Allred Assured Re-Election Without Runoff

Hunter Once Again Is Runner-Up For Position

BLANTON LOSES

Abilene Solon Will Face Garrett In Run-Off

Primary returns today assured Governor James V. Allred reelection without a runoff as he has accumulated 455,781 votes out of a total of 877,746 from 246 counties.

Tom Hunter, runner-up two years ago, was in second place with 200,272. It was indicated that only straggling votes remained to be counted.

Thirteen incumbents and one new comer had congressional seats clinched. Runoffs loomed in the five remaining districts.

Hatton W. Summers, Dallas, came through with a narrow margin but Thomas Blanton, Abilene, trailed Clyde Garrett, Martin Dies, Morgan Sanders, Sam Rayburn, Luther Johnson, Nat Patton, J. J. Mansfield, J. P. Buchanan, Richard Kleberg, Milton West, Marvin Jones, George Mahon and Charles South. Incumbents were re-elected.

W. R. Poage, former state senator, was also successful. Maury Maverick in the twentieth district was forced into a runoff with Lamar Seeligen.

W. D. McFarland faces a runoff in the thirteenth, Fritz Lanham in the twelfth, Oscar Holcombe, mayor of Houston, in the runoff with Albert Thomas in the eighth district.

Reports received from Bob Barker, secretary of the state, indicated that five state senate veterans were renominated.

Senators Burns of Huntsville, Nelson of Tahoka, Pace of Tyler, Collier of Eastland and Small of Amarillo, were renominated. Martin of Hillsboro and Hornsby of Austin were beaten. Houghton Brownlee of Austin succeeds Hornsby while Pete Harris of Hillsboro and Representative Lemens of Rainbow are in the run-off for Martin's place.

Representative Glass of Jacksonville and Senator Reddick of Lufkin are in a run-off. A prospective runoff between Senator Stone of Brenham and A. Alton York of Giddings appears likely. It is also indicated there will be a run-off between Dr. William Newton of Cameron and Representative Ford of McGregor for Poage's seat.

In the Railroad Commissioner's race Ernest O. Thompson, incumbent, lacked 15,320 votes of having a majority over his four opponents. An estimated 80 per cent of the votes had been counted. Thompson had 378,834, Morris 135,170, Johnson 96,255, Hardin 134,770 Reiger 27,723.

INITIAL WORK ON NEW POSTOFFICE IS STARTED TODAY

Expect Building To Be Completed By December

Digging of basement, initial work on the new Midland postoffice, was started this morning and will continue until finished some time in December, barring delays. H. M. Strickland temporary superintendent of the project said.

A steam shovel was moved to the building site early today and immediately started loading trucks with the dirt removed for the basement structure. Three trucks were placed on the job to start with. According to Strickland, digging of the basement should be completed in about five days.

Moving in of material is expected to start this week.

Work on the building will be rush in every way possible in order that it may be completed on or before the scheduled time. Contractors have announced that local workmen will be used when possible.

Construction of the building is expected to cost approximately $60,000 with several thousands being spent on fixtures, grounds, etc.

Besiege Pennsylvania Solons

Vowing their intention to camp in the capitol at Harrisburg until the legislature passed relief measures, Pennsylvania "hunger marchers" faced a lonely weekend as the lawmakers adjourned without reaching an agreement. The sign held by leaders of the relief seekers proclaims their dislike of Senator McClure and his "gang," whom they blame for blocking passage of relief legislation.

SINGLE PLANES LEAD LANDINGS

Two Small Flights Also Reach Sloan Field Over Weekend

Reports from the airport show a considerable group of planes, both governmental and commercial, landed here during the weekend. Most were single planes, though two small flight groups landed.

Chief of the arrivals Saturday was a flight of three P-26's piloted by Lieuts Desmond, Mayes, and Whitefield. The planes came from Dallas and returned there.

Lieut. Palmer, flying at BT2B, came from Randolph Field and remained over night visiting Ed Benedict at his ranch home. He returned to San Antonio Sunday.

