bombed To Submissions By Aviators

MADRID, July 20. (P)—The government announced today that its "master" the situation in Spain after loyal forces using artillery, bombing planes, had blasted the rebellious capital garrisons into submission.

However, rebel troops were reported to have control of Spanish Morocco where the insurrection with rightist tendencies broke out Friday. More than 1,000 army officers have been placed under arrest by the government, it was announced.

Loyal Spanish aviators were reported to have bombed the high commissioner's palace in Teutun, capital of Spanish Morocco, killing 20 persons, while a rebellious army claimed firm control of the zone and announced sweeping gains on the mainland itself.

ALFONSO DEPARTS ON UNANNOUNCED TRIP

PARHARA, Czechoslovakia, July 20. (P)—Former King Alfonso, of Spain, suddenly departed today with a large amount of baggage. His destination was unannounced. The deposed monarch has been living in a castle as a guest of Count Zamoyanski. All day yesterday he sat at a radio trying to catch a broadcast from the rebel-operated station in Seville. Speculation was aroused as to whether Alfonso was heading for Spain.

RELIEF OFFICES WILL OPEN AUGUST 1; TO CONSIDER WORK APPLICATIONS

Texas Commission to Determine Need of Persons Applying for Employment

AUSTIN, July 20.—Texas Relief Commission offices will be open in the various counties by August 1 to receive applications of persons desiring to be considered for Works Progress Administration jobs, Adam R. Johnson, director of the Texas relief commission, has announced.

Upon the request of Work Progress Administration officials, the Texas relief commission has agreed to undertake the task of determining the need of persons who apply for WPA employment, Johnson said. Expense of this service will be paid from federal funds.

In addition to performing this service for WPA, the Texas relief commission will continue to sponsor surplus commodity distribution contingent upon the continued operation of counties in employing approved case workers, it was explained. Applications for WPA employment or for surplus commodities will be filed and cleared through the same office.

Eligibility for WPA employment or for receipt of surplus commodities is determined upon a basis of need, Johnson explained. Although it is no longer required that a job applicant be a former relief client, present need must be definitely established. Responsibility and authority of the Texas relief commission extends only to the acceptance of clients' applications, and does not encompass assignment of individuals to jobs. Texas relief commission employees examine eligibility status of applicants and refer those persons found eligible to WPA.

Johnson pointed out that certification to WPA does not necessarily mean a job is awaiting the person certified as the quota assigned to Texas will permit the absorption of only a portion of those referred to WPA offices. Unless this surplus is absorbed by private industry in the various localities of the state, these persons must remain jobless, he declared.

"For the Texas relief commission to perform the service of intake and referral for WPA, and to continue sponsoring the distribution of surplus commodities, we must continue to receive the cooperation of the various counties and cities," Johnson stated. "We anticipate this cooperation, however, as our work consists of making surplus commodities available to the needy and of making WPA jobs a possibility for many of the unemployed workers."

SAW MAN ESCAPE

Taxi Driver Says He Saw 'Someone' Leave Scene

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 20. (P)—Sheriff Laurence Brown staked the word of several witnesses today against the alibi he said that Mark Wolner, 35, concert violinist, offered to account for his whereabouts the night Helen Clevenger was murdered and shot to death.

The girl, 18, pretty New York university coed, last Thursday was assaulted, her face soured out of shape with an instrument and shot while apparently on her knees supplicating.

A taxi driver said he saw a man leap from the mezzanine balcony of the hotel where the girl was killed about the time of the killing. Wolner was taken into custody Saturday night and since then has stuck to his original statement of offering an alibi for the night when the girl was murdered.

Wolner, a native of Germany, athletic and known for his skill in interpreting difficult classical musical transcriptions was booked as "held for questioning" when taken into custody.

FAMED DANSEUSE DIES OF ATTACK IN FRANCE CITY

'La Argentina' Falls Dead Outside Her Villa

BAYONE, France, July 20. (P)—Antonia Merel, about 45, celebrated dancer known as La Argentina, died of a heart attack here Saturday. She fell dead outside her villa, Miraflores, surrounded by a gay party of friends who were returning with her from a festival.