Other Saturday landings included: Lieut. Lee in a P-26 flying from Amarillo to Barksdale Field, Shreveport, La.; Lieut. Commander Merritt in a torpedo land plane with two passengers, en route from Dallas to Tucson; Major Street, piloting an O-46 from El Paso to Dallas; two O-25's flown by Lieuts. Weiland and Vance, who came from Kelly Field at San Antonio and departed for Alamogordo, N. M.; and two commercial ships, a Fairchild cabin plane piloted by Thomas Peterson from Dallas, and a Stinson flown by Swede Renstrom who came from Breckenridge to remain overnight.

Sunday's landings included an observation ship, O-46A, with Lieut. Brownfield in command, traveling from El Paso to Dallas; an A-12, attack plane, flown by Major O. S. Evans of Golden, Colo., and B. Erigson of New York City, N. Y.

According to a wire received this afternoon from H. L. Winfield candidate for state senator from the twenty-ninth district, practically complete returns show he is leading Benjamin F. Berkeley of Alpine 19,719 votes to 14,250. Winfield carried all counties but four in the district.

Says Peifer Had No Part In Crime At All

SAINT PAUL, July 27. (AP) — Alvin Karpis and Charles Fitzgerald, participants in the $100,000 ransom kidnaping of William Hamm, Jr., Saint Paul brewer, were today sentenced to life imprisonment term by federal judge M. M. Joyce. Both had pleaded guilty earlier.

Before sentence was imposed Karpis said "Jack Peifer absolutely had nothing to do with the kidnaping." Peifer, Saint Paul night club operator, was charged as "finger man" in the case and was convicted of a part in the abduction plot by a federal jury Saturday. Two others, one a former postmaster at Bensenville, Illinois, have confessed to participation in the crime.

EDWARD UNVEILS VIMY MONUMENT HONORING TROOPS

Mixes In Crowd After Escaping From Bodyguard

VIMY, France, July 27. (AP) — King Edward of England, standing bareheaded before a silent throng of pilgrims, unveiled a gleaming World War monument atop Vimy Ridge Sunday as a symbol of British-Canadian-French friendship and peace.

The anxious escort almost broke into a run trying to keep up with the monarch as he spoke and shook hands among the crowds, gathered to honor 64,000 Canadian World War dead.

"In dedicating this monument to our comrades who fell during the World War," he said, "we invoke the splendor of their sacrifice and the consecration of our affection for them, rather than of the gunfire which battered this hill 20 years ago."

King Edward reached Vimy by train from Calais, to which he had crossed on the royal yacht Enchantress.

He was greeted by President Albert Lebrun of France and by nine cabinet members. With him were Alfred Duff Cooper, the British war minister, and Malcolm Mac Donald, secretary from the dominions.

HUMBLE WILDCAT HITS GAS SHOW

Gaines Test Coring In Lime Below 4,706

BY FRANK GARDNER
Interest is turned to Gaines county today as Humble Oil and Refining Company No. 1 C. H. Eubanks, wildcat in section 6, block AX, public school land, approaches critical depth. Cores from 4,620 to 4,638 were predominantly hard lime with several streaks of saturation which could hardly be classed as oil showings. At the 4,638 depth rock bit was installed, and the test drilled ahead to 4,706. Driller reported a showing of gas near 4,700 feet, so core-barrel was put on again, and the test is now coring below 4,706. Another core will be pulled this afternoon.

Eight miles southeast of the Humble wildcat, Landreth Production Company No. 1 Kirk, first producer ever drilled in the county, is reported still standing today. It was cemented back 15 feet last week to shut off 8-4 barrel of sulphur water per hour coming from near total depth of 4,870. The No. 1 Kirk is scheduled to be shot with nitro after testing for water shut-off. It is located in the southwest corner of section 22, block A-21, public school land.

Seeking to extend the Means pool of Andrews a mile farther south, Humble No. 9 J. S. Means, 1,982 feet from the north and 666 feet from the south and 666 feet from the north and 666 feet from the south.