Clad in a flowing white gown and lying in a floral bower, her body was viewed by hundreds of peasants Sunday.

The dancer often had toured the United States and Canada and was planning another visit to America this fall. She was born in Buenos Aires, of blue-blooded Spanish extraction, the daughter of a Castilian who was one of the last dancers familiar with all the traditions of the Bolero.

'La Argentina' became a premiere danseuse at the Madrid Opera house at the age of 11, six years after she made her first appearance there. After going to Paris she made her first appearance in London at the Coliseum in 1924. At a performance there in 1931 she brought the Prince of Wales, now King Edward VIII, to his feet applauding.

The eight are accused of fomenting rebellion against the Government and attempting to conscript a rebel army.

He said, "we don't do things that way. I'm not responsible for such charges that probably appear frequently in the course of the campaign. That's my attitude and will be the attitude of the democratic party."

LANDRETH KIRK DRILLED DEEPER

Gaines Discovery Will Be Bailed Down To Test

By FRANK GARDNER

Bailing down to test was scheduled to start today in Landreth Production company No. 1 Kirk, Gaines county pool opener, after it had drilled to 4,870, 50 feet below the old total depth. No apparent increase was logged by the well in deepening, although the last few feet were said to have drilled soft, and a production test will be necessary to determine any oil or gas gains. It circulated oil while drilling.

At old total depth of 4,820 feet in lime, the No. 1 Kirk swabbed 107 barrels on a 24-hour gauge after treating with acid for the second time. It had been shut in since July 3 pending plans to shoot it or drill deeper, decision finally being made in favor of the latter.

Drilling operations started early Sunday morning and the well stopped at 4,870 yesterday evening. The No. 1 Kirk is the first well to find production in Gaines county and is located in the southwest corner of section 22, block A-21, public school land.

Humble Oil and Refining company No. 1 C. H. Eubanks, wildcat test eight miles northwest of Landreth No. 1 Kirk, is still making rapid progress through a hardening section. It had reached a depth of 4,384 in lime this morning. Location is 860 feet out of the southwest corner of section 6, block AX, public school land.

In northern Andrews county, Humble No. 8 J. S. Means, mile-south extension to the Means pool, flowed 703 barrels on the 24-hour potential gauge through open 2 1/2 See (OIL NEWS) Page 4

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 20—Progressive leaders, dominated by a delegation from the U. S. Senate, hope to get together one of these days and announce a progressive league which will support Roosevelt for re-election this year.

The meeting is somewhat overdue, however, and the best guess as to the reason for that has to do with the traditional inability of some progressive prima donnas to play on a team, complicated at the moment by certain long range dreams of presidential candidacy in 1940.

Senators Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, George W. Norris of Nebraska, Hiram Johnson of California, and Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota are the leading spirits in the movement. They expect to be joined by Gov. Floyd Olson and Senator Elmer Benson of Minnesota and, eventually, by Senators Gerald Nye and Lynn Frazier of North Dakota, from whose state springs the third party candidacy of Congressman Lemke.

Frank F. Walsh of New York will be very active in the movement. Whether Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York will tie up with it is yet to be known.

Fighting Governor Chooses Toil, Grief of Politics Over Easy Life

BY WILLIS THORNTON NEA Service Staff Correspondent HARRISBURG, Pa., July 20—The first question you want to ask Gov. George Howard Earle III is, "How on earth did you happen to get into politics?"

Gov. George Howard Earle III of Pennsylvania. . . in four years has become a presidential possibility for 1940.

For here is a man with several million dollars who, until 1932, led a polo-and-Palm Beach sort of life, a Republican, a man who "had everything"—wealth, family, a lovely wife and children, polo ponies, social position, and nothing at all to worry about.

Yet in four years he has become a presidential possibility for 1940. Pennsylvania's hard-driving, hard-working governor, a tireless political campaigner, a friend of labor who has assured steel workers that they will get a fair break from the state government in organizing, or public relief in case they go on a strike.