SEAPLANE FALLS INTO OCEAN WITH TEN PASSENGERS

One Reported Dead In Accident Sunday

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP) — Ten men in a seaplane flying out to meet the liner Queen Mary crashed into the ocean five miles east of Nantucket light ship Sunday afternoon.

The steamship Exermont, which sent a boat to their rescue reported one man dead and the nine others taken on board; one near death.

First word of the crash received by the Coast Guard here described the seaplane as "La Torrairie Coffee," and said she was sinking in 40.38 north latitude, 69.30 west longitude. The Exermont, operated by the Export Steamship Corporation and en route from Lisbon, Portugal, to New York, said merely that she had put out a life boat.

A later message from the Exermont said that nine survivors had been brought on board and one man was found dead.

It said the men in the plane had friends aboard the Queen Mary which was approaching New York Harbor tonight, and had flown out to meet the big liner.

No names of occupants of the plane were given.

VICIOUS WARFARE RAGING AGAIN IN SPAIN REBELLION

Consuls Evacuated By Americans And British

By Associated Press
Vicious fighting broke out anew today in the Spanish rebellion. British and American refugees were evacuating their embassies. The increasingly alarming situation at Vigo, Spain, prompted American consul William W. Corcoran to advise the state department that he was evacuating 23 Americans and Cubans.

American officials abandoned their summer Embassy at San Sebastian, Spain, Sunday and fled to safety aboard the United States Coast Guard cutter Gayuga as a terrific battle raged on the outskirts of the city.

The counsellor of the Embassy, Hallett Johnson, radioed the State Department the action was taken at the direction of Ambassador Claude G. Bowers, who telephoned his instructions Saturday night from his summer villa at Puente-Realia.

Johnson said the Embassy staff will join its chief at Puente-Realia Monday morning. He said he believes every American was evacuated from San Sebastian on the Cayuga.

Miss Bonnie Miller of Big Spring and Miss Faye Penney and Miss Pansy Penney of Rankin were brought to a Midland hospital Sunday evening suffering from injuries received when they wrecked their car south of Midland about 7:30 last evening while enroute from Big Spring to Rankin.

The attending physician reported that all were rather seriously injured, one girl having had severe hemorrhage from lacerations and another receiving a broken arm and other injuries.

AT THE HOSPITAL
L. M. Slocum was admitted to the hospital today.

Mrs. Floyd Courtis, who had an abdominal operation a few days ago will leave the hospital this afternoon.

J. W. Gregston who underwent an operation about two weeks ago is expected to leave the hospital Tuesday.

DALLAS, Texas, July 27. — Motor caravans and special trains from all sections of Texas will converge upon Dallas August 5th. The occasion will be a statewide celebration at the Cotton Bowl on the grounds of the Texas Centennial Exposition, honoring John Nance Garner, Vice-President of the United States, Texas' most distinguished citizen.

Indications are that one of the largest crowds Dallas has entertained since the Exposition began on June 6th will be here. Advance information from strategic population centers indicates the crowd will equal and perhaps exceed that of opening day, and also that on the occasion of the visit of President Roosevelt.

Under the direction of the State Commission of Control letters have gone forward to officials and civic leaders in all the larger cities and towns asking that motor caravans be formed, timed to reach Dallas during the morning or early afternoon of August 5. Every town within a close radius of Dallas is receiving a similar invitation.

Within the next few days a proclamation will be issued by Governor James V. Allred setting apart August 5 as "John Nance Garner Day" at the Exposition. The proclamation will recite that the sage of Uvalde is the state's most distinguished son, prominent in the councils of his government and of his party, and that this will mark the first opportunity of residents of his native state to pay him homage in mass.

In the meantime a tentative reception committee has been named to meet the Vice-President at the Adolphus at noon of August 5. It is composed of Governor James V. Allred, Nathan Adams, Fred F. Florence, R. L. Thornton, Cullen F. Thomas, Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul, Myron G. Blalock of Marshall, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, Mayor George Sergeant of Dallas, and W. B. Yeager, of the United States Centennial Commission of Control.

JUDGE REFUSES TO STOP WORK OF EXCHANGE GROUP

Public Hearing Ends Upon Order By Commission

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP) — Justice Oscar Lühring, district of Columbia federal court judge, refused today to issue a temporary order forbidding the securities and exchange commission to investigate investment trusts.

The action came after the commission had recessed the public hearings of the investment inquiry pending the outcome of legal efforts to block them.

The justice set the hearing for August fifth, David Schenker, commission attorney, said that the investigation would proceed today.

Motor Caravans and Special Trains From All Sections Are Expected to Converge Upon Dallas On Garner Day

The program as developed to date is that the Vice-President will be luncheon guest in the Century Room of the Adolphus. At 6:15 p. m. he will be dinner guest at the Baker Crystal Ballroom.

Immediately following the dinner he will be escorted to the Cotton Bowl on the Exposition grounds, where the most elaborate program yet staged at the Texas World's Fair will be offered without charge to the public. The Cotton Bowl seats approximately 50,000 persons. The program, including the addresses of the Vice-President, will be broadcast.

A review of the colorful history of Texas, dating from the time of the early explorers to the present, will be presented. In it will be the cast of the Cavalcade of Texas. This spectacle will be followed by the Army Band, the Police Band and probably others. Other sections of the parade will depict the evolution of livestock, from the Longhorn to the present thoroughbred. It will terminate with a combined review of the Army, Navy and Marine corps units stationed at Camp Stephen F. Austin, within the grounds. The speech of the Vice-President will follow.

AAA OFFICIALS MEET RANCHERS ON HOME GROUND

C. A. Cobb Points To Necessity For A New Program

CONSERVE SOIL

Livestock Bodies In Representation At Meeting

Resolutions to express sentiment of the livestock conference here on a government conservation program were being drawn early this afternoon by a committee composed of E. B. Spiller, executive secretary of the Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association; John C. Burns, executor of the Burnett estate, and Roger Gillis, president of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' association. The committee also was instructed to nominate a permanent committee of five to represent the livestock industry in any program worked out with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Conditions necessitating a program to conserve the soil for the benefit of the livestock industry in the south were admitted and willingness was expressed to cooperate in any workable plan, when representatives of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration conferred here today with officers or members of livestock organizations functioning in Texas. In the meeting also were personnel of A. & M. College extension department staffs, as well as numerous interested department staffers and numerous interested individuals.

Vergil Parr, head of the Pitchfork ranching interests at Spur, presided at the conference after he was requested to do so by H. H. Williams, director of extension, A. & M. College of Texas.

Parr introduced C. A. Cobb, director of the southern region, AAA, with the comment that "we will let Mr. Cobb take the bridge off and say what he will."

Director Cobb, with explanatory remarks, stated that government representatives were here not to present any specific program but to make the results of surveys made by the government, showing that serious conditions exist in the range territory, and to work out if possible any plan to conserve the soil and protect the livestock industry. He said the AAA, through the soil conservation act, was ready to approach open minded ways and means of protecting the livestock industry against its problems.

He said the desire of the administration is to work out a plan with the ranchers or producers themselves, taking advantage of their years of experience to determine, in the absence of research, what will work best in conservation. He cited the research of experiment stations in the territory, however, and mentioned the possibilities of making use of their studies.

He said if the southern range livestock region comprising Texas and Oklahoma can solve its problems, the solution should prove of benefit to New Mexico, Arizona and states to the north and west.

Cobb mentioned the fact that all of the land in the territory is under private ownership and is not public domain, hence there is no government supervision as to stocking of ranges or to management of the land.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 27.—No man has ever been denied the presidency because of his uncle's occupation.

The effort of Pennsylvania Democrats to strike at Gov. Alf Landon by publicizing the fact that his uncle, William T. Mossman, is a lobbyist for the anti-labor Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation can hardly be expected to switch many votes.

Even if it is proved, as charged, that Mossman worked effectively against relief and social security measures in the Pennsylvania legislature, no fair-minded person will blame the Kansas governor for that.

But the attack is a prelude, nevertheless, to a concerted New Deal effort to picture Landon as a pal or tool of the "big interests."