Explains Political Leap Why this change from polo to politics? Governor Earle shifts his great bulk back in his chair, fiddles with a chain of paper clips, and tells you:

"All through 1932," he says, "I kept watching Herbert Hoover's feeble effort to deal with the depression—the puny attempt to let prosperity dribble down from the top. I watched him letting the country go by default, without a fight.

"The more I watched, the madder I got. I had known Roosevelt for many years, and I knew his heart was right. So when he began his fight, I felt there was my chance to help, to do something about it."

WATCH HIM FOR 1940 Earle is distinctly a man to watch as a possible heir-apparent for Roosevelt in 1940 if F. D. R. get a second term.

The governor is a bulky fellow with broad shoulders and legs like the trunks of oak trees. A ragged scar runs down the right side of his face. He has a prominent nose, and wavy brown hair. His shallow complexion and his sleepy-looking eyes would never suggest the captain of a champion 12-gauge polo team, the holder of the Navy Medal of Valor, the autogiro pilot, nor the man who waded shoulder-deep through the swollen Susquehanna to get to his capitol during the spring floods. Yet Earle is all of these.

The flood incident is typical of Earle. On the night the flood approached its peak, a startled citizen of Lemoyne, across the river from Harrisburg, saw a man rapidly approach the river on foot and chairmen all far away, organized labor has the field in Washington—which is still the nation's best sounding board, even in the hot old summer time. No one can say the big shot labor leaders aren't making the most of it.

For example, on a single day when there was no counter-attraction except the naval spy case, Washington correspondents covered a speech by John L. Lewis at a national press club luncheon, the explanation by labor's non-partisan league of its campaign plans, and announcement by President Bill Green of the A. F. of L. that the 12 unions of the committee for industrial organization would be brought up for trial August 3.

Lewis, wearing a polka dot tie and blue serge suit, drew a large crowd. The capital rapidly has become "Lewis-conscious."

"I'd like to save America," said he, "from the agonies and convulsions that have happened in other countries where those who had everything tried to hold onto it all too long."

The applause was loud and long; about half the audience seemed to be sympathizers.

Expect to Deliver Vote A large and comfortable suite at the Willard hotel houses labor's non-partisan league, but it seemed neither large nor comfortable at the late afternoon press conference, on account of the jam.

The league's three officials are George L. Berry, head of the pressman's union; President Lewis of the United Mine Workers; and President Sidney Hillman of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers. They were all there, wreathed in smiles, even though each wore heavy dark clothes.

Labor's vote had never been delivered, said a correspondent. How did they expect to be able to deliver it for Roosevelt this year? Berry boasted receipt of 100,000 letters from local labor leaders, 95 per cent promising to help. Lewis boasted that the LNL had had much to do with defeat of anti-New Deal congressman Hugh Huddleston in Alabama.

Green received reporters at the Hotel Hamilton—directly across the street from the office of Lewis—read the charges against C. I. O. unions, perspired profusely in his white suit and light blue shirt with dark blue tie. He gave every evidence that he wished the big split in organized labor were over.

vania for the governorship race, Earle put on a fighting campaign, and in January, 1935, he became the first Democratic governor Pennsylvania has had since 1895.

The rumor is not true that the state of Boise Penrose turned its back on the capitol. It was really that way all the time. But even that wouldn't have been much stranger than Earle's election.

SETS SWIFT PACE Attacked as a playboy by his predecessor, Pinchot, Earle set a furious pace. He ran his assistants ragged. He gave up his convivial habits, and his associates swear he has not had a drink since his inauguration.

He learned to fly an autogiro, and qualified as a pilot at 6:30 in the morning of the day after he smashed one ship to pieces in landing. But he never flies in the same ship with Mrs. Earle. They are thinking of their four fine children all boys, ranging from school to college ages.

In his reform proposals, Earle has been impetuous and not always tenacious. But he has fought savagely with the Republican majority of his state senate for extension of the social legislation begun under Pinchot for adequate relief appropriations, and for taxes to cover them, for milk and electricity control programs.