One phase of this attempt will come in connection with Landon's anticipated early campaign speech

Mercer county is in the congressional district of Congressman Dennis J. Driscoll, who, in the famous "Elmer" incident, first revealed that electric power companies were causing rates or take telegrams to be sent to Congress against the Wheeler-Rayburn holding company bill.

Power companies have joined with Joe Grundy's Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association in the effort to beat Driscoll this year and Democrats will use the expected Landon rally to try to tie the Republican candidate in with the power interests and the effort to lick Driscoll.

Rep Looks After Friends

PERHAPS, Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper is more helpful to the president than are the other cabinet members. Or perhaps not. Cabinet members and others have been making suggestions or recommendations for membership on the Maritime Authority whose job will be to build up and supervise the American merchant marine. Hardly anyone suggested more than five names.

But Uncle Dan submitted 118 names! Whether any of them were underlined or asterisked isn't known. But it is understood that the secretary had told quite a number of people that he would be glad to mention them to the president for such a job and he seems to have kept his promises.

Labor Bitterness Bared

EVIDENCE of the bitterness of internal dissension in organized labor was provided during the recently settled strike of the United Electrical and Radio Workers, a new industrial union, at the RCA plant in Camden, N. J.

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, a craft union represented on the A. F. of L. executive council, had at least 30 representatives in Camden, seeking to break the strike.

Just before the walkout, President William Green of the A. F. of L. telephoned David Saroff of RCA and urged him to make no agreement with the strikers.

John L. Lewis and the Committee for Industrial Organization backed the UERW secretly, but not openly, preferring not to get into a fight with IBEW while under charges of "dual unionism." But at the end Lewis went to Camden and

Infantile Paralysis Is Disappearing In Texas

AUSTIN, Texas, July 27.—Texas is practically free of infantile paralysis while that dread disease and particular foe of young children is reaching epidemic proportions in Alabama and adjoining states. Reports to the State Health Department disclose that there have been only 18 cases from 16 widely separated counties in every geographical section of the State since January 1. Only one case in Texas was reported last week from the entire State. There were 38 cases of the disease in Texas during the first six months of last year.

"The disease is endemic in Texas," Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer said, "and scarcely ever assumes epidemic proportion."

"Children under five are most susceptible to the disease and all children under 12 should be watched for suspicious symptoms. There are important things to do when a child shows symptoms. A physician should be called at once and physicians should report all cases to the health authorities immediately.

When the disease occurs all cases should be isolated for 21 days. All milk should be boiled unless it is pasteurized.

"Children should not visit homes where the disease exists or there are symptoms of it. Files should be killed and their breeding places destroyed. Promptness in diagnosis of poliomyelitis is important in preventing spread of the disease."

Some outstanding democrat is quoted as saying that Alf Landon is the type of man who gets lost in a crowd of three.

And now that the election is over, let's get back to horse trading, weed pulling and jubilation over the new postoffice.

When you consider the fact that the Ten Commandments are brief, yet hard to obey, it looks like our thousands of laws are poor business. If we could junk all of them and drop back to enforcement of the Commandments, we would come nearer to living sanely.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who, when he forgets and curses, feels ashamed of himself?

BODY OF WOMAN IS LOCATED IN PARK

Wire Knotted Around Her Throat Cause of Death; Identity Uncertain

PORTLAND, Ore., July 27 (AP)—A stroller in Washington Park found the body of a woman about 50 years old with a link of bailing wire tightly knotted about her throat lying near one of the park trails Sunday.

The body was discovered shortly after noon but no identification of the victim was immediately possible. The woman was fully clothed and the body was lying face up in the open.

Police were unable to determine how long the body had been in the park but they said it presumably had been placed there Saturday night.

three-fourths of the wool and mohair and also a large share of the cattle, or beef.

The carrying capacity of the area has been reduced heavily during the past fifty years, it was pointed out, and excessive stocking has become a serious problem. Removal of the surplus in the southern territory, the most vital range unit, is needed. He said surveys show only 12 per cent of the privately owned range to be in satisfactory condition. Live-stock must depend on supplemental feed for 35 per cent of their ration. Land erosion is filling streams with silt, and water is a limiting factor in the range territory, it was pointed out. Weeds comprise from twenty to forty per cent of the plant life of the range territory, Cobb stated.