SENATE MAY BE NEXT New to public administration, Earle has had some trouble in getting effective executive assistants, but is gradually developing such a corps, and also a state machine that will be felt throughout Pennsylvania in November, when the effort to keep the Keystone commonwealth from lapsing back to its traditional Republicanism will be a bitter one.

It is expected that Earle will run for the Senate in 1938, when his present term expires. And then— He disclaims any political ambitions. "This office," he said "is the realization of my political ambitions, not the stepping stone."

His service in Austria left a permanent mark on Earle. "All Europe today," he told Pennsylvanians in his inaugural address, "is a panorama of the decay of nations which will not face the necessity for sane, sensible progress."

But he got across, and reached his capitol to begin prompt organization of relief headquarters in the magnificent reception room before his private office.

The reception room today has a sign outside reading: "Governor's Office. Walk right in." Strange goings-on in the state of Matt Quay and Boise Penrose and Joseph Grun dy!

OF MAYFLOWER LINE Earle's background is much like that of his friends Franklin D. Roosevelt and William Bullitt, ambassador to Russia. Earle had some seen ancestors on the Mayflower.

He is kin to Ben Franklin, and Mad Anthony Wayne. Mrs. Earle is descended from George Washington's aunt Mildred. Ralph Earle, direct head of the family, was a personal friend of George Fox, founder of Pennsylvania. In short, the ancestry is certified grade A.

Earle went to the Delaney School in Philadelphia, and to Harvard. Then he went to Europe and in Austria and Germany he watched the World War develop and break. Coming home as a private of the second Pennsylvania Infantry, he chased Villa under General Pershing. He came out a second lieutenant.

When the U. S. entered the World War, he joined the Navy, and commanded a sub-chaser. When fire broke out in the hold of his ship, he led a crew below to fight it, in so daring a manner as to win the Navy Cross.

LEADS LIFE OF EASE After he got across, and reached his capitol to begin prompt organization of relief headquarters in the magnificent reception room before his private office.

Called home by a desperate Democratic party, which in 1934 had precious little timber in Pennsylvania.

He played polo on championship Philadelphia teams, and generally led a life of ease and conviviality. Then came his interest in the campaign of 1932, during which he made heavy contributions to the Roosevelt cause. He was appointed minister to Austria as a result, and served there during the chancellorship of Dollfus, whose affectionately inscribed photo still adorns Earle's office.

YOUNG BASEBALL PLAYERS WANTED TO APPEAR AT ADA

ADA, Okla.—Young baseball players are soon to be given the opportunity to demonstrate—under the watchful eyes of highly competent baseball scouts—whether or not they have the ability to play the game professionally, according to an announcement today by A. G. Eckert, president of the Springfield (Mo.) Baseball Club of the Western Association.

The Springfield Cardinals, in an effort to find new talent, Eckert stated, will offer boys this opportunity in a try-out camp to be conducted at the Ada Ball Park located on Main Street in this city. The camp will start Monday August 4, and will continue for approximately one week.

The Springfield club has been conducting camps of a similar nature for several years and from each camp a number of boys have been signed to contracts. Boys thus signed are sent to minor league clubs in circuits which will give them the best opportunity to develop their ability to the point where they can be members of the Springfield team and eventually reach the major leagues.

Boys between the ages of 17 and 23 who believe they have the ability to play baseball professionally are eligible to attend the Ada camp, Eckert said. Boys need no recommendation to attend. All they have to do is present themselves at the stadium in Ada at 9 o'clock the morning of August 3. The only requirements are that boys finance their trips to Ada and their living expenses while here and bring their own shoes, gloves and uniforms. No fee is charged boys who attend.

Try-outs in the camp will probably entail a stay in Ada for three or four days for each boy as the experienced baseball men who will be in charge of the camp will be able to determine a boy's ability in about that length of time, Eckert stated.

Boys who are signed to contracts, Eckert added, will be refunded their expenses incident to attending the camp.

Eckert is hopeful that the camp will produce a number of players who can be developed into major league stars and some day gain World Series fame.

The executive and scouting personnel of the camp will be announced in the near future, Eckert stated.

I'd like to see a good minstrel show.

By the way, the first English literature was not writing, but was the songs of minstrels in the Anglo-Saxon period, 450 to 1050.

Those early minstrels sang to encourage warriors, and in tribute to heroes.

Life of Early Day Cowboy Portrayed

DALLAS, July 20—The dramatic story of a day in the life of a Texas cowboy of the 80's is portrayed in a series of seven paintings by Frank Reaugh, eminent Dallas artist, which are now on exhibition at the Texas centennial exposition.

The performances which begin on the hour and last about 40 minutes are presented with music and special lighting effects. The story of the pictures is told by means of connecting prose sketches.

Swimming Hazards Should Be Heeded

AUSTIN, July 26—In Texas, during 1935, there were 371 deaths from accidental drowning, according to records in the state bureau of vital statistics. This is an increase of 54 over the number reported for the year 1934, and an increase of 85 over the number reported for 1933.

"While water sports are the greatest of all sports during the summer season, they present certain hazards which should be heeded," said Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. "Accidental drowning would not occur if each individual respected the fact that water is not man's natural element, and governed his activities in the water by standards of safety."

"Certain precautions should be taken by all swimmers:

1. Never swim alone—especially in deserted places where no rescue is available in case of an emergency.
2. Do not let young children go out in deep water even if they know how to swim, unless some older person proficient in life saving, is with them.
3. Do not go in bathing directly after eating. Wait two hours before taking the plunge.
4. Do not dive in unfamiliar places until you are sure of the depth of the water and the absence of rocks.
5. Do not overtax your strength—work up gradually to a long swim by strengthening the muscles first.
6. Do not swim when fatigued.
7. Do not create a hazard for other swimmers by childish pranks and smart tricks.

"Accidental drownings, with few exceptions, occur through lack of proper safeguards or in places without adequate supervision. Take your swim in one of the approved sanitary swimming pools now available in most communities, and help reduce the deaths in Texas from drowning."

HEMPHILL JOINS CLUB PLAYING IN MERTZ CUP GAMES

Bert Hemphill, local golfer, is to be a member of the West Texas team that will attempt to win the Mertz cup from San Angelo county club golfers there Wednesday. He will compete in the invitation tournament later in the week. This event is along the international Walker cup lines, 10-man teams competing, one an all-West Texas squad and the other a selection from the country club.

The squads vie in two-half four-omes over the 18-hole route Wednesday morning and in 18-hole singles matches Wednesday afternoon. Each match counts a point.

There have been six Mertz conflicts and San Angelo has won five of them. Obie Bristow of Big Spring brought in a club last year and shaded the Concho defenders.

Ned Robertson of Brownwood captains this season's invading detachment. Robertson's roster carries besides himself, Joe Dick Slaughter of Lubbock, J. T. SOCIAL INSURANCE BECOMES REALTY

Retirement Annuities Are Issued To Applicants

SAN ANTONIO, July 20.—For the first time in America a governmental system of old-age retirement annuities (for other than governmental employees) began to function July 13 in the payment of annuities, when the United States Treasury, on certification of the Railroad Retirement Board placed the first check for 18 recipients of such annuities in the mail according to a communication just received by the Regional Office of the Social Security Board from Oscar M. Powell, who is now in Washington attending a conference of all Regional directors.

Murray W. Latimer, Chairman of the Railroad Retirement Board, and Director of the Bureau of Federal Old-Age Benefits, Social Security Board, told the Regional Directors that these checks to retired railroad workers represent the first of a series of monthly payments to which, under the Railroad Retirement Act, the recipients will be entitled as long as they live. Some 4,000 railroad workers are immediately eligible for such annuities; more than 20,000 other railroad workers have made application for these annuities.