To show the tremendous problem caused by overstocking, Cobb gave the following figures:

Texas ranges have a carrying capacity of 1,890,000 animal units, taking one cow or five sheep or goats as a unit; whereas, there are now grazing on these lands, 4,741,000 animal units.

The carrying capacity of the individual ranch depends on the managerial capacity of the man operating it, he said. Overstocking and overgrazing is the chief problem of range lands in Texas and Oklahoma, and the carrying capacity cannot be worked out in one year but must be determined over a ten year period, making allowance for drought years. He pointed out that this area is fortunate in not being compelled to work out a program today or tomorrow, having good turf in the ranges at present, but needs to work out a plan for the present and future to prevent further waste of soil and plant life.

Cobb called attention to the present drought in the middle west and its probable effect on sale of livestock produced in this section. He said feeding "closer home" or other plans may offset the bad results of the drought and that the knowledge and experience of ranchmen actually in the business must determine how to meet such emergencies.

Roger Gillis of Del Rio, president of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' association, then was called on. He admitted the necessity for conserving soil and protecting the industry, but asked the AAA representatives to tell just what plan was in mind, so the ranchmen could study it and say what would be acceptable. He asked if price fixing, production control or a processing tax were in mind.

Cobb, in reply, said "you folks who live on this land ought to know what you can do in soil erosion control. That's the solution to your problem." He added that the government, or the AAA, "doesn't know, that's why we haven't brought a definite program. If we had the answers, we wouldn't be here." He declared, however, that a processing tax had not been discussed in the AAA organization.

Roy Aldwell, Sonora banker, added to the comment in favor of protecting the industry against further waste but said he would have to learn what program was planned before being able to commit himself as to favoring it.

John C. Burns, Burnett ranch executive, Fort Worth, asked Cobb to relate the high points of the soil conservation act, which was done. The act is for the preservation of its fertility of the soil, diminution of its wasteful use, protection of rivers and harbors and for flood control. A further purpose, for the future, is the re-establishment of a parity between the purchasing power of those on farms to those in the cities. The income would be placed back on the 1909-1914 basis, which showed the rural citizen with 40 cents to each dollar of the city dweller. The period from 1921 to 1935 has shown the rural citizen with a purchasing power of only 27 cents to the city man's dollar.

Burns, in a short talk, summed up the problem of the rancher as follows: overstocking leads to over-borrowing, over-borrowing leads to surpluses, surpluses lead to glutted markets, glutted markets lead to low prices and low prices lead to erosion. Solve the overstocking problem and the range country's chief difficulty is taken care of, he said.

Jay Taylor, Amarillo, president of the Panhandle Livestock association, urged understocking to aid the soil. He said he was apprehensive of any government program but had found that all of them had been beneficial. He said he believes a program could be worked out and can't tell that he has given up any constitutional rights under the adjustment programs already in effect. He pointed out the value of contouring, as recommended by the government, to conserve soil, saying that one contour section produces more grass than three others. The government programs raised the price of oil and he expressed the belief that it could work in the livestock industry.

E. B. Spiller, executive secretary of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association, Fort Worth, said the necessity for some program exists, and that a full study of the necessity, of the best remedies and of methods to be applied would have to be worked out.

Grover B. Hill, Amarillo, secretary of the Panhandle Livestock association, said parts of the country need a program others do not; one is needed which will be pliable enough to fit all parts and which the rancher may "take or leave alone." He said "we must determine where we are going before taking the trip," but added that "we must decide where we are going."

"We only hold this land in trust while we are here for a few years," Hill said, "and we should not rob it." He added that to do so is an injustice to the next one using the land.

W. B. Mitchell of Marfa, C. M. Caldwell of Abilene and other prominent livestock men were late speakers, the conference adjourning at noon to begin an afternoon session at 1:30 o'clock.

Fred Merifield of the Oklahoma A. & M. College extension service, was among the visitors.