The Railroad Retirement Board, according to Mr. Powell, is proceeding at top speed to secure the data necessary to certify to the United States Treasury annuity payments for all railroad workers who are eligible. Of the first 18 annuities certified to the United States Treasury by the Railroad Retirement Board, according to Mr. Powell, the largest was $91.04 per month, and the smallest was $13.55—the others ranging from $40 to $70.00 per month. The largest $91.04 goes to Thomas Biddle Strain 510 West Locust Street, Johnson City, Tennessee. Mr. Strain, who recently celebrated his 73rd birthday, has worked on the railroads of America for 54 years. He was retired from employment on the East Tennessee and Western North Carolina Railroad on May 31 of this year. One of the 18 was Mrs. Cora Miranda Jones, who retired in April of this year from her position as station agent of the Wichita North-western Railway at Tuka, Kansas.

Mr. Powell said Mr. Latimer pointed out that "the payments which are being made today have great historical significance, not only to railroad workers but to workers of all sorts in America, because they forecast what is in store for 26,000,000 to 30,000,000 American working men and women for whom somewhat similar annuities begin to accrue on January 1, 1937, under the Social Security Act." "At that time" said Mr. Powell, "all employees in Texas, Louisiana, and New Mexico, as well as those in all other States, Alaska and Hawaii, except those groups in service excluded from terms of the Social Security Act, will begin to accrue annuities which will be paid to them each month as long as they live after they reach the age of 65."

Mr. Powell, who left San Antonio on July 18, will return to his headquarters here by way of New Orleans and Houston, following adjournment of the Regional conference on July 18.

COLUMBIA PROF AT TECH SCHOOL

Guidance Conference To Be Opened In Lubbock On July 27

LUBBOCK, July 20.—Dr. Ben D. Wood of Columbia university heads the faculty of the guidance conference, first of its kind in Texas, to be held at Texas Technological college July 27, 28, and 29. Dr. Wood is executive secretary of cooperative test service of the American Council of Education, and is the author of several books on guidance.

Verl A. Teeter, chief probation officer of the municipal juvenile court at Tulsa, Okla.; Dr. W. W. Kemmerer, Houston; Dr. Walter V. Kaulfers, Leland Stanford university; and L. A. Wood, state superintendent of education, will be included in the list of speakers.

The purpose of the conference, according to Dean J. M. Gordon, chairman, is to give aid to superintendents, teachers, school board members, civic club leaders, parent-teacher members, and serious minded citizens whose job it is to guide students during their school life as well as prepare them for worthwhile vocations later.

Because invitations have been extended to parent-teacher members, men's and women's civic clubs, and school board members, special sessions have been designated for them. On Monday afternoon, the opening session, parent-teacher members and club women will be special guests. Schoolboard members unable to attend the opening session are especially invited to attend the session Tuesday evening, which will probably be held on the lawn at the back of the administration building, when Dr. Wood and Mr. Teeter will both address the conference. Superintendent K. E. Oberholzer of Lubbock city schools will preside over this meeting.

Between 1500 and 1800 are expected to attend the conference.

Centennial Shows Provide Variety Of Entertainment

AUSTIN, July 20.—Three continuous Texas centennial celebrations, major attractions of Texas' 100th anniversary year observance now are in progress. In the order of their openings they are the University Centennial exposition, Austin, June 1 to December 1; Texas Centennial exposition, Dallas, June 6 to November 29, and Fort Worth Frontier centennial, July 18 to November 29.

The University Centennial exposition at Austin is a series of exhibits and displays emphasizing the natural and civil history of Texas, all preliminary to the erection of the Texas memorial museum. On the campus of the University of Texas, site of the exposition, valuable displays of scientific material are housed—open to the public each day and evening.

The Centennial exposition at Dallas, $25,000,000 composite exhibit and entertainment plant, has already been judged by 2,000,000 visitors as being unexcelled. The beauty of its architecture, splendor of its lighting, artistry of arrangement, and variety of entertainment hold the attention of all.

Fort Worth's Frontier Centennial fulfilled all promises to present a show almost entirely of entertainment when doors were thrown open Saturday. From a wild west show, replica of early frontier days, to the most modern extravaganza, the Fort Worth Frontier provides the pleasure seeker with varied entertainment "Out where the west begins."
